Why Canada Needs a Protective Tariff

Summary of Statement submitted to the Committee of Cabinet Ministers at Winnipeg, on September 14th, by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

ACCORDING to the Dominion Census, about 700,000 people are employed in the factories of Canada. Including their families, the number of persons who depend for their living on the wage rolls of Canadian factories number 2,000,000. In addition there are probably half as many more wholesale and retail traders, professional and business men and others, who derive the chief part of their income indirectly from industrial establishments. Moreover, as about 80 per cent. of the total annual produce of Canadian farms is consumed in Canada, chiefly by the people living in towns and cities, farmers are also vitally connected with industrial conditions.

Any civilized country that aspires to greatness must be strong in the following departments of national activity: agriculture, manufacturing, transportation and finance. Purely agrarian countries have never reached any degree of greatness; purely industrial countries cannot exist; both manufacturing and agriculture are helpless without the machinery of finance and transportation systems to carry produce.

What part does the factory play? Remove the factories and imagine the effect on the wholesale and retail trade, on the banks, on the financial and brokerage houses, on real estate, on the professional men, on the tax-collecting departments? In the majority of Canadian cities and towns the factories are the direct or indirect cause of a very considerable part of business transacted, because the welfare of many allied activities depends on the ebb and flow of the factory output, the buying capacity of the factory purchasing department and the spending of the factory payroll. Strike at the city or town and you strike at the agricultural population surrounding the city or town, for cities and towns use the produce of the farms with most of those luxuries, comforts and necessities which are part of civilized existence.

Nearly every family in Canada, directly or indirectly, is benefited by industrial prosperity and injured by industrial depression.

The Principle of Protection.

As the Canadian Customs Tariff has not been revised since 1907, revision is now overdue. After careful investigation, it may be found that the rates of duty on some articles are too high and will consequently be lowered; or, in certain other cases, that the rates of duty are too low and will consequently be raised; or, in other cases, that the rates of duty will be considered fair and remain unchanged. But all tariff revisions are governed by a guiding principle, and this guiding principle must be either the policy of protection or the policy of free trade. The term "tariff for revenue" is misleading because a tariff of over 10 per cent. on an article produced in Canada yields revenue and also affords a small degree of incidental protection.

In presenting the statement, therefore, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association respectfully begs to reaffirm its advocacy and support of Canadian industry (the policy which has been maintained since 1878 in Canada by all political parties that have held power).

Moreover, the Association pledges its support to any measures which will hasten the adoption throughout the British Empire of substantial customs preferences for Empire produce, corresponding to the preferences now provided in the Customs tariff in Canada.

Definition of Protection.

The objects of the protective system in Canada have been and should continue to be,—

(1) To diminish, as far as possible, the materials for manufacturing processes, which cannot be produced at home.

(2) To facilitate the importation of raw materials for manufacturing processes, which cannot be produced at home.

(3) To encourage the exportation of Canadian goods as finished products.

(4) To make Canada self-contained by developing and encouraging within her boundaries all legitimate activities that will give occupation to Canadian citizens.

The protective system is, above all things, a national system. The country is the unit. It aims to make the individual country strong in all vital departments of activity. If it were founded on any other basis it could not survive, and the only reason that the protective system has been in operation in practically all civilized countries for several centuries, with a few intermittent exceptions, is that the system safeguards and develops the resources and prosperity of the great majority of the citizens of each country.

The Tariff.

The tariff protects domestic industry by increasing the difficulty of importing competing products; in the second place, it secures revenue for the Government; and in the third place, it can be used either as a weapon against any foreign country that is using discriminatory methods, or as bargain with a foreign country for tariff concessions that will open desirable market for Canadian products. Consequently, the tariff, being the chief instrument which maintains the protective system in operation, cannot be suddenly changed or abolished without at the same time changing or abolishing the protective system.

Support of the protective principle should not be confused with advocacy of a high tariff. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has never advocated a high tariffs and does not advocate a high tariff now; but it is a conservative statement of fact to say that the Canadian customs tariff as it stands to-day is not a high tariff, and that in comparison with tariffs of other countries it is very moderate.

During the year ending March 31st, 1920, the average rate of duty on all dutiable importations, less the customs war tariff collections, was 23½ per cent.

The average rate of duty on all importations, free and dutiable, after deducting the customs war tariff collections, was 14 per cent.

On the 15th day of May, 1920, the customs war tariff rates were completely removed by Parliament. Surely it is reasonable to say that the average rate of duty of 23½ per cent. on all dutiable importations and the average rate of duty of 14 2-3 per cent. on all importations, dutiable and free, now imposed by the Canadian Customs Tariff, constitute a moderate tariff.

The World Tendency Towards Protection.

Fiscal policies of countries are inter-related and swing together like a pendulum towards protection at one period and towards free trade at another period. This fact is significant because the present swing of the world pendulum is strongly towards protection.

Following the armistice, industrial countries, especially those that had been engaged in the war, took precautions to safeguard their home markets against a deluge of foreign goods, in order that their demobilized soldiers and war workers could secure employment in their own countries. The United Kingdom, notwithstanding statements to the contrary, is not a free trade country. She now applies various protective duties, and has a measure before Parliament designed to prevent dumping, arising from exchange depreciation or other causes. During his budget speech in the House of Commons on April 10th last, the Honorable Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that the United Kingdom had raised during the year ending March 31st, 1920, the sum of $140,360,000 from customs duties imposed on goods imported into the United Kingdom. Thus, every resident of the United Kingdom paid a customs tariff tax on the average of about $16 last year. In Canada last year the average per capita tariff tax, including the war tariff, now removed, was about $25, or without the war tariff, about $10.50. Yet, some people describe Great Britain as a free trade country and Canada as a high tariff country.

The business men of Great Britain realized early in the war that steps must be taken upon the cessation of hostilities, to protect British industries and various committees have reported to the British Parliament recommending a measure of protection for British industries.

France increased her tariff rates during the past year, on most goods, by amounts varying from ten to three hundred per cent.; and on into as April 28th, 1920, she announced a new and extensive list of prohibited imports. Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Spain, Roumania and the Balkan States have made general increases in their tariffs. Recent despatches show that still higher protection is being provided in most of those countries, and especially in France, Italy and Spain. Japan has now in operation a high protective tariff.

In South America, all countries have tariffs designed not only for the purpose of producing revenue, but also to provide for a reasonable measure of protection for home industry. The average rate of duty on all importations, both free and dutiable, for these countries, for 1913, the latest year for which statistics are obtainable, follow:—

Countries.	Average ad Valorem Duty on Imports Per cent.
Argentina	20.0
Brazil	35.9
Bolivia	17.1
Chile	19.9
Ecuador	36.6
Paraguay	31.1
Peru	21.9
Uruguay (1912)	36.7
Venezuela	46.7

The following clause was adopted by the National Republican Convention of the Republican Party of the United States, at Chicago, June 10th, 1920:—

"The uncertain and unsettled conditions of international balances, the abnormal economic and trade situation of the world, and the impossibility of forecasting accurately even the near future, preclude the formulation of a definite programme to meet condition a year hence. But the Republican party reaffirms its belief in the protective principle and pledges itself to a revision of the tariff as soon as conditions shall make it necessary for the preservation of the home market for American Labor, agriculture and industry."

A tariff was introduced in Australia on March 24th, 1920, which is highly protective in character. All British countries outside the United Kingdom, have tariffs that are protective in character, with the exception of certain Eastern countries, such as India and the Straits Settlements, which impose duties on certain imports and revenue.

Official records shows that there is not in the world to-day one country making any pretentions to industrial development that is without a protective tariff.

This Dominion's tariff legislation, designed for national development, must be affected by the fact that every great industrial nation to-day throughout the world has erected exploitation of its markets by other nations. Were our customs tariff removed whilst other countries maintain and strengthen theirs, our markets would be filled with the overflow goods from protected foreign countries, while our goods would be largely shut out of foreign markets. This would so reduce the markets of our factories as to raise Canadian productive costs above a competitive basis; and many of them would be compelled to cease operations.

Growth of Canada under Protection.

The best way to determine whether or not Canada has flourished under the policy of adequate protection for Canadian industry is to study the statistics, not for one industry, but for all the great basic industries, and see how they have developed since 1878. Consider first the total trade of Canada. The following table shows that since the introduction of the National Policy, our total trade has multiplied by sixteen times:

Fiscal Year	Total Trade.
1879	$140,469,188
1920	2,351,174,856

Agricultural production in Canada has flourished as the following statistics indicate:—

Year.	Field Crops.	Other Farm Produce.	Total Production.
1900	$194,953,420	$169,953,466	$364,906,886
1919	1,452,437,000	523,404,000	1,975,841,000

The national output of wheat has grown as follows:—

Year.	Bushels.
1870	16,732,873
1919	193,260,400

Manufacturing has shown a similar extraordinary advance.

Since 1878 the composition of our population has changed. Then the great majority of the people were engaged in farming, lumbering and fishing. There was comparatively little business activity and those who could not be employed in the above industries were forced to emigrate, with the result that some millions of Canadians are living in the United States to-day who would never have left Canada if opportunities for employment had been available. After 1879 the industrial system of Canada began to develop until to-day it directly supports 2,000,000 Canadians, and in addition, yields indirect opportunities to several millions more.

Transportation.

In 1879, the year after the adoption of the National Policy, there were only 8,464 miles of steam railways in Canada. A glance at the following table will show a great increase in the mileage, in the amount of freight carried, and gross earnings:—

	1879	1889	1899	1909	1919

The railways opposed the reciprocity agreement in 1911 with the United States on the ground that such an agreement would build up north and south traffic at the expense of east and west traffic, and would depreciate the value of the huge investments in our transportation systems.

This is even a more important question than it was in 1911, because the Government now owns two out of the three transcontinental railways, and will have to pay deficits out of general taxation.

The organization of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine marks a new period in the history of the country's development. The first vessel was commenced in May, 1919, and by the end of the year, twenty-two ships ordered by the Government were completed. It is expected that by the end of 1920, sixty ships will be in commission. These ships were built in Canadian shipyards, largely from Canadian material, and by Canadian workmen. The outfitting of these vessels is done in Canadian ports and with Canadian goods. They are manned chiefly by Canadian seamen, and are now carrying Canadian goods abroad.

British and Foreign Capital Invested in Canada.

One of the most remarkable developments attributable directly to the adoption of the protective system in Canada, is the investment of British and foreign capital in this country. At the present time there are over 600 branches of United States' factories in Canada, employing about 87,000 people and representing invested capital of about $400,000,000. While a few of these concerns might have come to Canada if there had been free trade, it is an absolute fact that the great majority came to Canada because the Canadian Customs Tariff stood as a partial barrier to the importation of products manufactured by the parent concerns in the United States. Although the number of branches of British factories established in Canada is small in comparison with the number of United States' branches, as against this, according to Sir George Paish's estimate in 1911, the sum of $1,860,000,000 of British capital was invested in Canada at that time, a considerable proportion of which was invested in manufacturing enterprises.

Growth of Canadian Agriculture.

The Canada Year Book of 1918, published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Trade and Commerce Department, gives interesting statistics in regard to Canadian agriculture. On page 219 of this volume, the following extract appears:—

"If to the estimated value of agricultural production in 1917, viz., $1,621,038,000 be added for land $2,782,229,000, for buildings $827,546,000, for implements $387,079,000, and for live stock $1,102,281,000, the total estimated agricultural wealth of the Dominion of Canada for 1917 amounts to $6,830,143,000." That was Canada's agricultural capital in 1917.

Realizing the importance of agriculture, the Dominion and Provincial Governments have given special attention and substantial financial assistance to this basic industry.

Of recent years the money appropriated for railway extension has been spent almost entirely with the intention of providing better facilities for the agricultural communities, and possibly no commodity carried by the railways of Canada enjoys a better rate than farm grains.

All these measures are sound, and consistent with the doctrine of protection, because they are designed to basic industry of agriculture.

Replies to Free Trade Arguments.

Free trade arguments are being used to-day as the spear head of the attack against the protective system in Canada. It may be that many who use the free trade arguments do not believe in them, and are merely trying to create a diversion from which they may profit. But, since these free trade arguments are being used to attack the National Policy, it is necessary to show why they cannot be applied profitably to Canada.

One of the chief free trade arguments is to belittle the value of the home market, especially to farmers. It is stated that Canadian farmers sell their products in an open market where the prices are fixed by international competition, and that they buy what they need in Canada which is described as a closed market. For 1919 the gross value of the agricultural production of Canada has been officially estimated at $1,975,841,000. During the same year, exports of unmanufactured farm produce were valued at approximately $315,000,000, or if butter and cheese be included, at a little over $361,000,000. In other words, only between 16 and 18.5 per cent. of all the produce of Canadian farms was exported in the unmanufactured state while between 81.5 and 84 per cent. was marketed in Canada.

The home market under normal conditions is a constant market. In a country where the population is steadily increasing it is a growing market. The foreign market or open market is an uncertain market. It may be lost entirely through war. It may be restricted through legislation or economic causes.

It is natural that the argument about selling in foreign markets and buying in protected markets should be most strongly urged in Western Canada, where grain is grown for export. But the conditions of agriculture are changing very rapidly in Western Canada. Not so many years ago wheat was the principal source of farm revenue in Ontario. What is the case now? Figures for the year 1917 show that wheat constituted 5 per cent. of the total value of the farm produce of Ontario.

Roughly speaking, a new country starts growing wheat and gradually develops into mixed farming, and the progress of the Prairie Provinces away from the wheat growing stage to the mixed farming stage has already reached extensive proportions.

The increase in farm live stock between 1911 and 1918 in the Prairie Provinces is set forth in Table 18, page 195 of the Canada Year Book, 1918.

Prairie Provinces:	Increase per cent.
Horses	54
Milch Cows	60
Other Cattle	47
Total Cattle	53
Sheep	73
Poultry	23

The growth of industry in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta is also extraordinary. In 1900 the value of goods manufactured in these three provinces was a negligible quantity. For the present year a very conservative estimate would place the value of the goods manufactured in the three Prairie Provinces at $300,000,000. In 1900 there was not a single member of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association located West of the Great Lakes. At the present time there are seven hundred,—five hundred of these in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. In fact Western Canada is becoming rapidly industrialized,—the industries which have made the greatest strides being milling, packing, steel and iron, clothing, textiles, building and paper.

The Canadian home market that absorbs farm produce is the population of the cities, towns, and villages. Analyse city, town and village, and it will be found that a considerable part of the activities of their inhabitants has its origin and existence in the factories. Manufacturing is the life blood of wholesale and retail trade, transportation, professional practice, and commercial enterprises. Business clusters around the factory. Close or restrict the factory and business dwindles and the home market declines.

Another free trade argument is that under the protective system industry is developed at the expense of agriculture.

Taking the Canada Year Book's estimate of the agricultural capital of Canada in 1917 of $6,830,143,000, and dividing this sum by the number of farms in Canada, given by Government statistics as 730,000, we find that the average capital per farm was $9,356. Moreover, our industrial development has not caused any undue depopulation of the rural areas. In 1911 the rural population of Canada was 54.47 per cent. of the total population. This is a marked contrast to Great Britain, where the rural population was 49.8 per cent. of the whole when free trade was adopted in 1846 and had fallen to 21.9 per cent. in 1913.

It is also argued that, as Canadian manufacturers during the war produced munitions which compared favorably with those produced by other countries, they do not need protection now. This argument ignores the extraordinary conditions governing the munition industry. There was no competition. The price of munitions was fixed and calculated to yield a reasonable margin of profit where the business was efficiently conducted. The work was done to standard specifications. No selling force was required; because the market took all the supply. More important still, Canadian manufacturers secured the opportunity to manufacture in large quantities. That is the pressing need to-day, and the home market is necessary to supply it.

It is also argued that protection causes combines.

Proper trade organizations produce greater efficiency, better quality and lower prices. Improper organizations can be prosecuted under existing laws. In any case, industrial combination has not reached undue proportion to date in Canada. The census places the number of manufacturing establishments at about 35,000, although this includes concerns which can scarcely be called factories. As the number of factory employees is estimated at about 700,000, the average number of employees per industrial establishment in Canada is about twenty.

A more serious charge is that Canadian manufacturers take undue advantage of the tariff, for example, by adding freight and duty to selling price of competing products in fixing their own selling prices. We do not defend such practice, but we submit that specific charges should be made against the offenders rather than general statements against all manufacturers, or against the protective system.

We beg to draw attention to an unfair method of attacking manufacturers, and through them, the protective system. A few manufacturers who have enjoyed marked prosperity are singled out. They are attacked in a sensational manner in the press and on the platform. Their profits for particularly successful years are advertised. Their financial statements are analyzed unfairly. No attempt is made to average the lean years with the good years. No tribute is admitted to efficiency, economical management, or unusual business ability. These outstanding examples of prosperity are held up to the public as a general condition of entire industries.

This method of argument is as unfair as it would be to hold up some phenomenal case of profitable farming, or a lucky strike in mining as an example of how agriculture or mining pays generally.

A recent survey of the shoe manufacturing industry shows, first, that a very considerable number of firms have tried to succeed in this industry but have become bankrupt, and second, that the average return on the capital invested in the shoe industry was 5.29 per cent. per annum. Dun's estimate of failures of Canadian manufacturing firms for the years indicated are as follows:—

Year.	No. of Failures of Mfg. Firms.
1916	232
1915	655
1908	426

This is the other side of the story.

For the year ending March 31st, 1921, the Minister of Finance, in his budget speech, estimated that Canada's balance sheet will be:—

Estimated expenditure (including capital outlays)	$540,649,428
Estimate revenue	381,000,000
Estimated deficit	$159,649,428

Adopt free trade, lose the customs revenue, which he estimated at $167,000,000, and the deficit will be $335,649,428.

Those who would abolish the Canadian customs tariff and thus lose the revenue which it produces, suggest that this revenue should be replaced by the imposition of the following taxes—a direct tax on unimproved land values and natural resources, increased taxation inheritance taxes, and increased taxation on corporations. As to taxing unearned increment as such, no objection is offered, but it must be remembered that vacant land now pays taxes to the municipalities and in some provinces additional taxes to the provincial government. In fact, much vacant land has been given up by the owners in preference to paying the taxes now imposed. Income taxes are now paid by individuals to the municipalities and also the Dominion Government. Inheritance taxes are now imposed by all the provinces. Corporations are taxed as persons by municipal governments, provincial governments and the Dominion Government, and also pay special taxes to every province for the privilege of being corporations. It is submitted that the suggested forms of direct taxation, while capable of some extension, cannot produce in one year the huge the huge sum of $335,000,000 (or almost the present entire revenue of Canada).

The fact that the per capita amount of revenue raised by the tariff is greater in Canada than in the United States is often used as an argument that the Canadian tariff is too high. The explanation of the fact is simple. The United States imposes a high tariff on imports which compete with domestic products. But, because the United States has built up home industry by constantly adhering to the protective principle for 131 years, comparatively little is imported. Consequently, the amount of duty collected is smaller per capita than in Canada, not because the United States duties are lower, but because the volume of imports is comparatively much smaller.

United States Competition.

The United States, with a population of 105,000,000 buys from this country of 8,000,000 people only about one-half the value of the goods which it sells us. Our exports to the United States and imports from the United States for various years since 1907 follow:

VALUE OF IMPORTS FROM UNITED STATES.

Fiscal year.	Amount.
1907 (9 mos.)	$155,943,029
1912	386,354,479
1917	677,631,616
1920	802,096,817

VALUE OF EXPORTS TO UNITED STATES.

Fiscal year.	Amount.
1907 (9 mos.)	270,021,480
1912	420,534,634
1917	466,870,690
1920	484,029,273

Last year each inhabitant of the United States bought $4.41 worth of Canadian goods, while each Canadian bought $100.26 worth of United States goods. Significant also is the fact that our purchases from the United States were largely in manufactured goods while their purchases from Canada were chiefly raw material. It is not surprising that the rate of exchange is against Canada and that our money is at a heavy discount in the United States. This is the situation with a Canadian tariff. What would it be if the tariff were abolished? Canada, in competing with the United States, operates at present under certain disadvantages which may be summarized as follows:

1. The United States has maintained a protective tariff for 131 years; Canada for 42 years.

2. The United States has a more highly organized industrial system, supported by immense wealth.

3. The United States manufacturers are guaranteed their home market of 105,000,000 people, guaranteeing a large output and specialization. The Canadian home market of 8,000,000 has already been seriously invaded.

4. The United States has comparatively a greater labor supply.

5. The Customs regulations of the United States discourage Canadian imports while the customs regulations of Canada encourage United States imports.

Briefly, we cannot manufacture extensively in Canada at the present age and stage of our industries, unless these industries are given protection against the industries of the United States. We have two choices. We can abolish our tariff and allow the United States to manufacture for us, while we produce raw materials for them, or we can persevere in our determination that Canada shall continue to develop as a manufacturing country as well as an agricultural country.

In Europe there is a well known phrase "peaceful penetration." Translated, this means the domination of a small country by a big country. The small country, it is true, often keeps the forms of national independence after freedom has departed, and remains bound in fetters of financial and commercial subservience.

During the reciprocity campaign of 1911, Ex-President Taft and the late Ex-President Roosevelt were agreed that reciprocity would be a good thing for the United States. They wrote confidential letters to each other on the subject; then came the quarrel over the nomination for the Presidency and the correspondence was published by Ex-President Taft on the 25th of April, 1912, at Boston, Mass.

In a letter from Ex-President Taft to the late Ex-President Roosevelt, the following extract occurs:—

"The amount of Canadian products we would take would produce a current of business between Western Canada and the United States that would make Canada only an adjunct of the United States. It would transfer all their important business to Chicago and New York, with their bank credits and everything else, and it would increase greatly the demand of Canada for our manufactures. I see this is the argument made against reciprocity in Canada, and I think it is a good one."

In his reply, the late Ex-President Roosevelt stated:—

"It seems to me what you propose to do with Canada is admirable from every standpoint. I firmly believe in free trade with Canada for both economic and political reasons."

Those who do not believe Canadians when they point out the dangers that free trade or a lowering of the tariff would bring to Canada, will perhaps believe such men as Ex-President Taft and the late Ex-President Roosevelt.

The above references to the United States are made in a friendly spirit. A certain amount of trade between the two countries is necessary and most desirable. But the people of the United States will appreciate the natural desire of Canadians to promote their own national development, while maintaining with the United States the most cordial relations.

Conservation.

There are two courses we can pursue in regard to our natural resources. We can plunder these resources and ship the raw or partly finished products out of the country to other countries, which will take these materials, manufacture them and sell them back to us in the shape of finished articles at greatly enhanced prices. The other course is to conserve, to manufacture in Canada not only the preliminary processes, but also the succeeding processes and export the products in a finished state. Under the first plan, for example, we would export our timber, ores and pulpwood. Under the second plan we would manufacture them into highly finished products for domestic and foreign consumption. Under the first plan only a limited amount of rough labor would be necessary. Most of the business connected with the processes of further manufacture, affecting banking, transportation and insurance, would go to enrich other countries, and part of our own population would be forced to emigrate in search of employment. Under the second plan we could carry these processes of manufacturing to the highest stage here, providing employment and creating business. The first plan is free trade. The second plan is protection.

Preferential Tariffs within the British Empire.

On the whole, prospects seem bright for the general extension of British preferential tariff systems throughout British countries. Such an arrangement amongst British Overseas Dominions would correspond with the policy followed between the United States overseas countries, including Cuba. A similar policy is followed toward their respective possessions by France and Italy, and was followed by Germany.

Canadian Factories in the War.

Shortly after the beginning of the war the Canadian factory system was practically put on a war basis, and munition making was organized. How Canadian factories succeeded in war manufacturing is illustrated by the following statement from the report issued by the War Cabinet and presented to the Imperial Government: "The manufacturing resources in Canada have been mobilized for war production almost as completely as those of the British Isles." Munition work was done chiefly under the control of the Imperial Munitions Board—which placed orders in Canada amounting to $1,200,000,000. At the peak of operations between 250,000 and 275,000 workers were employed in making munitions including shells, parts, 64 wooden ships, 44 steel ships and 3,000 aeroplanes. At the same time Canadian factories largely supplied the Canadian people at home and the Canadian army abroad. About half the Canadian army came from the factories and half returned to the factories on demobilization. If we had not built up a factory system and allied business, if our manufacturing and business had been done for us largely by other countries, then Canada could not have sent as many men to the war, could not have supplied shells, ships and aeroplanes, could not have given large financial aid, and could not have absorbed her demobilized soldiers.

Conclusion.

In the course of this statement an effort has been made to show that manufacturing in Canada is inseparably connected with other industries; that two million wage earners and dependents secure their living through manufacturing, and that the most of the remainder of the population derive indirect benefits; that this country as a whole has made remarkable progress under the National Policy of protection; that, with the entire world swinging towards protection, Canada cannot relinquish it; that the revision of the tariff should be scientific and take into consideration the requirements of all classes, that a stable fiscal policy of protection with some assurance of permanence is a vital need; and, finally, that the aim of the fiscal policy determined as a result of this enquiry should be to advance Canada towards her destiny as a fully developed nation within the British Empire.

A FEW REASONS

Why Canada should retain the present fiscal policy of adequate protection for Canadian agriculture, industry, labor and business.

1. Canada has shown wonderful growth in agriculture, manufacturing, forest production, mineral production, transportation, banking, insurance, and other business since the adoption in 1878 of the National Policy of adequate protection for all classes.

2. Because Canada was strong in all departments of national activity, she made a great record in the war.

3. Since the war practically all civilized countries have retained or increased their protective tariffs.

4. Over 2,000,000 Canadians are supported by wages paid by Canadian factories.

5. Over 80 per cent. of all the produce of Canadian farms is consumed in Canada.

6. The tariff has caused over 600 branches of United States factories to locate in Canada.

7. The tariff provides a great portion of the revenue of the Dominion Government.

8. The present tariff of Canada is very moderate; the average rate of duty on all dutiable importations is 22½ per cent.; the average rate of duty on all importations, free and dutiable, is only 14⅔ per cent.

9. Canadian products should not be exported in the raw state but should be manufactured in Canada in order to create business, provide employment and add to the national wealth.

10. Canada has maintained a protective tariff for 42 years. The United States, our greatest competitor, has maintained a protective tariff for 131 years. Their manufacturers have a home market of 105 million people. Our manufacturers have a home market of about 8 million people. Last year each inhabitant of the United States bought, on the average, $4.41 worth of Canadian goods, while each Canadian, on the average, bought $100.26 worth of United States goods. United States purchases from Canada were largely raw materials. Canadian purchases from the United States were largely manufactured goods. Is it surprising that the rate of exchange is against Canada and that our dollar is at a heavy discount in the United States? This is the situation with a Canadian tariff. What would it be if the tariff were removed? Remove the tariff, and, in the words of ex-President Taft, Canada will become "an adjunct of the United States."

11. The destiny of Canada is a fully developed nation within the British Empire.

VETERANS OPPOSING GENERAL ELECTIONS

TORONTO, Sept. 14—Strong opposition to a Dominion general election at the present time is expressed in an important resolution passed by the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Unit No. 15. This opposition is based upon the belief that it would unsettle the public mind at a time when harmony is necessary to stabilize the industries of the country and encourage agricultural development.

The resolution, after referring to the disorganized condition of Europe and the attempts made to discredit the British Empire and all it stands for, declares that the country relied with full assurance on the men who made Canada a nation, to make certain of a stable and experienced executive in the trying days to come.

It further declares that "the Government which had the vision and courage to stand firm in 1914-15-16-17 and '18, when vision and courage were most needed, is quite capable of carrying on the government of the Dominion, being assured by all whol value safe and sound administration that no question of mandate or time allowance will weigh for one second in their loyal and unswerving support to those who in Canada's darkest days supported the Canadian Corps overseas without measure and without stint.

Matter of Gratuities.

The resolution expresses the confidence of the Army and Navy Veterans and satisfactory allowances and increased pensions will be forthcoming for those who suffered irreparable physical and material loss trough war service their confidence resting upon the knowledge that Canadian gratuities and pensions are, on the whole, the most generous of those of any country.

Several new ocean services are announced, from both Atlantic and Pacific ports.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, SEPT. 16TH, 1920.

A RIFT IN THE LUTE.

The Labour-U.F.O. alliance in Ontario is not working out very smoothly and there are signs of trouble on the horizon. West Peterborough is not the only mixed rural and urban riding in which the two wings of the present Provincial Government are unable to agree. Here the Farmers have entirely cut the ties that bound them to the Labour party, while in Brantford there is a wide split between the two factions. It is evident that the agreement between Farmers and Labour which never appeared likely to operate successfully will be severely strained in the next general election, especially in ridings that are a mixture of the rural and industrial. The two interests managed to get along during the first session of the Legislature because self interest compelled them to make mutual concessions in order that the safety of the Government might be maintained. It is quite a different matter when it comes to an election fight in ridings where both parties think they have a chance of election. The situation in West Peterborough and Brantford is likely to be duplicated in many other Ontario ridings when the Dominion election rolls around.

DECORATION DAY.

The action of the Army and Navy Veterans of Kingston in asking Sir Henry Drayton to have a bill introduced before the House of Commons naming the first Sunday in August as a national decoration day is a step that will meet with hearty approval. Canada should have a decoration day upon which to do honour to the memory of those who gave up their lives in the great war. At present different organization of returned soldiers have selected dates of their own and have decorated the graves of departed comrades, at the same time paying a rtibute to the soldiers who met their death overseas. It is desirable, however that a day should be set apart each year for the whole Dominion so that from the Atlantic to the Pacific Canadians might unite in carrying out appropriate ceremonies. We copy many things from the United States, sometimes not too wisely, but the establishment of an annual decoration day is something in which we might well take pattern from our neighbors. The memory of the men who made the supreme sacrifice should be kept ever green and a national observance of Decoration Day is one simple, effective way that commends itself. There might perhaps be some difference of opinion as to whether the date suggested by the Kingston veterans is the most suitable, but that is a minor point; the idea itself is a splendid one and should be carried out.

"TURNER'S" IS NO MORE.

It is with genuine regret that the Examiner announces the passing of one of the brighest and most cleverly edited weekly periodicals in Canada, "Turner's Weekly," of which Mr. Harris Turner, a blinded soldier, and formerly a member of the Princess Pats, was editor. "Turner's" has been a welcome visitor since its first appearance two years ago for the brightness of its style, the vigor of its articles and the sound common sense that it displayed on public questions, particularly those problems affecting the returned soldier, made it a particularly interesting publication. Like many other newspapers and periodicals, Turner's Weekly has been driven out of existence by the rapidly increasing price of everything that enters into the publication of a newspaper. In one of his characteristic sermons to subscribers, "the last time I shall address you from the pulpit," as Mr. Turner puts it, the editor of the Weekly explains that: "The trouble has arisen over the parish magazine which I attempted to publish since the commencement of my pastorate. It has unfortunately been unable to compete longer with the cost of paper and the cost of ink and the cost of printers and the cost of printing machinery. In the space of two years it has passed a strenuous childhood, survived an exciting youth, blossomed into sturdy manhood, attained decrepit old age and is now at the point of death. This is its last gasp. I pause to let those sob who take such things that way."

Turner's will be missed, but undoubtedly Mr. Turner's virile pen will be in demand by other journals and his vigorous articles will continue to be a feature of Canadian journalism.

BEHIND THE MASK.

The rapidly increasing number of divorces among moving picture actors and actresses is a source of regret to the public. The millions of people who frequent the picture theatres learn to know and to like the persons who appear upon the screen, and they love to imagine that in real life they are as good and true as in the characters they portray. They do not wish the mask torn away from their favorites by unpleasant announcements of domestic troubles. Whatever may be the cause of the high percentage of divorces among prominent "movie" stars, the fact is reacting unfavorably upon the profession. When once a favorite actress appears in the divorce court, the old deception has gone, and she loses much of her power to charm. —The Syracuse Journal.

TO FRIGHTEN THE FARMERS.

The Meighen Government's charge that all its opponents are Bolshevists or nearly as bad is sprung too soon. It should have been kept as a rorbach for the closing days of the election. But here is a government that declares that it will delay the election for a year or two, and deliberately announces that it intends to scare the people into voting for it, and shows how it is to be done. We hear the creaking of the propaganda machine. We see the stage mechanic beating on the sheet of metal to make the stage thunder.

Mr. Meighen started the show at Stirling with his ridiculous talk about wreckers and builders. Then he spoke to a select audience at Kingston and classed Mr. Crerar and the low tariff men with the labor radicals, and promised to stage a terrific battle against them. Next came Sir George Foster in East Elgin. He is thirty years older than Mr. Meighen and ought to know better, but he actually surpassed his young leader in foolishness and impudence.

He goes into a constituency mainly composed of farmers, who elected a United Farmer to the Legislature last October, and he has the gall to tell the farmers that their party is almost as bad as the Bolsheviki, by which he means to imply that the farmers of Elgin are in favor of robbery and murder as a means of government,—for this, as Sir George Foster knows very well, is the popular conception of Bolshevism. But when he comes down to details, the only fault he can find with the farmers' party is that it has a wrong name. Being composed of farmers it must not call itself a Farmers' Party. The Government will be graciously pleased to allow a farmer to run for Parliament if he will disguise himself as a National Liberal Conservative, Hot and Cold, Wet and Dry Candidate. But let a farmer call himself a farmer, and you have Bolshevism, robbery, murder, rebellion and chaos.

"Lo, thy dread empire, Chaos, is restored;
Light dies before thy uncreating word;
Thy hand, great Anarch, lets the curtain fall,
And universal darkness buries all."

Farmers need not waste time in defending themselves against this rubbish. What they should do, is to attack and punish a Government which dares to insult their intelligence with such crude and silly stuff. "The insolence of office" was never more flagrantly displayed. Responsible government is in danger, says Sir George Foster. If such be the case, it is danger because of the arrogance of the clique which now holds office at Ottawa, and its disregard for public opinion. Sir George and Mr. Meighen talk as if there was a conspiracy to overturn all government. What really exists is a widespread desire to get rid of this Government, and to choose one that represents the people. The country wants to throw away an old pair of boots, and Meighen and Foster cry out that the country is going to stop wearing clothes.— Farmers' Sun.

BIGGEST FREIGHT AND PASSENGER TRAFFIC YET

(Canadian Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 16.—Passenger and package freight lines on the Great Lakes this season will have the biggest business in their history, according to estimates of local vessel men.

The total net tonnage in bituminous and anthracite coal, iron ore, stone, and grain carried by lake freighters, however, they said, will again fall about 23,000,000 tons behind the banner year of 1918. The record was then placed at 114,614,018 net tons. This year's total in these lines is expected to just about equal last year's 91,761,738 tons.

Officials of passenger boat lines on Lake Erie say the great increase in their business is due to the railroads' inability to handle the volume of business offered them because of lack of passenger and freight cars, strikes and embargoes. To these same causes is attributed the decrease in freight tonnage under what had been planned for. There is a very large increase in tourist traffic on the Great Lakes reported.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCE ACT PROVIDES FOR SUPPORT OF DEPENDENT CHILDREN

COMES INTO EFFECT ON OCTOBER 1ST — MUNICIPALITIES SHALL PAY HALF THE ALLOWANCES GRANTED BY THE PROVINCIAL COMMISSION — A SURVEY OF THE CONDITIONS.

LOCAL BOARD NEEDED

With the Mothers' Allowances Act coming into effect on 1st October there have been some enquiries about its provisions, its operation, and the procedure expectant beneficiaries should follow to obtain the assistance it authorizes.

One of the clauses of this new legislation passed at the last session of the Provincial Government and assented to on June 4th sets out that "a monthly alowance may be paid toward the support of the dependent children of a mother who is a widow or the wife of an inmate of a hospital of the insane in Ontario or of a man is permanently disabled and incapable of contributing to the support of his family."

Conditions For Allowances.

Conditions of eligibility are:

(a) The mother must have been a resident of Canda at the time of the death or total disability of the father of the children, and must also have resided in this country three years prior to the application for the allowance.

(b) She must be a resident of Ontario when the application is made and for a period of two years thereto.

(c) The mother must continue to reside in Ontario while in receipt of an allowance.

(d) She is a British subject by birth or naturalization, or the wife of a British subject.

(e) She must be a fit and proper person to have the custody of her children.

(f) Has resident with her two or more of her children under fourteen years of age and has not adequate means to care properly for them without the assistance of an allowance under this Act.

To administer this Act a Commission of five persons, two of whom shall be women, are appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor. They are to serve without remuneration except an allowance for expenses and attendance at meetings. This Commission shall receive through local boards or otherwise applications for allowances, shall fix the maximum and minimum allowances that may be paid under this Act, and shall make orders granting allowances to mothers who are qualified to receive them.

Municipalities Contribute.

The Act also provides that half the allowance granted to a mother shall be paid by the county, city or town of which is deemed a resident, and if a municipality desires to object to making such contribution a notice to that effect shall be given to the Commission which is empowered to amend the direction for payment of a contribution.

If a mother to whom an allowance is payable removes from one municipality to another that municipality shall not be made liable for the contribution until the mother has resided in such other municipality continuously for at least one year.

The Commission is authorized to make final decisions in regard to allowances. It may also make regulations for effecting the provisions of the Act. Among these is a recent notice to municipalities to submit the names of persons from whom local boards shall be selected. A local board will be composed of five members, two of whom shall be women, and the local Council may name two of the members, the Commission appointing the others.

Peterborough's Council failed to agree on a list of names to be forwarded to the Commission and referred this detail to a committee with instructions to report at the next meeing.

DANDRUFF IS DANGEROUS

Dandruff is so common that many people disregard its warning and rely on shampoos to keep thier scalp clean. This is not sufficient. The dandruff soon returns and shows the presence of the dandruff "germ" which cannot be washed away. The dandruff germ is dangerous because it destroys the life and vitality of the hair roots and relaxes the muscular tissues which hold and protect the hair sac. Then the hair gets thin, brittle and dead looking, falls out badly and in time baldness results. To save your hair, the dandruff germ must be destroyed. Here is a simple prescription which you can easily make at home. It is perfectly harmless and will not stain the scalp.

Get from any druggist 6 oz. Bay Rum, 2 oz. Lavona (de composee)) and one-half drachm Menthal Crystals. Mix together and allow to stand over night before using. It is not enough to merely put this on the hair. It should be rubbed right into the scalp with the finger tips or a stiff brush. It doesn't take over ten minutes a day and I know of nothing so effective and certain in its results. E. W.

TROTTING HORSES GO UNDER THE HAMMER—APSLEY NEWS

APSLEY, Sept. 15.— The biggest crowd even seen at an Auction Sale in this district was present at Reeve J. Bullied's sale at Clydesdale on Sept. 8th. Fine weather prevailed and good prices were realized. The sale started at 10 a.m. and lasted till evening. Mrs. Bullied and a small army of helpers were kept busy serving lunch during the noon hour. Some of the prices obtained on the live stock were as follows

Tim B. the fast trotting horse in full racing regalia with bike was knocked down to Mr. Ivan Whitmore for $370. Dan B. another well known track horse fetched $165. The Reeve's team of drivers went for $255. The cattle sold well also, cows fetching round about $80 each.

Attended Conference

The Rev. W. Hall, Methodist minister of Apsley and a party of delegates motored to Warsaw on September 10th to attend the Methodist District Conference and Convention. The object of the conference was to arrange plans for the coming winter's work. A great number of delegates from other points were present, and were hospitably entertained.

Severe Storm.

Up to last Monday evening Sept. 6, what was the most severe electrical and rain storm of the year broke over the village but this was surpassed by the terrible storm that visited us on Sunday evening the 12th inst., and lasted for over an hour. A barn at Miss Clegg's home was struck by lightning and burnt to the ground together with a load of feed, some poultry and a number of implements. There was no insurance on the building.

Sheep Killed

Mr. Archie Downing lost three sheep last week killed by dogs. Owners of dogs with a propensity for running sheep are advised to keep such tied up.

Wolves Howl.

On Thursday night the inhabitants of Apsley had their sleep disturbed by the howling of a pack of wolves which must have been quite close to the village. This is most unusual and old timers who heard them say they were young ones who had evidently strayed from their usual haunts. Four lambs belonging to Mrs. Grant are missing, and may have fallen victims to the wolves.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 15.—There was a very small gathering of farmers at the meeting addressed by E. H. Stonehouse, president of the Ontario Milk and Cream Producers' Association. He scored the Board of Commerce order regarding the price of milk in Toronto, which, he stated, practically paralyzed the industry. A resolution was passed protesting against the increased railway freight rates, and asking that the Federal Government exercise its power to exempt butter fat, cheese and cream. Another resolution was passed, pledging support and co-operation to the Ontario Milk and Cream Producers' Association "in its effort to establish the principle of collective bargaining and in their work of stabilizing and upbuilding the industry."

Why Canada Needs a Protective Tariff

Summary of Statement submitted to the Committee of Cabinet Ministers at Winnipeg, on September 14th, by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association.

ACCORDING to the Dominion Census, about 700,000 people are employed in the factories of Canada. Including their families, the number of persons who depend for their living on the wage rolls of Canadian factories number 2,500,000. In addition there are probably half as many more wholesale and retail traders, professional and business men and others who derive the chief part of their income indirectly from industrial establishments. Moreover, as about 80 per cent. of the total annual produce of Canadian farms is consumed in Canada, chiefly by the people living in towns and cities, farmers are also vitally concerned with industrial conditions.

Any civilized country that aspires to greatness must be strong in the following departments of national activity: agriculture, manufacturing, transportation and finance. Purely agrarian countries have never reached any degree of greatness; purely industrial countries cannot exist; both manufacturing and agriculture are helpless without the machinery of finance and transportation systems to carry produce and commodities.

What part does the factory play? Remove the factories and imagine the effect on the wholesale and retail trade, on the banks, on the financial and brokerage houses, on real estate, on the professional men, on the taxes, on the departments? In the majority of Canadian cities and towns the factories are the direct or indirect cause of a very considerable part of business transacted, because the welfare of many allied activities depends on the ebb and flow of the factory output, the buying capacity of the factory purchasing department and the spending of the factory payroll. Strike at the city or town and you strike at the agricultural population surrounding the city or town, for cities and towns use the produce of the farm with most of those luxuries, comforts and necessities which are part of civilized existence.

Nearly every family in Canada, directly or indirectly, is benefited by industrial prosperity and injured by industrial depression.

The Principle of Protection.

As the Canadian Customs Tariff has not been revised since 1907, revision is now overdue. After careful investigation, it may be found that the rates of duty on some articles are too high and will consequently be lowered; or, in certain other cases, that the rates of duty are too low and will consequently be raised; or, in other cases, that the rates of duty will be considered fair and remain unchanged. But all tariff revisions are governed by a guiding principle, and this guiding principle must be either the policy of protection or the policy of free trade. The term "tariff for revenue" is misleading because a tariff of even 10 per cent. on an article produced in Canada yields revenue and also affords a small degree of incidental protection.

In presenting the statement, therefore, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association respectfully begs to reaffirm its advocacy and support of Canadian industry (the policy which has been maintained since 1878 in Canada by all political parties that have held power).

Moreover, the Association pledges its support to any measures which will hasten the adoption throughout the British Empire of substantial customs preferences for Empire products, corresponding to the preferences now provided in the Customs tariff in Canada.

Definition of Protection.

The objects of the protective system in Canada have been and should continue to be,—

(1) To diminish, as far as possible, the materials for manufacturing processes, which cannot be produced at home.

(2) To facilitate the importation of raw materials for manufacturing processes, which cannot be produced at home.

(3) To encourage the exportation of Canadian goods as finished products.

(4) To make Canada self-contained by developing and encouraging within her boundaries all legitimate activities that will give occupation to Canadian citizens.

The protective system is, above all things, a national system. The country is the unit. It aims to make the individual country strong in all vital departments of activity. If it were founded on any other basis it could not survive, and the only reason that the protective system has been in operation in practically all civilized countries for several centuries, with a few intermittent exceptions, is that the system safeguards and develops the resources and prosperity of the great majority of the citizens of each country.

The Tariff.

The tariff protects domestic industry by increasing the difficulty of importing competing products; in the second place, it secures revenue for the Government; and in the third place, it can be used either as a weapon against any foreign country that is using discriminatory methods, or to bargain with a foreign country for tariff concessions that will open desirable market for Canadian products. Consequently, the tariff, being the chief instrument which maintains the protective system in operation, cannot be suddenly changed or abolished without at the same time changing or abolishing the protective system.

Support of the protective principle should not be confused with advocacy of a high tariff. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association has never advocated a high tariff; and does not advocate a high tariff now; but it is a conservative statement of fact to say that the Canadian customs tariff as it stands to-day is not a high tariff, and that in comparison with tariffs of other countries it is very moderate.

During the year ending March 31st, 1920, the average rate of duty on all dutiable importations, less the customs war tariff collections, was 23½ per cent.

The average rate of duty on all importations, free and dutiable, after deducting the customs war tariff collections, was 14 per cent.

On the 18th day of May, 1920, the customs war tariff rates were completely removed by Parliament. Surely it is reasonable to say that the average rate of duty of 23½ per cent. on all dutiable importations and the average rate of duty of 14 2-3 per cent. on all importations, dutiable and free, now imposed by the Canadian Customs Tariff, constitute a moderate tariff.

The World Tendency Towards Protection.

Fiscal policies of countries are inter-related and swing together like a pendulum towards protection at one period and towards free trade at another period. This fact is significant because the present swing of the world pendulum is strongly towards protection.

Following the armistice, industrial countries, especially those that had been engaged in the war, took precautions to safeguard their home markets against a deluge of foreign goods, in order that their demobilized soldiers and war workers could secure employment in their own countries. The United Kingdom, notwithstanding statements to the contrary, is not a free trade country. She now applies various protective duties, and has a measure before Parliament designed to prevent dumping, arising from exchange depreciation or other causes. During his budget speech in the House of Commons on April 10th last, the Honorable Austen Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated that the United Kingdom had raised during the year ending March 31st, 1920, the sum of $140,359,000 from customs duties imposed on goods imported into the United Kingdom. That is, every resident of the United Kingdom paid a customs tariff tax on the average of about $16 last year. In Canada last year the average per capita tariff tax, including the war tariff, now removed, was about $20, or without the war tariff, about $10.50. Yet, some people describe Great Britain as a free trade country and Canada as a high tariff country.

The business men of Great Britain realized early in the war that steps must be taken upon the cessation of hostilities, to protect British industries and various committees have reported to the British Parliament recommending a measure of protection for British industries.

France increased her tariff rates during the past year, on most goods, by amounts varying from ten to three hundred per cent.; and as late as April 28th, 1920, she announced a new and extensive list of prohibited imports. Italy, Switzerland, Austria, Spain, Roumania and the Balkan States have made general increases in their tariffs. Recent despatches show that still higher protection is being provided in most of these countries, and especially in France, Italy and Spain. Japan has now in operation a high protective tariff.

In South America, all countries have tariffs designed not only for the purpose of producing revenue, but also to provide for a reasonable measure of protection for home industry. The average rate of duty on all importations, both free and dutiable, for these countries, for 1913, the latest year for which statistics are obtainable, follow:—

Countries.	Average ad Valorem Duty on Imports Per cent.
Argentina	20.8
Brazil	35.9
Bolivia	17.1
Chile	19.9
Ecuador	36.6
Paraguay	31.1
Peru	21.9
Uruguay (1912)	36.9
Venezuela	46.7

The following clause was adopted by the National Republican Convention of the Republican Party of the United States, at Chicago, June 10th, 1920:—

"The uncertain and unsettled conditions of international balances, the abnormal economic and trade situation of the world, and the impossibility of forecasting accurately even the near future, preclude the formulation of a definite programme to meet condition a year hence. But the Republican party reaffirms its belief in the protective principle and pledges itself to a revision of the tariff as soon as conditions shall make it necessary for the preservation of the home market for American Labor, agriculture and industry."

A tariff was introduced in Australia on March 24th, 1920, which is highly protective in character. All British countries outside the United Kingdom, have tariffs that are protective in character, with the exception of certain Eastern countries, such as India and the Straits Settlements, which impose duties on certain imports and revenue.

Official records shows that there is not in the world to-day one country making any pretentions to industrial development that is without a protective tariff.

This Dominion's tariff legislation, designed for national development, must be affected by the fact that every great industrial nation today throughout the world has erected exploitation of its markets by other nations. Were our customs tariff removed whilst other countries maintain and strengthen theirs, our markets would be filled with the overflow goods from protected foreign countries, while our goods would be largely shut out of foreign markets. This would so reduce the markets of our factories as to raise Canadian productive costs above a competitive basis; and many of them would be compelled to cease operations.

Growth of Canada under Protection.

The best way to determine whether or not Canada has flourished under the policy of adequate protection for Canadian industry is to study the statistics, not for one industry, but for all the great basic industries, and see how they have developed since 1878. Consider first the total trade of Canada. The following table shows that since the introduction of the National Policy, our total trade has multiplied by sixteen times:

Fiscal Year	Total Trade.
1879	$140,469,188
1920	2,351,174,886

Agricultural production in Canada has flourished as the following statistics indicate:—

Year.	Field Crops.	Other Farm Produce.	Total Production.
1900	$194,953,420	$189,953,466	$384,906,886
1919	1,452,437,000	523,404,000	1,975,841,000

The national output of wheat has grown as follows:—

Year.	Bushels.
1870	16,752,573
1919	193,260,400

Manufacturing has shown a similar extraordinary advance.

MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES.

Year.	Capital Invested.	Employees.	Value of Products.
1881	$165,302,823	254,935	$309,676,058
1917	2,786,649,727	692,067	3,015,577,940

The products of the forests, of the mines and of the fisheries and the volume of banking and insurance business have shown the following great increase in values under the National Policy:

FOREST PRODUCTION.

Year	Log Products and Wood Pulp.
1881	$30,540,570
1919	140,381,584

MINERAL PRODUCTION.

Year.
1889	$14,013,113
1919	173,075,913

FISHERY PRODUCTION.

Fiscal Year.
1879	$13,529,254
1918	60,243,429

CHARTERED BANKS.

Year.	Paid-up Capital and Reserve.
1868	$79,218,566
1919	243,912,111

Year.	Total Bank Deposits by the Public in Canada.
1878	$71,900,195
1919	1,841,479,895

AMOUNT OF LIFE INSURANCE POLICIES IN FORCE.

Year, Dec. 31st.	Amount.
1878	$54,751,837
1919	2,197,533,396

AMOUNT OF FIRE INSURANCE POLICIES IN FORCE.

Year, Dec. 31st.	Amount.
1919	4,906,309,461

Since 1878 the composition of our population has changed. Then the great majority of the people were engaged in farming, lumbering and fishing. There was comparatively little business activity and those who could not be employed in the above industries were forced to emigrate, with the result that some millions of Canadians are living in the United States to-day who would never have left Canada if opportunities for employment had been available. After 1878 the industrial system of Canada began to develop until to-day it directly supports 2,000,000 Canadians, and in addition, yields indirect opportunities to several millions more.

Transportation.

In 1879, the year after the adoption of the National Policy, there were only 6,464 miles of steam railways in Canada. A glance at the following table will show a great increase in the mileage, in the amount of freight carried, and gross earnings:—

	1879	1889	1899	1909	1919
Miles in operation.	6,464	12,628	17,141	24,104	38,896
Tons of freight ..	8,248,310	17,328,628	31,211,753	68,842,258	116,000,572
Gross Earnings ..	$19,925,066	$42,149,615	62,243,184	$145,696,536	$382,976,901

The railways opposed the reciprocity agreement in 1911 with the United States on the ground that such an agreement would build up north and south traffic at the expense of east and west traffic, and would depreciate the value of the huge investments in our transportation systems.

This is even a more important question than it was in 1911, because the Government now owns two out of the three transcontinental railways, and will have to pay deficits out of general taxation.

The organization of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine marks a new period in the history of the country's development. The first vessel was commenced in May, 1919, and by the end of the year, twenty-two ships ordered by the Government were completed. It is expected that by the end of 1920, sixty ships will be in commission. These ships were built in Canadian shipyards, largely from Canadian material, and by Canadian workmen. The outfitting of these vessels is done in Canadian ports and with Canadian goods. They are manned chiefly by Canadian seamen, and are now carrying Canadian goods abroad.

British and Foreign Capital Invested in Canada.

One of the most remarkable developments attributable directly to the adoption of the protective system in Canada, is the investment of British and foreign capital in this country. At the present time there are over 600 branches of United States' factories in Canada, employing about 87,000 people and representing invested capital of about $400,000,000. While a few of these concerns might have come to Canada if there had been free trade, it is an absolute fact that the great majority came to Canada because the Canadian Customs Tariff stood as a partial barrier to the importation of products manufactured by the parent concerns in the United States. Although the number of branches of British factories established in Canada is small in comparison with the number of United States' branches, as against this, according to Sir George Paish's estimate in 1911, the sum of $1,500,000,000 of British capital was invested in Canada at that time, a considerable proportion of which was invested in manufacturing enterprises.

Growth of Canadian Agriculture.

The Canada Year Book of 1918, published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Trade and Commerce Department, gives interesting statistics in regard to Canadian agriculture. On page 219 of this volume, the following extract appears:—

"If to the estimated value of agricultural production in 1917, viz., $1,621,038,000 be added for land $2,792,229,000, for buildings $827,546,000, for implements $387,070,000, and for live stock $1,102,281,000, the total estimated agricultural wealth of the Dominion of Canada for 1917 amounts to $6,850,145,000." That was Canada's agricultural capital in 1917.

Realizing the importance of agriculture, the Dominion and Provincial Governments have given special attention and substantial financial assistance to this basic industry.

Of recent years the money appropriated for railway extension has been spent almost entirely with the intention of providing better facilities for the agricultural communities, and possibly no commodity carried by the railways of Canada enjoys a better rate than farm grains.

All these measures are sound, and consistent with the doctrine of protection, because they are designed to basic industry of agriculture.

Replies to Free Trade Arguments.

Free trade arguments are being used to-day as the spear head of the attack against the protective system in Canada. It may be that many who use the free trade arguments do not believe in them, and are merely trying to create a diversion from which they may profit. But, since these free trade arguments are being used to attack the National Policy, it is necessary to show why they cannot be applied profitably to Canada.

One of the chief free trade arguments is to belittle the value of the home market, especially to farmers. It is stated that Canadian farmers sell their products in an open market where the prices are fixed by international competition, and that they buy what they need in Canada which is described as a closed market. For 1919 the gross value of the agricultural production of Canada has been officially estimated at $1,975,841,000. During the same year, exports of unmanufactured farm produce were valued at approximately $315,000,000, or if butter and cheese be included, at a little over $361,000,000. In other words, only between 16 and 18.5 per cent. of all the produce of Canadian farms was exported in the unmanufactured state while between 81.5 and 84 per cent. was marketed in Canada.

The home market under normal conditions is a constant market. In a country where the population is steadily increasing it is a growing market. The foreign market or open market is an uncertain market. It may be lost entirely through war. It may be restricted through legislation or economic causes.

It is natural that the argument about selling in foreign markets and buying in protected markets should be most strongly urged in Western Canada, where grain is grown for export. But the conditions of agriculture are changing very rapidly in Western Canada. Not so many years ago wheat was the principal source of farm revenue in Ontario. What is the case now? Figures for the year 1917 show that wheat constituted 5 per cent. of the total value of the farm produce of Ontario.

Roughly speaking, a new country starts growing wheat and gradually develops into mixed farming, and the progress of the Prairie Provinces away from the wheat growing stage to the mixed farming stage has already reached extensive proportions.

The increase in farm live stock between 1911 and 1916 in the Prairie Provinces is set forth in Table 18, page 195 of the Canada Year Book, 1918.

Prairie Provinces:	Increase per cent.
Horses	54
Milch Cows	69
Other Cattle	47
Total Cattle	53
Sheep	73
Poultry	23

The growth of industry in Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta is also extraordinary. In 1900 the value of goods manufactured in these three provinces was a negligible quantity. For the present year a very conservative estimate would place the value of the goods manufactured in the three Prairie Provinces at $300,000,000. In 1900 there was not a single member of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association located West of the Great Lakes. At the present time there are seven hundred,—five hundred of these in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. In fact Western Canada is becoming rapidly industrialized,—the industries which have made the greatest strides being milling, packing, steel and iron, clothing, textiles, building and paper.

The Canadian home market that absorbs farm produce is the population of the cities, towns, and villages. Analyze city, town and village, and it will be found that a considerable part of the activities of their inhabitants has its origin and existence in the factories. Manufacturing is the life blood of wholesale and retail trade, transportation, professional practice, and commercial enterprises. Business clusters around the factory. Close or restrict the factory and business dwindles and the home market declines.

Another free trade argument is that under the protective system industry is developed at the expense of agriculture.

Taking the Canada Year Book's estimate of the agricultural capital of Canada in 1917 of $6,850,145,000, and dividing this sum by the number of farms in Canada, given by Government statistics as 730,000, we find that the average capital per farm was $9,356. Moreover, our industrial development has not caused any undue depopulation of the rural areas. In 1911 the rural population of Canada was 54.47 per cent. of the total population. This is a marked contrast to Great Britain, where the rural population was 49.8 per cent. of the whole when free trade was adopted in 1846 and had fallen to 21.9 per cent. in 1913.

It is also argued that, as Canadian manufacturers during the war produced munitions which compared favorably with those produced by other countries, they do not need protection now. This argument ignores the extraordinary conditions governing the munition industry. There was no competition. The price of munitions was fixed and calculated to yield a reasonable margin of profit where the business was efficiently conducted. The work was done to standard specifications. No selling force was required; because the market took all the supply. More important still, Canadian manufacturers secured the opportunity to manufacture in large quantities. That is the pressing need to-day, and the home market is necessary to supply it.

It is also argued that protection causes combines.

Proper trade organizations produce greater efficiency, better quality and lower prices. Improper organizations can be prosecuted under existing laws. In any case, industrial combination has not reached undue proportion to date in Canada. The census places the number of manufacturing establishments at about 35,000, although this includes concerns which can scarcely be called factories. As the number of factory employees is estimated at about 700,000, the average number of employees per industrial establishment in Canada is about twenty.

A more serious charge is that Canadian manufacturers take undue advantage of the tariff, for example, by adding freight and duty to selling price of competing products in fixing their own selling prices. We do not defend such practice, but we submit that specific charges should be made against the offenders rather than general statements against all manufacturers, or against the protective system.

We beg to draw attention to an unfair method of attacking manufacturers, and through them, the protective system. A few manufacturers who have enjoyed marked prosperity are singled out. They are attacked in a sensational manner in the press and on the platform. Their profits for particularly successful years are advertised. Their financial statements are analyzed unfairly. No attempt is made to average the lean years with the good years. No tribute is admitted to efficiency, economical management, or unusual business ability. These outstanding examples of prosperity are held up to the public as a general condition of entire industries.

This method of argument is as unfair as it would be to hold up some phenomenal case of profitable farming, or a lucky strike in mining as an example of how agriculture or mining pays generally.

A recent survey of the shoe manufacturing industry shows, first, that a very considerable number of firms have tried to succeed in this industry but have become bankrupt, and second, that the average return on the capital invested in the shoe industry was 5.29 per cent. per annum. Dun's estimate of failures of Canadian manufacturing firms for the years indicated are as follows:—

Year.	No. of Failures of Mfg. Firms.
1918	232
1915	555
1908	426

This is the other side of the story.

For the year ending March 31st, 1921, the Minister of Finance, in his budget speech, estimated that Canada's balance sheet will be:—

Estimated expenditure (including capital outlays)	$549,649,428
Estimate revenue	381,000,000
Estimated deficit	$168,649,428

Adopt free trade, lose the customs revenue, which he estimated at $167,000,000, and the deficit will be $335,649,428.

Those who would abolish the Canadian customs tariff and thus lose the revenue which it produces, suggest that this revenue should be replaced by the imposition of the following taxes—a direct tax on unimproved land values and natural resources, increased taxation inheritance taxes, and increased taxation on corporations. As to taxing unearned increment as such, no objection is offered, but it must be remembered that vacant land now pays taxes to the municipalities and in some provinces additional taxes to the provincial government. In fact, much vacant land has been given up by the owners in preference to paying the taxes now imposed. Income taxes are now paid by individuals to the municipalities and also the Dominion Government. Inheritance taxes are now imposed by all the provinces. Corporations are taxed as persons by municipal governments, provincial governments and the Dominion Government, and also pay special taxes to every province for the privilege of being corporations. It is submitted that the suggested forms of direct taxation, while capable of some extension, cannot produce in one year the huge the huge sum of $335,000,000 (or almost the present entire revenue of Canada).

The fact that the per capita amount of revenue raised by the tariff is greater in Canada than in the United States is often used as an argument that the Canadian tariff is too high. The explanation of the fact is simple. The United States imposes a high tariff on imports which compete with domestic products. But, because the United States has built up home industry by constantly adhering to the protective principle for 131 years, comparatively little is imported. Consequently, the amount of duty collected is smaller per capita than in Canada, not because the United States duties are lower, but because the volume of imports is comparatively much smaller.

United States Competition.

The United States, with a population of 105,000,000 buys from this country of 8,000,000 people only about one-half the value of the goods which it sells us. Our exports to the United States and imports from the United States for various years since 1907 follow:

VALUE OF IMPORTS FROM UNITED STATES.

Fiscal year.	Amount.
1907 (9 mos.)	$153,943,029
1912	356,354,478
1917	671,631,816
1920	802,096,817

VALUE OF EXPORTS TO UNITED STATES.

Fiscal year.	Amount.
1907 (9 mos.)	$79,021,490
1912	120,534,534
1917	466,970,690
1920	464,029,273

Last year each inhabitant of the United States bought $4.41 worth of Canadian goods, while each Canadian bought $100.26 worth of United States goods. Significant also is the fact that our purchases from the United States were largely in manufactured goods while their purchases from Canada were chiefly raw material. It is not surprising that the rate of exchange is against Canada and that our money is at a heavy discount in the United States. This is the situation with a Canadian tariff. What would it be if the tariff were abolished? Canada (in competing with the United States, operates at present under certain disadvantages which may be summarized as follows:

1. The United States has maintained a protective tariff for 131 years: Canada for 42 years.
2. The United States has a more highly organized industrial system, supported by immense wealth.
3. The United States manufacturers are guaranteed their home market of 105,000,000 people, guaranteeing a large output and specialization. The Canadian home market of 8,000,000 has already been seriously invaded.
4. The United States has comparatively a greater labor supply.
5. The Customs regulations of the United States discourage Canadian imports, while the customs regulations of Canada encourage United States imports.

Briefly, we cannot manufacture extensively in Canada at the present age and stage of our industries, unless these industries are given protection against the industries of the United States. We have two choices. We can abolish our tariff and allow the United States to manufacture for us, while we produce raw materials for them, or we can persevere in our determination that Canada shall continue to develop as a manufacturing country as well as an agricultural country.

In Europe there is a well known phrase "peaceful penetration." Translated, this means the domination of a small country by a big country. The small country, it is true, often keeps the forms of national independence after freedom has departed, and remains bound in fetters of financial and commercial subservience.

During the reciprocity campaign of 1911, Ex-President Taft and the late Ex-President Roosevelt were agreed that reciprocity would be a good thing for the United States. They wrote confidential letters to each other on the subject; then came the quarrel over the nomination for the Presidency and the correspondence was published by Ex-President Taft on the 25th of April, 1912, at Boston, Mass.

In a letter from Ex-President Taft to the late Ex-President Roosevelt, the following extract occurs:—

"The amount of Canadian products we would take would produce a current of business between Western Canada and the United States that would make Canada only an adjunct of the United States. It would transfer all their important business to Chicago and New York, with their bank credits and everything else, and it would increase greatly the demand of Canada for our manufactures. I see this is the argument made against reciprocity in Canada, and I think it is a good one."

In his reply, the late Ex-President Roosevelt stated:—

"It seems to me what you purpose to do with Canada is admirable from every standpoint. I firmly believe in free trade with Canada for both economic and political reasons."

Those who do not believe Canadians when they point out the dangers that free trade or a lowering of the tariff would bring to Canada, will perhaps believe such men as Ex-President Taft and the late Ex-President Roosevelt.

The above references to the United States are made in a friendly spirit. A certain amount of trade between the two countries is necessary and most desirable. But the people of the United States will appreciate the natural desire of Canadians to promote their own national development, while maintaining with the United States the most cordial relations.

Conservation.

There are two courses we can pursue in regard to our natural resources. We can plunder these resources and ship the raw or partly finished products out of the country to other countries, which will take these materials, manufacture them and sell them back to us in the shape of finished articles at greatly enhanced prices. The other course is to conserve, to manufacture in Canada not only the preliminary processes, but also the succeeding processes and export the products in a finished state. Under the first plan, for example, we would export our timber, ores and pulpwood. Under the second plan we would manufacture them into highly finished products for domestic and foreign consumption. Under the first plan only a limited amount of rough labor would be necessary. Most of the business connected with the processes of further manufacture, affecting banking, transportation and insurance, would go to enrich other countries, and part of our own population would be forced to emigrate in search of employment. Under the second plan we could carry these processes of manufacturing to the highest stage here, providing employment and creating business. The first plan is free trade. The second plan is protection.

Preferential Tariffs within the British Empire.

On the whole, prospects seem bright for the general extension of British preferential tariff systems throughout British countries. Such an arrangement amongst British Overseas Dominions would correspond with the policy followed between the United States overseas countries, including Cuba. A similar policy is followed toward their respective possessions by France and Italy, and was followed by Germany.

Canadian Factories in the War.

Shortly after the beginning of the war the Canadian factory system was practically put on a war basis, and munition making was organized. How Canadian factories succeeded in war manufacturing is illustrated by the following statement from the report issued by the War Cabinet and presented to the Imperial Government: "The manufacturing resources in Canada have been mobilized for war production almost as completely as those of the British Isles." Munition work was done chiefly under the control of the Imperial Munitions Board—which placed orders in Canada amounting to $1,200,000,000. At the peak of operations between 250,000 and 275,000 workers were employed in making munitions including shells, parts, 64 wooden ships, 44 steel ships and 3,000 aeroplanes. At the same time Canadian factories largely supplied the Canadian people at home and the Canadian army abroad. About half the Canadian army came from the factories and half returned to the factories on demobilization. If we had not built up a factory system and allied business, if our manufacturing and business had been done for us largely by other countries, then Canada could not have sent as many men to the war, could not have supplied shells, ships and aeroplanes, could not have given large financial aid, and could not have absorbed her demobilized soldiers.

Conclusion.

In the course of this statement an effort has been made to show that manufacturing in Canada is inseparably connected with other industries; that two million wage earners and dependents secure their living through manufacturing, and that the most of the remainder of the population derive indirect benefits; that this country as a whole has made remarkable progress under the National Policy of protection; that, with the entire world swinging towards protection, Canada cannot relinquish it; that the revision of the tariff should be scientific and take into consideration the requirements of all classes, that a stable fiscal policy of protection with some assurance of permanence is a vital need; and, finally, that the aim of the fiscal policy determined as a result of this enquiry should be to advance Canada towards her destiny as a fully developed nation within the British Empire.

A FEW REASONS

Why Canada should retain the present fiscal policy of adequate protection for Canadian agriculture, industry, labor and business.

1. Canada has shown wonderful growth in agriculture, manufacturing, forest production, mineral production, transportation, banking, insurance, and other business since the adoption in 1878 of the National Policy of adequate protection for all classes.

2. Because Canada was strong in all departments of national activity, she made a great record in the war.

3. Since the war practically all civilized countries have retained or increased their protective tariffs.

4. Over 2,000,000 Canadians are supported by wages paid by Canadian factories.

5. Over 80 per cent. of all the produce of Canadian farms is consumed in Canada.

6. The tariff has caused over 600 branches of United States factories to locate in Canada.

7. The tariff provides a great portion of the revenue of the Dominion Government.

8. The present tariff of Canada is very moderate; the average rate of duty on all dutiable importations is 22½ per cent.; the average rate of duty on all importations, free and dutiable, is only 14⅔ per cent.

9. Canadian products should not be exported in the raw state but should be manufactured in Canada in order to create business, provide employment and add to the national wealth.

10. Canada has maintained a protective tariff for 42 years. The United States, our greatest competitor, has maintained a protective tariff for 131 years. Their manufacturers have a home market of 105 million people. Our manufacturers have a home market of about 8 million people. Last year each inhabitant of the United States bought, on the average, $4.41 worth of Canadian goods, while each Canadian, on the average, bought $100.26 worth of United States goods. United States purchases from Canada were largely raw materials. Canadian purchases from the United States were largely manufactured goods. Is it surprising that the rate of exchange is against Canada and that our dollar is at a heavy discount in the United States? This is the situation with a Canadian tariff. What would it be if the tariff were removed? Remove the tariff, and, in the words of ex-President Taft, Canada will become "an adjunct of the United States."

11. The destiny of Canada is a fully developed nation within the British Empire.

VETERANS OPPOSING GENERAL ELECTIONS

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—Strong opposition to a Dominion general election at the present time is expressed in an important resolution passed by the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Unit No. 15. This opposition is based upon the belief that it would unsettle the public mind at a time when harmony is necessary to stabilize the industries of the country and encourage agricultural development.

The resolution, after referring to the disorganized condition of Europe and the attempts made to discredit the British Empire and all it stands for, declares that the country relied with full assurance on the men who made Canada a nation, to make certain of a stable and experienced executive in the trying days to come.

It further declares that "the Government which had the vision and courage to stand firm in 1914-15-16-17 and '18, when vision and courage were most needed, is quite capable of carrying on the government of the Dominion, being assured by all whol value safe and sound administration that no question of mandate or time allowance will weigh for one second in their loyal and unswerving support to those who in Canada's darkest days supported the Canadian Corps overseas without measure and without stint.

Matter of Gratuities.

The resolution expresses the confidence of the Army and Navy Veterans and satisfactory allowances and increased pensions will be forthcoming for those who suffered irreparable physical and material loss trough war service, their confidence resting upon the knowledge that Canadian gratuities and pensions are, on the whole, the most generous of those of any country.

Several new ocean services are announced, from both Atlantic and Pacific ports.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, SEPT. 16TH, 1920.

A RIFT IN THE LUTE.

The Labour-U.F.O. alliance in Ontario is not working out very smoothly and there are signs of trouble on the horizon. West Peterborough is not the only mixed rural and urban riding in which the two wings of the present Provincial Government are unable to agree. Here the Farmers have entirely cut the ties that bound them to the Labour party, while in Brantford there is a wide split between the two factions. It is evident that the agreement between Farmers and Labour which never appeared likely to operate successfully will be severely strained in the next general election, especially in ridings that are a mixture of the rural and industrial. The two interests managed to get along during the first session of the Legislature because self interest compelled them to make mutual concessions in order that the safety of the Government might be maintained. It is quite a different matter when it comes to an election fight in ridings where both parties think they have a chance of election. The situation in West Peterborough and Brantford is likely to be duplicated in many other Ontario ridings when the Dominion election rolls around.

DECORATION DAY.

The action of the Army and Navy Veterans of Kingston in asking Sir Henry Drayton to have a bill introduced before the House of Commons naming the first Sunday in August as a national decoration day is a step that will meet with hearty approval. Canada should have a decoration day upon which to do honour to the memory of those who gave up their lives in the great war. At present different organization of returned soldiers have selected dates of their own and have decorated the graves of departed comrades, at the same time paying a rtibute to the soldiers who met their death overseas. It is desirable, however that a day should be set apart each year for the whole Dominion so that from the Atlantic to the Pacific Canadians might unite in carrying out appropriate ceremonies. We copy many things from the United States, sometimes not too wisely, but the establishment of an annual decoration day is something in which we might well take pattern from our neighbors. The memory of the men who made the supreme sacrifice should be kept ever green and a national observance of Decoration Day is one simple, effective way that commends itself. There might perhaps be some difference of opinion as to whether the date suggested by the Kingston veterans is the most suitable, but that is a minor point; the idea itself is a splendid one and should be carried out.

"TURNER'S" IS NO MORE.

It is with genuine regret that the Examiner announces the passing of one of the brighest and most cleverly edited weekly periodicals in Canada, "Turner's Weekly," of which Mr. Harris Turner, a blinded soldier, and formerly a member of the Princess Pats, was editor. "Turner's" has been a welcome visitor since its first appearance two years ago for the brightness of its style, the vigor of its articles and the sound common sense that it displayed on public questions, particularly those problems affecting the returned soldier, made it a particularly interesting publication. Like many other newspapers and periodicals, Turner's Weekly has been driven out of existence by the rapidly increasing price of everything that enters into the publication of a newspaper. In one of his characteristic sermons to subscribers, "the last time I shall address you from the pulpit," as Mr. Turner puts it, the editor of the Weekly explains that: "The trouble has arisen over the parish magazine which I attempted to publish since the commencement of my pastorate. It has unfortunately been unable to compete longer with the cost of paper and the cost of ink and the cost of printers and the cost of printing machinery. In the space of two years it has passed a strenuous childhood, survived an exciting youth, blossomed into sturdy manhood, attained decrepit old age and is now at the point of death. This is its last gasp. I pause to let those sob who take such things that way."

Turner's will be missed, but undoubtedly Mr. Turner's virile pen will be in demand by other journals and his vigorous articles will continue to be a feature of Canadian journalism.

BEHIND THE MASK.

The rapidly increasing number of divorces among moving picture actors and actresses is a source of regret to the public. The millions of people who frequent the picture theatres learn to know and to like the persons who appear upon the screen, and they love to imagine that in real life they are as good and true as in the characters they portray. They do not wish the mask torn away from their favorites by unpleasant announcements of domestic troubles. Whatever may be the cause of the high percentage of divorces among prominent "movie" stars, the fact is reacting unfavorably upon the profession. When once a favorite actress appears in the divorce court, the old deception has gone, anb she loses much of her power to charm. —The Syracuse Journal.

TO FRIGHTEN THE FARMERS.

The Meighen Government's charge that all its opponents are Bolshevists or nearly as bad is sprung too soon. It should have been kept as a rorbach for the closing days of the election. But here is a government that declares that it will delay the election for a year or two, and deliberately announces that it intends to scare the people into voting for it, and shows how it is to be done. We hear the creaking of the propaganda machine. We see the stage mechanic beating on the sheet of metal to make the stage thunder.

Mr. Meighen started the show at Stirling with his ridiculous talk about wreckers and builders. Then he spoke to a select audience at Kingston and classed Mr. Crerar and the low tariff men with the labor radicals, and promised to stage a terrific battle against them. Next came Sir George Foster in East Elgin. He is thirty years older than Mr. Meighen and ought to know better, but he actually surpassed his young leader in foolishness and impudence.

He goes into a constituency mainly composed of farmers, who elected a United Farmer to the Legislature last October, and he has the gall to tell the farmers that their party is almost as bad as the Bolsheviki, by which he means to imply that the farmers of Elgin are in favor of robbery and murder as a means of government,—for this, as Sir George Foster knows very well, is the popular conception of Bolshevism. But when he comes down to details, the only fault he can find with the farmers' party is that it has a wrong name. Being composed of farmers it must not call itself a Farmers' Party. The Government will be graciously pleased to allow a farmer to run for Parliament if he will disguise himself as a National Liberal Conservative, Hot and Cold, Wet and Dry Candidate. But let a farmer call himself a farmer, and you have Bolshevism, robbery, murder, rebellion and chaos.

"Lo, thy dread empire, Chaos, is restored;
Light dies before thy uncreating word;
Thy hand, great Anarch, lets the curtain fall,
And universal darkness buries all."

Farmers need not waste time in defending themselves against this rubbish. What they should do, is to attack and punish a Government which dares to insult their intelligence with such crude and silly stuff. "The insolence of office" was never more flagrantly displayed. Responsible government is in danger, says Sir George Foster. If such be the case, it is danger because of the arrogance of the clique which now holds office at Ottawa, and its disregard for public opinion. Sir George and Mr. Meighen talk as if there was a conspiracy to overturn all government. What really exists is a widespread desire to get rid of this Government, and to choose one that represents the people. The country wants to throw away an old pair of boots, and Meighen and Foster cry out that the country is going to stop wearing clothes.— Farmers' Sun.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCE ACT PROVIDES FOR SUPPORT OF DEPENDENT CHILDREN

COMES INTO EFFECT ON OCTOBER 1ST — MUNICIPALITIES SHALL PAY HALF THE ALLOWANCES GRANTED BY THE PROVINCIAL COMMISSION — A SURVEY OF THE CONDITIONS.

LOCAL BOARD NEEDED

With the Mothers' Allowances Act coming into effect on 1st October there have been some enquiries about its provisions, its operation, and the procedure expectant beneficiaries should follow to obtain the assistance it authorizes.

One of the clauses of this new legislation passed at the last session of the Provincial Government and assented to on June 4th sets out that "a monthly alowance may be paid toward the support of the dependent children of a mother who is a widow or the wife of an inmate of a hospital of the insane in Ontario or of a man is permanently disabled and incapable of contributing to the support of his family."

Conditions For Allowances.

Conditions of eligibility are:

(a) The mother must have been a resident of Canda at the time of the death or total disability of the father of the children, and must also have resided in this country three years prior to the application for the allowance.

(b) She must be a resident of Ontario when the application is made and for a period of two years thereto.

(c) The mother must continue to reside in Ontario while in receipt of an allowance.

(d) She is a British subject by birth or naturalization, or the wife of a British subject.

(e) She must be a fit and proper person to have the custody of her children.

(f) Has resident with her two or more of her children under fourteen years of age and has not adequate means to care properly for them without the assistance of an allowance under this Act.

To administer this Act a Commission of five persons, two of whom shall be women, are appointed by the Lieutenant-Governor. They are to serve without remuneration except an allowance for expenses and attendance at meetings. This Commission shall receive through local boards or otherwise applications for allowances, shall fix the maximum and minimum allowances that may be paid under this Act, and shall make orders granting allowances to mothers who are qualified to receive them.

Municipalities Contribute.

The Act also provides that half the allowance granted to a mother shall be paid by the county, city or town of which is deemed a resident, and if a municipality desires to object to making such contribution a notice to that effect shall be given to the Commission which is empowered to amend the direction for payment of a contribution.

If a mother to whom an allowance is payable removes from one municipality to another that municipality shall not be made liable for the contribution until the mother has resided in such other municipality continuously for at least one year.

The Commission is authorized to make final decisions in regard to allowances. It may also make regulations for effecting the provisions of the Act. Among these is a recent notice to municipalities to submit the names of persons from whom local boards shall be selected. A local board will be composed of five members, two of whom shall be women, and the local Council may name two of the members, the Commission appointing the others.

Peterborough's Council failed to agree on a list of names to be forwarded to the Commission and referred this detail to a committee with instructions to report at the next meeing.

DANDRUFF IS DANGEROUS

Dandruff is so common that many people disregard its warning and rely on shampoos to keep thier scalp clean. This is not sufficient. The dandruff soon returns and shows the presence of the dandruff "germ" which cannot be washed away. The dandruff germ is dangerous because it destroys the life and vitality of the hair roots and relaxes the muscular tissues which hold and protect the hair sac. Then the hair gets thin, brittle and dead looking, falls out badly and in time baldness results. To save your hair, the dandruff germ must be destroyed. Here is a simple prescription which you can easily make at home. It is perfectly harmless and will not stain the scalp.

Get from any druggist 6 oz. Bay Rum, 2 oz. Lavona (de composee)) and one-half drachm Menthal Crystals. Mix together and allow to stand over night before using. It is not enough to merely put this on the hair. It should be rubbed right into the scalp with the finger tips or a stiff brush. It doesn't take over ten minutes a day and I know of nothing so effective and certain in its results. E. W.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING FOR MILK PRODUCERS

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 15.—There was a very small gathering of farmers at the meeting addressed by E. H. Stonehouse, president of the Ontario Milk and Cream Producers' Association. He scored the Board of Commerce order regarding the price of milk in Toronto, which, he stated, practically paralyzed the industry. A resolution was passed protesting against the increased railway freight rates, and asking that the Federal Government exercise its power to exempt butter fat, cheese and cream. Another resolution was passed, pledging support and co-operation to the Ontario Milk and Cream Producers' Association "in its effort to establish the principle of collective bargaining and in their work of stabilizing and upbuilding the industry."

BIGGEST FREIGHT AND PASSENGER TRAFFIC YET

(Canadian Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 16.—Passenger and package freight lines on the Great Lakes this season will have the biggest business in their history, according to estimates of local vessel men.

The total net tonnage in bituminous and anthracite coal, iron ore, stone, and grain carried by lake freighters, however, they said, will again fall about 23,000,000 tons behind the banner year of 1918. The record was then placed at 114,614,018 net tons. This year's total in these lines is expected to just about equal last year's 91,761,738 tons.

Officials of passenger boat lines on Lake Erie say the great increase in their business is due to the railroads' inability to handle the volume of business offered them because of lack of passenger and freight cars, strikes and embargoes. To these same causes is attributed the decrease in freight tonnage under what had been planned for. There is a very large increase in tourist traffic on the Great Lakes reported.

AUSTRALIAN TARIFF TO PROTECT AND AID INDUSTRY STARTED DURING WAR

ALSO PROVISION AUTHORIZING NEGOTIATIONS WITH OTHER COUNTRIES FOR PREFERENTIAL TARIFF.

MELBOURNE, Australia, Sept. 16.—A statement regarding the policy underlying the new Australian tariff has been issued by the Australian Commonwealth authorities. Although the new tariff became effective from March 25, the date of its introduction in the Federal Parliament, it is officially stated to be in "the proposal stage," and will require the approval of parliament before technically becoming the law of the land. In the meantime, according to the usual practice, the new 1920 duties are being collected. The statement says:

Security Chief Object.

"In drafting the tariff, the chief object in view was not only to give security to the industries which had started or expanded during the war, but also to provide scope for their further development, so as to enable them, so far as this end is attainable, to supply all Australian requirements especially as regards those industries whose raw materials are produced in Australia. It was recognized, in fixing the measure of protection, that customs duties which are not high enough to be effective are worse than useless.

Preference Increase.

"It was also recognized that in consequence of the disorganization of industry in the United Kingdom owing to the war, and of the higher cost of production resulting from it, an increase in the preference to goods manufactured in the United Kingdom was necessary in order to give such goods a favorable opportunity of competing with the products of other countries trading with Australia.

"In addition provision is being made is the tariff act authorizing negotiations with other countries for the purpose of arranging reciprocal tariff agrements. This provision will authorize the extension of the benefit of the British preferential tariff, or of the intermediate tariff, subject to reciprocal concessions being agreed upon, to British Dominions, and the extension under similar conditions of the benefit of the intermediate tariff to countries other than those within the British Empire. It is now, however, proposed to enter into tariff agreements with any country in which the economic cinditions are lower than in Australia.

Triple- Column Principle.

"Is order to serve these purposes the tariff has been arranged on the triple-column principle, comprising the British preferential tariff, an intermediate tariff, and a general tariff. With the exception of goods the produce or manufacture of the United Kingdom which are being admitted under the British preferential tariff, and of certain goods the produce of South Africa, with which Dominion a preferential agreement has been in operation since 1906, all other goods are liable to duty at the rates of the general tariff, and will remain so liable unless a reciprocal agreement is made with the countries concerned.

"Another new feature of the tariff is the proposal of differential duties, i.e., of duties which will come into operation at a specific future date The purpose of this procedure is to give encouragement to the introduction of industries already in existence and in connection with which there are evident prospects of capital being invested for their establishment in the immediate future. Examples may be cited such as steel plates and sheets . . . . reapers and binders and mowers, hay rakes, caustic soda, explosives, etc.

Basis Value For Duty.

"With reference to the ad valorem rates of the tariff, the basis of the value for duty is the domestic price in the country whence the goods are exported to Australia; that is, the price at which similar goods in similar quantities are sole for home consumption in such country. To this price is added the cost of placing the goods on board at the port of export and to the f.o.b. value thus ascertained, a further addition of 10 per cent. is made."

MR. R. R. HALL GAVE AN ADDRESS AT ORONO LIBERAL NOMINATION

"PROFITEERS ARE BECOMING RICHER AND THE GREAT MASSES OF THE PEOPLE ARE BECOMING POORER."

Mr. R. R. Hall spoke at the Liberal nomination for the County of Durham at Orono, at which Mr. W. T. R. Preston was unanimously chosen as the Liberal candidate.

Mr. Hall, on reviewing the record of the Union Government and its successors, the National Liberal-Conservative Government, pointed out that they were utterly unworthy of the confidence of the Canadian people.

No mistake must be made, however, that they will resort to desperate efforts in order to retain office when they appeal to the country. They will, no doubt, adopt the same methods and use the same appeals that have been used by them so successfully in the past. They will preach blue ruin to the manufacturer, and unemployment to the working man, and the loss of a home market to the farmers, if they are defeated. They will waive the British flag, impute disloyalty to their opponents, and stir up racial and sectarian hate, all of which have proved to be very effective in winning their past elections, and blinding the electors by their infernal dust.

A Great Danger.

Unless, therefore, all the opponents of the present Government unite there will be great danger in their again being returned to power. It is, therefore, important that all opponents should get together and fight side by side under one banner. If the electors divide in groups and fight in groups, then the chances of the present Government winning the election are greatly increased.

The Liberal platform embraces all that is practical to accomplish in the interests of Canada, that is contained in the Farmers' platform, in the Working Men's platform, and in the Great War Veterans' platform.

The Farmers are chiefly interested in the duties being reduced upon everything that enters into the cost of production on the farm, and the Working Men are interested in the duties being reduced upon the necessities of life, and the great masses of people of all classes are likewise interested in the same.

The Profiteers. . . . . .

The present Government have so administered our affairs that the profiteers are becoming richer and the great masses of the people are becoming poorer.

I will give you one or two illustration from the report of the Commission upon the high cost of living:

The profits of the Paton Woollen Mfg. Co. of Sherbrooke for the year 1917 was 46 per cent. on its capital invested, and the profits of the same company for the year 1919 were 72 per cent.

The profits of the Manitoba Cold Storage Co. for one year were 50 per cent. It was shown that Sir Robert Borden was a stockholder in that company to the extent of $9,500.00, and his earnings upon that investment for one year were $4,750.00.

The profits of the Ogilvie Flour Mill Co. for 1917 were 48 per cent.

The profits of the Harris Abattoir Meat Plant, located in Toronto, for the year 1918 were 60 per cent. on the capital invested.

Abnormal Profits.

These are abnormal profits, and it is owning to the fact that the Dominion Government permits these industries to make abnormal profits, and its failure to correct other abuses, that the cost of living is increased.

The great masses of the people are interested in the high cost of living, and hence it is that the great masses of the people should unite under one banner to see that these grievances are righted.

The ordinary expenditures of the Government are out of proportion to our present population. In 1911 the ordinary expenditures of the Government were $79,400,000.

In 1918 the ordinary expenditures were $232,700,000.

In 1911 our ordinary expenditures were $11.70 per head, under Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In 1918 they were raised to $31.00 per head of the population.

Cost of War.

The supporters of the Government will say, "But this was caused by the war." In compiling these figures, I have taken only the ordinary expenditures and have not taken into consideration in these figures one single cent that was spent on the war. The cost of the war is extra. The cost of the war was upwards of two billion dollars. That cost has to be paid in addition to the payment of our ordinary expenditures. The cost of the war is equal to the assessed value of every city, town, village, and farm in the whole Province of Ontario.

If the electors of the County of Durham are in earnest in voting for themselves, they will unite under one banner, and they will return Mr. W. T. R. Preston at the head of the polls at the very first opportunity they have to cast their ballots.

NEW PARTNERSHIP FORMED.

"Pete" Campbell and "Gamey" Stratton on Stock Exchange.

Toronto Star: Two well known Toronto sportsmen, Petes G. Campbell and Wilfred W. ("Gamey" Stratton, announce that they have formed a partnership and have taken over the business and offices of Albert E. Dyment and Co., as members of the Toronto Stock Exchange.

Both Campbell and Stratton are Peterborough boys. Campbell was educated at T.C.S., R.M.C. and University of Toronto, being prominent in athletics. He played on the 'Varsity rugby team for four years, was quarter back and captain of the team in 1912; also played on the hockey team. In January, 1914, he joined R.C. Matthews Company, but shortly afterwards went overseas with the 1st Canadian Division as a lieutenant in the 48th Highlanders, was awarded the M.C., and was wounded in the 1918 campaign. Arriving home he rejoined the Matthews firm, and was with that investment house until July 1, when he went to Montreal for instruction with Alex. Paterson and Son, forming the partnership with Stratton on September 1. Campbell helped organize and manage the Granite hockey team, senior O.H.A. champions, last winter. He is at present captain of the Rosedale Golf Club.

Stratton also went to T.C.S. and the 'Varsity, where he succeeded Campbell as quarter back of the rugby team. He also played hockey, being right wing for the junior O. H. A. champions 1914-1915. During the war he served with the Royal Flying Corps and since his return had been associated with the National City Co. until July, when he went to Montreal to work with Hansons and Ferguson, brokers .On September 3 he was elected a member of the Toronto Stock Exchange, and will do the floor work for the new firm.

GUELPH, Sept. 15. — The local police have received word that Raymond Moss, alias Albert Heihm, who was arrested here after breaking into Savage's jewelry store, broke custody while being taken from Guelph to Mimico, where he was to have served a year's sentence. Moss was escorted as far as Toronto by Inspector Ryan, but was turned over to another official there, and while on the train near Coldwater Junction he made a leap through the window while the train was moving at 25 miles an hour. Another prisoner named Palmer also made good his escape at the same time, but he was later captured. So far as is known Moss is still at large.

What Women in Their "Forties" Need

BY A SPECIALIST

Many women approach the critical changing period of their lives that comes between the ages of forty and fifty, unmindful of its tremendous importance to their future health and happiness. Not understanding the functional changes taking place in their bodies, they work beyond their strength, often break down, becoming nervous wrecks, their bodies suffering with fatigue and their weakened nerves trembling at every step. Often in their weakened condition capillary hemorrhage becomes excessive this added drain compelling them to take to their beds from nervous exhaustion.

What these women need is something that will instantly relieve the pressure on the overworked nerve centres and give them the vitality to stand up under the gruelling strain. Wonderfully effective results are often given in such conditions by the simple use of Ferro-Peptine, a skillful combination of six of the best nerve vitalizing elements known to modern chemistry. These little tablets contain no dangerous habit-forming drugs and are entirely harmless in their action.

Thousands of women can testify that Ferro-Peptine strengthens the jaded nerves, revives the tired brain and puts the energy and courage into the body that enables one to stand up under the unusual strain of the changing period. Ferro-Peptine has to do these things or it costs nothing, as all leading druggists sell it on a positive guarantee of relief or money back.

KINGSTON HOLDS THREE U.S. RUNAWAY BOYS

KINGSTON, Sept. 14.—Three runaway boys from Ogdensburg, N.Y., were picked up on the street between 1 and 2 o'clock on Friday morning by Constables Nicholas Timmerman and Leslie Armstrong. They are being held at the police station awaiting word from Ogdensburg. United States Counsel F. S. S. Johnson is taking up the matter in an endeavor to locate the parents of the lads.

The youngsters are Henry Dupree, aged twelve years; Arthur Seguil, aged fourteen years; Leo La Rose, aged ten. The youngsters took the notion on Thursday that they would like to start out and see the world, so they took the ferry over to Prescott and then travelled to Kingston, via a Grand Trunk train, and stopped off here, where their escapade was nipped in the bud, as a result of the good work of the two constables mentioned. They noticed the lads loitering around the corner of Princess and Montreal streets, acting in a suspicious manner, and as the could not give a proper account of themselves rounded them up.

JAR SHORTAGE REPORTED HERE

HEAVY FRUIT CROP SAID TO BE RESPONSIBLE

The scarcity of preserving pars is causing no little worry to Peterborough housewives. A local grocer today pointed to his stock which was sitting in one of his windows. He had about one dozen tems. They could not get another supply anywhere, he declared. None of the local wholesalers had any in stock, and there was no use trying to get them in any other centre, as the scarcity was general throughout Canada and the United States.

Last year he stated there were large numbers of jars left on their hands, and the present situation was unexpected. The bountiful fruit crops have, however, made a heavy run on the supply, and some of the grocers are now entirely cleaned out. The only probable place they may secure a supply is from some of the country stores or stores in the smaller towns, and Peterborough grocers will attempt to get a supply from this source if it is possible to do so.

PULP RIGHTS WITHOUT TENDER ON THE "O.K." OF FERGUSON

DEPUTY MINISTER TELLS OF CONCESSION TO PORT ARTHUR COMPANY—SEARCH FOR A MISSING LETTER.

TORONTO, Sept. 16.— Why not open a hospital for suffering Timber Probe witnesses? asks the Toronto Telegram.

Yesterday morning Crown Counsel R. T. Harding produced a certificate from Dr. J. McAlpin, of Lindsay, Ont., sayin gthat John Carew, who has been subpoenated, cannot travel for two weeks because of a sprained ankle.

"You had better subpoene the doctor, too," directed Justice Riddell, declaring the certificate "an absurdity."

"Very well, my Lord," agreed Mr. Harding.

W. K. Jackson, Buffalo, of the New Ontario Colonization Company, also did not appear.

That Hon. G. H. Ferguson, as Minister of Crown Lands, was responsible for the granting without competition of pulp cutting rights for 30,000 cords in Heale Township and adjacent extensions, was testified by Albert Grigg, ex-M.P.P., and Deputy Minister.

The Port Arthur Pulp and Paper Company were the favored ones. That Mr. Ferguson also acted contrary to the statutes in opening certain areas for cutting pulp after having been withdrawn from prospecting was also intimated by the Commissioners. Hon. Mr. Ferguson will be heard on Sept. 30.

Missing Letter.

Further evidence was submitted relative to letters missing from the official files. Patr of the examination of Mr. Grigg was held up owing to inability to locate a letter from Sam Marks to Mr. Ferguson bearing on abuses reported to the department by him.

Endeavour were also made to ascertain what had been done when in 1909 evidence was placed before the Government regarding the falsification of returns to the Government. Evidently the evidence resulting from the investigation made in that year was ignored.

Valuable Property.

Thirty mining claims in the district west of Heale Township had been reported on by Mr. Oliver, at the request of the Department. He reported much of this land was "covered by the best spruce I have ever seen," running 25 to 30 cords per acre, and on much of the property "not a rock or stone is to be found." Mr. Grigg didn't recollect having seen those particular portions of the report.

Justice Riddell—"You had in the Department all the machinery to ascertain whether it was true or inaccurate?" "Yes."

Correspondence showed that the Heale Township grant was made on recommendation of John A. Oliver. "So that," said Justice Riddell, "puts the responsibility on the Crown timber agent."

Mr. Grigg remarked that Oliver and his staff were underpaid. The Department had lost some of their best men.

Minister Ignored Statutes.

Justice Riddell— "We have had a number of instances in which after they had been taken away from staking, an order came from Mr. Ferguson that they be passed, and we have been given to understand that this was against the statutes. We can get no explanation of this from you, Mr. Grigg?"—"No, sir."

Justice Latchford — "You would have no concern with these perjured affidavits when these mining claims were taken out?"—"No, sir, I would have no knowledge of that. When it came to the department it was the concern of the Deputy Minister of Mines to bring it to the attention of the Minister."

DUMMER TOWNSHIP COUNCIL MEETING

The eleventh meeting of the Municipal Council of the Township of Dummer for the year 1920, was held in the Town Hall on Friday, 10th September, at 10.30 in the forenoon. There were present Chris. J. Darling, Reeve, and Messrs. Robson, Crowe, Barr, and Hamblin, Councillors. The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

The matter of appointing a collector of taxes and rates for the year 1920 was taken up. Mr. Harold Darling submitted an offer to be appointed at a salary of $145.00. The appointment was laid over for the afternoon session to give an opportunity for other intending applicants to appear if they wished to do so.

On motion, a by-law was passed to strike the following rates for levies in the Township of Dummer for the year 1920, viz.:

County rate and school equivalent rate, 5 1-10 mills in the dollar; County House of Refuge rate, 7-10 mills in the dollar; County Highways rate, 25-10 mills. On motion, the following accounts were passed for payment: Sam. Kavanagh, for shovelling snow and opening up roads last winter, $12.00; Robert Golloher, for shovelling snow, etc., $7.80; A. John Jenkins, for shovelling snow, etc., $13.00; Bruce Snelgrove, for shovelling snow, etc., $9.50; Robert Hannon, for shovelling snow, etc., $12.00; Robert McMaster, for shovelling snow, etc., $14.50; J. G. Keefer, for printing account to date, $68.66.

On motion, Mr. Harold Darling was appointed collector at a salary of $145.00, and a by-law to make the appointment of collector was passed and numbered By-law No. 883.

On motion, a resolution was passed in compliance with the Act to amend the Statute Labour Act, being Chap. 65, Ontario Statutes of 1920, authorising the Clerk to charge up on the collector's roll statute labour tax on all assessed property in the Township of Dummer that has become liable for statute labour tax. On motion, the Clerk was authorised to not enter the arrears of taxes accrued previous to the year 1915 against the Reg. Hendren estate in the village of Warsaw, whereas such arrears were returned by mistake by the County Clerk for collection of the same.

Council adjourned, to meet on Friday, 3rd December, at 10.30 a.m.

R. DEEN, Clerk.

HER "WATER CYCLE" BROKE DOWN IN CHANNEL

LONDON, Sept. 6.—An attempt to cross the English channel on a so-called "water cycle" has just been made by Miss Zetta Hills, a young Englishwoman. She started at 7 a.m. from Calais for Folkestone, about 30 miles. The currents prevented a direct course being followed, and at first Miss Hills was taken down Channel along the French coast until a few miles from Boulogne. Then the tide turned and she was swept up Channel until east of the Goodwin Lightship. Once more the tide changed and the cycle made a westerly course.

After covering about 48 miles in 12 hours, the machine broke down, owing, it is supposed to the backwash of a passing steamer, and Miss Hills was taken off by a rowing boat, only three and a half miles from the English coast.

Her food and drink were milk, fruit and boiled ham. She intends to try the trip again.

Manitoba Government expenditures for the current year will exceed $10,000,000.

"Why Didn't You Leave Me Years Ago"

Title of New Song Now Sweeping the Country

The latest song craze from the bright lights of Broadway is entitled "Why Didn't You Leave Me Years Ago Instead of Leaving Me Now." This ballad is now inundating Canada with a wave of song that promises to reach from Ontario to the wilds of the Northland.

The song is issued by Leo. Feist, of New York and Toronto, who expect that "Why Didn't You Leave Me Years Ago" will rival in popularity some of their other big hits, such as "I Know What It Means To Be Lonesome," "Dixieland Lassie of Mine," "Rose of No Man's Land," "K-K-Katy," etc. The cover of the song contains a beautiful picture of Mabel Normand, so popular with movie patrons.

STORE'S LOOTED IN PORTUGAL

(Canadian Press.)

LISBON, Sept. 16.—Portugal is suffering from a shortage of coal and provisions which have resulted in looting of food stores in some parts of the country and in the reappearance of the formerly familiar long lines of women standing outside of bakeries waiting for bread. The situation has been complicated by an announcement of the Minister of the Interior published in the Seculo that the government has become aware of a bolshevist plot to provoke disturbances all over Portugal, so as to lead up to a general movement later. The Minister made it known that the government had taken precautions to frustrate those plans.

There have been severe conflicts at Santarem, Setubal and in other parts of the country, where stores have been looted and emtpied of their contents. The military authorities assumed control in Santarem and order was restored but subsequently fish riots occurred, the Santarem fish market was attacked by a mob which seized the fish and divided it among themselves. Dry cod formerly was the chief and favorite food of the people but is now so expensive that only the well-to-do can afford it. One shopkeeper appeased the mob by distributing his supply of cod fish and thus was allowed to retain his other wares.

The seriousness of the shortage of food and fuel has been emphasized by a statement of Premier Granjo made in Parliament in which he said that there was a lack not only of coal and provisions but of all other articles indispensable for living. Since there was only 10,000 tons of sugar to supply the country, the government was going to prohibit its sale in restaurants and pastry shops so that the hospitals of Portugal might not run short.

"Butter, lard, coal, oil and even vegetables have disappeared from the market since the government prices for those articles were fixed," said the Premier. "The bread question is even more desperate than the others. The wheat in this country will barely suffice to supply bread for the next five days. Wheat contracts are being closed by the government at a very high price. The maize harvest is so bad that we have already imported 100,000 tons of it. There is no coal in the city of Lisbon, where the poor are tearing up their floors to cook their food and the foreign coal is sold at such an exorbitant price that it does not even allow our fishing vessels to go to sea for fish."

In view of this crisis, the Premier appealed to Parliament for aid and efforts are being made to obtain wheat from the big farmers in the Ribatejo district.

A curious thing is happening to the massive tower of Westminster Cathedral, a landmark for miles, which is leaning. It is three feet out of the perpendicular, but it does not look an eighth of an inch out from any viewpoint.

An ounce of gold leaf rolled out, would cover the floor of a room 14 feet square.

FRIENDS OF IRISH FREEDOM TO MEET

CONFERENCE TO-MORROW OF IRISH AMERICANS IN NEW YORK CITY

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—In the hope of settling differences of opinion regarding the Irish Republican movement and methods employed in carrying on propaganda in the United States, the National Council of the friends of Irish Freedom will meet in the Waldorf-Astoria here to-morrow. Delegates are arriving today from many places in the U. S. to take part in the gathering, and officials of the organization estimate that there will be some 200 in attendance when the conference opens to-morrow morning.

Split in the Ranks.

While the split in the ranks of the Irish Republic supporters, which at one time threatened bitter strife, has been healed to a certain extent, it is declared there is still an undercurrent of feeling between the supporters of "President" de Valera and the faction headed by John Devoy, editor of the "Gaelic American", and Supreme Court Justice Daniel F. Gohalan. Tomorrow's gathering, it is said, may arrive at some agreement which may make unnecessary the calling of a race convention, which has been urged on de Valera by thousands of members of the organization.

The trouble started when Devoy published a sharp criticism of de Valera in the June 19 issue of the Gaelic American. He charged that $50,000 of the money subscribed for Irish Republic bonds had been used to send to the Republican convention at Chicago " a nondescript aggregation of individuals" which there undid the work which had been done by Judge Cohalan toward securing an Irish plank in the Republican platform. He accused de Valera of upsetting the plans of the friends of Irish Freedom by insisting upon a plank giving formal recognition to the "Irish Republic," and declared that the Irish "president" had pretended he, and he alone, was authorized to speak for Ireland and the Irish race.

Heavy Blow Dealt.

The article said that "a heavy blow had thus been realt the Irish Republic by its president and that the latter's action was "an undisguised attempt to dictate and control the political actions of American citizens from outside the United States."

"At an expense of fully $50,000, taken out of the money subscribed for Irish Republican bonds and for expenditure in Ireland alone," said Devoy's statement, "a nondescript aggregation of individuals was brought to Chicago from many parts of the country to constitute a rival committee to that of the Friends of Irish Freedom and contest the authority of the elected representatives of the Irish National movement in America."

Situation Acute.

The situation was so acute that de Valera hurried back to New York and got into conference with his supporters here. After a good deal of wrangling and bitterness, according to stories current at the time, a series of conferences was held and the matter was temporarily smoothed over. Devoy published an apology retracted the charges he had made against de Valera, and expressed a desire to work in harmony with him.

Since that time it is said there have been indications that the quarrel was still smouldering, and it is believed an attempt to arrive at a permanent settlement of all differences between the rival factions will be the chief aim of the convention which opens tomorrow

ATTENDANCE AT NORMAL SCHOOL

FEW MEN ENROLL FOR THE COURSE --MORE COMING

One hundred and forty-eight pupils are enrolled at the Normal School this year, as compared with 152 on the roll in 1919-20. Thirteen young men and 135 ladies make up this total of 148, but in all probabilityi etaoin shr 148, but in all likelihood this number will be increased, for many High School pupils who intend to take up teaching are now writing on their supplementary papers, and will not be able to enter till the results of the examination are announced.

The number of pupils is much lomer than the number expected at first. While the students enrolled are all that the Normal School can accomodate comfortably, Mr. Duncan Walker, principal of the school, is disappointed in the attendance because of the dearth of teachers throughout the entire Dominion. In the West the situation has always been serious, and in Ontario the scarcit yof teachers is becoming most acute. One school inspector, a Mr. Scovelle, from a district near Ottawa, states that in his distrit alone they care 45 teachers short.

Even with increased salaries and the modern educational facilities, the teaching profession attracts but few of the thousands of pupils that leave High School each year with a Matriculation or Normal Entrance certificate.

G.W.V.A. BAND WELL RECEIVED

PLAYED CONCERT ON WELLER ST --WILL GIVE PROGRAMME IN VICTORIA PARK SUNDAY EVENING

The residents of Weller street received the G.W.V.A. with open arms last night and were most generous in their subscriptions towards the funds for new uniforms.

The band played for an hour and as they moved further up the street, those that had already heard them, joined the processions as far as their neighbors verandahs and thus proved splendid advance agents for the collectors.

Last night's results augura well for the success of the scheme. The series of concerts will end by a sacred programme Sunday evening next at Victoria Park, and as this will undoubtedly be the last of the season, it is expected that the hillside park will hardly accommodate the crowd.

One way of realizing the meaning of a million is to think of what it means in time. If we count back a million days from 1920 we come to a date well before the founding of Rome. A million hours would take us back almost to the battle of Trafalgar.

Coast Guards to Ask Inquiry.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Local Coast Guard officials announced to-day that they would ask the Milwaukee Federal District Attorney to investigate the reported death of Mrs. Anna Mitchell Jones, formerly a New York artist, whose husband, John Archibald Jones, was found clinging to an overturned boat in Lake Michigan, near Racine, Wis.

Jones and his bride were on their honeymoon and he said she was washed overboard by high waves. The Coast Guards doubted his story of having righted the eighteen-foot dory three times before his wife vanished.

Among local persons who gather at the Dill Pickle Club, of which Jones is President, he is well known. The club meets in a former stable.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 16. — Search was being made to-day for the body of Mrs. Anna Jones, drowned off Racine.

United States District Attorney H. A. Sawyer of the Eastern Wisconsin District, said he had not been asked to investigate the case and believes it is ouside his jurisdiction.

CONTROVERSY OVER FIRE DEPARTMENT IS DISCUSSED BY LABOUR

the report of his speech at the St. Thomas convention was introduced. "I advised that there be no discussion on it until it was referred to our local and brought back. Is that being an agitator? Is the Chief an agitator for going up and agitating against the Government. The report of his speech had been published broadcast. If it wasn't true he would have a case for libel; or he does not think sufficient of his name in public. But he took no steps whatever to contradict the report of his remarks. I contend that I took the proper steps in taking that paper from this council to our local."

Mr. Lebarr said he hadn't received a square deal at the committee's investigation. The men were admitted one at a time. The ten aldermen present all asked questions. He believed that there were some of the men afraid to speak out in the presence of the Chief.

"We asked if we might be represented, but we were refused," he continued. "We were not permitted to ask questions. I did ask one, but I was told that I was there to answer—and not to ask. Where is there any justice in that?

Chief Grange falsified to every one of those charges that he answered, and I can prove it, but we were not permitted to say a word. About Drummond's dismissal, the Chief gave us a lecture on discipline. We were told not to sit on the couch in the watch room. We had been sitting on it for years. How are you going to stop in a minute a practice we had been used to? Drummond sat on the couch just before the Chief came in, but he didn't get up then. The Chief did not say a word to him. Why did he not take the men into his office the way the other chief did and talk to them and show them where they were lacking in work or dismiss them. He doesn't do it that way. He waits until pay day and then tells them before the others that they are no longer wanted. Why doesn't he act at least as a gentleman would do? Drummond sat on the couch but so did every man on the force."

Chief not Qualified.

"I claim the Chief isn't qualified, and if they had given us the investigation we asked for and taken the evidence under oath, and let us have a lawyer, we could have brought it all out. But it was all smoothed away just as we were told it would be two days before the committee met. Ald. Morrison may say I got the wrong information but the fact is that the result went the way I was told it would. It looked to be all cut and dried. They didn't permit us to ask questions. They didn't give us a chance to bring out what they did not want brought out. I can't see where it was fair."

Ald. Morrison said that Ald. Gordon wasn't present in his legal capacity.

Mr. Lebarr—He utilized his legal capacity.

A delegate asked whether Ald. Gordon had not used his legal ability to the detriment of the men.

Ald. Morrison—I couldn't answer that.

The Question of Drills.

Mr. Lebarr—Almost every man said he hadn't a drill in two years. The Chief had a statement that there were 21 drills, nine since January last year. That statement was prepared by the Chief's secretary, but the secretary himself said he had had no drills in that time. Which is correct? Can any sane body of men say that they handed out justice? That statement was for hose drills for the engine tests. It was a matter of two men taking the exercise waggon down to the George street wharf and laying eight or ten lengths of hose. They had three-quarters of an hour or more to wait for the engine. It was then a matter of holding the "Siamese nozzle" while the engine worked. Why it is ridiculous for the Chief to put the statement before the aldermen that there had been hose drills."

Mr. Lebarr recalled the recent exercise in which it took seven minutes 5 minutes and 10 seconds to go a short distance and lay seven lngths of hose.

Ald. Morrison said that the men were not trying for speed. Besides they had trouble with a worn thread.

The Bell Apartment Fire.

"Just what I contend," said Mr. Lebarr. "If that was at a disastrous fire what would have happened from the worn thread. In regard to the Bell apartment fire, there was a cornice at the front of the building but there was no cornice at the back. There was a one storey roof. The wind was from the south and when the fire was over there had been no fire in the roof. A ten year old child would have known there was no danger in getting up on that low roof at the back. We were not such fools as to take unnecessary chances that would endanger our lives needlessly. If the Chief had not come on that job that fire would have been out in twenty minutes. But when he came he ordered the hose out of the building, and the fire wasn't out until four hours. Let the Aldermen attend some of the fires and see for themselves. We asked the Chief for drills time and again. He promised them, but we never got them.

Denied Inefficiency.

I have been blamed for inefficiency because a horse got away from the fire hall. The aldermen got that idea from the Chief. That hores got away from a man who never had any training and was afraid of the horse. That is a reflection on me as a horseman. I'll go up against Chief Grange or any of his men for horsemanship. He's got 10 or 12 men I'll defy to catch a horse when it comes out to the collars, and some of them can't reach up to loosen the snaps that drop the harness.

Why doesn't an officer go out on each apparatus instead of them all going on one waggon. They would if it. Why there were a hundred points that were never mentioned at the so-called investigation. The Council didn't get them, probably never will get them, and don't want to get them. They don't need to take my word. Let them go to the fire hall and see what the Chief can do. The only efficient men he's got were trained by Chief Howard."

Mr. Lebarr also contended that he could get five men to prove that Ald. Morrison had been informed previous to his arrival after the dismissal of the three of the grievances of the men. At the investigation he said he couldn't remember that—"I'm not to blame if he can't remember."

Mr. Lebarr said it was untrue that Ald. Morrison had not received any complaints from the men previous to his return to the city when the trouble had broken out.

"I want you to understand that I'm not a liar and no man can call me one," Ald. Morrison answered belligerently.

Replying to Mr. Lebarr's questions he said that he remembered a conversation in which Bruce Menzies had mentioned uniforms and the handling of some fires.

"Would any of these complaints have required an investigation," Ald. Morrison asked.

"That one about there having been no drills would have beeen sufficint for me," Mr. T. H. Lane, the chairman remarked.

Why was Report Made.

Mr. Alex. Murray asked Ald. Morrison, why, if the Chief and the Department were efficient, did the committee bring in a report recommending drills and other changes.

Ald. Morrison—because it was the report of the committee.

"Why why did you bring it in?" Mr. Murray persisted.

Ald. Morrison—It was necessary to bring in a report.

Mr. Murray—Why did the committee make suggestions to the Chief? They were not necessary if the chief was efficient.

Ald. Morrison—We have the privilege of making recommendations to the Chief.

Mr. Murray—Was it your opinion that the Chief needed suggestions in order to carry out his duty?

Mr. Hall—There is no use asking questions, Ald. Morrison is evading the answer.

Another delegate remarked that it was quite apparent that the firemen had made the mistake of going to the Trades Council with their complaints. "The City Council had admitted that the firemen were right, but why did they go to the Trades Council. Every act had shown that. He maintained that the Labour Council had a right to make representations to the City Council.

Mr. Murray—I wasn't agreeable to said that it ought to go to the City said that it ought to go to th City Council. It was taken up here only when the men said that they couldn't get to the City Council.

Ald. Morrison—I have worked for the laboring people all the way. In this case I did what I thought was right. I can't help it if it did not fall in line with the ideas of Mr. Tooms Mr. Murray and Mr. McMurray.

Use Cocoanut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy, lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

CRIME RECORD FOR THE MONTH

NUMBER OF CASES IN PETERBOROUGH FOR PAST MONTH

If the record of one month is to be taken as a criterion, crime, or at least the punishment of it, is on the increase. The record of Police Court convictions for the month of August of this year shows nearly a 50 per cent. increase over the convictions for the same month last year.

August, 1920, has 42 convictions against the same month last year which has 29 convictions, an increase of 13.

Breaches of the Ontario Temperance Act are on the increase, August of this year having 6 breaches of the much broken Act to its credit, and August last year only 2.

To-day was the fourth anniversary of the birth of the O.T.A., but the police have so far discovered no wet celebrations of the anniversary.

PROTECTION TO DEVELOP NORTH-WEST

DECLARED REMOVAL OF TARIFF WOULD MEAN CLOSING DOWN OF FACTORIES, AND LABOUR DEPRESSION

SINGLE TAX VIEW

WINNIPEG, Sept. 16.—Special attention was paid at yesterday's session of the Tariff Commission to the specific damage which would result to young and growing industries of the prairie provinces were Canadian Customs duties eliminated. The uniform impression by speakers was that in such an event Manitoba would be swept clean of oils industries and the province handed over to agrarian interests.

The industrial leaders pointed out that it was only after the Liberals came into power in 1896 and found that they could not put into effect their pre-election free trade policies that the western capital gained any measure of confidence. At that time the Tariff Commission has been reminded by more than one Winnipeg manufacturer, both political parties came out for protection; so capital gained confidence, regarded the future as secure, invested its funds in various enterprises in good faith, and was prepared to swing certain parts of the West over into industry. According the tenor of the arguments before the commission is: We acted in good faith; now it is not fair for the Government to come along and sweep us out if business by cutting off the protection which has made our industrial existence possible.

Would Dissolve Industry.

One of the most clear-cut statements of to-day, calculated to show how free trade would dissolve industry, came from W. A. Lawson, of the Bemis Bros. Bag Company. This is a United States concern, with many branches across the line and one is Winnipeg. As local manager, Mr. Lawson stated the branch had come to Canada in 1906 because the head office found they could not complete with the Canadian product in the face of protection. Tariff brought them here, he assured the commission, but remove the tariff and away they will go again, but he could promise that some 100 Winnipeg workmen, would be minus their annual pay of $100,000. As a United States manufacturer he was sure of his grounds, and in reply to questions from Sir Henry Drayton he quoted the comparative costs of producing one particular grade of bags in Minneapolis and Winnipeg at $9.61 and $14.28 per thousand. The difference in factory cost was due to volume production and higher wages in Canada.

When the Bemis concern located in Canada they enjoyed 25 per cent. production; which has now been reduced to 20 per cent. However, Mr. Lawson admitted that they could stand on slight revision downward, and survive.

Champions Small Concerns.

Winnipeg's small industries found a champion in Mr. J. H. Parkhill, of the Parkhill Bedding Co., who pointed out that a large number of concerns with a wage roll of 100 workers, some very recently organized owing to their confidence in protection, now continued.

W. J. Willson, of the Western Steel Co., asserted if his 500 hands are to be given work this company must retain its present twelve and a half protection.

Textile Situation.

Further details of the textile industry of Canada were furnished by Mr. Robert A. Pringle, K.C., of Ottawa, though much of his attention was confined to the Dominion Textile Company and the Paton Manufacturing Company, of Sherbrooke, Que. The former company, he admitted, had been the subject of some criticism owing to profits made during the war, but Mr. Pringle felt that much of the criticism was untair. The critics, he insisted totally overlooked the fact that this company was operating during an abnormal period, when the management were obliged to take tremendous risks in the purchase of raw materials. They took their contracts from the British Government and ran the chance of the raw cotton market going against them, and because they "happened to win out" on that risk Mr. Pringle failed to see that they should be attacked. Besides, the same charge would apply to the textile industries of Great Britain and the United States. In Great Britain there were profits ranging from 20 to 533 1-3 per cent., which made the profits of the Dominion Textile Company look insignificant. Further, the whole textile group should not be attacked because one of their number "took a risk and won." The agrarian policy of complete free trade with Great Britain would kill the Canadian textile industry. In conclusion, he insinuated that the farmer's platform suggests that they are out for a killing and, personally, he prefers sudden death. Give farmers the authority, and they will apply free trade, Mr. Pringle declared.

Single Tax

D. W. Buchanan, representing the Single Tax League of Western Canada, declared in favor of a two per cent. tax on unimproved lands, harbors, water hights and all natural values held by private interests for profit, instead of for the people as a whole, to make good the loss in revenue were the tariff removed.

SPEECHES AT TRADES CONGRESS

(Canadian Press.)

WINDSOR, Sept. 16.—Feature of to-day's session of Dominion Trades and Labor Congress was the address by John E. Davidson, M.P., national organizer of Iron Founders of Great Britain, who strongly advised against direct action and advised the use of the ballot as the best means of advancing the aims of the workers. In the course of the speech he made a slashing attack on Hon. Winston Churchill, referring to him as "Gambler of Gallpoli," Raider of Russia, fomenter of industrial strife, first Tory, then Liberal and now Coalitionist. Mr. Davidson defended the action of the British mine workers. Two other important speeches were made by fraternal delegates from the United States' labor organizations.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED FOR FOOTBALL GAME

G.W.V.A. WILL BE GUESTS OF THE CALEDONIANS ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON AT EXHIBITION GROUNDS, EAST SIDE

One of the best football games of the season will be played on Saturday afternoon at the Exhibition grounds; kick off at 3.30 p.m., prompt between the Great War Veterans and the Caledonians. In the first league game of last season the Caledonians won by four clear goals but in the return game the Veterans came back at the Caleys to whack them by 3 goals to 1.

This will be the first time they have met in the 1920-1921 league and they expect a record crowd to witness the game. The executive of both teams anticipate a good financial return from the spectators because they require funds.

The Great War Veterans have practically the same team as won the League championship, with the exception of Crowe and Jones, who replace Charlie Griffin of the C. G. E. team, and Harry Gamble.

Many new faces are in the Caley's team, which will be first time Fenner has played against them; also Bros. McMillans and J. Brown, who have arrived from Auld Scotia just lately.

The teams for Saturday will be:

G. W. V. A. — W. Jones, H. J. Crowe and A. Bishop, backs; A. Burrows, P. D. Ryan and J. Peel, half backs; S. Curtis, T. Monks, H. Norman, A. Edwards and J. Sharman forwards. Reserves, A. Gorman and H. Gamble.

Caledons—C. Fenner, goal, J. Service and Sam McMillan, backs; H. Frost, Stuart McMillan and James McMillan, half-backs; J. Brown, M. Shaw, James Shaw, R. Hannah and R. McDonald, forwards; reserves, A. Dingwall and Jas. Willshaw.

The game will be in the capable hands of Mr. Frank McKinley as official referee.

Owing to the alterations being made at the west end of the Exhibition Park the Caledonians and the Comrades are at present without grounds. The executive of the C. G. E. have granted the Caley's the use of their grounds at the east end of the exhibition park for Saturday's big game with the G. W. V. A. Players please note the change.

SHAMROCK'S CREW RESENT CRITICISM

SAY YACHT'S FAULTY HANDLING DUE TO NICHOLSON'S INTERFERENCE

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sept. 16.—When Mr. Nicholson, the designer of Shamrock IV., arrived in England, he placed the superior seamanship of the Resolute's captain and crew among the reasons for the challenger's failure to lift the America's Cup.

Members of the Shamrock's crew who have returned to England, resent the slur which they consider Mr. Nicholson has thrown upon their efficiency as yachtsmen and declare that the Shamrock's faulty handling was largely due to the interference of Mr. Nicholson.

Arthur Diaper, one of the crew, said in an interview with the Associated Press correspondent it was a case of too many cooks and he pointed to the fact that on the only occasion Captain Burton was free from interruption and advice the Shamrock won. Diaper said all of the crew felt convinced that had a professional skipper been in full command Shamrock would have won the first three races. He claimed that she could point as close into the wind as the Resolute, but the latter was superior in reaching.

He declared that Shamrock was very awkward to handle, and her canvas was about three times as heavy as that of the Resolute. The halliards were arranged in such a manner that the work of the men was made extremely difficult. What could be done by ten men on the 23-meter Shamrock required 30 to do on Shamrock IV. On one occasion in setting the mainsail they had 36 men on the halliards and could not move the sail.

"In fact," said Diaper, "I have never before seen such heavy canvas on a racing yacht." And then, on the return of the yacht to City Island, after the races, they found a complete set of light racing canvas for Shamrock IV., stored in Jacob's yard.

"Another fault," continued Mr. Diaper, "is the constant changing of gear which was in progress throughout the period of the races. The topmast was changed no less than seven times in the course of three weeks and eventually they finished with the original one."

GUS HILL COMING TO THE GRAND

Conditions Intolerable.

Among the score of sweet-voiced songsters with Gus Hill's Minstrels, which appears at the Grand Opera House on Saturday, matinee and night is the golden-throated tenor, Harry Boone, who comes direct from the opera stage. Those who enjoy good singing will be gratified to learn that this splendid organization claims to have the foremost singers in minstrelsy. It is a well known fact that audiences delight in the melodies that are more reminiscent of the minstrel songs of a quarter of a century ago. The folks who never miss a minstrel performance would be sadly disappointed if those songs were not rendered. The management promises fifty well known burnt cork comedians.

Mr. Frank Compton in "GRUMPY," at the Grand Friday Evening.

ARLIE MARKS HERE FOR EXHIBITION

COMPANY INCLUDES SEVERAL WELL KNOWN STARS

The announcement of the coming engagement at the Grand Opera House for three nights during the Exhibition of Miss Arlie Marks and her Associated players, is one that will bring joy to the lovers of Popular Priced Amusement in Peterboro'. The Company will present on Monday, their opening performance, one of the biggest dramatic successes of the past 3 years, in "Where the River Shannon Flows", which will be appreciated by all lovers of good wholesome comedy, and intensely dramatic action.

It is Miss Marks' efforts to elevate her attraction so it will be on a par and command the dignity of a really first class production.

The popular little Canadian Comedienne has engaged an exceptionally strong gacting company this season, and no expense has been spared in staging the different plays to be presented here during the engagement, and in addition, to the dramatic end of the show, the 5 Big High Class Vaudeville Acts interspersed between the acts of the play, are something entirely new to the usual run of Vaudeville, as carried with Stock Companies Salona, the Lady that Knows", will cause a lot of comment in the city before the engagement ends. This little Wonder is the special added attraction with the show, and her performance alone, is well worth the price of the best seats in the Theatre.

Popular prices will prevail during the entire engagement, and seats will be on sale on Friday.

"GRUMPY"

Cyril Maude's version of the exquisite English comedy, "Grumpy," will be presented here at the Grand Theatre on Friday night by an all-star English company. It is one of those refined, refreshing English plays performed by real English players of the cultured class. The company was organised in New York, and is under a contract with the Trans-Canada - Anglo-Canadian productions, and will go to Montreal, Toronto, and thence westward to Winnipeg.

ORMI HAWLEY BRILLIANT IN BENNISON PRODUCTION

Ormi Hawley, the beautiful woman who plays opposite Louis Bennison in "The Road Called Straight", which comes to the Allen Theatre, beginning to-morrow, is the latest addition to Betzwood's fast growing dramatic personnel. Miss Hawley really astonishes her audience with her remarkable ability and attractiveness. There are heights in "The Road Called Straight" that she reaches without stress or strain. Her performance is perfect throughout and is undoubtedly worthy of Louis Bennison's acting as the star.

Miss Hawley plays the part of Betty Swiftmore, and at her father's request she consents to marry Al Boyd (Louis Bennison), who is nothing to her but a rakish, uncouth cowboy. Boyd marries her and the couple go on their honeymoon, but even then Betty does not warm up to him. It is in this part, where Miss Hawley is called upon to play the marble bride, that she surpasses all expectations of her acting ability.

There are any number of scenes in which the new Betzwood leading woman has to outdo herself. In the closing scene of the play she is particularly brilliant. Betty has run away with Harrison Stevens, the suitor for her hand before she married, and Al Boyd overtakes them in a secluded snowbound bungalow. Boyd sets to work to battle with Stevens and after he has laid his rival out, he again turns to his wife. He tells her that they must follow "the road called straight." Betty is overcome by the straightforwardness and manliness of Boyd's address. With a masterly bearing she sinks into his arms for one of the powerful curtains in screen history.

THE TURKISH FEZ IS FAST DISAPPEARING

(Canadian Press)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 16.—With the crumbling of Turkish authority and influence, the fez, the badge which all Turkish subjects, Christians, Jews, and Turks alike, are supposed to wear, is rapidly disappearing. Although the Moslems still wear their fezzes in the streets, they no longer cling to them slavishly indoors. Soon the Turks may be wearing hats with brims in Constantinople. Moslems in other parts of Turkey insist the Mohammedans in the capital lost their religion long ago through their desire to imitate the infidels.

As all heads must remain covered in the mosques and it is quite impossible to touch one's forehead to a prayer rug while wearing a hat with brim, the fez is indispensable to the faithful Moslem who prays daily to Mecca. Even military and naval officers must wear visorless caps.

The fez still prevails in Anatolian cities. In fact it is unsafe for foreigners to wear a hat in many of them unless he desires to attract a crowd or hooting small boys and run the risk of starting a riot. Osman Agha, the terrorist governor of Kerrassunde, recently checked the tendency of non-Moslems in that city to get away from old customs.

An Armenian who had just returned from Russia walked along the main street of the little city wearing a stiff brimmed straw hat. It was worse than wearing a straw hat on the New York Stock Exchange after the season has passed. Osman Agha grabbed the hat from the Armenian's head, slashed the crown from the rim with his sabre, jammed the crown down on the Armenian's head, hitting it a heavy blow with the sabre and warning the unfortunate chap never again to appear in Kerrassunde in such unholy headgear unless he wanted to go to jail.

NOT A DOZEN GEM JARS IN PETERBORO'

MANUFACTURED IN WINTER AND NO STOCKS AVAILABLE FOR PRESENT PURCHASE

Explaining the scarcity of gem jars, Mr. E. F. Mason stated that they are manufactured in the late fall and winter months, and delivered in January. They are bulky and take up a great deal of space, and beyond that they are not in demand until the fruit season opens. The dealers therefore have to carry them for six months before they begin to move. Mr. Mason said that for these reasons the wholesalers are reluctant to stock them and offer a slight discount to the trade to take their deliveries in the first months of the year. This is the usual method of disposal of the sealers from the wholesale to the retail trade. Retailers as a rule place their orders in the fall—they are now buying for next summer's requirements—and because of a surplus from last year the tendency was to curtail manufacture and to clip the order below the usual figures. The result has been that with big crops of fruit household preserving has been heavy despite the high price of sugar, and the lighter supply of gem jars was wiped out before the season was nearly over. Wholesale houses are bare and the dealers are unable to place orders for immediate delivery.

"I don't think there is a dozen gem jars for sale in Peterboro at the present time," said Mr. Mason.

Mr. O. S. Matchett, traveller for Medlans of Toronto, also states that his company has been informed that gem jars can't be obtained now.

MacBride Talks of "Soviet Dictatorship of Drury and Simpson.

(Canadian Press)

BRANTFORD, Sept. 16.—Announcement was made here, following a meeting of the Brant U.F.O. that support would be given to A. W. Burt late principal and at present on the staff of the Brantford Collegiate Institute and also vice-president of the I. L. P., if he were nominated for the Federal riding of Brantford by the I. L. P.

The I. L. P. had previously nominated Mayor MacBride, M.P.P.

Mayor MacBride, commenting on this, declared: 'The more the merrier. There must soon come a showdown over the Soviet-U. F. O. dictatorship of Drury and Jimmie Simpson. The U.F.O. is opposing Labor in St. Catharines, Peterboro and Brantford. I stand for a true Canadianism, not for a Soviet or a dictatorship of central directors."

GOOD ENOUGH TO LIVE IN—GOOD ENOUGH TO BUY IN.

If a city or town is good enough to live in, and good enough to take a salary from, it should be good enough to buy in. If the teachers, the preachers, the professors, the firemen, the policemen, and the civic servants want increased salaries the most direct route to bring about that desired end is to keep the money circulating in the home town.

The bride was attired in a gown of pearl grey satin and georgette with the customary bridal veil and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of asters.

Miss Jessie Cummings, the bride's maid, was attired in a navy blue gown of satin. Mr. Clayton Montgomery supported the groom.

The bridal party left the church amid showers of confetti and rice, and motored to the bride's home, where the guests to the number of 75 sat down to a sumptuous repast after which the evening was spent in a social manner.

THE FIREMEN BACKED DOWN

NEW AND STRANGE DRILL OCCUPY THEIR TIME

Peace and quiet once again reigns supreme at the Fire Hall and the dispute over the men's grievances which led to the presentation of an ultimatium to the chief demanding immediate redress and in lieu of that threatening to resign last t... been settled.

Nothing occurs to break the routine other than one of the new and strange drills. The "Palm Tree" is deserted on account of the playful, wanton breezes which skipped about to-day and disturbed the usual restful air.

WEATHER FAVOURS WORK ON BRIDGE

WESTERN ABUTMENT IS NOW FINISHED

Favoured with ideal weather for construction work, the Russell-Townsend Company are making rapid strides in the building of the Hunter Street Bridge, and each day's work, with more of the camouflage of rough lumber removed, shows the Bridge gradually assuming the lines of the architect's drawing.

It is not a far stretch of the imagination to see the labyrinth of piles, supports, and frame work that now support the cribs for the concrete vanish, and instead the white concrete arch sweeping in a long, graceful curve across the Otonabee.

The forms for the cement are now complete, and it is expected that the cement pouring will begin to-morrow. The lead sheets that are put in at the base of each arch as a buffer were being put into position to-day. The western abutment is now finished, and the forms for the fourth arch are under construction.

NEIGHBOURS AGREE ON PROPERTY LINE

In the case of Brownlie vs. Byers in the County Court before Judge Huycke yesterday afternoon, His Honour suggested to F. D. Kerr and G. N. Gordon, counsel for the plaintiff and defendant respectively, that a settlement be made.

Acting on this suggestion the litigants and the counsel conferred and agreed upon a line between the two properties in dispute.

Judgment was entered defining the boundaries upon the line agreed upon.

PLETHORA OF PEACHES AND MODERATE PRICES

TOMATOES ARE ALSO PLENTIFUL --GRAPES ARRIVING NOW

With the shortage of jem jars and the high cost of sugar preserving is slowing up about the city. To-day it was learned that the jem jar shortage is becoming more and more acute and has now reached a situation where no jars can be obtained locally. The grocers are even offering to buy back such bottles as their customers have on hand unusued.

Peaches Becoming Plentiful.

Nearly every day this week a carload of peaches has arrived in the city and to-day the pavement outside of the fruit merchant's stores resembled the parapet of a front line trench with the piles of peach baskets which sold at from 85 cents to $1.50 a basket. The fruit, the merchants state is at its best at present and for the balance of the week. From the middle of next week shipments will probably become less frequent. Persons expecting any decrease in price owing to Sunday's storm which dashed a large part of the fruit in the Niagara district to the ground are doomed to disappointment as what few peaches fell were too badly damaged in falling to be of any use for shipping. Fortunately, however, the storm did not visit the district of greatest peach production. Grapes remain fairly high a six quart basket selling at 65 cents. The height of the grapes season however will not be reached for a week or so. Plums are very cheap. Large baskets sell at from 60 to $1.00 a basket to-day.

Vegetables Easy.

All vegetables are very easy. Celery is selling at ten cents a bunch, about half of what was asked at the same time last year. Tomatoes are retailing at 40 cents a basket and wholesaling at 30 cents. Most of the market gardeners hope to tide themselves over the fruit basket shortage by demanding the return of the basket on delivery of tomatoes.

Corn sold to-day at from ten cents a dozen to 12 cents. Egg plant sold at 10 and 15 cents each, cabbages at 5c., 10c. and 15 cents each and cauliflower at 10 and 15 cents each.

FORGETFUL CLERK LOST $11 IN SALE OF TICKETS

NEW PASSENGER RATES CAUSING VERY LITTLE CONFUSION

Very little confusion resulted from the advance in passenger rates on Monday, and as most of the clerks in the railway offices had a schedule made out of the new rates, there were few mistakes made. One clerk, however, claims, through his own forgetfulness, to be out $11.00, due to selling tickets at the old price on the first day of the advance.

One case in which he lost out was in selling a ticket for Toronto, when observing his mistake in accepting the old price, he dashed out on the platform to recover the difference. However, as he was soon surrounded by an impatient throng of would-be ticket-purchasers, he was compelled to relinquish his attempt at collecting the 90 cents difference.

COAL DEALERS MUM ON HIGHER PRICES

Coal men about the city refuse to discuss the coal situation, its prospects, or reasons for the high price. At most of the dealers on Tuesday, all grades, except pea coal, advanced from $18.50 a ton to $20.00 a ton, due apparently to the advance in freight rates, while pea coal is selling at from $14.50 to $16.50 to-day.

THE EXHIBITION PROMISES TO BE A BIG SUCCESS

SPACE SOLD OUT IN NEW MANUFACTURERS' BUILDING

Bigger, better and brighter than ever, the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition will open its first four day fair on Monday.

Space has been sold out in the Manufacturers' Building and the Main Building and the placing of some of the large exhibits under canvas is being considered. A large number of out-of-town firms have taken space.

Money has been freely expended and the prize list is a large and attractive one.

Myriads of incandescent bulbs will turn the grounds into a veritable fairy land of beauty at night and the lighting will be second only to the Canadian National Exhibition in Ontario.

The mid-way, like everything else on the grounds, will exceed all previous ones in point of size and excellence.

Altogether the Exhibition bids fair to be one of the largest and best in the province.

USE ASSOCIATION FOR A FOOTBALL

HYDRO-RADIAL ASSOCIATION MEETING TO-DAY

(Canadian Press)

HAMILTON, Sept. 16.—Certain interests in Toronto are endeavouring to use Hydro Radial Association as a football from coming municipal elections was statement made by Secretary T. J. Hanningan at a meeting of the Executive of the Association which is holding its annual convention here to-day. His remarks had reference to the retirement of W. Lyon of Guelph from the presidency. Secretary Hanningan said that the Association of course was anxious to keep the organization out of politics composed as it was of so many diverse elements and for this reason he opposed its being made a Toronto affair. Immediately after executive had passed a resolution confirming the appointment of Robert McKay, K. C. as Counsel for the Association in connection with the Sutherland Commission's investigation of the Hydro Radial project, Mayor Church himself arived on scene and violently denounced any recognition of the royal commission which he declared was appointed for purpose of assassinating the Hydro project.

BOHUNKS WENT TO PORT HOPE

The Peterboro Bohunks played ball in the G. W. V. A. field day at Port Hope exhibition grounds yesterday afternoon. There were four ball teams in the tournament. Port Hope played Milbrook and the Peterboro nine went up against Cobourg.

Millbrook won from Port Hope by 16 to 9 and in an eight innings feature replete with good plays, heavy hitting and plenty of excitement. Peterboro won from the Lakeshore team before a large crowd of fans despite their using four Central Ontario players. The score board registered 6 to 4 in favour of the Bohunks, both teams being tied 4-4 for 3 innings. Peterboro got away in the eighth with two runs and Cobourg couldn't counter. Ecobichon opened in the box for the Bohunks but was replaced by H. Wolfe in the 5th. Both pitchers slanted over live balls.

The Bohunks line up was:

J. Ecobichon p; H. Wolfe, p; C. Bergoine, c; R. White, 1b; A. Doughty, 2b; J. Thirnbeck, ss; C. Wolfe, 3b, F. Herbison, E. Meredith, W. McGee right, centre and left field; spare, C. Nichols. H. Wolfe was pitcher after 5th innings.

In the evening the Bohunk team attended the G. W. V. A. dance held in the town hall for which Al. Linton's orchestra dispersed excellent dance music.

RECEIVED WARNING ABOUT WALL STREET EXPLOSIONS TWO WEEKS BEFORE TIME

THE POLICE HAVE INSTITUTED A SEARCH FOR EDWARD FISCHER —WARNED FRIEND OF COMING DISASTER—FRIENDLY TO THE "REDS"

(United States)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Thomas Delahunty, caretaker at the tennis courts at Ninety Third street and Amsterdam avenue to-day revealed that Edward Fischer, missing former employee of the French High Commission, warned him two weeks ago that Wall street would be blown up on the fifteenth.

"Fischer came to me early one morning and said: 'Tom, I want to tell you a secret,'" Delahunty declared. "He acted mysteriously but was very serious. As near as I can recall his words he said: 'We are going to blow up Wall street on the fifteenth. We've got them where we want them. We're going to get England too. We've got England where we want them too.'

"I couldn't swear that he said 'we' he may possibly have said 'they' but as I recall it he said 'we'.

"He went on to say that he told me this as a warning because I was an old friend of his and he didn't want me to get hurt. He told me to be sure and not go down to Wall street that day. I took it as a joke, but told him not to worry; that I would not go there.

Sided With Bolshevik

"I told some of the members of the club here about it and they all said not to pay any attention to it.

Fischer was a little bit light in the head. Everybody around here thought he was kind of crazy. He always took sides with the Bolsheviki and anarchists, and often talked about it around here but nobody took him seriously.

Fischer is a fine tennis player. He was a member of a doubles team that won the Metropolitan doubles championship one year.

"He did a lot of talking and most people around here thought he had some kind of a mental breakdown."

"Did he seam to be really in earnest when he warned you not to go to Wall street?" Delahunty was asked.

"You bet your life he did," the caretaker replied "He had been a friend of mine for several years and he often told me that he was a friend of the under dog. He was serious all right, and he didn't want to see me get hurt."

"When did you last see him?"

Recalled Warning.

"He never came back here again", Delahunty replied. "He came here that morning specially to warn me and I have never seen him since. I cannot fix the exact day, but it was just about two weeks ago. When I heard of the explosion yesterday I recalled his words. He said the fifteenth, but I guess he must have meant the sixteenth of September. He was always very peculiar and I never thought any more about the warning after the members told me to forget it."

Delahunty told the United Press reporter he intended to report the entire affair to the authorities to-day.

Inspector Lahey of the Police Department said that the police were hunting Fischer, he declared he had information that Fischer had been under observation for mental trouble in Toronto.

POLICE DEPARTMENT CONVINCED THAT BOMBS CAUSED EXPLOSION

NEW YORK, September 17. — Detective Burns said last night: "A bomb caused the explosion. There is not the slightest doubt about this. I might be closer to the truth perhaps if I said a wagonload of bombs.

"From my investigation I am certain that the bomb was in the wagon which was destroyed. There is no other reasonable theory.

"The pieces of window weights picked up in the nearby office buildings, where they had been hurled by the explosive could have no other connection with the disaster than to be parts of the bomb, and used as projectiles by someone who had schemed to do the greatest possible damage that could be imagined."

After two hours' investigation, District Attorney Swann and his Chief Assistant, Alfred J. Talley, united in this statement:

"This is too much of a coincidence to regard as an accident. Coming almost on the stroke of noon and between the assay office and the Morgan Building, it has all the aspects of an arranged affair."

Fischer Arrested In Hamilton To-day

CLAIMS HE RECEIVED ADVANCE INFORMATION OF NEW YORK EXPLOSION THROUGH MEDIUM OF TELEPATHY.

(Special to The Examiner.)

(Two O'clock Despatch.)

HAMILTON, Sept. 17.—Believed to be the writer of post cards warning friends of the New York bomb disaster, Edwin P. Fischer of New York, was arrested this morning in the offices of the Lees, Hobson, Lees Telford and McBride Bank of Hamilton building shortly before eleven o'clock (standard time.) Fischer is being held at the Central station while an investigation is made as to his mental condition. He was arrested on a charge of insanity, the information being laid by his brother-in-law, Robert A. Pope, of New York. According to the statement made by Mr. Pope, Fischer three weeks ago prophesied the New York explosion and wrote letters to friends on Wall street expressing apprehension for their safety. An explanation of this peculiar knowledge being in the possession of the prisoner was made by his brother-in-law. Fischer's mental condition had not been normal and he believed that during the period three weeks ago when he made the prophecies his mind was in a peculiarly receptive condition. The information as to the disaster was, in his opinion, received by means of mental telepathy. When police court was in session this morning Pope accosted Deputy Chief Coulter and gave the information as to his brother-in-law's whereabouts and Sergt. Thompson and Constable McBride were sent to the Bank of Hamilton to apprehend Fischer. He was found in the offices of Lees, Hobson and Co. and from there was brought to the police station. He was placed in custody and preparation immediately made to investigate the charge as to his insanity. The local lunacy commission doctors, McGillivray and Roseburgh, were summoned to the police station to examine the prisoner and Fischer was put through a cross examination in the detention room.

Was Peculiar.

Officials who apprehended Fischer stated that his conversation had been somewhat peculiar. He had declared that he had once acted as sparring partner for Jack Dempsey. He asserted that he had only hit a man in anger once and that finished the man. The story of Fischer's actions for the past three weeks was supplied to the police by Pope. Fischer had been subject to fits of mental derangement. He said recently his relatives realized that he seemed to be suffering from a nervous breakdown. An attempt was made to have him go to the north woods, but he seemed unwilling. About three weeks ago he made peculiar statements as to the disaster which he declared would occur in New York and wrote letters to his friends expressing fears for their safety. He left New York for Toronto and stayed at the Queen's hotel where he was well known, and was on friendly terms with the manager of the hotel. Mr. Pope followed him to Toronto. On Wednesday, Sept. 15, Fischer crosed to Niagara Falls, where his brother-in-law followed. At Niagara they met and this morning came to Hamilton on an early train, arriving in the city shortly after seven o'clock. They breakfasted at the Royal Connaught. Pope declared that the society in which Fischer moved would preclude his being in contact with any persons of an anarchist class and that he considered it impossible that he could have come in contact with any person who could have given him information as to the outrage in New York. He then advanced the theory of mental telepathy as an explanation of the prisoner's prophecy of the event. Pope, who is a noted New York landscape artist, spent several weeks in this city during the past summer advising in the laying out of the McKittrick survey in the west end of the city. He finished his work for the Land and Building Company about a month ago and returned to Gotham. When he and Fischer arrived here from Niagara Falls this morning they went to the Connaught, but did not register.

Mr. Pope insists that Fischer has been in Canada for the past two weeks attending the tennis championships. Fischer talked freely to Magistrate Jelfs in the detention room. He admitted sending a postcard to his chief in French mission work, also sending word of the impending disaster to a friend in a Wall street brokerage office. Asked where he received information he said, "It came from the air." He stated that he believed in a religion of love, but hated Morgan's, and that he had information that the next bomb attack will be against President Wilson. Fischer, however, did not talk like an anarchist.

The Lunacy Commission adjudged Fischer a fit subject for an asylum and he will be taken there this afternoon.

Manufacturers Will Have a Good Exhibit At The Exhibition

EXHIBITS ARE BEING PLACED IN POSITION—NEW BUILDING IS A CREDIT TO THE MANUFACTURERS OF THE CITY AND THE FAIR BOARD—LIST OF FIRMS EXHIBITING

LABOUR CONGRESS SHOWS CONFIDENCE IN TOM MOORE AND SECRETARY DRAPER—AN IMPORTANT ADDRESS

SHOULD USE BALLOTS

(Canadian Press.)

WINDSOR, Sept. 16.—Tom Moore was again re-elected as President of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress this morning. P. M. Draper was re-elected secty-treasurer. Both were elected by acclamation and in speeches regarded the action of the Congress as a complete vindication of charges made against them by certain members of the party.

Against Proportional Plan.

Yesterday's business was interrupted briefly by an attempt on the part of ex-President J. C. Watters to introduce certain accusations against President Moore. Business was delayed to obtain a roll call vote and debate upon the advisability of electing the officers of the Congress by proportional representation, which was defeated on the ground that a minority might obtain control. Everything submitted to the convention from the committees on officers' reports, Federation of Labor, and constitution and laws were accepted without amendment.

Seek Political Field.

John E. Davidson, fraternal delegate of the British Trade Union Congress, in his address to the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to-day told the convention in no uncertain terms that the aspirations of working class movements would have to be sought on the political field.

Follow British Example.

In opening his address Mr. Davidson expressed the hope that his message would inspire the Canadian trades union movement to follow the example of the British movement, which has been built up by patriotic effort and loyalty to leadership.

"I think that at no time has there been more gratuitious insults hurled at the Labor movement," declared Mr. Davidson as he commenced. "I read, for instance, in your papers that the clergy of Canada were presuming to suggest the lines along which you should proceed. In Britain the State's appeal to the working class in the hour of need was heeded. Ninety per cent. of the men who went to the trenches, ninety per cent. who manufactured the munitions of war were workers. Now we have eminent statesmen who say these men are not fit by capacity to govern. If this is the case it can be ascribed to the two political parties.

Arthur Martell, Montreal, Alex. McAndrew, Moose Jaw, and H. A. Halford were elected vice-presidents; W. F. Bush, Toronto, was elective fraternal delegate to A. F. and L., Ontario Executive; J. Ralph, chairman. D. A. Dear, A. A. Carrol, and W. J. Jeffrey, J. G. Foster, Montreal, will be fraternal delegate to British Trades Union Congress.

A resolution submitted by the resolution committee advertising the double platoon system for firemen, with a twelve-hour day and seventy-two hours week, and in no case to have a man on duty for a longer period than twelve consecutive hours, except when changing shift, was unanimously carried.

Scoring Churchill

"The Right Honorable Winston Churchill, grandson of the Duke of Marlborough, who gained his position by subterfuge from the Sovereign of that time, the bitter opponent of trades unionism, opposes us So far as the workingman of Britain are concerned he will go down to posterity as the adventurer of Antwerp, the gambler of Gallipoli, the raider of Russia, the Jack Cade of British politics, who seeks to fasten militarism upon the United Kingdom."

Not on Class Lines.

Mr. Davidson warned the delegates that a Labor party could not be formed on class lines. It should ask Peer and peasant to form its

Death List In New York Tragedy Is Thirty-Six According to Latest List

AUTHORITIES AGREE THAT THE EXPLOSION WAS CAUSED BY BOMBS—WRECKAGE SEARCHED

GUARDS INCREASED

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Fire Commissioners Drennan reported to-day to Mayor Hylan that the explosion in Wall street yesterday evidently was caused by a bomb. More than 150 pounds of broken sash weights and other metal fragments have been collected by the fire department at the scene of the disaster, the commissioner said. No trace has yet been found in New York of Edward Fischer, who left Toronto Tuesday after sending a post card to a New York friend warning him to get out of Wall street as soon as the gong strikes at three o'clock Wednesday.

The police are known to be devoting particular attention to this phase of the case.

Thirty-six Deaths.

The mysterious explosion in New York's financial district yesterday, causing the deaths of thirty-six persons, according to partially revised lists at eleven this morning and injuring approximately two hundred others was probably caused by an infernal machine, possibly a time bomb. This is almost the unanimous opinion of expert investigators of the Department of Justice and police to-day.

Search of the wreckage near the scene revealed, according to high officials, fragments of clock work such as commonly used in making bombs. Three pieces of curved metal were also found beneath the surface of the pavement in the hole caused by the explosion, while a similar piece was taken from the body of a messenger who was killed.

Financial centres of the big United States' cities from coast to coast were armed camps to-day, while several New York detectives and secret service men left this city this morning on out of town ends of investigation of the Justice Department. The stock market opened promptly at ten and after a hesitant opening stocks resumed the upward movement in progress yesterday when the explosion occurred. Financial offices resumed business and the district was crowded with sight-seers.

A piece of metal, presumably from a bomb, was found on the roof of the sub-treasury building this morning. Troops were held in readiness on Governors' Island against the possibility of renewed outrages to-day. Detachments were held subject to instant call. All public buildings and homes of wealthy and prominent men here are under special watch, while every available man is kept in reserve or actively working in Federal, State and Civic Investigating Agencies. During the early hours Wall street was being cleaned up tons of debris being cleaned up and blood splattered sidewalks and buildings washed. Glaziers by scores began the long task of re-windowing the entire financial section.

The plan includes a propaganda ofensive agfainst Germany according to these advices, which declared Bolshevik agents are already active in England and France.

Victory For Men

THIS IS THE OPINION OF ITALIAN LABOUR LEADERS RESPECTING OUTCOME OF DISPUTE

Canadian Press.

MILAN, September 17. — The leaders of the confederation of labor and workers generally seem to believe they have won a great victory in the decision of Premier Giollitti to appoint a commission to submit concrete proposals respecting participation by workmen in technical, financial and disciplinary management of factories, which was announced yesterday, in Turin.

This commission's report will be made the basis for a bill which will embody many of the demands made by the metal workers since they have occupied industrial plants throughout the country.

The representatives of the workmen declare the premier took the matter into his own hands when he found that employers were determined to resist despite his counsel for moderation.

During the period of depression in the shoe business a few weeks ago many merchants cancelled their orders. One manufacturer had seventy-five thousand pairs of high-grade boots on hand, which were cancelled, and these he had to turn into money in order to avert a financial crisis. In order to get cash he sold these boots at a great reduction. We didn't buy the whole lot, but we did buy a large number, and these will be put on sale on Saturday. The prices afford a saving of two to four dollars on every pair, and furthermore, we have all sizes in every line advertised.

IS LESS DANGEROUS THAN FRENCH POLITICS.

PARIS, Sept. 16.—A French newspaper correspondent to-night called up former Premier Clemenceau, and asked "The Tiger" whether he would permit his name to be used as a candidate for the Presidency.

"I was too old to be elected last January," replied M. Clemenceau, "and I feel too young to accept now in case I was chosen. I am going into India's jungles to hunt tigers, which is much less dangerous than French politics."

THEY say Ford got the idea for his car from an Ingersoll Watch.

Quite likely; both the Ingersoll and the Ford keep running in all kinds of weather and with all sorts of hard usage; and they both are noted for getting you there on time.

It was quantity production which made the Ingersoll possible, and quantity production keeps down the price of the Ingersoll—and the Ford.

Both are better, handsomer, more efficient than they used to be—and they never were anything but good.

And you'll notice that all the jokes about either are good-humored boosts—affectionate, friendly banter.

Make all the fun of the Ingersoll you like; you know it's truthful, good looking, durable and quietly efficient. Like the Ford, the best value of its kind in the world.

HAMILTON TIMES CHANGES OWNERS

HAMILTON, Sept. 13.—The plant, and good-will of the Times Printing Company, Limited, here have been purchased by John M. Imrie, manager of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, Toronto, acting for himself and others associated with him.

The new owners took possession on Saturday and the business is being carried on in Mr. Imrie's name pending the incorporation of a company of which he will be president and general manager. Mr. Imrie will not assume active management until October, when his resignation from his present position will become effective.

The Hamilton Daily Times is one of the older newspapers of Canada, having been established in 1837 as a weekly newspaper. It has been published as a daily newspaper continuously since 1853.

Mr. Imrie has been manager of the Canadian Daily Newspapers' Association since its organization in December last. Prior to that date he was for nine years manager of Canadian Press Association, Inc.

The Deacon Shirt

For Your Husband

"My wife always buys me Deacon Shirts," said a farmer the other day. They are both well satisfied. The farmer is sure of a good fit, with plenty of room for arm freedom. The wife is proud of the neat appearance and the freedom from mending and patching, and the eternal sewing on of buttons. The wear is there.

SEES ENGLAND DRY WITHIN TEN YEARS

ECONOMIC CONDITIONS WILL FORCE CHANGE SAYS BRITISH SCIENTST

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The people of England are bet permitted to know the truth about the effect of prohibition in the United States, said Dr. C. W. Saleeby, British scientist and eugenist, in an interview at the Hotel Commodore.

"Our people are told that prohibition has ruined the hotel business in the United States," said Dr. Saleeby. "They are told that everybody has taken to cocaine, that one result of prohibition has been the rapid spread of the use of drugs by your people. We are told that the Italians and others who do the hard work in your mines and factories are leaving the country in great masses and nobody is left to do the heavy work. The facts seem to be quite the contrary.

"Some first class scoundrels are breeding bad blood between the countries and include American prohibition their attacks. One has seen this campaign grow to full flower since the armistice. Lord Astor told me that the brewers in England were spending $15,000,000 annually on advertising.

"The truth about prohibition in the United States is not admitted in the press, with some honorable exceptions."

Dr. Saleeby, who is here as a delegate to the International Congress Against Alcoholism which opens in Washington on Sept. 20, predicted the rapid progress of prohibition in England as soon as the truth of its working in the United States reached the British people. In a decade, he said, England would go dry.

But the industrial and economic factor is the one that is driving England to prohibition, continued Dr. Saleeby. The day is coming when, as predicted by Sir Henry Crookes, America will cease to export food to England. Great Britain imports five-sixths of her wheat supply.

"On the day that America ceases to export food, England will go dry," he added. "On that day the destruction of grain and sugar for liquor will stop. "You are making a colossal experiment. The issue is one of world importance. Englishmen visiting here carry back stories of the working of prohibition that will have their effect on the people. Lord Leverhudme, shrewd business man, came here a 'wet' and returned 'dry.' He said we could pay our debts in five years if we shut off our drink bill.

"When I leave here I am going straight to Scotland, where they will vote on local option for the first time in November. The American verdict will have a great influence. Large areas will go dry, no doubt.

SAYS BOLSHEVIKI ARE DISHEARTENED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Reliable reports from Russia, received through official channels, state that the situation in the Soviet territories, especially the economic situation, is critical and becoming more serious. The reports discredit predictions that the Bolshevist regime will come to an end within six months, together with all other specific predictions, but assert that the population, and particularly the peasants, are restive and showing great discontent, but appear to be too greatly intimidated to rise in rebellion.

The reports indicate that the Bolsheviki are passing through a serious crisis, that foreign aggression, such as the Polish offensive, helped them to rally and hold out for a time against the processes of disintegration, which otherwise would have progressed more quickly, but which are still, despite all the efforts of the Bolsheviki to arrest them, going on.

The Bolsheviki are reported to be greatly disheartened, having obtained nothing essential in the way of concessions from the powers, and expecting nothing.

Extraordinary conditions of food scarcity in Soviet Russia are reported in a telegram which the State Department received from a Baltic source. Smuggling of food supplies in common and the food situation in Petrograd, the old capital of Russia, is growing steadily worse.

The Petrograd Soviet has issued a decree that private individuals are forbidden to transport food, and the decree serves notice upon all concerned that a sentence of three years at hard labour will be imposed upon all persons found carrying as much as a pound of potatoes.

There are many complaints on the part of the population of Petrograd against the drastic policy in force. Even capital punishment has been invoked under the arbitrary powers of the Soviet to deal not only with spies and those charged with counter-revolutionary activities, but also with 'confirmed speculators' and 'thieves.' Peasants who seek to recover grain requisitioned from them by the Soviet are punishable by execution, the department is informed. Other offences are punishable by imprisonment at hard labour.

The State Department was advised that a small amount of bacon smuggled into Petrograd has been put on sale there at a price of 8,000 roubles a pound.

Public warning to labour not to enter Soviet Russia under present conditions is given in a statement issued by a committee of Swedish metal workers who recently studied conditions in Soviet Russia. The statement was published in the Social Demokraten of Stockholm. The State Department was advised of the warning in a telegram received from Stockholm.

The committee entered Soviet Russia last May to inquire into the conditions of labour with a view to emigration of 6,000 skilled workmen from Sweden if conditions were found satisfactory. The report states that the Briansk district, which they visited, was unsuitable for colonization. Sanitary conditions were unsatisfactory and food was scarce with little prospect of improvement.

Industries in the Ural region, the committee reported, are "deplorably mismanaged," many mines are full of water, equipment of factories has been stolen and the population is stated to be apathetic and despondent. The population has been devastated by the wars and the committee stated that colonization of the Ural region would require 20,000 workers. The committee added that efforts to reach some agreement with the Bolsheviki in Moscow were unsatisfactory.

The report adds:

"If any should want to defy the difficulties and go to Russia, we deem it proper to warn them.

"In Moscow we had great difficulty in seeking to repatriate workers who had emigrated singly or in groups to Russia, many of them having been animated with enthusiasm for the struggle of the Russian people."

WINDSOR POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS.

Understood He Will Be Retained in Advisory Capacity.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 16.—After a service of close to thirty years with the Windsor Police Department, Chief Elias Wills has resigned. His successor has not yet been appointed and pending his selection, Chief Willis has agreed to remain in charge of the force. It is understood that the retiring official will be retained in an advisory capacity at his present salary. In accepting his resignation, the Police Commission is giving the Chief a six months' vacation.

Chief Wills has seen Windsor grow from a town of less than five thousand people to a prosperous city of 40,000. In that period he has taken part in many stirring criminal cases. He is now over sixty years of age. His police training was received while a member of the Irish Constabulary.

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1920.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The agitation over the Fire Department which has ben occupying so much public attention during the past few weeks, has failed to reach what seems to be the real basis for much of the trouble, the alliance of the fire fighters with the organized labour body. The Examiner has always maintained that it is a mistake for policemen, firemen and other public servants to ally themselves with such an organization and has declared its faith in proper working conditions, adequate wages and fair treatment for men in these positions so that there would be no necessity of appealing to outside agencies for assistance. Undoubtedly the speech credited to Chief Grange at the Chief's convention has played a prominent part in the present trouble, for it aroused the ire of labour and the fire fighters' union was drawn into the controversy with results that are far from satisfactory to themselves or to anybody else.

A FOOLISH STATEMENT.

It is surprising to find such a veteran politician as Hon. Geo. E. Foster making the tactical error he did the other day in intimating that the forces opposed to the present government at Ottawa should be classed with the Bolsheviks. This statement has caused indigation throughout the country and if it does not have a marked effect on the coming by-elections many shrewd observers of political events will have to admit that the yare mistaken. Sir George knows the popualr inception of the Bolshevik doctrine in this country and he should know that the people who think that the present government has outlived its usefulness and regard an election as desirable in the interests of Canada will bitterly resent being associated with the regime of bloodshed and violence that exists in Russia. There is no attempt being made to substitute another form of government in Canada; there is however, a persistent desire to substitute for the present administration a government that will give an efficient and honest and effective control of public affairs in this country. Sir George Foster has said many wise things in his career as a public man, but the memory of them will be wiped out by the folly of his recent utterances.

THE FUEL SITUATION.

It is announced that the conference at Ottawa betwen the Provincial Fuel Controllers and officials of the Board of Railway Commissioners in regard to the fuel situation has had "entirely satisfactory results." That is reassuring as far as it goes, but the hundreds of householders who have not as yet secured a supply of coal and who are dismayed at the steadily mounting prices would doubtless like to have more details in regard to the satisfactory results mentioned. There have been so many reports as to the falling off of the supply of American coal for Ontario that it is scarcely to be wondered at that many citizens are in a condition bordering on panic when they reflect that winter is just around the corner, that the coal bins are empty and that coal may be difficult to secure when its use becomes necessary. The wealthy, of course, have no need to worry; they are able to pay cash for their winter's supply now and are apparently having no difficulty in having their orders filled, but there are many people to whom the outlook is far from bright. For their sake it is to be hoped that fuller particulars may be forthcoming as to the conference at Ottawa if some effective way of dealing with the problem has been reached.

THE G.A.U.V. PLATFORM.

One of the principal planks in the platform enunciated at the Dominion convention of the Grand Army of United Veterans was the $2,000 gratunity scheme for Canada's veterans. The organization has apparently failed to recognize that this issue is considered by the great mass of the people as dead and that from no political party at present in existence can any support be expected for the indiscriminate gratuity plan. There are many excellent clauses in the platform drafted by the United Veterans. Greater care in the selection of immigrants, the instituting of influences to prevent Canadians from migrating to the United States, preference for returned soldiers for positions under the civil service commission, the abolition of the patronage system, better facilities for the higher education of students who have not had the means to attend university, adequate pensions for disabled soldiers and the dependens of those who made the supreme sacrifice, these are some of the principles laid down by the Veterans that will be viewed by the public as constructive and progressive. It seems unfortunate, however, that by the members of the G.A.U.V. all these clauses should be considered as subordinate to the $2,000 gratunity question, and that much time and effort will be lost in working for this portion of the platform that might be devoted much more profitably to the support of the other clauses.

REVOLUTIONS, TAME AND WILD.

The Italian labor convention has voted for a peaceful and gradual industrial revolution, rather than an immediate overturn on the Russian model, by a majority of roughly three to two—which seems to represent an even greater preponderance of opinion, if one may judge from the remonstrations which accompanied the announcement of the result. But it is a vote of revolution. The program adopted on Sunday, on the motion of Deputy Daragona, sets as the immediate objective the acknowledgment by factory owners of the principle that the factories are to be controlled by the labor unions—which, one may suppose, is that "democratization of industry" which has been talked about so glibly by American politicians who have shown no sign of knowing what it means. But this, according to Mr. Daragona himself, is only the first battle in a campaign which is to lead to full socialization.

The distinction was quite clearly and sharply drawn in the debate which preceded the vote. The moderates opposed the Maximalists, who would follow the Russian model, because it would probably mean economic ruin, such as it has accomplished in Russia. They would proceed slowly, trying to keep the profits of the past while working for better things in the future. As Mr. Baldesi, Secretary General of the Confederation of Labor, observed, the Russian experiment has shown the "danger of too rapid changes." All this, of course, is sounding brass and tinkling cymbals to the whole-hearted Bolsheviki, who know the truth and are willing to burn all the accumulations of five thousand years in order to clear the way for their inspired activity; but the majority of Italian labor does not seem ready for that.

Yet it is a revolution. It is expropriation of property—but capitalist Governments have expropriated property on occasion. The essence of revolution lies in the demand of the Labor Congress that Parliament be convened to pass laws ratifying the decisions reached by representatives of a single class. This is dictatorship of the proletariat in fact if not in form. And it hardly needs to be pointed out that it has so far been a peaceful revolution only because the Government took no steps to enforce property rights guaranteed by existing laws. Seizure of a diamond ring by an individual is contrary to the laws of Italy, and would be punished; seizure of hundreds of factories by thousands of men is also contrary to the laws, and no effort has been made to punish it. So far the revolution is unopposed.

On the other hand, so far it is controlled by sensible men who take no delight in destruction or confiscation for its own sake. If it should remain in such hands, we might see an interesting experiment in the practical workings of socialism such as neither Sweden nor Czechoslovakia, though led by nominally Socialist Premiers, has yet given us. The drawback to that would be that if socialism happened to work badly those who have seized the property and the political power would hardly turn it back again as peacefully as they have acquired it. And when Mr. Baldesi assures the middle class that it has nothing to fear, the middle class, which has read history and understands the normal downfall course of revolutionary movements, may not be altogether willing to agree with him—New York Times.

EXPECTS TWO HUNDRED AT COMMERCE CONGRESS

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—"Notwithstanding difficulties of transportation since the war, I feel confident that we shall have a good representation from the various parts of the Empire at the Ninth Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire, to be held in Toronto shortly," said Charles E. Musgrave, of London, England, honorary secretary of the congress, who arrived here for a conference in connection with plans for the congress.

He added there would probably be about 200 delegates present, and among the 59 resolutions to be dealt with the question of preferential trade within the Empire will also be discussed.

U.S. PACKERS CLAIMS PROFITS NOT EXCESSIVE

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 15.—Addressing the opening session of the American Meat Packers' here Thomas E. Wilson, of Chicago, president of the association, said that none of the big five packers received as much as a cent and a half profit on each dollar of sales made in 1919.

The combined business of the five companies, he said was $3,500,000,000 with an aggregate profit of a little more than $34,000,000. He cited the combined profits of 76 other corporations to prove that the packers' profits were not excessive.

Threshers at Work.

Threshing is well under way, as all grains, except buckwheat, are in the barn. Several farmers are putting up new silos and are trying to rush the work as the corn cutting will soon begin. The recent rains, which have done much good to the root and corn crops, have made the roads in Warsaw districts, which were bad enough, much worse.

Will Give Prize.

The Cotesloe I.O.D.E. are giving a prize to the school which makes the best appearance in the school parade, to be held in connetion with the shool fair, on Friday, September 24th. The Warsaw Woman's Institute are giving a first and second prize to the school which does the best choral singing, in a test to be given at the concert in the evening. In both cases, number of pupils and ages will be considered, as well as the actual work as exhibited.

Many of the children in the different school sections are taking great interest in preparing for the fair. One little boy, not yet 10 years old, has a pair of pigs which he has cared for wholly himself.

There is to be a trustees' meeting to-night in Warsaw School to decide on the school fair sports.

The Warsaw Woman's Institute will give a supper on the evening of the school fair, and at eight o'clock the school children will give an entertainment.

There was no service in the Anglican Church on Sunday on account of ill-health of Dr. Archibold. He has not been able to come to Warsaw during the summer as he had planned.

There were regular Sunday School and preaching services in the Methodist Church. Mr. Knox occupied the pulpit.

District Meeting.

A great deal of the success of the district meeting last Friday was due to the efforts of the ladies of the Warsaw circuit. They personally saw to it that people attended. Busy season as it is many farmers gave up the day to attend the sessions. Many from other denominations were present also.

The Presbyterian Sunday School and preaching services were well attended. Mr. Graham's morning subjet was "Visions of a Far Land."

There were the regular services in the Baptist Church. Mr. Vose conducted them. During the summer Mr. Vose has done much to improve the name at Indian River.

OTTAWA NURSES LOST IN STRIKE

OTTAWA, Sept. 14.—A rigid enforcement of the hospital regulations of Water Street General Hospital has followed the temporary strike among the nurses and probationers of that institution.

Firmly resolved that there should be no further laxity by the staff in the recognition of the rules, the hospital authorities remained unchanged in their attitude regarding those who left.

Lost One Concession.

The strikers have gained nothing material, and the situation has developed into a victory for the hospital authorities, as practically all those who went out, or threatened quitting, have resumed their duties, and the hospital is close to operating on a normal scale again.

A slight modification in the rules has been proposed by the sister superior prior to the disturbances, in that more time off was to be allowed the nurses daily, but the recent occurrence now penalizes the staff, with the result, it is understood, that no change will be effected in the hours of absence.

The Hours of Work.

The hours of duty are 7.15 a.m. to 7 p.m. for day staff, and 7 p.m. to 7.20 a.m. for night staff. These hours are subject, however, to the requirements of the work, and all nurses are subject to emergency calls, day or night. When it does not interfere with hospital duties, they are given an afternoon during the week, one hour daily after 7 p.m. and three hours on Sunday. A vacation of two weeks is allowed each year, and no leave of absence will be granted at any other time except in cases of extreme emergency.

Might Have Got An Hour.

The proposed change in the weekly hours was that two hours be allowed instead of only one.

Other than making the above statement, the hospital authorities conversed in a restricted manner, but appear satisfied over the outcome of the strike, and anticipate no further trouble.

PETERBOROUGH HAD 155 CASES OF SMALLPOX IN FOURTEEN MONTHS

ONE CASE REMAINS IN THE ISOLATION HOSPITAL — PROGRESS OF THE EPIDEMIC.

During the 14 months' period, beginning June, 1919, and ending July, 1920, there were 155 cases of smallpox registered in Peterborough. For the first time since before June, 1919, Peterborough has now no houses quarantined. Only one patient is in the Queen Mary Hospital with the disease, and in a few days it is expected this patient will be well enough to be removed. Last January the smallpox epidemic reached the peak. In this month there was 25 cases and one death.

The following figures are taken from the M.O.H.'s register of infectious diseases, a very large and impressive looking volume whose pages reflect the health of the City of Peterborough:

1919.	Cases.
June ..	4
July ..	2
August ..	3
September ..	5
October ..	5
November ..	8
December ..	14
1920.
January ..	25
February ..	22
March ..	22
April ..	9
May ..	12
June ..	19
Total ..	155

The disease apparently abated during April, but in May 3 more cases were reported. In June there threatened to be another serious epidemic but in July the disease abated and also in August, it is stated.

In the County.

The city has not been alone in being harassed by smallpox. In the country there have been many cases, happily now on the decrease. In Ennismore there were many cases, but Dr. McNulty, M.O.H. for Ennismore, stated to-day that the disease was now practically cleaned up there. It is understood that there are some cases in Emily. These are under the care of Dr. Earle, of Omemee, M. O. H. for Emily, and it is said that the houses are placarded.

Smallpox does not greatly weaken the affected one's after health, Dr. McPherson, former M.O.H. of this city, told The Examiner to-day. Unlike influenza, its effects are not felt in varied ways in after years. Smallpox, he pointed out, is a disease that causes a great deal of inconvenience and suffering in some homes because of the quarantine regulations.

AUTOMOBILE WAS STRUCK BY A CAR

DR. THOMAS JOHNSTON AND HIS WIFE WERE INJURED

A car belonging to Dr. Thomas Johnston, veterinary surgeon, of 15 Monaghan Road, was overturned and smashed almost beyond repair, its occupants, Dr. and Mrs. Johnston, thrown out and injured, Mrs. Johnston seriously, when it was struck by a Canadian General Electric line street car. The accident occurred almost directly in front of the Johnston residence about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Johnston drove away from his house to attend a call on Cedar street. When he reached car tracks Mrs. Johnston was with him in the car, noticed the approaching street car. "It was travelling at the rate of about thirty miles an hour in an effort to reach the Canadian General plant before the 5 o'clock rush set in," said Dr. Johnston to-day. "It gave no warning of its approach." Dr. Johnston endeavoured to get off the car tracks but the street car was travelling too rapidly and struck Dr. Johnston's car before he could escape or the street car brakes could be applied.

The car was lifted from the ground and turned completely over. Dr. and Mrs. Johnston were pinned underneath.

Dr. F. C. Neal and Dr. J. Malcolm McCullough were called.

Dr. Johnston's injuries were slight but Mrs. Johnston was found to be seriously hurt.

(Special to the Examiner).

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—Canadian Pacific Railway Passenger Train Conductors, D. J. Carson, C. Simpson and J. Troyer running between Toronto and Hamilton who were arrested some time ago, charged with theft of tickets from the Railway Company, appeared before Magistrate Cohen to-day in Toronto, for a preliminary hearing. They were all committed for trial at the present assizes. S. Shiffman, a resident of Hamilton, who is engaged in the millinery business in that city also appeared before the same magistrate, charged with theft and reciving railway tickets, was also committed for trial at the present assizes. The eight Canadian Pacific Railway conductors running between Montreal and Quebec who were arrested in April last come up for trial on Minday next in the Court of King's Bench now in session in the city of Montreal.

FIVE DAYS AT SEA IN AN OPEN BOAT

(Canadian Press).

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 16.—"It is all in a fisherman's life," said Fred. Wilson, of Wakefield, Mass., regarding the fixe days he spent on the Atlantic in a dory, during which time he drifted and rowed about 70 miles and was picked up by one of the life-saving crews on Sable Island. Wilson was brought here by the Lady Laurier when she returned from Sable Island.

Wilson spent over five days in the open boat without food, and when picked up at Sable Island, was exhausted. He was a member of the crew of the Boston schooner Commonwealth, engaged in fishing on the banks. Wilson got astray from his vessel on the morning of August 25.

About noon on August 30, he neared Sable Island. There was a heavy sea running and he got to about two miles off the east light. The crew of No. 4 life-saving station saw him and the life boat was sent to rescue him. On reaching the island Wilson was well cared for.

As evidence of the increased cost of living on the borders of Uganda and the Congo, Lord Dewar says that, whereas a wife cost four spearheads in pre-war days, she now costs eight spearheads. In the cattle districts the price of a wife is eight cows instead of four.

CHICAGO WOMAN SEEKS RELATIVES NEAR-PETERBORO'

CHIEF OF POLICE THOMPSON ASKED TO AID IN SEARCH

Following is a letter received by Chief of Police Thompson seeking knowledge of the whereabouts of relatives supposed to be residing in this district:—

Chicago, Ill.,
Sept. 5, 20.

Chief of Police,

Dear Sir,— Do not think me bold in writing to you, but you are the only reliable person I can think of and although I do not know you, still I feel sure of your help.

Now, some years ago, a family by name McManus left Ireland and went to Peterboro, Ont., Canada, they were early settlers, and they bought land and became farmers. What part or where I do not know. They were my grandfather's brothers.

I am a McManus, the youngest of Patrick McManus's children. At a very early age, (my father) threw me on the world and refused to even speak to me. I was but 15 years old then, I am a woman now.

The other day a man recognized me, his name is McCormick. He had been my babyhood friend. His mother was raised with my father's family.

Now for 20 years in this big city of Chicago, I have never seen or heard of any of my family until this man told me that my father was dead. He died 4 years ago, and not one kind word have I had from them in all the years I can remember. Now, Mr. McCormick also told me of my grandfather's brothers out in your town, so I write to you to ask your help in finding some one of my relatives so I can write to them and feel I had someone left, who remembered my father, for I have much to tell them. If you succeed tell them I want nothing from them just to hear from them for it would surely brighten my life.

Will you please write to me and let me know if you can help me, and I will be more than thankful to you for your kindness and I will try to be patient until I hear from you.

Respectfully yours,
ROSE McMANUS,
432 S. Hoyne avenue,
Chicago, Ill.
in care of Mr. Joe McCormick.

HOLDING WRONG MAN FOR MURDER

MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 17.— Morris Fox, who claims residence in Toronto, and who was recently arrested aboard the British freighter Dryden because of his resemblance to Eugene LeRoy, alleged to be the perpetrator of the Detroit and New for identification by the Uruguayian for identification by the Uruguacan police when the Dryden arrived from Rio Janeiro. The action was at the request of the United States authorities.

Fox was sarrested on August 25 last, when the Dryden arrived at Rio Janeiro, but in the absence of an extradition treaty between the United States and Brazil he was detained on board the vessel until it proceeded to this port.

Fox was arrested on August 28 Press that he could produce a score of witnesses to prove that he was in New York when the murder was committed, and that he never was in Detroit.

Fox produced a certificate from Toronto naturalization authorities showing that he is the son of Max Fox, a naturalized Russian Jew, and that he was born in Russia in September, 1900. Reciting his movements since April, 1919, he said he was in Norfolk at that time, where he joined the Seamen's Union, shipping aboard the steamer Lake Orange for Cuba in May. He returned to New York in June, where he started work with his father as a garment maker. On September 9, 1919, he went to Toronto with his father, where he remained until January 17, 1920, when he returned to New York, where he worked at the garment trade until he shipped aboard the Dryden. He went to sea, he said, because it was an off-season in agrment making, and he was pressed for money.

The Uruguayan police to-day questioned the Spanish-speaking members of the Dryden crew. They said Fox neither spoke nor understood Spanish, a knowlege LeRoy is said to have possessed. Later when Fox was questioned by the police he appeared to have no comprehension of Spanish.

Fox declared he had several opportunities to escape from the Dryden, especially at Santos, a port of call between here and Rio Janeiro, and that if he were LeRoy he naturally would have taken advantage of these opportunities.

TESTING NEW SHOES

Look inside new boots or shoes before buying the. The inside will tell you a good deal more about their quality than will the outside. The average person looks at the bottom of the sole in order to judge if it is thick enough, and likely to keep out the water. The bookmaker or boot expert will feel the sole on the inside of the boot or shoe and, if this feels solid and is of the right thickness he will know the boot is a good one. The tops of the boots and shoes are judged by the expert in the same way as are the soles, that is by the sense of touch. If the leather feels coarse it is inferior in quality, while if on the other hand it has a feeling of fineness about it, the quality is all that need be desired. Another method by which the quality of the tops can be ascertained is to bend them once or twice Good-quality leather such as is used for tops is very pliable, while inferior is not. On boots that have been in use for some time, the leather becomes spongy and soaks up a certain amount of water. That is why old boots, although they may not need repairing, will often let the wet through.

RICHARD HALL & SON LIMITED

STEP ON AND CRUSH ONE BIG UNION

SUCH IS ADVICE OF DELEGATE HOWARD, OF WINNIPEG, AT TRADES CONGRESS NOW IS SESSINO

8-HOUR-DAY LAW

WINDSOR, Sept. 16.—That a Dominion-wide eight-hour day should be enforced, was the decision reached by the Dominion Trades Congress in session yesterday. In order that such legislation might not be subject to question on constitutional grounds, the delegates coupled with their decision a request that the Federal authorities take immediate steps to have the British North America Act amended to legalize this procedure. This action was taken in view of the ruling of the Department of Justice legal advisers that under the constitution as it now stands the eight-hour day law could be dealt with only by the various provinces. There was a considerable divergence of opinion among the delegates, but the majority favoured the course adopted.

This, with the adoption of the recommendations of the executive council with regard to political action, which were much discussed at yesterday's session, furnished the features of the day. These recommendations favored a continuance of the present policy of strong moral support to the labor political movement, but were opposed to making the congress a political body.

When the proposal to ask the Federal Government to have the B.N.A. Act amended and to enact the eight-hour day law as a Dominion measure was introduced by Chairman J. W. Wilkinson, of the committee on officers' reports, Fred Bancroft, of Toronto, moved that it be struck out on the ground that owing to the difficulty surrounding securing amendments to the B.N.A. the government might be given an opportunity of shelving the eight-hour day indefinitely.

Provincial Matter.

Secretary P. M. Draper disagreed with him, and pointed out that the Department of Justice had ruled that the enactment of this law was a provincial matter, under the existing constitution. He was hopeful that if an early conference between the Federal Cabinet and the Premiers of various provinces were called the latter could be prevailed upon to waive their constitutional rights, and thus pave the way for speedy action on a Dominion wide measure.

Mayor MacBride, M.P.P. of Brantford, believed it had been fairly established that the question was one for Provincial governments to deal with.

James Simpson of Toronto, pointed out that the Ontario government was considering the appointment of a commission to go into the question of enacting an eight-hour day law irrespective of what might be done at Ottawa.

The vote resulted in the Bancroft amendment being defeated.

One Big Union.

As to the O. B. U. Delegate Howard of Winnipeg, declared that proposition had been pretty well squashed in Winnipeg. He indicated that what is left of it is moving east, and he warned easterners to step on and crush O.B.U. at once.

The executive's recommendation that the constitutional provisions of the different internationals for expulsion or other penalties to be enforced as a means of combatting the policy of "boring from within," adopted by the O.B.U., I.W.W., and others, was partly agreed to by the delegates.

To Honor Agreements.

The meeting adopted the report of the executive favoring a strict observance of trade agreements and opposing the calling of unauthorized strikes. The executive pointed out that the solid foundation on which international trades unions had been built had been the strict regard that had been paid to agreements entered into while precipitate action accentuated unreasonableness on the part of employers.

Montreal and Edmonton are competing for next year's Congress meeting.

THUGS ROBBED PETERBORO' MAN

GORDON LONG OF THIS CITY WAS RELIEVED OF TWELVE DOLLARS

WINDSOR, Sept. 17. — On his way home from work in the early morning hours, Gordon Long, an employee of the Sun's composing room, was held up and robbed of $12 by three unknown men. The trio stole up behind Long and one of them tapping him on the shoulder, asked for the time. Long complied with this request, and the next question was: "How much money have you got on you?" The victim alone and with three husky robbers staring him in the face, came across with the change—then the three strangers departed in quick order. The hold up occurred on Goyeau street, near Wyandotte about 1 a.m.

The Gordon Long referred to above is a Peterboro man and a former member of the Examiner composing room staff. He left Peterboro for Windsor a few days ago.

MOVEMENT FOR RENT STRIKE IN LONDON.

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 16. — The movement to organize a rent strike as a protest against high prices arranged by the National Union of Ex-Soldiers is stated to be making progress, says The Times.

The union is at present engaged in getting people to sign pledge forms that they will cease to pay rent on the issue of the strike proclamation until prices are down by four shillings in the pound. The number of pledges required has been provisionally fixed at 2,000,000.

SEES INTERNATIONAL PANIC.

Dr. Campbell Morgan Protests Against Chaos Over League.

NEW YORK.—The Rev. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, until recently of London, England, who a few months ago came to America with his family and settled at Winona Lake, Ind., preached on Sunday morning and afternoon in the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, at Fifty-fifth Street. It was the first time the voice of the distinguished clergyman had been heard there for a decade, and the church was crowded.

"My text of the morning is a protest against the international panic we are now having," he said, speaking of the chaos in regard to the League of Nations. "There is no harmony anywhere. You tell me the war is over; my brothers, you lie. We are in the midst of the war. All things I hoped for, prayed for and fought for are in a state of bloody rebellion. There is a restlessness in all the world in spite of 'peace'.

"Stoicism is a wonderful thing. I take off my hat to those old stoics who without the consolation of the Christian religion kept a stiff upper lip and endured. But my text is an appeal not to fatalism, but to faith."

A SUCCESSFUL WIFE.

Women are now taking their places in all branches of work, sometimes seem to forget it, if ever they knew it, a far more practical and vital art to them, and one which can be almost universally practised —that of wifehood.

Some Essentials.

Let us consider the essentials of a model wife.

She must be good to look upon. If she is not pretty she can be dainty, fresh and well groomed.

She must be a good and prudent housekeeper, and be able to cook, even if she can afford servants.

She must have a tasteful idea about house decoration, making her home a place of rest and comfort.

She must be a companion to her husband. Sympathy is not enough. She must be able to discuss work, literature and politics intelligently with him and his friends.

She must be comrade and companion always, and critic when required.

She must be a devoted mother realizing to the full the responsibility resting with her, of giving to her country moral, healthy and helpful citizens.

And, with all these duties, she must never be for a moment without love.

Diplomas Presented To Graduate Nurses

GRADUATING EXERCISES OF ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL HELD LAST EVENING — THE CHAIRMAN'S ADDRESS.

In St. Alphonsus' Lyceum last evening three 1920 graduates of St. Joseph's Hospital, Helen McGrath of Almonte, Marguerite Lafferty of Peterborough, and Georgina Pertival of Brockville, received their medals and diplomas from His Lordship Bishop O'Brien.

Chairman's Address.

In a short address Mr. V. J. MacElderry, the chairman, dwelt upon the medium the nursing profession proved in the development of character. He congratulated the graduates not only on behalf of the friends and relations but on behalf of St. Joseph's Hospital. On behalf of the hospital he further congratulated the young women not only upon achieving graduation but upon the avocation they had chosen. "I know," he said, "of no other profession which so tends to developing the three most beautiful womanly characteristics of patience, charity and kindness than nursing. The profession is one which tends to exercise these beautiful qualities. You have chosen wisely and on that ground you are to be heartily congratulated. You must realize to-day that the three arduous years you have spent in training have not been misspent. Character in a nurse is admittedly one of the chief assets and your character has been developed during the past three years of training. "Continuing the speaker gave an interesting account of the history of hospitals and concluded by wishing the young women every success in their chosen work.

The Presentation.

In presenting the medals and diplomas to the graduates His Lordship Bishop O'Brien said that it is always a great pleasure to officiate on such occasions as he is always pleased to see the culmination of good work undertaken. He dwelt more especially upon the sacrifice the young women had made, when in this material age they had foregone the opportunity offered for making money and had entered into three years' training with very little monetary recompense. Their parents had also made a sacrifice in letting them enter the training for their chosen profession. If the past three years is a guarantee of the work the young women will do, a very happy future may be predicted for them. It is splendid, he said, to have the profession even if the young women are not going to use it. The nursing profession is one which claims unbounded respect. Christ got at men's souls through healing their bodies. The profession is very beautiful and goes hand in hand with the doctor's profession. After congratulating the graduates again, His Lordship remarked in closing that the only unfortunate feature of their profession is that many of them do not remain long enough at it.

Nothing But Compliments.

Monsignor McColl, the next speaker, said that he had nothing but compliments for the young ladies. The nursing profession, he said, is one which should have people of high ideals and high character. He dwelt upon the profession as a character disciplinarian. The training with its intimate knowledge of suffering and death is good from a moral viewpoint and tends to turn the nurses' character into one of highest ideals. The graduates, he said, have suffered in the performance of their duties. "From an intimate knowledge of St. Joseph's hospital, the speaker continued, I know, with night work and overtime there is little time for play. Like the other speakers he also paid a warm tribute to the Sisters of St. Joseph who had guided the graduates through their training and concluded by wishing the young women every success in the future.

Congratulated the Hospital.

Dr. J. V. Gallivan congratulated the graduates, especially upon graduating from such an institution as St. Joseph's Hospital, which is doing equally good work to any with which he had come in contact in his overseas trip. He spoke of the wonderful assistance the Sisters of St. Joseph are to the doctors as well as to the nurses in training. He felt assured with such training as the graduates had received that they had a most successful career before them.

Add Congratulations.

Dr. J. E. Hammond said that he could but add his congratulations to the graduates. He felt assured that they would reflect credit upon the institution from which they had graduated. Dr. Edward Wood also congratulated the young women and paid a warm tribute to the efficiency of the Sisters of St. Joseph and to the doctors of the city who had assisted in training the graduates.

Musical Programme.

The presentation of medals was made on the platform of the hall which was banked with sheafs of yellow and white chrysanthemums and prettily decorated in a yellow and white color scheme. The graduates entered the platform each carrying huge bouquets of roses and later received bouquet after bouquet of flowers from admiring friends and grateful patients until the entire platform resembled a huge flower garden.

During the evening a splendid musical programme was given, to which the junior girls' choir contributed a selection, Miss Ernestine McManus and Mr. Barlett solos. Several duets were also appreciated very heartily.

BIRD INTERRUPTED 'PHONE.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 16. — To a sandhill crane is laid an interruption to a telephone near Morrisburg, and incidentally the death of the bird, which measured 5 feet 2 inches in length. Discovering a short circuit on the system of the Bell Company, at Iroquois, located the trouble one mile from Morrisburg, where the bird was found dead on the wires. It was found that it had swallowed a portion of a fish line, and a post-mortem examination revealed that the hook had lodged in its stomach.

Alphonse Ford, aged thirty-two, farm laborer, at Bridge End, Glengarry, crawled through a window twelve by eight at the Cornwall jail and was trying to get his clothing and boots out of the cell when a police officer happened along. ANNUAL HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICE

DR. R. BLAGRAVE, OF TORONTO GAVE AN ADDRESS IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH LAST EVENING

Dr. R. Blagrave, of St. Mark's church, Parkdale, Toronto, delivered the sermon at St. John's church annual Harvest Festival that was held last evening. The church looked lovely with its profuse harvest decorations of grains, fruits and pretty flowers. The chancel, goregous with asters, gladioli and other flowers, was decorated by the Chancel Guild, the body of the church by the Church Women's Association and the pulpit by the Young People's Society. Around the entrance to the church were piled high sheafs of oats, stalks of corn, baskets of vegetables and fruits, while overhead were bunches of brilliant mountain ash berries. The windowe were filled with grain, corn, fruits, vegetables and flowers and along the walls sheafs of grain were laid. The vault of the church, covered with lovely flowers, looked very pretty and the childrens' corner with its symbolic cross of white and purple asters was very beautiful. Small bunches of wheat and real berries at each pew were very effective in carrying out the harvest decoration scheme.

A Thanksgiving.

The service was carried out with the thanksgiving idea foremost in mind. Special prayers of thanksgiving for the bountiful harvests were made by Dr. Blagrave and the Venerable Archdeacon J. C. Davidson, and the hymns were suitably chosen for the harvest time.

Dr. Blagrave emphasized the need for greater thanksgiving for our spiritual blessings than for our material betterments. "We are to a very great extent creatures of habit and custom. We are morn with certain presuppositions and afterwards we take them for granted. For example we have a firm conviction in ownership. We believe that our lands, our homes are our own. Whereas, as a matter of fact there is no such thing as absolute ownership. He pointed out how easily earthly possessions may be taken from us. What we call our life may be taken away from us in a twinkling. He declared a new point of view was needed. We forget that many of the earthly things we call our own were acquired, not through any work by us, but by generations long dead and we must remember that as they felt duty bound to sacrifice for us we must do the same now for future generations.

The Great Law.

The Creator had the vision of the days when the relation of man would be most difficult and complex. To meet these conditions he made a law, the expression of wihch is found in the word of God, the Bible. So long as this law is adhered to human life will progress along the lines of its greatest consumation.

At Thanksgiving time and at other time the things we put in the forefront are material things. That is the outstanding characteristic of this age—the materialistic age. Not that these things are not good, not necessary, but should we not reverse the emphasis and think first of our spiritualistic blessings. The things that are most significant to us are those of the soul—they are the great things, the things that are more of value to us. It only requires that we see things from God's viewpoint.

We must constantly be thankful for Jesus Christ. So we thank God first of all for Jesus Christ and the presentation of Jesus Christ through the church, and we thank Him for the material things of life—that is the order we put them in.

The principle was adopted finally by a meagre majority subject to modification when delegates of the Grand Lodge attend the Masonic world conference this winter.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST PROFITEERS IN ITALY.

(Canadian Press).

ROME, Sept. 16.—The new Italian Premier, Giolitti, has initiated a campaign against the many "sharks," as profiteers in food and clothing are called, as a result of which they have been heavily fined or committed to prison whenever detected. Large fortunes have been accumulated by many of these extortioners by selling foodstuffs secretly at exorbitant prices.

Nevertheless, the cost of living still is mounting in this country. Statistics issued by the municipality of Turin for the first six months of this year show that there has been an increase of at least 20 per cent. in the cost of food and of 25 per cent. for many articles of clothing.

In Rome, the result of abolishing the fixed price for vegetables and some other foodstuffs has been to send the price upward sharply.

FOR CUSTOMS DUTY ON HUDSON'S BAY

The steamer Grib has left Halifax with two members of the Northwest Mounted Police—Sergeant White and Constable Butler—who will remain in Hudson's Bay district for two years, performing the duties of customs officers as well as those of police.

Constable K. C. Butler will be remembered in Peterborough as a son of the late Pierce Butler. Sergeant White will be remembered as one of the trio of mounted police who spent two and a half years in the North searching for the Eskimo murderers of two Catholic priests; the other two being Inspector Le Nauze, now in Halifax, and Corporal Bruce. Sergeant White was then a constable. Constable Butler is a recent addition to the world famous body and will undergo his apprenticeship in the frozen north.

The Grib from here is proceeding to North Sydney, where she will take in bunkers, and from there will go to Battle Harbor, where additional coal will be taken. From Battle Harbor she goes direct to Port Bunwell.

The waters to which she is now going are familiar to the Grib and her officers, and she and they can be depended on to perform well the inauguration work of the customs department in the north. Built in Norway as a whaler in 1907, the steamer has spent most of her career in northern waters, in constant contact with ice, and braving all the terrors which these waters can produce. The plant of her original owners was at Seven Islands and to this place she towed her monster catches, usually with one slung on each side. Signs of her whale hunting equipment is still to be seen aboard.

In 1916 the Grib went ashore on Anticosti Island and remained there for upwards of a year. She was bought by parties in Quebec, salvaged and sold to the government. She then came to Halifax and until the close of the war was one of the fleet of naval patrol vessels stationed here.

The Grib measures little more than 100 feet in length, but her Norwegian builders saw that she made up in staunchness what she lacked in size. She is, of course, built with the special idea of being able to withstand ice; probably her most remarkable feature being six water-tight bulkheads, more than most ships many times her size. Her steel hull is also very thick.

DISCOURAGED IMMIGRANT TOOK HIS OWN LIFE

High Wages in Canada Promised Failed to Materialize.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 15.—Prominent citizens here are demanding an investigation into the system used to induce young men in Great Britain to come to Canada in the hope of getting high wages, as a result of the suicide here of a young Welshman named Ambrose Johns. He shot himself at the Salvation Army Workmen's quarters.

The young man, in a letter he left, said he emigrated from England and went to New Waterford, Cape Breton, to work in a coal mine, but that he was unable to get ahead in a financial way because of the many charges he was called upon to pay. Discouraged in Cape Breton, he came to St. John, but could find no suitable work, according to his letter. His suicide followed the receipt of a letter from his young wife, who wrote that she was so hard pressed that she had been obliged to pawn her wedding ring and other personal property. John's body will be buried in Cedar Hill Cemetery in a plot furnished by Brunswick Chapter, Imperial Daughter of the Empire. The chapter is also collecting money to send to the deceased's wife, who is left with a baby.

CHOICE RECIPES

OMELET.

Beat two egg yolks very light, add two tablespoons of milk, a little salt and a pinch of baking powder. Beat the two egg whites left yesterday and the two others as stiff as possible. Turn into the egg mixture and then into a hot well-greased pan. Turn and fold when brown.

TOMATO AND PINEAPPLE SALAD

Arrange slices of canned pineapple on crisp lettuce, cover each slice with a thin slice of peeled and chilled tomatoes. On each piece add a teaspoon of mayonnaise dressing.

BEAN LOAF.

Soak a cup of beans in cold water three hours and boil tender. Mash, add a cup of cold boiled rice, half a cup of bread crumbs, a cup of milk, and a cup of tomatoes. Form into a loaf and bake one hour.

FRIED CARROTS.

Grate enough raw carrots to make a cupful. Add half a cup of milk, one egg, a teaspoon of baking powder and flour to make a batter that will drop off the spoon. Fry in hot fat.

SPANISH HASH.

Chop four cold boiled potatoes, one onion, one green pepper, one sweet red pepper, and two ripe tomatoes. Add salt, pepper and a dash of paprika. Place in a buttered frying pan and fry one minute. Add a little milk if too thick.

TOMATO AND CORN PUDDING.

Mix a cup of cooked corn, one cup of peeled tomatoes, a teaspoon of chopped onion, two tablespoons of oleo or butter, four tablespoons of bread crumbs, salt and pepper. Turn into a baking dish and bake fifteen minutes.

BAKED BEANS WITH CHEESE.

Soak the beans overnight in cold water and in the morning drain. Turn into a bean pot, add a piece of fat salt pork, a quarter of a cup of molasses and fill with water. Bake three hours and then add a cup of grated cheese. Bake fifteen minutes longer.

Frangipani Cream.

Mix three cups of milk with three eggs and a quarter of a cup of sugar. Boil until thick and cool. Then add a teaspoon of orange extract, the same of vanilla, six crushed macaroons or cake crumbs. Pour over sliced pineapple and bananas and chill. Serve with whipped cream in glasses.

Pear and Nut Salad.

Peal and cut in halves the required number of pears. Marinate the pears in the ice chest with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Fill the centres of the pears with the following mixture: Mash to a paste two tablespoons of cream cheese and add a tablespoon of chopped nuts and a teaspoon of pimentoes. Serve on crisp lettuce.

FAMOUS GRAVEYARD TOWN MAY CENSOR EPITAPHS

Leighton Buzzard, England.

"Here lies the body of Mary Ann Lowder,
She burst while drinking a seidlitz powder,
Called from this world to her heavenly rest,
She should have waited till it effervesced."

Tombstones in the tiny secluded churchyards of this old world place abound with epitaphs like the above, and it is felt that in bygone days the rollicking country yokels buried their best beloveds with far too much mirth and levity.

The town clerk of Leighton Buzzard has been asked to confer with the chairman of the burial board with a view to censoring epitaphs. Hitherto the stonemason has carved the tombstones faithfully "according to copy," regardless of spelling and grammar, as evidenced by the following:

"Sacred to the memory of John Wardle and his wife and five children all of who passed away in their infancy."

Others, true are philosophical without undue emotional display.

The following masterpiece is traced on the tombstone of a long deceased innkeeper:

"Our life is but a vinter's day,
Some only breakfast and away,
Others to dinner stay and are full fed,
The oldest man but sups and goes to bed.
Large is his debt who lingers out the day,
Who goes the soonest has the least to pay."

It is difficult to find a tombstone in Leighton Buzzard with a scriptural epitaph. The old, old grey stones, leaning against each other for support, depict the gamut of human emotions from the sanctimonious to the burlesque, but none of them have borrowed words of comfort from Matthew, Mark, Luke or John.

However, the town clerk has ordered a new ofice Bible, the chairman of the burial board is polishing up his Scriptural quotations and Leighton Buzzard will have to learn to be orthodox.

PROBABLY.

She was weeping bitter tears into her afternoon tea.

"Oh, my dear!" she said to her only friend: "I don't know what I shall do. Ted and I have only been married 6 months yet he spends every evening at the club."

"Well, don't worry, darling," said the other. "Percy's just the same. But I shall never scold him again for spending so much time at his club."

"Why not?"

"Well, last night, a burglar got into the house and my husband knocked him senseless with a poker. I've heard several men speak of him as a poker expert. He has evidently been practicing at the club for just such an emergency."

Envy is the drippings from the engine of success.

RURAL SCHOOLS IMPROVED.

Ontario's rural school system shows such a marked improvement this fall that money over and above the Government estimates has had to be spent on them, according to Hon. R. H. Grant, Minister of Education. The Government now contributes a share of all moneys spent on improvements to rural schools. Salaries have been increased generally, and more teachers engaged.

BARON FRANKENSTEIN ARRIVES IN OLD LONDON.

First Representative of Austrian Republic After War.

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Baron Frankenstein, a former Attache of the Austrian Embassy in London, has arrived here as the first representative of the Republican Austrian Government after the war, and has taken up his quarters at the beautiful mansion in Belgrave Square, where successive Austrian ambassadors entertained sumptuously before the war.

The requirements of the Austrian diplomatic representation are on a much more modest scale now, and as the former embassy is extremely expensive to maintain, the new Minister is looking for smaller quarters. The German Legation is also anxious to find less expensive premises than the palatial mansion in Carlton House Terrace, which it now occupies.

One of the things that struck Baron Frankenstein most on his arrival was, so he said, that for a penny he could have quite a long 'bus ride, which in Vienna would cost 30 times as much at the normal rate of exchange.

MARKET BY-LAW LOWERS REVENUE FOR THE MARKET

MARKET CLERK WILL HAVE TO SUFFER—MAY TAKE LEGAL ACTION

"I don't want to say anything about it; Mr. Kerr is looking after it," emphatically stated Mr. Fred. Mahood, city market clerk, when asked by the Examiner this morning what steps he was taking to have the amended market by-law passed by the Council on September 7, which he has been greatly dissatisfied with, rescinded or re-amended. Market Clerk Mahood objects to the amended by-law because of its decreasing his revenue from the market scales to an appreciable extent. Mr. F. D. Kerr is Mr. Mahood's attorney, and whatever action he takes and it is understood that he is not going to sit quietly with his hands folded and see his decrease will be taken on the advice of Mr. Kerr.

Although nothing in the by-law fixes the date on which the new charges become operative, Mr. Mahood has, since the by-law was passed, charged in accordance with the by-law, however dissatisfied he may have been with it. More developments may be expected over this market by-law yet, and until the charges for weighing are raised to their former level, the Council need not feel that there is complete harmony between them and their market clerk.

DUBIOUS OF LATEST THEATRE PROSPECT

LITTLE CONCERN OVER THE PANTAGES RUMOUR—A NEW HOTEL WOULD BE MORE ACCEPTABLE

The opinion which theatre corporations hold of one another is a fearsome and wonderful thing if one is to judge by the statements which were made to the Examiner this morning by certain of the local theatre managers when spoken to regarding the rumoured entry of the Pantages Theatre Corporation into Peterborough.

Nothing more definite than what has already been learned regarding the possibility of the building of a Pantages Theatre on the lot adjoining the Barrie Building could be obtained. That the Pantages representatives have been attempting to secure a laneway to Water Street, and that they are attempting to secure land for the storage of bricks, is certain.

One theatre manager frankly ridiculed the rumoured intention of the Pantages Corporation. "They are merely doing something which is good business in thus getting their name before the public. They are probably trying to throw a scare into Loew's. If Loew's should locate here Pantages would promptly follow."

Continuing, he explained that the competition between Loew's and Pantages is strong and that both are going to extremes to win their ends. He thought that Pantages were merely bluffing their rivals, and at the same time getting their name before the public.

He was of the opinion that the Pantages Corporation lacked the necessary finances to locate a theatre in Peterborough. Their new $1,000,000 theatre in Toronto has not been a paying proposition, he said, and they would make a success of that before making any new ventures.

Incidentally, he stated that Loew's representative had been here looking the ground over, and that they had decided that Peterborough would not be a paying town for vaudeville. He agreed with this decision. At present Peterborough is having difficulty in supporting its one threatre and three moving picture houses.

"It would be suicide for the Pantages Corporation to locate here, and they know it," was the opinion of one manager.

ONE MAN KILLED ANOTHER SCALDED

COBALT, September 17. — A pitch in between two freight trains on the T. and O. at Redwater on Wednesday evening at 10.50 o'clock, was responsible for the life of one man and severe injuries to another.

Killed—George Guertin, front end brakesman, of North Bay.

Scalded and crushed—F. Thomas, engineer, North Bay.

According to reports to hand extra freight No. 139, southbound, stopped at Redwater tank, mileage 56, for water, and while standing at this point, extra freight No. 140, following, pitched into the rear of the first train, the heavy engine and tender being thrown from the rails from the impact. No. 139 was in charge of Engineer C. Emple, and Conductor K. Sullivan. Conductor O. Lillies and Engineer F. Thomas were in charge of No 140. George Guertin, front end brakeman on No. 140, was pinned under the engine as it turned over and was almost instantly killed. Engineer Thomas was badly scalded, and otherwise injured but it is understood that his condition is not serious. The tracks were cleared about two hours after the accident.

The cause of the accident is said to have been the failure of the air on No. 140.

George Guertin, the unfortunate victim, was a resident of North Bay, married with one adopted child.

TWELVE BODIES FOUND.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—At 4.30 p.m., twelve bodies were taken to the morgue. The seriously injured number 50. A rough estimate of the damage is $2,500,000.

THRESHERS ARE HARD TO OBTAIN

PETERBORO' COUNTY FARMERS HAVE MORE THRESHING THIS YEAR

Threshing is progressing in the country, but the scarcity of threshing outfits, together with the large crops, making longer threshings, has made it very hard to secure the threshers, and many farmers have not yet threshed even a half day. The corn is being cut, and the crop is good, the farmers state. Ploughing and fall seeding is general throughout the county, the recent rains making ploughing good, and the seeding is following close on the ploughing.

Farmers state that the recent downpours came just in time to save them from a serious water famine. Many wells were dry, or partially so, but the heavy rains have again raised the level of the water, to make the danger of a famine remote.

Hay was selling on the market to-day at $28. Yesterday one farmer secured the very good price of $30, but the hay was of particularly fine quality and growth.

SUGAR SLIDE IS JUST BEGINNING

ANOTHER CENT CHOPPED OFF THE PREVAILING PRICE

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—Sugar slide is just beginning, according to an unnamed representative of the Atlantic Sugar Refinery, interview to-day following the official anouncement of a drop on one cent per pound. According to another authority there is not much buying of sugar by wholesalers at the present time, the presumption being that they are pretty well stock-

FEW EVADERS OF THE LUXURY TAX

LOCAL CFFICE REPORTS READY RESPONSE TO ACT

A despatch from Ottawa to-day stated that merchants were trying to evade the tax. Mr. W. H. Buller, local collector of Inland Revenue, when seen this morning, stated that he had seen very few cases of merchants trying to evade the tax. The merchants of this district, he said, as a whole had done their best to comply with the new tax, but, as in everything else, there had been a few laggards, who needed reminding that there was such a thing as a sales and luxury tax. A gentle tip had always sufficed, and no stronger measures had yet been necessary.

A new regulation government register that it is expected will simplify the Inland Revenue Department's book-keeping greatly was being assembled at the office to-day. It is a very large canvas-backed loose leaf register, with alphabtically arranged sections for manufacturers' jewellers' and sales tax, and this one register will now do the work for which three were needed before. The machinery for the collection and accounting of the thousands of dollars tax that comes through this office each month is now running smoothly. Those who pay the tax are becoming better acquainted with its workings, and the merchants and manufacturers and wholesalers have now accepted the tax as a permanent thing, and are governing their business accordingly.

POURING CENTRAL SPAN OF BRIDGE.

Pouring the cement in the central span of the Hunter Street Bridge began this morning, and it is expected that in three weeks the concrete work on this span will be finished. There are 2,400 square yards of concrete in this span, and 100, or perhaps a little more, will be poured each day. The cement is wheeled down the long platform from the eastern mixed. It is much more satisfactory, and a better job can be done this way, than if it is run down, it was learned at the bridge this afternoon.

TRIP TO OLD COUNTRY USELESS, SHE SAYS

RETURNING HOME FROM ENGLAND SICK AND MISERABLE, SHE FOUND RELIEF BY TAKING TANLAC—GAINS NINE POUNDS.

"After what Tanlac has done for me I feel that the very least I can do to show my gratitude is to allow a statement of my case to be made public for it has completely restored my health," said May Dawson, of 1031 Pender St., East, Vancouver, B.C.

"For fully two years I had been unable to eat anything without being troubled with indigestion. My food would sour and form gas, and my heart would palpitate so that I became alarmed. I suffered from terrible pains in the pit of my stomach and would feel like I was choking. At times I felt so weak and dizzy that I could not stand without holding to something.

"I also had severe pains across the small of my back that hurt terribly whenever I attempted to stoop over. I became so weak that I could scarcely do a thing, and my nerves were so unstrung that the children playing or any unusual noise would almost drive me frantic. As the treatments and medicines did me no good, a little over a year ago I went back to England, hoping the change would do me good but I failed to find any relief over there either.

"About two months ago I returned to Vancouver, still feeling very sick and miserable. A friend got me to try Tanlac, and after taking three bottles you would never think there was ever anything the matter with me.

"I now have a splendid appetite and I am never troubled with sourness or gas, nor suffer from palpitation or shortness of breath. The pain in my back is gone and I haven't an ache of any kind. My nerves are calm and steady—I sleep like a child and get up feeling rested and full of life. I have gained nine pounds and I feel as strong and healthy as I ever did in my life. My daughter Gladys also suffered with indigestion, so she took Tanlac and it completely relieved her trouble."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son. (Advt.)

policy. In Britain it had declared that it would secure the full fruits of industry for those who toiled. He denied that the unrest of Britain was due entirely to circumstances arising from the war. He pointed out that the Canadian worker had not the feudal land system which owned the earth and the people on it, or the industrialism which had bequeathed the present social and industrial conditions to Britain to contend with.

Work by the Ballot.

Mr. Davidson warned the Canadian worker that it was by the ballot his aspirations were to be realized. He suggested that the Congres should consider the record of the British Labor movement. He declared that the visit of the Press Conference and the Trades Congress to Canada was not a philanthropic mission, but designed for the purpose of exploiting Canada, and asked Canadian workers to prepare themselves that they would be able to say that they had developed the country and to them should go the full fruits of their toil. "If this is done your movement will be the greatest success of the new world."

Keep Clear of Detroit.

Mr. Brock declared that there were now in the neighborhood of 60,000 employes of automobile factories out of work in Detroit, which, he claimed, was an artificial condition brought about by employers of Detroit to introduce the American or open-shop plan and to force a reduction of wages. He asked delegates to advise mechanics to keep away from Detroit.

COURT POET NOW AN ONION FILLER

Montenegran Loses Royal Job But is Writing An Epic.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—From spring poetry to Spring onions may be a long jump, yet Tomo Joshov Vukuvichevich, who used to regale the royal family of Montenegro with heart throbs took it without losing his self respect. Not long ago Tomo, who was the poetlaureate of the little Kingdom lost his job, and like many budding poets who find it increasingly difficult in these high-price times to keep the wolf from the hall room door, decided to go to work.

It seemed to Tomo that all the jobs had been filled, but somebody suggested that he consult the Red Cross, which has a station at Podgoritaz, and after looking him over they decided he would do in the onion patch. So he went to work and the onions responding to his delicate touch, thrived like lillies in the field.

Red Cross advices today from Podgoritza indicated that Tomo was using his spare time writing an epic in Serbian blank verse, extolling American relief in Montenegro, and incidentally pointing the way to struggling poets anxious to eat.

LUNGS DEAD, KEPT ALIVE 24 HOURS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 16.—For twenty four hours Robert Stansbury, a 16-year-old boy, was kept alive at the St. Louis City Hospital after his paralyzed lungs had ceased to function.

Six doctors, working in relays, pumped air in the non-functioning lungs and the heart and pulse continued to beat.

Twenty-four hours to the minute from the time the experiment was started, the boy was declared the loser in the battle with death.

Stansbury was operated on for mastoditis in the afternoon. As the operation was completed the boy stopped breathing. It was first believed the condition was caused from the anaesthetic. The boy's heart was functioning perfectly.

The condition continued and the anaesthetic theory was discarded and the doctors started a vain search for the cause. A pulmotor was rushed into action and the lungs started to work.

Meantime the doctors attempted to discover why the lungs had become paralysed during an operation behind the ear. The theory was advanced that a nerve was severed which led from the brain to the lungs.

Catarrh Of The Stomach Is Dangerous

"Thousands Have It and Don't Know It," Says Physician. Frequently Mistaken for Indigestion—How To Recognize and Treat.

"Thousands of people suffer more or less constantly from furred, coated tongue, bad breath, sour burning stomach, frequent vomiting, rumbling in stomach, bitter eructations, gas, wind, and stomach acidity and call it indigestion when in reality their trouble is due to gastric catarrh of the stomach," writes a New York physician.

Catarrh of the stomach is dangerous because the mucous membrane lining of the stomach is thickened and a coating of phlegm covers the surface so that the digestive fluids cannot mix with the food and digest them. This condition soon breeds deadly disease in the fermented unassimilated food. The blood is polluted and carries the infection throughout the body. Gastric ulcers are apt to form and frequently an ulcer is the first sign of a deadly cancer.

In catarrh of the stomach a good and safe treatment is to take before meals a teaspoonful of pure Bisurated Magnesia in half a glass of hot water as hot as you can comfortably drink it. The hot water washes the mucus from the stomach walls and draws the blood to the stomach, while the bisurated magnesia is an excellent solvent for mucus and increases the efficiency of the hot water treatment. Moreover the Bisurated Magnesia will serve as a powerful but harmless antacid which will neutralize any excess hydrochloric acid that may be in your stomach and sweeten its food contents. Easy, natural digestion without distress of any kind should soon follow. Bisurated Magnesia is not a laxative, is harmless, pleasant and easy to take and can be obtained from any local druggist. Don't confuse Bisurated Magnesia with other forms of magnesia, milks, citrates, etc. but get it in the pure bisurated form (powder or tablets), especially prepared for this purpose.

GOOD RESULTS FROM AIRPLANE SURVEY

(Canadian Press).

MONTREAL, Sept. 16. — Major Daniel Owen, of Annapolis, N.S., who accompanied the planes and flying boat which about a year ago visited Labrador, interviewed here, stated that 15,000 aerial photographs of the country had been taken and elaborate estimates of over 2,500 square miles of the country made. The expedition found that behind the 20 miles of coast line there lay one of the most generously forested regions in Canada. In consequence of this exploration, Major Owen said that a new company has been organized, the Southern Labrador Pulp and Paper Company, in which United States capital has been interested with the idea of installing a pulp mill, with four sawmill units of 50,000 feet per day capacity, which will begin operations in the district next year. James Munroe, president of the Canadian Cordage Company, and director of the Imperial Tobacco Company of Newfoundland, is a member of the new company.

SCOTCH IMMIGRANT GIRL GAVE LIFE FOR SISTER

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Eva Beattie, a Scottish immigrant girl, lost her life while attempting to rescue from the surf her younger sister, who had waded out beyond her depth. Guards at the temporary detention quarters at Hoffman Island, where the girls were staying because of crowded conditions at Ellis Island immigration station, rescued the younger sister. The body of Eva, who wore hung around her neck a bag containing the funds which the two sisters brought to this country, has not been recovered.

HOSPITAL OVERCROWDED.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 18.—To relieve the overcrowded conditions existing at the Ontario Hospital here, upwards of 100 patients will be transferred to the new institution at Cobourg, used during the war as a military hospital for shell-shock patients. The transfer is being supervised by Dr. W. K. Ross, head of the local institution.

IRISH FLAG CAUSES DISORDER ON LINER

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Cunard liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria arrived yesterday from Liverpool and Queenstown with 1,338 passengers, after weathering a hurricane that blew down her wireless apparatus and a row over the Irish question among the passengers. The damage to the radio set on Tuesday was repaired quickly, but the pro and anti Sinn Fein feelings still manifested themselves as the ship was coming up the bay.

An Irish republic flag waved valiantly by the Rev. M. M. English, pastor of a Roman Catholic Church at Whitehall, Mon., and an American citizen, was used as a target by other cabin passengers not sympathetic with the cause it represented. Their projectiles were oranges, which just naturally added to the ire of the South Ireland sympathizer.

"I was never a Sinn Feiner before, but what happened to me and what I saw while visiting my parents in the county of Limerick has made me one," Father English said.

"On the night of September 1, when my brother Patrick and P were preparing to leave for Queenstown to catch this boat, a detachment of English soldiers surrounded the farm house of my father, and forced their way in. They tore open my trunks, confiscated letters to me, notes I had made on a trip on the continent of Europe, and everything else of a personal nature.

Claimed Protection as American.

"When I protested as an American citizen and asked the officer in charge of the detachment by what authority he acted he patted his revolver holster and said: 'By this authority.' When I asked him to identify himself he told me to keep quiet. The search of the premises continued for three hours, and at the end of it they dragged off my brother, who is not an American citizen yet, although he has been working with the Anaconda Copper Company at Butte, Mon., and went home for a vacation the same as I did. I do not know what my brother's fate was.

"From our house the soldiers went to the home of Daniel Lynch, a neighbour, 40 years old, whom everybody in the town had known for years. He and his sisters were saying the rosary together before retiring. He was dragged off, brought to the market place and shot. It developed afterward that the soldiers were looking for another Daniel Lynch.

"I learned also about a British magistrate in Ireland, Allan Bell, who arranged for a Scotland Yard detective to go to Mountjoy Prison, pose as a priest and 'hear' confessions of political prisoners there. The Irish learned of the ruse and the next day the detective and the magistrate were shot. Arthur Griffith, acting President of the Sinn Fein republic, told me that only the moral support of the United States for the Irish cause is restraining Great Britain from a massacre on the island."

Father English said he intends to get Senator Walsh of Montana to take up with the State Department the insult to a citizen in the search and seizure of his baggage.

The Montana priest with three other priests who had been visiting relatives in Ireland—the Rev. Thomas O'Dowd of East Millinocket, Me.; the Rev. M. M. Grace of St. Joseph, Mo., and the Rev. D. J. Ryan of Davenport, Iowa—was the storm centre of the Irish partisan trouble on shipboard. Thursday night, he related, the chief steward of the third class passengers invited them to participate in the concert arranged for the benefit of Irish political prisoners, inasmuch as 500 Irish emigrants were in the majority in the steerage.

The notes of the Sinn Fein songs reached the ears of the first cabin passengers, five-sixths of whom, according to Father English, are British in their sympathies. Immediately they chose a committee, he said, and asked Captain R. W. D. Irvine to bring charges of "treason and disloyalty" against the priests for, it was alleged, inviting the outbreak in the steerage. The skipper informed them the priests were American citizens and that all he could do was to forbid their mingling with the third-class passengers. This he did.

Harry Vehon, of Harry Vehon & Co., 2 Rector Street, woollen manufacturers, returned from a survey of the canvas making industry in its European centre, Ghent and Zalle, Belgium. It will take at least three years to revive it, he said, because the machinery formerly used was captured by the Germans and removed to that country, and has since been taken to England. British agents, he related, are now in those cities trying to sell the machines back to the original owners, but without success.

Two Malden, Mass., dealers, convicted of selling short-weight ice, were ordered to deliver free of charge to the cheated persons for one month.

EAT and Get Thin

This is turning an old saying face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this reversion possible.

If you are overfat; opposed to physical exertion; fond of the table and to good things, and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, go to your druggist (or write to the Marmola Co., 932 Fullerton Building, Detroit, Mich.) and get him, (or send them) one dollar, thus satisfying your ambition for a trim, slim figure, by receiving a good size box of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription); take one of these pleasant candy tablets after each meal and at bedtime, and you will lose your fat at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week.

Then continue the treatment until your weight is what you desire. Marmola Prescription Tablets are not only harmless but really beneficial to the general health. You don't need starvation diet or weakening exercises. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully and without a doubt that flabby flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind it your natural self, gaily clothed in form fine and trim and active.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE NEAR OMEMEE ON SUNDAY

OMEMEE, Sept. 14.—A mysterious fire occurred on Sunday, shortly after the dinner hour, on the farm of David Dicks, two concessions south of this village, when his barns with the season's crops were destroyed. The fire was not caused by lightning. Some claim it was due to spontaneous combustion, while a rumor is current to the effect that it was caused by a boy smoking in the barn.

The Fire Marshal will be sent to investigate and make a report as to the actual cause.

Mr. Dick's loss is a very heavy one.

T.A.B.A. DROPS OUT OF ALL THREE SERIES

WAIVES RIGHT TO COMPETE IN THE PROVINCIAL CHAMPIONSHIPS

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—The following self explanatory letter has been sent by the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association to the Ontario Baseball Association:

"The Toronto Amateur Baseball Association regrets the necessity of advising that we shall be unable to decide our local championships prior to Saturday, Sept. 18, and must therefore accept your decision in Provincial championships in junior, intermediate and senior divisions.

We are confident, however, that had you extended to our association the same privileges as that rightly accorded other cities, the present unsatisfatcory condition would not have been created.

"We realize that it is necessary to have the Peterborough-Toronto series completed by Saturday, Sept. 25th, in order that the final game might be played in good weather. But it was our distinct understanding that at a meeting held in Toronto—when the schedule was prepared—it was agreed that the home team might designate the particular day of the week on which it wished to play.

"If it was your desire that the Peterborough-Toronto series should have been completed by Saturday, Sept. 25, what objection could you have had to our request that the first game be played in Toronto on Wednesday, Sept. 22, and the return game in Peterborough on the specified date?

"This arrangement might have meant a smaller gate receipt to the Ontario Amateur Baseball Association, but it would have given our local champions an opportunity without prolonging the time limit and without inconveniencing the Peterborough club.

"Your delay in rendering a decision on the eligibility of Player Scott did not affect our action, but we wish to draw your attention to the fact that no definite judgment has been rendered to us — even though some months have elapsed since our request was forwarded."

HALF A MILLION LOSS IN NIAGARA FRUIT BELT

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 14.— Although several hundred thousand bushels of fruit were rendered unfit for shipment by Saturday's storm, the crop is so abnormally heavy that there will be plenty for the markets. Individual growers will suffer losses estimated to total $400,000. The great majority of growers in the fruit belt were not in the path of the storm. Their crops are so large that it is doubtful if the storm will cause any increase in prices.

Federal agents for the Fair Price Committee report Pittsburg restaurants and hotel men are realizing profits of from 500 to 800 per cent.

AT THE ALLEN

As in all Louis Bennison's pictures a cast of uncommon merit surrounds the smiling cowpuncher in his newest Betzwood production, "The Road Called Straight." As his leading woman Bennison has beautiful and talented Ormi Hawley, long identified with worth while Cinema productions. Other notable players in the cast are Henry Mortimer, Burton Churchill, Jane Adler, John Daly Murphy and little Evelyn Ruth, who is seen to good advantage in several comedy scenes with the star.

GUS HILL COMING TO THE GRAND

Those who are fond of old-time minstrelsy will have their innings at the Grand on Saturday next, matinee and night, where Gus Hill's Minstrels will hold forth. It is claimed that this splendid organization has surpassed all previous efforts in minstrelsy. Every angle in minstrelsy has been treated with a new and unique twist, resulting in a production radiant with brightness and freshness that is a treat to behold. The company numbers fifty sorrow-defying, gloom-dispelling, joy-inspiring purveyors of mirth and merriment. Among the well known favorites are: Emile Subers, Sam Curtis, Rags Leighton, Billy Monitor, Harry O'Brien, Fred Werner, Harry Bohne, Fred Freddy, Gene Pearson, Pat Rogers, Richard Barstow, John Cahill and fifty other burnt cork celerities. A feature which has brought this peerless combination of extravagance and unparallelled excellence into the lime light of universal acclaim is Sam Brown's famous band and orchestra.

BABY BURNED TO DEATH.

Lightning Hits Electric Wires and Sets Fire to Bed It Lies On.

MONTICELLO, N. Y.—Isidore Nadel, eight months old, child of Mr. and Mrs. Samul Nadel, of 1315 Simpson Street, the Bronx, New York, was burned to death here today during an electrical storm.

The child was lying on a bed alone in an upstairs room at the boarding house conducted by Jake Rothenberg and Max Kasel, cousins of Nadel, when a sharp crack of lightning was heard. Shortly afterward Joseph Cooper of 1363 Hoe Avenue, the Bronx, went up to his room to get a cigarette. He smelled smoke and, investigating, found the bed on which the child was lying in flames. The lightning had short circuited the electric wiring and the fixture had dropped on the bed, setting it afire. The boy died while on the way to the Thrall Hospital, Middletown.

HAT WORKERS ASKED TO CUT WAGES

MILITARY BAND IN TRENTON.

Progress has been made in re-organization of a band for Trenton. Col. Bywater, W. H. Ireland, M.P.P., and J. F. Fox, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, have been out securing recruits for a military band, connected with the new regiment, the 46th Hastings and Prince Edward County regiment, of which Col. Bywater will have command. Already twenty of Trenton's best musicians have joined up.

CENTRAL LEAGUE STARS TO MEET PETES TO-MORROW

The fans will beglad to learn that they will have a chance of seeing a good game of ball at the Riverside Park at 3:15 o'clock to-morrow afternoon when the Petes will do battle with a picked team of Central League stars from the Port Hope, Oshawa, and Cobourg clubs. In order to keep the Petes in shape for the Ontario Championship series, Bob Chalk, the clever Port Hope catcher, is selecting a team from the three towns, and he promises a line up that will give the Solomon crew a whole lot of opposition. He is keeping his line up dark but undoubtedly out of the three clubs he will be able to choose a batting order that will provide the Petes with about all the trouble they will want for one afternoon.

A week from to-morrow the Petes will likely play in Ottawa against the City League champions of that city. The Ottawa gang have invited the Central League champs to a tussle. Two weeks from to-morrow the first game in the Ontario championship will be played on the grounds of the western winners. The Plowites of Hamilton look like the one best bet in the west.

LOCAL FOOTBALL GOSSIP

CALEY'S VS. G.W.V.A. AND WOOLLENS VS. DELAVAL—OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST

Two very interesting League Games are scheduled for to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 3.30 p.m. prompt. At Nicholls Oval the Canadian Woollens will play the DeLaval in their first game this season. Down on the Nicholl's Oval the Caledonians will play the G.W.V.A. for league points, at 5.15 p.m. prompt. Mr. T. Hensby will be the official referre at the oval and Mr. Frank McKinley at the Exhibition Grounds. Kick off at 3.30 p.m.

It was agreed unanimously at the Executive meeting the other evening that the Secretary should complete the Football Schedule for the 1910-1921 season before next season. Providing everything is suitable the Executive may get Schedule Cards printed.

The meeting of the Football Association will be held in G.W.V.A. Rooms on Tuesday evening, September 28th at 8 p.m. prompt.

Since the Caledonian and C.G.E. game Mr. Matt Shaw of the Caley's has been nursing a very severe ankle injury that confined him to the house but he may be able to play to-morrow.

The new representative for the Canadian Woollens Team is Mr. Raypac and he made his first appearnce at the last meeting. He could not understand how the local association made rules then still adopted the O. F. A. Ruling.

Dr. McPherson gave an eloquent address to the Football Executive on the aims and objects of the Peterboro Athletic Association. He emphasized the necessity of such an association on behalf of Amateur sport and the purpose of securing suitable recreation grounds.

The press WILL NOT at any time suppress any news from the public that actually takes place an a football field and feel justified in criticizing any player who uses illegal tactics Also a spectator may come under the same sphere for misconduct, bad language, abuse of officials or barracking in any shape or form.

Th etransfer of Gash of C.G.E. to G.W.V.A. caused a very intricate problem to the Executive and after a lengthy discussion it was moved that Gash was still a C.G.E. player and in future the association will abide by the O.F.A. Rules.

The De Laval Team deserves great credit for being the only organization that confine themselves to their works and may a creditable show every time out.

An old soccor player in the person of Mr. Robert Irwin is at present in the city renewing acquaintances in fact, he can still give the ball a good punt yet. Bobbie was considered one the best right wing men a few years ago.

It is rumoured that the De Laval will play William McKinley on Saturday afternoon at Nicholls Oval. Jock Lindsay are you going to get the points?

All players associated with the Comrades Football Team are requested to turn out for the practice game tonight at the Exhibition Grounds at 6.15 p.m.

A very clever cartoon is at present being shown in Mr. Fred Suteliffe's Barber Shop window depicting the Caley's putting in strict training in many ways. Be sure and have a look!

The Canadian Woollens Team for to-morrow will be S. Caliadine, goal J. Cridland and A. Barton backs, J. Montgomery, H. Jackson and J. Hodson half backs, C. Thorpe, J. Roberts, J. Chambers, J. Happal and C Clark forwards. Reserves J. Jackson and McFadden, lineman W. Wetton.

Many football followers will regret to learn that Harry Norman of the Vets will not play to-morrow, as he is going out of the city on a vacation.

The winning number of the Canadian Woollens Drawing was No. 291 Mr. A. W. Butcher, who receives a suit length of cloth.

The architect remarked to a lady that he had been to see the great nave in the new church. The lady replied: "Don't mention any names; I know the man to whom you refer."

GUS HILL'S MINSTRELS, GRAND OPERA HOUSE TO-MORROW, MATINEE AND NIGHT.

ARLIE MARKS HERE FOR EXHIBITION

COMPANY INCLUDES SEVERAL WELL KNOWN STARS

One of the sensations of the age, is Madam SALONA, who is the special added attraction with the Arlie Marks Stock Co., who open a 3 nights' engagement at the Grand Opera House on Monday next, Sept. 20th.

Madam SALONA has the wonderful gift of being able to solve practically any problem that you may wish to put in her way, and answer all questions correctly. If you have lost anything, if you want to know the whereabouts of anyone near and dear to you, if in doubt, ask SALONA. There has not been anything more wonderful than the performance given by this little lady for many a long day, and she has been the talk of every city in which she has appeared since coming to this country. In addition to this special feature with the Arlie Marks, Co., there are 5 other high class vaudeville acts, which, together with an extra capable acting company supporting the popular little Canadian comedienne, in a really first-class production of the well-known dramatic success, "Where the River Shannon Flows," which is the opening play of the 3-night engagement. All lovers of the popular priced amusements have a treat in store for the finishing touches of Peterborough's big Exhibition.

SHIRLEY MASON A HIT IN LATEST PICTURE

"Molly and I," as presented last night at the Regent Theatre by William Fox, is one of the best productions shown in this city during the present season. Miss Shirley Mason, one of the newest of Fox stars, scored heavily as the delightful and at all times interesting heroine of Frank R. Adams' story. There never was a moment in the entire production that Miss Mason was not in complete control of the situation, and her acting was a delight to the eye. She never has been more fortunately cast, and it will be a rather difficult task to duplicate the hit she made with the audience last night.

Albert Roscoe, her leading man, did much with a rather thankless hero. The rest of the cast, taking the cue from the star, extended themselves to the utmost. The direction by H. M. Mitchell was very fine. "Molly and I" is a delightful photoplay and Miss Shirley Mason a most charming and finished artist.

Oil exploration is being actively carried on in the Peace River country and elsewhere in the far north. The Quebec Government is to expend $5,000,000 on settlement and colonization expansion.

"GRUMPY"

The management of the Grand Opera House takes very much pleasure in announcing the coming to-night of Mr. Cyril Maude's celebrated London and New York success, entitled "Grumpy," with genuine English players—a strictly London company.

Those who follow theatricals will recall that "Grumpy" was one of the biggest successes ever presented not only in London but in New York, where it played for over a year at "Wallacks Theatre." In the Company presenting the play here several of the original cast will be seen. The title role is that of an old criminal lawyer nick-named "Grumpy" by his adoring grand-daughter because of his octogenarian querulousness. He is retired from practice and when under his roof a valuable diamond has been stolen the old man takes a flare at Sherlock-holming and does not rest until he has discovered the thief.

Edward Lewers, for thirteen years director and leading man with Robert B. Mantell's company will play the part of "Grumpy," supported by a cast of nine other prominent English stars. At the Grand for one performance only, to-night.

IF THE WEATHER MAN SMILES EXHIBITION BEGINS A NEW ERA

ENLARGED TO A FOUR-DAY FAIR THIS YEAR, WITH NEW BUILDINGS AND GREAT VARIETY OF ATTRACTIONS AND BIG PRIZE LIST, IT WILL BREAK AWAY FROM OLD STANDARDS.

All the hopes, the expectations and the assurances of the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition are rounded with a little apprehensive "if." A year's plans are set for a splendid success. Everything that time and thought and work could furnish, within local limitations, together with the counsel of experience and dthe fruits of previous efforts, has entered into the preparations for next week's four-day fair. The only uncertain factor is the weather, and it is so essential that if some prescient forecaster can guarantee September's hazy sunshine for the exhibition he should impart his comforting information to President Denne and his anxious assistants before they are worn by worry and consequent loss of appetite to the appearance of hunger-strikers.

The promises of record-breaking entries in practically every department were never more encouraging. Prize lists have been mailed by request more widely than ever and the local applications have been more numerous. There have been so many contracts for concessions already that the special committee has mapped out the grounds on new and broader lines. And as to the attendance, the directors haven't any doubt about the interest of the citizens and of the people of the Trent towns and rural districts.

All Space Taken.

All the space in the new manufacturers' building has been taken, and more could have been let had it been available. The merchants have likewise crowded the old exhibits building, or rather thay will occupy its every corner and an annex tent besides.

Some of the settings for displays are already under construction, and on every hand the interest and activities of exhibitors almost a week before the openin gday has more than delighted the directors. The workers of six churches have applied for dining-room concessions, which have been allotted opposite the Manufacturers' Building.

New Poultry Building.

The new permanent accommodation includes the poultry building, which is being fitted with new coops. The directors of this department feel that their efforts to meet the needs of the poultry exhibitors will be rewarded with a show of fowl equal to that of any Fair in the country, with the exception, of course, of Toronto Exhibition.

Running Races.

There will be two trotting races on each of the three main days, with purses amounting to $1,50.00. The directors have also arranged for running races on Wednesday and Thursday afternoon by the thorough-bred horses owned by Mrs. Livingstone and Mr. McIntosh, of Cobourg.

On Wednesd yaafternoon at two o'cloc kthe school children sing in front o fthe Manufacturers' Building, and interspersed with the vaudeville attractions in front o fthe grand stand will be drills and dances by Miss Price's class of the Y.W.C.A.

Remember the Parade.

The citizens are specially reminded of the industrial parade on Tuesday afternoon. It will include decorated automobiles an dfloats, and will start from Central Park at one o'clock, headed by the G.W.V.A. Band and the Hon Manning Doherty, who will formally open the Exhibition.

Last year's parade, with its symbolic floats, was surprisingly good, and there were many requests that it be held daily, but from all accounts this year's will be even more imposing. The main part of the parade will circle the race track and pass the grand stand.

A Carnival Show.

The midway will be extended by the Maple Leaf Attractions and Superior Shows, Limited, which will be located between George and Lock Street gates, on the north side of the grounds. These shows are similar to the summer carnival attractions thta came and went with the holiday months.

About the Grounds.

In laying out the grounds this year the directors have given thought to the comfort of the public, and with that view have restricted the concession district west of the George Street entrance toward the grand stand, and also opposite the secretary's office.

When the directors reflect upon their plans for this year's Exhibition, of which the above arrangements are mentioned as samples of the four day's fare, and begin to count the expected thousands, it is then that the marring possibilities of unfavourable weather intrude, trailing behind that little "if."

IN MEMORIAM.

DIXON—In proud and loving memory of Herbert Chesterfield Dixon, observer of the 60th Battery, 14th Brigade, second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Dixon, Peterborough, killed in action near Arras, France, September 17th, 1918, and buried in Wancourt Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.

COCKS—In loving memory of Eleanor Cocks, who passed away September 17th, 1919.

One year has passed since that sad day
God called the one we loved away.
Forget her, no; we never will,
For in our hearts she liveth still.

The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought her death so near,
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.

FINED $12,000 FOR PROFITEERING

CLOTHIER PLEADS GUILTY TO THE CHARGES LAID BY SPECIAL INVESTIGATORS

BUFFALO, Sept. 18.—After entering a plea of guilty on ten counts of profiteering in men's clothing, the Sultzbach Clothing Company, operating the store known as "Georges," in Elliott Square, was fined $12,000 in federal court by Judge John R. Hazel. The indictment, on more than sixty counts, was found against the company, following a campign by a special flyying squadron of investigators sent here by the department of justice.

George F. Sultzbach of New York, president of the company, was in court and entered the plea. In an interview he said:

"If we keep on as we have been the lawyers will have the store and everything else.

In pronouncing judgment, Judge Hazel said he felt justified in bestowing a wholesome punishment, saying he felt that the firm "had been greedily and avariciously taking excess charges from the public."

The plea of guilty was entered for ten counts. In presentin gthe case, Mr. Sherman said he was willing to dismiss the other counts on that plea, as he considered these ten the strongest the government had, being all based on recent purchases, and that many others were duplications as regarded articles and prices.

The maximum penalty provided for by-law is a fine of $5,000 on each count, making a possible fine in this case of $50,000.

THE FAIR SONGSTERS DAVE JORDAN'S WORRY

When Webber Turner slipped a little paragraph into the publicity corner of the front page announcing the engagement of 25 soloists who would sing daily in the Flower Tent at the Exhibition, he brought the Directors of that department buzzing around him with remonstrations and threats to put up the stakes. It was agreed of course that there was true and perfect concord between flowers and music and that the lovers of Nature's beauties had also deep appreciation for musical art. But it was pointed out that fragile flowers fenced off only by rope protection should not be submitted to the buffeting of a crowd that wanted to get up into the bald headed row. Dave Jordan, chairman of the Flower Committee, had a particul...ly bad session at the grounds yesterday with Tommy Hooper, who it seems took a particular delight in magnifying the expected crowds to hear the songsters and suggesting that the chairman of the Flower Show would be so allured by the visitors that all thoughts of plants and blooms would be shut out. Mr. Jordan evidently wasn't influenced or persuaded by that approach and was almost threatening to wash his hands of the whole show and especially of dunderheads that would spend good money bringing Toronto singers to the Flower tent, as if there wasn't a grand stand and 30 acres, not to mention a brand new building for the Chickens. No, they had to choose the Flower Tent with the certain result that the flowers would be ruined.

Equivocation often cloaks a jest and after President Denne and Vice-President Turner had declared that the disposal of the singers rested in Mr. Hooper's hands, and after further talk of putting up the stage in the centre of the Flower Tent, or at this end or that, Dave Jordan was in despair, and was only prevented from some drastic action, such as resigning, by the information that the songsters were canaries which would be distibuted about the Flower Tent, and would sing every day.

When the chairman recovered from the relief and humour of this pleasantry he begged Mr. Hooper not to tell his brother Sam Jordan, evidently with the intention of stringing Sam along after the unsmiling manner of the heartless Hooper.

Most men will tell you that a good name is better than riches—but they keep right on hustling.

GERMANS STICK TO THEIR RIFLES

By John Graudenz—United Press Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—Entente authorities here doubt whether they will collect more than a million weapons from German citizens under the disarmament agreement made at the recent Spa conference. This in spite of the fact they estimate there are two million rifles and revolvers in the hands of citizens and another million in possession of speculators, many of whom are known to be connected with the army organization.

Fears of the entente officials that the delivery will be small is being substantiated through sabotage methods applied to the new disarmament law. For instance, the Reichstag Control Committee emasculated the provision for the oath concerning the amounts and depots of weapons. This the commissioner had considered his biggest club in forcing the country to disgorge.

Certain kriegerverein, or warriors' societies, recently were reported to have exchanged modern models for old guns. Furthermore, power is left to the commissioner to decide whether societies such as citizens' guards must deliver weapons or only announce their possession, although they have already been dissolved.

The Peterboro' Fair Promises To Create Record For Exhibits

THE MIDWAY ATTRACTION WILL BE THE BEST IN YEARS—THE LIGHTING EFFECTS.

GROUNDS IMPROVED

All that is required to make this year's exhibition an unprecedented success is good weather. Everything points to the biggest and best fair that not only Peterborough but the district between Toronto and Ottawa has ever seen.

The lighting will surpass that of any Ontario fair outside of the Canadian National Exhbition at Toronto. Thousands of electric bulbs will illuminate the grounds and buildings and even the stables. A monster waving flag studded with 500 lights will float from the roof of the Manufacturers' Building. This flag was used at the Toronto Exhibition.

The mid-way will be of a particularly high grade. The combined Maple Leaf and Superior Shows, a carnival par excellence, will be chief feature of the midway.

Nine vaudeville acts, obtained from Chicago, will be presented in front of the grandstand.

Applications for space for exhibits have literally swamped the directors.

The prize list has been augmented and Secretary F. J. A. Hall said today that the entries to date was nearly 30 per cent. greater than last year.

The parade on Tuesday at 1 o'clock will be one of the largest ever seen here. It will start from Central Park and will be headed by the G.W.V.A. Band.

More than $20,000 has been expended on buildings alone this year by the Exhibition Board and the grou...s have been entirely improved.

Every effort has been put forth to provide a fair that will be a credit to the city and that in future years will attract visitors from all of Central Ontario. The Exhibition is one of best advertisements Peterborough can receive and the Board, realizing this, has done all in its power to make the Exhibition a big drawing card.

OFFICE GIRLS ARE COMING OUT HERE

BIG DEMAND FOR LUMBER JACKS AT LOCAL LABOUR BUREAU

The call from the northern woods for lumberjacks continues unabated and for every man sent there are jobs for ten more, Mr. H. Robertson in charge of the local Labour Bureau told the Examiner this morning. There were 41 applicants of which 21 were placed locally and 11 shipped to other points, the majority to the lumber camps. There is a demand for men of the building trades and for unskilled labour in Western Ontario.

There was little activity in the female department this week. Mr. Robertson has received word that there are a number of old country office girls coming to Peterboro soon. One of them at least is well versed in Spanish and French and is coming to Peterboro because of friends here In view of her knowledge of foreign languages it would appear that a better future would be found in a larger centre. The girls are now on the Atlantic.

There is little call made on them for office help stated Mr. Robertson and there does not appear to be many position open.

SEARCHING FOR GOLDBERG SLAYER

POLICE HAVE NAMED THE MAN SUSPECTED OF TORONTO MURDER

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Sept. 18.— Police detectives of Canada and the United States have to-day been circularized to be on the look-out for one Fred L. David, who was last night indicted by a coroner's jury here of one of the most fiendishly strange murders in criminal records of this city. The jury decided that Philip Goldberg, aged 12, was cruelly killed by Davis, who had purchased liquor illegally sold at the home of the child's parents.

MONEY RATES SHOW A MUCH EASIER TONE

IMPROVED MARKET CONDITION THIS WEEK — BROADER BUYING MOVEMENT

(Canadian Press).

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The Maine election, a premium of 2 3-4 per cent. on the new French Government loan and easier tone of time and call money rates, were the propelling forces of this week's more active and generally higher Stock Market. Oils and Rails were the strongest issues, but Shippings, Steels, Equipments and kindred issues were variably better. Later, broader buying movement embraced such specialties as Sugars, Tobaccos and Textiles. For the first time in several weeks, loans extending into 1921 were made at 8 per cent. on all rail collatteral, while loans on mixed collatteral for two and three months eased to 8½ per cent. The transfer of large sums of cash for Federal taxes and Liberty Bond interest effected no disturbance to the market for demand loans, the maximum rate being 7 per cent., with large offerings down to 6 per cent. Moderate recovering of foreign exchange was concurrent.

With less tense industrial conditions in England and Italy, together with diminished offerings of grain and cotton bills, good imports from London and Paris continued, the latter representing the French contribution to the settlement of the Anglo-French loan.

DRAWING CONTEST ATTRACTS MANY

BIG MUSICAL COMEDY COMING TO THE GRAND

Those mischievous fellows the "Katzenjammer Kids," Hans and Fritz, whose funny antics in the comic section of the Sunday newspapers have made millions laugh, have been made the central figures in a hilarious cartoon musical comedy, in which they are surrounded by all the other characters of the cartoons and a big chorus of beautiful girls.

There is singing, dancing and fun galore in the stage version of the "Katzenjammer Kids." When it is placed on view at the Grand Opera House for matinee and night next Thursday the theatre-going public are going to see what has been called the world's greatest fun show.

The musical comedy, made from the original "Katzenjammer Kids" cartoons was constructed for entertainment only. The hilariously funny situations in which Hans and Fritz involve Ma Katzenjammer, Der Captain and the other characters cause no end of merriment and when the audience is not enjoying a good laugh they are listening to the tuneful musical numbers or watching a pretty dance.

Particular care has been taken with the staging and costuming of the "Katzenjammer Kids." The fashion plate chorus is gowned in various fetching and stunning gowns, all of which match harmoniously with the beautiful stage pictures and novel electrical effects.

The original "Katzenjammer Kids" cartoon musical comedy is an entertainment for the kiddies and grown-ups. Its fun is clean and wholesome and there are so many good things in the performance that it is bound to please everyone. It is produced under the direction of George M. Gatts.

The drawing contest is attracting a lot of attention in Peterborough and a large number of entries have been recorded.

MALICIOUS RUMOUR IN PETERBORO'

A mischievous rumour is circulating around town, totally unsupported by facts, and for which there is no foundation whatever. It is to the effect that a lady inspector, after visiting local stores and being shown, on authorized demand, the wholesale price invoice of goods she has purchased, finds proof thereby that exorbitant profiteering prevails in Peterborough. This story is a flagrant fabrication, a malicious slander of reputable business men, and should be treated as such by the public generally. Its origin is unknown, but whoever the responsible party, or parties, may be they should take warning that any unwarranted action calculated to injure business interests cannot be resorted to with impunity. Such unjustifiable statements of this nature constitute defamatory liable, for which the law provides a penalty. Let it be understood that there is no such person as a lady inspector, for the Board of Commerce or any other Government department, in town; consequently this damaging profiteering story is either an attempt to wilfully malign our merchants or results from an hallucination on the part of some person.

Preparations Being Made For the Return Of Fischer to States

FRIENDS ARE TRYING TO HAVE HIM RUSHED INTO AN ONTARIO ASYLUM—UNITED STATES SPECIAL AGENTS ON SCENE.

TO BE DEPORTED

(United Press).

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 18.—Notwithstanding preparations by his attorneys and local friends, some of the best legal authorities here declared today that Edward P. Fischer, arrested here yesterday noon on insanity charges, laid by his brother-in-law, Robert A. Pope, will be speedily deported as an undesirable alien.

Fischer, who sent warning notices of the New York explosion to friends in various parts of the United States and Canada, after his arrest, was examined as to his mental condition by local physicians and declared insane. He is held in Barton Street Jail, pending deportation or committment to the local asylum.

The brother-in-law, Pope, will make every effort to have Fischer placed in the Ontario Hospital for Insane at once. Fischer, who was formerly employed by the French High Commission in New York to dispose of war materials, is a citizen of the United States, and if insane, the Canadian statutes provide for deportation.

Refused Admission.

Vincent Paul Creighton and William L. Buchanan, special agents from Buffalo, representing the Department of Justice, and Charles Arlen, an operative of W. J. Burns' Detective Agency, and representing the Morgan interests, arrived here last night. They were refused admission to the jail for an interview with Fischer. Governor Ogilvie's instructions were to turn Fischer over to nobody but the asylum authorities.

The United States officials here are anxious to take Fischer, who is suspected of having knowledge of the perpetrators of the Wall Street outrage, back to face a grand jury investigation in New York.

It was intimated this morning that Washington has already taken the matter of Fischer's extradition or deportation up with the Ottawa authorities. The New York agents here seem very confident that Fischer will return with them.

Message Received.

The following message was received here last night from the New York Police Department:

"Information received here that E. P. Fischer is in jail in Hamilton. If correct, hold him, pending an investigation into explosion here Sept. 16th."

The only charge made against Fischer to date is that of insanity, but after consultation with Magistrate Jelfs and Acting Chief of Police Coulter, it was decided to hold Fischer in jail, instead of sending him to the local asylum, pending action by the New York authorities.

A QUERY FROM MR. J. H. BURNHAM

Mr. J. H. Burnham replies to Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown's answer to the Lambeth Conference regarding Church union, that union should be made the subject of a plebiscite at the same time as prohibition.

If Church disunion is as extremely injurious to the greatest of all causes as alleged, why not prohibit it?

TRAVELLERS TAKE MEDICINE KINDLY

DO NOT BLAME TICKET AGENTS FOR INCREASED FARES

The C. N. R. has experienced no great confusion over the changes in passenger and freight rates this week. The ticket seller revised his entire list of ticket rates, and when he opened the wicket Monday morning he was prepared for the long list of Monday morning travellers with the new rates.

The public have taken both the passenger and freight rates' increase, if not good-naturedly, with a show of good grace, stated Mr. A. MacNab, local agent of the C. N. R., this morning. "They know there is no use complaining to us. The Government are the people responsible for it."

GROWN-OVER CULVERTS ARE DANGEROUS

ONE REPORTED ON THE ROAD LEADING INTO LAKEFIELD

Recent motor accidents in the city have made drivers of motor cars more or less observant of the road they travel, but with all the care a driver can take, there are times when it is of no avail. Culverts grown over with grass are very dangerous for night driving, and a Peterborough motorist has reported a case of this kind on the road between Phelan's Corners and the Canal going into Lakefield, where a car was overturned a few nights ago, but without much damage. It is felt all that is necessary is to draw the attention of the municipality or county to the fact and the dangerous spot will be made safe.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—Arab forces have been defeated near Damascus by a French column, under Col. Follett, according to a Beirut despatch. Arabs lost two hundred killed and the French captured a number of cannon and machine guns. Since this fight, Gen. Gouraud, French High Commissioner in Syria, has received a number of requests for an armistice from Arab leaders.

COMMENT ON TRAGEDY IN WALL STREET

LONDON DAILY MAIL CLASSES THOSE RESPONSIBLE AS ROBBERS AND MURDERERS

(United Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 18.—The Reds undoubtedly planned the New York exposion, the Daily Mail said in an editorial to-day. It is said those responsible for the disaster must be classed as robbers and murderers, not political offenders. The Mail advised American officials to seize Bolshevist funds as one means of preventing a recurrence of the tragedy.

The Telegraph pronounced those responsible for the disaster "crazed enemies of society, fighting capitalists."

(Canadian Press.)

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 18.—Search was started here to-day for man whom Federal Officials were told had predicted New York explosion of Thursday. Man it was said in arguing with several others about principles nd practices of the I.W.W. last Monday said, "Something will bust, in the east this week that will open your eyes."

SPREAD DRAG NET.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Convinced that the explosion which snuffed out the lives of thirty-five persons and injured nearly three hundred others in Wall street Thursday was deliberately planned by radicals, officials of the Department of Justice, headed by Attorney General Palmer himself, today spread a drag net over the country in efforts to trap its originators. There were still about fifteen injured being cared for in the hospital to-day. Many of whom are still in serious condition. Scores of those who will recover will be maimed for life, it was said. Officials attach relatively little importance to definition of Edward P. Fischer at Hamilton, Ont., but he will be thoroughly examined.

Wiliam J. Flynn, head of the bureau of investigations of the Department of JJustice, was the cihef spokesman for the opinion that the catastrophe was caused by radicals. He based his opinion on finding radical literature in post office boxes near the scene of the tragedy soon after it occurred.

THE LORD MAYOR IS STILL LIVING.

LONDON, Sept. 18. — The Lord Mayor of Cork passed a very bad night without any sleep, and this morning was in a state of complete exhaustion, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League. British and Americans Decline to Act in Their Relief.

(Canadian Press.)

SHANGHAI, Sept.18.— Both British and American Chambers of Commerce in Shanghai have declined to take action that might relieve the plight of Chinese importers, said to be facing losses estimated at more than $100,000,000 due to swift fluctuations of the rates of money exchange.

In an appeal addressed to the two foreign commercial bodies the Chinese explained that the fall of the price of silver in recent month had brought many of them face to face with bankruptcy. Piece goods dealers in particular asked for extensions of contracts made prior to 1st January last, and to have cancelled contracts which were made subsequent to 1st January. They asked for the co-operation of the British and American Chambers of Commerce.

Both foreign bodies hald that they could not "associate themselves with any movement that threatens the sanctity of the written contract."

ENGINEERS ARE MEETING WITHIN SOUND OF FALLS

ILLUSTRATED TALK ON WELLAND SHIP CANAL BY A. J. GRANT, IN CHARGE OF WORK

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. Sept. 17.—In full view of the spectacular Falls of Niagara and within sound of its mighty voice the Enginering Institute of Canada opened its seventh general professional meeting in the Clifton Hotel yesterday. There was something strikingly symbolical in the setting. On the one hand was the greatest water power in the world, and on the other was a gathering of representative men whose inventive genius and executive skill have hitched the headlong current to the wheels of enterprise and are radiating light, heat and powre over the rolling heat and power over the rolling ages beyond the wild waters of Lake Ontario.

Welland Ship Canal Described.

The first item on the program was an illustrated talk by Alex J. Grant, M.E.I.C., formerly of Peterborough, engineer in charge of the Welland ship canal, who gave a brief review of the history of the Welland ship canal. He said it was started in 1913, and the work continued until the year 1916, when it had to be suspended owing to the war. The original estimate of its cost was $50,000,000, and of this amount $20,000,000 had already ben spent, although not half of the work had been done. For construction purposes the canal was divided into nine sections; on seven of these sections enormous excavations have been made, and the walls of the gigantic locks have been partly built on six of them, but there are by no means near completion.

Second Only to Panama Canal.

In the afternoon a party of about 200 engineers went on a trip of inspection along the canal. The people of Ontario do not realize the vastness and the importance of this undertaking, upon which they have already spent $20,000,000. This linking up of Lake Ontario with Lake Erie across 25 miles of country with a waterway large enough for the biggest ocean liners is a feat of engineering second only to that of the Panama Canal.

Causes of Delay.

The holding up of this enterprise is not due to any failure of engineering. The work was restarted in the early part of last year, but strike after strike occurred, with the inevitable result that the whole undertaking was closed down. A new start was made in July last, and while there has so far been no labor trouble there has been a serious shortage of cement, and the concert work has been prctically at a standstill for the last ten days.

Why Cement is Slipped Away.

It is a peculiar position for the Dominion Governmbent to be in not to be able to get cement for its own public works, said one of the delegates.

It appears that the Canadian Cement Co. at Port Colborne is shipping large quanti ies of cement daily into the United States. It is stated that the reason for neglecting Canadian needs is that they can get a longer price in the States and are pail in New York funds.

A Large Attendance.

Two hundred were present when the convention opened, and delegates and their wives have been arriving by every train and by motor. A record attendance is expected. At 11.15 the professional session opened with H. B. R. Craig, M. E., I.C., Chairman of the Toronto Provincial Division, as chairman. An excellent illustrated address was given on the St. Lawrence route and the Welland ship canal, by Alexander J. Grant, M.E., I. C., engineer in charge of the Welland ship canal.

HUMANE WORKERS OF U.S. TO MEET IN CONVENTION.

(Canadian Press).

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 18.—Humane workers of the nation will gather here next month for the 44th annual convention of the American Humane Association.

Among those announced as coming to the convention are Senator Peter G. Gerry, of Rhode Island, whose father practically founded child protection work in the United States, which in turn has been a model for the rest of the world; Mrs. Anita Baldwin, of California, daughter of "Lucky" Baldwin; and Ernest K. Coulter, general manager of the New York Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Children, the first of its kind and the largest child protection society in the world. Mr. Coulter was also founder of the Big Brother movement, according to the announcement.

DOCTOR FINED FOR LIQUOR INFRACTION

HALIFAX PHYSICIAN CONVICTED FOR ISSUING EXCESS PRESCRIPTIONS.

HALIFAX, Sept. 17.—Dr. J. R. Warren was convicted of violating the Nova Scotia Temperance Act, by issuing a greater number of certificates for intoxicating liquors than he was allowed, and fined $400.00 and $7.50 costs or thirty days in the city prison, by Stipendiary Magistrate O'Hearn in the Police Court here. The magistrate did not give his reason for convicting the accused. Counsel intimated that habeas corpus proceedings would be taken before a Supreme Court judge.

Dr. Warren was arrested some weeks ago for issuing over seventy-five prescriptions a month, and the case has aroused considerable interest in the city. He was allowed to issue 75 certificates for intoxicating liquors a month by the inspector in chief and he greatly exceeded the number.

URGE A REVISION OF 8 HOUR LAW

SWEDISH COMMITTEE REPORTS AGAINST ITS CONTINUANCE GENERALLY

(Canadan Press.)

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 18.— A government committee which has investigated the operation of the eight-hour law enacted by the Liberal-Socialist Eden government has just recommended that the law be suspended and revised. It advocates that the length of the working day should be made dependent upon a mutual agreement betwen employers and employes, and that some provision be made for longer working hours under certain circumstances.

The committee was unanimous in finding that the expectation that the measure would encourage industry on the part of the workers has not been realized. It reports that in no single line of work have the employes shown any greater efficiency or energy, that there has been a considerable decline in production. It says that several big plants are on the verge of closing down because they can not be made to earn profits owing to heavy charges for increased housing facilities for workers, higher payrolls and the high cost of machinery.

The committee's investigation covered a period of eight months. Under the law heavy fines on employers were authorized for infringement, and councils of employers, employes and government representatives were established to consider any departure from the eight hour working day established under the law.

When the measure was introduced, Hjalmur Branting, the Socialist leader, and labor leaders declared it would not reduce production.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

SATURDAY, SEPT. 17TH, 1920.

A WEEK'S FAIR.

The co-operation of every citizen of Peterborough and district is urged to make the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition next week the banner fair in the history of the big annual event. For the first time the experiment of a four-day exhibition is being tried, and if the test shows as satisfactory results as the board confidently expect, a week's fair for Peterborough is not far away. An exhibition lasting a week would draw thousands of visitors each day and would attract concessionaires and exhibitors from all over the country, proving itself a magnificent asset for the city.

The Fair Board recognise these facts, and have long entertained visions of a week's fair. Their ambition is not far from realisation, and if the citizens get in behind the Exhibition next week with vim and enthusiasm, everybody working for the success of the event, Peterborough will soon be advertised by a huge exhibition lasting for a complete week. It is an ideal that has long been cherished; the people can make it a reality if they help to put next week's Exhibition "over the top."

THE EXHIBITION.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition will be in full swing next week, with Monday as preparation day and the formal opening on Tuesday, with Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, to press the button. Two things are needed to ensure a record-breaking success—good weather and the co-operation of the public. It is for the latter that The Examiner wishes to appeal to-day.

Nothing has been left undone by the management that would help in making the Exhibition the biggest in the history of the annual event. Since the last set piece of fireworks faded out in a shower of sparks on the closing night last year, the directors have been planning and working for the 1920 Exhibition. Progress beyond their most optimistic hopes has been made—new buildings have been added, great improvements have been carried out, the prize-lists have been enlarged, the amusement features expanded: Nothing has been neglected. The ultimate success or failure of the enterprise, therefore, depends upon the public. Every man, woman, and child in Peterborough district should—if at all possible—attend the Exhibition, and the city people, who are so close to the grounds, should pay more than one visit, for there will be too much to be viewed to be thoroughly appreciated in one inspection.

Never has the outlook been so bright, and if the people do their part by giving the management the support and encouragement their efforts deserve, by this time next week The Examiner will be able to announce that the Peterborough Exhibition has passed every record in its history.

IMMIGRATION.

Hon. Manning Doherty, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, who opens the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition next week, has some very sound views on immigration which he has been putting before the people in his recent utterances. The Minister of Agriculture realizes the desirability of as far as possible securing British immigrants for work on the farms of Ontario and is confident that there will be a rush of newcomers of the right type within the next eight or nine months. "Next spring," declared Hon. Mr. Doherty at London the other day, "will see the greatest immigration of high-class farm help in Ontario that this province has ever known." That is good news— the farms are crying out for men and the province wants men of British birth if at all possible. But as the Minister pointed out, there is one angle to the question that must be considered. Many of the immigrants who are coming to Canada are married and on the majority of Ontario farms there is no accommodation for such people. They must have homes and nowadays there are few Ontario farmers who have houses for their hired men. The question of how they are to be provided should make an interesting topic for discussion at meetings of the farmers' clubs during the coming winter. It is primarily in the interests of the farmers that everything that will lead to a steady supply of farm help should be done. Hon. Mr. Doherty is quite correct in his opinion that the furnishing of homes for the married immigrants who want to work on the land is one of the most important factors in the question. The finding of a practicable way of dealing with the problem is a work that should engage the attention of Provincial and Federal authorities.

CANADA'S PENSIONS.

The new scale of pensions for Canada's soldiers, which came into force this month, should, if properly administered, result in the disabled soldiers and the dependents of those who were killed during the war being able to meet the battle of life with much greater confidence than has been the case. The system, of course, is far from perfect yet, and there will be individual cases of hardship that must be taken care of; yet on the whole the new rates should bring satisfactory results. The Canadian people want to know that the homes which lost their breadwinners are free from the fear of poverty and suffering, that the men who were disabled and maimed have an income sufficient for them to live comfortably and well.

The official figures show that Canada's pension list is a lengthy one. In the year 1919-1920 it is stated that there were 17,823 dependents and 69,203 disabled soldiers who were recipients of pensions. This involved the payment in that year of $10,841,169 to dependents and $14,335,118 to wounded soldiers — a total of over $25,000,000 for the fiscal year ending 31st March last. The estimate for the current fiscal year is $33,000,000, and altogether since the inception of the Board of Pensions Commissioners in September, 1916, $65,000,000 in pensions has been disbursed.

The figures are interesting as showing the extent to which Canada is looking after those who have suffered from the war. The officials should not be satisfied, however, until the many cases of apparent neglect or carelessness in dealing with disabled veterans have been thoroughly shifted. More is heard about the one man who is suffering from injustice than from the thousands who consider that they have been properly treated, and the complaints should be carefully dealt with.

LABOUR AND CURRENCY.

The Parliamentary Committee of the British Trades Union Congress and allied organisations has issued a report on the cost of living, which goes deeper into the matter than most who venture to deal with such a subject. The rise in prices, it is declared, is due more to currency expansion than to contraction of production. This is putting the case too strongly. In Great Britain the advance in prices has been greater than the forced inflation of the paper currency. The report, however, is right when it says the first step towards the establishment of better conditions is to deflate the currency, that is to bring the volume down, or raise the gold supply for redemption, to an amount that will ensure that the holder will receive a pound in gold—the standard in international trade—whenever he presents a pound note to the issuer. The estimate is made that were the paper circulation notes redeemable in gold on demand the prices of commodities would fall in Great Britain by about 20 per cent—one-fifth, a fairly considerable reduction. This estimate is in practical accord with those of the British Treasury presented in court when in London men were accused of obtaining gold from the Bank of England for the purpose of melting and selling it as bullion. It was, then declared that the gold content of a 20-shilling sovereign was worth "something like twenty-six shillings" in paper notes. The situation is not new. It is mild in Great Britain compared with other European countries, even with France, where sound views as to money are generally held. It is still milder in Canada, where a Government note promising to pay a dollar on demand in exchange transcations with the United States, which has the same monetary standard, and where there has been no inflation to effect redemption, is worth ninety cents or less. The economic rule that the cheaper money drives out the better, makes the paper note the standard for fixing values; and so more has to be given to secure an amount of goods or labour than would be the case if paper notes and gold were interchangeable. The United States went through the process after the Civil War during which the greenback Government notes fell in value, compared with gold, by almost one-half. It took fourteen years to bring them up to par. The process following was spend less than the revenue, and use the surplus to redeem debt. It is the process that will have to be followed in connection with the present world situation by countries careful o their credit. The others may solve the difficulty by repudiating their paper currency. The Labour Congress rightly put it that "the first step is to deal so as to reduce the volume of currency to an extent which will eliminate the depreciation in terms of gold." Such process will not restore pre-war prices for either merchandise or labour; and, so far as it operates, it will be slowly. It offers the only way of sure relief, however, and the sooner all the nations concerned act to start it, the better it will be.—Sarnia Observer.

REWARD OFFERED FOR BOY'S SLAYER

TORONTO, Sept. 18.—It is announced that the Ontario Government has authorized a réward of $500 for information that will lead to the recovery and apprehension of the slayer of 12-year-old Philip Goldberg, who was found with his throat cut near Sunnyside on Aug. 7.

It is understood that the police have in their possession the name of the man believed to be responsible for the lad's death. The murderer is understood to be in the United States.

A fellow-roomer of the fugitive put the police on the track of the man when he informed them that on the day of the murder the man had entered his room with bloody hands. He had gone to the sink to wash them, and in answer to enquiries stated that he had fallen and cut himself.

WILLIAMS
NEW SCALE

THE enduring Tone quality for which the Williams New Scale Piano is noted, is due to its flawless design and construction. We are proud of the fact also that the Williams is a true "Canadian-made" instrument which holds its own in comparison with any pianos produced in the world. Many great Artists give it unstinted praise. Discriminating people who purchased a Williams instrument many years ago affirm that its pure, resonant tone is as good today after years of use, as it was when purchased.

A STONEY LAKE FISH STORY

(By SAM HUNTER)

We seldom see him now, the Old Timer, till the close of the season. He comes over from some quiet, weed grown bay in the vicinity of Burleigh or Deer Bay, and his coming out is almost always coincident with the passing of the last pair of white ducks. His ancient dug-out seems then more in keeping with the deserted lakes. He gets the wash of no speed maniac in motor launch. His whiskers will not be the subject for ribald remarks by half-baked cut-ups from the cities. And a quiet half day's fishing for 'lunge or "green" bass can be had now without bejocked out of position by a fleet of tourist-hired fishing boats at all hours of the day. He has a few prejudices, has the old gentlemen, and one deep ingrowing hatred. The first of these relates to modern dress, more particularly that of "weemen," which he declares "undelicate" enough to have made old Adam blush if Eve had "gone round that way." The last he reserves for the blank dash "Willy Boy" guides who have invaded all of his old fishing spots to the utter ruin of old time fishing. When he paddled in this evening he had a nice twelve pound 'lunge and a brace of bass in the bottom of his boat. The larger fish he was particularly gratified at landing. Attached to its jaw when he brought it in was a new expensive spoon and about two feet of broken trolling line, in addition to his own. "Lost by one o' them goggled eyed 'toorists' that sits in chairs an' has them half portion guides pull 'em round, an' thinks its not sporty onless ye play a fish from forty minutes to an hour 'n a half. I played him zackly two minutes 'n by jing, I got both that sporty bird's fish 'an' foot spoon." "Gimme," he continued, holding up his own battered spoon and stout line, "gimme a conper spoon an' a strong properly dried line an' I'll land anythin' that swims in the Trent waters." We ventured the guess that he had landed some good ones too. "Yes," he said, "Old Danny Tooney kin tell ye all about that. The last I landed with that there line was right up onto Danny's own landin.' Landed high 'n dry 'an lo at the last minute by Danny's o n foolishness in seizin' th' line outa me hand an' tryin' t' unharness him"—"Trying to unharness?" we interrupted—"Let me tell ye," said the old man. "A year ago this last spring a Jew fella drove through the ice about half a mile from Danny's an' had a close squeak for his life. It was a one horse sleigh, an' th' horse was nothin' more 'n a crow bait. Mebby that's why they never made an effort to git the rig up in the spring. It must 'a been about fifteen months later that I was near the spot trollin' when I got th' shock of me life. I felt somethin' tug a big an' was commencin' to pull in, expectin' no more 'n weeds, when suddenly I let a yell for help an' started for the landin.' Behind me, an' follyn' up, like th' witches after poor old Tom O'Shanter, there was comin' a skelleton horse harnessed an' seemin'ly tryin' t' gallop an' swin at th' same time, an' pullin' a one horse sleigh with a high red dash board. I landed afore th' canoe with a lep that wet me to th' neck, but I was holdin' on to me old line. 'Let me have her,' yelled Danny, an' he grabbed th' line as it was almost pulled outa me hand. Th' next minute, he was runnin' up th' shore draggin' at the end of the line a skelleton horse an' one of the biggest 'lunge I ever saw in th' upper watters. It's head was fastened in th' collar alongside old Dobbin's an' it was kockin' ribs an' thigh bones an' sections of spine outa that team mate of his at every jump an' slap of th' tail. I got hit in th' eye with a section of spinal colum' an' when I could see again Danny was holdin' th' horse collar in a ruin of horse bones, but th' was no fish. Danny had pulled th' collar off that there 'lunge without slippin', a halter onta him, an' he had flopped back inta th' lake again." S.H.

RECOMMENDS TWELVE MILE SPEED LIMIT

Chief King of Barrie, in submitting his report for July and August, of the last meeting of the Barrie Council, suggests that the speed limit be twelve miles per hour. The report says in part: "Two constables have been put on the streets for the purpose of checking the speed fiends and infractions of the Motor Vehicles Act. A number of convictions have been recorded with more to follow, with apparently good results. In this connection may I suggest that boards be placed at the limits of the town ordering the speed to be reduced to, say, 12 miles an hour. This is greater speed than the law actually allows having respect to street intersections."—Barrie Examiner.

Blackheads are a confession

Blackheads are caused by excessive oil collecting dirt in the pores of the skin. Their presence is a confession that you are using the wrong method of cleansing for your type of skin.

To cleanse thoroughly skins liable to this disfiguring trouble, use the following special treatment. Apply hot cloths to the face until the skin is reddened. Then with a rough washcloth work up a heavy lather of Woodbury's Facial Soap and rub it into the pores thoroughly, always with an upward and outward motion. Rinse with clear hot water, then with cold—the colder the better. If possible, rub your face for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Dry carefully.

To remove blackheads already formed, substitute a flesh brush for the washcloth in the treatment above. Then protect the fingers with a handkerchief and press out the blackheads.

Keep your skin free of blackheads by the above treatment and gain the clear attractive skin that the regular use of Woodbury's brings.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

TO DISCOVER THE WEAK SPOTS IN SOVIETISM

ALL-RUSSIAN CENSUS ORDERED WITH THIS END IN VIEW

(Soviet Official Wireless).

MOSCOW, Sept. 18.—Wireless instructions "to all political sections" have gone forth from the Bolshevik Central Committee here that an all-Russian census is to be taken, which, it is explained, "is essential with a view to discovering the weak places in the Soviet social fabric and to relieving each other's want and disorganization."

"As in private property," the circular adds, "so in the property of the whole state, each individual part depends on the other parts."

"Latterly," the decree proceeds, "the town populations have moved in large numbers to the country. Regarding the workers, tradesmen and specialists, we do not know how many there are, nor where they are It is essential to discover and reckon up this working force. When this is done, there will be a possibility of correctly distributing them."

It is further explained that a census of children is necessary in order to know how many schools, kindergartens and creches should be opened. The illiterate must be registered in order to know where there are many, and to send teachers there. Old, crippled and otherwise disabled people must be registered so as to know how they may be assisted, and how to provide for them.

Agricultural returns must be made so as to know the number of people working on the land; whether they are provided for, what they are cultivating and where there are waste and uncultivated lands. It will then be clear where help must be sent, what seeds and machinery must be ordered from abroad, how much cattle is necessary, etc., and the same applies to factories, mines and all industrial plants. The point is to discover the weak spots, and how they may be healed, says the circular.

DECLARES MOREN DRESS AND DANCE IMMODEST

Canadian Press.

SAN JUAN, September 17. — The present styles of dress and the newer dances are severely criticized as immodest and degrading by the Rt. Rev. William A. Jones, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Porto Rico, who has issued a warning to both priests and parishioners against their demoralizing influences.

Certain of the modern dances are a "mockery to shame and in reality are nothing more than a bait to sensuality," in the opinion of the Bishop, while the style of the day in women's dresses, he warns, should not be used to "exhibit nakedness."

Priests are advised that they may not organize dances for church benefits, according to instructions from the Pope, while they may not attend festibvals organized by lay members of their congregations where dancing is indulged in.

The Bishop gives his views on dress and dancing in an ecclesiastical letter addre ses to both priests and the members of the church in his diocese and published in the official church bulletin.

Good Milk Properly Pasteurized is the Ideal

The great importance of milk in the diet is becoming more and more appreciated during the past few years.

Notwithstanding the special dangers to be feared from infected milk, its use in far greater ways and quantities is to be highly recommended.

Fortunately, the Peterborough Milk Products Creamery have a simple method of treatment of milk which renders it perfectly SAFE.

This is the process of PASTEURIZATION, which consists of heating at about 145 degrees Fahenheit for 30 minutes. MILK HEATED IN THIS MANNER WILL NEVER TRANSMIT DISEASE.

As a public measure, it pays to use Pasteurized Milk, because it makes all milk SAFE.

TO-DAY'S MARKET WAS REPETITION OF THE ONE LAST SATURDAY

APPLES AND TOMATOES WERE PLENTIFUL—EGGS SIXTY CENTS A DOZEN

To-day's market was a repetition of last Saturday's in size, and prices were about the same. There were fruits and vegetables everywhere you turned, and it would seem that all the tomato vines of the county had been stripped and the smooth red fruit shot into Peterborough, all the apple trees robbed of their burdens of apples and all the farmers of the county had brought them into market. The market was very well attended, and the farmers' produce was disposed of readily. Upstairs there was a fair market.

The Prices.

Tomatoes sold at 40 and 50 cents a basket; 50c delivered, asked one farmer. Ordinary red ones sold for 40c at one car, but the gardener asked the half dollar for pink ones. By the bushel they were $1. Tiny yellow tomatoes sold for 15c a quart, or two for 25 cents. Potatoes sold at $1.50 a bag, or by the peck 30c. There were not many bags on the whole market. Evidently the farmers have not had time to dig the tubers yet. A bushel cost as much as a bushel of tomatoes—$1.

Corn Plentiful.

Corn of all varieties was plentiful at 10c a dozen, but housewives cast a wary eye on all that went into their baskets, and stuck their fingers into the cobs suspiciously — they were afraid it was tough—and some of it was. Very large cabbages only brought 10c. Cauliflower were 15c and 20c a head. Onions sold at 90 cents a bushel, or 60 cents a basket. Pickling cucumbers were 25 cents a peck. Vegetable marrows were priced at 10 cents;; squash were only 10 and 15 cents, and monster pumpkins sold at a dime. "There's a awful big crop," explained the farmer when asked why they were apparently so cheap. Citrons were 15 cents, and for watermelons about the size of croquet balls, a lady asked 25 cents.

Pickling beets were $1.00 a basket. Beets and carrots were 5 cents a bunch; lettuce and radishes, the same. A basket of green peppers set one back 75 cents.

Apples Cheap.

There were all kinds and qualities of apples on to-day's market. Duchess prevailed, and 25 cents a peck was the standard price, but one farmer was doling them out of his wagon faster than the others, when the Examiner approached. "How much are they?" "Fifteen cents a peck," replied the rural gardener, just stopping long enough to look up, and he continued dumping them into baskets and paper bags as fast as he could handle them. Crab apples were the same price as eating apples by the peck, or by the basket 40 cents.

Nice tender beans were 75 cents a small basket, or by the peck 30 cents. Very large ones brought $1 a peck into one farmer's pocketbook. Plums were 10, 15 and 20 cents a quart.

Big bunches of celery could be had for 15 cents, or two bunches for 25 cents. Grapes, what there were of them, were 75 cents a basket.

Eggs were 60 cents a dozen to-day. Butter brought 65 and 68 cents a pound, mostly 68 cents. Chickens were 35 cents a pound, but a 2-lb. chicken is very small, and a nice bird, about enough to make a half dozen chicken sandwiches from, could be had for $1. It cost $1.50 to get a nice respectable sized one.

Auction Mart.

The auction mart was quiet to-day. Only a few old mattresses and a few bits of household furniture were on Auctioneer Thornton's hands to dispose of, and the crowd that gathers each Saturday to watch the fun were sadly disappointed at the poor sale prepared for them to-day.

Two little boys asked $4.50 for four rabbits and a carefully constructed box to keep them in, and were greatly disappointed that more interest was not shown in their display, and not so much in all the "old vegetable waggons."

Only a few live pigs were on the market. $8 a piece for six-week-old ones was the price asked.

ONE BIG UNION IS A PASSING PHASE

THIS IS VIEW OF HON. GIDEON ROBERTSON, MINISTER OF LABOUR

WINNIPEG, Sept. 18.—Senator Gideon D. Robertson, Minister of Labor for Canada, and member of the tariff commission, predicted here to-day that the One Big Union was only a passing phase in the labor movement.

"The war," he said, "quite naturally, brought dissatisfaction and for the time, revolutionaries appear to be in the ascendancy. But this is a passing phase. As the world reverts to normal habits of thinking and living, extremists lost strength and cease to flourish. The One Big Union is one of these passing phases and will not last."

"The legitimate labor movement," declared the Senator, "is an anchor to steady the workman from the waves of radicalism, which from time to time, seek to wreck all that has been accomplished by way of constructive permanent improvement."

PEELING THE SKIN IS BETTER THAN BLEACHING

Ever since the discovery that ordinary mercolized wax would absorb and remove a discolored complexion, its use by ladies as a substitute in bleaching creams has gown rapidly. A perfect complexion can be maintained indefinitely if this remarkable substance is used. Its beneficent cleansing, clearing and preservative action is quickly apparent, and ladies who have been paying high prices for "special bleach" from beauty specialists, soon recognize that mercolized wax outranks them all. It has become so popular that it can be obtained at all druggists,' who have it in original, one-ounce packages The favorite way of using is to apply it like cold cream, before retiring, washing it off in the morning.

The saxolite lotion for wrinkles and flabbiness has also become extremely popular. One ounce of powdered saxolite is dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this has a remarkable effect in erasing wrinkles and in improving contour.

DEPORTATION OF FISHER EXPECTED

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 18.— Edwin P. Fischer, of New York, who was arrested in this city yesterday morning on a charge of lunacy and incidentally for his alleged connection with the recent bomb outrage in Wall street, New York, will be be deported as an undesirable alien. This was made public this morning by Hugh C. Sweney, local immigration officer, who stated that he had already applied for an order for Fischer's deportation. Mr. Sweney said that the application was made for three reasons: Firstly because Fischer had been an inmate of the Bloomfield Asylum for the Insane at White Plains, N.Y., making him an undesirable alien; secondly, because he entered Canada without offering himself for examination to the immigration officials at the border, entering the Dominion by walking over the bridge at Niagara Falls, and thirdly because he came to Canada without sufficient money. Mr. Sweney added that should the Department of Immigration concur at once, Fischer would be escorted out of Canada to the United States withing three or four days.

William L. Buchannan, here with V. P. Creighton, both of the United States Department of Justice at Buffalo, N.Y., had the same to say when interviewed at their headquarters, the Royal Connaught Hotel. Mr. Buchannan said, he was waiting for the deportation order to come through. He did not anticipate any trouble from the Canadian Authorities in granting deportation, as Fischer came under Immigration Laws, as an undesirable alien.

Mr. Sweeney has ordered the official at the City Jail, where Fischer is being detained, pending developments, to hold the prisoners under a contravention of the Immigration Act.

The application for Fischer's deportation went forward to Ottawa this morning.

When arrested yesterday, the prisoner had in his possession only $3.32 in change.

"PLUM" BEST LOVED CRICKET CAPTAIN QUITS THE GAME

LONDON.—The Express says: "Plum" Warner has said goodby. He has played his last match at his beloved Lord's, and the crowd has cheered him as he leads Middlesex for the last time.

What a finish to a great career!

When the last Surrey wicket fell yesterday, and Middlesex gained the championship, the thousands who had watched the game let themselves go. The smiling little man was the hero of the game, and he knew it.

Pelham Francis Warner—"Plum" all the world over—started his cricket at Rugby, where he was coached by the great Tom Emmett. He played against Marlborough from 1889 to 1892, and the critics of the day saw in him an England captain. They were not wrong.

He gained his Oxford "blue" in '95 and the same year played for Middlesex, and in '97 he scored 176 against Notts at Lord's.

From that date centuries came from his hat like ripe apples off a tree The years are crowded with his doings.

Every schoolboy knows how "Plum" brought back the ashes in 1904, and before that how he headed the averages of Lord Hawke's New Zealand team in 1903. The sympathy of every sportsman was with him during his illness in the victorious Australian tour of 1912-13.

The Harlequin Cap.

How the Lord's crowd loved him! In his faded Harlequin cap he was always bangs in the picture. Wonderful catches, brilliant pieces of fielding, hopping about like a cheerful sparrow, or sending the ball with a snap and a whizz to the boundary, he was a delight to the eye. So keen, so quick, so obviously enjoying it all.

He had a little trick of taking his cap off now and then and stroking his head. The humor of it was that in his cap "Plum" looks like a cherub; without it—he is bald! He would turn round and grin at the crowd, as much as to say, "What do you think of that?"

The air at Lord's was absolutely electric when "Plum" was set for a century—60, 70, 80, 90, then a hefty drive to the pavilion, a neat cut to the mound, two daring singles, and then—uproar! "Plum's" got another hundred!

Well, he has finished with it now. For nearly thirty years he has kept us spellbound by his skill and his wonderful personality.

We shall not sit at Lord's next year without a lump in our throats when the teams troop out of the pavilion and we look and look again for the little cherub in the faded Harlequin cap. J. E. B.

BRANTFORD MAN SAYS HIS SON WAS POISONED.

BRANTFORD, Sept. 17.—The body of Harold Dunham, found dead on Belle Isle, Detroit, Saturday night last, with carbolic stains about the mouth, was brought home here for interment. His father scouts the idea of suicide and states that his son could only have been the victim of foul play. All his money was gone when his body was found, and a tobacco tin made into cup shape was probably used to hold the carbolic. It was found nearby. The Detroit Coroner is making an analysis of the stomach contents. Interment took place at Lynden. The young man held an exemplary character here.

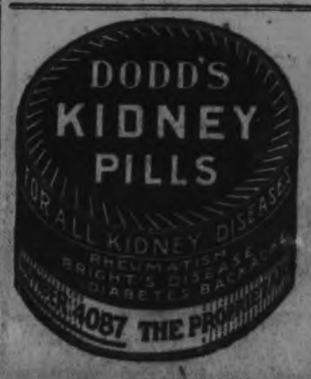
LET'S BE FASHIONABLE

ARHYMED REVIEW

Cabaret tastes and a lunch-counter income don't go well together as Douglas MacLean and Doris May discover in their latest screen comedy, "Let's Be Fashionable," which will be the feature at the Allen Theatre next Monday.

But before they are disillusioned, they furnish lots of fun for the audience by their laughable efforts to keep up with society's latest fads and foibles, such as "affinities" and the like. In the end they decide that it's better to be happy than to be fashionable.

George Webb, Wade Boteler, and Norris Johnson are included in the supporting cast. It is a Paramount Artcraft picture, produced by Thomas H. Ince.



AMERICANS KNOWN NOW AS "PRICERS"

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Americans in London, who used to enjoy a reputation for always putting their hands "into their pockets" are now accused of 'keeping their hands on their pockets."

This endears them, rather than otherwise, to the hearts of the hard-up Londoners, who for years have held that "a fellow feeling makes us wondrous kind."

But the storekeepers have other views. A salesman in the Burlington Arcade, deploring the absence of that fat roll of notes he had always associated with American purchasers, said:

"Americans have no money this season. They hardly do anything but ask the price of things. It is the Continentals who have the money. We have sold more to French and Spanish visitors in the last month than to Americans in the whole season. The Continentals are full of money." Therefore the Continentals rean the salesman's smiles.

Now that the Englishman knows the American as a "pricer" it adds to the bond of friendship for "pricing the goods" is about as far as the average Englishman's purchases ever get.

HIGHER TAXATION OR GERMAN BANKRUPTCY.

Export and Import Regulations Are Paralyzing.

(Canadian Press).

COLOGNE, Sept. 18.—Higher taxation or state bankruptcy are the only alternative possibilities for Germany, Dr. Koch, German Minister of Home Affairs, has just told leading public men in a conference on the economic and political situation of Rhenish Prussia.

Dr. Koch declared he could not see the faintest possibility of any reduction of the tax schedules which had already been drawn up and approved.

Dr. Koch was overwhelmed with complaints about the shortage of dwellings and the paralyzing effect of the present export and import regulations.

Discussing the unity of empire, the Minister announced that a special commission, comprising members of the Federal Council, had been organized to study the problems affecting the new alignment of the federal German states.

LUMBERMAN OVERPAID.

LINDSAY, Sept. 17.—A local man who has been working in a lumber mill at Kinmount, was paid off a few days ago and left for his home here. Shortly after his departure the company found that the man had been overpaid $30. Chief Short was notified by wire. Wednesday evening he located the man and secured the money pending an investigation. The man claims to have no knowledge that he was overpaid.

PETERBOROUGH BOYS IN STRANGE PLACES

While walking down Randolph Street, Detroit, the other day, with thoughts in my mind as conglomerate as the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys, I heard a voice of greeting. Seemingly it dropped from the skies. I looked up, and there, six stories above me, strapped to a huge sign advertising a well-known brand of cigarettes, was a Peterborough boy, who used to cavort around Aylmer Street with the Simcoe Street crowd before he assumed the dignity of long trousers. "Ah ha," he chortled as he wielded a big paint brush on the hump of the camel, "when did you get here?" At first I was puzzled. On second thoughts it was Frank Lundy. Frank is a classy sign painter now, and has developed an absolute disregard for heights.

There is a Peterborough fellow who would be out of his depth at Detroit dances. This week, knights commanders of the terpischorean art have appointed directors who watch the clothes of men. Anything but white collars are forbidden. Maybe the wearers of coloured collars are of the type who insist on doing the shimmy or something equally odious. Where the author of this dope got his idea remains a mystery, for all fashion hints for men for the current season contain descriptions of fancy shirts with collars to match.

Maybe soon the young man setting out for an evening of pleasure will have to consult a chart telling just what he may and may not wear at certain places.

Society women returning from Paris are wearing shockingly short skirts. Even the photographers at Union and Central depots—hardened old timers—can scarcely hide the furious blush. All indications are that America will shortly be wearing shorter skirts than ever before. In fact, the Paris styles demand that the skirts be only three inches below the knees, but of course the American styles will be a modification of this fashion. Close fitting fur toques are to be worn, and suits will be trimmed with fur. Women's coats will be full. Artificial flowers, especially violets, will be worn in the lapels. Street suits already have pockets for milady's cigarette case.

The high-priced tailors have reduced their prices under that of last season.

Mrs. C. E. Earl, Toronto, sasy:

I am pleased to inform you that our boy, Eddie, has been completely cured of Bladder Trouble through using Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets. He is now 14 years old and has not been able to retain his urine which caused us a great deal of worry and trouble. We tried different doctors and medicines but never received any help until your agent called and advised us to try your Tablets. After treating with them for a few weeks they have completely cured him. I would advise mothers who have children afflicted in this way to give them a trial. I will consider it a pleasure to explain his case more fully on request.

Should you or any of your children be afflicted in a similar way we are confident they would produce similar results. Don't fail to give them a trial—for sale at WARNE'S DRUG STORE, Peterborough. Price 25c, 50c and $1 per box. Ask for pamphlet and free sample.

ANNUAL HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICE

REV. ELLIOT BAKER WAS SPEAKER AT ST. GEORGE'S CHURCH

St. George's congregation returned their annual thanks to the Maker last evening for the bountiful harvest and every pew in the beautiful little church was filled to capacity. The entire body of the church and the sanctuary was fitingly decorated with offerings of fruits, vegetables and sheaves of wheat, while each of the windows was banked high in harvest productions.

Rev. Elliott Baker, who conducted the service, preached an eloquent sermon using as his text Psalm 16, verse 6, "The lines are fallen unto men in pleasant places; yea I have a goodly heritage."

My text, the speaker said, seems to sum up exactly what we wish to say to Almighty God this evening. We have come thinking of all his blessings to render thanks. The Psalmist's sentiments were a condition of mature thought. He had come through all his years in and out of captivity to realize that God was a great being.

Similarity Detected.

I can see, the speaker continued, a striking similarity between Canaan and Canada. On the surface this would appear to be a far fetched statement, but closer inspection may reveal to us wonderful ground for drawing the comparison. The country God save his people was the granary of the East, and we are told by those who looked more closely into the social conditions that it was a land of plenty. Who shall not say that Canada is making steps toward becoming the granary of the west. Palestine was looked upon as the centre port to which came all the riches of the east and was the market of the world, while Canada is to-day fast assuming the central position for mineral wealth and natural resources. Palestine was a land of refugees. In Canada, too, we find the "land of beginning again" for many from the old world.. Some day, when the history of Canada is written, we shall find that some of the greatest men were those who who came to the shores as refugees.

In the days of the Psalmist a similar festival was observed to that in which the congregation joined at harvest time.

Continuing he spoke of the Deuteronomic law in which the fields must have one year's rest in seven, a sort of Sababth for the land. I wonder, he said, if it would not be as well if we let our fields rest one year in seven. I would suggest that they should be allowed to keep their Sabbath.

The speaker referred to the real spirit of thanksgiving with which all should come to the Festival. We should probably be surprised if we could but know how few have the real spirit. In our country most of us are ever too ready to grumble at any pretext. How few of us, he asked, ever think to kneel down at Rogation time and ask a blessing upon the fields of the coming harvest. Our thanksgiving will never be real unless it costs us something, unless we have prayed God to bless the coming harvest.

Conditional Promise.

When the Almighty does bless the country as He did this year we find some returning thanks by letting the harvests rot in the field, some by charging such prices for the fruits of the fields that we cannot afford to pay for them. The speaker dwelt upon the point that better far we should stay away fro mthe Festival than have come otherwise than in the true spirit of thanksgiving because such a condition of mind renders the service a mockery.

God's promise of an everlasting harvest was conditional. If we would have a bounteous harvest we must do what God commands. Let us, he concluded, give thanks unceasingly for his goodness.

Complications in the case are already threatening. So long as the charge against Fischer is insanity, he is under the control of the Magistrate and Lunacy Commission, which already has declared him insane, but the moment application for extradition is lodged, the prisoner will pass out of the Magistrate's hands into those of the County Judge and the Crown Attorney. No request had been received for extradition yet, but the local Canadian immigration inspector, Hugh Sweeney, last night said he had applied for an order of deportation on the ground that Fischer is in Canada illegally, since he has been confined in a mental sanitarium in the United States. The Magistrate said sometimes these charges with insanity were removed to the asylum and extradition papers afterwards made out, but he thought that would not be done in Fischer's case.

Fischer has made an excellent impression on all those with whom he has been in contact since his arrest. He is well educated and gentlemanly. Though at times he rambles in his talk, his general conduct and words give no evidence of insanity, several persons who talked with him declare.

In view of Fischer's true forecast of the Wall street explosion, and his statement while being examined by the lunacy commission here yesterday afternoon that "something terrible was happening to-day," gives further material for speculation as to whether Fischer has any real connection with the "Reds."

THE TREASURE OF GOOD HEALTH

You have only to ask your neighbors, and they can tell you of some rheumatic or nerve shattered man, some sufiering woman, ailing youth or anaemic girl who owes present health and strength to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For more than a quarter of a century these pills have been known not only in Canada but throughout the world as a reliable tonic, blood making medicine.

The wonderful success of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is due to the fact that they go right to the root of the disease in the blood and by making the vital fluid rich and red strengthen every nerve and organ, thus driving out disease and pain, and making weak, respondent people bright, active and strong. Mr. W. T. Johnson, one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in Lunenburg County, N. S., says: "I am a provincial land surveyor and am exposed for the greater part of the year to very hard work traellingv through the forest day by day and camping out by night and I find the only thing that will keep me up to the mark is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I leave home for a trip in the woods I am as interested in having my supply of pills as provisions and on such ocacsions I take them regularly. The result is that I am always fit. I never take cold and can digest all kinds of food such as we have to put up with hastily cooked in the woods. Having proved the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a tonic and a health builder I am never without them and I lose no opportunity in recommending them to weak people whom I may meet."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kept in every home and their occasional use will keep the blood pure and ward off disease. You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SIDE-TRACKING TRENTON.

Col Bywater, ex-Controller Jones and a large deputation of railway men appeared before the Council to find out why Trenton was being systematically side-tracked for the up-building of other places not so advantageously located on the line of the C. N. Railway. Sixty-one employes and yards were taken to Leaside some months ago. 18 more were spirited away to Belleville two weeks ago and last week more were laid off from the Trenton employees. It was hinted that 18 or 20 more were to be transferred or laid off shortly. The whole affair bore ear marks of a political mess to benefit someone or some place. The Council promised to take action in the matter and endeavor to locate the trouble

INDUSTRY NOW WATCHING FOR CHEAPER STEEL

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The Iron Age says

Following the check given to buying by the recession in the automobile industry, the steel market has been drifting into quieter times. No new influences are yet recognized that promise an early return to activity, and both buyers and sellers look to the later weeks of the year to clear up the present widespread uncertainty as to prices.

The cancellations of finished steel by automobile manufacturers, as reported from time to time in the past two months, have made little or no impression upon the crowded order books of the mills, but each week is bringing out new cases of curtailment in foundry orders placed by automobile factories or by plants making parts or equipments for them.

The economical policy of the railroads is made clearer by the large amount of work set on foot in the repair of tracks, cars and locomotives, steel companies rae getting track supply orders and car and locomotive works are busy on old rolling stock, but new rail and equipment orders will wait.

However, in the last 100,000 tons of rails for the B. and O., and 15,000 to 20,000 tons for the Norfolk and Western are under consideration and a number of roads are placing quotas on the seel corporation's books. In the west the Santa Fe is expected to buy 120,000 tons, while the Illinois Central has made reservations for 60,000 tons. Present indications are that 800,000 to 1,000,000 tons will be ordered by westeri roads, though something will depend on the price.

Agricultural implement makers are seeking steel bar contracts for the first half of 1921. For filling fourth quarter needs this industry has paid 4 cents, Pittsburg. The easing up in general demand is shown by a Pittsburg district mill offering large sizes in two or three weeks.

The country's steel ingot production in August proves to have been about 3,500,000 tons, or at a yearly rate of more than 42,500,000 tons. There was a gain of about 9,000 tons a day upon July operations, which means practically a return to the production rate of June.

Better car movements appear in every direction, but weeks of strenuous work are ahead, so large is the volume of overdue deliveries.

GERMAN TOYS REFUSED ACCEPTANCE ABROAD

Prices Said to Exceed Those of the World's Markets.

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—Cancellation of orders by foreign buyers amounting to 60,000,000 marks suffered by a German firm of toy makers, on account of the recent more favorable standing of the mark, prompts the Tageblatt to observe that the charge made against Germans of being guilty of breach of business morals, because in isolated cases they used similar prextents to evade contract obligations, no longer holds good. The German toy makers claim that shipments already on the way and out of Germany have also been refused acceptance, on the ground that prices based on the recent improved status of the mark exceeded the world market prices.

THE J.C. Turnbull CO. LTD

AVERAGE PETERBORO' INEBRIATE SHOWS A LACK OF ORIGINALITY WHEN HE APPEARS IN THE DOCK

CROWN PROSECUTOR HAS TO LISTEN TO ABOUT THREE TIME-WORN LEGENDS WHICH ARE DESIGNED TO PROTECT THE MAN HIGHER UP

That 'theres' many a slip 'tween the crock and the hip" is borne out by the local Police Court record. Breaches of the poor old Ontario Temperance Act which has been broken so many times that it seems that it must be badly punctured by now, have figured prominently on the docket as a result of the police interrupting formal and informal drunks in that disconcerting way which they have.

How so many acquaintanceships are formed with the supposedly deceased John Barleycorn is a matter which the police can hardly more than conjecture upon due to the poor memories of John's friends. As soon as the imbibers enter the witness box their memories become weak.

In most cases" the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth" sounds as thought it carried a stock number. There are just about three stock stories of the source of the liquor. That is where those who hold communication with spirits show a disappointing lack of originality.

Story Seldom Varies

The old favourite is the one about the unknown benefactor. Times without number have Crown Attorney Hatton's cross examinations elicited this one. It varies only in the minutest details. The plot is always the same. The medium of the spirit communication is always met on a dark street. He leads one aside and magnanimously produces a bottle. The contents sampled, he disappears into the opportune shroud of darkness. To the Crown he is Nemisis. The story varies only in the place of the meeting and the description of the philanthropist. The latter is vague. Sometimes he wears dark clothing, sometimes light. The spirit communicator is too moved by the unexpected generosity to be observant. Also there is the darkness.

Then there is the one about the prescription. Once upon a time the teller had a cold or some other illness for which spirits are prescribed. In the prescribed way he obtained a prescription. It was never wholly used. Then came the temptation and it was used. Then came the police.

The third one is less often heard in the halls of justice. It is merely a version of Explanation No. 1, evidently used for variety's sake. This time the victim goes for a drive with a friend. The friend, of course, is known only by sight. His name is likewise unknown. The friend, of course, is known only by sight. His name is likewise unknown.

Thus the police receive only the fine. This at least has the merit of tending toward a decline in the tax rate. But "the man higher up" is protected.

Jackson Park Caches

There are only rumours as to his operations. Some of these are as plausible as the testimony of those who hold clandestine meeting with spirits. That Jackson Park is honeycombed with liquor caches is the talk of the street. That the bush country about the Kawartha Lakes is thriving from the proceeds of improvised stills and that "crocks" in disguise are daily transported via motor from here to Windsor, is a current rumour.

But the bootleggers, if there are any, and from the number of gentlemen who are gathered in to dry at the Police Station it seems that there must be, have not suffered as heavily as their customers. One would be led to believe that the overhead expense of operating their business is high from the way in which their customers fabricate stories to protect them. And the overhead is high enough as it is necessary to figure in possible fines and loss through enforced vacations in computing this necessary part of modern business finance.

UNITED STATES IS IMPERIALISTIC

SO DECLARES AN ARGENTINE MAN LOOKS WITH SUSPICION ON MONROE DOCTRINE

(Canadian Press)

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 18.—The Monroe Doctrine is not a doctrine of "America for the Americans" but of "America for the North Americans," declared Dr. Lucio M. Moreno Quintana, an Argentine lawyer and a grandson of a former President of Argentina, in an address recently before the law students of the University of Buenos Aires, in which he attacked the proposal made by President Brum of Uruguay last April for the formation of an "American League."

Footing of Equality.

President Brum's idea that the league should be based on a declaration by all Latin-American countries similar to the Monroe Doctrine, which would thus place them on a footing of equality with the United States in maintaining that doctrine, was asserted by Dr. Quintana to be a dangerous one for Latin-America. He told the students that the danger lay in "North American imperialism," for the Monroe Doctrine was an imperialistic doctrine solely intended to maintain North American hegemony over the rest of the continent.

A Safety League.

Dr. Quintana contended that the safety of Latin-American countries lay in the formation of a league exclusively among themselves, a Latin-American league of countries of the same origin, analogous customs, similar language and professing the same ideals and aspirations. It should be formed "with the end of uniting their common interests and presenting a defensive 'bloc' against North American imperialism and against any European pretensions," though he believed the latter would be very remote.

The recognition of the Monroe Doctrine in Article 21 of the pact of the League of Nations was a matter, he said, "upon whose consequences for them, all the Latin-American countries, ought to meditate profoundly." Although Dr. Brum's Pan-American concept was that of equality and fraternity among all the nations of the two continents, Dr. Quintana declared that any one who considered that the United States would pretend to treat the rest of the countries of America as equals and brothers was utopian.

Continuous Transgressions.

He cited what he called instances of the "continuous transgression of the Pan-American concept by the United States after the proclamation of the Monroe Doctrine," among them, "the successive separations of Mexico," "the armed intervention of the United States with European countries when it collected the public debts of Venezula," the threat of military intervention in Honduras and the "demand of the United States upon Colombia that it enact a law for the exploitation of petroleum on bases determined by the Yankee Government, under threat that Colombia would be deprived of its indemnity of $25,000,000 voted by the North American Parliament as compensation for an act whose injustice even the Yankees recognized—the separation from Colombia of Panama." The latter instance, says Dr. Quintana, "well characterizes the imperialistic ambitions of the great republic of the North."

In reality, he declared, it ought be said that the United States is "a bastard brother in respect to the rest of the American countries. There does not exist between them and us the same tie of brotherhood that we Latin-American countries have among ourselves."

Dangerous to South.

The Monroe Doctrine, he continued, "has served as an admirable instrument for the United States to separate Europe from America and to establish its hegemony over the latter. The United States has been at all times preoccupied in obtaining concessions of every kind at the cost of the sovereignity of the rest of the American states." He argued that the doctrine was dangerous because it was "North American imperialism hidden under a principle of international law."

Far Selfish Ends.

Dr. Quintana concluded by saying that the Pan-American league Dr. Brum purposes, would be "an organization redounding exclusively to the benefit of the United States which would convert itself juridically and officially into the director of America with consequent impairment and evident danger to the other countries of our continent."

Dr. Quintana's address is now being circulated in booklet form under the title "Politica Americana" and is dedicated to the late President Carranza of Mexico.

COAL SITUATIOM IS NOT ALARMING

OTTAWA, Sept. 17.—In a report on the coal situation in Canada for September, issued by S. J. Cook, B.A., A.I.C., chief the Mining, Metallurgical, and Chemical Division, the situation is stated as not alarming. "Despite much loose talk to the contrary, the Canadian coal supply does not appear alarming, although prices continue high and no relief may be expected as yet," states the report.

In showing production in the United States a comparative statement is issued. This shows that coal produced in 1917 up until August was some 16,000,000 tons beyond that to the same date in 1920. The production this year is also 39,500,000 tons behind 1918, but is 48,697,000 tons more than the same period for 1919. This is explained by the fact that in 1919 consumption much exceeded production, while in 1913 consumption did not keep pace with production and a big surplus was built up.

Quebec Fares Better.

Up to June 30, 1920, Central Ontario had received 99 per cent. of the average amount of anthracite received during the same six months of the three preceding years and 106 per cent. of the anthracite received during the same period in 1919. Quebec has received 110 per cent. of the average receipts for the same six months of three years ago and 119 per cent. of the amount brought in during the six months of 1919. Quebec in this way is exceeding the supply obtained by Ontario in proportion.

Anthracite coal supplies to all Canada to June 30 were 101 per cent. of the three years' average and 107 per cent. of the six months of 1919. Bituminous coal imports into Canada have fallen to 80 per cent. of the average during the preceding years, but are still 97 per cent. of the six months' period of 1919. Better transportation facilities and confidence in steady production in the United States make the situation not alarming.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—During the world war, there was 266,112 admissions to A. E. F. hospitals for injuries due to military causes. Of these causes gas was the most potent, although the percentage of deaths from it was comparatively small. Of the 88,980 gas cases 38,396, or 43 per cent. were caused by mustard gas. In 39,914 gas cases, the kind of gas involved was not specified.

HORRIBLE STORY COMES FROM ARKANSAS

This is the season of the year when one natrually expects to hear some tall stories about tall corn. And there really is some corn this year 12 or 13 feet high and still growing. But these specimens are completely outclassed by the State of Arkansas, where all records have been broken, as the following "news" despatch will verify.

"The horible news comes from Arkansas that a boy climbed a corn stalk to see how the corn was getting along and now the stalk is growing up faster than the boy can climb down. The boy is plumb out of sight. Three men have undertaken to cut down the stalk with axes and save the boy from starvation. It grows so fast they can't hit twice in the same place. The poor boy is living on nothing but raw corn and has already thrown down four bushels of cobs. Next!"

GIRL, TWELVE YEARS, KILLED IN ACCIDENT

Fell From Heavy Wagon, Wheels Passed Over Her Body.

LINDSAY, Sept. 17.—One of the most shocking accidents of recent years in this township, occurred near Kilworthy on Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning of last week. As nearly as can be learned the facts are as follows: The young people of that section gave a dance in the Orange Hall at Kilworthy, on Tuesday night, September 7, to which a number of the annual tourists at Mal[illegible] were invited. At the conclusion of the festivities in connection with the event, twenty-two of those present, seated in a hay rack that had been used through the haying and harvest this season, started on their journey homeward, and after they had got to the top of what is known as Beatty's hill to rough and stony hill) the rack broke in some unaccountable manner, and Miss Gertie Pearve, a bright, ha[illegible] and ever cheerful little girl of 12 years, fell to the ground and the wagon, with its twenty-one remaining occupants, passed over her body. Death resulted a few hours later.

Is Secret of Ages Now Revealed?

Kotalko, a True Hair Elixir

NOTED specialists certify that new growths of hair, after complete baldness; and eradication of dandruff are possible when certain conditions exist and that such results positively have been attained.

For ages, scientists of the civilized world have sought the real causes of the loss of hair and for the best way to overcome baldness where papillae exist in the scalp, even if dormant, and if scalp is dry and shiny.

All those centuries, the North American Indians seem to have had the secret. Indeed—who ever saw or heard of a bald Indian, unless he had been actually scalped?

A trader among the Indians—John Hart Brittain got hold of the secret by right of purchase. "Kotalko" is the name by which the elixir is known. Although almost entirely bald, hair came in prolific growth on Mr. Brittain's head after applying Kotalko and this hair growth never lessened. Legions of others, men, women and children, have had scalp and hair benefit through KOTALKO. Many have reported new growths of hair after baldness of years. Many have reported that their hair stopped falling out. Many have reported scalp dandruff eradicated completely by Kotalko. You see, there is a chance for you to test the efficacy of Kotalko. Your aim, like that of every other ambitious, self-respecting person, is

Luxuriant HAIR for You

The principle and the Kotalko formula is a compound from the Three Kingdoms of Nature. Apply Kotalko gently to the scalp and to whatever hair is still left. Watch in your mirror!

What Kotalko can do for overcoming the thinning, splitting, loss or combing-out of hair, also for dandruff and baldness, has been evidenced in legions of voluntary testimonials.

William Shaw testified: "I had a bald spot over 12 years that has become covered by using Kotalko." Mary Pertone: "My hair had fallen out when I began to use Kotalko. Then the hair grew again." Alfred Hall, Preston: "My hair was as fine as the bottom of my feet. Since using Kotalko there has come a nice thick growth of hair." Louise A. Geary: "After using Kotalko, my hair is much thicker and longer than it was." Many—very many—other testimonials—some lengthy, are available for YOU to read. Let us send you some sheets of them; look for cases like your own.

Doctor's Praise of Kotalko

Dr. W. R. Richardson stated: "For fifteen years I had a gradually increasing bald spot due to scalp disease for which I used many remedies without benefit. Upon hearing of what Kotalko was doing for others, I used it. The scalp trouble is gone and hair is growing over the bald spot. I owe it all to Kotalko."

This preparation is not a purely scented liquid, nor a soapy shampoo, nor an, thing in the "dainty" class.

$300 Cash Guarantee

THAT KOTALKO will aid to OVERCOME DANDRUFF, to stop FALLING HAIR, or to GROW HAIR, where positive, solid (pore) scalp is present, or YOUR MONEY BACK if you are not fully satisfied.

Kotalko is making an unparalleled record. Remember the name is

KOTALKO

In Kotalko one of the ingredients is bear oil and, remember, it is genuine bear oil, compounded with the other ingredients of Nature and to be applied to the scalp in the Indians' original way.

Proof Box of Kotalko, 10 Cents

If you wish to test Kotalko on baldness, falling or thinning hair, scalp disorder or dandruff, you may receive a Proof Box of Kotalko with testimonials and booklet by mail (plainly wrapped package) by sending 10 cents, silver or stamps, to Kotal Company, Ltd., 366-G Adelaide St. W., Toronto. Or you may obtain a full size box of KOTALKO at a druggist's or at toilet goods counter of a department store. Remember the name—KOTALKO. It is the genuine Indian hair elixir. There is nothing "just the same." $300 money-back guarantee with each box.

ALLEN THEATRE STOCK OFFERED THE PUBLIC

MOVING PICTURE BUSINESS OUTGROWS STAGE OF PRIVATE INVESTOR

The Allen Theatre Enterprises, controlling the Allen Theatre, Toronto, and sixty other leading motion picture houses throughout Canada, announce an issue of preferred stock in a new holding company to be called Allen Theatres Limited. This stock will be offered for public subscription, and is secured by the entire assets of the Allen Theatre Enterprises.

In a statement to the press, Mr. Jule Allen, vice-president of the company, whose success in the last decade has been one of the phenomena of motion pictures, remarks as follows:

"A feature of the last decade has been the rise of the motion picture industry from practically nothing to the position—in point of capital invested and number of people employed—of fourth in the great industries of North America.

"In surveying the theatrical development in Canada in the last 10 years one is forced to wonder where the money invested in motion picture enterprises has been derived. In the City of Toronto alone, where ten years ago there were less than a dozen theatres all told, to-day there are nearly one hundred, of which some 88 are motion picture houses. Some of these picture theatres are of full proportions and quite equal in point of beauty and equipment to the so-called "regular" theatres and "opera houses." It would seem that, in the vast majority of cases, the motion picture theatres of Canada have been created by their own earning power, or based upon the capital of "inside interests" who found such investments too lucrative to share with the general public.

A Greater Scale.

"The motion picture business in Canada is now, however, out-growing the stage of the private investor and the small circle of 'insiders.' It is in process of being organized on a greater scale, and vastly improved. High-class theatres are springing up in the different cities of the Dominion under strong central management. Elaborate appointments, rich decorations, large seating capacity, characterize the modern 'picture palaces.' Only the very best of the film producers' offerings, supplemented by high-class musical programmes supplied by magnificent pipe organs and first-class stringed orchestras, are selected for presentation in these super-theatres, and a central management allows a uniformly high standard to be set for the entire circuit.

"Such a circuit is that developed by the Allens and now controlled by the Allen Theatre Enterprises, with a 'string' of some sixty first-class houses in the larger cities of Canada from coast to coast, the Allen enterprises have grown to a magnitude which requires broader capitalization. Preferred stock in a 'holding' company which will control all the theatrical enterprises of the Allens is to be issued shortly under the name, Allen Theatres Limited. This company is possibly the only one of its kind in the world, in that the stock holders will participate on a par with the original owners, as Messrs. Allen are accepting stock in the new company for their assets.

Will Control.

"Allen Theatres Limited will control all the Allen Theatre Enterprises and every new Allen Theatre that may be erected. Should future growth equal that of the past, purchasers of these securities will have no reason for discontent."

Speaking of the future possibilities of motion picture theatres in Canada, Mr. H. B. Housser of Housser, Wood & Company, Toronto, who will have charge of the flotation, pointed out several peculiar facts about the "movie business.

"First of all, the security behind the preferred stock of a theatre is represented by real estate investments necessarily situated in a busy business district. This equity has a value at all times.

"Commercialized amusement under efficient management may be considered as one of the most stable commodities. The motion picture theatre is practically unaffected by labor conditions or hard times. Even in Bolshevik Russia where chaos prevails, the theatres are reaping a harvest. So it was in the days of the French Revolution, and so it was during the strike days in Winnipeg.

"Nor does the labor problem enter into motion picture theatres, as the staff required is comparatively small.

"The earning power of the successful, motion picture theatre, strange as it may seem, greatly exceeds that of the average industrial security. A theatre, moreover, deals in a commodity for cash, and cash is king.

"While these statements may not be applied to all motion picture theatres without exception, as individual or independent show houses, they apply with emphasis in the case of an organization such as the Allen's where a large number of theatres are covered from a centralized management, and where each is benefited by being one of a chain. With sixty theatres, the Allens can naturally buy films to better advantage than the operator controlling only half a dozen theatres. We feel that the future of this Canadian enterprise is particularly bright."

RUSSIAN PEOPLE HAVE THE BLUES

NOTHING FUT PAPER MONEY AND COST OF LIVING EXCESSIVELY HIGH

BRUNSWICK, Germany, Sept. 18.—August Merges, a German communist leader, who has just returned from Moscow, says that "Bolshevism as practiced in Russia, is not Simon pure unadulterated communism. The cost of living there is excessively high; paper money is wiped out with paper money, and people generally have the blues."

Merges, a little hunchbacked journeyman tailor, who staged the communist revolt in Brunswick in 1919, warns his comrades against settling in Russia.

"Politics in Russia are controlled by the communist party, which counts 600,000 members, several hundred thousands of whom are office seekers and political hangers-on, who are not to be trusted," Merges declared in an address on his Russian discoveries.

He declared that the Russian system was not suited to Germany, because of its rigid centralization combined with a tedious bureaucracy, and its imitation of capitalistic methods. He told the Moscow reds, he said, that the German communists did not propose to take orders from them.

WHEAT CROP SMALL BARLEY CROP LARGE

BEER OCCUPIES POSITION OF BREAD IN ENGLAND

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 18.—With bread selling at 25 cents a loaf, and soon to be raised to 30, and later perhaps to 35 cents, England is harvesting this season the smallest wheat crop since the early days of the war. Production of barley, on the other hand, will show a material increase over that of the last few years.

The reasons for this state of affairs, according to Professor James Long, a well-known agricultural expert, are government control and beer. The price of wheat and oats is regulated, but no restrictions have been placed on that of barley. As the market price of barley is exceptionally high, farmers planted that grain instead of wheat and oats.

Professor Long shows that since 1918 wheat has been reduced by 679,000 acres, or more than one-third of the present area, while oats, also an important bread stuff, has fallen off by 512,000 acres. "On the basis of wheat," he says, "this means a loss of bread grain equal to some 38,000,000 bushels, or sufficient to feed 7,500,000 persons. It is a curious commentary on the fact that the barley crop has considerably increased, and that in consequence beer has so far occupied the position of bread."

The country has fewer cattle than in any year since 1903 and 5,330,000 less sheep than the average of the 10 years from 1904 to 1913. The decrease in cattle since last year is more than 500,000 head.

KEEP CARS IN CANADA FOR WEST'S GRAIN NEEDS

RAILWAYS TAKING EXTRA PRECAUTION—BIG SHORTAGE IN U. S.

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—In view of the particularly heavy crop movement from the western provinces during the next few months, extra precautions are being taken by the management of the Government, and other systems of railways, to keep Canadian freight cars on this side of the border. At the present time there is a car shortage in the United States of 600,000 cars, and when a Canadian car is permitted to cross the line it is practically impossible to have it returned. The daily charge for retained cars from Canada was some time ago increased, but this has made no difference, the American railways being quite willing to pay the extra charge for the use of the cars. The necessity of keeping Canadian rolling stock at home, if a grain blockade is to be prevented when the eastward wheat movement is at its height, is recognized, and even at the best there is likely to be considerable congestion it is thought.

Rev. J. H. Martin, vicar of Holy Trinity, Chatham, was deprived of his living and further preferment, for kissing his servant girl.

TORONTO OUTFIT WANT BIG GATE

ONE REASON WHY T. A. B. A. REFUSED

President Frank Robbins, of the Ontario Baseball Amateur Association, has the following to say regarding the decisions of the O.B.A.A. to make the T.A.B.A. declare a winner before Saturday or default.

"We could have arrived at our decision without meeting. But Mr. Patterson, of Peterborough, sacrificed a night's sleep to get here in time. Toronto's representative wasn't present, but that didn't kep us idle. If the T.A.B.A. still refuses to carry out instructions and is suspended it will be unfortunate, but impossible to prevent. Toronto is no better than any of the other sections of the O.B.A.A. and must be made to realize it. I'm sorry for one thing and that is that it looks as if the Toronto Amateur Baseball Association is putting the financial end of the game ahead of sportsmanship. On Saturday Hillcrests and Oslers will draw a great crowd, much bigger than they would get during the week, and that seems to be the reason for their refusal to shift the dates as we ordered."

GUS HILL COMING TO THE GRAND

The sensation of the current season in the theatrical world is Gus Hill's Minstrels, which is scheduled to appear at the Grand Opera House today, matinee and night.

This mammoth aggregation of black face stars is said to be making theatrical history this season. It is declared that the press throughout the country has been unanimous in proclaiming that this organization is the greatest burnt cork entertainment ever offered to the American public. Everywhere that this big aggregation has appeared this season, according to credible report, the stand room only sign again has been in demand. The company includes: Emile Subers, Sam Curtis, Rags Leighton, Billy Monitor, Harry O'Brien, Fred Werner, Harry Bohne, Ferd Freddy, Gene Pearson, Pat Rogers, Richard Barstow, John Cahill and fifty other well known burnt cork celebrities. Sam Brown's famous band and orchestra will be one of the features of the performance.

VIVIAN RICH COMES IN "A WORLD OF FOLLY"

"A World of Folly" is the title of the second production in which William Fox will present Vivian Rich as a star. It is coming to the Regent Theatre next Thursday. Miss Rich's latest picture is adapted from a story by Jane Grogan, and is said to give here an exceptionally appealing emotional role.

The story revolves around Helene Blair, a young wife who loves her husband but is neglected by him on account of business. She meets Tremaine, polo champion, through his saving her two children from an impending auto accident, and to show her gratitude she invites him to her home. Tremaine is engaged to Jeanne, with whom he lives. When he becomes too attentive to Helene she repulses him, and requests him not to see her again. But Tremaine schemes to make the wife unfaithful in the eyes of her husband. How he does it is told in tense scenes

Miss Rich is supported by an excellent cast, including Aaron Edwards, Augustus Phillips, P. M. McCollough and Daisy Robinson.

LARRY SEMON KEEPS AUDIENCE IN UPROAR

THE "STAGE HAND" IS FUNNIEST OF HIS COMEDIES

Larry Semon goes through even more than his usual allotment of dangerous "stunts" in his latest gloom killer, "The Stage Hand," a Vitagraph screen comedy which will be shown at the Allen Theatre on Monday.

The Vitagraph star makes his appearance first from the folds of a rolled up carpet, and from then until the last flicker he keeps whirling hilariously from one funny incident to another. He falls through a trapdoor underneath the stage, plunges from the wings high over the footlights and goes through a score of other bone breakers in order to get the last bit of fun out of the comedy.

Although the novelties were prepared, rehearsed and acted with the greatest care, so expertly was the production made that it seems to have been done spontaneously. Theatrical managers may moan of the troubles that beset them in putting on a show, but they are sure to grin and feel better after having seen the tornado of misfortune which follows in Larry Semon's wake as he breezes serenely through this picture.

LIGHTNING KILLED BOY WHILE SITTING IN CHAIR.

The following addition information has been received concerning the death of George Packard, in Haliburton County:

During Saturday evening's electrical storm, lightning struck the home of Mrs. A. Packard, near Maple Lake, instantly killing the son, George Pickard. The boy was sitting in a chair when the lightning struck the chimney, and passing through the house, struck the boy, and gave his mother, who was standing nearby, a severe shock. It was several minutes before Mrs. Packard realized the sad occurrence.

The chimney was completely demolished and several logs in the walls were thrown out of their position. On leaving the house the lightning jumping to a clothesline post and ran along the wire line. Fortunately the house escaped fire.

ARLIE MARKS HERE FOR THE EXHIBITION

When the Arlie Marks Associated Players open their 3 days' engagement at the Grand Opera House on Monday evening next, all lovers of the popular-priced amusement have a treat in store for themselves.

The well-known attractions have several new additions, that are something out of the ordinary in the line of between act vaudeville. Madam Salona, The Girl With the Thousand Eyes, will keep you all guessing. Heverly, The Man of Mystery, is another act that is entirely different to those usually carried with stock companies. The dramatic end of the show is exceptionally capable this season, and Miss Arlie Marks has spared no expense in the staging the different productions to be presented here during the three nights. The opening play, "Where the River Shannon Flows," is said to be one of the prettiest plays ever written, plenty of good comedy and an exceptional plot that is altogether different. The play was a big success with all the big stock companies last season, and Lindsay E. Perrin secured the sole rights of this fine play for Canadian territory. Popular prices will prevail for the entire engagement, and reserved seats are now on sale at the Box Office.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

"GRUMPY."

Two seasons ago Peterborough play-goers had an opportunity of seeing the famous English actor, Cyril Maude, in one of his most successful plays, the comedy "Grumpy" by T. Wigney Percival and Horace Hodges and the offering was one of the most enjoyable in local theatrical history. Last night "Grumpy" returned to the Grand without Mr. Maude, but played by a well balanced English company and the comedy was thoroughly appreciated by a large audience. Comparisons they say are odious, but naturally one cannot help making a comparison between the work of Mr. Maude in the title role and that of Mr. Edward Lewess in last night's production. The part was written originally for Mr. Maude and his conception of it was considered as the triumph of his long stage career. To begin with it is a role that is exacting and difficult and to step into the shoes of such an actor as Mr. Maude is a task that calls for histrionic ability of the highest order. Mr. Lewsr succeeded admirably in his presentation of the party, his picture of the aged but bright minded old lawyer being one that will not soon be forgotten. He was ably assisted by a caste of uniform excellence in which the work of Frank Compton, Galwey Herbert and Trevor Bland was especially noticeable. The story of "Grumpy" is too well known to need any synopsis of the plot. Suffice it to say that the clever comedy was presented in a most effective manner and was thoroughly enjoyed.

To-night, Gus Hill's famous minstrels are visitors at the Grand.

DISCUSSED THE RADIAL QUESTION

MEETING HELD IN GUELPH LAST EVENING

GUELPH, Sept. 18.—At a public meeting in the City Hall here last night, J. W. Buckley, president of the Ontario Independent Labour Party, discussed the Hydro radial situation. He strongly endorsed the Government's action in appointing the Sutherland Commission, and contended that any other course would have been subversive of both democracy and constituted authority.

The Hydro radial schemes, Mr. Buckley said, must be justified on grounds of economic soundness, and democratic control. The economic soundness of public undertakings was closely concerned with their financial control. The Beck Commission was an unexampled financial autocracy over the municipalities whose steward it loudly professed to be. The Hearst Government and Legislature had given it authority to spend the municipalities' and the Province's money, even trust funds, "without regard to the special trusts or purposes under which the same, or any part thereof, may come to its hands." The Commission itself was indemnified against the consequences of error in any of its estimates, and it was more supreme than the Kaiser over municipalities which made radial agreements with it.

Mr. Buckley quoted from the special Clarkson report on Hydro finances, dated 19th March last. The Central Ontario system in the year ending 31st October, 1919, incurred a deficit of $183,632. The Province in 1916 gave $8,350,000 in 4 per cent. debentures to buy this system, which will mature in 1926, when interest is likely to be nearer 6 per cent. than 4. Mr. Clarkson said the Province had advanced, since the purchase, $2,893,185 in cash to the Central Ontario system, but of this money the Beck Commission had used $1,209,787, or 41 per cent. for other systems. It was quite possible, therefore, for the money raised to build one railway to be used for another. There were indications in the Government statement of 6th July last that this had already been done by pledging bonds authorised for the Port Credit-St. Catharines line to buy right of way for another line for which no legal authority had been given.

Issue Bonds.

Under the law, Mr. Buckley said, the Beck Commission could issue bonds to increase municipalities' liabilities for radial railways without the municipalities' consent. No municipality which had made a radial agreement with the Beck Commission could make any sort of arrangement with any railway without the Beck Commission's consent. This autocracy had already worked nakedly in such cities as Toronto and St. Catharines.

Sir Adam Beck interfered with, and killed, a Toronto proposal to deal with the Metropolitan on Yonge Street. He also interfered with, and stopped, improvements in the publicly owned electric railway service of St. Catharines.

The Beck Commission's irresponsibility for the estimates on which it induced municipalities to vote tens of millions of dollars of their credit, was in itself, Mr. Buckley said, justification enough for the Drury Government's determination to be shown before it committed the Province to vast guarantees.

Those estimates, on their face, could only come from an irresponsible body. Seventy-two miles of Toronto-St. Catharines line were to cost $22,298,000, or over $300,000 per mile. This line, with only 12 miles of double track, was to earn $34,000 per mile per annum, which no single track electric line in the world was doing. It was said the United States electric railways were in bad shape because they had paid dividends on over-capitalisation. But with watered stock, the capitalisation per mile of all United States electric roads, including New York and Chicago systems, was only 37 per ent. of the estimated cost of the Toronto-St. Catharines, and only 58 per ent. of the estimated cost of the Toronto Eastern.

Anybody could see, Mr. Buckley said, that the Government had acted only within common prudence in deciding to be shown before it guaranteed. The truth was that the late Government and Legislature were servile. While the war was on, they helped to entrench in Ontario an autocracy that might well have been made in Germany. What we had been taught to regard as the fundamentals of Government responsibility were sapped by electric wires, and he was sure the people would support the Drury Government's vindication of responsible government and duly constituted authority.

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT POSTAL SERVICE POOR

Ex-Member Cabinet Advises Thorough Re-organization.

(Canadian Press)

ROME, Italy, Sept. 18.—Complaint that the Governmental postal and telegraph service is poor, is crystalized in a statement by Professor Ugo Ancona, member of the recent Italian Cabinet, who declares that the Ministry of Posts and Telegraphs must be abolished and organized anew. The professor suggests also that subsidiary branches of the ministry except the savings banks, be given over to private enterprise, declaring that it is impossible to go on as things now are.

Professor Ancona charges that the ministry is a hopeless "maid of all work," which tries to operate the postal service, telegraph, telephones, savings banks, loans and national lotteries and that it does all of these services poorly. The public is rapidly learning to send parcels by private firms since of those confided to the state more than 20 per cent. do not arrive, while 30 per cent. of those received are without their contents, says the professor. He charges also that the Ministry of Posts is enormously overstaffed with about 66,000 employes, some of whom are "terribly underpaid," and that both discipline and organization are sadly wanting.

The ministry had a deficit equivalent to $13,000,000 in its budget for last year owing to greatly increased operating expenses and wages. The deficit is expected to reach $30,000,000 for the current year.

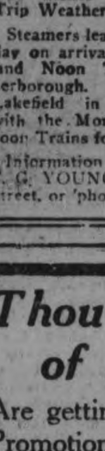
RESULTS


are what the world looks for. And results are what you are looking for.
But to get results in your business, you do not use nonsensical methods. You use common-sense in achieving your results. You investigate in a sane way the various methods and the most certain and reasonable is the one you use.
However, when it comes to your health, do you use common-sense methods? Do you hunt for and find the CAUSE of your trouble and have it removed? Do you give Nature a chance to bring you to your full power and strength? Or do you just dope and treat the effect of your trouble, alleviating the disease with drugs and operations?
Investigations of modern scientists have proven conclusively that disease is an effect and not a Cause; that the CAUSE lies behind the disease; and that the only way to eradicate disease permanently is to remove the cause which makes it possible.
This cause is a lack of vital force or mental impulses, which when received throughout the body in equal quantity always means perfect health and resistance to disease. This vital force is sent from the brain through the nerves, and can be stopped or checked at only one place in the body—the spinal column. Here subluxation or displacements of the vertebrae cause impingement of the nerves as they emit from the spine, and thus cut off the flow of vital energy, without which the cells of the body lose their vitality and power of resistance to disease.
The Chiropractor adjusts the subluxation, removing the pressure from the nerves, and the vital force of Innate Intelligence (Nature) given a free pasage to all parts of the body, cures. The remarkable results obtained by Chiropractors the world over in adjusting the CAUSE of disease have proven that Chiropractic is the Science of Common-sense applied to the human machine. Investigate and find out what Chiropractic has done for others and can do for you.

POLICE SEARCH SHOPS FOR CLUE TO IDENTITY OF MAN WHO DROVE YELLOW WAGON

TIME BOMB THEORY IS UPHELD BY SUBSEQUENT INVESTIGATION —THE PROPERTY DAMAGE IN NEW YORK.

REWARDS OFFERED

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Failure of anybody to admit ownership of the horse and truck blown up in the Wall street explosion convinced detectives, operatives of the Department of Justice and Secret Service agents that the blast was due to a time bomb placed in the vehicle by radicals. Evidence of that belief was presented in the attitude of officials of the Detective Bureau, who established a miniature museum at Police Headquarters, where the remnants of the horse's harness as well as shattered pieces of the vehicle recovered by the police soon after the explosion, were placed on exhibition in the hope that somebody would come forward to identify them.

If the motive for the explosion ever is discovered, detectives said, it is more than likely it will be through the identity of the owner of the vehicle. They pointed out that unlike most of the bomb outrages in this city the police in this case have something to work on to establish the identity of the perpetrators through the possession of the pieces of harness and the twisted mass of axles and other parts of the truck as well as the head hoofs of the dead horse, which recently had been shod.

200 Detectives Engaged in Canvass.

More than two hundred detectives continued the canvass of stables and horse shoeing establishments in the five boroughs which was started by Captain John Coughlin, Acting Inspector in charge of the Detective Bureau, less than an hour after the explosion. Each detective was instructed to notify Inspector Coughlin by telephone if he obtained information which might establish the identity of the owner of the horse and wagon. A special force of detectives was assigned to handle reports from detectives assigned to the work as well as those from Captains who, under an order from Chief Inspector Lahey Thursday afternoon, instructed the uniformed men under them to aid the detectives in the quest.

That the ownership of the horse and wagon was considered the most prominent clue of the police and Government officials engaged in the investigation was evidenced by the fact that agents of the department, on instructions from William J. Flynn, former Deputy Police Commissioner and head of the United States' Secret Service, visited many farriers and stables in different parts of the city, and it was said that in most instances the Government agents acted on mysterious tips and anonymous leters received by Chief Flynn at his office during the day.

Clew in Horse's Hoof.

It was learned at Police Headquarters that expert horsemen in the Police Department had been called on to aid the detectives in establishing the identity of the owner of the vehicle. These policemen were called on to decide whether it would be possible for a person to identify the head of the horse, which is being preserved by the police. It was said that all of the horsemen said that the owner of the animal would have no trouble in

SPECIAL ORDER TO CROWN ATTORNEY COVERING FAIRS

The following telegram was received by Crown Attorney Hatton from the Attorney-General to-day:

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 18.— Reports from various quarters having indicated that the law is at times being violated and in view of the approaching falls fairs and race meetings, the Attorney-General desires me to call your particular attention to the criminal code, sections 227 to 229 and section 235, which cover the keeping of gambling house, etc. I desire to impress on you the facts that the limited protection given to race track gambling by section 235 does not permit wheels of fortune, card gambling, roulette, dice, throwing or any other of the various gambling devices which are sometimes practised at Fair grounds and race tracks. The provisions of section 235 must be strictly constructed. See Dominion statues 1912, section 9. I also call your attention to revised statutes Ontario chapter 47, dealing with agricultural societies, particularly sections 32 and 33. Kindly instruct county constables to be vigilant and enforce law, you yourself prosecuting where facts justify.

E. BAYLEY,
Deputy Attorney-General.

Mr. Hatton said that he understood this would include the G. W. V. A. drawing for an automobile and he has told the secretary that the money already taken in will have to be refunded. 800 tickets have been sold.

"PREPARATION DAY" KEPT THE DIRECTORS ON THE MOVE—A BETTER FAIR THAN EVER.

THE MIDWAY

All that is required to put the Peterborough Exhibition over the top, with the greatest success that has ever attended a Central Ontario Fair, warmth and sunshine. Bigger and better than ever it opened this morning for Preparation Day.

Twenty thousand dollars has been expended on the grounds and buildings and some idea of the effect could be obtained this morning even in the disordered state of preparation which attends the opening day.

This year an attempt has been made to systematize the placing of exhibits to as large an extent as possible. The carnival and amusement places occupy the ground immediately to the west and south of the Lock Lock street entrance. West of this on the main lane of the midway are the automobile exhibits, which extend to the lane leading south from the George street entrance. Extending from east to west on the south side of the new manufacturers' building is "Gasoline Row," where the gas engine and implement exhibits are placed.

The laneway from the George St. Entrance is flanked on the east by the ends of the two main lanes running east and west and the Manufacturers' Building, and on the west by the Main Building and large Main Building Annex, and the Floral and Poultry Tents and stables.

To the west of this on the approach to the Grandstand, the refreshments booths are given allotments. They will not however be allowed to occupy the ground all the way to the grandstand, as in former years as this has led to much confusion and has inconvenienced those desiring to see the races and grand stand performeance but unable to secure acommodation in the stand.

Everything was in a state of preparation to-day and the majority of the exhibits will not be in place and completed until late to-night.

Special care has been taken this year by the exhibitors in preparing their exhibits and this was noticeable to-day even in the preparation.

The Manufacturers' Building will be the feature of the Fair. The exhibits being placed in its represent the first showing of Industrial Peterboroboro and the Exhibits have been tastefully planned.

The Maple Leaf Attractions and Superior Shows, Limited cover considerable ground and appear to be one of the best carnivals which has visited Peterboro in some time.

The members of the Exhibition Board were busy men this morning, and each was the centre of a little group of concessionaires and exhibitors, whose constant search for information and assistance must have driven the directors almost to distraction.

Close of Election

EXCITING BYE-ELECTION CONCLUDES TO-DAY IN COLCHESTER COUNTY

(Canadian Press)

TRURO, N. S., Sept. 20.—With voting to-day will close an exciting by-election contest in Colchester County, where Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Federal Minister of Public Works, is seeking re-election, opposed by Captain Hugh Dickson, representing the United Farmers, allied with Labor. Both sides claim to be certain of victory. The campaign in the interests of Mr. McCurdy brought many of the leading members of the Government, including Premier Meighen, Sir George Foster, Hon. Hugh Guthrey and others, to the country, while the United Farmers organization and Independent Labor Party fired the last shot of the campaign at a large meeting held here Saturday night. A number of prominent United Farmer organizers, including W. A. Burnaby, president of the U.F.O. of Ontario, assisted in the campaign.

To-day workers are as busy as bees getting out electors, and if the confidence expressed by both sides is any indication of the result the vote should be very close.

Ideal Weather.

(Canadian Press).

TRURO, Sept. 20. — With ideal weather conditions, the Colchester electors are turning out in large numbers. Reports coming in from the county state that a very heavy vote is being polled, and in some booths in this city four times as many votes had been polled up to noon as during the same period in any Provincial election. The consensus of opinion is that the Minister will poll a heavy vote in this city, while his opponent will receive strong support throughout the country district.

MOORE, ALLEGED SLAYER OF ELLIOTT, TAKEN IN WOODS

CAUGHT IN COMPANY WITH TWO FIFTEEN-YEAR-OLD GIRLS, ATTEMPTING TO BUY FOOD.

GIRLS DRESSED AS BOYS

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 20.—After roaming in the woods for almost one week, Wm. D. Mower alias Dougall Moore, alleged slayer of George Elliott, the East Korah farmer, was arrested yesterday six miles inland from Mile 60, on the Algoma Central Railway, while trying to purchase food for himself and his two alleged accomplices, Maggie Bock and Pearl Mouer, two girls only about fifteen.

Provincial Constable Clem Jordan and two members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police made the arrest, having received a clue that Moore was in the vicinity of Mile 60. The officers made the trip on a gasoline speeder over the railway, and effected the capture about 1.15 p.m. yesterday arriving back in the Sault at 6 p.m., and landing their prisoners safely in the District Jail.

Wilts at Sight of Rifles.

Moore completely wilted when he turned and saw the two rifles of the Mounted Police trained on him at a distance of about 100 feet, and when taken into custody by Provincial Constable Jordan willingly consented to take them to the place where the two girls were awaiting his arrival with the food he was to purchase for them.

Girls Still Dressed Like Boys.

When arrested the two girls were still dressed as boys, and this accounts for the slain man mistaking them for boys when he caught one of them crossing in front of his barn last Monday night when the tragedy occurred. During the interval in which they have been at large they travelled to Mile 60 at night, and slept in the bush through the day time. Consequently they were able to keep warm, and did not need a tent or any cover for sleeping.

Mounties Justify Presence.

Public sentiment here is greatly appreciative of the services of the Provinical Constable and the Mounted Police, whose presence in the Sault has been the subject of much criticism from certain quarters. The capture of Moore alone, it is now felt, justifies their presence in the Sault.

Girl's Father's Testimony.

At the inquest conducted by Coroner Dr. A. Sinclair and Crown Attorney G. W. Goodwin in the Library Hall here on Friday night, every available inch of standing room was occupied, and great interest was taken in the story of James Mouer, father of one of the girls, who in his testimony threw considerable light on the identity of Dougall Moore, who is thought to be the John Wilson who broke jail at Thessalon a few weeks ago, where he was incarcerated on a charge of stealing a motor boat.

James Mouer is being held in jail on a charge of assisting Dougall Moore and the two girls to escape.

Memorial Service Crowded.

Rev. J. S. Duncan, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, conducted the memorial service for the late Mr. George Elliott last night in the Princess Theatre, which was packed to the doors.

FRANCE WILL HAVE TO IMPORT WHEAT

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, Sept. 20.—France will have a wheat harvest totalling sixty-three million quintals which is just sufficient for the bread needs of the country until next harvest says the Figaro. It will be necesary to import about fifteen million quintals for seed and for other necessities of the people.

FINE WEATHER FOR FAIR TO-MORROW

TO-DAY'S RAIN JUST WHAT WAS WANTED TO CLEAR THE AIR

There is no doubt about it. We are going to have fine weather for the Fair during the next three days.

That's why the Board is using to-day as Preparation day. The rain is laying the dust. It's good for the exhibit of Flowers and Vegetables, and just what the Board has been wishing would happen. Everything has worked out according to programme so far and the Fair directors are optimists enough to believe that fine weather is guaranteed for the three big days and nights of the Fair.

KING GEORGE CABLES CONGRESS IN SESSION

(Canadian Press).

TORONTO, Sept. 20.—Recognition of the importance to the British Empire of the Congress of Chambers of Commerce, now in session here, was emphasized by King George in a cable message read to Congress this morning, in acknowledgment of loyal greetings expressed by Congress in a cablet sent on Saturday. Lord Stamfordham, King's secretary, cabled as follows:

"The King fully recognizes that these meetings are conducive, not only to commercial interests, but to the very unity of the Empire, and His Majesty wishes that all possible success may result from your deliberations."

Permanent Bureau.

Congress discussed the creation of a permanent bureau of standardized information on all colonial methods of valuing imports and exports, and decided on its establishment. A resolution was accompanied by protests against the exclusion of dominions and dependencies from representation on the Imperial Shipping Committee.

In moving a vote of thanks to the Imperial Government for having convened an Imperial statistical conference for the purpose of collecting and publishing Imperial statistics of resources, Stanley Machin said it was intended to form a permanent bureau of standardized colonial methods of valuing imports and exports, and that much in the future of commerce depended on such statistics.

FOCH ATTRIBUTED VICTORY TO GOD

BISHOP O'BRIEN MENTIONED INCIDENT OF HIS TRIP

His Lordship Bishop O'Brien received an affectionate welcome from the congregation of his former pastorate at the Church of the Sacred Heart on Sunday morning. It was the first visit since his return from Rome, and it was marked by the presentation of an address from the men of the parish, read by Mr. James Neary, and also a welcome from the children of the Sacred Heart School, for whom His Lordship has always been solicitous.

In his reply, Bishop O'Brien related some of the most important incidents of his trip, and told of an interview he had with Marshal Foch.

"Different Bishops told me that Marshal Foch is a saint," said Bishop O'Brien. "He is a holy man, and attends mass and receives communion daily just as he did when in command of the ten million to receive help and inspiration in the great work that was placed in his charge. In our conversation I asked him how he had won the war. Marshal Foch replied that 'he didn't win the war, that it was God Almighty Who had won the war, I was but a dumb instrument in His hands.' How many generals have we heard of, puffed up with pride after winning some little skirmish," remarked Bishop O'Brien, suggesting a contrast to the attitude of the Allied generalissimo in the world war.

HEAVY FROST FINISHED CORN AND TOMATOES

GOOD RAIN IS NEEDED TO IMPROVE PLOUGHING

Farmers to-day stated that Saturday night's frost finished the corn and tomatoes. Not a great deal of corn had been cut, and the frost killed practically all the crop that was standing. Ploughing is general throughout the country, but the ground is getting dry again, and a heavy rain is badly needed, they declare. Hay on the market to-day was selling at $28, although the farmers tried to shove up the price to the even $30. Hay is not being brought into the city in any quantity, and it is expected that when the crop starts coming in the price will undoubtedly fall.

THE EXAMINER

SWISS WORRIED BY PLOTS OF REFUGEES

ACTIVITIES OF FORMER KING CONSTANTINE SUBJECT OF OFFICIAL NOTE

GENEVA, Sept. 20.—The presence in Switzerland of many refuge ex-royalties is causing the authorities uneasiness Despite denial that the Greek Government had requested the expulsion of former King Constatine, I learn that notes have been exchanged between Switzerland and Greece concerning him and his plotting.

It is known that Constantine after arriving in Switzerland received 10,000,000 Swiss francs from Herr Simson, chief of the late German propagandist press service in Zurich. It is also known that Constantine has been paying sums of money through his aide de camp to professional propagandists and agitators, some of whom have been obliged to leave Switzerland for Germany. Frau Sophie, Constantine's wife and sister of the ex-Emperor of Germany, is no less busy plotting.

The 10,000,000 francs which he received from Simson is explained as having been subscribed by tobacco manufacturers in Germany, the United States and Italy to whom Constantine is said to have promised a tobacco monopoly in Greece after his restoration.

Another ex-royalty whose presence is causing Switzerland to fear international complications is Charles Hapsburg, ex-Emperor of Austria-Hungary. His castle near Geneva is the continual meeting place of Austrian and particularly Hungarian royalists.

Charles, who a year ago complained of lack of money and asked the British Government to advance a loan on the security of jewels which he brought from Austria, now seems to lack nothing Hardly a day passes without his giving luncheon or dinner parties to royalists visiting him, and he had almost as many servants and attendants as at Schonbrunn.

As the League of Nations will so soon be established in Geneva, many Swiss insist that Switzerland should first be rid of all these ex-royalists, as otherwise she may again become that plotting ground of Europe which she was during the war. It is thought that some island might be found for the ex-Emperor of Austria and Constantine and all other princes and princelings with whom the world does not quite know what to do and whose presence in the heart of Europe is becoming dangerous.

Many Constantinian and Hapsberg-in agents are known to have applied to United States Consulates in Switzerland for permission to go to America, but unsuccessfully. Some then left for Holland and tried under assumed names and with false passports to get American vises. Some perhaps succeeded, but the United States passport service is so efficient that fraud is generally detected.

TIME LOST BY STRIKES LAST MONTH REDUCED

FEWER LABOUR TROUBLES IN AUGUST THAN IN SAME MONTH YEAR AGO

The loss of time on account of industrial disputes was less during August, 1920, than during July, 1920, or August, 1919, says the current issue of the Labor Gazette. There were in existence at some time or other during the month 23 strikes, involving about 4,812 workpeople, and resulting in a time loss of 79,482 working days, as compared with 49 strikes, 6,734 workpeople and 80,221 working days in July, 1920; and 46 strikes, 24,511 work people and 365,062 working days in August, 1919. On August 1 there were on record 14 strikes, affecting 1,009 work people. Nine strikes were reported as having commenced during August, as compared with 20 in July. Four of the strikes commencing prior to August and four of these commencing during August were reported terminated, leaving 15 strikes involving about 744 work people on record at the end of the month.

HEADLIGHT ACT DELAYED.

Ontario Government Not Yet Decided Upon Standard Lens.

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—Through the Provincial Act making it an offence for automobile owners to carry glaring headlights, is now in effect, there are to be no prosecutions against violators until the Ontario Government decides upon a standard non-glare lens. The Ottawa Police Department has received notification to this effect. An official of the Police Department reports that a suitable headlight lens has not been found by the provincial authorities, and that until they do, the law will remain as heretofore.

Mileage Meters Sell These Tires

Goodyear Truck Tire Sales in Canada outdistance those of any other make.

The best truck tire salesman Goodyear has, is the mileage meter.

In practically every case where a truck owner has kept exact mileage records, Goodyear Truck Tires have been found to give lowest cost-per-mile.

This was doubly proved in the famous Goodyear Solid Truck Tire test when we offered to replace free any Goodyear Solid Truck Tire which did not give greater mileage than a competing tire on the opposite wheel of the same truck—no matter what the price of the competing tire.

Three factors combine to give you such outstanding value in Goodyear Solid Truck Tires

1—High quality materials and scientific design.

2—Goodyear Service, rendered by Goodyear Truck Tire Service Stations, which keeps tires in shape and trucks in action.

3—A fair, made-in-Canada price, made possible only by building Goodyear Solid Truck Tires in Canada and paying duty on raw materials only.

Truck tires represent an investment of several hundred dollars a year to you. Take time to talk to a Goodyear Truck Tire man. No obligation. Phone, wire or write the nearest branch or service station.

SALE WHERE EARLY BIRD DOESN'T CATCH THE WORM

KINGSTON, Sept. 20.—When it comes to big business through the cash and carry system much credit must be given to T. R. Carnovsky, Kingston's veteran fruit dealer, who has placed his business on a most successful basis. Mr. Carnovsky conducts special sales every day, but one he held last Saturday is worthy of special mention. Mr. Carnovsky disposed of 1,500 baskets of plums between noon and 10 p.m., his system being to lower the price of his plums at the rate of 25 cents per basket every hour. As a result the Saturday night shoppers going home late carried home with them a basket of choice plums at 25 cents, and at this price they secured a big bargain. People who went home earlier in the evening, of course, had to pay a higher price.

Mr. Carnovsky, who has spent many years in the fruit business, has carried on many sales in this manner, but this last sale referred to has been put down as one of his greatest.

FIRST CENSUS IN JAPAN.

Many Citizens Disturbed by Fear of Personal Questions.

TOKIO.—Japan's preparations for beginning the first census on October 1 are causing many persons extreme perturbation.

Scores have visited the authorities or written praying that their past be not disclosed or examined because they have changed their names on account of family dissensions or other reasons.

The authorities are kept busy issuing tranquilizing notes explaining that the census is merely a scientific investigation to determine the present state of the empire and is not actuated by any desire to probe into the nasts of the populace.

DISCUSSES CANADA'S RAILROAD POLICY

NEW YORK, SEPT. 20.—The Wall Street Journal, in an editorial on Canada's railroad policy, declares the declaration of the Government to effect increases in passenger and freight rates, roughly corresponding to those put into effect in the United States, is significant as it means that the Government portion of the Canadian railroad plant is to be supported by the users thereof rather than by the whole body of taxnayers. The move, the paper declares, is reassuring to the owners and patrons of the C.P.R. as well as to the inhabitants of the vast teritory it serves and is yet to develop, as it in an indication that "it will not have to compete with a state system of equal or greater extent, manged according to political expediency and depending upon the annual tax budget to make both ends meet."

"Canada is even more in need of transportation pioneering than the United States", the paper concludes. "The beneficent consequences of its prompt decision to adhere to correct first principles will be first felt within the Dominion, but must in time extend far beyond its borders."

EGGS AND POULTRY

Toronto unchanged, Montreal dealers paying sixty sixty-three for new-laid at country points. Jobbing unchanged. Storage stocks in Toronto September 1st, one hundred and nine thousand three hundred and forty-one cases. The United States Government report of storage stocks of frozen poultry September 1st is twenty-one million two hundred and ninety-three thousand five hundred and fifty-nine pounds. Chicago and New York unchanged.

WILL PROBATED.

Maitland Grover, Norwood, and W. A. Skeans, barrister, Toronto, have been granted probate of the will of Mrs. Mary A. K. Gibson, widow of Rev. J. Gibson, formerly rector of Thornhill, who died in Toronto, Aug. 7, leaving her home at 6 Lonsdale Road, valued at $11,000, and $7,500 personal estate. She left $1,000 each to John Grover, 597 Indian Road, Toronto, and Octavia, Birmingham, England; her forks and spoons to Irwin Grover and Marcella Gibson; her house and household goods to her godson, Percival E. Grover, New York, on condition that he resides in the house and keeps the furniture together, otherwise the house and furniture are to be sold and distributed among her nieces and nephews. The residue is to be divided equally between her nieces and nephews—Percival Grover, New York; Maitland and Jasper Grover, Norwood; Trevor Grover, England; Greig, Louise and George Grover, Toronto.

"It is my wish and desire that my nephew, Maitland Grover, shall take care of my dogs," reads the final clause of the will.

VALUABLE APPLE CROP.

Thirty-four thousand dollars for the apples of one orchard is the record price which will be paid a Durham farmer, Mr. Gibson, who resides near Newcastle. He has one hundred acres of orchard and the apple crop will total eight thousand barrels. Mr. Gibson has disposed of the entire lot to a Toronto firm at $4.25 per barrel, or a total of $34,000.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1920.

A PIONEER GONE.

The Grim Reaper has removed another familiar figure from the ranks of Peterboro's citizenship. In the death of ex-Mayor William Yelland, the city has lost one of her oldest and best known residents. For nearly three-quarters of a century—since 1851—the deceased had lived here. In that long span of years he had seen Peterboro grow from a mere hamlet into a flourishing and prosperous city. Towards that advancement Mr. Yelland himself contributed his services and time. For fourteen years he served his fellow-citizens as a member of the council and for two terms occupied the Chief Magistrate's chair. Even in his declining years he took a keen interest in municipal and public affairs. Many citizens will feel a personal loss and grief in his death and will extend a full measure of sympathy to the bereaved family. His is another name on the long list of pioneers of Peterboro who have within the past year or two passed on to join the great majority.

THE THOROLD CASE.

The arrest of a number of Thorold citizens suspected of having been implicated in the rioting during which David McNeal was nearly lynched and the town hall was badly damaged by fire, is being deprecated by a few thoughtless people, but the great majorityy of Canadians will heartily approve of the step taken by the provincial authorities. In this country we have always taken a pride in the fact that the practice of lynching has been confined to sections of the United States and the outbreak at Thorold has been deeply regretted as a crime against Canadian justice. It would have been an even greater matter for regret had the outrage been allowed to pass without official notice and the offenders permitted to go unpunished. Respect for British methods of justice and confidence in British courts are inherent in the minds of the Canadian people and they realize that there is no justification for, nor necessity of, copying the lawless methods of some of the States to the south of us, where they refuse to admit that a man charged with a serious crime should have a fair trial and a chance to establish his innocence. If there are other people in Canaad like the offenders at Thorold who believe in lynch law the present case would seme to a splendid opportunity to impress upon them the fact that this country believes in justice and fair play.

MR. MOORE'S RE-ELECTION.

In the re-election of President Tom Moore as executive head of the Dominion Trades and Labour Congress, the labour forces of Canada are to be congratulated, and the choice of Mr. Moore should be approved by the country generally. His leadership has always been along sane and reasonable lines; he has ever fought against the activities of the Red element in labour, and waged increasing warfare against the intrusion of the One Big Union. There has not been the slightest doubt of his patriotism, of his desire that any reforms that were brought about should be effected by constitutional methods. His re-election and the augmenting of his salary by the Congress, are convincing proof that the great majority of those connected with organized labour in Canada are resolved that the red flag has no place in this country. Coupled with the action of the Labour Congress in defeating all the Socialistic resolutions forwarded by the Toronto Trades and Labour Council, the fact that Mr. Moore has been again chosen as Dominion leader leaves the assurance that the Bolshevik section of Canadian organized labour, talkative though it may be, cannot be accepted as representative in any way of the great mass of the workers.

Hunter Street EAST CITY

THEATRICAL PESTS

A visit to Peterboro theatres just now offers unpleasant evidence that the city is infested to a considerable degree with misguided individuals who believe that humour in its highest form is exemplified by greeting every osculatory episode on the stage or silver sheet with a loud imitation of a kiss or by giggling in the midst of a dramatic climax, or by making a noise when some artist is endeavoring to sing. Why it should be considered funny to burlesque a stage kiss is difficult to see but these clever young gentlemen persist in doing so upon every possible occasion, regardless of the effect upon the people on the stage or of the annoyance of the greater part of the audience. In recent attractions of high merit the effect of some of the best scenes has been spoiled by these would-be humourists in the gallery and the people who go to the theatre to enjoy the work of the company would doubtless be glad to learn that an effort is to be made to single out the amateur comedians and have them removed. Certainly their presence is not conductive to an evening's enjoyment or to a successful theatrical performance. Their work is neither amusing nor novel—it is merely noisy and vulgar, and the offenders should be impressed with the fact in the only way that would appeal to the imagination of such shallow brained individuals by being invited to enjoy the fresh air.

BUILDING THEATRES.

Some people are expressing alarm over the fact that a very large percentage of the new building now going on in the Dominion of Canada consists of structures for the exhibition of moving pictures. We hesitate to say just what the percentage is, for it would require a more careful compilation of statistics than is at present available; but the most casual observation will show that there are in process of erection, in almost every centre of population in this Dominion, from one to four large new theatres for the exhibition of moving pictures or of moving pictures combined with vaudeville. Since other varieties of building activity are compartively quiet, is is obvious that the proportion of new amusement structures to new structures of other kinds, industrial, residential or commercial, is certainly an abnormal one.

It may be doubted whether there is any real reason for alarm in this situation. We are at present passing through a period of revolution in the habits of the masses of the population. Bth the leisure time and the surplus wealth of the wage-earning classes have been increased in the last few years to an unprecedented extent, and it is not unnatural that a considerable part of both of these should be devoted to the more attractive forms of amusement. Coincident with this change in the situation of the wage-earning classes has come to serve up at a very low price in any community of a few hundred population an entertainment of exactly the same quality in all respects at that which is served up to audiences gathered together in the greatest metropolitan cities of the world. Ten years ago, these wage-earners and their families, even if they had had much surplus time and surplus money to expend upon amusement, could not have attained to anything better than an inferior and colorless imitation of a London or New York stage performance. The same economic revolution, had it happened ten years ago, would doubtless have increased somewhat the attendance at the ordinary theatres. But it would certainly have increased it by nothing like the total number of attendances which have been achieved by the new form of artistic representation.

There is doubtless a saturation point in moving picture entertainment as in all other forms of business. It not infrequently happens that expansion is at its liveliest just before the saturation point is reached. But we may not reach it immediately. There is still in progress a steady movement of population towards the cities and away from the rural portions of the country, and as the average city dweller is assuredly good for three moving picture performances as against the rural dweller's one, this movement in itself represents a natural increase in the moving picture clientele.

The moving pitcure habit may be an extravagance, but it is a very moderate extravagance, compared with some others which are largely practised by the people of this country, nor do we fancy that it is one which is likely to be readily abandoned even in a period of relative industrial and commercial quietude. The films are doubtless by no means all that they might be in respect of their improving effect upon the intelligence or moral character of their beholders, but they are improving and will continue to improve. Probably the worst thing about them is the astounding mechanical nature of their plots and episodes. In scarcely any other field of art is it so completely impossible to tell the work of any one artist from that of any other as is the case of film producers, and one is forced to the conclusion that individuality is swamped under the enormous burden of the mechanical processes and the weight of the organization. This will have to remedy itself in time. It is probable that the artistic regeneration of the film will first come from some European country rather than from the United States, which is at present the controlling force in movie production. —Journal of Commerce.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

There is keen speculation as to whether the girls who wore furs all summer will take them off now that the cooler weather is here.

SAVE THE ELECTRICITY.

If people realized how much it costs to keep their electric lights burning constantly they would take more pains to turn them off when not required. The ordinary guaranteed life of an electric lamp is 1,000 hours. Burning 24 hours a day this means a lamp will last 41 days. But burning only five hours a day, the same lamp would last for 200 days. A 60 watt lamp is worth 40 cents. Where there are 10 lamps installed, therefore, the cost for lamps on a 24-hour basis would be over $35 a year, and on a five-hour basis less than $10, or a saving of $25 in a year in outlay on lamps, or just about twice as much as the cost of the current for the 10 lamps, which would be $12.96 in a residence. Even if the lamp averaged twice the guaranteed life the saving in cutting them off when not required would still be equal to the cost of the current.

PRESERVING PEARS.

Pears are prepared for canning by careful peeling and coring. Care in peeling will add greatly to the appearance of the finished article. A good coring device is on the market. This little coring knife enables one to gouge out the core after the pear has been cut in half. This also gives the halved pear a neater appearance and saves wasting a good deal of the fruit. Pears rapidly discolour by exposure to air, and it is well to hold them in dishes of cold water until one is ready to proceed with the canning. Never add salt to the water, as it is very liable to leave a permanent salty flavour.

After peeling, the pears are handled just as peaches and plums. The syrup used on pears, however, need one minute. Follow this by a cold dip only be 35 per cent., which is obtained by using one imperial gallon of water and five pounds six ounces of sugar. The time for boiling the packed jars should be 20 minutes for quarts.

TEACHER'S FAULT.

A school teacher received the following note: "Dear Madam.—Please excus my tommy to-day, he don't come to skule because he is acting as timekeeper for his father, and it is your fault. U gave him a example, if a field is 5 miles around how long will it take a man walking three and one-half miles per hour to walk two and one-fourth times around it? Tommy ain't a man so we sent his father. They went early this morning, and father will walk around the field and tommy will time him, but please don't give my boy such examples agin, because my husband must go to work at Mack's every day to support his family."

GREAT LAKE SAILORS AT SAULT ON STRIKE

SAULTE STE. MARIE, Sept. 17—One hundred Great Lakes sailors are to be seen in downtown streets following a complete walkout by crews of four Canadian freighters Wednesday, which came as a result of strike order from the secretary of the International Seamen's Union at Midland, which was issued when steamship companies made no answer to union demands for revised scale of wages. The steamship companies were notified of a new scale on the first of September and given to the 15th to answer, but with no word forthcoming, men abandoned vessels by degress yesterday, and this morning the four boats, which are ore or coal carriers unloaded and due to clear, had only captain, engineers and mates on board, and were lying idle at the dock of the Algoma Steel Corporation here.

Several passenger boats of the C.P.R. Company, due are not expected at the Government dock, word having ben received that they are tied up at other places as a result of the strike, which is spreading to all ports. The walkout is general, including deck hands, watchmen, stewards, cooks, wheelsmen, etc. The fires on the boats are beinng kept up by the few men on board. The scale of wages demanded includes an increase not from $60, the present monthly wage, to $80 for coal passers and deck hands an increase of $20 for wheelsmen, boatswains, firemen, cooks, porters and stewards.

TREATED AS CIVILIANS.

Soldiers' Re-establishment is Put on Different Basis.

OTTAWA, Sept. 18.—The Department of Soldiers' Civilian Re-Establishment has decreed that the employment of returned soldiers should now be reduced to a civilian basis. The Employment Branch has about completed its work, and in the regular labor agencies returned men are now to be treated as civilians rather than emphasizing their service. This applies especially to those who have returned in good physical shape rather than to such as are being released from institutions after training and treatment.

A man is never so easily deceived as when when he is trying to deceive others.

Fat That Shows Soon Disappears

Prominent fat that comes and stays where it is not needed is a burden; a hindrance to activity, and a curb upon pleasure. Many forms of advice to reduce weight have been advanced, such as dieting, hard work, excessive exercise, etc., all of which are either unpleasant or dangerous.

The latest, more modern and pleasant way to take off burdensome fat, is to take, after each meal and at bedtime, a Marmola Tablet. These little tablets are as effective and harmless as the famous Marmola Prescription from which they take their name.

To get rid of fat at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week, simply take one of these little tablets after each meal and at bedtime until you have reduced your weight to where you want it. No wrinkles or flabbiness will remain to show where the fat came off.

They are for sale by all druggists at $1 for a good size box. If you prefer to have them come to you direct by mail, prepaid, in plain sealed cover, send amount to the Marmola Co., 97 Garfield Building, Detroit, Mich., and bid goodbye to dieting, exercise and fat. ENGLISH SERVANT UNFAIRLY TREATED IN CANADIAN HOME

SERVANT'S WAGES WERE $15 A MONTH, BUT $10 A MONTH WAS DEDUCTED FOR PASSAGE.

Servant trouble in Canada, according to a woman in the Dominion writing to The London Daily Telegraph, is trouble for the servant and the employer, as one story goes, seems to be doing a little profiteering. If there are any of these "bright, neatly dressed" English girls who wish to enter domestic service, says an employer, they had better find their way to the States, and they will be sure of a welcome and surely something better than $5 a month, $10 being deducted for passage money from England.

This is what the Canadian woman has to say:

"The writer talked recently with an English girl who had been in Canada about nine months, a bright, neatly dressed girl, of the type who should succeed anywhere. Finding that she was dissatisfied with conditions in the Domnion, the writer, who, while never advocating emigration for office and factory workers, has always regarded Canada as really a 'land of opportunity' for domestic servants, spoke of the better conditions in Canada and the higher wages, only to find that the cause of the girl's discontent was the fact that she was being paid $15 a month (about £3 sterling), $10 a month of which was deducted by her employer as a refund of her passage money. The man she works for is a salaried Government official, and yet he and his wife expect this girl who looks after their children and home to clothe herself decently on $5 a month, and that sum will purchase very little in Canada in these times.

"The girl explained that when she wanted to buy a pair of boots, for instance, she saved her $5 until her next pay day, when by putting the two months' wages together, she was able to do so. Two months seems a long time to do cleaning, cooking and washing and the hundred-and-one other things which make up housework, in order to earn money to buy a pair of boots. Even if she had been paid the $15 a month without the deduction she would not have had much to spare for recreative purposes, and saving would have been an impossibility unless she was unusually thrifty.

"Canadians will say that the case is exceptional. They said so in the case of a Canadian girl of the writer's acquaintance who, while she was paid $25 a month, was hardly even given meat to eat, and who had to take her choice of spending all her evenings, except one week, in a stuffy kitchen or stifling attic bedroom. (It is not generally known that Canadian summers are very warm — much more so than English ones). The case may be exceptional as regards the food—one hopes it was — but inquiries among the domestic servants of the writer's acquaintance have failed to find one who rejoices in the luxury of a sitting room — though she is not advocating sitting rooms for domestics at present.

"At the time the Canadian Council of Immigration held its conference the statement was made that 'never again will any one be able to say that a British immigrant girl has been ill-treated in Canada.' This English girl has not been ill-treated, but no just person will admit that she has been fairly treated. If she had not had a good supply of clothing when she came out she would now be too shabbily dressed to secure decently paid work, and be classed as another of England's 'cailures.' There is no protection against such exploitation of British immigrant girls, as the writer knows to her sorrow. The Department of Immigration does not even pretend to be a wage-collecting agency though when cases of unusual hardship have been brought to the attention of the officials they have been known to render assistance.

"But there is no need for a girl to come to Canada and take domestic work at $15 a month. The English girl, having borrowed the amount still owing on her passage money—and she must have paid considerable interest on her employer's original expenditure—has been re-employed at $25 a month in a house where another maid is kept, and her duties will naturally be lighter.

"No immigrant girl should take work at less than $20 a month, and if engaged before leaving her native land for Canada she should obtain a written agreement not only as to wages, but as to when wages will be paid, and the agreement should also cover hours off and general living condition. No one is more anxious than the writer to see the emigration to Canada of part of England's surplus population, but the girl who comes out here and works for less wages than her due is not only suffering unnecessary hardship herself, but making conditions harder for others. If she returns to England and tell the true story of her disillusionment and disappointment, she interferes with a very necessary emigration propaganda, and the Canadian people who take part in the exploitation of emmigrants are not wise enough to see that they themselves are holding back the development of what promises to be a fine country."—New York Times.

It has been the preferred choice of over 40,000 Canadian homes. That half-century's record alone bespeaks its wonderful merit. But still more significant is the fact that during the year just past, more Gerhard Heintzman pianos were sold than in any other year. This popularity we regard as the greatest of all tributes paid to the beauty of tone, the symmetry of design and the superior quality which mark the Gerhard Heintzman as one of the few great pianos of the world.

MAIL FLIERS WERE BURNED TO DEATH

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18.—Strapped in their seats in one of the new Junker type all-metal airplanes installed in the Air Mail Service between New York and Chicago, Walter Stevens, pilot of the plane, known as the "pathfinder" of the Air Mail Service, and Russell Thomas, his mechanic, were burned to death Tuesday afternoon when the gasoline tank of their plane exploded after they made a forced landing near Pemberville, between Cleveland and Toledo.

Stevens and Thomas, the latter of Cleveland, are the third and fourth to die in two weeks in the same sort of accident.

According to dispatches from Toledo, residents of Woodville, a few miles from Pemberville, noticed the plane's flight this afternoon because of the low altitude at which it was flying and the noise its engine made, which they reported sounded as if the machinery were disabled.

They believed that Stevens was trying to find a safe landing for the plane, for the flyer headed up again to 1,500 feet altitude almost at once, and then headed for a pasture of the farm owned by Fred Samson, north of Pemberville.

As they saw the plane descending for the field, the watchers made for the Samson farm.

The plane landed apparently in safety but as it did so, however, the gasoline tank exploded, and the engine was driven forty feet into the soil, while everything inflammable in the plane broke into flames. By the time the fire was put out both men were dead.

Postmaster George N. Lathrop of Toledo announced he would hold the remains of the wreck at Toledo until further orders from the heads of the mail service.

Pilot Stevens, who was 40 years old, had helped to plot the first postal air route from New York. In the last few weeks, he had been flying over the Rocky Mountains in an attempt to lay out the air mail route between Chicago and the Pacific. His home was in Riversjde, Cal.

Thomas, the mechanician, lived at 645 East 126th Street, Cleveland, and had been married but four days.

This was to have been Steven's last trip as an air mail pilot. He had just signed a contract to do work for the Glenn L. Martin Company plant and was to have begun in his new position to-day.

The explosion scattered the 400 pounds of mail carried by the plane over the Samson farm. Postmaster J. S. Gotsell of Luckey, near Pemberville, took charge of all mail that could be found.

LOCAL ANAESTHETICS.

(By Reg Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S. Editor "Oral Hygiene,") ... ...

The local anaesthetic is a medicine that temporarily takes away the sensation of feeling from one part of the body, leaving the rest of the body with its normal sensation. We use the word "local" to differentiate this type, of anaesthetic from the "general" anaesthetic, which takes away the sensation from the entire body by putting the patient to sleep.

The first local anaesthetic was cocaine. It was used with varying success, but with a great deal of danger, for a number of years. The desirability of a local anaesthetic and the danger of cocaine poisoning finally resulted in a series of experiments to find out the exact chemical contents of cocaine. This, fortunately, was discovered, and to-day we have a substance called Novocaine—or in use the proper Government word, Procaine. This Procaine is what we call a synthetic product. A synthetic is a chemical imitation of a natural drug. Procaine contains all of the elements of cocaine except the poison, and in addition it is much more uniform in its strength. The results from its use have been truly remarkable. By using procaine, the dentist is able to take away the sensation from any part of the face or jaws that he may desire.

Formerly the local anaesthetic was injected with a hypodermic syringe around the exact spot where the operation was to be performed. But nowadays the injection is made any point upon the main branch of the nerve that supplies the area to be operated upon, and the entire nerve branch is temporarily desensitised so that pain is absent. The use of the local anaesthetic in nerve blocking, as this method is called, was almost entirely developed by investigators in America. Fortunately, we are now able to manufacture in this country all of the synthetic drugs that are necessary, so that we never again will be caught with a local anaesthetic famine, as we were at the beginning of the war.

POLICE SEARCH SHOPS FOR CLUE

identifying it as the head was the one part of the body not affected by the blast. These policemen, it is understood, measured the head and estimated the probable height of the animal.

Weight of Opinion.

All competent investigating authorities reached the conviction that Thursday's disaster in Wall street was a willfully criminal bomb explosion.

With the whole weight of expert opinion solidly against any hypothesis of accident, the entire energy of Government agents, the District Attorney's office and the police was directed to tracing the horse and wagon on which they are virtually certain the infernal contrivance stood before the new Assay Office.

Colonel William C. Mead of 52 Euclid Avenue, Hackensack, N.J., chief clerk for J. P. Morgan & Co., whose banking house shared with the new Assay Office the greater brunt of the terrific detonation, announced that the man who shoed the horse had been found. Colonel Mead said this blacksmith asserted he knew the owner of the horse. The Colonel did not amplify this information, and in official circles there was impressive reticence regarding it.

The authorities did not even verify the discovery of evidence of such profound importance, though throughout their first dull day of investigation they frankly had regarded the identity of the vehicle's ownership as the pivotal point upon which must hinge any successful effort to find and punish the guilty.

$20,500 Rewards Offered.

So much emphasis was laid upon the need for finding out who owned the horse and wagon, who drove it, and from where it had come, that the Board of Estimate, at a special meeting called by Mayor Hylan, after offering a reward of $10,000 for the arrest and conviction of the single criminal or the conspirators involved, profered an additional $500 to any one who could solve the question of ownership. The Preferred Accident Insurance Company offered another $10,000 for identification and conviction, making a total of $20,500 to stimulate the hunt.

The conclusion that the explosion was a piece of calculated cunningly planned and deftly executed wholesale murder rested upon the results of three lines of investigation—study of the aftermath by men with wide knowledge of explosives and their behavior, autopsies by skilled pathologists on the bodies of many victims, and the elimination by the Fire Department's Bureau of Combustibles of any tenable belief in an accident connected with the lawful transport of explosive.

Property Damage.

Estimates of the property damage wrought by the explosion were vague though the general opinion seemed to be that $2,000,000 would cover it.

Approximately $600,000 will be required to replace the broken glass in the windows, doors and skylights. This estimate includes the wages of workmen as well as the cost of glass, and is considered as very conservative. One man said that it would be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

Securities Recovered.

Reports to the New York Stock Exchange indicated that from $250,000 to $300,000 worth of securities had been lost in the explosion, but that all except $21,000 worth had been recovered. Stocks and bonds were picked up throughout the stricken district, the majority of the recoveries and returns being made by individuals in no way connected with the police.

FEEL IT THEIR DUTY TO TELL OTHERS ABOUT TANLAC, STATES COTE

"Both my wife and I have derived so much benefit from Tanlac that we feel it our duty to tell others about it," said Gaudias Cote, 137 Broiseau Street, Quebec.

"For a good many years I was in a run-down condition with stomach trouble. Everything I ate upset me. I had the worst kind of headaches, and got so weak that I could hardly work.

"Tanlac gave me a splendid appetite, and I can eat a good, square meal and not have any trouble with my stomach afterwards. I quickly picked up strength, and am now feeling so much better that I can do my work without getting tired.

"My wife was in a badly run-down condition, too. She had indigestion and could eat very little, and had become so weak she had to lie down much of the time. Her nerves, too, were in a bad state.

"When she saw what Tanlac was doing for me, she tried it, too, and is not troubled with indigestion now, and is so much stronger that she can do her housework without any difficulty. Her nerves are quiet and she says she feels better than she ever did before in her life."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son. (Advt.)

MUCH FALLING OFF IN REGISTERED LETTERS

Since cost of registering a letter has advanced from 5 cents to 10 cents there has been a noticeable falling off in the number of letters registered. Thousands of dollars in actual money it is stated, is pasing through the mails daily without registration protection. This was a practice before the increase, but there has been a marked increase since. People are risking loss of money rather than pay the additional 5 cents to have it protected. The revenue from registered mail on the 10 cent basis will greatly exceed the revenue when the fee was 5 cents.

THE NEW CLINIC NEARLY COMPLETED

CONTRACTORS ARE WORKING ON INTERIOR OF BUILDING

Although the contractors have been greatly handicapped because of the difficulty in procuring building materials the Standard Medical and Surgical Clinic, being erected by the contracting firm of Ephgraves and Barrett at the corner of Charlotte and Reid street, the exterior work on the building is now complete and the interior is being rushed to completion. Plastering on the first floor was begun to-day, having been delayed for some time because of the inability of the contractors to get the necessary supplies of lime. A hard wall finish was at first planned, but this had to be abandoned. Some of the partitions are up on the second floor and the remaining work and lathing will be completed shortly.

The cement in the basement is all in and there only remains some plastering to be done. The plumbing and heating apparatus is being installed now by A. W. Archibald and the building has been wired by Alexander and Miller.

The floors will be of marbloid, a composition flooring which will be put down by the manufacturers.

The entrance to the building will be of marble cut by the Vermont Marble Co.

Two Months.

Mr. Ephgraves stated to-day that the building should be entirely finished within a couple of months, but because of the unstability of the building supplies market a definite date cannot be predicted.

This imposing building is attracting many visitors eager to see the plans of the structure, although the interior is yet only in an embryo stage.

Dr. G. S. Cameron, one of the directors and chairman of the committee in charge of the work, when seen by The Examiner recently stated that there was nothing new to add to their original plans announced in the press. He replied in the negative when asked if there was any new doctors added to the personnel of the clinic. "There might be something further to add later on," he stated.

HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICE CONCLUDES

SPECIAL MUSIC PROVIDED BY THE CHOIR

The Harvest Festival services concluded last night with fully choral evensong. Archdeacon Davidson expressed appreciation of the splendid work of all who had helped in any way to forward the success of the thanksgiving services. The musical part was ably rendered by the choir, numbering nearly fifty voices, under the able direction of Mr. R. J. Devey—hymns, psalms, and anthems replete with the great theme of thanksgiving. Service forms were used for the Te Deum and Magnificat, and the anthems used were "He watereth the Hills" and "Praise the Lord," with solo for tenor and bass, sung by Mr. Alf. Marshall and Mr. Fred Johnson. Processional and Recessional hymns were sung, the choir entering and leaving the church by the south entrance, and the long, white-robed band of singers was a very impressive sight reaching from the chancel steps to the door of the nave. During the morning service the rector spoke of the choir as a body of splendid workers, of whose work in leading the service of worship they were all justly proud. Coming so early in the season, it is surely a great tribute to the vitality of the choir that a festival season which makes heavy demands on all its members should be so successful.

EX-KING MANUEL URGES ALL PORTUGUESE TO UNITE.

LISBON, Portugal.—A long letter is printed here from Manuel, ex-King of Portugal, to his representative here, Councillor Ayres Dornee'des, who is in prison, advising the union of all Portuguese citizens in view of the grave crisis Portugal is suffering, the worst since 1580. The letter urges the conservative forces to unite and form a barrier for the purpose of defending from anarchy those who want order restored in the country.

Manuel says his letter is not advocacy of war, but on the contrary an appeal which he makes from exile to his partisans and all Portuguese to save their country and its honour. He urges the necessity of amnesty for political prisoners as indispensable for the union of all Portuguese. Although he does not abdicate his principles, he is ready to do all in his power for his country when it is in danger. He concludes the letter by saying he will continue to work in England, which is Portugal's traditional ally, for the good of his country.

PRESENTATION TO MR. AND MRS. ELDRED

PLEASING INCIDENT AT CLOSE OF SERVICE IN ST. JOHN'S

At the conclusion of evensong last night in St. John's vestry, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas I. Eldred were presented with a handsome inlaid tray in honour of their wedding, which took place last week. In asking Archdeacon Davidson to formally present the gift, Mr. R. J. Devey in a few happily chosen words, referred to the services of M. and Mrs. Eldred in the choir, which were of more value than mere words could convey, and hoped that they would be spared for a happy married life, and a long connection with their chorister friends. It would never be forgotten by them all that Sergt. D. J. Eldred had been absent from them in the King's service for four years. Archdeacon Davidson presented the gift, and said that he felt the greatest pleasure in so doing, wished the couple every happiness in what was indeed a choristerss romance.

Mr. Eldred expressed hearty thanks to the assembled company on behalf of Mrs. Eldred and himself.

CANADIAN SHOES FOR CANADIAN PEOPLE

Canada—Why?

IS it really worth while to develop institutions and industries which are distinctively Canadian, and which promote the welfare and prosperity of the Canadian people? Of course it is!

Are we wasting our time and energy in training Canadian ability and encouraging Canadian enterprise? Of course not!

CANADA is more than an accident of geography. The magnificent record of effort made by Canadians in the great European struggle bears witness that the peaceful and unhindered development of the Canadian ideal should be maintained.

The future of Canada depends upon the sincere and earnest self-expression of Canada's millions of workers—at the plough, the loom, the forge—in the factory, the office and the home. And loyalty to Canada is best expressed, not in bursts of patriotic emotion on state occasions, but in supporting and sustaining Canadian enterprise and Canadian industry.

Canada produces footwear of every desirable type, and of standard quality in all grades. Buy Made in Canada Footwear and you get that assured of the utmost that modern skill can produce in Comfort, Fit and Style.

GENEROUS GIVING VERSUS SELFISH GRASPING

(BY ARCHDEACON J. C. DAVIDSON)

At the closing service of the Harvest Festival last night in St. John's, Archdeacon Davidson, in plain and pointed language dealt with the duty and attitude of Churchmen and Christians generally towards the prevailing tide of selfishness now sweeping over the world, and basing his remarks on Acts xx., 35: "So labouring ye ought to support the weak and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus how He said it is more blessed to give than to receive," in which the central words, labour, support and give were emphasized by the speaker.

God's nature of love found distinct, constant and bountiful expression in giving as typified by the harvest emblems before them. Every man with a heart was impelled by the Divine bounty to thanksgiving and praise and in the attitude of this glad worship he was enabled to receive higher spiritual gifts found to be unending in number and variety.

But in his approach to the loving God, man became necessarily not only an increasing receiver but also a participator in the Divine life and the Divine giving, just as if a body approached the sun it not only received warmth but also to some extent necessarily reflected and gave it forth.

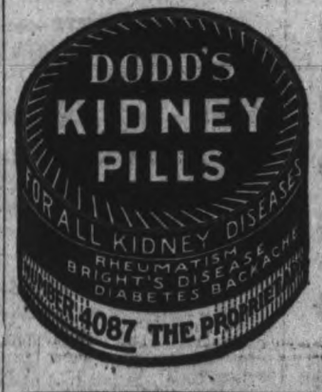
"Close and constant association with a generous or lofty man brought out like qualities, and how much more through contact with God. It was simply impossible for us to be to some extent generous, big-hearted, glad to give and help and support. As the bliss of heaven lay in loving unselfish giving as opposed to selfish getting, so the welfare and happiness of God's people as well as the distinctive character of God's kingdom on earth must necessarily lie in the general and free exercise of unselfish qualities. We had to choose between the distinctive maxims of the kingdom and the equally distinctive maxims of the world which were exercising such power today.

Look at some of these absolutely mistaken and cursed principles, "Blessed are the biggest getters, for they shall inherit the kingdom of men," "Blessed are they that succeed in getting the most money for the least work, for they shall have a good time," "Blessed are they who have eyes to see and promptness to take advantage of their brethren who are in a tight corner, for they shall obtain great wealth," "Blessed, in fine is bold enterprising selfishness, for it is bliss." Such were the kind of principles which were causing strain and jealously and worry and other miseries in the world to-day.

We were decreasing the amount of work so greatly needed, demanding that everybody should get more money and while actively pushing up the cost of living, we were demanding that it should be brought down! Did not most of us look back to pre-war days as days of peace and contentment and happiness, days when everybody was not occupied in the business of getting and grasping and taking selfish advantage of public needs?

In such a state of things, what was to be done to remedy prevailing evils? The speaker maintained that the remedy lay in religion if its distinctive principles were practically and daringly applied. Let us all begin with ourselves, holding definitely and steadily before us the ideal of the glory and happiness of enterprising helping and working and giving. Instead of constantly quoting examples of successful extortion and polite business like day-light robbery, let us keep our eyes open for instances of generosity, big-heartedness and noble self-sacrifice and quote these with the admiration they deserve, and it is surprising how many of these acts there are, but it is not the fashion to speak of or encourage them. Let each one set himself as the first essential of Church membership to-day to take a definitely unselfish, hard-working line of life. Let us seize every chance of helping others, disdaining pay or reward. Let us set ourselves definitely to be successful in giving rather than in getting.

The churches, as houses of the Divine Giver, should be schools of exercise in these things. People's conduct within these walls should be more enterprising on such lines than anywhere else. Here should we imbibe God's giving nature more and more fully and make proof of it. It was an imperative call for a Christian crusade of both clergy and people to bring the principles and power of our holy religion into effective and enterprising operation for the help and happiness of mankind and for the glory of the loving Father of us all.



WILL DISCUSS THE CASE

Poland and Lithuania decided to Talk the matter over.

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Poland and Lithuania have agreed to suspend all hostilities pending an inquiry and decision of issues at stake by a council of the League of Nations it was announced here this morning.

RECTOR TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE AT THE MORNING SERVICE IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

Yesterday at St. John's Church, Archdeacon Davidson made the following important announcement before large congregations, the church being filled to capacity in the evening: "Immediately on the arrival of the Bishop of Toronto on Tuesday from England, an interview was asked for and the Bishop, in spite of accumulated work, set aside the whole of Wednesday evening for consultation in regard to Peterborough. At my request, believing that I was acting distinctly in the interests of the parish, the Bishop consented to a permanent appointment being made at the earliest possible date to St. John's, Peterborough, which necessarily involves my permanent retirement. The deep feelings with which I make this announcement will readily be understood."

After making the above announcement, Archdeacon Davidson asked for the earnest and constant prayers of the congregation that the strongest and most suitable man might be chosen for so important and responsible a position. It was naturally impossible, he said, that such a man could be secured and be brought here at once, and patience must be exercised during a necessary interim. At first sight anxiety might be felt for the welfare of the congregation during this time, which would be well founded, only if people were weak and wavering and wholly and constantly dependent on their spiritual leader. But he said, knowing the members of this congregation, I feel confident that at this critical time they will prove their loyalty and devotion, and that instead of either the church or the congregation suffering, their powres would be called out and developed, and increased strength and efficiency would be the result. He believed that the general welfare and advance of the congregation could be safely left to the loyal laity of the church. Upon them, at all events, the main responsibility for a time was likely to be thrown and the result would be watched with interest.

Under these compelling circumstances the rector called on all men, and especially young men, of the congregation to assemble in the School House for organisation on Friday evening next and women on the following Monday. Large and enthusiastic gatherings would be confidently expected. "The flag was up and every loyal supporter was called to the colours."

A Welcome.

In the morning the rector publicly thanked Mr. Harry Long, who is leaving for a short sojourn in the West, for his devoted, skilful, and faithful care of the beautiful grounds of the church for many years, done as a labour of love. Most of the trees and all the flowers had been planted by Mr. Long. A hearty welcome was also offered to the Misses Wallis, returning from abroad to visit their old home church and city. The late Captain Wallis had been one of the leading pioneer workers in the early days of St. John's, and a devoted worshipper to the end of his long life. Mrs. Wallis had been the founder of the Woman's Missionary Society, developed into the Woman's Auxiliary. Few families had been closer to the heart of the church.

Congratulations were also offered to the Chancel Guild, Woman's Association, and the donors of grain and vegetables upon the lavish harvest decorations, which had never been more, generous or effective, befitting the bountiful harvest. Mr. James Fowler, of Smith, was the oldest of the donors, having sent large contributions of grain for the past 32 years.

PLAN A COUP

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Extraordinary rumors are in circulation through out Lanarkshire to the effect that leaders of the Scottish Communist movement have planned sensational coup to be sprung at Blantyre just southeast of Glasgow says a dispatch to the Westminster Gazette.

"It is asserted that cashiers and officials have been bluntly told that a seizure of coal pits is imminent and that it is proposed to establish Soviet system of mining controls," the despatch adds.

"Authorities are not sceptical of Rumors they are not unmindful of the undercurent at work."

NEED FINE WEATHER

(Continel from page 1.)

NUMEROUS ATTRACTIONS.

The numerous attractions secured by the directors for this year's Exhibition should satisfy the most critical visitors and even those who have seen the performances at the big city exhibitions, at Toronto and Ottawa, will find amusements here that combine all the features of a fair and summer carnival show. The grandstand programme, just to repeat it, includes the Zola trio, comedy knockabout acrobats; Okura, a marvellous Japanese wire equilibrist, the McDonald trio in a bicycle act; Sigsbee's trained dogs; Ed. Holder and his trained mule; the Bluchs, a gymnastic aerial bar act; the Okuras, in foot juggling and balancing; E. Zola and company.

The programme also includes other attractions, which rounds it out in length and excellence surpassing anything the local Exhibition has ever provided for the public.

The Maple Leaf Attractions and Superior Shows combine all the customary features of these carnival shows. The "whip," merry-go-round, a wild west show and several others which have set up their own big tents fill all the north-eastern end of the grounds and extend from the Lock street gate almost to the George street entrance.

In other words there are not only fine displays in agricultural products and live stock, a splendid array in the Manufacturers' Building and an overflow in the Merchants' Building and its Annex, but there are amusements for everybody. The instructive and educational aspects of the Exhibition, its agricultural and industrial purposes, are fully realized, and with all these is the lighter side for the entertainment of the crowds of visitors.

Entries all Recorded.

ot until noon to-day were all the entries booked and Secretary Fred Hall and his assistant, Miss Crowe, were temporarily relieved from the rush until the judges' results begin to come in to-morrow.

Most of the directors wearing fall coats against the equinoctial weather change, were as sensitive as thermometers to the unwelcome chill, but towards noon some of them reported slight improvements in the temperature that were not felt by their thick-skinned associates.

The atmosphere was so unfavorableable and frosty that Dave Jordan, who had been conspiring revenge for the songsters, could not find pleasure in this morning's circumstances. Everybody was hoping that if the Weather Man had any rain behind the obscuring clouds that he would get rid of it before to-morrow. A sprinkle or two would indeed have been welcome to lay the dust on the roads and the race track.

The finishing touches proceeded with full hopes, despite the gloom overhead, of bright skies for the official opening to-morrow, and with ideal September weather the Exhibition is going to surpass the most sanguine expectations.

DETROIT TEACHERS WILL BUILD HOTEL

DETROIT, Sept. 18.— Driven by high rents and restaurant prices, the Detroit Teachers Association will soon erect or purchase a co-operative hotel.

The sentiment of the last year during which teachers were compelled to pay as high as $12 a week for small roofs and proportionate prices for meals, has crystalized in an effort to avoid landlord profiteering permanently, and a meeting of a special committee of the Association has been called to plan a search for suitable sites.

Preference of the teachers as to sites will be given a hearing, and if the association does not decide on a centrally located hotel or club house it will require a number of residences throughout the city and convert them into teachers' private hotels.

Co-operative dining rooms, designed to fit the needs of teachers, will be one of the special aims of the committees working on the project.

Simpson, of Columbus, Ont., to Stirling was sustained, and his induction will take place on Tuesday next. Rev. Dr. McKay, of Toronto, was present, and gave an address on the extension of the Forward Movement. Rev. J. Wilson, of Napanee, was elected Moderator for the ensuing term.

ALLEGED BIGAMY.

BOBCAYGEON, Sept. 18.—Alfred Edwards, who was arrested here last week and taken to Toronto for trial, was sent from the police court on Friday for trial at the Sessions on a charge of bigamy. Edwards is alleged to have admitted that he went through a form of marriage in Toronto while he had a wife alive in Ottawa.

It was reported in some papers that Edwards married a Bobcaygeon girl. This report was not correct.

A DANGER SIGNAL— TENDER AND BLEEDING GUMS

Healthy teeth cannot live in diseased tissue. Gums tainted with Pyorrhea are dangerously diseased. For not only the teeth are affected, but Pyorrhea germs seep into the body, lower its vitality and cause many ills.

Pyorrhea begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the poisonous germs that breed in pockets about them.

Four out of five people over forty have this disease. But you need not have it. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection. And keep Pyorrhea away by using Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For The Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy, the teeth white and clean. If you have tender or bleeding gums, start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions, and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

ORDERS STAY IN LOCAL LIQUOR CASE

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT TAKES A HAND IN PROCEEDINGS

Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton has been in communication with Attorney General Raney in regard to the dismissal of the charge of having liquor in a place other than his private residence against Reginald ("Buck") Winch by Magistrate Dumble in Police Court on Friday and the Magistrate's order that the liquor which was seized be handed over to Mrs. Winch. The Attorney-General ordered Mr. Hatton to stay the case until he (the Attorney-General) had had an opportunity of perusing the depositions taken in the case and the judgment.

Much of the evidence which the Crown presented the Magistrate refused to admit, the Crown Attorney says:

Following is a verbatim copy of the depositions taken by Magistrate Dumble:—

H. D. Lawrence vs. Reginald Winch.

Charge under Sec. 41 of Ontario Temperance Act.

Samuel Newhall Sworn.

On Tuesday, 10th day of August, 1920, at about 10 a.m. I called at Harry Winch's dwelling house on Crescent street, Peterboro, and searched for one Reginald Winch who was wanted on a warrant for breach if the Ontario Temperance Act. On entering her house I met Mrs. Harry Winch. I told her what I wanted and asked her if Reginald Winch was there, at the same time I was making for a room in the house known in the house as the "Den" —a smoking room. Mrs. Winch placed herself between me and that door, crying and asked me to allow her to see Reginald before he was arrested. I said—Mrs. Winch let me pass, you are giving him time to escape. Presently I forced myself on towards the Den, the smoking room, the room was dark, shutters and curtains drawn I found no one there. She said he had gone in there to change his clothes. The clothes he evidently took off were lying around in confusion. I stopped back into the dining room where Mrs. Harry Winch was sitting and asked her if these were Reginald Winch's clothes and valise in that room. She replied —yes. I then asked her how long since she had seen him. She answered about five minutes before you came in. She then commenced to cry, saying her boy was being hunted from pillar to post for nothing. I replied—do you call peddling whiskey nothing? She replied—he is not pedding whiskey and never did. She cited a case in Port Hope where a false charge was laid against him. I told her that I arrested him in Port Hope and he pleaded guilty.

I said to her if I will show you proof that he is peddling whiskey will you believe me? She replied—yes. I brought this valise now in Court out of the smoking room from under the sofa. I opened it and placed it open on the dining room table, as if is now in Court. The valse is packed full of bottles, each wrapped in paper. There were 10 bottles in the valise and bottle was lying itself on the floor, a package of wood shavings was also lying on the floor. A lot of shavings, such is used for packing packages, such as is used for packing was lying outside of smoking room window and was left lying there. Mrs Winch began to cry, saying, the poor dear boy! I hope he will not do anything to himself in his sins. I asked him then—do you believe now? She replied—well, I suppose I can have this thing in my house. I replied yes, you can have it from the floor to the ceiling so long as it is brought in legal.

I then said to her—well, do you mean to say this is your whiskey. She answered—no, I am not going to tell any lies about it.

Detective Meagher was with me. We found 2 flat trunks on the hall of the house. They were addressed to Mr. V. Vermilion. Packing stuff was lying in the trunks She said they were Reginald's trunks. There was pasted on the trunks shipping directions from Montreal to Peterboro.

I told Mrs. Winch that Reginald had come there midnight the night before with two heavy valises and that he was armed He had a belt holding a big dagger and a revolver and that he was drunk. She said he was not drunk—this I was told.

We seized the whiskey and all his clothing that he left in the room.

She said nothing more.

In March last I arrester Reginald Winch. He had then 7 valises full of whiskey. At Port Hope he was tried for shooting at a man and fined. No charge was there laid against him in respect of the liquor —this I was told.

The warrant I had for his arrest has not yet been executed. I still hold it. I never had a warrant to arrest Winch. Inspector Stewart told me he had one. There is not in the Peterboro Police Court a warrant for his arrest. He has not yet come where we could arrest him.

Reginald Winch could get out of the smoking room by a door leading to a hall and out of the house without our seeing him. The valise I got in that room was full of whiskey bottles as it is now. All the bottles are full. aske hehnm t

The general reputation of Reginald Winch is that he is a bootlegger.

"I found 2 flat trunks in Mrs. Winch's house.

The name Vermillion is the name of a friend of Reginald Winch. They call him "Duchie." He was a bartender of Reg. Winch when the latter kept an hotel.

Cross examined.

Mrs. Harry Winch was greatly excited that morning.

When Winch escaped I had Detective Meagher with me and two constables were outside. I did not show Mrs. Winch any warrant. She is aged and very stout. I had no warrant, but Inspector Stewart told me he had one waiting to get it executed.

"Samuel Newhall."

William Meagher, Detective in Peterborough Police Force, Sworn.

I was in Peterborough on August last, the time referred to by Detective Newhall. I have heard his evidence. It is correct and I corroborate it.

"W. E. Meagher."

Evidence Closed.

Mr. Hatton asks for an order confiscating the liquor now in court, 11 bottles of whiskey, found in Mrs. Harry Winch's house, on the evidence above written.

Judgment.

Lawrence Vs. Winch.

This information charges Reginald Winch with having liquor in a place other than the private dwelling house in which he resides, contrary to Section 41 of the Ontario Temperance Act.

According to the evidence of Detective Newhall he, Newhall, went to the residence of Mrs. Harry Winch, where defendant was supposed to be, and attempted to arrest defendant. The detective had no search warrant nor had he any warrant authorizing him to arrest Reginald Winch, who at the time was in Mrs. Winch's house. Reginald Winch escaped from the house without being seen by any policeman though there were present two detectives and two other constables. Newhall entered the room where Reginald Winch had evidently been, as some of his clothing was on the floor. There was also on the floor a valise containing 11 bottles of whiskey in the packing wrappers.

There was no evidence to prove when Reginald Winch reached the house or when the whiskey reached the house, nor was there any evidence to prove that he, Reginald Winch, brought it there. Detective Newhall stated that he understood that Inspector Stewart had a warrant for Winch's arrest, but not for having this liquor in question.

Mrs. Winch, the lady of the house, claims that the whiskey in her house cannot be taken from her and she claims this whiskey by her counsel now present.

There is no sufficient evidence that Reginald Winch brought this whiskey to Mrs. Harry Winch's house. He was not arrested with it in his possession, and the liquor being found in Mrs. Harry Winch's house—it is in her possession prima facia. Mrs. Reginald Winch not having any living quarters there it may be assumed that it belongs to the proprietor and occupant of the house.

It was stated that Reginald Winch was a well known bootlegger. Reputation of that kind may be well founded or it may not. At any rate reputation proves nothing in this kind of a case.

The liquor in question was a reasonable quantity to be kept in a private house, and as Mrs. Winch claims it I adjudge that her claim is well founded and that the defendant Reginald Winch cannot be arrested or convicted because of this liquor being found in Mrs. Harry Winch's house. There was no evidence that the place where the liquor was found was the home, or in possession of Reginald Winch.

The charge is dismissed.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT GEORGE STREET

HELPFUL ADDRESSES BY PROF. LANGFORD, OF TORONTO

At the annual celebration of Young Peoples' Day at George Street Methodist Church yesterday, Professor W. Langford, of Victoria University, Toronto, preached eloquent sermons appropriate to the interests of the young people. The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Young. In the morning Professor Langford's discourse dealt with the importance to young people of Christian education, using as his text the story of the healing of the demoniac and the destruction, of the swine. He particularly emphasised the opportunities for young people in Christian service to-day.

Evening Service.

At the evening service the speaker's text was "Till we all come to a perfect man to the measure of the fulness of the stature of Christ." In his sermon he pointed out four sides necessary to the development of the young people—physical, intellectual, social, and spiritual, impressing the congregation with the importance of a full development o fall four in order to achieve what Christ demands of us. He dwelt upon the means of developing the powers, saying that all young men should take the power of youth, beginning in the critical years between twelve and twenty ears, and utilise them in the best possible way. First, he said, youth must learn to control the powers. Fire has a might influence for good if controlled, but is a demon of destruction if uncontrolled. So it is with the powers and purposes of youth. In addition to control, conservation is necessar. Again, concentration is necessary. We live in a time where there is a tendency to superficiality, when the powers are thrown away in thousand and one different ways. No one can render the best service to God and the country unless the powers given to him are concentrated in the one great test and the carrying out of one great purpose.

In addition to conservation, consecration must also be observed. Any life lived without a definite relationship to God and His purposes is foredoomed to barrenness and unfruitfulness.

VANCOUVER INSISTS ON ADEQUATE PROTECTION.

(Canadian Press).

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20. — J. B. Thomson, chairman of the British Columbia division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, in submitting a brief of that division for the Tarin Commissioners at their sitting here this morning, stated that as a part of the Association of Canadian Manufacturers, this division desired to affirm the position taken by the president in submitting his brief to the Commissioners at Winnipeg recently, that the members endorse that policy of adequate protection enunciated by Mr. McKinnon.

OLD-WORLD WEIRDNESS IN COLORFUL NEW HATS

By "MARJORIE"

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Although fall chapeaux have been "among those present" in the fashion world since early summer, it is the latest in-season models that are really dazzling the eyes of the populace with their bizarre, and almost weird effects. Nothing gorgeous and eccentric is out of place upon a fall feminine "lid." Hats that would feel very much "to home" upon the coifs of a Chinese cooly woman, an Algerian coffee house gird, a modern "serpent of the Nile," or an Alsatian peasant are rakishly ashew the marcelled waves of Milday of Gotham.

A prevalent mode is the transparent crowned turban of metallic lace or chiffon, copiously embroidered in colored or irridiscent beads. The narrow brim is generally swathed in a frayed Oriental silk, or twisted strands of wools or chenille. Color schemes are an incoherent blaze of rust and emerald cochin and aero, or something equally contrasting.

A Nell Gwynne fashion period effect is given by hats which dangle at each side long, heavy plumes of various colors. The hat proper is cavalier shape, and generally of black or taupe velvet. But even of sombre color, the sweeping plume effect is too daring for many women and only a few are seen at the Ritz teas and hotel dances. Many hats harp back to period tendencies as the quaint Watteau poke bonnet with chin ribbons, or the Alsatian bonnet with huge bow of suede or moire ribbon at the side-rear.

Another innovation is the use of stiff horsehair for trimming, rather than for the body of the hat as was formerly the case. One model made of crushed copper velvet is topped with little snail-like notifs wound from black horse-hair. Coarse, straight feathers are in the majority, such as glycerined ostrich, gay quills, or cockades. Little pompoms made of empen rope and in a bunch of several garish hues, often flank the very front of a hat, or coyly dip over the forehead.

Dingle-dangles such as long earrings of jet, jade, or wooden beads still abound, especially upon the darker and more conservative hats, and tassels of silks tickle the ear-buts, also. Duvetyn promises to be an all-winter fabric, although it is now dividing honors with the old standby, velvet. The latter fabric emphasizes bead and silk trimmings, while the former specializes in wool embroideries or ribbons.

Evening hats of metallic laces or rich ribbons are favorites. The Paisley shawl pattern abounds in these ribbon hats, and brocades in rich tints of royal purple, deep rose, or emerald also abound. These confections of hat loveliness are very wide and droopy and are the only evidence that floral trimmings will be used.

FUR BUSINESS WILL BE HEAVY DURING SEASON

Never have furs been lovelier or more varied than this year, and even accessories as linings or fasteners surpass in fabric and hue those of any former year. Though conservative lines have been followed here and there, indications are that the lavish new fur wraps show a decided tendency to be capelike, following out the designs of cloth and taffeta wraps which were so very popular during the summer, and which will continue in popularity throughout the autumn.

Furriers are looking forward to a big fur season, and it is expected that more furs will be sold this winter than ever before, despite the H.C.L. Fur coats, fur neck pieces both large and small, fur sets and the plain, long stoles continue in favour and are very much in demand.

Many big, wrappy dolmans and fur capes will be shown. These have long, straight back panels, some bloused at the waist, while others hang loosely. The back and sleeve are cut into a flaring cape effect falling unbelted from cuff to hem. While the plain, practical thirty-six inch length coat is still shown, the prominent cut, however, is that of the full cape flaring from shoulder to hem, unbelted, and with Mandarin sleeves. The dolman coat cut stringht from shoulder to hem and unbelted is another prime favourite.

Popular and Practical.

Seal is still the favourite material, and is certainly very practical. Sometimes these are made with contrasting bands of squirrel, Canadian marten, beaver, or Australian opossum. Although the demand continues to be fairly strong for garments shown in combination, making use of various contrasting furs, the opinion of many of the furriers is that the plain coats are coming back into their own, and for the most part contrasting fur trimming is confined to collars, and is not used extensively in cuffs or borders, as in former winters.

Broadtail, once relegated exclusively to those of mature age, and caracul, which resembles broadtail, are going to be extremely popular too. The popularity of caracul is attributed to its likeness to broadtail. Only the finest grades of caracul are selling, and it is believed that it will be worn by women who can not afford broadtail, and are turning to the best likeness. Formerly, caracul appeared entirely in black, but this season it appears sometimes quite unexpectedly, in grey.

A number of attractive coats are also devoted in mole, raccoon, muskrat and squirrel. A few more expensive coats are shown in sable, and opossum has been made up into a beautiful garment.

Lining Is Important.

Not the least feature in a beautifully made coat is the lining, and the woman who purchases a fur coat is always persistent in seeing what kind of lining goes into her coat. For this reason furriers have an assortment of linings which will in every way cope with the skins used in making the garment. As has been the case in furs since furs have become such an essential part of a woman's warbrobe, linings have also very important role, and if the maker of fur garments does not carry an assortment of linings, he is sure to lose out, for woman's vanity does not stop at the fur. The past year's craze for the Oriental lining is persisting this year, and linings are really gorgeous. Metal brocades, gold and silver embroideries, heavy satin ribbons, and metallic laces in Algerian blue, Chinese red or Cleopatra green, line all winter furs.

In fur neckpieces, the demand is again strong for the ever popular fox, and it is anticipated that a very large number of the animal designs, which are so smart, will be worn extensively this fall. Straight stoles are said to be favoured and are shown in a variety of styles in mole, Hudson seal, mink, nutria and lynx.

Mole is a Leader.

Mole is one of the leading furs for the coming season, and this fur is made up in stoles, chokers, fur sets, coats and coatees. Skunk and kolinsky are also included in the line of neckwear, in capes and long stoles, as well as in the one or two animal effects. White furs are taboo, with the exception of ermine, which is to be really smart must only be worn at the right place at the right time.

PRIZE OFFERED TO FARMERS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18. — (United Press.)—Ten thousand dollars is offered by the Chicago Board of Trade for the best exhibits of grain, hay and seeds at the International Grain and Hay Show to be held here Nov. 27 to Dec. 6, according to an announcement by Prof. G. I. Christie, superinendent of agricultural extension at Purdue University. Prof. Christie, who is supervising the show, which is in connection with the International Livestock Exposition, said that every farmer in the United States and Canad ais eligible to compete for the prizes.

"Ah," exclaimed the brisk caller, "having a day dream?"

"You might cally it that," said Mr. Dubwaite, sourly.

"Yes?"

"I was just thinking up a few cold and sarcastic remarks to make to my landlord if I ever pass by him in my flivver when his motor car is in a ditch."

NEW TYPE OF AIRPLANE PROVES SATISFACTORY.

LONDON, Sept. 18. — Preliminary tests which have recently been made of a new type of freight airplane are reported to have proved entirely satisfactory. The new plane, called a "flying tramp," is radically different from any type of plane now in use, with the exception that it is of the monoplane type and has the same sort of controls.

By means of a new curve the single wings of the plane, which are constructed of mahogany planking, are said to make possible large loads and much cheaper service than the old type. The cylindrical body also is made of mahogany planking. The new wing is known as the "Alula," and has a weight-lifting capacity 35 per cent. greater than the ordinary wing.

"A feature of the machine is the type of cargo container. The body of the plane is fitted to hold a container that will hold four tons of freight when properly packed. The container is loaded in a warehouse or storeroom and the plane is run up to a loading platform and the container shoved into the body of the plane on roller bearings. A similar procedure is followed in unloading.

Another possible effect of dryness; it is stated that men's clothes next fall with be along sober lines.

The snakes can't find a drunken fisherman to bite. That's why there's so many live snakes now.

Brown — "How did you get your musical temperament?" Johnson — "I was born in 'A flat.'"

EXHIBITION GAME EASY WIN FOR THE CHAMPS

HARRISON'S PITCHING FOR THE VISITORS ONE OF THE FEATURES OF A GAME THAT HAD VERY FEW REDEEMING POINTS—IT STARTED LATE

The team of so-called Central League "all stars" which Bob Chalk, of Port Hope, brought to Peterborough to do battle with the Petes at Riverside Park on Saturday resembled stars in only one particular—they did not come out until late in the day. The outfit consisted of four Cobourg players and a similar number from Port Hope, and the game was held up until after 4 o'clock through the late arrival of the second section of the visitors, consisting of the Port Hope quartette. By that time many of the fans had gone home.

Peterborough won the game in hollow fashion by 10 runs to 2. Only a Ouija Board could tell what the final figure might have been if "Hap" Harrison hadn't gone in to pitch for the visitors after the second innings. The Petes had 10 runs to their credit then, and they didn't get any more, for the big fellow set them down scoreless for the balance of the game, allowing them only three singles in the six innings he worked. Harrison had abundance of smoke and a curve once in a while that puzzled his teammates. It was his best pitching exhibition of the season, and was one of the few redeeming features of the game.

Lornie Rose went the full distance for the Petes, and had an easy task holding the visitors to five hits during the engagement. The only counters scored on him were the result of wild throws.

The Chalk team consisted of Boundy, Butler, Drumm and Ward, of Cobourg, and Chalk, Powder, McElroy and Hills, of Port Hope. Outfielde Shaughnessy, of the Petes, being loaned to them to complete their line up.

Finnegan Hills started in to do the twirling for the visitors. He was a wild as a hawk, and in the second innings walked four men and hit another. These charities, with a couple of bunts thrown in at the proper moment, and a couple of wild heaves sent a flock of counters in, and finally Johnny Rowden went to the rescue and succeeded in getting the side out after ten runs had been registered. Then Harrison went to the rubber, and the Petes were through scoring for the day.

It was a good work-out for the home brigade, and Manager Solomon used his whole string, even breaking into the game himself as a first baseman. Incidentally his appearance there gave the visitors their second run. The Petes pilot, it is no secret, has a grass arm, and can't throw a baseball much further than a man with a paralyzed throat can throw his voice. So when Rose threw to first to catch Drumm off that bag, Harrison, who was on third, dashed for home, figuring that he could beat "Jake" in a foot race to the plate, and that carrying the ball in, was the only way that the manager could get the spalding there. Solomon, however cut loose with a throw, not a very bad one at that, but Bob Ross was so surprised that he let the ball go through and "Hap" scored. "Jake" says the next time he goes in he is going to have a pinch thrower ready.

There were a couple of nice fielding plays to relieve the monotony. Butler, the third baseman of the visitors, robbed Murray of a hit by a one-handed diving catch of a torrid liner, and Finnegan Hills grabbed a fly to right with his gloved hand.

UNEQUAL LOSSES

Frederick was sitting on the curb, crying, when Billy came along and asked him what was the matter.

"Oh, I feel so bad 'cause Major's dead—my nice old collie!" sobbed Frederick.

Shucks!" said Billy. "My grandmother's been dead a week, and you don't catch me crying."

Frederick gave his eyes and nose a swipe with his hand, and, looking up at Billy, sobbed, despairingly:

AN EXCELLENT EXHIBITION OF CLEAN FAST FOOTBALL BY VET'S AND CALEY'S

TWO WELL MATCHED TEAMS—GOOD DEFENCE PLAY—SHARMAN'S BEAUTIFUL GOAL—JONES AND FENNER'S CLEVER CLEARANCE—BALL BOUNCED ON CROSS-BAR—JAS. SHAW'S HARD LUCK—EDWARDS' GREAT OPPORTUNITY—DARKNESS SET IN—G. W. V. A. 1, CALEDONIANS 0.

A large crowd of spectators appeared at the Nicholls Oval on Saturday afternoon to witness the Caledonians and the G.W.V.A. in a league fixture in the 1920-1921 schedule. Owing to the Exhibition Board utilizing the Exhibition Grounds the venue of the game was changed at the last minute, and that is the sole reason for the encounter starting at 5.15 p. m., immediately after the previous game.

The Caledonians played the same team that whacked the C.G.E. by two clear goals, with the exception of Brown at outside right. As for the Vets they made an eleventh hour change by placing the old favorite Harry Gamble into Harry Noman's place, who is on a vacation at present.

The Teams.

G. W. V. A.—W. Jones, goal, N. Crowe and A. Bishop, backs; H. Burrows; P. D. Ryan and A. Edwards, half backs; S. Curtis, C. T. Monks, H. Gamble, J .Sharman and J. Peel, forwards.

Caledonians—C. Fenner, goal; W. T. Service and Sam McMillan, backs; H. Frost, Stewart McMillan and Jas. McMillan, half backs; James Brown, Matt Shaw, James Shaw, R. Hannah, and R. McDowall, forwards.

Referee, Mr. Frank McKinley; linesmen, Mr. Alf. Parkins and J. Clark.

The Game.

The Caledonians lost the toss, and the Vets played with the wind. No sooner was the whistle blown than McDowall placed a beautiful corner kick but Hannah trying to work himself into a shooting position was robbed by Ryan in the nick of time. Tommy Monks acepting the pass, made an excellent opening for Curtis that eventually was put to touch by Sam McMillan. From the throw-in McMillan punted up the left wing for McDowall and Hannah trying hard to baffle Crowe but he compelled the outside left to shoot over the bar. A break-away by Edwards was checked by Service to Matt Shaw, who made Jones go down on his knees to clear, and Frost put over the bar.

Both Defence Men Good.

An individual rail by Sharman left Service behind that compelled Sam McMillan to come across to his aid to clear up the field but Ryan returned the play to Curtis who was awarded a foul against Sam McMillan's back charge. Burrows let drive for goal with Fenner clearing. Accepting an accurate cross from Curtis the Vets' outside left went wholesale into McMillan, the back, to upset him, and getting a corner kick that was unproductive. Stuart McMillan cleared to McDowall and passing forward to Hannah the referee, adjudged the inside left off side, much to Bobbie's bewilderment. From the free-kick Crowe put forward to Gamble who tested Fenner with low ground shot, play travelled from end to end with each team giving an excellent exhibition of clean football.

Sharman's Beautiful Goal.

A foul against Stu. McMillan brought disaster to the Caleys. From the free-kick taken by Burrows it went to Curtis who crossed a beauty to Sharman who beat Service and Frost to let drive to beat Fenner, with an unsavable shot. From the centre McDowall went down the wing to cross for Bishop to clear up the field, McMillan retaliated to James Shaw, and wasting no time he went right through the defence to give Jones a hot one to hold with everybody thinking it was a sure goal — but the Vets' goal keeper was there.

Jones' and Fenner's Clever Clearance.

A solo run down the wing by Curtiss finished nicely by giving Fenner a difficult shot to clear in mid-air. Service punted up to Brown to travel down the wing into the corner, and lifting the ball across the goal, Jones ran out of his goals to clear from the Caleys' forwards. A foul against the Vets was taken by James McMillan, who put across to Matt Shaw, who made Jones save in a masterly fashion. Ryan cleared to the left-wing but Frost intervened to pass up the wing to Brown in the corner who shot like a bolt into Jones' hands.

Ball Bounced Twice on the Cross-Bar.

He cleared to mid-field for Harry Gamble to go through to test Fenner. The goal keeper shot it up to Hannah and slipping the ball over to McDowall, the outside left, landed a beautiful cross on top of the cross-bar to drop into play; the brothers Shaw tried hard to head it into goal, but luck was against them, Jones fisted out to Bishop, who punted up to Monks to make a raid on the Caleys' goal as half time arrived with the Vets one goal to the advantage.

Half Time.

After a few minutes rest they resumed, with even play resulting. A break away by Sharman was stopped at a critical moment by Service who punted up to Mat Shaw to have a try for goal; immediately thereafter James Shaw about beat Jones with a low ground shot. Jones cleared to Ryan and passed to Sharman who accepted when he was ten yards offsides.

From the free-kick Matt Shaw had an excellent chance to score but seemed to be too anxious to let it go past.

Jas. Shaw's Hard Luck.

On the Vets' left wing Peel beat it along to be stopped by Frost who lifted the ball forward to James Shaw and with all eagerness to score the centre forward saw the ball skiff over the bar with Jones at other end of the goal. On mid-field play Gamble beat Service on nice tackling to go into goal for Fenner to clear. Frost caught on to lash the ball up the wing to Brown and Matt Shaw to go down on the Vets' defence for Bishop to put up the field to be returned by service. Hannah got hold in mid-field to work his way down, and swinging the ball out to Brown, the outside right placed a beauty into goal for Jones to fist out. Ryan lashed the ball forward to Sharman on the left wing, to carry it right into goal, to miss the upright, with nobody near him. The Vets came back again on the right wing, to test Fenner from close range. At the other end McDowall repeated the same performance on Jones.

Edwards' Excellent Opportunity.

Play ran from end to end in quick succession until the Vets" raided the Caleys' defence through Service misjudging the ball to let Edwards right through on his own with the Caley's defence after him, but just about ten yards from goal he kicked the ball in front of him that let Fenner kick out to clear. All the Vets' forwards went down now with Curtis having a try at goal. McMillan passed up to Matt Shaw who in turn left James Shaw with the ball to go up past the Vets' defence and passing to Matt, the latter shot across the goal mouth, McDowall returned a beautiful cross for Bishop to concede a corner. Brown placed an accurate kick into goal for Jones to clear to Gamble. Frost tackled to swing the ball up the right wing to Brown and Matt Shaw for the latter to give Brown a great opening, but he missed the goal to witness the ball travel across to the far corner.

Darkness Crept In.

At this time the game was very hard to follow in the darkness with the Vets raiding the Caley's goal that was unproductive. The Caleys' half-backs went down amongst the forwards to help to even up the score but the Vets' defence played a great game and held them in check. Twice in succession Brown placed beautiful corner kicks. The first one landed right in the centre of the goal with all the players in the goal that went past for another corner. Brown again placed the ball in the same spot with the Caleys trying hard to open the scoring for the Caleys to claim a penalty, but it went into play. Even play ensued from this until the final whistle blew with the Vets getting full points. Vets 1. Caledonians 0.

DOUG FOOLED HIM

NEW MACLEAN-MAY VEHICLE IS PACKED WITH FUN

A young man from one of the magazines came out to the studio recently to interview Douglas McLean and Doris May. The two were bound for "location" and invited the interviewer to jump into Doug's brand new roadster and come along. He did. He was quite smitten with the apple-bloom charm of youthful Doris.

"Isn't she a peach?" Doug leaned over and whispered to him.

"She sure is," asserted the young man fervently. "And you two work together so—"

"He's talking about his car—not me," interrupted Doris gaily.

"Just got it," Doug added. "Want to see some speed?"

Speed is the middle name of the MacLean-May starring team, as they demonstrate in their latest screen comedy, "Let's Be Fashionable." The Allen Theatre will show this picture Monday and Tuesday.

LATEST CARTOON MUSICAL COMEDY IS COMING HERE

'Katzenjamer Kids," the latest cartoon musical comedy to be produced, under the direction of George M. Gatts, comes to the Grand Opera House for matinee and night, Thursday, transposing the pictures to the stage John P. Mulgrew, who wrote the book and lyrics, preserved all the funny characters whose antics have delighted thousands, young and old, and they are jus tas funny behind the footlights as in the colored supplements, with the added advantage of appearing in the flesh. Donald H. Bestor has provided a musical score that is said to contain many tuneful song hits, and the new musical play is said to be a delightful entertainment from start to finish. The producers have been lavish to the point of extravagance in making their production of "Katzenjammer Kids," the three acts being marvels of beauty and picturesqueness. And in the matter of the company they have spared no expense, the players being well known to the musical comedy stage. But it is in the chorus they point with particular pride, the girls being the prettiest galaxy to decorate a musical play in several seasons.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Gus Hill's Minstrels, with brand new costumes and settings and a stronger caste than ever before, entertained two large audiences at the Grand on Saturday with their music, jokes and dancing. The production this year is superior to last year's offering and the programme offered on Saturday was highly pleasing in every respect. The company had a hard-working and capable corps of fun-makers, whose quips kept the audience in good humour, while the singing of the soloists and chorus reached a high standard of excellence. Mr. Fred Werner was a finished interlocutor and in addition scored beauty in his solo, "Let the Rest of the World Go By." The second part was not as strong in vaudeville features as some other minstrel productions seen here recently but Bob Tenny as "The Cuckoo Sailor" in a laughable musical act, in which the orchestra effectively assisted, helped to carry the olio through to success. There is a special tribute coming to the company's orchestra which played the accompaniments in finished style, adding greatly to the enjoyment of the programme.

To-night Arlie Mark's Stock Company opens a three days' engagement at the Grand followed by the Katzenjammer Kids on Thursday and "Experience" on Saturday.

A white silk pall in memory of those members of the British theatrical profession who fell in the war, was dedicated at Westminster Abbey.

AFTER FIVE HARD-FOUGHT GAMES THE DELAVAL WIN 5 GOALS TO 3

WOOLLENS WON THE TOSS—ABRAHAM'S EARLY GOAL—CRIDLAND CONVERTS THE PENALTY—RAPPAE GOT THE SECOND—RHAMN'S PENALTY KICKS—SECOND HALF DELAVAL ADDED TWO MORE THROUGH LINDSAY AND M'KINLEY.

A fair crowd of spectators was present when the Canadian Woollens and De Laval turned out to play the first League game in 1920-1921 schedule. The Woollens had their regular team out with the exception of Hillman, and the De Laval were re-organized in every department. Prompt to time Referee Hensby lined up the teams as follows:

De Laval—J. Smith, goal; H. Rutter and W. Godfrey, backs; H. W. Hartshorn, Ed. Humpage and R. Lindsay, half-backs; J. Conway, Wm. McKinley, J. L. Rhamm, E. Abraham and Jack Lindsay, forwards.

Canadain Woollens— S. Calladine, goal; J. Cridland and A. Barton, backs; E. Montgomery, H. Jackson and J. Hodson, half-backs; C. Thorpe, F. T. Rappe, E. Chambers, A. Roberts and C. E. Clark, forwards.

Referee, Mr. T. Hensby. Linesmen, E.Weton and W. Brown.

Beautiful Goal in 3 Minutes.

Canadian Woollens won the toss and decided to play with the wind at their backs. The ball was set a rolling by Rhamn for Chambers to break away along with Roberts to produce nice combination that necessitated Smith clearing to R. Lindsay, who passed up the wing to his brother Jack, who outwitted the defence to place the ball at the foot of Abrahams to beat Calladine all the way. The Woollens went right back into the De Laval goal for Godfrey to clear up the field but Barton landed a nice drop ball from the sky that gave Smith some trouble in clearing to concede a corner that was fruitless for the Woollens. Humpage cleared to Conway and McKinley to go along the wing with Hodson to get the advantage to place up to Clark who crossed the ball in front of goal for Rappe to miss the open sphere.

Penalty Scored By Cridland.

The Woollens pressed continuously down upon the De Laval defence that ultimately awarded the maroon and gold a penalty through Ed. Humpage unintentionally hitting the ball with his arm. Jack Cridland made no mistake. From the centre the De Laval right wing played havoc with the left defence to pass across to J. Lindsay to put past. The forwards of the Woollens could not penetrate the defence of the De Laval, although Chambers and Clarke had excellent tries. A break-away by McKinley was slipped out to Conway to put the finishing touch but to the spectators' surprise the ball hit the cross bar to go out.

Rappae Scored the Second.

Immediately thereafter Abrahams tried to repeat the same performance but Cridland stopped him in time. Rappae accepted the pass to swing it across to the left wing for to be returned to him to register the second goal. The De Laval seemed to have lost courage for the Woollens simply held the De Laval down in goal but for the occasional raids and on one of these Abrahams and Lindsay worked the ball down into the corner for the outside left to put it in front of goal. Abrahams used close tactics on the defence and feinting a drive he had Calladine guessing until the ball landed into the net. The Woollens raided Smith's goal but found him right there to make a nice clearance in every raid.

Rhamm Scored From Penalty.

Time and again the De Laval forwards would have all the play and it was when McKinley passed out to Lindsay to have a shot that Hodson hit the ball with his hand. Rhamm was compelled to the shot twice through one of the Woollens players over-stepping the line. With only five minutes to go the Woolens tried hard to even up the score.

Half Time.

After the usual interval the teams got started to the second half with the Woollens being the most aggressive, in spite of the fact that they were now playing against the wind, and had Smith clearing shots from all angles. From a beautiful cross by Hodson to the right wing, Rappae was erratic in front of goal. A break-away by Rhamm went abegging when Lindsay was called up for offsides. A foul against the Woollens relieved the pressure. Rutter punted down to the right wing, with McKinley tackling Chambers in legitimate tactics.

Woollens' Forwards' Poor Shooting.

A raid on the De Laval goal by the Woollens' forwards should have brought them a few goals, but they were away off the mark in shooting. All the forwards tested Smith, but could not get the ball into the net. A solo run down the wing by Conway was spoiled by offsides. From the free kick Chambers beat four men in succession until he came against Rutter, who tacked nicely to clear to Jack Lindsay, but Barton retaliated in quick fashion up the field for Godfrey to concede a corner with nobody near him. Thorpe placed the corner into goal for McKinley to clear to Humpage, who in turn slipped the ball down the wing to Lindsay.

McKinley's Timely Goal.

The outside left lifted the ball across to Conway who had a try at goal for Calladine to punt out, but Wm. McKinley, standing 12 yards out, lifted the ball over the players' heads into the net. Encouraged by their success the De Laval went wild to give the Woollens no end of trouble, and on one occasion Jack Lindsay was travelling into goal when Chambers ran across to back-heel the ball to clear. Jackson caught on to slip the ball forward to Cridland to make Smith save a rocket shot, and when the goalkeeper stepped back into the goal to clear the referee right away awarded a goal.

Jack Lindsay's Quick Goal.

No sooner was the ball centred than the De Laval forwards transferred the play into the Woollens' area and by quick manoeuvring the Lindsay brothers worked it nicely for Jack to beat Calladine with a low ground shot into the net.

Chambers and Cridland changed places again for the centre froward to have a try at goal. Even and interesting play ensued with the Woollens trying hard to even up the score, but the De Laval held them in check until the final whistle. De Layal 5, Canadian Woollens 3.

He stepped back to get a look at the garment and in doing so tripped over a suitcase which was lying near the cellar opening. Mr. Hourigan was precipitated into the cellar opening. CHANGE CRANK CASE OIL IN MOTOR CARS.

A recent test showed that to prevent excessive engine wearing crank case oil should be changed at least every 1,500 miles, preferably every 1,000 miles.

A new engine that was run 6,000 miles with the oil changed at proper intervals, upon being disassembled, showed no signs of wear; the same engine, reassembled and run 6,000 miles with old plus new oil as needed, upon inspection showed a wear of 0.015 inches.

Truck and passenger car manufacturers recommend, for better performance and longer life, that crank-case be drained every thousand miles, the engine flushed with kerosene and new oil added.

LOCAL ENGINEERS HAD A GOOD TIME

ENJOYED TRIP TO NIAGARA FALLS MEETING

Members of the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada who attended the seventh general meeting of the Institute in Niagara Falls on the 16th, 17th and 18th of last week have returned home after a meeting that, both from a professional and social standpoint, will not soon be forgotten by them. Those who attended from Peterborough were R. H. Parson and wife, R. L. Dobbin, R. B. Rogers, C. E. Sisson and wife, A. L. Killaly, and James Mackintosh.

The illustrated talk by Alexander J. Grant, M.E.I.C., engineer in charge of the Welland ship canal, formerly of the Trent Canal staff here, was the opening feature of the programme. Afterwards the engineers were shown over the entire work by Mr. Grant and the salient features brought out in the paper were pointed out at first hand and explained.

Falls Illuminated.

Thursday evening the Canadian Falls were illuminated especially for the engineers by the Hydro-Electric Commission. A battery of 88 searchlights are concentrated on the Falls and the effect is declared to be a superb sight, surpassing anything of its kind in the world.

Several papers on the Queenston-Chippewa Power Development were given to the meeting by several of the engineers in charge. An excursion was arranged to inspect the canal, forebay and power house now under construction, and the engineers took full opportunityy of this to see the immense $20,000,000 undertaking that is one of the greatest engineering tasks now under construction in the world. The canal is 9 miles long, 4 miles of which are the river section. There are 17,000,000 cubic yards of rock and earth excavation and 500,000 cubic yards of concrete is to be put in. The three largest electric shovels on this work are the largest excavators of their kind ever made. Their total height is 76 feet, with a dipper lift of 63 feet. Other interesting facts in connection with the canal are:

56 miles of construction railway.
21 electric lomotives.
10 steam locomotives.
225 air dump cars.
Crusher plant.
Machine shop.
175 temporary buildings.
Deepest cut (of which 25 feet are in rock)—145 feet.
Head—305 feet.
Installed capacity— 500,000 horse power.

The Canadian and American power plants visited by the 200 engineers were not the least interesting places inspected by them and the added knowledge gained through a detailed inspection of the immense power plants will be most valuable to the engineers.

Historic Points.

Points of historic and scenic beauty were not missed by the delegates and the Peterborough engineers state that apart from the engineering side they enjoyed themselves immensely, renewing old acquaintances and making many new ones. The luncheons and banquets arranged were important items on the programme.

It was not decided when or where the next meeting will be held, but Peterborough will make a bid to have the Institute meet here some time.

Mr. R. L. Dobbin, secretary of the local branch, was a busy man at the meeting, lining up speakers for next winter's meetings, and he states that he has some good ones."

DEATH EX-MAYOR WILLIAM YELLAND

WAS A LIFE-LONG RESIDENT OF PETERBOROUGH

In the passing of William Yelland, ex-Mayor of the city, at one o'clock yesterday afternoon, Peterboro has lost a life-long resident, and one who always had the interests of the city ever deeply at heart.

The deceased was born in Devonshire, Eng., in 1832. When he was 19 he came to Canada with his sister, and settled in Peterboro, then a struggling town along the Otonabee River. Here he established a carriage business in the building on George street across from the Bethany Tabernacle, and which is now a Chinese laundry. For over 59 years he conducted this business, about the year 1900 turning it over to his son G. H. Yelland. The business grew and prospered, and William Yelland made a name for integrity and honesty, and through being constantly in touch with the farming community he was known far and wide throughout this district. It is not too much to say that all who have known him loved him and respected him.

MR. WILLIAM YELLAND,
Who passed away yesterday at his home, 207 Murray Street.

In 1857 he married Elizabeth Fidelia Sweeting of Smith Township, and of this union there were seven children, four of which are deceased, namely Dr. A. E. Yelland, who died in Feb., 1896, Fred, who died in Oct., 1898; Jonathan, who died in 1875, and Mary (Mrs. Dr. H. H. Graham, of Fenelon Falls, who died in September, 1918.

Three children survive, Wiliam G., of Toronto; Joseph H., and Benj. C., of Peterboro.

His first wife predeceased him in October, 1891, and on May 31, 1893, he married Miss M. G. Down of Lakefield, who survives him. A sister Mrs. S. r. Allin, of 199 Murray street, survives.

The late Mr. Yelland was actively interested in municipal affairs and he served 13 years on the City Council. His first term as alderman was from 1877 to 1881, and his second term from 1883 to 1888. He again entered the municipal arena in 1896, and during the next year was mayor of the town. His business capacity was of great value to the council and he threw himself wholeheartedly into his civic duties. During his two year term the city made great strides and no little credit for which is due to the deceased.

In politics he was a staunch Liberal; in religion a Meth dist. He was for nearly three quarters of a century a member of the George street Methodist church, one of its trustees, and a faithful worker in any worthy cause.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery. Service will be held at the house at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. W. Harold Young, of the George street Methodist church. Friends are requested to please omit flowers.

LOOKS FOR A LANDSLIDE FOR REPUBLICANS IN THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS

EX-PRESIDENT WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT MAKES FORECAST OF ELECTION ISSUES IN THE UNITED STATES.

TAFT A REPUBLICAN

TORONTO, Sept. 21.—A Republican landslide in the presidential election and entry of the United States into the League of Nations after the majority of the amendments proposed by the Senate have been adopted were confidentially forecasted by William Howard Taft, ex-President of the United States, who is in Toronto with Sir Walter Cassels and Sir Thos. White, the other members of the I.L.T.R. Arbitration Board.

"I'm hoping," said Mr. Taft, "after the election is over, after Harding is elected, as he is going to be, he will succeed in securing certain amendments to the League and that then we'll enter it with the other nations."

"Why is Harding going to win?"

"Why, he has won already, and the election is over by the Maine vote. This time we got 65,000 there and only 13,000 the last time."

"In many respects it can be said that Poland has saved civilization," the ex-President said, discussing the Polish situation. "One was when John Sobieski drove the Turks back from before Vienna, and now when the Poles are defeating the Bolsheviki, whose campaign is against civilization. But there is the danger that the Poles may go too far."

Mr. Taft has no sympathy to waste on revolutionaries of the European or "manufactured-at-home" varieties. All changes must come by constitutional methods. "I won't say these outrages will not be repeated," he said, referring to the ghastly New York explosion. "But these are only cases of useless destruction. The only effect of crime is to strengthen the forces of conservatism."

FELL FROM ELEVATOR BADLY SHAKEN UP

SERIOUSLY INJURED WORKING ON PORT HOPE NEW BUILDING

PORT HOPE, Sept. 20.—Mr. William Coyte, who resides near the Welcome cemetery, and who is employed by Thomas Garnett & Sons, met with an unfortunate accident Saturday morning while at work on the new building at the Port Hope Sanitary Works. Wheelbarrows loaded with cement were being sent up to the second storey, thirty feet high, by means of an elevator. Before Mr. Coyte had time to remove the barrow load, the elevator started and when about half way down Mr. Coyte rolled off, falling to the ground, a distance of about fifteen feet. He received a bad shaking up, a severe scalp wound, and his hip was badly injured. Mr. Coyte was removed to the hospital.

MINERS WILL NOT ACCEPT CONDITION

(Canadian Press)

GLACE BAY, N.S., Sept. 21.—Following an all day discussion of the Royal Commission Report on Wages and Mining Conditions the Executive of United Mine Workers last night unanimously decided against an acceptance. They also decided to ask locals to pass resolutions authorizing the executive to re-open negotiations with all Nova Scotia operators.

Checking Up Clues To Crime

POLICE AUTHORITIES STILL FAR FROM SOLUTION TO WALL STREET MYSTERY

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Federal and police authorities to-day were admittedly as far as ever from a solution of the mystery surrounding the explosion that spread death and destruction in Wall street last Thursday. Clues at first apparently promising have not developed and to-day virtually the only trail being followed was that supplied by Samuel Willington, who told newspapermen he remembered seeing a suspicious character hastening from in front of the United States Assay office a few moments before the detonation knocked him unconscious.

FUEL CONTROL TO BE RE-ESTABLISHED

RAILWAY BOARD HAS ITS EYE ON FUEL SITUATION

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, September 21. — Following a conference with representatives of various provinces throughout the Dominion, it is quite probable that the next few days will see restoration of the fuel control system which was in vogue during the critical period of the war.

The Railway Board under whose jurisdiction fuel control is placed, has not definitely decided to regulations as yet but will again consider matter to-day or to-morrow, it was officially stated to-day.

Meanwhile every available source of information on the coal supply is being carefully watched.

PRESIDENT R. DENNE,
Chairman of the Directorate of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, whose whole-souled efforts and perseverance to make the Fair a big success seem on the eve of fruition.

Hon. Manning Doherty Opens Peterboro's Bigger Exhibition

BRILLIANT WEATHER AND BIG CROWD AT EXHIBITION PARK WHEN THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE OFFICIALLY SET THE FAIR'S MACHINERY IN MOTION —IMPRESSIVE SCENE FOR OPENING CEREMONY.

WELCOME TO MINISTER

With September's softest caress, deep azure skies and brilliant sunshine, Peterborough's first four-day Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition was formally opened this afternoon by the Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture in the Ontario Government. The setting for the ceremony was perfect, and in the completeness of detail arranged by the directors, there were striking evidences of the care and work expended by the directors in their present accomplishment. Flags flapped crisply from their standards, and bunting above the main roadways added a gay colour note that emphasized the festive appearance of the grounds.

The lawns were green almost with the verdure of June, and their ordetliness gave a pleasing touch that was enhanced by the far background of white fences around the race track and along the approaching roadways, the new and freshly painted exhibits, buildings and in all the other signs of substance and vitality that are certain marks of a flourishing fall fair. And the whole resplendent scene, bathed in the warm sunshine delighted the crowds who seemed to purr with satisfaction in the invigorating sun-filtered air.

This afternoon's event was a happy augury of success for the larger Exhibition the directorate are launching this year. Following the maxim that desuetude is a sure penalty of contentment, that, like every enterprise, the Exhibition must expand and progress or fall back and probably disintegrate, the directors confidently prepared for a long advance step this year, and this afternoon's attendance, together with the fine entry list in all classes of exhibits, were glowing promises that their expectations would be bountifully rewarded. The last doubt was dispelled by this morning's downpour and with night attractions and big afternoon programmes until the last day, the financial returns should measure up to the directors' estimates. And if the gate receipts set a new record, commensurate with all the other features, to-day's highly encouraging events may be set down as enochal.

This year's efforts, under ideal conditions for the remaining days, will be the last heavy pull over the dividing peak between the old three-day exhibitions and the full week's fair, which has long been the ambition of those directors ,who in comparatively recent years have injected new enthusiasm and inspiration into the group who had struggled along under the old handicaps.

When the Hon. Mr. Doherty declared the Fair open the advantages of yesterday's final preparations were apparent. Everything was ready for the official declaration. Exhibitors and directors had plenty of time to survey the departments last night and to add any little finishing touches that suggested themselves.

The Luncheon.

Hon. Manning Doherty, Minister of Agriculture in the Drury Government, who officially opened the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon, arrived in the city on the noon C.P.R. train from Toronto. He was tendered a luncheon at noon at the Empress Hotel by the Board of Directors of the Exhibition. Besides the directors, of which about ten attended, there were representatives of the City and County Councils, together with representatives of the Provincial Government. Because of the opening of the Exhibition at 1.30, the luncheon carried quickly to a conclusion. There were no preliminaries, and after the luncheon the total speech-making did not occupy more than fifteen minutes.

At the Guest Table.

Working Together.

The luncheon itself, the brief speeches, all pointed to the co-operation and good fellowship that exists between the farmers of this district and their city brothers. As the speakers declared, they are all working together to advance this district, this city, its annual Exhibition, and to make a bigger, better and more prosperous Dominion.

WEATHER FORECAST FOR THE EXHIBITION

"OUTLOOK IS GENERALLY FAIR WITH RISING TEMPERATURE"

As so much depends upon the weather for the success of the Peterborough Fair, the local weather observer asked the officials of the Meteorological Service at Toronto to send him a special forecast for the next three days.

The following wire was received this morning:

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 20.
Walter Peters,
Examiner Office, Peterborough, Ont.
"Outlook is generally fair, with rising temperature.
"R. F. Stupart."

"ELECTION COMMENT"

The Examiner to-day secured the following interviews concerning the by-elections held yesterday in St. John, N.B., and Colchester, N. S., in which two Cabinet Ministers were elected.

R. R. Hall, Liberal, Ex-M.P. — "The election of Hon. Mr. McCurdy and Hon. Mr. Wigmore, as supporters of the Union Government, which only recently assumed a new name, furnishes the very best evidence of the necessity of all opponents of the Union Government uniting under one banner. If the farmer opponents, the labour opponents, and the War Veteran opponents, are each to divide into a separate group, the chances of defeating the government will be very greatly decreased."

WAS EXPECTED.

R. J. Soden, Conservative. "It was all that was to be expected. The people have shown their good common sense."

"COST A LOT."

G. N. Gordon, Liberal: "It must have cost the Government a lot to do it."

IS THROUGH.

Mr. G. A. Gillespie, Liberal, ex-M.P.P., said that he had nothing to say on politics—he was through with it.

"WAS A SURPRISE."

Mr. J. H. Burnham, ex-M.P., Conservative. "McCurdy and Wigmore have both been characterized by government supporters as 'Nationalists.' The result was a surprise to a great many," said Mr. J. H. Burnham.

Hon. Manning Doherty — "Federal Politics are not of particular interest to me. I have nothing to say."

R. B. Rogers, U. F. O.—"It shows which way the wind blows."

Last night the Examiner was besieged with inquiries as to the result of the bye-elections and a frequent remark when the result was learned was "Tough luck."

T. Tooms, Labour M.P.P., refused to say anything for publication.

COAL OUTLOOK MORE HOPEFUL

BUT FAMINE IS NOT EXPECTED —SUPPLY IS MOVING AND IS WELL ADVANCED, BUT MORE IS NEEDED

OTTAWA, Sept. 21. — A hopeful view of the fuel situation is taken by the Railway Commission, the fuel control body. In the light of the reports it is receiving, while there is need for care and conservation, a coal famine is not anticipated if the present movement keeps up. Whether the war-time restrictions on the use of coal will be revived will depend wholly upon the situation as it is found to exist next winter. At present they are not expected.

Get Coal For Canada.

The function of the commission is to get coal into Canada. Local distribution is in the hands of the Provincial Governments. Ontario has re-established its fuel administration under H. A. Harrington, while the Quebec administrator is J. L. Lewis.

Within the past few weeks car service experts of the different roads have been here in conference and their advice was that there is no congestion at points of entry, while the railway equipment is being increased.

In five and a half months, up to the 15th of September, as much anthracite coal had been received as up to the end of September last year. Ontario has four million tons of bituminous coal, but needs six million more. Quebec's organization is not complete, but so far as available the figures denote a good movement both of bituminous and anthracite. In the West an active campaign is on for the use of Alberta coal, and its movement has increased. When the commission goes West the week after next coal shippers and consumers will be conferred with as to the feasibility of the further use of the Western coal output.

The restoration of the fuel control system, it is intimated here, would be taken as a precautionary measure. So far, there has been reported no great shortage of coal except possibly in few localities, and if the fuel control is again established, steps will be taken to meet eventualities.

MISGIVINGS OF DIRECTORS DISAPPEARED BEFORE THIS MORNING'S SPLENDID PROMISES OF A RECORD SUCCESS—ENTRY LIST HEAVIER THAN EVER.

AN AUSPICIOUS OPENING

With their coat collars turned up like advance agents of Dan Whetung's hardest winter, the Fair directors kept anxious vigil last night, betimes paraphrasing the refrain of that song of darker days, "Turn the dark clouds inside out till the cows go home." Another plaintive little ditty with a slow jazz tune was "We've got the Exhibition blues."

Outside the secretary's office groups of the directors would form to discuss the morrow's weather prospects until some one would suggest another finishing touch needed here or there. The directors would disperse and inevitably gravitate back to each other again. Misery liked company. Invocations to the Weather Man included that school book couplet:

"Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How we wonder where you are."

The opening get-together day was nearing the close and President Denne remarked disconsolately that nothing more could be done. Some of the directors actually went up town but were back again before ten o'clock. Just about the time the lights were to be turned off for the night some one of the watchers of the sky discovered a star peeking from behind the slowly passing clouds. Another peered through the dark away off in the north-west, and soon the Dipper was clearly outlined. That was just the "nightcap" the lingering directors needed.

"That's the trouble with having so much illumination," said Vice-President Reg. Turner. "We could have seen the stars long ago perhaps, if we hadn't that curtain of light hanging over the grounds."

And with a final "let's go," the directors departed with buoyant hopes and final assurance that the Exhibition Grounds would be flooded with sunshine this morning, and that a silver lining would be hung out in the sky for the next three days.

Flowers and Vegetables.

Despite the fact that this year's Exhibition falls a week later than usual the fears of the directors of the Flower department that the display might be considerably reduced were happily not realized. The flower exhibit is slightly ahead of other years, especially in asters. The gladioli section is not quite so large as usual. J. H. Callander has in recent years carried off the prizes for the best collection but this year he is not a contender and W. H. Young's ambition to wrest first honours for "gladies" will probably be rewarded by the judges.

The professionals have splendid exhibits and citizens will find the flower display well worth a special visit.

The local Vegetable Growers' Association deserve special mention for their fine exhibition. The season was most favorable to them and they have had shown the firstlings of their harvest. Mammoth potatoes will catch the eye of the backyard gardeners, many of whom will probably make a mental comparison with their own best results. The tomatoes, cabbages, carrots, mangolds and other vegetables are excellently arranged and reflect great credit upon the directors of this Department, Messrs. Kitney, Oke, Williams, Johnston and Webber. Last night Frank Kitney, John Williams, Dick Ford and other members of the Vegetable Growers' Association completed the arrangement of the entries and set off their show with arched evergreen tres in a way that makes a decidedly effective display.

In this section there is a display of vegetables grown by the children of the Queen Alexandra school, but the chief feature is that for bulk, some of the potatoes give the prize pumpkins a close run for the biggest specimen in the whole department.

The Poultry Show.

Proud of their new permanent building, although they say they will tax it to its fullest accommodation in a few years, the poultry directors, Messrs. Baptie, Dickenson and Kelley finished the crating of thier birds last night. The horse barn is filled with a fine show of heavy horses and the cattle stalls and sheep and swine pens are all occupied.

The Ladies' Work.

The directors of the ladies' work section have an especially good display this year. It was arranged by Miss Mary Elliott, superintendent, Mrs. Popham and Miss Higgins. The judges were Miss Laidlaw and Mrs. Cruikshanks.

The Fine Arts exhibits have been very tastefully grouped by Messrs. C. G. Graham, C. S. Cummer, Vincent Eastwood and R. M. Glover. The care they exercised in their work is shown in the very pleasing effect the display produces.

The judges are Mrs. Eastwood and Miss Sanderson.

TURKISH NATIONALISTS ARE CONTINUING FIGHT AGAINST FRENCH TROOPS

GERMAN OFFICERS OPERATE THE GERMAN GUNS—PREPARING FOR A WINTER'S SIEGE.

(Canadian Press.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 21. — Turkish Nationalist forces in Southern Asia Minor are continuing their fight against the French troops of occupation there. Ten thousand Turks and Arabs are beseiging Adana and others are daily shelling Tarsus with old five inch German guns which are operated by German officers who have been stranded there since the armistice.

Frequent attacks are being made on Mersina, a seaport southwest of Adana, but have been repulsed by fire from guns of French battleships in the harbor. The French have succeeded in getting supplies into Tarsus and have also cleared the plain between Adana and the sea. They are preparing for a winter's siege, however, and are distributing food to Turks, Arabs and Armenians inside the city. Hand to hand fighting frequently occurs at Adana, French Senegale and also Turks and Arabs cutting off heads of the fallen to be sure they are dead. There is no report, however, of torturing being inflicted. The French have driven back the besiegers and have established their lines five miles to the west of the city, but the Turks and Arabs continue their assaults under protection of vineyards and orange groves.

MACSWENEY PASSED A RESTLESS NIGHT

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney passed very restless night at Brixton Prison, where he entered this morning fortieth day of his hunger strike, According to a bulletin issued by Irish Self Determination League. He had some sleep but it was quite fitful and he was very weak this morning the Bulletin stated.

Shooting Followed By Fight

AUXILIARY POLICE FORCES WRECKED IRISH TOWN IN RETALIATION

(Canadian Press).

DUBLIN, Sept. 21. — Auxiliary police forces last night wrecked the town of Balbriggan in retaliation for the shooting of two police officers there on Monday night, when District Inspector Burke was killed and his brother seriously wounded. Two civilians were shot dead and several persons wounded. Many houses were set on fire, and the largest hosiery factory in Ireland, belonging to an English firm, was destroyed. This morning the town was in terror, and streams of refugees in all sorts of vehicles were making for neighbouring villages. Shortly after midnight uniformed men appeared in the streets, evidently bent on seeking the murderers of the police officials. A riot followed, in which public houses were entered and set on fire, as well as numerous private houses, whose occupants were given little time to dress before the buildings were burned. The town is one of the centres of hosiery manufacture and power loom weaving.

THREATEN TO RETURN

It is reported that two civilian who were killed, a dairyman and barber were dragged from their houses bayonetted and then shot. A number of houses belonging to prominent Sinn Feiners wer eset on fire and all together twenty-eight residences are reported burned to the ground. The sacking of the town it is alleged was caried out by some fifty auxiliary police known as "Black and Tans" from their uniforms. To-day the police were reported to be declaring they would return to-night to complete the destruction of the town.

EPWORTH LEAGUE SOCIAL EVENING

TRIP TO CHEMONG PARK ABANDONED

A very successful social evening was spent by about 50 young people of the Trinity Methodist League and their friends last evening, in the Reid street hall. The original plan of a corn roast at Chemonw Park was abandoned because of the inclement weather but the affair although held indoors was very enjoyable. Mr. G. Kennett was the chairman, and a delightful programme of music and games, with an address by Rev. F. E. Malott and Mr. Kennett, were given.

The climax to the evening, which marks the beginning of the League's fall and winter programme, came when heaping trays of hot corn and "hot dogs" were brought in with enormous jugs of coffee as well.

This social evening was an excellent starter for the league on their programme for 1920-21 and all who attended last evening hoped that there would be many such evenings during the fall and winter months.

UNDER WATER TANKS WERE READY AT ARMISTICE, SAYS FRENCHMAN

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept 21.—(By Mail).—Thanks to sub-marine tanks— or rather to sub-fluvial tanks—rivers which in the past have constituted one of the greatest handicaps to advancing armies will in future wars no longer be an obstacle.

The army which thinks it can place itself in safety by getting behind a wide river and blowing up the bridge will have some disappointing and fatal surprises in store for it.

These are the declarations of General Estienne, who as "father of the French tank" during the war is still at the head of that service in the French army.

As a matter of fact, had not the armistice put an end to operations when it did in the fall of 1918, and had the French been obliged to carry the campaign into German territory, the Rhine would have been crossed by sub-fluvial tanks, and the bridgeheads wrested from the Germans with this new form of warfare.

General Estienne declares that as early as the spring of 1918, when the campaign plans for that year involved the possibility or necessity of crossing the Rhine the French had already undertaken and solved the problem of sub-fluvial tanks.

"The idea is already several years old," General Estienne declared. "At the moment of our advance in 1918, it was by means of amphibious tanks that we counted on forcing the passage of the Rhine and capturing the bridgeheads on the other side. Thanks to them we would have been able suddenly to burst into the middle of the enemy in the most unexpected fashion and pulverize everything within range. It is very easy to comprehend the importance of such method of attack.

"The methods we have studied and perfected will permit of the use of a very heavy assaulting car. These weigh about twice as much as an equal volume of water. Fitted with caterpillar crawlers like the land tanks they will lend themselves to surmounting all the obstacles that may be encountered in river beds. The material as well as the moral effect of these sub-fluvial monsters on the enemy would be terrible.

"They are also far more practical than the pontoons which have been used to date. The latter are merely haphazard ways of getting across a river, are easily spotted by the enemy and easily shelled. With the sub-fluvial tank, however emerging from the water at a point unable to be determined in advance, the enemy will have no way of replying. Two, ten and even twenty such assaulting cars issuing suddenly from a river's bed would be sufficient to break up any bridgehead or any river defense.

"The tank, both amphibious and for land use, constitutes the great arm of future wars. We are still ignorant of its full possibilitites, but it constitutes the coup de grace for the cavalry and permits of close-up fighting which will render again possible decisive battles like those of Austerlitz.

"But it is especially the amphibious tank, co-operating with airplanes over head that in the future will open up the passage of rivers and force fighting in the open such as the recent war did not see."

Just a minute, please!

PEOPLE have pride, of course. Pride in their appearance, their work, or their homes.

And that's healthy. But the sort of pride that sneers at an Ingersoll watch because it's low priced is the pride that leads to extravagance and waste.

Thomas A. Edison isn't too proud to carry a Maple Leaf Ingersoll. Plenty of other men whose foot prints are on the sands of time keep time with an Ingersoll.

As a matter of fact an Ingersoll is a watch to be proud of. If you had a servant or an employee who gave the sort of accurate, trustworthy, faithful service in all weathers and conditions that an Ingersoll Maple Leaf gives, you'd be justly proud. You'd think you were a good picker.

And when you can pick out an Ingersoll Maple Leaf for $3.25—or $4.00 if you want the Radiolite that tells time in the dark—you ought to be proud of the chance.

BRITAIN FIGHTS IN EXPANSION OF TRADE

SEEKING TO STRENGTHEN HOLD ON FOREIGN MARKETS

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Never before in her commercial history has Great Britain possessed such wonderfully perfected machinery for the expansion of her international trade as that through which she is now, through Governmental and private organization, seeking to strengthen her hold on foreign markets.

That is the gist of a report made by P. Harvey Middleton, assistant manager of the Foreign Trade Bureau of the Guarantee Trust Company of New York, who has just returned from Europe where he made an extensive study of British trade organizations.

Determined to Win.

British business men, Mr. Middleton's report sets forth, are not only determined to win back all of the trade taken from them in pre-war days by Germany, but to establish British commerce so firmly in every port of the world that other nations will be hard put to maintain their trade.

One of the mediums through which British overseas trade is destined to expand, the report says, is the British Trade Corporation, incorporated in 1917 with an authoized capital of 10,000,000 pounds sterling. Although designed to assist the small exporter, the policies of this mammoth corporation have been made freely available to the largest manufacturers of the empire, and it is only one of the numerous agencies at present facilitating the expansion of trade.

Specialized Lines.

In addition to the elaborate commercial undertakings through which the trade interests of the empire will be cared for, an intelligence bureau is maintained to provide up-to-date and reliable information concerning conditions in foreign countries where trade may be sought. This bureau is being fostered through the British Overseas Bank, an institution formed by several English banks in March, 1919, to develop overseas trade along specialized lines.

TROOPS GUARD WALL STREET AFTER TERRIBLE EXPLOSION. Immediately after the explosion occurred on Thursday, troops were summoned to guard the Sub-Treasury, J. P. Morgan's office, and other places where there were millions of dollars worth of gold and securities. The picture shows a member of the State Militia on guard with fixed bayonet.

NOT A SPAWNING EEL HAS EVER BEEN SEEN

(Canadian Press)

CARDIFF, Wales, Sept. 21. — Dr. Johannes Schmidt, a Danish scientist, is searching the Atlantic between the Azores and the West Indies for spawning fresh water eels, which the eye of man has never seen.

This announcement was made by Dr. W. A. Herdman, professor of oceanography at Liverpool University, in his presidential address before the annual conference of the British Association.

"All the eels of the streams and lakes of Nortwestern Europe," Dr. Herdman said, "live and feed and grow under our eyes without reproducing their kind—no spawning eel has ever been seen. After living for years in immaturity, at last near the end of their lives the large male and female yellow eels undergo a change in appearance and in nature. They acquire a silvery color and their eyes enlarge, and in this bridal attire they commence the long journey which ends in maturity, reproduction and death.

"They migrate in the autumn to the coast, from the inshore seas to the open ocean and still westward and south to the mid-Atlantic and we know not how much farther, for the exact locality and manner of spawning have still to be discovered. The youngest known stages of the Leptocephalus, the larval stage of eels, have been found by Dr. Schmidt to the west of the Azores, where the water is over 2,000 fathoms in depth. These were about one third of an inch in length and were probably not long hatched. Now Dr. Schmidt is traversing the Atlantic in the hope of finding the missing link in the chain, the actual spawning fresh water eel, in the intermediate waters somewhere above the abysses of the open ocean."

BIG 'SPREAD' IS SHOWN IN RESTAURANT PRICES

DR. HASTINGS' REPORT OF FOOD CHARGES TAKES NO COGNIZANCE OF "OVERHEAD"

TORONTO, Sept. 21.— A "spread" ranging all the way up to 1,400 per cent.—that record mark being on a 15 cent order of tomatoes is set out in a voluminous report submitted to Mayor Church by Dr. C. J. O. Hastings, M.O.H., on the prices charged and profits reaped in Toronto restaurants.

The report does not include the overhead expenses, such as rent, light, heat, labor, etc.

Even at that, however, some rather heavy margins are recorded in the mass of statistics given by the officials.

One important feature that has not been touched yet is the price of pies. Many downtown eaters complain of paying 15 cents for a fifth or a sixth of a pie. This may be covered in a subsequent report.

The figuring of overhead expenses will be left to the Board of Commerce and its officials, so far as the civic officials are concerned.

Tomatoes show the highest percentage of profit of all the long list of foods.

One order, for which the inspector paid 15 cents at the Sunnyside Dairy Lunch, cost the firm only one cent, according to the statistics, making a profit of 1,400 per cent.

Walsh's Grill charged 15 cents for tomatoes which cost 5 cents, and Muirhead's charged the same for an order costing 4.2 cents. The Ypres Cafe took 10 cents for tomatoes which cost 1.5, leaving a profit of 567 per cent.

Cereals reveal some good profit margins also. The Palms Cafe takes a profit of 145 on corn flakes. Bowles sell at 15 cents, the spread being 55 per cent. One cafe, the Marathon, sells at a 24 per cent. loss, selling at 10 cents. They charge up 9.07 cents per order for milk.

The Palms are also ahead with shredded wheat, giving 173 per cent. on a 20-cent order. Bowles have an 86 per cent.

The highest profit made on oranges is marked against Prince's, being 149 per cent. though the order cost the inspector only 20 cents, while several places charge 25 cents a serving. The Railway News cafe at the Union Station sell at five cents and chalk up a loss of 40 per cent., stating that the orange order cost them 8 cents. The lowest profit recorded is that gained by the Robert Simpson Company, the cost of the order being 9.98 cents and the price ten cents.

The profit on canteloupes ranges from 45 to 77 per cent., the orders varying from 20 to 25 cents.

Profits on Tea.

The Pearl Cafe, 2,872 Dundas street, leads the list in profits on tea, making a 719 per cent. margin, while the Palms, Front street, have 566 per cent.

ALLEGED PARTIALITY IN JUDGING OLYMPIC GAMES

(Canadian Press)

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 21.—Danish papers have been outspoken in their criticism of alleged partiality in the judging of the Olympic games at Antwerp. They complain that awards were given on the principle of "Let the best man win if he is an ally."

The National Tidende's special correspondent at Antwerp charges that all games were umpired with a bias in favor of the allies. Typical in this respect, the correspondent says, was the sword combat between Denmark and Italy. All experts were agreed, he states, that Denmark was superior; nevertheless, the umpires gave the victory to Italy.

FIRST MEETING OF MARK STREET EPWORTH LEAGUE LAST EVENING

YOUNG LADIES PRESENT AN INTERESTING TOPIC — THE PROGRAMME.

The first meeting of the Epworth League was held last night and was an excellent beginning of the year's work.

Miss Millage prepared the topic, which was read by Miss Whattam, with effect.

Miss Fern Stenton, a pupil of Mr. Quinn, gave an instrumental solo, which was much apreciated.

The reading by Miss Sargent was good, and Miss Jones' solo was well received. Any of the young people of the city who are interested in League work would do well to drop in to the Mark street church. We submit the topic prepared by Miss Millage, which will be very helpful in a study of the various departments.

Miss Whattham is doing excellent work as president of the Missionary Department.

THE TOPIC.

"Our Epworth League"—"Look UP, Lift Up, For Christ and the Church."

A great many questions may be asked concerning our Epworth League, and the first that may arise is, "What is its object?" and the answer comes: The main objects of the League are:

(1) To unite with the young people of Methodism in Christian Fellowship;

(2) To organize them for Pracaical Christian Service.

The first is brought about by unity of purpose, development of true Christian spirit and ocoperation in all lines of work.

Now our answer to the second part, "To organize them for Practical Christian Service." We understand that to organize means to arrange or to form in order, and service may mean duty or worship or favor. In a Society like the Epworth League our young people receive a vision of useful life and come to realize that the highest ideal for life is Service. Each member is given an opportunity to work for the betterment of others, and in helping others are helping themselves to increase their usefulness in the service of God and Humanity. Our young people need within themselves to increase their usefulness in the service of God and Humanity. Our young people need within themselves strong Spiritual Convictions and a deep religious experience.

Who can estimate the power of prayer?

The work of our League is carried on in four departments:

(1) The Christian Endeavour:

This department has charge of the young people's prayer meeting, the monthly consecration meeting, the lookout work and the spiritual welfare of the League, to introduce them to the other members so that they will feel at home; and interest themselves in looking after any that seem indifferent to their duties. The committee for this department shall endeavor to bring into the Sunday School those who do not attend any other school and visit those who are careless about their attendance. They shall also visit the sick or the afflicted members and if necessary provide volunteer watches or nurses and furnish material comforts, all under the directions of the pastor, the district shall be visited, inviting strangers to church, and relieving where possible cases of distress and suffering.

(2) Missionary Work—

This Department has charge of all Missionary programmes, for the League meetings and if possible will organize and maintain Mission study classes, also Systematic giving for Missions should be encouraged among the young people of the church, so they will feel it is indeed a joy to give.

(3) Literary and Social Committee Work—

This department shall provide the exercises and entertainments of the League by means of Lectures, Debates, Essays, Literary Programmes and Music; also systematic Bible Study. The Bible is a book for every age, a book in which each generation find something new. As Epworth Leaguers may be give more of our attention and study to this wonderful book.

It is also their duty to welcome all strangers to the meetings and endeavour to make them feel at home in our church and league. Let us be true to our motto, "Look up."

The flowers for the pulpit should be provided each Sunday and at the close of the services, distributed among the sick, which means "Cheer up."

(4) Citizenship: To be a good Citizen means to be a Good Christian.

This department shall devote their attention (1) to patriotism, that is, to teach and stimulate love of country and to encourage the study of Canadian History. It shall also arrange for patriotic services in connection with National Anniversaries. (2) Municipal politics: The study of local conditions where leagues and young peoples' societies exist, and to utilize the forces of the league in advancing a sound and healthy municipal government. (3) Temperance and Prohibition—Be ye temperate in all things. (4) Moral Reform—Look up the young people through your Lookout Committees and follow out your motto by Lift up. Did you ever think that perhaps a kind word or a smile from you might be the means of saving a precious soul. 5) Athletics—That is to have charge of all outdoor sports.

And last of all let us be true to our Motto. All around us young and old are dying, are we reaching out to help them with a brother's hand, and are we speaking a loving word of comfort:

"'Tis the blessed Lord's command."

WALL STREET'S TRAGEDY.

If the terrible explosion in Wall street the other day was the work of anarchists, as the authorities seem convinced, the calamity furnishes food for speculation as to the curious workings of the misguided brains of the Reds. How could they possibly hope to achieve their aims by such a crime? What did they expect to gain by the murder of innocent men and women? If their design was to fight Capital what progress did they count on making by killing clerks and stenographers and messengers? The death of every one in the Morgan building, even if J. P. Morgan himself had been included in the casualty list would not have advanced the cause for which these fanatics pretend to be working one iota towards whatever goal they have in mind. But then these Reds never reason—if they reflected for a moment such crimes as that of last week could never happen.

THE EXHIBITION.

From the standpoint of civic patriotism alone the citizens of Peterboro and district should not fail to visit the Peterboro Industrial Exhibition at least once. But the big annual event is in itself an attraction of such magnetism that it seems scarcely necessary to appeal to civic spirit. This year's exhibition should surpass its predecessors in every respect for in every department is there manifest improvement. The manufacturers' exhibit is alone worth a visit to the grounds, for in the handsome new building that has just been completed is a remarkable demonstration of the progress that Peterboro has made along industrial lines. The building and its exhibits form an outstanding feature of this year's exhibition, and the residents of Peterboro should take delight in taking their visitors through the Manufacturers' Building. But the exhibits there are only one of many surprises that the exhibition offers its patrons this year. There is a record entry list, a larger Midway than ever before, and a meritorious programme of amusement features, all of which should combine to attract record-breaking crowds. The directors by their unfailing efforts have earned the support of the whole district and their enterprise should be rewarded by the setting up of a new high attendance mark.

CANADIAN CURRENT COMMERCE.

Viewed from almost any angle, the current exhibit of Canada's foreign trade compiled by the Canadian Depart of Trade and Commerce is encouraging. In both the results achieved in the year ended with July, 1920, and the indicated accumulation of raw material for further trade expansion the figures in detail tell their own story.

A total volume of imports and exports of $2,517,665,272 for the twelve months exceeds by $166,857,226 the record aggregate of 1918. The result assures a new era of trade expansion, since the war emergencies which yielded an export balance of $478,110,849 in the 1918 year and of $342,644,086 in the 1919 year now operate with scarcely less adverse than once favorable effect on Canadian commerce.

Exports to France have declined $76,000,000, to United Kingrom $335,000,000, to Italy $12,000,000—an enormous relative decline. With an increase of $88,000,000 in exports to the United States, $37,000,000 to Belgium, and with steady but aggresive expansion to the Orient, to South and North America, the lesser countries of Europe and notably to the British possessions in Africa and India, Canada is making good the promise to her people to go after the new markets of new countries which the war would open.

There are victims of economic insomnia whose most horrible nightmare is an adverse trade balance. Twelve months' Canadian trade to July 3, 1920, does show an adverse trade balance of $29,471,111; but it does not show Canada's invisible balances, which from war and post-war credits abroad total at least a billion dollars, and now rapidly assume the far-reaching advantage of permanent foreign investments—a weapon of almost unequaled strength to any exporting country.

Were every other consideration dismissed, analysis of the character of the imports which make up that adverse balance should lend courage to the most timorous. Imports of raw cotton are $55,000,000 higher than in 1918, iron and steel $20,000,000, flax, hemp and jute $6,0000,000, wool $49,000,00, silk $24,000,000, raw sugar $56,000,000, and hides and skins $18,000,000 higher. These are but a few items from a long list of raw materials as essential to the lesser but still large half of Canada's export trade as the wheat fields of the west.

Scrutiny of the export list proves that Canadian trade expansion is not absolutely dependent on sales of wheat and meat. Exports of wheat are $120,000,000 less, and of flour $57,000,000 less than in 1918. Meat exports have declined, and cheese, once practically Ontario's sole European export, has not held its own. Manufactures exports in the current year go far to replace a trade literally gone for good—exports of cartridges and explosives in two years have shrunk from $300,000,000 to $6,000,000.

These figures are the first chapter in the tale of a new era of Canadian development.—Wall street Journal.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

The election of Hon. Messrs. McCurdy and Wigmore in the by-elections yesterday will undoubtedly be a source of comfort to the Meighen Government, for there must have been a little fear of the results in the hearts of the Cabinet, especially in the Colchester fight, where Hon. Mr. McCurdy was opposed by a soldier-farmer candidate. The result cannot, however, be accepted as proof of the country's confidence in the present Government, although the administration will endeavour to use it in that way. The Government took every little chance in the by-elections that were staged yesterday, selecting constituencies which were regarded as safe, and throwing all its influence in behind the two Ministers who were appealing for election. The effort has been successful, and Pilot Meighen unquestionably will sigh with relief at the knowledge that his craft has escaped at least one set of rocks that threatened to wreck it before it had long been out of harbour.

POPULAR TASTE.

There is food for thought in a little editorial note which appears in the Ottawa Journal, and which reads as follows:

"Two hundred watch the live stock judging at the Exhibition, while 60,000 surge along the Midway. Yet some people want to know why the newspapers are not more high-browed."

The condition the Journal calls attention to is being repeated at every exhibition in the country. Peterborough people can see it for themselves at the local Fair. And what is true at exhibitions seems to be true in other cases. The college professor is expected to live on a mere pittance, while a pie-throwing comedian in the moving picture world collects hundreds of thousands of dollars for his antics. For every man who would go to see a Shakespearian production there are a thousand who would prefer to see Babe Ruth drive a baseball over the stands. The "jazz" selection by the band is the one that draws the applause, while the standard music is greeted with silence. And so it goes—the popular taste is not at a high level. As the Journal puts it: "yet people want to know why the newspapers are not more high-browed."

LAUDS IRISH REPUBLIC MAYOR MAY LOSE JOB

(Canadian Press)

PARIS, Sept. 21.—The Irish Sinn Fein republic has been "recognized" by the Mayor at Versailles but the recognizer is in danger of losing his job.

It happened in the course of a recent centenary celebration. Among the foreigners who placed wreaths and delivered speeches before the statue of General Hoche was an envoy from a country which has been mentioned quite frequently in despatches lately as the "de jure" Irish republic. The Mayor replied with great enthusiasm to the Sinn Feiner's oration, lauding "the new republic" which had grown out of the war.

The British Embassy at Paris protested to the Quai d'Orsay and the Mayor has been asked to brush up in his geography and explain how it happens that he is unaware that Ireland is still a part of the friendly British Empire.

WIND UP CANADIAN CREDITS IN EUROPE

OTTAWA, Sept. 20. — Canadian credits to European countries will be wound up by the middle of November, when outstanding contracts for serges and freizes have been filled. After that the only open credit will be that for timber, for which an amount of $50,000,000 was provided. Of the amount, Great Britain took up $23,458,839.

A total of $157,000,000 in credits was set aside by the Government. Of this amount something in the neighborhood of $65,00,000 has been taken up.

The following are the amounts in detail: Rumania, $20,483,676; Greece, $7,121,300; Italy, $6,000,000; France, $5,000,000; Belgium, $1,772,206; Great Britain (for timber), $23,458,839. Rumania's credit was absorbed for miscellaneous supplies. Greece purchased military supplies largely, and Italy bought frozen meats.

After five years of effort, expert accountants have failed to find an error of $2,22 in figures totalling more than $18,000,000 in settling up the bankrupt estate of Josiah V. Thomoson Pittsburg the largest industrial failure in the US

MARRYING IS LUCRATIVE BUSINESS IN FINLAND

(Canadian Press)

VIBORG, Finland, Sept. 21. — Hiring Finnish men to marry Russian women to enable the latter to get out of Russia has become a popular and lucrative business in the border towns south of Viborg. The Finns exact a high price, but the method is unfailing. It makes a Finnish subject of the woman, and is recognized as lawful by the two countries which have assumed diplomatic relations. Endless trouble ensues, of course, if the woman thus freed of Russia refuses to part with her pseudo-husband.

These newly-married couples come out of Russia into Riarajoka, the frontier town, not more than 30 miles from Petrograd, with the daily exodus of Swedish and Finnish refugees.

LABOUR CONGRESS CRITICISES HYDRO

LABOUR MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT DECLARED GUILTY OF "PASSING THE BUCK."

WINDSOR, Sept. 21.—The Trades Congress in session here on Saturday strongly condemned the attitude and actions of the Hydro-electric Power Commission and the Labor members, including Hon. Walter Rollo, Minister, in connection with the labor disputes on the Chippaya development at Niagara Falls. The Labor M.P.P.'s came in for severe criticism for their failure to insist that the eight-hour day principle be applied to all labor on this big work. A resolution was adopted embodying these criticisms and a demand that the Government and the Hydro Commission "put into effect at once, on the Chippawa development work, such rates of wages as are established in that district, and working hours as are established in that district and as were in force on the Chippawa development during the season of 1919."

Government Inactive.

Chairman Marsh, of the resolution committee, charged the Provincial Government with inaction. He reviewed the details of the recent trouble at Chippawa, stated that a Labor M. P., had addressed one of the meetings of the men and appealed to them not to go out on strike in order that opportunity be given to secure a special commission to investigate. The strike was deferred and the commission appointed. After investigation a report, signed by all members of the commission, was presented to the Government favoring the eight-hour day, although the farmer member had included a minority report supporting the ten-hour principle.

"In the opinion of the great majority of labor," he went on, "the labor member on that job was guilty of passing the luck. His duty in our opinion was to have submitted a minority report insisting on the eight-hour day. The report of the commission was sent to the Government but up to date we have failed to hear that any action has been taken on it.

Mayor McBride, M.P.P. for Brantford, informed the delegates that he was the Labor member of the "Commission" to which reference had been made. "We realized," he explained in defence of his actions, "what it would means to the workers of Ontario if a strike took place. We asked from the floor of the House that a commission be appointed. I was the Labor man appointed to the committee—out of five members. The other members could not agree with my views."

Czar-Like Attitude.

Delegate E. Ingled, of London, urged that Congress "condemn Hydro Commission's action and the Czar-like action of its chairman."

Hon. Walter Rollo defended himself and other Labor members, pointing out that they were thirteen all told, and some of them did not come from organized labor.

John Bruce, Toronto, and President Tom Moore were also vigorous endorsers of this adverse criticism of Hydro and Labor M.P.'s.

John Noble, Toronto, said he would not regret if the Hydro chairman were moved to-morrow.

Seek Amendments.

The Executive Committee was authorized to seek amendments to the Industrial Disputes Act, principal among which are the removal of the compulsory features. Some unions wanted the repeal of this measure while others favored its extension and it was thought that with the compulsory features removed it would be acceptable to all parties.

POLES FIGHTING WAY EASTWARD

CAPTURE IMPORTANT FORTRESSES ---RUSSIANS CONCENTRATE HEAVY FORCES

(Canadian Press)

WARSAW, Sept. 20.—A big advance was begun four days ago. The Poles fighting their way eastward, have reached the line of lower Zbruch capturing Trembovla, Tarnopola and Brody. Further north they have taken the fortress of Dubno after heavy fighting, and are advancing in the direction of Rovno fortress, the capture of which is expected shortly.

Russians Concentrate.

The Russians are concentrating heavy forces along Niemen River, beyond the Polish Northwestern front, preparatory to an offensive which is expected to begin with a few days, according to military attaches who have been at front for several days past.

Soviet commanders have brought up all available artillery, airplanes and other equipment of warfare, and, according to reports reaching Allied officers, Leon Trotsky, the Soviet Minister of War has arrived at Lida to the South of Vilna, to direct operations.

Reports declare the concentration now under way include parts of Russian workingmen's army, which have been well supplied with arms and ammunition, for a push designed to shovel the Poles back from the ground they recently gained, before cold weather sets in.

The War Office report to day announces somewhat local fighting has taken places on the Lithuanian front.

Let The Homes of Canada Reflect The Nation's Prosperity

CANADIANS have every reason to feel optimistic, courageous and self-reliant to-day—to look to the future with calmness, optimism and confidence—to work energetically, to live happily and to enjoy the refinements, comforts and home-life of a well educated, progressive and prosperous nation.

As a Toronto "Globe" editorial so truly stated:—

"In the topsy-turvey world of to-day, few nations have a better outlook than Canada, the well-being of which is based firmly upon the fertility of her boundless fields."

Greater Interest in Home Improvement

One of the most impressive evidences of the progressive and prosperous condition of the Canadian nation is the great interest that is developing in the beautifying and improving of our homes. More care and more thought are being given to the furnishings. Greater consideration is shown for beauty and harmony. An atmosphere of cheerfulness, brightness and attractiveness is being carried throughout the home.

It is really surprising how readily an ordinary, uninteresting house can be transformed into a real home, in which it is a pleasure to live, by the magic of beautiful, yet not necessarily expensive, furniture.

And in view of the solid, prosperous condition of the country, and the outlook for a promising future, Canadians should feel encouraged to proceed with the beautifying and improving of their homes with better furnishings.

Nothing that you can buy will give you and your family so many years of happiness, comfort and solid satisfaction as beautiful furniture.

The Influence of Furniture in the Home

Beautiful furniture brings an atmosphere of cheerfulness and brightness into every room. It delights the eye. It gives comfort and rest to the body. It brings contentment to the mind and has a refining influence on character. It gladdens the heart. It is the pride of the owner.

A beautiful library table or a luxurious chair costs no more than a tailor-made suit. A Chesterfield no more than a set of furs. Three or four suites of elegant furniture are obtainable for the price of an ordinary motor car. Other things last but a few months or a few brief years, whereas good furniture lasts more than a life-time.

During the last decade there has been a wonderful change and improvement in the appearance of furniture.

Modern furniture designers have received their inspirations from the "Period Designs" of the old masters, but have not copied their work, because some of the old masterpieces were either too frail or too cumbersome for utility.

Modern Designs for Average Homes

While the average family might not care to furnish their homes with the original work of the old masters, the modern reproductions and adaptations of them, as produced by Canadian furniture craftsmen, ideally meet the present-day demands for furniture that combines art and beauty with comfort and utility.

Modern Canadian furniture is noted for the excellence and soundness of its construction as well as its artistic appearance. There are no more skilled craftsmen operating wood-working machines, no more dextrous carvers of patterns that enrich the furniture, no finer cabinet makers, no more careful polishers, stainers and finishers, no better upholsterers, than are working to-day in Canadian furniture factories.

Moderately Priced Suites and Pieces

And this beautiful, modern, well-made Canadian furniture is obtained in moderately priced sets and individual pieces, as well as in the more elaborate and expensive suites.

From the cradle to old age, from the cottage to the mansion, there is Canadian-made furniture suitable for every purpose and every pocket-book.

The individual earnings of Canadians are greater than those of almost any other race. We are living in prosperous times, and in a country with a glorious future. The new era commencing with the close of the war is proving to be the most progressive and prosperous in the history of the Dominion, and Canadians can well afford to brighten up their homes with better furniture.

CAMP BORDEN AGAIN OPEN.

Officers and Men report for Duty—Communication Service Between the City and Borden.

TORONTO, September 18. — Camp Borden is now officially open and is the centre of training for officers and men of the new Canadian Air Force. The service is distinct from the army and navy and thus adds the third wing to the Canadian Government military organizations. A number of officers and men from various parts of Canada are in the city to-day being measured for the new uniform, and the flying navy blue will appear on the streets within a few days.

Officers will be clad in navy blue breast and slacks. White shirts and collars with black ties will be worn, while the old F. R. C. type cap will be worn by all officers under field rank. Senior officers will wear a blue peak cap with maple leaves.

The period of training will be for twenty eight days and all volunteering officers and men will report for duty once in every two years, or may be called up for special duty with their consent, or summoned for a court of inquiry or a court martial.

It is the intention of Air Commodore Tyler, O. B. E., commander-in-chief of the force, to fly the year round and as the snow flies to put skids under the airplanes. Engines will be encased to prevent freezing in severe weather while the flying officers will be given clothing adequate for a North Pole Expedition.

Regular communication will be established between Toronto and Camp Borden to transport officers to and from the camp on official business. The flight takes thirty minutes each way.

POLITICS TO FORE AT LEGION MEETING

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(United Press.)— Politics will be the paramount issue at the next convention of the American Legion, it was indicated to-day in replies to a survey just completed by the American Legion Weekly to ascertain the views of the legion's 2,000,000 members regarding the political restrictions clause in the war veterans' organization.

The sentiment, according to the interpretation than genral has been observed be placed on the clause in the constitution which forbids connection of the legion with politics. At present the clause reads:

"The American Legion shall be absolutely non-political and shall not be used for the dissemination of partisan principles or for the promotion of the candidacy of any person seeking public office or preferment. No candidate for or incumbent of a salaried elective public office shall hold any office in The American Legion, or in any Department or Post thereof."

The question of official participation in the present national campaign and in state and local political battles has been brought up several times, officials have said. At the Cleveland convention, it is regarded as likely that the whole phase will be brought out into the open for discussion and final settlement.

The government of the city of New York costs more to maintain than does that of the whole Japanese Empire.

WORDS.

One day a harsh word rashly said,
Upon its evil journey sped,
And like a sharp and cruel dart,
It pierced a fond and loving heart;
It turned a friend into a foe
And everywhere brought pain and woe.

A kind word followed it one day,
Flew swiftly on its blesed way,
It healed the wound, it soothed the pain,
And friends of old were friends again.
It made the hate and anger cease,
And everywhere brought joy and peace.

But the harsh word left a trace,
The kind word could not quite efface,
And though the heart its love regained
It bore a scar that long remained.
Friends could forgive but not forget,
Or lose the sense of keen regret.

Oh, if we could but learn to know,
How swift and sure one word can go,
How would we weigh with utmost care
Each thought before it sought the air,
And only speak the words that move
Like white winged messengers of love.

ALBERTA MINERS MAY QUIT WORK

ONE BIG UNION WOULD TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE SHORTAGE OF COAL

(Canadian Press)

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 20. — Efforts to bring about a strike in Alberta mines in October to force the abolition of a U.M.W. check off, and the opening of negotiations for a new agreement on wages and working conditions, is being made by the One Big Union here.

Circulars have been mailed to every miners' local here whether O. B. U. or U.M.W. It discloses that the O.B.U. hopes to take advantage of the shortage of coal at the threshold of winter, to enforce their demands. They call upon miners to demand that employers abolish the check off of U.M.W. and negotiate for a new agreement, refusal to do so being the signal for strike.

PETTY ROBBERY REPORTED HERE

SEVERAL COMPLAINTS OF "PEEPING TOMS" IN CITY

Two cases of petty theft have been reported in the city recenty and several complaints have been made of men attempting to enter houses and strolling about gardens with an air of ownership.

On Sept. 7th the house of Mrs. R Hounsel, at 232 Edinburgh street was entered and $70 was taken from a sidebboard drawer. A few days later $20 was taken from a house on Gilmour street.

Recently a well dresser man rang the doorbell of a local home and a asked whether there was a gentleman living in the house. Suspecting that the man was of a suspicious character the lady of the house barred his entrance as best she could and called for help. A male occupant of the house answered the call and it was with difficulty that the unwelcome visitor was excluded.

There have been several complaints of men peering in the windows of private residences.

HOW TO HAVE PRETTY NATURAL LOOKING CURLS

Straight, lank hair is becoming to but few women and there's no excuse now for anyone looking homely and unkempt on that account. Those who have foresworn the curling iron because of the damage it does by drying and breaking the hair, will be glad to hear that the simple silmerine method will produce a far better and prettier effect, without any injurious result whatever. If just a small quantity be applied with a clean tooth brush before doing up the hair, the loveliest natural looking curls and waves will be in evidence in three hours, and there will be nothing streaky, sticky or greasy about it.

A few ounces of liquid silmerine, obtainable at any drug store, will prove a welcome addition to many a dresing table. It is best applied by dividing the hair into strands and moitening each of them separately from root to tip. The beautiful wavy effect will last for a considerable time.

THE SERVICES AT MARK STREET

The services at Mark Street yesterday were largely attended and were deeply spiritual in their character. The choir was large and the music good. The evening congregation was larger than in many weeks, and a pleasing feature was the large percentage of men.

"The Old Well by the Gate," based on 1 Chron. 11, 17, "Oh, that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Bethelhem that is by the gate." The following is a gist of the discourse:

David was in the heat of conflict with the Philestines. During a lull in the battle he wipes the bloody perspiration from his brow, looks toward Bethelhem, the home of his childhood, recalls the scenes of other days, remembers the sweet associations of home and the dear ones there and longs for a drink of the water of the old well by the gate. Three strong, daring, valorous soldiers, hearing their king's expression, leap into the saddle, draw the sword, cut their way through the ranks of the enemy, clear through every obstacle, until they reach the old well, and filling a helmet, or the "Soldier's Cup," with the clear sparkling water, dash back to the side of their king and present him with the cooling draught.

But David does not drink the contents of the strange cup. It cost too much. Men risked their lives to procure this draught for the king. A small man would have drunk it without a qualm of conscience, but David was not a small man. An ordinary man would have slaked his thirst and been grateful, but David was no ordinary man. This great man appreciates the danger through which his soldiers passed to procure the water, and instead of drinking it, pours it out upon the ground as an oblation before God.

Now, most men fight their moral battles on strange soil. We had no conflicts in boyhood's day, as we lingered with the dear old mother about the old well by the gate. I fought my first battles among the Manvaras hills, but I often turned my eyes toward the Atlantic and the heather hills beyond its blue, and longed for a drink from the old well, or in other words, for the prayers and sympathies and cheering words that will never come again.

We all remember something in the past to which we hold fast. No Bible just like mother's. No family just like ours in the old days, as we surrounded the family altar. What consolation, and prayer and counsel cluster around the old well. I call you away this morning from the maddening crowd, from the rush of sinful pleasure, from the disloyal babel of the Red Socialist, from the low haunts of Sabbath breakers and godless gamblers, from all that would antagonize the sweet, pure teachings of the days that have been. But you say, "Are we to live in the past?" In answer, we shall do well to gather up the fragments of the past, and marshal them with the opportunities of to-day, and they will help up in to-morrow's conflict.

You visit the old home, but much is changed. The old folks gone, brothers and sisters scattered to the ends of the earth; even the old familiar trees ar egone what remains; The old well, Back, then, to the Bible with its pure and simple stories of Eden and heaven and Daniel and Joseph and its pure and holy pictures of life. Back to your simple faith in God, in the church, in humanity, and in yourself. Back to the old well of truth, and grace, and mercy; yea, of God's infinite love. Drink deeply this morning from the wells of salvation.

JUST APPLY THIS PASTE AND THE HAIRS WILL VANISH

(Boudoir Secrets.)

The judicious use of a delatone paste insures any woman a clean, hairless skin. To prepare the paste, mix a little of the powdered delatone with some water, then apply to the objectionable hairs for two or three minutes. When the paste is removed, and the skin washed, every trace of hair will have vanished. No pain attends the use of the delatone, and it will not mar the most sensitive skin, but to insure results, see that you get real delatone.

THREE MEN DIE IN CESSPOOL

Two Tried to Save First—Fourth Faints, Swallows Glass, Ill.

NUTLEY, N. J.—Three men lost their lives in a cesspool, which one of them was repairing here today. The dead are Anthony Lord of 105 Bloomfield Avenue, Frank Jannarone of 21 Harrison Street, a member of the Jannarone Brothers' contracting firm, and Angelo Iselin, a produce dealer of 297 Center Street.

Lord, who was repairing the cesspool, which was on Iselin's property, was overcome by gas and fell in. Iselin heard his cries and ran to his aid, with Jannarone, who was visiting next door. Both men in trying to save Lord, fell in. A fire truck was called and the bodies were recovered.

Patrick Jannarone, brother of Frank Jannarone, fainted when he heard of his brother's death. Some one gave him a glass of water and he bit the glass, swallowing some of the bits. He is in a serious condition.

Folks who want the best must insist upon getting what they ask for.

FIFTEENTH INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS AGAINST ALCOHOL

DELEGATES IN WASHINGTON TO-MORROW—SPEAKERS FROM MANY FOREIGN COUNTRIES, AND DELEGATES FROM MOST PARTS OF THE WORLD

(Canadian Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21. — The Fifteenth International Congress against Alcoholism will open here to-morrow for a six-day session with delegates from most parts of the world present. Originally, the Congress was to have assembled in 1915, but having been postponed year by year because of the war, its present meeting will be the first since that at Milan, Italy, in 1913.

Speakers from 15 foreign countries are on the program. Those from the United States will include William J. Bryan, Attorney-General Palmer and Secretary Daniels, who will discuss phases of national prohibition. In addition to the speeches, the Congress will stage a pageant illustrating the anti-liquor movement in this country. An exhibit also will be held of materials and methods used in the world campaign against liquor, and of the development in the manufacture and sale of soft drinks.

A World League.

A number of national and international organizations and societies will hold meetings and conferences during the Congress but at hours supplementing its regular session. These societies include the World League Against Alcoholism, the World Prohibition Federation, the International Order of Good Templars, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, the Catholic Total Abstinence Union, the Anti-Saloon League of America, the Scientific Temperance Federation, the Priests' Total Abstinence League, the Inter-Collegiate Prohibition Association, the National Temperance Council, the National Legislative Conference and others.

Alcohol as affecting health will be the theme at the opening session. Dr. Eugene L. Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension Institute, New York City, is to discuss the relation of alcohol to modern health ideals and Dr. Charles R. Stockard, of Cornell University, is to recount the latest scientific investigation in this country of the action of alcohol on the brain, the nervous system and on heredity. Other speakers at this session will be Professor Ley of the University of Brussels, Director Aschaffenburg of the Cologne Psychiatric Clinic and Dr. Legrain of Paris. The pageant will be held to-morrow night, as also a reception to delegates and members.

Beer and Light Wines.

Beer and light wines will be the centre of attention Wednesday. Dr. Harvey W. Wiley will discuss "The Proposal for Beer and Light Wines in the United States from the Economic and Political Viewpoints," while others will tell of these beverages as intoxicants and causes of alcoholism.

Fight of the Churches.

The fight of the churches and of women on liquor also will be a part of to-morrow's program, the speakers including Right Rev. Regis Canevin of Pittsburgh, Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York City, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of New York City, Dr. P. A. Ming of the Swiss Parliament, Pastor Gallienne of Paris and Mrs. Ella A. Boole of Boston.

Prohibition during the war in foreign countries as well as in the United States, along with discussion of the constitutional prohibition in this country will be the subjects before the Congress Thursday. Attorney-General Palmer will speak at night on "Legal Aspects of Prohibition—Constitutional, Federal and State." Secretary Daniels also will speak there, his subject being "War Prohibition in its Relation to War Activity in the United States." An analysis of results of prohibition in this country is the subject of Bird S. Coler commissioner of Public Welfare, New York City, to be presented at the afternoon session. Speakers from Denmark, England, France, Sweden, Poland, Finland and the Orient also will relate details of the fight against liquor in their home countries.

Political Aspect.

On Friday, Dr. P. A. Baker, of Ohio, superintendent of the American Anti-Saloon League, will speak on "Political Aspects of the Prohibition Movement in America—Partisan and Non-Partisan Effort," and Representative John G. Cooper, of Ohio, will discuss "The Liquor Problem and Labor in America." Dr. R. Hercod, of Switzerland, will report on the present status of temperance and prohibition legislation in Europe. William Jennings Bryan will be the speaker at night.

Attention will be confined at Saturday's session to the movement against alcohol in North and South American countries. Miss Ruth E. Spence, of Toronto, will relate the fact in Canada and Dr. Algorta of Lima, Peru, will speak of that in South America. Other speakers will deal with the movement in Mexico and Central America. Saturday afternoon will be devoted to recreation, it being planned that all delegates and members of the Congress shall visit Mount Vernon and plant a tree at the tomb of Washington.

On the final day next Sunday the Congress will be addressed by the governors of Maine, Kansas and Georgia. Plans of various anti-liquor organizations represented in the Congress are then to be announced.

Why are People So Indifferent about Sleep

TO watch some of your friends, you might think sleep was the most unimportant thing in the world.

Yet every man could earn more, would enjoy his work and play more, if he would make sure of a good, sound sleep every night — all his nerves and muscles relaxed, and storing up new energy for the day.

And if he wakes up tired day after day he'd better look to his sleeping equipment— the wooden bed that squeaks; the metal bed that rattles; the old-fashioned spring that sags and sways; the lumpy, unsanitary mattress and pillows.

You'll never get the right kind of sleep except in a sturdy, noiseless bed, with flat, resilient spring, a soft, even mattress and clean pillow, all inviting you to relax and go soundly to sleep.

* * *

The truly noiseless Bed is the Simmons Metal Bed— built for sleep.

Just as the sleep-inducing Spring is a Simmons "Waldorf," of specially tempered spring coils. Fine springs that fit the contour of the body and support the spine in a straight line, insuring perfect circulation and restoring the energy used up in the fatigue of the day.

Simmons Felt Mattresses are the result of twenty-five years' study of equipment for sound, natural sleep. Made of pure, new cotton in clean, sun-lit factories. Used in thousands of fastidious Canadian homes.

And Simmons Pillows, which rest the head and neck exactly as they need to be rested.

Simmons Limited is a specialist in Twin Beds—a pioneer in that fine modern principle of a separate bed for each sleeper.

* * *

Simmons Metal Beds, Brass Beds, Springs, Mattresses, Pillows, Day Beds and Children's Cribs are the most sought after sleeping equipment in leading stores right here in town.

The prices are little if any higher than for the ordinary.

And when you are selecting your Simmons Beds with an eye to their appearance in the room, you will see that Simmons has for the first time established beautiful and authoritative design in Metal Beds.

Sleep is a big subject! Write us for the booklet, "What Leading Medical Journals and Health Magazines Say about Separate Beds and Sound Sleep." Free of charge.

BRITAIN AIDS FRANCE TO MEET HER U. S. LOAN

WEAKNESS IN STIRLING DUE TO PURCHASE OF DOLLARS ACROSS ATLANTIC

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The Wall Street Journals states that it is generally understood among leading New York bankers that Great Britain's share of the Anglo-French loan is practically provided for, and that when the date of maturity arrives, on October 15, no financial arrangements will be necessary except the actual redemption of the bonds at the office of J. P. Morgan and Company.

"No details are available," says the paper, "as the matter is confidential between the British Treasury and its agents in this country, but the bankers in close touch with British financial dealings assert that in addition to accumulation of credits on this side, England has been making continuous large purchases of Anglo-French bonds in the open market for several months past. What the aggregate of such credits and purchases are is not known, but it is believed to be well over $200,000,000. Much of the weakness in sterling lately has been due to the purchase of dollars on the other side of the British Treasury for this purpose. In addition, Great Britain shipped gold earlier in the year which was generally understood to be to strengthen her Anglo-French loan funds here.

"Not only has Great Britain provided for the share of the loan, but it is being said in banking circles that the French Government obtained some assistance from here by ally across the English Channel in getting together the $200,000,000 which France has, of late years, to meet as her

MILLIONS OF WAR ORPHANS IN EUROPE

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman of the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, has returned from a month in Paris, Geneva and London receiving reports from the various countries in Eastern Europe in which the Red Cross is active.

"General relief must be continued in Poland and Austria," Dr. Farrand said, "but the chief problem is the children of Europe. Red Cross estimates indicate at least 11,000,000 children in Europe now fatherless from war and who face the next few years without hope of adequate care unless outside assistance is given. Poland has 500,000 orphans, most of whom are living in camps for destitute refugees. In Czecho-slovakia, Austria and Hungary there are at least 1,000,000 orphans, of whom 5,000 were found recently wandering like animals in the Ruthenian Mountains.

In Jugoslavia there are 500,000 orphans, hundreds of whom were found living in the ruins of devastated villages, which had been deserted by the adult population. The picture is appalling, and the Red Cross proposes to use its machinery to acquaint the people with the facts. I am very glad to learn that the American Relief Association, under the leadership of Mr. Hoover, is planning to continue its work of feeding the children in the countries where there is likely to be a food shortage. The American Red Cross will also bear its share in the task of preventing the spread of typhus in Poland in the coming winter, for another epidemic is feared."

ITALIAN WORKERS AND EMPLOYERS IN CONFERENCE

Premier's Plan For Settling Disputes Not Acceptable.

(Canadian Press)

ROME, Sept. 20.—Delegates of Italian Employers informed Premier Giolitti yesterday they were unable to accept his formula for reaching a settlement of their controversy with their workmen, but would submit to it. The Premier answered that he would assume full responsibility for imposing his plan and later issued a decree making the formal announcement of his action.

Efforts were made earlier in the day to reconcile opposing points of view regarding the Premier's plan.

This morning's session adjourned and then the delegates of employers and workmen held a conference. Most of the time of this joint conference was taken up with consideration of the question of dismissing workers.

THE SMITH TOWNSHIP RATES STRUCK FOR THE CURRENT YEAR

A SPECIAL PRIZE FOR RURAL SCHOOL FAIRS—LIST OF ACCOUNTS

The members of the Municipal Council of the Township of Smith met in the County Council Chamber on Friday, Sept. 11th, at ten o'clock. All the members were present with Reeve Nichols in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

PUBLIC IS LOSING INTEREST IN FAST

"SELF-STARVATION" BY SINN FEINERS, SECRETLY FED, HAS NO LONGER THE DESIRED EFFECT ON SHREWD PUBLIC

BELFAST, Sept. 21.—A gang of twenty rebels raided the houses of Protestants in the vicinity of Banbridge. David Nelson, Knockgorm, beat off the raiders after a sharp fight. The gang had forced their way in. Nelson was seized by the gang on his way home. They then attacked his house, which his two young sons gallantly defended. They beat the raiders off, but their mother was shot in the head by one of the many bullets sent into the house.

Got Only One Gun.

Archibald MacMaster's house and Mrs. Waterson's house, all in Corbet, were forced. All the other houses would have been broken into had not neighbours gathered and attacked the gang, which fled into the darkness with one gun, the result of the night's plunder. Two were reported wounded.

Shot as a Spy.

The body of Patrick Daly, of Ballingough, Roscommon, was found with three bullet wounds, and the word "spy" written on the corpse. Daly was kidnapped last month.

Patrick Hegarty, Carrowkeel, Co. Mayo, court-martialled in Belfast for having a revolver in his possession, was given two years.

John Collins, Incherig, Cork, was court-martialled in Cork for possession of seditious documents, and given twelve months.

Yesterday the military seized every kind of firearm in the gunsmith shops of Dublin.

Public interest has greatly waned in Terry MacSweney's fasting feats.

HON. MANNING DOHERTY OPENS PETERBORO'S BIGGER EXHIBITION

(Continel from page 1.)

Speeches of Welcome.

Mr. G. O. Cameron, chairman of the Reception Committee, in introducing the speeches of welcome by the Mayor of the city and Warden of the county to the Minister of Agriculture, said that the speeches could not be lengthy. It gave him great pleasure he said, to see the representative gathering of farmers and citizens on the Board of Directors, the City Council and the County Council assembled at the luncheon., all with one common interest in mind, and working with that end in view — to promote the agricultural interests of the district and to make the Peterborough Exhibition do no small part of this task. The ambition of the directors, he said, was to make the Peterborough Exhibition known as the greatest in Central Ontario. Manning Doherty and his Government, he said, could do much for the Fair, and he felt that they would. There is nothing which promotes the raising of live stock, the better cultivation of the land more than a good Exhibition.

Mayor's Address.

It gives me great pleasure to welcome the Hon. Mr. Doherty to our city, and I am sure we are greatly pleased to have him here. I give him the welcome of the city, said Mayor A. A. McIntyre.

Warden Nichols echoed what the Mayor said on behalf of the county.

An Appreciation.

Hon. Manning Doherty won his way to the hearts of the directors in his first few crisp sentences. "I remember well," he said, "when I asked Mrs. Doherty to be my wife. She said she was greatly surprised. Her surprise was not one-tenth of the surprise I feel at the welcome given me to-day. I assure you it is a real pleasure to be here." Hon. Doherty said that his words would be few, because he understood he would be given an opportunity to speak at the grounds. I wish, Mr. Chairman, to express my appreciation of the kind words extended to me by you, the city and the county.

Rev. Mr. Phelan, on behalf of the directors, also welcomed the Hon. Minister. He assured him that there was nothing but co-operation between the city and county, and he hoped that Mr. Doherty would take away nothing but the kindliest feelings for Peterborough and this district.

Mr. V. Eastwood also expressed the pleasure they felt in having the Minister here, and he also expressed, on behalf of the people of the Province, their appreciation of the work of the Drury Government.

At one o'clock the brief speeches were over, and the directors, with as many members of the City Council and County Council, and the Minister of Agriculture, left for the Exhibition Grounds.

The Parade.

With the factory whistles roaring, the People's Chimes ringing, hundreds of people gathered at Central Park cheering as they had never cheered before, Peterborough joined wholeheartedly in giving the opening of the Fair just the impetus the directors had confidently expected to reward their efforts in making the 1920 Exhibition the biggest and best show of its kind yet.

The parade which heralded the formal opening of the Fair, gathered at Central Park, every float and contribution being on time. Slowly the demonstration commenced its course to the Exhibition Park.

The Floats.

The utmost ingenuity was exercised by the merchants and manufacturers of the city in providing wonderful and beautiful floats, which were not only particularly attractive to behold, but represented a world of thought.

Cressman's was particularly impressive. On a truck of immense proportions, a scene which like the truck was snow-white, carried out the idea "Reconstruction Period, 1920," which was backed by the idea of "beating the swords into ploughshares." The living statuary involved in the float added much to the general effect.

Barrie's float represented a trapper's hut, constructed of valuable furs, at the door of which sat the tranper, while the firm's motto, "From Trapper to Wearer," was written on the side of the hut in real ermine skins.

Miller, Powell & Watson had an attractive exhibit, their float featuring the Cataract 1900 washing machine. The scene depicted a housewife sewing while electricity accomplished the washing, and bore the motto, "She sits and sews."

Jordan's float represented a woodland bower of evergreens, to which roses, carnations, chrysanthemums, and asters lent a riot of colour.

The Peterborough Cereal Company and all the mills of the city were represented by truckloads of sacks of flour and boxes representative of the products of the various mills. The Peterborough Cereal Company's float was particularly good.

The Pure Milk Products Co. was represented by a seemingly endless chain of delivery waggons and trucks, while each of the bread companies had a good showing.

Amongst the many exhibits, numerous private cars swelled the parade, and countless little boys on gaily decorated bicycles circled about the vehicles.

The Finish.

The procession was finished by the ever-popular hay waggon, driven by an 18th century model farmer, and upon which two equally non-up-to-date predecessors of the U.F.O. and U.F.W.O. turned, or attempted to turn, ceaseless somersaults.

Unique Float.

The Canadian Packing Company's float was one of absolute originality, and represented a huge white submarine with a small boy, armed with a pair of binoculars, at the look-out tower, while a small girl manned the wheel.

Opens the Fair.

Hon. Manning Doherty, Provincial Minister of Agriculture, formally opened the Exhibition shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon. Hon. Mr. Doherty spoke from the balcony over the entrance to the Manufacturers' Building, which was reached by means of a ladder. Perhaps if the Minister had been of a more portly build he would have had difficulty in making the ascent. As it was, Mr. R. Denne, president of the Exhibition Board, was the only one who accompanied him to the platform.

Mr. Denne, in introducing the distinguished guest, stated that the Board hoped that next year it would be able to show the people another building as large as the Manufacturers' Building, and a cattle barn 200 feet by 40 feet.

Hon. Mr. Doherty, after complimenting the Board upon the general excellence of the Fair, and stating that he was always glad to accept such invitations as that of to-day, launched into an exposition of the Fair as a means of bringing about mutual understanding between urban and rural interests, and stated that this was necessary as disunion and exaggerated class bigotry was detrimental to the best interests of the country.

Turning to a consideration of the attitude of the farmers, the speaker declared that there was never a more slanderous lie than that to the effect that the farmers were antagonistic to industry.

Farming, Hon. Mr. Doherty believed, was Canada's greatest industry, and he cited statistics in support of this. The immense national debt's payment rested largely on the farms. Here he pointed out to business and professional men the great influence which the remarkably large harvest of this year had had on the financial situation.

His advice to Canada was to "travel the centre of the road." The present ideas and valuation of men must undergo a change, he said. He pointed to the ideas which he claimed had led to the present unrest, namely, that the best evidence of a country's prosperity and progress was to be found in the number and size of its cities. He believed that attention should be given to the living conditions of the people rather than to the numbers of them.

He closed by advising the Exhibition Board to keep always in mind the fact that the successful Fair was the one which gave agriculture a prominent place.

FAIR EXHIBITS

ADMIRABLE MUSICAL EXHIBIT BY HEINTZMAN & CO.

To-day, and every day, we need all the music and cheer we can get. Music that gets into our inmost being and helps to mould character, chases out discord with melody and despondency with cheer.

Paeons of praise is being bestowed on the beautiful, outstanding musical exhibit presented to visitors at this Fair by local representatives of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co., Limited, under the capable direction of the local manager, of Heintzman Hall, Mr. W. Lawson.

This exhibit certainly draws the crowds. It occupies one of the four corner sections of the new Manufacturers' Building. It is a well and skilfully arranged display, embracing magnificent examples of Heintzman & Co. upright pianos, player pianos, phonographs, and other allied goods. The piano display consists of three distinguished models, viz., "Duchess," "Ionic," and "Classic." There was also shown a beautiful Heintzman & Co. player piano, reproducing a repertoire of music-rolls as they were placed in position, and attracting attention by the caressing melodies, the thrills, and the full chords of the great masters. The Heintzman & Co. aluminum action player is claimed to be the acme of success in modern player piano construction. It matters not whether you are a pianist or no, the operation is so simple anyone can reproduce the most intricate music.

There is also shown a "bare" piano, exposing the whole mechanism, or "interior anatomy," of the instrument, with all its units, intricate parts, and innumerable actions exposed to the eye. Mr. W. Morton, the expert tuner for Heintzman & Co., demonstrates and technically explains every detail in an instructive and interesting manner.

Naturally, it was a source of gratification to the Heintzman Hall representatives to find their exhibit receiving the congratulations of the throngs of visitors that flocked to their section. Those who have watched the trend of social events in Canada do not need telling that the pianos of Heintzman & Co. are in so many instances the choice of those having the management of these affairs. Foreign and visiting artistes from abroad, as well as those best known at home, have eulogised these beautiful-toned instruments. They possess unique musical characteristics that give them a distinctive place among the great pianos of the world.

A unique attraction which adds to the educational feature of this exhibit is a comprehensive demonstration of the actual construction and manufacture of the individual parts of the Heintzman & Co. pianos. Interesting details are given of the leading improvements—introduced by this firm in their piano building, which have led up to their remarkable excellence. Models are shown of the varied intricate actions of pianos and player pianos, in which the movements of the different parts are effected. A cross section of a piano action is seen illustrating the value of the metal-fitted improvements adopted by Heintzman & Co., and which have proved so valuable in resisting climatic changes, dampness, cold, and wear.

There yas a fine showing of high-class phonographs in the exhibit. Handsome cabinet examples of the "Brunswick" and "MacLagan" instruments attracted well merited attention. A Gothic period model of the "Brunswick" enlisted marked attention. It is electrically equipped and requires no winding. A period model of the "MacLagan" phonograph is a beautiful piece of cabinet work. To have a real appreciation of the phonograph art these two highly perfected models should be heard. A four-spring "Brunswick" motor is seen in action, displaying the hidden movements of the phonograph and indicating how smoothly the records are run off by this curious device.

Mr. F. B. Hutchison was in charge of the piano section of this exhibit, and Mr. Oscar Freeburn, of the Heintzman Hall phonograph department, was in charge of the phonograph section.

The decorations in this exhibit were in tasteful harmony—the walls were appropriately hung with pictures of noted pianists and singers, and the general effectiveness cleverly enhanced in various ways.

At the opening of the fall season, and to stimulate buying during Fair week, Heintzman & Co. prices and terms on new pianos are being made unusually attractive. People who consider a piano beyond their means are invited to call at this exhibit, or at Heintzman Hall, Royal Bank Building on Hunter Street, and learn how easily terms can be arranged. At any time to suit the convenience of prospective buyers, Mr. Lawson, the local manager will arrange for a demonstration of the beautiful tonal powers of any of the instruments. Heintzman Hall in Peterborough has gone to the extreme to make it easy for many homes in the city to enjoy the comfort and inspiration of good music by absorbing itself the increases that otherwise would be imposed on present day purchasers. A call puts you under no obligation to buy, and a hearty welcome awaits all visitors at the Fair or at Heintzman Hall showrooms Hunter Street.

IMPROVEMENTS IN OFFICE EQUIPMENT AND SYSTEM.

The Office Specialty Manufacturing Co. of Newmarket put up a splendid display of their unique office specialties, so ingeniously adapted for modern office efficiency. This exhibit occupied a central position in the new Manufacturers' Building, and was in charge of Mr. D. A. Costello, the company's energetic representative for Eastern and Northern Ontario.

No business manager could view this display without hankering after some of the time-saving and admirably adapted desk and filing specialties. The efficiency of the modern office can only be acquired through the use of systems that have been carefully and intelligently planned to handle the work expeditiously, and with the minimum of effort. With an experience of over thirty years, this Newmarket company have produced office furniture designs that have proved highly desirable and applicable to all classes of business utility.

In workmanship and material the lines shown would seem to cover every desired taste, while the designs are pleasingly simple, cleverly planned, and handy. Another feature of this "Office Specialty" line that makes for time-saving and economy is the standardisation on the various units that have proved most adaptable for office work in all kinds of business. No better evidence of the value of these lines to the modern business man could be afforded than the constant appreciation shown by the large attendance of merchants and others around this section.

The central combination in this exhibit is an Office Specialty efficiency desk. Visitors called and seemingly envied this splendid office combination. It answers for a filing cabinet and desk combined. Its drawers are arranged in letter size divisions to hold correspondence files and sales reports; in cap size divisions for cost charts and factory reports; other divisions hold sets of card records. So that statistics regarding every phase of business are instantly accessibe. In a word, this desk enables you to do more work in less time.

Samples of Vertical Filing is also shown. Alphabetical or numerical guides are used to divide the drawer and each folder has a specific place with all related papers filed in the same folder.

To all who find the lack of system in their office or who need their present system revised the "Office Specialty" system service should prove a great boon.

This interesting display also shows samples of the Steel Vertical Files, Shannon Filing, Card Index systems, Counter-height Verticals, Card Record Desk, Technical Book Cases, etc.

Mr. Costello, who has charge of this exhibit, was kept constantly busy explaining the merits of each specialty, and it is safe to say that he will have a bookful of orders before the Fair is over. Mr. Costello is a live Peterborough boy and is making good in the wide field to which he has been appointed.

ADAM HALL, LIMITED.

Visitors to the Exhibition should not fail to inspect the attractive exhibit in the Manufacturers' Building of the dependable Tropic Ranges manufactured in our own city by Adam Hall, Limited. These ranges have won favour generally for their cooking and heating efficiency, and courteous attention at this booth will cheerfully demonstrate them as carrying ample capacity for either city or farm use.

There is a large and growing call for Adam Hall Limited's ranges in Canada to-day, due to their popularity from a general utility standpoint and economy in service. Locally they are sold by Adamson & Dobbin, Simcoe street, James Murty, Hunter street, and the Home Furnishing Company, Charlotte street.

CANADIAN NASHUA PAPER COMPANY, LIMITED.

That some products of the Canadian Nashua Paper Company enter largely into domestic use is shown by this industry's instructive exhibit in Manufacturers' Building at the Exhibition. Reference is made to their demonstration of this company's special grade of wax-paper for wrapping bread, cakes, cereals, candies, chewing gum, soaps and other staple commodities. Courteous attendants are present and a cordial invitation is extendants visitors to let them exemplify the value of wax paper for preserving edibles in that degree of freshness and sanitation looked for by all discriminating housewives these days. Wax paper for wrapping edibles to protect them from dust and disease-carrying insects is rapidly growing to be recognized generally as an "indispensable" produced; hence this exhibit is of unusual interest.

This industry is one of Peterborough's latest acquistions, and its value to the community and country can readily be gleaned by an inspection of their varied display of first-quality outputs, including "specialty" and "gummed" papers and sealing tapes, all the company's own manufacture.

The Canadian Nashua Paper Company is located in the old Cordage building, the plant is now running in full operation and their establishment in Peterborough is justified by the fact that up to now business has exceeded their most sanguinary expectations.

Their exhibit is at the eastern end of the building—Don't miss it.

CAMPBELL FLOUR MILLS CO.

Tiers of this Company's far-famed "Cream of the West" Flour (for bread) and "Monarch" brand (for cakes and pastry—in bags— arrest the attention of Exhibition visitors in the Manufacturers' Buildings. A demonstration worth while is bread made from "Cream of the West" flour, the outstanding features of which are its pure flaky white interior and crisp brown crust. Other exhibits consist of this mill's "Monarch" feed for poultry and stock, the first class equality of which is quite apparent. Visitors should not fail to see at this booth the two inviting four-storey fruit cakes made by Coleman Bros. and L. Potvin from "Monarch" flour. Everyone may have a free ticket entitling him or her to a chance for a gift of one of these toothsome cakes, the lucky winenr of which will be announced Saturday. So hold your tickets till then.

The Campbell Flour Mills Company is the oldest milling concern in Canada and enjoys an enviable reputation as the largest in the British Empire. It is an industry reflecting credit on this city and the community generally and its products are unexcelled in the whole world

PETERBORO BUSINESS COLLEGE LIMITED.

This, one of the largest business educational in Ontario, than which there is none other in Canada more completely and efficiently equipped for training successful young business men and women is demonstrating the utility of their modern office machines. The exhibit consists of the Borrough's Bookkeeping Posting Machine, the Dictaphone, Adding Machine and Calculator, a knowledge of which is quite indispensable today to aspirants for highly-paid positions in Canada's best business establishments.

This booth will be found in the centre group in the manufacturers' building, and is replete with interesting and instructive exemplifications of the call for machinery in all up-to-date business office operations. Prospective students should make a note of this, as the demand to-day for graduates from the Peterboro Business College is far in excess of the supply. Positions await graduates from term to term, and ambitious young men and women should take advantage of the opportunity knocking at their doors to acquire the best busines education available. Full information as to courses, etc., may be obtained at the Peterboro Business College's booth. Enquire now.

CANADIAN PACKING CO., LIMITED.

It is hard to conceive of any hunger-striker resisting the tempting exhibit of this company in the Manufacturers' Building, just to the right of the western entrance. The whole tastefully displayed samples of "Rose Braud" Cooked Meats, Lard, Butter, Eggs and Cheese arrest, tempt and hold. It is in truth one of the most outstanding features in the Exhibition. Both refrigerator and shelves and tables are replete with delectable edibles, quite seductiv.

The demonstration of "Rose Braud" Oleomargarine is a centre of attraction, and Mrs. Wilson in charge is kept busy handing out tasty tid-bits of crackers spread with this approved substitute for butter. She was heard to say she was brought up on oleomargarine, and her recommendation of "Rose Brand" as the best ever "should carry weight with the public."

No visitor should miss the Canadian Packing Co.'s exhibit of their locally produced products, always acceptable on any and all tables. The exhibit is quite illuminative, and is attracting unusual and complimentary attention. Don't you miss it!

In the big, palatial restaurants of the large cities their principal patronage comes from the out-of-town visitors. No lunch counter sandwiches for them. They like the entree, salads, rich pastry and a cup of black coffee with rich cream. This combination is likely to overcrowd the stomach, to cause acidity with sour risings, gassiness, a feling of fulness and other such distresses due to indigestion or dyspepsia. Wherever you go in any city in the U. S. or Canada you will find Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on sale at 60 cents a box. Take one or two after eating as they relieve the acid stomach and at the same time help digest the food.

RUGBY REVIVAL FOR PETERBORO'

PLENTY OF MATERIAL FOR A GOOD TEAM HERE THIS FALL

Many rugby enthusiasts are delighted with the prospects of a successful revival of this grand old game in Peterborough this year. There were times when the name of this city was associated prominently with rugby in Canada, and Ontario and Dominion honours were brought here. Peterborough has had the honour too of turning out some of the best known players in the game. Dr. McPherson, Frank Burnham, Pete Campbell, Wilfred Stratton and Dick Sheehy starred with Varsity; Frank Heffernan with Ottawa College; Harold Hill and Ken Overend with Queen's; Ross Laing and C. Rogers with McGill; Ben Simpson with the Hamilton Tigers, and Ross Craig with the Hamilton Alerts. There is material in Peterborough this year for a first-class team with such men as Dick Sheehy and "Hap" Harrison as the huslers, and it is hoped that the lovers of the game will fall in line and make the revival a success.

FIRE AT BARRIEFIELD CAMP.

Loss Said to be $100,000—Seventeen of the Huts Burned.

KINGSTON, Sept. 21.—Eight out of the 17 military huts erected at Barriefield about two years ago were destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon, which broke out in the married non-commissioned officers' quarters. The greater part of the military stores was saved, but the men's furniture was destroyed. The loss is said to be about $100,000, with some insurance on the men's effects.

HORSE NOT FOUND YET.

Fair and Warmer, Lost at Montreal, Still Missing.

MONTREAL, Sept. 21.—Few local turf incidents have created so much gossip as the disappearance of the horse Fair and Warmer a week ago from Blue Bonnets track, and the more talk the deeper the mystery becomes. The Pinkertons, who were looking after the case for the Montreal Jockey Club, ceased to do so when the track closed, and it is not known whether any other detective agency is following it up for Mr. J. C. Whatley, the owner. The horse in question won the third race last Monday, over a mile distance, and it is now said that one man won over five thousand dollars on the race, the money being put up with various handbook men in different places. The entire matter has been submitted to the executive of the Canadian Racing Association for further and careful investigation.

GRAPES ARE COMING INTO LOCAL MARKET

THE PRICE MAY BE A LITTLE HIGHER THAN LAST YEAR

This year's immense manufacture of grape juice has resulted in a shortage, and consequent high price of grapes. At the local wholesalers baskets of grapes which last year sold at 25 and 30 cents, are this year bringing 60 and 65 cents a basket. The manufacturers are paying as high as 6 1-2 cents a pound for all varieties.

This season through Oke's Wholesale fruit market alone, between eight and ten thousand baskets of peaches have come into the city and have been picked up as quickly as they were unloaded from the cars. This represents with the retailers profit on expenditure of about $9,500 in the city on peaches outside of a car load brought in by an independent company another car which arrived today brought in Alberta peaches which retiled at $1.35.

Gem Jars Arriving.

All western Canada is suffering from a shortage seven gem jars—even Toronto is calling upon the east for supplies. To-day gross after gross rent in from Ottawa and Montreal, were begged for by the merchants who did not wish to return the money paid to them for bottles ordered by customs.

Plums Plentiful.

Plums remain on the market and are retailing fairly rapidly at 70 and 85 cents a basket. Due to the high price of sugar, a large proportion of them and of peaches have been pickled by the local housekeepers.

Apples Arriving.

The best grade of St. Lawrence apples handled in the city in years are in at present and are wholesaling at $3.50 a barrel. It is expected a better price will be quoted the beginning of the week.

Tomatoes Over.

Tomatos outside of what the merchants have on hand at present are practically over for the year. The market gardeners were caught napping by the frost of the past few nights and a fair percentage of the season's crop was frozen and consequently wasted on the vines.

Potatoes remain steady at 35 cents a peck.

Celery is wholesaling at 90 cents a dozen and retailing at $1.20 a dozen.

Cabbages are retailing at from 5 to 15 cents each.

Corn which is about over is selling at 10 cents a dozen.

THESE PEOPLE RECEIVE MAIL ONCE A YEAR

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The lonliest people in the world, the inhabitants of the little island of Tristan da Cunha, in the South Atlantic, will shortly learn something of the big movements of the outside world when the annual mail reaches them.

Two mail bags contain letters and other packages addressed to the settlers on the island are now on their way to Cape Colony. Thence they will be conveyed by H.M.S. Dartmouth from Simonstown to Tristan da Cunha direct.

Many of the settlers are descendants of the crew of the Bounty, who landed on that lonely coast, but eventually grew to like the place. Incidentally a British garrison was maintained as a sort of warden of the ocean area until after the death of Napoleon at St. Helena.

Cattle and sheep raising, poultry farming, and vegetable growing, with ample fishing facilities, make up an ideal sort of existence of the Robinson Crusoe type.

Talk about pictures of Hans and Fritz—well, you should see the collection at The Examiner office to-day! We never suspected that there was so much drawing talent in the city. ARLIE MARKS AT THE GRAND

The Arlie Marks Stock Company opened a 3-night engagement at the Grand last night and delighted a large audience with the excellence of the programme offered. In histronic ability the company is better balanced than on its previous appearances here, while the vaudeville features are well above the average. The offering last night was "Where the River Shannon Flows," and this excellent play was effectively staged by Miss Marks and her associates. A great feature of the programme was the wonderful mind reading work of Salona, "the girl with the thousand eyes," who amazed last night's audience by her performance. Salona alone is an attraction that should pack the Grand and every one who saw her last night is talking about her work. There is a magician of more than usual cleverness and the other vaudeville features are good. Crowded houses are certain for the balance of the company's stay in Peterborough.

LOST HIS APPETITE IN AMAZEMENT

An old desert rat and the Goldwyn Players who staged scenes in "Going Some" at Victorville, Cal., found mutual interest in each other. The picture is a typical Rex Beach affair and will appear at the Allen Theatre for two days commencing to-morrow.

The prospector just stumbled up on the company at work and his mouth opened in amazement. The members of the company at work and his mouth opened in amazement. The members of the company eyed him with equal interest, for a typical old desert rat is scarce in these days.

"This your farm?" he inquired of Director Harry Beaumont. Beaumont said it was. When the prospector asked for grub Beaumont pointed to the rear of the prop house, but the old man was so amused at the hollow two-wall house when he got there that he forgot about eating.

He had only seen two or three photoplays in his life and supposed all the houses in the pictures were real, substantial four-walled affairs.

LATEST CARTOON MUSICAL COMEDY IS COMING HERE

George M. Gatts will present this season's edition of the great musical comedy, "The Katzenjammer Kids," at the Grand Opera House for matinee and night on Thursday.

"The Katzenjammer Kids" are known to everyone, and the young and old derive keen enjoyment from the famous cartoon characters who are also known as "The Shenanigan Kids" and "The Katzies." The company is composed of thirty selected comedians, singers and dancers, with Olivia Mynfanwyn as the Prima Donna. Haunting melodies and tuneful airs are features of the musical program that includes twenty-three song numbers. Attractive girls, the choicest specimens from the garden of beauty, lend enchantment to the chorus numbers, the most noted of which are the Bathing Girls and the Fashion Plate Choruses. "Hans and Fritz," their Ma and the Captain, are constantly in evidence during the action of the comedy, and the spectator will be treated to a laugh a minute by the jokes these famous little rascals play on their Ma and the Captain.

EX-CATCHER FARMING.

Not many Oshawa citizens know that at the present time an ex-professional ball player of the International League, in the person of Jack Sweeney, who used to catch for the Baltimore Orioles, is a resident of Durham County, living about a mile east of Bowmanville. Jack caught the Orioles when Mugsy McGraw, the famous manager of the New York Giants was managing that southern nine.

Jack is truck farming near Bowmanville, and has been there for two summers. His home is in Wilmington, Delaware, and he has got to know Ontario in his trips to Toronto, which is in the International League.—Reformer.

"WHITEHALL" FLAPPERS MAKE GOOD IN BUSINESS

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The much-maligned "Whitehall Flappers" have made good.

All those young girls who during the war scandalised their sober brethren in Government offices with their cups of tea and powder-puffs are no longer recognisable as "flappers." They are distributed in all directions.

A small minority of the ultra-mischievous have gone back to the parental roof, but the great majority are working hard to get the Old Country on its commercial feet and they are to be found in banks, lawyers' offices, and big commercial houses of all kinds.

When the piping days of peace closed scores of Government Departments, there was a general reluctance among employers to give these girls a trial. However, some of the more enterprising came forward and engaged batches of them regardless of the attention they paid to silk stockings and powder-puffs—and from inquiries made by the United Press, they have not regretted it.

The secretary of a large shipping firm declared that the girls are "much more assiduous than men in their work."

A representative of Harrod's department store said they had not turned down any applicants for posts merely because they had formerly been in Government employ. This firm has absorbed many Whitehall flappers, and their services are reported as giving as much satisfaction as those of any other class of employee.

SUGGESTS METHOD STABILIZE EXCHANGE

TO-DAY'S SESSION OF CONGRESS OF CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE

(Canadian Press).

TORONTO, Sept. 21.—The establishment of an "Empire Bank," whose function would be to act as banker of governments and banks, with central office in London, England, and branches throughout the Empire, was a suggestion made at to-day's session of Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire by John F. Darling, of London, England. Mr. Darling also advocated in this connection the general issue of comparatively short-term bills of exchange against goods in transit as a method of standardizing currency.

"If," said Mr. Darling, "we can so arrange the Empire's exchanges that it becomes in effect, united economic whole endeavourings as far as possible to supply its own wants and on balance to repay debt to America (United States), advantages to all parts of the British Empire will be considerable."

STRIKE STILL THREATENED.

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Executive Committee of the Miners' Federation informed representatives of the men to-day that in the opinion of the committee, nothing has taken place during its negotiations with the Government to justify the revention of a strike of miners at the expiration next Saturday of strike notices previously handed in.

WARNE DRUG CO., LTD.

LONDON, ONTARIO FACES PROBLEMS

SCHOOL BUILDING PLANS LARGE —DEFICITS IN CIVIC SPENDING BODIES EXPECTED

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 21. —With building plans of the board of education promising to absorb all the money which will result from the increased assessment for 1921 the task of financing the city during the coming year is not one which prospective members of the council view with pleasure.

Drastic reduction of estimates was necesary this year to keep the tax rate within the limit set by legislation. Aldermen admitted that they did not know how the next year's financing was to be done unless there was more money fothcoming from some source.

Ten millions increase in the assessment for 1921 made things look brighter as it would be possible to raise about 25 per cent. more taxes with the same tax rate of 40 mills. Possibility of much help from this direction disapeared, however, with the necessity of building a new collegiate and the possibility of other extensions being made by the board of education.

Legislation, which provides that firemen must have twenty-four hours holiday in a week will mean an expenditure of about $15,000, as the force will have to be increased. This is equivalent to an additional half mill. There is a possibility of the municipalities making a joint protest aganst this enactment.

Nothing definite has been announced regarding the state of this year's finances. It is is likely, however, that the board of education will have a deficit at the end of the year.

They have had several unexpected expenditures, which even the most careful financing is not likely to be able to meet.

General council expenditures also may exceed the estimates. This will be due largely to the exemption of soldiers from taxation on their homes. This measure was put into effect after the tax rate was struck. It entailed an expenditure which was considerably larger than the council expected.

Unless the "dog cops" in New York show improvement as burglar catchers they are to be dispensed with.

"Economy is the easy chair of old age."

REASONS GIVEN FOR INCREASES IN 'PHONE RATES

HEARING OPENED THIS MORNING IN OTTAWA

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—Heavy and steadily growing increase in wages and cost of materials, depreciation in plant which must be overcome if business interests of country are to be met and greater cost of financing were chief reasons given by C. F. Sise, general manager of Bell Telephone Co., for increase in rates when hearing commenced before Board of Railway Commissioners this morning. At present sitting of the Board the Company will be given an opportunity to establish its case and adjournment will be taken to allow representatives of various public bodies opposing application to study statements submitted by company. In course of his evidence General Manager Sise emphasized fact that thousands of applicants cannot be served and that if necessary plant is to be provided to meet requirements it will be necesary to borow ten million dollars per annum for some years to come.

WARNED CUSTOM HOUSE WILL BE BLOWN UP

Postcard to this Effected is Treated as a Hoax.

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A Postcard warning that an attempt would be made to-morrow to blow up the Customs House was received in the mail to-day by the collector of customs for this district.

The postcard, signed by "A Citizen stated that the customs house would be blown up at two p.m. Preliminary investigation has shown no evidence of a plot, and officials are inclined to regard the warning as hoax.

Edwin P. Fisher, ex-tennis player, arrived here from Hamilton this morning and declared on his arrival that "more will happen in future."

TWO MINISTERS WERE ELECTED

SUBSTANTIAL MAJORITIES FOR BOTH CANDIDATES

(Canadian Press.)

ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 21. — By-elections which were held yesterday, in St. John City and St. John and Albert Counties, New Brunswick, and Colchester County, Nova Scotia, resulted in the return of the Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, in the former constituency, and Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Minister of Public Works, in the latter.

Both Ministers had sought endorsation at the hands of their constituents after assuming Cabinet positions in the Federal Government of the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen.

Mr. Wigmore was opposed by A. E. Emory, Liberal, of St. John, and Mr. McCurdy by Captain Hugh Dickson, who ran as a United Farmer-Labour candidate.

For Minister of Customs.

Complete returns in the St. John-Albert by election gave the following results:

St. John City—Wigmore 5142, Emory 2064.
St. John County—Wigmore 466, Emory 744.
Albert County—Wigmore 1414, Emory 744.
Total for Wigmore 8028, Emory 3838.
Wigmore's majority—4190.

Truro All McCurdy.

F. B. McCurdy was returned by a majority of approximately 15,00 over his Farmer-Labour opponent in Colchester County. Mr. McCurdy carried Truro by upward of two thousand majority, and all but held his own in the country districts, which were expected to poll a heavy vote for the Farmer candidate. Complete return for Truro gave McCurdy 2,041 and Dickson 857. At the last Provincial election Truro gave a Conservative majority of 2,093.

"Mackenzie King, who forced this election, has got his answer," said Hon. R. W. Wigmore in a speech he made last evening in the Seamen's Institute, when his majority had reached 4,000 and his election was conceded.

Dr. Emory Loses Deposit.

Dr. A. E. Emory, the defeated candidate, lost his deposit.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

JUDGMENT.
When we learn to judge people's lives by the current rather than by the eddy, we shall have gone a long way toward justice and right relationships. We see the single deed of selfishness or temper, we hear the hasty word of anger under provocation, and we label the character accordingly. The general life may be kind, the ordinary speech temperate, but we misjudge it by the exceptional.

FALL ASSIZES OPENED TO-DAY

BAGLEY CASE WAS FIRST ON LIST —DEFENDANT CONTEMPLATED SUICIDE

The fall assizes opened this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Court House with Mr. Justice Middleton presiding. In his address to the Grand Jury His Lordship pointed out the apparent absence of any serious crime in this district a condition he said they should all be pleased to have. We should be glad that there was little foreign element he said and he thought that immigration should be even more strictly watched so that we might only have on our shores the pick of the European countries. He explained the duties of the grand jury and expressed the hope that what ever they found needed remedying would be embodied in their recommendations and that they would be urbiased and use their best judgment as representative of the whole community. He dismissed the grand jury about 1.15 o'clock and they then inspected the jail and court house. About 2.30 they brought in their report and His Lordship promised them that the recommendations made would be sent to the proper authorities to deal with.

Members of Bar.

Members of the legal profession in attendance at the opening of the fall assizes were G. N. Gordon, F. D. Kerr, O. A. Langley, Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, R. R. Hall, J. F. Strickland and O. S. Laplante.

TOhe first case to have been heard McIlmoyle vs. Stabler was settled out of court and the claim of Judge R. Ruddy against James Guise-Bagley was heard first. This case was heard by the jury. Judge R. Ruddy of Whitby asks for the cancellation of an agrement, under which he alleges James G. Guise-Bagley bought a lease of the premises occupied by Ruddy and Burnham at 480 Water street. Before his elevation to the bench the premises included the law offices of Mr. Ruddy and Mr. J. H. Burnham.

Mr. Bagley defended himself in the action, Mr. R. R. Hall representing Judge Ruddy.

Practicing Law.

Mr. Bagley when called stated that he had been practicing law at Midland before he entered into practice in Peterboro. His partner Mr. Finnister was overseas. He read the advertisement in one of the Toronto papers re the Peterboro practice and this produced in court as well as numerous communications between he and the plaintiff. He read a letter dated March 16, 1917 in reply to his enquiries in which Judge Ruddy offered him the practice on easy terms. The buildings were in good shape, Judge Ruddy stated.

Mr. Bagley stated he made an appointment and came to Peterboro shortly afterwards. The business as he saw it looked prosperous for there were several people waiting to see Mr. Ruddy. Mr. Ruddy said they had better go up to the house and talk it over. Before he went up Mr. Bagley was shown a vault of papers which he thought gave substance to his first impression that the business was a prosperous one. At the house the whole thing was discussed. $2100 Mr. Ruddy said he paid for the property but Mr. Bagley alleges that only $2000 was actually paid for the property. The rest was for heating. Mr. Ruddy told him he had it mortgaged for $1600. When Mr. Bagley asked him if he did not think this was a pretty high mortgage for a $2100 piece of property he said he thought it was worth $3100. Mr. Bagley said that he tried to find out the extent of the practice and was assured that it was a good practice. Judge Ruddy asked him his politics and when he said he was a Conservative the Judge said it would be a good thing for Mr. Burnham; the other member of the firm was a Conservative and member of the Dominion House ,and he would get most of the Tory business and considerable of the business for the Provincial House. Mr. Bagley alleges that he was assured of patronage that he did not get. Mr. Ruddy thought that Mr Bagley had a good chance of making money.

On the 21st April the purchase of the lease was concluded. The arrangement provided for the payment of $300 before May 1, 1917, and $100 on each of the following days: Nov. 1, 1917, May 1 and Nov. 1, 1918, May 1 and Nov 1, 1919 and the balance on May 1, 1920.

Business Was Bad.

Mr. Bagley said that he did not know that Mr. Burnham hadn't been practising for a long time. He was given a list of clients by Mr. Ruddy, but few of these ever came to him. His business was bad from the first, he stated. Things went from bad to worse. When the Conscription Act came into force he was busy for a while seeking and securing many exemptions for farmers. Mr. Bagley said that he, unthinkingly, appropriated one of his soldier client's money, using up in all about $900. Here Mr. Bagley broke down for a minute, and tears streamed down his face. The soldier pressed for his money, and he at his wit's end, decided to commit suicide, and with this object, purchased poison. He wrote his friends, but when it came to take his life, he was unable to do it. Next morning he went to the office at 8.30 and another client left some money in. This he paid the soldier with, but only got in deeper into trouble, and this started the whole trouble, he declares.

Mr. Bagley alleges that when Mr. Ruddy gave him the list of clients, he believed them to be true, but he determined later that the list had on it names of persons who were never clients of his. He might as well have given me a directory of Peterborough.

VOL. XVLII. NO. 69 PETERBOROUGH, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1920 PRICE THREE CENTS

Don't Miss The Fair To-Night

Brought In Verdict Favour of Plaintiff

J. GUISE - BAGLEY ORDERED TO PAY ALL COSTS — CASE CONCLUDED.

The case of Ruddy versus Bagley was resumed at this morning's session of the Supreme Court, over which Mr. Justice Middleton is presiding.

Mr. R. R. Hall is appearing for Judge R. Ruddy, of Whitby, who seeks cancellation of a lease granted to defendant. This lease gave Mr. Bagley the right to occupy the premises at the corner of Water and Brock Streets, and also included the legal business of Ruddy & Burnham.

Thomas Walker, real estate agent, was the first witness called. He was called to give a valuation on the property. He said the building was assessed for $1,800.00 in 1918. He would not say the place was filthy. It was not too clean, he replied to Mr. Hall's questions. He told Mr. Hall that he thought the place was worth $3,000. To Mr. Bagley's questions as to the cost of cleaning the entire place, he said he thought $100 or $150 would cover the cost. It would make quite an improvement and raise the value of the building two or three hundred dollars.

Stenographer Called.

Miss Mina Waldie, a clerk in Mr. Ruddy's office, was called. She said that after Judge Ruddy was appointed to the Bench in December, 1916, she continued as his employee, collecting accounts. On the 14th April, 1917, she began to work with Mr. Bagley. On the 26th May she left his employ. In Mr. Ruddy's employ, she only received $7.00 a week. Mr. Bagley agreed to give her $9.00. While in the employ of Mr. Bagley she did no work for Mr. Ruddy except to collect some acounts, she told Mr. Hall in his examination.

Total Earnings.

The total earnings for 1915 were shown in Mr. Ruddy's day books to be $3,559.44. Miss Waldie swore that these were correct. The total earnings for 1916 were $3,755.00. Day book No. 8 for the year 1914 showed total earnings of $4,136.00. Judge Ruddy did a good business, mostly in conveyancing. He had considerable litigation, she said, and a good list of clients borrowing money. When shown the list of alleged clients of Mr. Ruddy's, she admitted that the addresses were written in her handwriting, but she could not recall the exact date she made it out. She said it was a fair list of his clients, not them all. She did not see this list till after the agreement was signed. Judge Ruddy's reputation as a practitioner, as far as she knew, was good, she said.

Millbrook Practice.

In reply to Mr. Bagley, she said the books contained the Millbrook practice. To get the correct Peterborough practice, she admitted it would be necessary to take some away. She said she would be surprised to find that some of the entries were doubled up in the books.

From one of the books Mr. Bagley showed Miss Waldie letters to clients advising them that the firm was being dissolved. She said she was instructed to send out these letters. Mr.

MAY NOMINATE LABOR CANDIDATE

INDEPENDENT LABOR PARTY DISCUSS THE QUESTION LAST EVENING

That the Independent Labour Party should nominate a candidate for the Federal House in the coming by-election was the general sentiment of the meeting of the I. L. P. last evening. It was thought that the Labour Party should remain independent of the farmers at the coming by-election, as it is generally thought in local labour circles that the farmers gave the Labour candidate in the Provincial election last autumn little support, excepting Ennismore and Young's Point.

It was decided to hold weekly meetings.

MADDENED BY EXPLOSION HORRORS WALL STREET CLERK JUMPS TEN STORIES TO A HORRIBLE DEATH

NEW YORY, Sept. 22.—The horror that gripped him when he saw the bomb's work in Wall Street minutes after the explosion, a mono-mania that was hourly intensified and made more vivid by shattered nerves, yesterday sent a Wall Street bank clerk plunging ten stories to death before thousands.

Frederick Marvin Carpenter, a credit clerk, had been employed by the National City Bank, Exchange Place and Hanover Street eight years last July, when his nerves failed him. Although broken in health, Carpenter, who had a young wife and a five-year-old son dependent upon him at his home, 87 Crooke Avenue, Brooklyn, refused to quit work for a rest.

Finally the bank officials prevailed upon him to go to Otisville, N. Y. ,to recuperate. Last Wednesday Carpenter came back to work, apparently normal again. The next day, the day of the explosion, he was crossing the bank threshold on his way to luncheon when the crash came. Although he was knocked down by the blast and his nerves shattered, Carpenter picked himself up and ran down to the fringe of the smoke and dust cloud hanging over the spot where the infernal machine had exploded. Through the dust and the smoke Carpenter saw the dead, the blood—an then he received a second shock from horror. He collapsed in the street.

The police found cards in his pocket indicating his place of employment and he was carried back to the bank, treated and sent home in a taxicab. Last night his wife and his father-in-law, Joseph A. Bokee, with whom he lived, said Carpenter raved from Thursday until Sunday of the things he had seen. Seemingly he lived again and again that moment of horror when he had looked through the smoke and saw violent death.

Sunday night, however, his mind calmed and he appeared completely recovered. His physician offered no opposition to his returning to work yesterday, and so he appeared at his desk. The strain of the day, a strain because of his recent ordeal, began to show, however, and at 3 o'clock associates prevailed upon him to go home.

Instead, Carpenter went to the roof of the bank. Hurrying through Exchange Place were the usual thousands; the close of trading for the day on the Stock Exchange and the day's end for brokers and bankers had jammed the narrow thoroughfare with persons.

Suddenly someone raised a cry — someone had seen a man's form hurtling to the pavement—but before the crowd knew the meaning, Carpenter's body had struck the sidewalk. By the narrowest margin his body missed a group clustered at the corner to allow an automobile to pass.

Horror drew a great crowd and great excitement reigned. Finally it was necessary to call out the police reserves from Old Slip Station to disperse the curious.

EXHIBITION'S ATTENDANCE 4,500 MORE THAN FIRST DAY FIGURES LAST YEAR

TOTAL FOR AFTERNOON AND EVENING YESTERDAY WAS 5,806 —CROWDS ARRIVING EARLY TODAY CREATE HOPES THAT 1919 ATTENDANCE RECORD WILL BE LARGELY EXCEEDED.

HON. MR. DOHERTY IMPRESSED

TURNSTILES' TALE.

Yesterday's attendance..... 5,806
First day last year..... 1,358

The Exhibition's first day records set up a new high mark yesterday with afternoon and evening crowds that numbered 5,806 as compared with 1,358 last year. Thanks to the excellent weather and the special events of the official opening of the Fair, the statement of the day's returns provided by Mr. Felix Brownscombe exceeded the estimates the directors had made in their most hopeful sessions of preparation for a four-day Fair. To-day, however, is expected to make the establishment of new attendance records secure, and this morning's outlook was rosy. The grounds have usually been bare before the noon hour heretofore, but from ten o'clock the ticket sellers were kept busy with steady, if not a swollen line, comprising mostly farmers and other out-of-town visitors. As an indication of what the afternoon would bring the horse ring opposite the grandstand was already lined with automobiles bearing the dust of all the main roads leading into the city. In nearly every one of them were dinner parties, and not only were they making a picnic of their outing, but, arriving early, they had pre-empted the best locations for their cars and had an unobstructed view of the vaudeville preformance, the races and the judging of the horse classes scheduled for to-day.

Weather Probabilities.

The directors were elated over the results of the first day. There was no disappointments and the warmer weather to-day inspired hopes that the three main days would escape rain. To-day's official weather probabilities were as follows:

"Moderate southerly winds, fair and warm. Thursday, easterly and southerly winds, fair, followed by rain at night. Not much change in temperature."

Crowds uptown this morning reached holiday proportions and from the reports that were received at the secetary's office the directors felt confident that last year's second day attendance, the largest Peterborough's Exhibition had ever brought together, would be joked far down in second place. And there is tomorrow afternoon and evening still to be counted.

Parade Prize Winners.

The prize winners for the best decorated floats in yesterday's parade were announced this morning as follows:

First prize—The Cressman Co. Ltd.
Second prize—Canadian Packing Company.
Third prize—Barries' Limited.
Fourth prize—Miller, Cowain and Watson.
Fifth prize—Jordan Brothers.
Sixth prize—The Quaker Oats Co.

Running Horses Here.

The horses entered in this afternoon's running race were "Dr. Nolan," owned by J. D. McIntosh, of Cobourg; "Red Admiral," N. Dermo, Cobourg; "Old Cork," V. Bowndy, Port Hope, and "Lady Orban," J. D. McIntosh.

There will be another race to-morrow but the card for it was not ready this afternoon. Mrs. Living-

NOT VIOLATING PROVISIONS OF THE TREATY WITH GREAT BRITAIN

COMMODORE REYNOLDS EXPLAINS CRUISE OF UNITED STATES COAST GUARD CUTTER IN CANADIAN WATERS—VETERANS COMPLAIN

(Canadian Press).

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22. — The United States coast guard cutter, Chillicothe, which is cruising on the St. Lawrence River, carries no armament which would violate the provisions of the treaty with Great Britain concerning armed vessels on the waters between the United States and Canada, it was stated to-day by Commodore W. E. Reynolds, commandant of the coast guard service.

The Kingston Ontario Branch of the Army and Navy Veterans protested yesterday to the Canadian Government that the Chillicothe carried mounted guns in "direct violation of a treaty between the United States and Great Britain. Commodore Reynolds said the Chillicothe was cruising the St. Lawrence on its regular duty to prevent smuggling, enforce Customs regulations and co-operate where possible with prohibition enforcement officers.

BOATS CARRIED CROWD TO CITY

EMPLOYMENT IN CANADA FOR BRITISH WORKERS

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The Hon. J. A. Calder, Canadian Minister of Immigration and colonization, who has just concluded investigating the emigration conditions of Great Britain, assures the people here that the prospects of farmers emigrating into Canada were never better. Women domestic workers and farm laborers, he said, are certain of good employment with the return of normal conditions. Mr. Calder looks confidently for the British immigration into Canada again far exceeding that from all other countries.

Promises may make friends, but it takes performances to keep them.

SMALL POLICE COURT DOCKET

THE POLICE GARNERED IN A COUPLE OF FINES

"If he says I was drunk, I was," was the philosophic way in which G. W. Thomas, after pleading not guilty to a charge of intoxication, replied to the constable's testimony that he was "drunk, intoxicated, and staggering," in the Police Court this morning. He was found drunk opposite the Police Station at four o'clock this morning.

"Evidently he was going to pay the police a call," remarked the Crown Attorney.

His inebriation cost him $10.10.

A second drunk, named Lavery, wasted no time by pleading not guilty, but promptly admitted the fact and was assessed $10.85.

Coal Mines Will Be Idle On Monday Next Declare the Leaders

SERIOUS SITUATION OF INDUSTRIES IN BRITAIN—LOCKOUTS THREATENED.

LONDON, Sept. 22. — Failing an eleventh-hour development, virtually every coal mine in the United Kingdom will be idle next Monday, a meeting of the delegates from all districts having accepted the report of the Executive Committee of the Federation, to the effect that nothing had been achieved by the negotiations to prevent a strike. The delegates, who numbered nearly 200, also endorsed the proposals which the Executive made to Sir Robert S. Horne, President of the Board of Trade.

An offer of mediation by the railway and transport workers alone can avert a miners' strike.

Is Cabinet's Move Now.

The next more, therefore, appears to be with the Cabinet, which met to receive Sir Robert Horne's report on his conferences with the miners' committee. It is considered possible that the Cabinet may reverse the decision of the President of the Board of Trade that the question of an increase of two shillings demanded by the miners, on which the negotiations broke down, must be referred to an independent tribunal. As the Minister had frequently consulted with his colleagues during the conferences, however, it is generally believed that they agree with him.

Miners Won't Give Way.

It is unlikely that the miners will give way on their demand for an immediate increase of two shillings, for, from what can be gathered from the meeting of the miners' delegates, they were not too pleased at the action of the Executive in dropping their demand for a reduction in the price of domestic coal. It is true that a few delegates were opposed to going to the length of striking, in view of public feeling against it, and there was a considerable minority which voted against the strike. But the majority favoured forcing their demand by this means.

Triple Alliance to Meet.

A coal strike would in a very short time paralyze the industries of the country, but possibly this would ensue even before the factories were out of fuel, as the transport workers, who with the miners and railwaymen form the "Triple Alliance," the most powerful trade unionist organization in the country, at a meeting criticized the action of the miners' Executive and instructed their Executive to recommend any action it deemed necessary.

The National Union of Railwaymen also met, but no statement was issued. There will be a meeting of the "Triple Alliance" itself to-day to consider the situation.

Industrian Situation Serious.

Even without the miners' strike the industrial situation is serious. Unemployment has largely increased in the past month, due to many of the woollen and cotton mills and boot factories working part time, and the cutting down of staffs at shipyards and engineering and automobile works as a result of the falling off or orders, and the feeling among employers in other industries that, owing to the decreased output, they are unable to pay the present rate of wages.

The cotton industry also is threatened with a lockout. The Master Spinners' Association decided to call a meeting to consider the question of taking united action unless the strike of the Oldham spinners was settled. This means that the employers will be prepared to lock out all the spinners in the country.

ITALIAN METAL WORKERS OCCUPY ADDITIONAL FACTORIES—CLAIM PAYMENTS

(Canadian Press.)

ROME, Sept. 22. — Italian metal workers who occupied factories in some of the larger cities last month, notably Lurin and Florence ,are refusing to evacuate plants in accordance with the settlement agreement recently reached with employers after government intervention according to despatches to Giornale D'Italia. In Lurin, says a mesage from that city, three additional works were occupied by the men to-day.

In fifty other Lurin works a majority of the men decided not to abandon plants unless they received ample guarantees against reprisals from masters and government. They are claiming payment of wages for the entire period of their occupation of the works.

TUG-OF-WAR TO-MORROW AFTERNOON

FIVE ENTRIES ALREADY IN AND OTHERS LOOKED FOR—CITY MEN SHOULD GET INTO THE GAME

Mr. Harry Webber, who is rounding up the tug-of-war teams for to-morrow afternoon has already received entries from Douro, Otonabee, North Monaghan, Cavan and Smith, and this attraction promises to provide any amount of excitement.

Mr. Webber is on the look-out for the U.F.O. candidate to-day, Mr. James Campbell, of South Monaghan, to have a team entered from that township, as he fears they are taking politics too seriously down there when they let a big event such as this tug-of-war go by without an entry.

While all the entries so far are from teams in the country several city teams are expected to compete.

The Big Crowd yesterday was much impressed with every noticeable improvement.

The Vaudeville is Snappy and Clean, and anyone can sit and enjoy it without hesitation.

MANY NEW ARRIVALS COME IN TO-DAY

SCOTSMEN AND SCOT FAMILIES HAD A PLEASANT JOURNEY

A number of new arrivals from Auld Scotia arrived in the City to-day and according to the statement of the Scotsmen and families of Scotsmen who come out to their fore-runners, the exodus of Scots people from the Clyde for United States, Canada and Australia is appalling. Their special reason is the desire to get into the country, that is free from the heavy taxation and away from the special allowances of sugar, etc., etc.

The two steamers that arrived in Montreal yesterday from the Clyde had a large number of young men and families hailing from the West of Scotland and are prospective citizens for the city of Peterboro. They are all fine specimens of manhood and should make desirable citizens.

The Caledonian Club will hold its regular monthly meeting in the Wood men of World Hall, on Friday evening Sept. 24th., at 8 p.m. when all Scotsmen in the city are requested to attend. Come! You will be made welcome.

A PRESENTATION AND DISAPPOINTMENT

MR. REG. TURNER PRESENTED WITH LIFE-SIZED BABY DOLL

One of the most handsome baby dolls at the Fair was presented yesterday to Vice-President Reg Turner by one of his mid-way admirers. It so resembled the real article, being life size and did everything but cry at night, that Mr. Turner lost an hour's collections on the midway in an endeavour to locate the baby show which was not conducted this year, but will be next Fair.

Mr. Turner now can partly understand why proud fathers have missed this year's baby show so much.

THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD AT THE WHEEL OF MOTOR CAR.

LINDSAY, Sept. 21.—An Ops farmer sent his car to town on Saturday morning, driven by a 13-year-old boy. The matter coming to the notice of the police, a Court case followed, and the owner was fined $10.45.

The law provides that juveniles shall not drive a motor car, and the public would do well to note Section 13 of the Motor Vehicle Act, which reads as follows:

"No person under the age of 16 years shall drive a motor vehicle, and no person over the age of 16 years and under the age of 18 years, shall drive a motor vehicle on the highway unless and until such person has passed an examination and obtained a chauffeur's license. The owner of a car is responsible no matter who the driver is, unless the car is stolen."

GOOD RACING CARD PROVIDED FOR OPENING DAY OF THE EXHIBITION

TWO RACES FURNISHED KEEN COMPETITION—SOME OF THE EARLY PRIZE-WINNERS.

The performance in front of the grand stand yesterday afternoon provided plenty of entertainment for the opening day crowd. There was a fine card of racing and a lengthy programme of clever vaudeville while the Land of the Great War Veterans rendered some excellent music.

The vaudeville performance proved one of the best the Peterboro Industrial has offered its patrons, the acts being well above the average in merit, while the bill was varied enough to suit everybody. There was a trick aerial act that scored a triumph, all three members of the troupe contributing startling stunts. A trick mule provided amusement for everybody, and the children especially enjoyed the work of the trained dogs. A Japanese foot juggler contributed some amazing feats. Some clever tumbling is done by a pair of agile acrobats and there are a number of other acts that are on a par with those mentioned.

THE HARNESS HORSES

Lovers of the harness horse are always sure of some good racing at the Peterboro Exhibition and the card yesterday was no exception to the rule, the two races listed furnishing keen competition and a number of exciting finishes, the 2:50 class going the full five heats. Dr. Sinclair of Cannington, without whose presence in the judges stand a race would not seem complete officiated as starter in his usual effective style and ran the programme through in a business like way.

There were two races carded—the 2.18 class won in straight heats by Rena Bison, a sweet-actioned gray mare owned by Mr. Chapman of Saskatoon, and the 2:50 class which attracted a field of eight starters, and went the five full heats.

The best heat of the 2:18 class was the first one in which Rena Bison, after trailing Betty Dad down the stretch and swinging outside of the leading pair, showed in front at the wire in a thrilling finish. Rena Bison led from wire to wire in the other two heats. The summary—

2:18 Class—
1 Rena Bison, Chapman, Saskatoon	1	1	1
2 Betty D., Montgomery, Peterboro	2	3	2
3 Mona Hal, Tenney, Toronto	4	2	3
4 Helen M., Sutherland, Peterboro	3	4	4

The 2:50 Class provided a great race. There were eight starters and when the five heats were over three different horses had led the field home, Lena Rivers, owned by Jones of Peterboro, winning two heats, Dean Todd, a trotter, owned by R. Elmhurst of Keene, had done the same, and Lazy Zombo, owned by Francis of Cobourg, had finished first in one heat, Dean Todd was going last on end. After finishing behind the field in the first two heats he came through with a driving finish in the third, getting second place, and then finished by winning in last two heats. The result—

1 Lena Rivers	1	2	1	7 2
2 Dean Todd	7	8	2	1 1
3 Lazy Zombo	2	1	3	5 4
4 Doris Patch	5	5	4	2 3
5 Korena	4	6	7	4 5
6 Little Wana	6	3	5	3 dr
7 Florence L.	3	4	2	6 dr
8 Nellie Yukon	8	7	dr

EXHIBITION NOTES.

There is disapointment awaiting those who look for the mammoth pumpkins in the vegetable display. A number of huge specimens were entered in this class, but the judge Mr. Frank O. Reeves of Humber Bay, Toronto, reported that they were not field pumpkins but cattle squash. Hence the pumpkin palm cannot be awarded this year.

Jordan Bros. had practically no opposition in the professional florists' class. The Peterboro Floral Company have their usual display but they did not enter it for competition. The Jordan greenhouses are very largely represented. Their prize group includes plants of nearly all the commercial varieties. This collection in itself requires a great deal of work in sorting and arrangement and the interest of the florists has always been appreciated by the directors. Jordans also won the prizes for the floral basket and design. In the display of Coleus they are showing fifty varieties, all of them attractive and some of them exceptionally good. This is another first prize winner. They also have taken the first money for for Rex Begonias, ferns and geraniums.

The many canaries in their cages are apropriately located after all in the Flower Tent and the passing crowds invariably stop to observe them, and apparently appreciate the harmony of the sweet thrilling chorus in the setting of flowers.

THE FAMOUS $1,500 CLOCK PHONOGRAPH.

Visitors to Peterborough's Fair crowded the Gerhard Heintzman admirable exhibit, shown in the new Manufacturers' Building by the local representative, Mr. E. V. Warne, the enterprising jeweller of 325 George Street. The centre of attraction in this outstanding display was the famous $1,500 clock phonograph, which created somewhat of a sensation at the Canadian National Exhibition. This handsome model was built to typify two facts—the beauty of design and the unequalled craftsmanship that marks all Gerhard Heintzman models. All carvings are hand-chisel work—not machined. The beautiful hard lustre of the finish is achieved in exactly the same way as years of experiment have proved best in finishing the cases of Gerhard Heintzman pianos. This famous model plays every make of disc records. All music-lovers in Peterborough have a rare treat in store for them when visiting this musical attraction, shown for the first time here through the enterprise of Mr. Warne.

Other Gerhard Heintzman phonographs of rare dignity and beauty in this exhibit were fashioned in circassian walnut and English brown mahogany. The tone production is marvellous, in mellow sweetness and surprising clearness — every record is played with a new and pleasing effect.

Beautiful piano models of Gerhard Heintzman construction are also shown in exquisite designs. Particularly pleasing is an upright piano in polished walnut, "Louis 15" design; a handsome perfected player-piano in polished mahogany of rare beauty, with an all metal action; and a Sheraton studio piano.

Since Gerhard Heintzman built with his own hands his first eight pianos—over fifty years ago—until to-day, the demand for his pianos has been insistent. It has been the choice of over 40,000 Canadian homes. But still more significant is the fact that during the year just past, more Gerhard Heintzman pianos were sold than in any other year. This popularity is regarded as the greatest of all tributes paid to the beauty of tone, the symmetry of design and the superior quality which mark the Gerhard Heintzman as one of the few great pianos of the world.

The appointment of Mr. E. V. Warne as local representative for the Gerhard Heintzman instruments has been a wise business choice, he being well and favourably known in the city, and is possessed of an intimate knowledge of musical merit. Mr. Harold Howson, a capable salesman, is in charge of this exhibit, while Mr. A. B. Barton assumes the udties of demonstrator.

MERRELL & MEREDITH

This well-known and long-established firm of gents' clothiers have an interst-compelling and purchase-tempting exhibit in the main building, which reflects that superior quality of material, ideal tailoring and exclusive style which appeals to the man who likes to dress well at a moderate cost.

In a handsomely brass railed stand exceedingly tastefully displayed, one here finds a class of men's top garments, shirts, neckwear, hose and such like, which have an indescribable attraction. The whole arrangement reflects a creative art in display dressing that charms and holds. The color scheme is commendably refreshing and exemplifies a taste for harmony truly artistic. The lighting effects are acceptably restful and add in no small measure to an exhibit which one cannot pass without comendation. Mr. H. E. Henry is responsible for this outstanding display of approved clothing and he has built up a model exhibit, in design a feature of this year's fair.

The exhibit includes men's new fall styles in overcoats, such as the Acme model Bengard brand, of durable Melton cloth and handsomely satin-lined; all-wool pin-stripe blue serge suits in that superb "Vogue" model for which their makers, "Style Clothes" are noted the new and fashionable narrow style Swiss silk ties; dainty Chamois gloves, high class brands of silk and cashmere hose, and these perfectly dependable 'Permanent' Madras shirts so much in favor these days. Then there is in conspicuous evidence a handsome Cheviot gent's suit for evening wear, with all its accompanying toggery necessary for dress occasions, while the whole exhibit is flanked either end with substantial samples of desirable all-wool Scotch tweed in grey and brown from which Merrill and Meredith will custom-tailor you a dependable stylish suit for $65. Silk and woollen scarfs, tweed hats in all favorite shades and the popular premier Borsalino soft felts go to complete a display of gent's requirements which marks the clothing firm of Merrell and Meredith as progressive and up-to-the-minute.

THE DURABLE OVERLAND

Mr. C. R. Banks has a commendable exhibit of the popular Overland cars in automobile row. This year he is specially featuring an Overland Four-Passenger Coupe, which is a dream of beautiful lines and modern utility. From chassis to top, it is complete with all desirable appointments, and affords the maximum of comfort and service at a reasonable price.

Another exhibit quite irresistibly interest-holding is an Overland Four-Passenger Touring Special. This beautiful car offers charming travel, delightful refinement, and combines utility and convenience in an enviable degree. The body is lined with leather, while its top is real Pantasote lined with approved tweed effect. It is equipped with Boyce motor meter and radiator cap. To see these cars is to appreciate their beauty of construction and the quality of Overland craftmanship reflected.

THE EMPIRE MILKER.

As usual, this remarkable milking machine is again very much in evidence and commanding considerable notice from visitors at the Exhibition. There are tore milking outfits showing, run by Empire 2 1-2 h.p. gasoline engines. Quite early yesterday one outfit was sold to Mr. Victor Fife, of Smith Township, while many other deals were practically closed by evening. The outfits on exhibition are really ahead in advance of anything previously shown by the Empire Cream Separator Company, whose milkers are quite familiar to farmers in Peterborough County.

The exhibit is in charge of Mr. F. J. La Point of Ottawa, travailing superintendent, who is effectively demonstrating in company with Mr. F. J. Doughty, the local dealer.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 22ND, 1920.

WHAT REALLY COUNTS.

Probably no part of Hon. Manning Doherty's address in opening the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition yesterday struck a more responsibe vein than his declaration that it was the conditions under which its citizens lived that testified as to a city's advancement and not mere numbers. The Minister of Agriculture is quite sound in that statement. Numbers mean nothing; people may be happier and healthier and get more out of life in a city of 20,000 than in a city of ten times that number. If the conditions are such that men have not decent homes in which to live, that children are not being given a proper chance to develop physically and mentally, that opportunities for enjoying the good things of life are not being given, then a huge population is not an asset. And it is equally true that the community which pays attention to such matters, which endeavours to improve the conditions affecting the existence of its citizens never has to search for new industries. Both the industries and the people are glad to come.

THE COAL SITUATION.

The Ottawa Mining Department reports that the coal supply of Canada does not appear alarming, although prices continue high and no relief may be expected as yet, points out the Kingston Standard. This means presumably that there is no shortage, or acute shortage, to be feared, which the Department evidently and rightly thinks would be alarming. But the public are alarmed over the high prices, and will not be any the less so when they are told there is no relief from tehm in sight. They will naturally jump to the conclusion that this means there is even the chance that prices may go up. Whether this will be so no one sems able to say with any degree of certainty, as so many factors enter into the question, among them miners' wages, strikes, transportation, increased freight rates, speculation, middlemen's profits and the demand from Europe.

All this, however, points to the truth of the Department's conclusion that "Canada will not be content to remain dependent on the United States, but will make an effort to develop her own coal fields." But the wrong verbs are used; they should be that Canada "is" not content, and "is making" an effort to mine her own coal. That is what the public wants, and it is a matter which it expects the Dominion and Provincial Governments to deal with on a broad national basis, and promptly.

FATHER NEPTUNE REMAINS BRITISH.

Every Britisher is holding his head a bit stiffer —he has heard with the deepest satisfaction the news that Great Britain has beaten America as a shipbuilding country.

Last year America was first—easily first. But at the moment the total shipbuilding in Britain is 3,578,000 tons, as against 2,100,000 tons in the United States.

The fear that old Father Neptune was to become a naturalized American has now disappeared. Clearly from a comparson of shipyards, he is to remain what he has been for three centuries—a British subject.

In other matters no Englishman worries his head about the supremacy of the United States.

An American may come here, as a certain Mr. Leggett did last month, and buy 637 of the best British drug stores in one lot. No one worries about it. That is merely the freedom of investment and foreign money never hurts any country.

A certain Mr .Tilden may come here and beat all the ablest Englishmen at tennis, which is a distinctively English game. But no one worries over it. Better luck next year. No defeat is final.

But as to shipping, that is another matter. No other nation, not even the United States, must be allowed to endanger British supremacy at sea. Britannia may or may not rule India. She may or may not rule in industry and finance. But she must continue, as long as she is an island, to rule the waves.

No revrse of the war made so deep an impression upon the British as the destructiveness of the German submarines. More than 3,600 British ships went down—that is the one outstanding memory of the war.

It is the memory of her shipping losses that will prevent England from cutting Ireland adrift. An independent Ireland would mean a base for hostile submarine. As Lloyd George said: "I need no other evidence than the submarine sinkings outside Ireland to see that if the British [illegible] surrendered control over Ireland, it would be committing suicide."

So while there has been a heavy fall in the securities of shipping companies there has also been in recent months a boom in ship production.

During the last six months, 324 new shipping companies have been organized with $300,000,000 new capital.

There is a progressive, confident spirit in shiping circles, now that state control is coming to an end, and now that the British tortoise is ahead of the American hare in the race of the shipyards. There is to be no change, after all our fears, in the nationality of Neptune.—London Correspondent Wall street Journal.

A QUESTION OF TASTE.

The Minister of Agriculture in opening the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition yesterday remarked that there was a tendency nowadays to give a circus aspect to fall fairs, to exaggerate the amusement features and allow them to overshadow the exhibits and he advised the directors always to pay more attention to the agricultural end of the Peterborough Industrial. So far as the local fair is concerned Hon. Mr. Doherty's advice is scarcely necessary as the exhibits in all lines of stock and farm products have always been made a prominent feature and this year the showing is perhaps better than ever before. But speaking of fairs in general Mr. Doherty should not hold the directors responsible because the amusement features are made so prominent. The management has to give the people what they want and it is undoubtedly true that the midway attractions and the racing and the vaudeville seem to interest far more people than do the exhibits. And this is true of the farmersas well as their city neighbors.

PETEBOROUGH'S INDUSTRIES.

A visit to the Peterborough Exhibition without seeing the Manufacturers' building and the splendid exhibits there would be a misfortune, and Peterborough people should not fail to spend a profitable half hour in the new building and to make sure that their visitors are made acquainted with the extent and wide range of the products that are made in Peterborough. Incidentally it furnishes an opportunity not only for outsiders, but for Peterborough residents to realize what the city factories are turning out. Many exclamations of surprise were heard yesterday from the hundreds who thronged the building and who were astonished at the extent of the exhibits. Some of Peterborough's new industries are displaying their wares, while many of the older established firms have attractive displays that are well worth seeing. The Examiner advises its readers to visit the Manufacturers' Building—it contains probably the most ambitious "made in Peterborough" exhibit that has been gathered together.

FIUME'S FINANCES IN BAD CONDITION

FIUME, Sept. 21.—In making up the Cabinet of the Provisional Government of the "Italian Regency of Quarnero," which he proclaimed recently, Gabriele d'Annunzio has retained the title of Commander, which is permitted by the new Constitution "in time of extreme national danger." It is certain, also, that the poet will occupy the posts of Minister of Foreign Affairs and Minister of Defense himself, and will be supported by seven "Rettori," who normally will sit as a commission presided over by the Foreign Minister.

The economic situation of Fiume is becoming worse, and a delegation from the National Council which went to Rome recently returned in a discouraged state of mind, having failed to receive from Premier Giolitti any assurances of financial assistance to enable Fiume to keep up its resistance. Hitherto the city has flourished on Red Cross supplies, cargoes of which d'Annunzio's vessels brought in at interval. Even yet there is plenty of food in the city, but its finances and industry are in bad shape. The latest capture of the d'Annunzian forces, the Italian steamer Cogne, was of little or no use to them. D'Annunzio, it is learned, has asked 30,000 lire from the Government for the release of the steamer, the cargo of which is not wanted by the defenders.

No announcement has been made as yet as to the date when the new constitution will be put into effect. The National Council unanimously decided that the constitution could not be adopted without its submission to the people. The poet expressed his preference for the use of the "Roman" method of voting by acclamation at the Forum.

Matteo Pantaleoni, the noted Italian economist, well known in American economic circles, is know in Fiume to assist the poet in readjusting the serious financial situation of the city. Signor Pantaleoni, who offered his services to the poet, speaks enthusiastically of the new constitution. It is considered probable he will be appointed Rettore of Finance.

D'Annunzio, in denying that he was carrying out military adventures on the islands of Cherzo, Veglia and Arbe, in the Gulf of Quarnero, declared that if the islands wished to join the "Italian Regency of Quarnero," it must be done after a plebiscite.

The poet is most optimistic with regard to the recognition of the regency, although he does not expect any great power to recognize it immediately. He said he was most hopeful of Hungary, which he thought was ready to deal a blow at the Jugoslava, and would recognize the regency at an early date.

He has made it known that he is ready to give all possible aid to the Albanians, and has already placed arms and ammunition at their disposal. It is reported, on the other hand, that two of his ships have been captured by the Jugoslavs.

AMERICAN LEGION INVADES CLEVELAND

(United Press)

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 22. — Cleveland capitulated to-day without a shot to an invading army of 25,000 veterans of the world war.

From all points of the compass, from every state and nearly every city and town in the union, they came to attend the second annual convention of the American Legion.

Comparatively few were in citizens dress; the majority proudly wore uniforms hallowed by service on a dozen fields of battle. Before the convention closes Wednesday night legion officials expect the attendance to climb to the 35,000 mark.

The heart if the city early assumed the appearance of a great army concentration camp. Uniformed men outnumbered civilians. They jammed the stores, sidewalks and overflowed into the streets. Side streets were peopled thickly with quick-stepping vetegans hurrying to their appointed places for the great parade scheduled for early in the afternoon.

Bands blared, whippet tanks rumbled to their stations and automobiles bearing aides of the marshal of the parade darted here and there with orders to the various detachments.

Col. J. R. McQuigg, commander of the American Legion of Ohio, said approximately 50 bands and most of the 25,000 veterans would be in line.

Interest centres about the selection of a commander for the national body. The more prominent contenders mentioned were F. W. Galbraith, Ohio, Hanford Macnider, Iowa, Milton J. Foreman, Illinois, and Emmett O'Neil, Kentucky. Commander D'Olier announced that he would not consider re-election.

Numerous resolutions will be submitted by the various state posts. They will deal largely with the economic and political welfare of the returned soldier. The Legion's fourfold optional plan of compensation is expected to be the chief topic of discussion. A measure for better care for wounded soldiers and a provision against Legion members participating in industrial disputes rank next in importance. The industrial disputes measure will probably precipitate a bitter battle on the floor of the convention, as it was indicated its advocates and opponents have taken an equally determined stand.

Strenuous controversy was expected over the political restriction clause in the legion constitution. Strong objection to the non-political character of the legion has developed. Demands are being made by members of posts in some parts of the country for repeal of this clause.

Commander O'Olier holds that the various parts can take any steps necessary to keep out of public office any individual whose war record was disloyal and unpatriotic, without conflicting with the spirit or letter of the legion constitution.

The delegates are expected to pass resolutions calling on the War Department and the Department of Justice for rigorous prosecution of those who evaded their military duty.

Means of curbing the activities of violent radical organizations; treatment of alien slackers; the immigration question in general and the Japanese question in particular; Americanism; better schools; universal military training; women in the Legion and its auxiliaries; rules for eligibility to the organization and prosecution of those who fraudulently wear Legion insignia are among the questions that are sure to come up.

Most of the 54 living men who received the congressional medal of honor—the most difficult of all military decorations to obtain—were expected to attend. Arrangements have been made by the legion to pay all the expenses of congressional medal men who wish to make the trip.

Cleveland welcomed the veterans with a shrieking of factory and steamboat whistles, bands and beribboned committees, homes and stores and office buildings were swathed in millions of feet of flags and bunting; everywhere the glad hand of greeting met the visitors. A large fund has been appropriated for the entertainment of the veterans. They will be wined, theatred, danced, fed, taken on lake excursions and provided with a series of boxing and other athletic exhibitions.

Many posts and state delegations plan novel stunts. Philadelphia delegates, 1,000 strong, will come to Cleveland in box cars labeled "40 hommes 8 cheveaux." A Detroit post will send 1,000 members on a lake steamer, which will be their home during the three days of the convention. The Montana delegates plan several surprises, designed to startle the natives of the east and middle west.

The convention program calls for reports from national officers and committees the first day. Temporary committees will bring their resolutions to the floor of the convention the second day and officers will be elected the third day.

TOKYO PLANS STADIUM FOR ORIENTAL GAMES.

TOKYO, September 24. — In order that she may take a commanding place in athletic events in the Orient, particularly the Oriental Olympic sports, Tokyo is building a vast athletic park and stadium at a cost of more than a milion yen. The track will be larger than a Olympic track in Stockholm, and great care has been exercised in the planning thereof, this being in charge of experts who were sent to Europe to study the best features of the tracks there. The tracks wil include one of 400 yards and another of 200 yards, but the original plan to include a baseball diamond was abandoned, it being the common opinion that the two features cannot be successfully combined.

On the west side of the field will be an inclined grassy slope which will be able to accommodate some 40,000 spectators, while on the east side will be a grandstand with seats for 15,000 spectators. Inside this stand will be dresing and bath rooms, rining halls, and even dormitories for the visiting teams. Work on levelling the ground has already begun and it is expected that the entire structure will be completed by 1923.

Since the declaration of Independence was signed nearly 35,000,000 immigrants have arrived in U.S.A.

OSHAWA, Sept. 21. — One of Oshawa's oldest landmarks changed owners yesterday morning, when Mr. W. R. Dixon sold his big flour mill, which he has conducted for many years on King Street West, to Hogg & Lytle, the consideration being ten thousand dollars.

When interviewed, the local manager for the new owners, Mr. J. L. Whattam, was not prepared to state to what use the mill would be put.

BUREAU HELPS MAKE SCIENCE PRACTICAL

(United Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Business men who wish to commercialize scientific discoveries of government experts now may have the assistance of a special bureau recently organized in the Agricultural Department, under the direction of Secretary Meredith.

The new bureau, headed by David J. Price, is officially known as the Office of Development Work. It is intended as a go-between for business men and science.

Government scientists often discover processes by which valuable products may be obtained from waste materials of factories, according to Secretary Meredith's announcement. Too often in the past, however, the discoveries have been developed only to the theoretical stage. The aim of the Development Office will be to carry the discoveries clear through to the practical state.

CELEBRATE LANDING OF PILGRIM FATHERS

BUFFALO, Sept. 22.—(United Press).—The biggest and most spectacular parade seen here in years wended its way through the streets her to-day commemorating the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers. The parade was expected to be three miles long. Scores of floats, depicting events which lead to the founding of this country, were the main features of the big spectacle. Hundreds of participants in the parade wore the old Puritan costumes. John Alden, Miles Standish, and many of the characters immortalized by Longfellow were seen.

Shop windows and store fronts were decorated. Flags were seen everywhere, the United States and British flags predominating.

Many notables from England, Canada and this country were here to witness the parade. Several of them are scheduled to addresses at the mass meeting held after the parade.

Among the British delegation named were Lord and Lady Ratherreedan, Admiral Sir William Lowther Grant, K.C.B.; Sir Arthur E. Shipley, Sir John Henry, Prof. Frederick J. Foakes-Jackson, D.D.

Sir Robert Borden, former premier, was a delegate from Canada. The Netherland was represented by his excellency, Dr. W. H. de Beaufort, acting minister.

Many persons able to trace the family tree back to the Puritans were in the parade.

LOCAL INLAND REVENUE OFFICE RECEIVES NEW INSTRUCTIONS

The Inland Revenue office here received from Ottawa information on the collection of the luxury tax by stamps which is to come into force in about two months, possibly about Dec. 1. The stamps to be used are the regular Inland Revenue stamps and will be in all denominations up to $100. The instructions read:

"Vendors selling articles subject to luxury tax are required to furnish the purchaser, at the time of sale, with a voucher or sales slip representing such sale and showing the tax as a separate item. Before delivering such voucher or sales slip to the purchaser the vendor must affix to such voucher or sales slip a stamp or stamps of the requisite denomination sufficient to cover the tax payable upon such article. The vendor must cancel the stamp or stamps after they have been affixed to the voucher or sales slip by means of an authorized perforator in such manner that the cancellation is entirely surrounded by the outer edges of the stamp."

The Penalty.

The penalty for non-compliance of this Act is to be not less than ten times the amount of such duty, but in no case less than fifty dollars.

The perforator will be loaned to merchants by local collectors of revenue for which a receipt must be given.

All vendors of articles subject to the luxury tax will be required to take out a license, the fee for which will be $2. The jewellers have been licensed now for some time, but with the collection being made by stamp, the department has deemed it necessary to license all vendors of articles coming under the luxury tax.

Take Out License.

By the new regulations all manufacturers, wholesalers or jobbers selling articles subject to sales tax are required to take out a license. A manufacturer's license costs $2.00. A special license for manufacturers, wholesalers or jobbers collecting the sales tax at the time of sale costs $5.00.

This licensing is done so that manufacturers will know that the wholesale houses dealing with them are legitimite business houses and the wholesalers or jobbers must furnish their serial number and character of license on order of these.

The department has appointed two auditors at Belleville who will inspect the books of every business making returns, either under the luxury, sales or manufacturer's tax. These officers will go about unannounced, and it is believed with these vigilants on duty there will be far better book-keeping on the part of merchants, wholesalers, jobbers and manufacturers.

Lessen Book-keeping.

Mr. Buller to-day stated that he believed the new system of paying the luxury tax by stamps would work out very well. It would eliminate much book-keeping at the local office and the attendant confusion now existing still in the minds of many merchants over the proper way to make returns as well. All they will have to do is to buy the stamps at the office and put them on the sales slip and cancel them, giving the sales slip to the purchaser. The system is simple and should be efficient and there is no loop-hole to escape the tax.

Forms for the licenses of merchants, wholesalers, jobbers and manufacturers have been received by the local office, but no authorization has been received of when they come into force.

Any information desired on the changes in the collection of the luxury tax will be cheerfully furnished by the local collector of Inland Revenue.

A STREET LIZARD IN THE WEST END

HANGS AROUND NEIGHBOURHOOD AND PEEPS IN WINDOWS

Several more cases have been reported from the west end of a man prowling about houses at night and peeping in windows. At one house on Stewart street a man climbed a ladder to a second story window, but was seen by the occupants of the house and frightened away when he heard one of the occupants telephoning to the police. King street, near Park street, has had several visits from a suspicious character. On several occasions he has been seen peeping in windows and hanging about the neighborhood, standing under a street light pretending to read a paper.

MONTREAL, Sept. 21. — Arthur Ecrément, ex-member of the Canadian House of Commons, was acquitted in the Court of Sessions by Judge DeCarie on a charge of attempting to defraud Michael Connolly, a contractor, out of $125,000, by a fake betting scheme operated in Buffalo.

Ecrement was admitted to bail in bonds of $10,000 on a charge of securing by false pretences the sum of $5200 from Oliver Patenaude, who claims to have let the defendant have the money to loan for him.

THE BOOT AND SHOE SITUATION

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—Conditions are such in the shoe business, says Chairman Hultman, of the Commission on Necessaries of Life, that there is no necessity for the commission's doing anything for regulation of prices of footwear. This is due to the state of mind of the public on account of the prices they have been forced to pay the last two or three years. People have reached the stage where they will buy only what they are compelled to, in spite of rigid economy. This has affected sales so much that some big manufacturers are named as being in such condition that they would be glad to sell their stock at bare cost of manufacture. There is absolutely no call for action by the commission to protect the public, he says, for operation of the market is doing all for them that can be done by the commission.

A FEATURE OF TO-DAY'S EVENTS

MRS. MAURICE PARK GAVE SEVERAL VOCAL SELECTIONS

A feature in the long list of attractions in the Manufacturers' Building at the Exhibition to-day was the programme of vocal selections rendered by Mrs. Maurice Park, accompanied by Miss Ida Sanderson on the piano, at the stand of Ye Olde Firme of Heintzman & Co. The programme rendered was very much appreciated by the hundreds of patrons of the Fair.

JORDAN BROTHERS HAD GOOD FLOAT

Much favorable comment has been made upon the flower float entered by Jordan Brothers in the parade yesterday and it has further attracted considerable interest at the Exhibition grounds.

The float, which is most artistic and represents the result of several hours' labour by a staff of floral artists, is composed of solid panels of crimson asters in which the name of the firm, Jordan Brothers, is inset in solid letters of white asters. The extreme corners of the float are composed of evergreens and ferns, while the top is an almost solid mass of asters and ferns.

AN INVESTIGATION INTO THOROLD FIRE

Fire Marshall Heaton Opens Inquiry Giving Fear of Intimidation as Reason for Proceedings.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 22.—Investigation of the circumstances of the Town Hall fire at Thorold on the night of 16th August is to be held in camera. The idea of secret investigation is to secure more candid testimony from the witnesses.

The first session of the inquiry was held yesterday, and daily sessions will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day, each witness being examined alone.

Crown Attorney Cowper is present at the inquiry, but is not taking part.

Inspector Boyd and Assistant Crown Attorney Jeffreys, of Wellington County, are with Fire Marshall Heaton, who is conducting the investigation, and who to-day issued the following statement to the press:

People Were Roused.

"It is, of course, well known that the fire occurred at a time when many people were inflamed by passion and resentment, and when concentrated and cumulative excitement resulted in a demonstration of considerable violence.

"In the course of this apparently unorganised demonstration fire took place in the Town Hall, and it is our duty to obtain all available evidence as to the circumstances under which the fire occurred; and if it was of other than accidental origin, to find those who may have had anything to do with its cause or origin.

Avoid Intimidation.

"With the two-fold object of obtaining more candid testimony, and of avoiding any atempt at intimidation, present or future, it has been decided, after consultation with the Attorney-General, to hear the evidence in camera.

"It will, I trust, be fully understood that this is not a trial of supposedly guilty parties, but an investigation to get at all the facts, with a view to the Crown Attorney taking such action as the evidence warrants."

CASE SETTLED OUT OF COURT

McILMOYLE - STABLER CASE DISPOSED OF

Wm. H. McIlmoyle brought an action against Frederick Stabler, but Mr. G. N. Gordon and Mr. F. D. Kerr, acting for the plaintiff and the defendant respectively, anounced to the Court that a settlement had been reached, and Mr. Justice Middleton marked the record with a judgment that the case was settled. The solicitors in the case said they did not care to make the terms of settlement public.

MYSTERIOUS WANDERER CASE GOING TO TRIAL

(United Press.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Charged with murdering his girl-wife of a year and of slaying a "ragged stranger" whom he is alleged to have hired to stage a fake hold-up so he could kill his wife, Carl Wanderer, ex-army lieutenant, is scheduled to go on trial for his life here October 4.

The Wanderer case was given nationwide publicity because of the mystery attached to it. Wanderer, just out of the army, was working in his father's butcher shop. One night, according to the first story he told police, he returned home with his wife to find a ragged dressed stranger standing in the vestibule of their home. The "ragged stranger," police said Wanderer told them, ordered them to throw up their hands.

Wanderer stated it was dark in the vestibule. Instead of complying with the stranger's demand, Wanderer fired. When the police arrived they found the young wife and the alleged holdup man dead.

Wanderer for a time convinced the police that he was telling the truth until they traced the ownership of the pistol used by the "ragged stranger." It was found that the revolver had originally been sold to Wanderer.

After a gruelling cross-examination, Wanderer is alleged to have confessed to State Attorney Maclay Hoyne that he had killed both. He killed his wife, about to become a mother, because, according to the alleged confession, he was tired of civilian life and wanted to get back in the army.

"It's a softer life in the army," he told interviewers.

He killed the "ragged stranger," the alleged confession stated, because he wanted to prevent any "double crossing."

According to the story police say Wanderer told them, he hired the "ragged stranger" in a West Madison street lodging house for three dollars. To date his body has not been identified, though it has been lying in the county morgue for many months.

Following the alleged confession Wanderer stated he didn't care what happened to him. He said his mind was at rest and he was ready for the walk to the gallows.

The state plans to demand that he be hung.

RHUEMATISM

Rheumatism is produced by the accumulation of Uric Acid in the Blood, and this poisonous substance attacks and inflames the membrane covering the joints and separating the muscles, thus producing severe pains. If the waste products to the system are not properly carried off, Uric Acid forms and is deposited in the joints and between the different layers of muscles. DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS will correct this by its action on the Kidneys, and removing the Uric Acid from the blood. Try them and watch the results. If they fail, your money will be refunded.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets are put in three sizes —25c, 50c, $1.00 per box—at WARNE'S DRUG STORE, 351 George Street Peterborough.

MR. BAGLEY DENIED SELLING HOT DOGS

EVIDENCE AT HIGH COURT SITTINGS LATE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Yesterday afternoon, at the High Court sittings, Mr. J. Guise-Bagley, defendant in the action instituted by Judge R. Ruddy, exhibited a bill of of a part of the office of Mr. Burnham.

Guise-Bagley exhibited a bill of costs book of Judge Ruddy's and stated that he had examined it and found a record of business transacted by Judge Ruddy for the year 1916.

He admitted to Mr. R. R. Hall, counsel for Judge Ruddy, however, that he had not examined any other documents or books of Judge Ruddy's which have contained further business.

He intimated to Mr. Hall that Judge Ruddy had traded upon J. H. Burnham's position as M.P. and showed a list of clients which Judge Ruddy had made out after an agreement was almost arrived at, and stated that this list was incorrect. He testified that he had lost only one client of Judge Ruddy's.

He told a "hard luck" story to the court, but admitted that he had received a revenue from the rental of a part of the office of Mr. Burnham.

Misappropriating Funds.

Mr. Bagley admitted misappropriating certain sums during 1917 to Mr. Hall. He was in such a position he couldn't get out of the hole, witness said.

Mr. Bagley in reply to Mr. Hall said he did not think the property was worth $3,000 to-day. "It couldn't have been worth more than $2,500 in 1917. You can't sell it!"

"What would you consider a good practice?" asked Mr. Hall.

"If I had a practice where I could make $2,000 a year clear I'd think I was doing pretty well."

Said He Complained.

In May, 1917 he said he discovered business wasn't coming his way. In reply to Mr. Hall's questions he said that he kept on simply because he thought the war would soon be over and his brother was sending business his way that would put him on his feet.

"I would like to know why you didn't complain to Judge Ruddy?"

"I did complain."

"When?"

"Certainly. Once every six months."

He complained, he said, that the business was not what it was represented to be.

"But you went on paying your hundred dollars every six months didn't you?"

"Yes, sir."

Mr. Bagley said he thought of taking action against Judge Ruddy in the spring of 1919, but didn't take any action.

Mr. Bagley replied to a question by Mr. Hall that he never asked Mr. Ruddy to recommend him as a reputable solicitor. He thought it was part of his duty to do so and he was embodying that in his damages.

"I see Dogs."

Mr. Bagley denied that he ever sold "hot dogs" at the Exhibition. The Peterborough Candy Co. had a booth down there and he helped them carry out a few, perhaps, he said, but that was the extent of his activities.

Mr. Ruddy, by his acts and words, led me to believe that Mr. Burnham was an active practitioner and member and I found that such was not the case.

This concluded Mr. Bagley's evidence.

A witness that Mr. Bagley desired to call had left the court and so the court adjourned till nine o'clock this morning.

THE BORDEN COMPANY LIMITED MONTREAL

MEN'S CLOTHES SELLING AT REASONABLE PRICE

THIS TAILORING COMPANY IS NOT PROFITEERING—OFFERING EXTRA GOOD VALUES JUST NOW

The Regent Tailors, whose store is at 326 George Street in this city, is offering unusually striking values because of the opening of new stores within the past few days in Windsor and Hamilton. For these opening days they imported special lines of tweeds, worsteds, serges, and overcoatings, and are offering a suit or an overcoat to order for $27.00, made of materials which in the ordinary way are worth at least $50.00. They are steadily building up a chain of stores which will extend clear across Canada, and intend to set the pace for genuine values in men's clothes for the whole of the Dominion.

A complete range of these extra fine materials is now being shown in the local store of the Regent Tailors, and every man in this city should see them. It is only because they import the materials direct, make the garments in their own big tailoring shops in Toronto and sell direct to the public, instead of through middlemen, that they are able to offer such extraordinary values as a suit or overcoat to measure for only $27.00.

The materials will not last long, big though the stock is. There is sure to be a great demand for them. Men who intend buying clothes this fall should call and see the unusual values for themselves.

PRESENTATION TO MISS K. HALL

A most enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Garside, 199 Reid Street, when about forty young people from the Young People's Guild of Knox Presbyterian Church presented Miss Keturah Hall with a miscellaneous shower in view of her approaching marriage.

Miss Hall was taken by surprise, but in a few words expressed her thanks to her friends for their kindness and thoughtfulness.

The evening was spent in music and dancing. Refreshments were served, and the evening proved most enjoyable to all. The friends of the bride-to-be extended their wishes for prosperity, good luck, and good health, followed by a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Garside for their hospitality.

The gathering dispersed about midnight.

CLOTHING PRICES MUST COME DOWN DECLARES RETAIL CLOTHIERS' HEAD

BUT THE DROP WILL BE SLOW SO LONG AS GIRLS FROM RUSSIA GET FORTY-FIVE DOLLARS A WEEK

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—"Clothing prices must come down; they are too high," Frederick Levy, president of the Retail Clothiers' Association, told a thousand members of that organization yesterday. Clothing dealers from all parts of the country are here to discuss the details of the trade.

From the delegates some bits of good news were gathered. One is that woollens will be cheaper in the spring. The manufacturers are beginning to catch up.

The price of clothes, however, will drop slowly so long as girls from Russia get $45 a week.

The average wage for needle trades is $47. The sample shop has gone. Bertha, the sewing machine girl, goes regularly to the beauty show now. She is getting to be a regular chicken, silk hose and everything.

The pocket makers are the real aristocrats in the clothing business now. In some cases they get $100 a week. They have entered that class that can take breakfast in bed.

Prices were the main topic at yesterday's session. Levy said clothing prices must come down, because they are too high.

But Fred. Volland, a director of the association, gave a better reason. He said the public had rebelled against high prices.

The Old Clothes' Club, he said, "have struck the right note. That was the public's way of registering a protest against an intolerable situation.

"Men who could afford to buy clothes at the high prices refused to do so, with the result that the market is overstocked. Men who used to have three and four suits are satisfied now to get along with one a year. But the men insist on quality. Their wives have not anything on them as shoppers."

CALGARY HAS A HUGE NUMBER OF VACANT LOTS—REDUCTIONS IN TAXABLE PROPERTY

CALGARY, Alta.—At a recent meeting of the Finance Committee, the question of tax arrears and the tax sale was the principal tonic. It was finally decided that a definite policy must be framed to provide revenue in lieu of taxes from property which will be sold this fall. Alderman Johnston and McCoubrey expressed the opinion that there was a possibility of a 70-mill tax rate in 1921, unless the city sold instead of trying to lease lands that came into its possession through the tax sale.

It is variously estimated that from 30,000 to 40,000 lots will come into the city's possession, which will mean probably striking another $1,500,000 from the already greatly reduced taxable property of the city, which is now down to some $75,000,000. The most serious phase of this situation, however, is the possibility of a decision from Judge Carpenter, of the Public Utilities Commission, compromising taxes on property classed as farm lands, and making the compromise retroactive over a term of years. Such a decision might mean wiping another $5,000,000 off the assessment rolls.

Another question of importance which was considered was that of sinking funds. Ald. Johnston made that statement that the city fell behind in payments into the sinking fund to the amount of $22,000, as compared with the previous year. The advisability of investing more money out of the fund in Calgary bonds, was also discussed, and it was finally decided to ask the Council to authorize the committee to invest sums from the sinking fund, not to exceed $50,000 at one time, in Calgary bonds of ten or fifteen-year.

Emphasis was also laid on the fact that no loans shall be made from the sinking fund on local mortgages, which is a repetition of a decision made long ago. At the present time, according to a statement made by Mayor Marshall recently, the city has $500,000 cash in its sinking and $50,000 invested in Victory bonds, besides mortgage loans and other investments. Prior to the war period, most of the sinking investments were in mortgages on local property. Alderman Johnston expressed the opinion that the city eventually would lose some $100,000 on these mortgage investments, but Commissioner Sam is expressed the opinion that by 1931, when sinking fund payments fall due, the property on which loans were made will be worth the principal and deferred interest.

New Situation Created by Closing of Condenseries.

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—Delay in delivering judgment by the Board of Commerce in the Toronto milk case is due to the new situation which has arisen owing to the condensed milk factories closing down and buying milk only for making butter.

Information has come to the board that these concerns are now buying milk at eight per cent. less than formerly because the European market is flooded with condensed milk, and manufacturing of it has been shut down. It is a strong argument why the recent raise in price of milk to consumers should not stand.

Through its counsel, Lewis Duncan, of Toronto, the Board of Commerce is now securing additional information on the subject, and one of the commissioners is likely to go to Toronto this week and assist in the private inquiry. Until this is done, judgment will be deferred, but it is expected within a week.

DRUGGISTS DO NOT LIQUOR

But Dispense it to Protect Public Against Rogues.

TORONTO, Sept. 22.—Retail druggists from all over Ontario gathered at the King Edward yesterday in annual convention. President A. J. Johnson of Collingwood, said that the business of the convention would commence to-day

"The drug business is fair in Ontario," said the chairman. "We succeeded in getting away from the stamp tax, which was just a burden to the poor man's doctor—the patent medicine. It is also unfair to make the druggist the collector of taxes in business.

Speaking of the trade in intoxicants, President Johnson said that the druggists did not want this business. This matter would be aired at the convention. "We want law and order, and would be better pleased if the druggists did not have to deal in spirits. On the other hand, we have, at least some of us have, stayed in that end in order that the public might not be mulcted by unscrupulous dealers."

BELL TELEPHONE CASE HEARD IN OTTAWA TO-DAY

(Canadian Press)

TORONTO, Sept. 22.—During the course of the resumed hearing of the Bell Telephone Company's application for increased rates by the Railway Board this morning, Chief Commissioner Carvell made the promise that the Board hold sittings in Montreal and Toronto for the hearing of local evidence. City Solicitor Waddel, of Hamilton, put in a plea for that city, but did not get a definite promise from the chairman.

Mr. Carvell stated that he was of the opinion that the sittings held outside the capital were only wasted time, but he knew feeling prevailing and would bow to it.

Mr. Doherty expressed himself as well pleased with his short visit in Peterboorugh.

FIGHT FOR WOMAN'S LIFE.

Say She is Needed to Nourish Children Born Since Murder.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 21.—The fight for the life of Madame Gagnon, sentenced to hang at Quebec next month for the murder of her stepdaughter, continues. The latest suggestion is a four months' reprieve that she may nourish her twin babies, which were born since sentence was imposed.

The Justice Department, it is stated, takes the ground that it is for the courts, and not for the department, to deal with such a request.

From present indications, however, commutation of sentence to life imprisonment would not be unlikely.

MASSE CAN HANDLE DOUBLE WORK NOW

SAYS OLD TIME STRENGTH AND ENERGY HAVE RETURNED SINCE TAKING TANLAC

"Tanlac has built me up so that I can now handle about double the work I used to," declared Oswald Masse, expressman for the J. B. Baillargeon Express Co. and living at 45 Elizabeth street, Montreal.

"I could not eat meat or vegetables without being bloated up as tight as a drum with gas afterwards. I had to live on cereals most of the time. My appetite was gone and I was growing weaker every day. My nerves were all on edge, I could not sleep well and often had night-sweats. I had a pain in the small of my back and grew so weak I could hardly get through with my work.

"A druggist suggested my trying Tanlac, and very soon my appetite returned and I can now eat meat, vegetables or anything else and never have indigestion or gas afterwards. My nerves are steady and I enjoy good rest without being troubled with night-sweats. The pains in my back has disappeared and I am stronger and better in every way."

Tanlac is sold in Peterborough by W. B. Warne Drug Co., Ltd., in Havelock by A. C. Denike, in Lakefield by Tanner Drug Co., Ltd., in Fowler's Corners by W. A. Hunter, in Gelert by A. J. Scott, in Westwood by G. Pringle & Son. (Advt.)

CEMENT COMPANY WILL STOP DIGGING IF LAKEFIELD FAILS TO PASS BY-LAW

LAKEFIELD BOARD OF TRADE WILL GET OUT AND ROOT FOR INDUSTRIAL BY-LAW.

THE ULTIMATUM

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 22.—A meeting of the Board of Trade was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, Sept. 20, with Mr. J. A. Foster, president, in the chair. Owing to the absence of the secretary, Mr. Wm. Graham was appointed secretary pro tem.

The president explained that he had called this meeting of the Board of Trade to discuss the by-law to be voted on next Monday, fixing the assessment of the Canada Cement Co. at $50,000 for the next 10 years.

He stated that he felt sure the by-law would be carried. If carried the company promises to expend $500,000 on their plant and their pay roll would exceed $250,000 per year, almost totalling $1,000 per day, and would be the second largest cement plant in Canada. He urged that every freeholder should support the by-law.

There appeared to be a little opposition to the by-law on the surface, which was entirely unexpected, but which he hoped this meeting would combat.

Councillor Marling stated that he had heard of two or three objections to the by-law being carried. One of these was that the people do not thoroughly understand what they are voting on, being under the impression that if the cement company purchased any additional property it would be covered by the fixed assessment of $50,000. Such is not the case, for if they should purchase any additional property it will be assessed at its present value.

Another objection was the smoke nuisance being a damage to private property.

Mr. F. F. Lillicrap stated that one of the objections was the fixed assessment, as a great many considered, that covered all. Not so, as they will pay the general rate on a fixed assessment of $50,000, but the school taxes must be paid on a regular assessment.

Mr. W. M. Graham stated that 10 years ago the Council and the Board of Trade had an interview with Mr. B. P. Jones, president of the Canada Cement Co., arranging a by-law similar to the one now being submitted, but the voters thought that the Lakefield cement being the best in Canada, was inducement enough to have them locate here without a fixed assessment by-law and the village turned it down and the cement plant has not operated since 1914, and should the by-law be turned down, have we any guarantee that the company will go on with their plant?

Should the by-law pass at least 50 or 60 new houses will be required to be built, which will give employment to all classes of trade. Property of all kinds will increase in value. As an instance, a house that was bought for $800 a year ago sold on Saturday for $2,200 on account of the cement company coming here. Numerous instances could be mentioned which go to show that it is a proposition that should not be turned down.

Regarding the smoke nuisance, is it not a fact that the smokiest towns and cities in the world are the most prosperous. Let us encourage the cement company and make Lakefield one of the most properous villages in Canada.

Ancient History.

Mr. Marling stated that 103 years ago Toronto was the same size as Lakefield to-day.

Mr. Lillicap thought if Mr. Marling came back in 103 years he would be surprised at the great change in Lakefield.

Mr. Marling thought Lakefield would be greatly surprised to see him.

Mr. E. W. Bailey, manager of the company, said that if the by-law carried the company would carry out their part of the agreement and more. Regarding the smoke nuisance, it would be no worse than before, and when asked if the smoke could not be consumed, he said that it could be possibly arranged. As at their Port Colborne plant, they were installing an electrical device through which the smoke would pass and make a by-product of potash, and if successful, would be installed in their Lakefield plant.

Mr. Bailey also stated that when working at the Belleville plant whenever he came home he was buttonholed by merchants, laborers and others to try and get the Lakefield plant going. He said he had worked hard to do so and this is the result. He said to start out with they would require 150 hands, which would be increased, taking care of all the available labor in Lakefield and would bring in others who would require more housing. The pay roll would average $20,000 per month.

When asked if it were true if the by-law were turned down that they would stop work on the plant, he said it was true, "for if the people turned down the by-law, they would stop digging," as they wanted the good-will of the people.

Mr. Wesley Sherin, clerk of Lakefield, was called on to give an explanation of the by-law and he said that the cement company fixed assessment would be if the by-law carried $50,000, business assessment 60 per cent. or $30,000 and school taxes on the actual assessed values. So that there would be largely increased taxes from the cement company.

A number of others voiced their opinions.

Messrs. Lillicrap, Graham and Tate were appointed a committee to draft a letter to be sent to every freeholder, setting forth why they should vote for the by-law, which was carried on motion of Messrs. Richardson and Morrison.

It was moved by Mr. Lillicrap, seconded by Mr. Richardson, that this Board of Trade congratulate the Council on the equitable agreement made between the village and the Canada Cement Company and recommend every voter to support the village and assist in bringing about a bigger and more prosperous town, which was carried unanimously.

In order to get the vote out properly volunteers were asked to put their autos at the service of voters next Monday, Mr. Theo Crawford and Mr. T. Braden offering their cars. Others will follow.

Messrs. J. E. Richardson, J. F. Lillicrap and Alex. McDonald were appointed scrutineers.

The meeting then adjourned.

FOUR THOUSAND BASKETS DESTROYED

PORT HOPE, Sept. 20. — The large auto truck owned in Hamilton, which left here Saturday morning with 4,000 baskets from the Port Hope Veneer & Lumber factory, took fire when about two miles east of Hamilton and the truck and all the baskets were completely destroyed. No particulars of the cause of the fire are given. The truck was insured and the loss of the baskets is also covered by insurance. The baskets proved excellent material for a fire and despite the best efforts of the men in charge of the truck nothing could be saved. The truck is a mass of charred wood and twisted iron.

PETERBOROUGH GIRLS MAKE GOOD SMOKERS

Although the dainty cigarette has gained greatly in popularity in feminine Peterborough, it would appear that many of the "flappers," as they term them in England, are still unversed in the art of properly paying one's respects to Milady Nicotine.

To see the average supposedly young and innocent "flapper"—and if some of their mothers should see them there might be more than one spanking — having a clandestine "drag" is to see a pose on the most approved lines laid down by the Theda Bara vamps.

The blase air and the reckless abandon which is attendant on such occasions is remindful of a stage reproduction of Bohemian Greenwich village. The languor which is assumed is almost a soporific to spectators.

The consumption of cigarettes by milady is steadily increasing, but as yet little evidence of preference as regards brands has been shown. Generally, the dainty gold-tipped, scented ladies' cigarette has not made its appearance to any extent here. Objections to the stronger Virginia tobaccos is seldom raised when a gentleman friend or relative offers his case—cigarette case, of course.

WOLVES DISTURB APSLEY'S SLUMBER AND RAID CATTLE

(Special to the Examiner).

APSLEY, Sept. 20.—The wolves continue to stay in the vicinity of the village, and almost every night their howls are heard. No trace has been found of Mrs. Grant's four lambs. They have evidently fallen victims to the marauders. Two near-by farmers have also lost sheep, and it is reported that a small herd of cattle was attacked by the pack, one yearling being killed and others more or less mutilated. "Did you hear the wolves last night?" has become the current salutation between neighbours in the place of the "fine day" greeting.

Reeve and Mrs. Brown have been entertaining a party of friends during the week at their camp at Long Lake, but the cold snap interfered with the fishing.

Ice more than a quarter of an inch thick was general around here on Saturday and Sunday mornings. Most of the garden produce not harvested succumbed to the severe frost.

The Long Swamp road has been put into a fairly good condition with a new road at the north end cut through Weisse's field to escape the hill. Motorists can now take this route in comparative comfort and safety.

At Mr. Harry Smith's sale on Thursday last, his team weighing 2,900 lbs. was bought by Mr. Robert Knox, of Lakefield, for $335.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilton and family have returned to their home in Virginia, U.S., after a month's pleasant stay at Loon Lake.

Warsaw Correspondence

WARSAW, Sept. 22.—Miss Alice Wasson, who has been spending her holidays at home, has returned to her duties at Nicholls Hospital.

Miss Edith Tucker, of Nicholls Hospital, was in the village Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Choate and Mrs. Smith have returned from the lake.

Mr. Wm. Dewart, of Indian River, was in the village on Monday last.

Messrs. Percy Lloyd and R. Payne were at Indian River Thursday and Friday.

Consolidated Schools.

Mrs. W. R. Morris, of the Board of Education, Peterborough, spent a couple of days last week in the village in the interests of Consolidated Schools.

Dr. Sinclair made his headquarters at Mr. Crapp's while in the village. While here he made a thorough inspection of the territory and now has a complete map of roads, dwellings and the number of children of school age and under now resident.

Heavy Frosts.

Last week's rains laid down a good deal of the uncut buck-wheat. The heavy frosts of Saturday and Sunday nights have dried the corn and blackened tomato and other tender plants.

Silo-filling has commenced.

Some of the threshers report large yields of grain for the acreage, but they complain of smut. Some have been made quite ill by it.

Several new silos are being built.

The Roll Call.

At the urgent request of some school trustees the executive of the Woman's Institute have again decided to postpone the "Roll Call-Canadian Authors" meeting, and hold the open meeting scheduled for December on Thursday, October 14th. To this meeting men, as well as women, are invited, and it makes no difference whether the women of a family are institute members are not. The meeting is at 8 o'clock p.m. in the Town Hall. Subject, "Consolidated Schools." Admission free. Light lunch.

A meeting in the interests of Consolidated Schools was held in Douro S. S. No. 5 on Tuesday evening. The attendance was very good, when it is remembered that the lecture was unfortunately set for a night when there was a special church service. Mr. J. A. Crowe was appointed chairman. Mr. Lees gave a short address. Mr. Chisholm gave a very clear description of the uses and management of Consolidated Schools. Dr. Sinclair showed views of different schools and their work. The question was asked, If part of a section wished to go in with a Consolidated School could it? Mr. Chisholm replied that it could by making application to the department. At another meeting it was asked if a child outside the Consolidated School boundary could attend the High School classes. Answer: "They could."

On Wednesday evening the meeting was held in Cotessloe School. When Mr. Lees and Dr. Sinclair arrived all was darkness. The teacher had not received the dodgers ordered? to be sent her, so, although other word had been sent to the section, there was some doubt about the date. However, a fair crowd gathered. Mr. Lees introduced the subject. Mrs. Morris talked very earnestly on the need of a change in the educational system and mentioned the regulation to come in force in Sept., 1921, viz., that children must attend school until they have reached the age of 16, instead of 14 years as now.

School System.

On Thursday evening there was a good gathering at the 4th Line School. Dr. Munro was asked to take the chair. He gave a short address, showing that times have changed since our present school system was inaugurated. Mr. W. R. Morris gave an earnest appeal for greater education advantages in the country. Dr. Sinclair's illustrated address was very clear, and he showed that the difficulties of transportation were not so great as often considered.

Questions were asked for and Mr. Wm. Payne asked leave to say a few words on the other side of the question. He gave quite a lengthy address, in which he scored nearly every one who had anything to do with Consolidated School scheme. Cities are especially wicked places with their cigarettes, dance halls, etc. The reply was that there was fully as great a percentage of wickedness in the country as in the city. Not so apparent because more scattered and that the speaker knew of whole school sections where the majority of the young farmers had attended either High School or O.A.C., etc. A city lady present apologized for being here, but said that her father and mother had not consulted her regarding her place of birth.

Quite a full house greeted the speakers at Union No. 12. Mr. David Miller was appointed chairman. Mr. Lees gave a history of his study of Consolidated Schools (illustrated). His talk covered places he had visited in the States where the scheme has been fully tried out and in the West where also it is long past the experimental stage. In Ontario the method has not been tried so long, but where it has been in New Ontario, where conditions are worse than ours, it has been successful.

Dr. Sinclair gave a short address, which surely put present conditions very clearly, and the great need for a change. A few good questions were asked and answered.

In his address Dr. Sinclair suggested that they give their teacher $90.00 more and so obtain increase in the Government grant of over $200.00.

One of the trustees of this section, speaking after the meeting, said it was a new school, still unpaid for, and they thought it better to stay as they were for a time.

School Fair.

At a joint meeting of the secretaries of the school sections taking part in Warsaw School Fair, at which Messrs. Joseph Tedford, J. A. Crowe, Harold Darling, Jas. Moore, Geo. A. Dunford and James Miles, also Mr. MacRae, district representative at Norwood, were present. The following suggestions were made:

1.—That there be a stated program for the afternoon and that it be adhered to.

2.—That the stock judging commence at 1 p.m.; singing and speaking contests, if weather be such as to permit them outside, commence at 1.30 p.m.; sports at 2 p.m.; hall open at 3 o'clock; driving contest 3.30 o'clock. Articles may be lifted after 4 p.m.

3.—That the events be:

(a) A trustees' race—Prizes, 60c, 40c, 30c.

(b) Married woman's race—Prizes, 60c, 40c, 30c.

(c) Teachers' race—Prizes, 60c, 40c, 30c.

(d) Tug-of-war (teams of 8 pupils, preferrably 4 boys and 4 girls actually attending school, to be chosen by the teachers)—Prizes, $3.00, $2.00, $1.00.

(e) Running race (30 yards, for girls 8 and under)—5 prizes, 50c, 40c, 20c, 10c, 10c.

(g) Running race (50 yards, for girls 12 and under)—5 prizes, 50c, 50c, 20c, 10c, 10c.

(h) Running race (50 yards, for boys 12 and under—5 prizes, 50c, 40c, 20c, 10c, 10c.

(j) Wheelbarrow race—$1.00, 60c, 40c.

(k) Nail driving contest (women)—3 prizes, 60c, 40c, 30c.

(l) Animal race—5 prizes, 50c, 40c, 20c, 10c, 10c.

4.—That each section be asked to contribute $3.00 towards sports prizes. Some sections have done so of their own initiative.

5.—That it is urged that all secretaries be present the whole afternoon to look after their own section interests.

6.—That a committee, consisting of Messrs. Harold Darling, J. A. Crowe and James Moore, be especially detailed to look after the sports.

Preparing for Fair.

The Warsaw School Fair is to be held on the afternoon of Friday, Sept. 24. The school children are looking forward to the day and all hope it will be fine. There is no admission to the Fair. The Woman's Institute are giving a supper in Mr. Calder's hall. One number of the evening entertainment will be a choral contest. For this the Woman's Institute is giving three prizes. An event of the Fair itself is a school children's parade. The Cotessloe I.O.D.E. are giving prizes. It is earnestly hoped every parent and every one else will do all he or she can to help the children to make the Fair, entertainment, etc., a success. The prize money is obtained from the school sections, and a child belonging to a section which does not contribute does not get a prize. Also the Bankers' Association, the Agricultural Society, the I.O.D.E. and Woman's Institute and a few individuals contribute money for the prizes.

Church Services.

Service in the Anglican Church Sunday was conducted by Rev. Stringer of Young's Point. He expects to hold service here next Sunday afternoon also.

The Presbyterian Sabbath School and preaching services were well attended. Rev. G. Graham's morning subject was "The Principle of Life," and evening, "Repent Ye." Next Sunday at 11 a.m. the Sabbath School and church services will be united in a rally day service.

The Baptist Sabbath School and preaching services were well attended. Mr. Vose's subject was "All in All."

SHIPBUILDERS BLAME LABOUR FOR FAILURE

TORONTO, Sept. 21.—Labor's demands killed the Dominion Shipbuilding Company, according to the statement of the firm's legal representatives, McMaster, Fleury and Montgomery, to the Court of Revision here. The company objected to its business assessment of $307,828 as it had gone out of business some months ago.

"Is there no chance of a reorganization of the firm?" asked the Court. "None," said the solicitor for the company. "The Dominion Government is finishing its ships by arrangement with the liquidation, so is the Guelph Navigation Company, but that is all that is being done."

Chairman Drayton: "The firm is dead, then?" "Yes, labor killed it."

The Court cut 5-12 of the business assessment off, making allowance for the period of the year which the firm is not operating. This means a cut of $128,000.

"This is designed to check race suicide, so that in future Canada will not be ruled by the Chinese and other foreigners," remarked Chairman Drayton by way of explaining to an income assessment appellant the new clause which provides a $200 exemption for every child under the age of 18.

QUACKS' DOOM SEEN IN NEW MEDICAL BILL

(By United Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The man who comes to England to try to sell a box of pills which will cure sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism, backaches, tired feet, scarlet fever and measles, is going to have a sorry time.

The proprietary medicines bill has arrived to put a stop to his oratory. "Quack" remedies are to be prohibited and all proprietary preparations and appliances are to be registered complete with full description as well as the owner's name.

Some remedies are prohibited altogether. Among these comes remedies for cancer, consumption, lupus, deafness, fits, epilepsy, diabetes, paralysis, locomotor ataxy, Bright's disease and rupture. These may not be sold or offered or advertised for sale, and the prohibition applies to "any medicine or surgical appliance of any kind whatsoever purporting or stated directly or by implication to be effective for the prevention, cure, or relief of the diseases named." Other diseases may be added at the discretion of the minister of health.

Altogether, the bill covers every trick of the "quack doctors'" trade, right down to the advertising of testimonials. Very soon all those philanthropists who have been administering mysterious pills for England's ills will have to pack their grips and seek more remunerative climes.

RESULTS OF PROHIBITION.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Here are some of the results of prohibition in the United States as reported by The New York World:

"More whiskey is being made and sold now than six months ago.

"The dry territory of the South is wetter than it has been any time since prohibition by State legislation became operative in the various commonwealths.

"More corn whiskey is being made in Virginia, North Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee and Kentucky than ever before."

TWO FEASTS FOR THE FIGHT FANS

By L. R. BLANCHARD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(United Press).—Two prize fights scheduled here for October, tasty as they may be, can be regarded chiefly as appetizers. They will whet pugilistic appetites for the possible Dempsey-Carpentier championship next year.

The first is the Jack Dempsey-Bill Brennan scrap in Madison Square Garden under the overseeing eye of Tex Rickard. The other will be the Georges Carpentier-Battling Levinsky fracas in Brooklyn October 12.

Dempsey naturally shows up as the big favorite in the proposed bout with Brennan, both because of his recent triumph over Billy Miske and because in 1918 he flattened Brennan in the sixth round. Bill with-drawing from the fight because of a broken ankle. Brennan was floored several times in the fight, but professes to believe that Dempsey cannot put him out. He also figures that by retaining his consciousness for six rounds he will have so tired the champion that Jack cannot go through to a win. Reports that Dempsey's boxing has improved have not worried Bill.

No one has a real line on Levinsky's prospects against Carpentier, but the American generally is rated as second best. This is because Levinsky has not shown that he lugs a punch. He is a bear on defense, however, and Carpentier's ability to get through that guard will show what Dempsey has to face.

80,000 MONTENEGRINS MAY STARVE UNLESS AID COMES BEFORE WINTER

(United Press).

CETTINJE, Montenegro, Sept. 21.—Montenegro was always a poor country, but before the war it had at least enough to live on, enough to rear a race that for 500 years—till January, 1916—defended its liberty against all attackers. The war-time occupation was a blow from which the country will take ages to recover: all its little wealth was lost: valuables, furniture, linen, food, live-stock — everything, down to the hens on the doorsteps, was swept away; and now the land is struggling for bare existence.

There are people in it to-day who for weeks have not had a grain of corn in their cottages, people who have not a stitch of clothing to bless themselves with, and who dare not, for very shame, cross their threshhield in the daylight.

They steal out when darkness falls, grub up the leaves of the asphodel a plant the omnivorous goat rejects — boil the bitterness out of them, and feed on the nasty remainder. In one village, consisting perhaps of twenty houses, ten families were recently counted who by such means kept body and soul precariously together.

But, bad as things are at present, they threaten to grow worse. At one time the country could reckon on some share in the military stores left at Cattaro and other places on the Dalmatian coast. These were long ago exhausted.

Last winter and spring conditions were greatly eased by the intervention of the American Red Cross, which imported and distributed large quantities of food, clothes and medicines. In spite of this help, it is estimated that by November, unless the situation mends, well on to eighty thousand people (the total population of Montenegro is in the region of two hundred thousand) will be starving.

The people themselves are doing what they can to stave off the coming disaster. Every little patch that there is labour to cultivate is under crops. But the country has been drained, not merely of its resources, but of its manhood. There are not men enough left to do the necessary work. In the little town of Spuzh, for example, of the 673 men who went out to fight at the beginning of the Balkan wars, only 72 have come back, and many of these are cripples.

The population is largely made up of widows and orphans. But, indeed, thanks to the splendid work of the Americans, and to the generous collaboration of the Serbian Government, it is nowadays rather an advantage in Montenegro to be an orphan. Whenever you see a chubby, red-cheeked child, you may be pretty sure he is an inmate of one of the many orphanages they have set up.

BROUGHT IN VERDICT FAVOUR OF PLAINTIFF

Bagley tried to bring out that this would have a detrimental effect on the practice.

A Valuation.

James G. Graham, a contractor in this city for the past forty years, gave evidence. He had completely examined the property in question, he said. The building, he said, was 18 by 40 feet, about 19 or 20 feet high, with 14 inch walls. The brick in place was worth $1,750 or $1,800, he said. The excavation for the cellar would cost about $125. The foundation would cost $200, the carpentery $900 or $1,000, the lumber $1,000, the plastering $240, the painting $260, or a total cost to construct the building now of $5,145. In 1917 it would have cost $3,500. The building is in good substantial repair, he believed. He could not say what it was worth as a sale. He was better acquainted with building than selling.

Is property fetching to-day as much as it costs to build? asked Mr. Bagley.

Some does. Some desirable residences, but he admitted that many did not. He did not think you could get what it cost to build for it.

William Langford, another well-known contractor, who examined the place, said that his opinion nearly coincided with Mr. Graham's—he would place the cost to-day at $5,300. In the spring of 1917 it would cost about two-thirds of to-day's cost, about $3,700. In 1917, he replied to Mr. Hall, that a fair rental for the upstairs would be $8 or $10 and $15 for the first floor. Property was slack in the spring of 1917. Prices of property were about stationary fom 1914 to 1917, stated Mr. Langford to Mr. Bagley in his cross-examination.

The Summing Up.

This marked the conclusion of the evidence. Mr. Bagley in his reply said that he had only had a limited time to examine Mr. Ruddy's books. He alleged he only got certain documents after his examination for discovery. The items in the books were doubled up, he said. I say that as far as I can tell quite half those charges are from the Millbrook practise. I find that according to my calculation the gross total for May was $177.00. Of this $16.00 was from the Millbrook practise, which was not turned over to me and there was $75.10 from the Richardson estate that was turned over to Peck, Kerr & McElderry. Substracting these leaves a total of $141.00, which Mr. Bagley claims is inflated 33 1-3 per cent., leaving the practise worth only some $90 a month.

His Lordship left the decision of whether there was any fraudulent misrepresentation on the part of Mr. Ruddy, and if so, what misrepresentation, to the jury.

"A Good Practise."

Mr. Hall said that Judge Ruddy had a good practise. There is nothing to show that Mr. Burnham had much of a practise so there is nothing against Mr. Burnham. Mr. Ruddy in his letter told Mr. Bagley that he couldn't give him his books so he didn't charge him for the practise, but allowed him it if he bought the property.

Mr. Hall pointed out the value of the property to a lawyer because of its proximity to the Court House, and to the business centre. Its property value was $3,400 or $3,500, including office furniture. Another point was he bought it on easy payments and Judge Ruddy had all the bother over handling the money. That he allowed him time to make the payments over an extended period showed that there was no dishonest motive on the party of Judge Ruddy, declared Mr. Hall.

MR. HALL'S ADDRESS.

Mr. R. R. Hall in his address to the jury emphasized that J. G. Gulse-Bagley only expected to get the remnants of the practice. Mr. Bagley admits that he thought a $2,000 practice for himself a good one.

J. G. Gulse-Bagley in his address alleged that the practice had been misrepresented to him. Mr. Bagley said he thought that although Mr. Ruddy's business was not large, after he gave away the Millbrook business and the Richardson Estate he thought Mr. Burnham had a good practice he would get.

His Lordship's Remarks.

His Lordship Mr. Justice Middleton pointed out to the jury that the whole case revolved around whether the agreement between Mr. Ruddy and Mr. Bagley was made on false and fraudulent representation. He pointed out that both men were trained in law and they knew enough to put the agreement in writing hence no inference should be drawn that there was any imposing done. He would have thought that as in purchasing any business Mr. Bagley would have sought more information about his purchase. He didn't ask about accounts or try to get any tangible guage on the amount of business done. If there had been a sale of practice understood Mr. Bagley he thought would have gone into these things more fully.

It was quite right to announce that the firm of Ruddy and Burnham had been dissolved he said and he felt that an honest reputable lawyer coming in and announced as a successor should have done well. Mr. Bagley saw what he was getting, the building the furniture, the remnants of the practice. "Fraud must be established and proved he emphasized. There wasn't anything in the evidence he said to show that on Mr. Bagley's first visit there had been any camouflage. The jury he said must determine whether there was any fraudulent representation and if so what damage has Mr. Bagley sustained through this fraudulent representation. Mr. Bagley said that he would consider $2,000 a year a good practice and Judge Ruddy's books show that he made more than that. Mr. Bagley knew that the practice ended in 1916 and that it must have been somewhat disreputed. Mr. Ruddy the Judge said did not say he had a good practice outside the Millbrook and Richardson Estate business.

This concluded the hearing of the Bagley-Ruddy case. The jury went out at 12 o'clock to bring in their verdict.

A Non-Jury Case.

The non-jury case of Robert H. Fortye against T. Herbert Kendry for $1875 alleged wages and commission and for cost of the action. The plaintiff claims $25 a week wages from March 31, 1918 to July 1st 1919, a period of sixty-five weeks for a total of $1625 less $50 paid on account This wage balance is $1575 and is supplemented by $300 for commission on sales making a total of $1875. R. R. Hall is representing Mr. Fortye and Gordon and O'Brien with D. O'Connel of Toronto is representing Mr. Kendry.

Mr. Fortye, the plaintiff, gave evidence. He said he had been in the hardware business 30 years. In the fall of 1915, he went to the Auburn Woollen Mills. He was receiving clerk. He checked over all the invoices and kept track of all the finished goods in other words the qualities and kind of cloth produced. He inspected some of the yarn and he also kept a perpetual inventory of all the stock, he said. Mr. Fortye outlined other duties His hours were 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 he stated. He was busy all the time, he declared. In March 1918, the company began to manufacture billiard cloth for Mr. T. Herbert Kendry

Verdict for Plaintiff

This afternoon the jury returned a verdict in favour of Judge R. Ruddy and found that the business was not misrepresented to Bagley. Plaintiff claimed that the agreement was forfeited by reason of default and the court found that Judge Ruddy was entitled to retain the money paid by Eagley and also the right to possession of the premises. Bagley's counter claim for ten thousand dollars damages was dismissed and he was ordered to pay all costs including that of the counter-claim.

FLOODS IN CHINA HAVE DEVASTATED WIDE AREA

(Canadian Press.)

NANCHANG, Kiangsi Province, China, Sept. 21.—Floods said to be worse than any recorded in the past 20 years in the district north of Nanchang are reported to be subsiding after having devastated a wide area. People of the districts flooded were on the verge of starvation. The district that has suffered most extends northward from Nanchang along the east bank of the Kan River to Poyang Lake. At one time the streets of Nanchang were under water. It is estimated that about 100 persons lost their lives in the floods.

AT THE EMPIRE

Certainly one of the sweetest stories seen on a local screen in not a few weeks is that of "Anne of Green Gables," which will be seen at the Empire Theatre for the last of its three days' run to-night. Taken from that delightfully wholesome story of the little orphan girl Anne, Shirley, from the pen of that gifted writer, L. M. Montogmery, faithfully reproduced and with sweet little Mary Miles Minter as "Ann" or as that most imaginative and romantic person would have it, "Anne," it is a picture that is outstanding in its human appeal—a picture that one minute makes one want to cry and the next to laugh.

It is not a production of fast and furious city life, of foreign lands and foreign places, nor does it attract crowds of pepole because of its lower appeal, but simply through its picturization of how a little orphan girl driven and dogged until a home had seemed to her a place not far removed from heaven, finds happiness undreamed of with two quaint people, Matthew and Marilla Cuthbert, the story is well known and those who have read the book will enjoy the picture equally well, perhaps better. The many who have already seen the screen version of the book at the Empire have been unstinted in their praise of it and those who enjoy a sweet, unpolished screen play should see this picture to-night.

Chorus of Praise.

On every hand were heard expressions of satisfaction and praise yesterday. Visitors were surprised not only at the accumulated signs of expansion, but also at the orderliness of the grounds. In this connection the directors included in their staff of workers a man whose sole duty is to pick up papers and to prevent any untidiness. Exhibitors have added their congratulations and probably the warmest praise was that of the Hon. Manning Doherty, who said he had no idea Peterborough's Exhibition was so extensive, so well equipped and furnished with buildings. Other commendation comes from the vaudeville performers who declare that except the big state fairs in the United States the accommodation provided for them and the size and soundness of the elevated stage, they have seen nothing equalling Peterborough's layout.

Mr. Hatton's Entries.

In brief there is unanimous appreciation of the successful work of the directors, assisted by the financial grants of the city and county. Quite a prominent exhibitor is Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton. He is showing purebred Ayrshire and Shorthorn cattle, also grade beef and dairy cattle, has entries in the Chester White swine class, also a horse, and rounds off his exhibits with a collection of Gladioli in the flower tent. Mr. Hatton's interests are not only diverse, but they are also of good quality.

FAIR EXHIBITS

HANDSOME FLOAT.

Further demonstrating the co-operation of the manufacturing establishments of the city with the Exhibition and its objects, the Quaker Oats Company entered a beautiful float in the parade, using one of their large trucks, with their products massed in tiers, surmounted by a Union Jack. The work of handling and arranging the exhibit on the float must have been very great.

ALFRED McDONALD LUMBER. COY'S DISPLAY.

Visitors to the new Manufacturers' Building were rewarded with some interesting and instructive surprises when they saw the many forms of building supplies and wood and lumber specialties shown by the Alfred McDonald Lumber Co'y. of this city. Among the varied collection of their goods shown were samples of doors, window frames, sash, interior finish, hardwood flooring, Beaverboard designs, mouldings, fancy turnings in posts and pillars, wooden packing boxes, etc. They also show samples of fancy piano lamp stands, and other wood turning executed by their own expert workmen on their own premises.

It was remarked by one of the gentlemen interested in this wood display that some of the Ontario white pine used in the various wood specialties shown was growing in the forest only a few months ago.

This firm is also exclusive agents here for the celebrated Brantford Asphalt Roofing and slates, red and green, which have proved to be so economical and artistically durable, as well as leak proof.

Builders and others were noticed to be constant visitors at this practical exhibit. Many had not know the extent of the resources of this enterprising local industry. "Everything in Lumber" is their motto, and their display should have the merit of creating a lot of new business.

Miss Kate McDonald assisted in giving information regarding the exhibit and devoted attention to all enquirers.

TORONTO OFFICE SPECIALTY CO.

(By D. Castello.)

First Time Here.

Visitors at the exhibition should bear in mind that the Office Specialty Company of Toronto are showing in the Manufacturers' Building for the first time in Canada, apart from their exhibit at the Toronto Exhibition, an attractive line of desks and steel and wood filing cabinets, which are holding the attention of business men. An expert from Toronto is demonstrating the unsurpassed utility of these filing systems, and business and industrial managers should avail themselves of the opportunity to acquire information of silent office helps, quite without a peer on the continent.

Mr. Henry McGill is the Toronto expert in charge of this exhibit, while Mr. D. A. Costello, sales representative, is also in attendance.

THE BEAUTIFUL CADILLAC "PHAETON".

One of the most interesting and attractive features of the Duffus Motor Sales display at this Fair is the beautiful type of special high-class motors known as the Cadillac 'Phaeton". It is a fashionable car with a distinguished appearance and opens up new revelations of the power, beauty, comfort and pride in Cadillac ownership. Be sure and see this model at the Duffus Motor Sales Exhibit.

CANADIAN WOOLLENS, LTD.

From raw material to finished product comprises the splendid exhibit of this Peterborough ever-progressive industry, consisting of two big mills — the Auburn Works and Bonner-Worth. It is to be found in the Manufacturers' Building, centre group of booths, and is replete with interest to the visitor. Courteous attendants explain and show raw material from the wool top, through its various processes, at the Bonner-Worth building, to that finely finished yarn in varied colours for domestic use and manufacturing purposes. From the Auburn Mills there is exhibited the raw wool and the result of many operations until put on the market as finished cloth ready for suits or overcoats. The showing of blanket overcoating and velour suiting manufactured in this mill, together with a commendable selection of dependable Milton cloth, appeals to all visitors. There are also in evidence an inviting array of white and coloured blankets, to say nothing of first quality green billiard cloth, which very few people had any idea was manufactured in Peterborough.

The whole display shows considerable art in its design and colour effect, and is the work of Messrs. J. W. Worth, D. G. Melton and A. Barton. The exhibit has considerable outstanding merit of a striking nature. It will pay you to study it carefully.

DE LAVAL MILKERS AND SEPARATORS.

In the Manufacturers' Building, the De Laval Co., Limited, have in active demonstration the operations of their "Made in Peterborough" Cream Separators. This practical exhibit is in charge of Mr. J. R. Hughes, Superintendent for this district, who is kept busy day and evening explaining the mechanical workings and efficiency of the continent-famed machines in his care.

An electric motor operating two units of the DeLaval Milkers is attracting a full measure of enquiry. This outfit arrests the attention of visitors, who are more than surprised to learn that its capacity, as being demonstrated, is 25 cows an hour, with the help only of one man, or even a 15-year-old boy. These machines solve the farmers' biggest problem to-day, that of help, and they are highly recommended as the simplest and most dependable milkers built.

A graded line of DeLaval well-known separators is also on exhibit here. They are showing several improvements, which the farmer and dairyman is quick to recognize. Their capacities run from 350 pounds of milk an hour up to and more than 1350 pounds. These separators are built for durability and service, and as such command a big market. Both Separators and milkers in price are well within the means of the average farmer, and save their cost in time and labor in a very short period.

On the grounds this enterprising local factory is demonstrating power farm machinery, including 1 1-2 to 18 h.p. gas engines, and a 14 h.p. gas engine operating a No. 15 Ensilage cutter. These demonstrations are illuminating and instructive. They are under the care of Mr. W. J. Cox, local dealer.

PETERBORO CEREAL CO., LTD.

This local industry is showing complete lines of their home made products, displayed in an exceedingly tasteful and attracting manner. The exhibit reflects considerable credit on Mr. Frank Dawson, sales manager responsible for the exhibits arrangement and also on the manufacturers. This showing, which is in the Manufacturers' Building, embodies, first quality bread made from "Reindeer" flour and tempting cakes from "Delight" flour; Graham flour, corn meal, Wheatlets, White Wheat Flour, Rolled Oats, Rolled Wheat, etc., all artistically embellished with sheaves of speckledly developed wheat; exemplifying the quality of grain used by this firm in the production of their popular high grade flour and cereals. Day and night courteous attendants are present to wait on enquirers and yesterday this arresting booth attracted crowds of visitors. An inspection of this exhibit will be found worth while.

HOWSON'S BIG "CHEVROLET" EXHIBIT.

Mr. Howson, the capable manager of the Manning Garage, Water St., made a big display of "Chevrolet" Motor Cars in a large exhibition tent in the main thoroughfare. He filled the position to its fullest capacity and was rewarded with such crowds of investigators as must have led to much new business. The "Chevrolet" display consisted of the following models:

One Model "490" Sedan.
One Model "F.B." Roadster.
One Model "490" Special.
One Model "490" Standard.
One Model "F.B." Touring.
One Model "490" Light Delivery Truck.
One Model Truck Chassis.

The Chevrolet Motor Co., of Oshawa, pride themselves on the Chevrolet construction for giving the purchaser a car of power. The valve-in-head motor is one of its main features and ensures power. The gasoline is introduced directly into the cylinder head and exploded in there. The full force of the explosion comes into direct contact with the piston head. For this cason Chevrolet power is maximum with a minimum use of fuel. Not only has the necessary care been taken to insure mechanical durability, but great attention is given to body construction, upholstering, finish and all details.

We like to have things "handy" and simple about an automobile and this is especially true if the owner makes his own adjustments and takes care of the car himself. Probably a important as any single feature relating to convenience, is the detachable head of the Chevrolet motor. This is true convenience. It means saving in labour when it is desired to examine the pistons or the interior. The clutch and the transmission assembles have been mounted conveniently. This has been so accomplished as to make inspection and removal easy.

The "Chevrolet" truck or light delivery waggon has proved a favorite with commercial men. It is built to meet every transportation requirement which could be possibly expected of commercial cars of their respective capacities. In their construction they show the same discriminating care in the selection of materials and the same thorough and accurate workmanship which has characterized Chevrolet construction from the beginning.

It is equipped with the Chevrolet valve-in-head motor.

Mr. Howson and his obliging salesmen, Mr. C. Gould and Mr. Harry Mather, were present, and had their hands full attending to prospective buyers and visitors.

THE DUFFUS MOTOR SALES-EXHIBIIT.

There should be a motor show building next year at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. Increased accommodation was required by the Duffus Motor Sales, as well as other motor car dealers, for their enlarged display of motor cars, trucks and allied machines. Excess capacity was found under a mammoth canvas spread in the main thoroughfare, which has a drawing effect upon the thousands who pass in and out. A great deal of genuine interest was manifested in the Duffus Motor Sales display, because of the number of family and business cars shown. It was a whole motor show of its own.

The Ford favourites were there in splendid form—a Ford Sedan, a Ford Coupe, a Ford Touring, and a Ford Runabout. It was no surprise to see so much interest taken in this popular battery of motor cars. In past years admiration and a distant envy were strikingly evident. But this year especially the increasing demand goes on in greater evidence. Ford popularity gathers strength yearly among all classes of the people. The new cars extend round the walls of the canvas in rows, each one vying with the other in interest and approval. It is a veritable haven for auto lovers. He need seek no further, and that is why his first care upon entering the Exhibition Grounds is to ask the attendant: "Where is the Duffus Motor Sales show located?"

"Difficult to choose," you say. Yes, perhaps, but one is sure to find in the generous exhibits the car that best suits one's taste and means. Such is the variety of makes, models and styles that one would have to be difficult to please indeed if at least one of them did not meet with the heartiest approval and sincerest admiration.

A look through this exhibit would raise the spirits and dispel the gloom from the most discontented pessimist. Those who are preaching red ruin for the country would find no evidence of it in this display. The spreaders of unrest and strife would lose their fiery ardor in seeing here the fruits of solid diligence and the results of unceasing energy. It needs more displays of this kind to bring home to the people the beauties of prosperity and the benefits of the highest and most efficient labour.

Recognition of the auto truck as a solution of the transportation problem is more and more palpable. Here in this exhibit was more evidence of it. From every side, among manufacturers, farmers and business men, you hear the cry for trucks, trucks. During the past year Duffus Motor Sales have closed many motor truck sales, as a result of the demand in every field of commercial and industrial activity. A Ford Two-Ton Standard Truck and a Beaver Truck are shown in this Duffus exhibit. Canadian workmanship, because of its substantial nature, has made a high name for these two splendid types of motor trucks.

A Fordson Tractor, a Pulverizer and an Oliver Plough, for which this firm are local dealers, attracted the attention of farmers.

QUAKER OATS CO.

The magnitude of this industry's local operations, together with the large variety of their products is amply exemplified in the company's commendable exhibit in the manufacturers' building.

Yesterday this tastefully arranged stand was a centre of attraction for visitors, who manifested keen interest in the striking array of Quaker Oats flour, breakfast foods and one or two lines of cereals now being introduced in Canada for the first time.

This exhibit is in charge of Messrs. J. F. Malane and W. J. Brooks, and includes Tilson's oats, which takes but two minutes to prepare for use; Tilson's fine cut oatmeal, Quaker yellow corn meal, Pearl Harmony, a cereal made from corn and sometimes served with vegetables; Harmony grits, corn flakes; puffed rice and puffed wheat, wonderful sellers; Pettijohn's rolled wheat, Quaker delectable farina, a wheat preparation; together with an exhibit of bread, in which is reflected the superior quality and whiteness of Quaker flour. Special features, perhaps, may be found in Quaker Quakeries, a new cereal after corn flakes, very popular in the States and now being introduced here for the first time, and Quaker macaroni and Quaker paghetti, real toothsome dainties enjoying a huge sale on the other side, and rapidly growing in favor since put on the Canadian market early this summer.

Another arresting feature at this booth is the demonstration of pan-cake cooking. These palatable cakes are made and cooked in sight from puffed rice, and the young lady who skilfully flaps them takes a delight in distributing them to all-corners, served hot with syrup.

A visit to the Quaker Oats Co.'s booth will instruct and interest. None should miss it.

CABLE WILL KEEP SHIPS ON COURSE

(By Henry Wood, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, Sept. 22.—Thanks to the invention of Monsieur W. A. Loth, a French scientist, working under the auspices of the French Ministry of Marine, ships in the future may be guided by electric cable laid along ocean beds. The same principle will also be used in guiding airplanes.

By means of this new discovery, which has just been officially tested and approved by the French Ministry of Marine, it will be possible in the future for both ship and airplanes in the stormiest and cloudiest weather that prevents the taking of observations, to keep mathematically to their course.

While it is confidently believed that this new invention will revolutionise commercial navigation, both by sea and air, it is asserted that the possibilities to which it can be developed for war purposes are even infinitely greater. But on this latter aspect of the case, French marine and aerial authorities refuse to talk.

Loth developed his idea in laboratory work before the war, but it was only with the close of hostilities that he could proceed to actual experiments These have been conducted off Brest and it was there that Minister of Marine Landry made his official inspection and test.

Like nearly all great discoveries, the present one is exceedingly simple. An electric cable is laid along the ocean bed, and in actual navigation these would be laid along all the great trans-ocean routes. Over this cable telegraphic transmissions are constantly sent.

In the hold of the vessel is placed a receiving apparatus that picks up these telegraphic emissions and sound waves. These are carried to the cabin of the navigator where the latter can hear them distinctly by means of a special receiver.

The degree of distinctness with which the telegraphic emissions of the cable are heard tell whether the ship has left its course and to which side of the cable it has strayed. Even if the vessel gets many miles out of her course, the sounds are still picked up.

As a matter of fact, however, there is practically no possibility for the ship to get far out of her course unless the navigator goes to sleep for several hours, as the electrical apparatus indicates immediately the slightest departure either to the right or the left, and a turn of the helmsman's wheel is all that is needed to bring it back into course immediately.

TO MEET HOUSE SHORTAGE

New York Considers Ways and Means—May Try Tax Exemption.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 20.— Construction and sale of houses by cities is not feasible or desirable, members of the New York Legislature, which convenes to-night in special session to act upon the housing problem, were informed to-day in letters from Mayor Wm. J. Wallin, of Yonkers, Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the State Conferences of Mayors.

The proposal to exempt for a limited number of years the general property tax for state and local purposes, single houses and tenements, exclusive of the land, in the opinion of the committee is the most acceptable of any that has been put forth.

GERMAN PROPERTY WORTH $400,000,000 STILL HELD BY U.S.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Approximately $400,000,000 worth of property seized from German and Austrian owners when the U. S. got into the war still is under the trusteeship of Alien Property Custodian Garvan, it was estimated here to-day.

According to this estimate, something like $300,000,000 worth of property has been returned to its owners under the amendment to the Trading-With-The-Enemy Act passed last fall by Congress. Exact details of the transactions will not be available until Garvan makes his annual report to Congress.

Future disposition of the property still held is one of the problems that will confront the Congress which settles the question of the peace treaty.

The property still held, which includes hundreds of going concerns manufacturing practically every product from chemicals to steel, now is piling up profits which further complicate the problem of what disposition to make. These profits now are being invested in Liberty bonds and government securities subject to the direction of the Treasury Department.

Approximately 25,000 persons of German and Austrian origin were interested in the property seized by the alien property custodian. A smaller number of Americans are, or were, owners of property seized by Germany when the U. S. entered the war. Provision for return of this American property by Germany is made in the peace treaty. Due to the fact that the U. S. has not ratified the treaty, no returns have yet been made by the Germans.

When France, Great Britain and Italy approved the treaty, their governments at once began arrangements to credit Germany with the value of the property held.

FARMERS ON C.N.R. LOSE.

Owing to Car Shortage, They Receive Less for Their Wheat.

CALGARY, Sept. 21.—Farmers along the Canadian National lines in Alberta are getting six cents a bushel less for their wheat than farmers along the Canadian Pacific Railway, because of the car shortage on the National lines. This is the discount the elevators are making to the farmers on account of a lack of cars, and the grain men fear that with such conditions prevailing the Government is likely to resume control of the wheat marketing.

BACK-SLIDES FROM REDS.

(Canadian Press)

SWINEMUNDE, Prussia, Sept. 21.—"Cured of Bolshevism" was the unanimous sentiment of seventy German workmen who have just returned from Soviet Russia. They are part of a company which emigrated two months ago. They declare they were forced to work in a factory and were given a diet of bread which, they declared, looked like peat, and contained chaff and unmilled grain. They are frankly jubilant over their escape from "the Bolshevistic paradise."

WEEKLY SUMMARY FARM CONDITIONS

FALL WORK IS IN PROGRESS--GOOD CROP YIELDS

The following is a summary of the weekly reports made by the Agricultural Representatives of the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

Corn cutting and silo filling, threshing, winter wheat sowing, the second cutting of hay, fall plowing, etc., are keeping the farmers busy in most parts of the province.

The acreage of wheat put in this fall is likely to be smaller than that of last year, and much of it will be late in sowing. Several representatives speak favorably of that already up.

Kent states that considerable seed corn was cut and shocked during the week.

Norfolk reports that the canning factories are running night and day on corn and tomatoes, which are coming in very freely.

Kent reports that the weather for the past week was favorable for harvesting tobacco, but adds: "Seasonal labor for this class of work is hard to procure, although the farmers growing tobacco are offering from $7 to $8 a day for expert handlers."

Frontenac states that some good yields of potatoes have been reported from the School Fair grounds. From five pounds of Green Mountain seed one little girl got 325 pounds, while another junior got 277 pounds from five pounds of Irish Cobbler seed.

Disposing of Fruits.

Lincoln says: "The U.F.O. is disposing of a lot of fruit in car lots. Growers generally have no serious complaint to make. The Elberta season is now beginning."

Norfolk reports that two carloads of boxed apples are being shipped to England.

Brant says that buyers are paying as high as $2.50 a barrel for Spys on the tree, but the pears are cheap and are selling at $1.25 a bushel.

Wentworth states that thousands of used baskets are being gathered in Hamilton for the use of the fruit growers owing to the scarcity of containeers.

According to the Wellington representative live stock in that county never looked better. "Many animals are roaming in clover up to their bellies and buyers are hustling around to get cattle which seem to be quite scarce."

Frontenac also reports that live stock is in fine condition, and that although practically no good butchers' cattle are being marketed a fair number of the stockers are being shinned.

Glengarry reports that lambs are being marketed in large numbers but that prices have gone down. Lambs in Manitoulin are selling at 13½c a lb.

Hogs are falling off in supply at from $18 to $19.50 a cwt.

SCARCITY OF CARS.

REGINA, Sept. 22.—Cars are lacking to handle the accumulating wheat crop here.

The bride was attended by Miss Geraldine Casey, sister of the groom, while Mr. "Mac" Leahy, brother of the bride, supported the groom. Lohengrin's Wedding March was played by Miss Marguerite Weatherhead, of Peterborough, cousin of the groom.

The groom's gift to the bride was an emerald pendant; to the bridesmaid, a gold bar pin, and to the best man, a gold tie pin.

Among the numerous guests were Mr. and Mrs. James Conroy, of Vancouver, B.C.

SHOT MANFACTURER DEAD.

Prominent Limerick Man the Latest Irish Victim.

(Canadian Press.)

LONODN, Sept 22.—A uniformed man enterd the Royal Exchange hotel in Dublin at three this morning, and going straight to the room of Lynch, a prominent Limerick manufacturer, county councillor, shot him dead, according to a Dublin despatch.

Various versions of the affair leave it surrounded with considerable mystery. It appears, however, that at 3 o'clock, after a violent knocking on the door of the hotel, which is situated near the castle, a porter admitted a dozen men, who said they belonged to the military. They searched the register, discovered the name they wanted, and rushed upstairs, leaving some of their number to guard the porter with revolvers.

After five minutes had elapsed all the men left, the porter remaining in ignorance of what had occurred, believing it to be one of the usual raids for arms. Fifteen minutes later the police arrived, stating they had been instructed by the military to take charge of a body in room No. 6, which proved to be that of John Lynch, of Kilmallock, members of Limerick County Council, and alleged to be a judge of a Sinn Fein court.

Judgment Given In Fortye-Kendrey Action

CASE CONCLUDED THIS MORNING —A NUMBER OF WITNESSES EXAMINED—THE EVIDENCE.

The case of Fortye vs. Kendry was continued before Mr. Justice W. E. Middleton this morning in the County Court sittings, R. R. Hall and C. R. Widdifield appearing for the plaintiff, D. O'Connel and Gordon and O'Brien for the defendant. V. R. Craig was the first witness called.

Mr. Craig was formerly paymaster at the Auburn Woollen Mills. He worked on some of the books for Mr. Kendry and Mr. Fortye. He did extra work for them, but he received no extra remuneration. He said that he saw Mr. Fortye take the books home with him half a dozen times. He made out about 50 per cent. of the drafts for Mr. Kendry and Mr. Fortye, he said. From July, 1919, on, he did not do any extra work for Mr. Kendry, he said. He posted some letters for Mr. Fortye. He did not do any typewriting for them after July.

Sent Out Circulars.

He had addressed and sent out circulars, he said. Sometimes he sent them out on his own initiative, he said. He answered some of the letters, but Mr. Fortye and Mr. Kendry knew about it, he said.

Richard Canning said he had been an employee of the Auburn Woollen Mills for 44 years. He left there about one month ago. About 1915 he thought Mr. Herbert Kendry joined the company as manager. The men got their instructions from Mr. Kendry, Mr. Fortye and Mr. Turner. He supposed Mr. Fortye acted on Mr. Kendry's instructions. He cut the billiard cloth, parcelled it and labelled it Mr. Fortye shipped it.

Mr. Craig, recalled by Mr. O'Connel, said he saw Mr. Fortye working on the books frequently; never, that he could recall, during the noon hour.

Cut the Cloth.

Arthur Weatherhead, an employee of the Auburn Woollen Mills, said he had been an employee of the mills since June, 1918. He cut the cloth and packed it. It took them about a half-hour to two hours a day. He received no extra remuneration. The work was all done in his working hours.

Harold E. Lowes, a book-keeper at the Canadian Woollens, employed in Mr. T. H. Kendry's office, said he entered the office on Feb. 16, 1920. He looked after the shipping books and correspondence, and received 5 per cent. of the total sales. The book-keeping and correspondence occupied about an hour or an hour and a half. The whole work, he replied to Mr. D. O'Connel, took him about two or two and a half hours a day. The business had increased 30 or 40 per cent. since Mr. Fortye left, he said.

In Mr. Kendry's examination, he spoke of Mr. Lowes earning $180 one week. When asked if this was true, by Mr. Hall, Mr. Lowes said "That might be so."

Mr. Lowes, to Mr. Hall, said that Mr. Kendry owned the business. He gave him orders, but advised him very seldom about writing letters. He consulted him whenever he had to. He looked after the credits, but was very careful that there were no bad debts.

Chartered Accountant.

Mr. W. R. Morris, chartered accountant, gave evidence. He examined the books kept by Mr. Fortye subsequent to his retirement, he said. He thought there was efficient book-keeping. He believed an hour a day would do the books and drafts. A fair fee would be $1 an hour, he thought. He had recently installed a standard system. His estimate of the time was confined strictly to book-keeping, witness said.

Mr. D. Lawrie, Mr. Morris's assistant, a student in chartered accountancy, said he had examined the books done by Mr. Fortye. He estimated the time occupied in looking after the books one or one hour and a half a day. He thought Mr. Morris' estimated rate of remuneration right.

Mr. Lawrie said the cash book hadn't been balanced.

Mr. T. H. Kendry was then called. His father was with the company 40 years, he said, and during the last 10 or 15 years of his life was president. He came there in December, 1915, he said, and left in July, 1919. When he came there in 1915 he was appointed assistant manager to his father at a salary of $3,500. When he left he was getting $5,000. His salary was increased early in 1919.

Assistant Manager.

As assistant manager he bought the wool and looked after the employment. He told the men what they were to do, and he had power to discharge them. He said the mills manufactured billiard cloth before, but they didn't succeed. The mills were busy in the Old Country, and he saw an opportunity in this line. He saw his father and got his consent to manufacture it. The cloth was very valuable to

FORMER EMPEROR MAKES NEW WILL

(Canadian Press.)

RADICAL MINERS DEFEATED IN THE NOMINATION OF NEW LIST OF LEADERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 23.—(Associated Press).—The radical element in the United Mine Workers of America has failed in its efforts to win the majority of the nominations for national officers of the organisation, it was announced at the offices of the union here last night. The Board of International Tellers announced that President John L. Lewis, Conservative, had been renominated by a vote of 926 to 484 over Robert H. Harlan, of Washington, for international president. Vice-president Philip Murray, of Pennsylvania, defeated Alexander Howat, of Kansas, for the nomination for international vice-president, 740 to 667. William Green, international secretary and treasurer, was renominated without opposition, receiving the endorsement of 1,246 local unions.

Each of the nearly 4,000 local unions of the organisation has the right to make nominations, said the announcement. The fight on Lewis and Murray was bitter, it was stated, and especially that in behalf of Howat.

"The radicals inside the organisation were assisted by extreme radicals from the outside, in the hope that control of the United Mine Workers might be seized by the radical element," said the statement in conclusion.

LAXITY OF LAW ENFORCEMENT REPORTED IN NORTH COUNTRY

W. D. GREGORY MAKES REPORT TO THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL—WHISKEY AND DRUNKENNESS THE CAUSE

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—Lack of police and others to carry out the laws is given in a report to the Attorney-General by W. D. Gregory as the reason for a disgraceful condition of affairs found in Northern Ontario along the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Gregory is chairman of the commission which has been investigating the outside Civil Service, and has just returned from a trip to the North country. His report does not find fault with Provincial officials. It is lack of officials which, he says, leads to the conditions as he found them where men were committing many crimes, including flagrant breaches of the Ontario Temperance Act, and going unpunished.

Law Poorly Enforced.

It would seem that the law along the main line of the Canadian National Railway is being very poorly enforced. The chairman reports that looting has gone on continually in the vicinity of Hornepayne, a town of 300 population near Port Arthur.

The story of the lawlessness is told in the evidence of J. J. O'Connor, a Police Magistrate, who knew of conditions at Jellicoe, Hornepayne, Peterbell, Folyet and Caproel. The witness said these places had no Magistrates.

Serious Charges Made.

Serious charges of failure to perform the duties as policemen in the prevention of crime, made against the Canadian National Railways police in Northern Ontario before the commission when it said at Port Arthur, are also contained in the report. In the evidence of Magistrate O'Connor, the report states, it is said that the police hush up acts of crime.

"Were they cowed?" Chairman Gregory asked the Magistrate.

The witness said, the report goes on, that they did not want company employees sent to jail. There was a scarcity of labor, and the first consideration was the labor. This took preference over getting men punished for infraction of the law. As a Magistrate he had been asked by a Mr. Page, a man in charge of police, to consider first that these men were employees of the railroad when they were brought before him.

"Was his idea that you should not send them to jail?"

"Yes, I think it was."

"If these police did not pay attention to these things, what did they pay attention to?" asked the Chairman.

"To the drawing of their pay cheque, I think," was the reply of the Magistrate.

Different on C.P.R., Says Witness.

The witness said that things were very different on the Canadian Pacific lines. In reply to a question, he said that the same discipline could be enforced on the Canadian National Railways if they wanted to enforce it.

This evidence was incidental to the general work of the commission, which was not investigating that matter at all, Chirman Gregory, however, thought it so serious that he reported to the Attorney-General. He reports well of the Provincial Police, except that there are not nearly ennough of them.

The O.T.A. was very often broken because there were insufficient police. Two Provincial Police had to cover a distance of 600 miles, with the result that the territory was not policed nine-tenths of the time. The railway policemen never had a single case and were not interested in the enforcement of the O.T.A., according to the evidence in the report. In the opinion of the witness, in his evidenc, Hornepayne is a disgrace to the Province.

Whiskey and Drunkenness the Cause.

"Whiskey and drunkenness is the main cause," said Mr. O'Connor. "Whiskey is brought in there in various ways. There was a carload of whiskey looted here about three years ago, and after that the whole place was drunk for twelve days and two of the very best machinsts on the railway burned to death and there was not even an inquest held." Hornepayne, according to Mr. O'connor's evidence, was hte worst place on the line. Witness thought that the appointment of Provincial Police in that section would help discipline.

Hon. Mr. Raney, the Attorney-General, believes that the conditions warrant immediate action ,although he could not say yesterday what that action would be.

FAVOUR EASTER ON FIXED DATE

PROPOSAL ADVANCED AT TORONTO CONGRESS

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—A fixed date for the celbration of Easter throughout the British Empire was advocated in a resolution which carried in the Congress of the Imperial Chambers of Commerce at to-day's session.

Lord Desborough, chairman of the Congress, explained that the Archbishop of Canterbury and two hundred and fifty bishops at the Lambeth Conference recently had favoured the terms of the resolution.

Oliver Bodington, of the British Chamber of Commerce in Paris, said that France would likely follow suit if the British Empire adopted the recommendation of the Congress.

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—Information has been received that a number of Canadians are arriving at New Orleans desiring to go to Cuba, but they are not provided with the necessary passports. The Department of External Affairs desires to call the attention of the public to the necessity of passports being carried by travellers to Cuba as well as to other foreign destinations.

Immense Crowd Made New Record For The Exhibition

OFFICIAL REPORT OF THE ATTENDANCE WAS NOT READY AT NOON TO-DAY—PRESENT TOTAL WELL IN EXCESS OF LAST YEAR'S FOR SAME DAYS.

CLOSING PERFORMANCE TO-NIGHT

The totals of yesterday's attendance at the Exhibition were not available up to noon to-day, but the returns up to that time showed a handsome increase over last year. Mr. Felix Brownscombe who has charge of the staff of ticket sellers found this morning that one of the turnstiles registered five hundred less admissions than the number of tickets counted in its box. The turnstile at that gate was correct but it was decided that a detailed count of all the tickets would be required in order that an accurate summary of the day's receipts and attendance could be provided.

Yesterday's swarming crowd had all the appearance of porportions surpassing any other day in the history of the Exhibition. From ten o'clock in the morning until late in the evening the ticket booths were almost continuously busy with the peak load from noon until after three o'clock. There were so many attractions and features of interest shown for the first time this year, that the crowds were scattered in all directions. The vaudeville performance and races drew the bulk of the crowd, but the midway and exhibits buildings in the east end of the Park were alive with people all afternoon and evening.

The new Manufacturers' building seen for the first time by the majority of yesterday's throng made a fine impression. During the afternoon the flow of visitors was held up several times around the Heintzman Hall booth where Mrs. Maurice Park gave a short programme of vocal numbers. The displays of the musical instruments and the uninterrupted music was a strong magnet for many of the people who found a special delight in the Manufacturers' building. Mrs. Park's recital was a decidedly effective feature and was thoroughly enjoyed, although the accmoodations for the large audience were necessarily inadequate.

The Merchants' buildings was another avenue that was never deserted. The displays of rich household furnishings, the gallery of photographs from the Roy Studio, the exhibits of ladies' cloaks and furs and the booths of men's haberdashery were given a wealth of advertising the value of which is now recognized by the business men of the city.

The judging of the heavy draught and roadster horses in the ring opposite the grandstand held the attention of the farmers and of those

THE ITALIAN WORKERS HAVE STARTED EVACUATING THE ITALIAN FACTORIES

ROME, Sept. 23.—Reports here to-day indicated a general acceptance of the Government's decree that industry be restored to normal pending the enactemnt of a law to give labour a voice in the control of manufacturing plants.

Milan despatches said evacuation of factories was being accomplished slowly. Objections arose from some workers who were unable to agree with the owners on the value of products turned out, while among the workmen themselves there was dissension, the more radical asserting that the programme of seizure should be continued.

At Turin, the radicals were said to be in control, with the result that no factories had been evacuated. Plans were said to be proceeding for the operation of restaurants within the factories and for the exchange of workmen's certificates for groceries with which to feed the families left outside the factory walls.

Meanwhile Milan seizers had the tables turned on them when guests at the People's Hotel took posssion of the hostelry, first taken over by the Waiters' Union. The guests turned all servants out, reduced the price of rooms, and manned the kitchens and eating-rooms. The waiters protested vigorously to the Confederation of Labour at this high-handed treatment, but up to to-day they had received no help.

POLICE OFFICIALS GROPING FOR A SOLUTION OF MYSTERY

TO MAKE ANOTHER ATTEMPT

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Another attempt to induce the Government to grant the demands of the coal miners of the country for increase in wages was decided upon to-day by the triple alliance, comprising miners, railwaymen and transport workers. At a meeting of one hundred delegates of these unions this decision was reached and a committee was appointed to visit Lloyd George late to-day. Upon the outcome of the interview the action of the alliance will probably depend. Hopes for averting a strike of the miners to begin next Monday hang upon the course the alliance decides upon. Another meeting of delegates will be held to-night to hear the Premier's reply.

WILLIAM J. FLYNN POSITIVE THAT EXPLOSION WAS THE WORK OF ANARCHISTS.

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—After one week of investigation of the explosion that spread death and terror in Wall street last Thursday, officials to-day still groped for the light that might lead them to a solution of the mystery.

Literally scores of clues, stories and conjectures have been sifted by operatives of the Department of Justice and local authorities without result. Despite varied stories, however, Wm. J. Flynn, chief of the Department of Justice agents was as positive as ever to-day that the tragedy was the result of a pre-arranged plot of anarchists. He characterized as "plain bunk" the renewed story that it was accidental and predicted that those responsible for the disaster would ultimately be brought to justice.

TURIN STRIKERS REJECT TERMS

THREE ARMED "RED GUARDS" WERE ARRESTED

(Canadian Press.)

LONDON, Sept. 23.— Referendum among the Turin strikers has resulted in the rejection of the agreement arrived at in Rome between employers' representativs and workers in the metal trades, says a Rome despatch to the Exchange Telegraph to-day. Tuesday night the Royal Guards were fired on, one being killed and several wounded. Three armed "Red Guards" were arrested. At Milan a bomb was exploded on the threshold of the residence of a manufacturer who was a leader of the opposition to the workers' claims. At Savona metal workers have also rejected agreements and maintain their occupation of plants seized.

WROTE THRICE TO PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Arthur E. Stillwell, a retired railroad man, sees nothing strange in the "voices" E. P. Fischer claims to have heard. He says he himself has been guided for years by unexplained messages. Mr. Stillwell built the Kansas City Southern, and while doing so got a message which told him that the road would suffer great losses if Galveston was made the southern terminal.

Got Good Hints.

"These peculiar, unexplainable messages put into my head a complete and accurate map of the Lake Sabine and Port Arthur region," Mr. Stillwell said, "although I had never seen them. I planned our terminal from this idea, and did not have to deviate from my plans after going to the ground. Following the advice I built a land-locked harbour on Lake Sabine and a seven-mile canal connecting with deep water.

"I constructed the harbour at Port Arthur and the canal absolutely in accord with the messages I had received. Four years were consumed in the work, and it was finished a few days before Galveston was destroyed by the tidal wave that had been predicted." Mr. Stillwell said on one other occasion his business plans had been changed by such peculiar messages. He was born in Rochester, N.Y., in 1861.

Letters to Wilson.

Edward P. Fischer, the New York tennis expert whose postcard warnings of the Wall Street explosion resulted in his detention in Hamilton, Ont., and deportation to New York, wrote three letters to President Wilson during the summer of 1916 saying that he had a "vision" that would terminate the European war.

Secret service men promptly investigated Fischer's writings and reached the conclusion that he was a crank. He was requested to cease his letter writing, and he agreed to desist. His letters started with the salutation "Greetings," as did his postcard warnings.

W. H. Moran, chief of the secret service, said that the three letters are the only ones sent by Fischer to the White House, and that he neither warned the President nor made any threats.

SAYS AIR MAIL IS RUN FOR SPEED, NOT PROFIT.

Chief Construction Officer Asserts it Is Also Building Up Secret Force in Case of War.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Col. John A. Jordan, chief construction officer of the Aerial Mail Service, when asked if the Aerial Mail paid, said:

"The Post Office Department is not run as a profitable institution. If it were over 80 per cent. of its normal operations would cease and would be continued only in large cities. We do not wish to make the Post Office Department pay, nor could it do so if it tried. Our Post Office Aerial Mail Service, particularly since it came into the hands of Mr. Burleson, is being run with the greatest amount of speed.

"In all matters except the transportation of mail we are strong for economy. We will not risk fifty cents too much on a telegram but instead will put that fifty cents toward letting common people get their mail free of overhead expenses. We are going to get mail through at any cost.

"There is another phase of aerial mail about which people seem to know very little. We are now drilling a large force of pilots and ground men who, in case of an emergency, can be placed at the disposal of Uncle Sam's Army or Navy within forty-eight hours' notice. No nation in the world has such a scheme."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor of The Examiner.
September 22, 1920.

Sir,—While a visitor to Peterborough and interested in flowers and plants, I visited the Peterborough Exhibition, and was greatly disappointed with the showing that was made by the professional florists, as there was not any competition in any of the classes. The exhibit that was put up by Jordan Bros. in all classes was very good for a place the size of Peterborough, but I think that other florists in the place could have put up something in some of the classes, even if it was not as good as Jordan's. In going through the tent for the first time, whichever way you look, it seems to be nothing but Jordan Bros. I admit that it is late in the season for outside stock and between seasons for inside stock, but there can be no excuse for the exhibits of made-up work, as I think there seems to be quite a number of florists in Peterborough. In the amateur classes, the flowers were exceptionally good for so late in the season, asters showing up to perfection, and great credit should be given to the amateur exhibitors, as without the mthere would be very little to see in the tent. I also think it is a great improvement to have birds in the flower exhibit, as birds and flowers go so well together. I visited other sections of the Fair, and thought everything very good, but as I am not interested in other exhibits as I am in flowers, will not write of them. Should be pleased if you can find space in your paper to publish this, and get the florists working, and if I am in Canada next year, I shall try and visit Peterborough, and see if the florists are helping to make their slogan "Say it with Flowers."—Yours as a well-wisher,

John. A. Schwarts.

DRUG TRAFFIC IS MUCH CURTAILED

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—By an order printed in a special issue of The Canada Gazette some very far-reaching regulations affecting the drug traffic in Canada go into force immediately. Every doctor and druggist within the Dominion is to be circularized, with a view to rounding up drug addicts, and measures are to be adopted which will make the carrying on of illicit drug traffic practically impossible.

That the Government health officials are sincere in their effort to clean up the drug evil, and that they are having wonderful success, is shown by some figures given out yesterday. Compared with the three months ending June 30 last year, the amount of cocaine imported into Canada for the same period this year has dropped from 2,373 ounces to 605 ounces. Cocaine has dwindled from $12,384 worth to $5,816 worth. Morphine and opium have both dropped away down in importation.

Evidence that certain porters and news agents on Canadian railways are implicated in the carrying of drugs across Canada has reached the Federal health authorities here, and immediate action, it is stated, will be taken.

"Peterborough Presents Possibilities Unsurpassed."

THURSDAY, SEPT. 23RD, 1920.

NO ELECTION YET.

Prophecies of an early general election in the Federal field have been frequently made by newspapers and individuals in the past few weeks, but these predictions are discounted by the speech made at Sherbrooke by Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, in which he declared that there would not be an election until the life of Parliament had fully expired. As this declaration was made at a public meeting, at which Premier Meighen himself was present, the Minister of Marine and Naval Affairs must be considered as speaking officially in announcing the intention of the government to remain in office as long as possible without giving the people a chance to express their views via the ballot box. The result of the by-election this week will be employed by the Government as a proof of the confidence of the country—a very slender thread, it is true, but it affords the administration a measure of comfort, especially as a defeat would have made the task of clinging to the reins of power even more uncomfortable than it is under present conditions. Hon. Mr. Ballantyne has left no doubt as to the Governments' intention to avoid an appeal to the country as long as is possible.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION.

The probability that the victory of the Government in Monday's by-election will hasten the holding of the by-election in West Peterboro adds interest to the announcement that the Independent Labour Party has practically decided to nominate a standard-bearer to represent Labour in the coming fight. The Farmer-Alliance is completely shattered so far as West Peterboro is concerned. Not only has there been failure to agree upon a joint candidate but the rupture has grown so serious that both wings will have candidates in the field. The Farmers have already made their selection and it is expected the Labour party will lose no time in following their example. The splitting up of the opposition must be a welcome augury for the Government for the only apparent chance that the Meighen Administration has of being returned is that the many different factions that are opposed to the Government will defeat the common purpose by failing to unite their forces. The more groups that place candidates in the field, the more vigorous will be the Government's hope of being sustained in a general election. If too many cooks spoil the broth it is equally true that too many candidates will spoil the chance of giving Canada an efficient and live government.

THE EXTRAVAGANT CANADIAN.

Several years ago, when the high cost of living was beginning to be the subject of discussion, Sir Thomas Lipton, famous as a grocer and yachtsman, visited Toronto, and, as a matter of course, was interviewed by a reporter, says the JJournal of Commerce. Asked what he thought of the increased cost of living, he replied, "How ca nit be otherwise when there is such extravagance? At my breapfast at the hotel this morning threepence worth of butter was put on my plate." Lady Burnham, wife of the journalist peer who headed the Imperial press delegation, has observed the same feature of Canadian life, not with reference to butter only, concerning which Sir Thomas Lipton spoke so feelingly, blt with reference to the supply of foodstuffs generally in public places. Lady Burnham's opportunities for observation were probably confined to the highest class of hotels. There are many hotels and restaurants in Canada at which there is no room for complaint thta the portions furnished the customer are too large. But as respects the higher class hotels, what she has said has too much truth in it. Great extravagance is exhibited in the serving of portions of food larger than the guest desires and larger than he consumes. The cost of living at these luxurious establishments must under the best conditions be high now. That is all the more reason why it should not be needlessly increased by the waste of food which takes place. There are many of the hotels that might advantageously take the hint which the English lady has offered. Smaller portions with lower prices would give the guest all that he really desires, save his money, give the hotel a fair profit and prevent the waste that is now so prevalent as to attract the notice of visitors, especially those from the mother country, where war-time conditions produced restrictions in the interest of economy far beyond anything applied in aCnada.

THE SHOE INDUSTRY OF CANADA AND PRICES.

There is admirable frankness of statement and much of useful suggestion in the advertising campaign which the Shoe Manufacturers of Canada are conducting in the newspapers. The shoe industry is one of the most important of the industries of this country. Many millions of capital are invested and many thousands of men and women are employed in developing. The product of this industry takes first place with the best in the world. Yet, largely because of present prices and a general misconception due to lack of knowledge of the facts, there has been an inclination in some quarters to regard the shoe manufacturers as grasping and arbitrary in fixing and demanding too great a profit on their goods. War work made millionaires of some men associated with industry and finance in Canada, as it made millionaires in other countries; war work and war conditions, and other conditions, also greatly favored many men who, through inability or force of circumstances, were conspciuously unsuccessful in peacetime business. But where are the millionaires in the shoe industry of Canada? Not one. If the profits were exorbitant there would be dozens of millionaires. Investigation by the Reconstruction Association, to which publicity was recently given, shows that the most successful of the shoe industries yielded less than 5 1-2 per cent. on the investment—a yield that would not be satisfying to the average investor. The general public are therefore apparetly beginning to take a reasonable view of the situation. They see in the high cost of raw materials, in the increased wages, in the awkward restrictions of labor and in the soaring increases in general overhead expenses, ample justification for the increased price of the product, They are beginning to understand that the increased prices are unavoidable and do not represent unreasonable profits to the manufacturers.

The campaign in the Press of Saturday was devoted to the situation of the present. Some people are hopeful of an immediate material decline in prices. There may be, there undoubtedly will be, a slump in the price of some products, but the most reliable authorities agree that, generally, prices will be maintained at much the present level until the raw materials now in stock are worked out; and it will be admitted that this is a natural belief and an accurate estimate. Otherwise disaster would follow in whatever industry a serious slump in prices affected. The shoe manufacturers, speaking, it is reasonable under the circumstances to assume, from the broader standpoint, say there is little likelihood that shoe prices will be very much lower than at present, for some months to come at least. In any event, they continue, any reduction that the manufacurer may be able to make to the retailer will be slight; on the other hand, there is a possibility that prices on some styles may be higher. The retailer bases his prices on what he pays the manufacturer; and the manufacturer, in turn, is dependent on the cost of leather and other things as wel as of labor. The manufacturer buys the materials months before the shoes are on the feet, and the price of the shoes is naturally regulated by the cost of the materials of which they are made and of the handiwork expended on them. The logic of the facts is irresistible. If the price of raw materials keep up, if wages are to continue as at present and labor restrictions maintained, it is unreasonable to expect a reduction in the price of the finished product. The manufacturers —and there are none who follow the markets more closely than the manufacturers—do not apparently look for a general reduction in the cost of the raw material they use. That may not appeal to sentimentalists; it may not be welcome news; it may be disappointing to some who had other expectations; but the people who are inclined to adopt the sane view of the present general situation as to prices and market values have been adding very largely to their number lately. The advice given by the shoe manufacturers, and it is given in all sincerity, will therefore, we believe, be quite largely accepted: "Buy now any shoes you need for "yourself or your family. Don't buy "extravagantly or recklessly, but do "so carefully and judiciously." Again, "He (the retailer) knows, as we do, "that if the public demand for foot-"wear suddenly started up abnormal-"ly, scarcity of shoes and higher prices "would probably result. This is a sit-"uation that should be mutually avoid-"ed, and will be if you buy what shoes "you need as you need them." In thus taking the public into their confidence, the shoe manufacturers are doing their part to bring about a better understanding and a better feeling between the consumer, the retailer and the manuafcturer—to establish a relationship in which there can be confidence and good will.

Evolution—
The Survival of the Fittest

Until the introduction of the Gillette Safety Razor, no man dared to shave without stropping his razor. Now mark the tremendous progress that has been made in shaving methods within a generation!

20,000,000 Men Use the Gillette Today

Today, twenty million men never think of stropping or honing, because they find, with the keener edges of the Gillette Blade, the necessity has vanished.

It is evolution—the survival of the fittest. Away with all unnecessary parts, strops, hones, etc. They are becoming as obsolete as the starting crank on an automobile.

The "Big Fellow" Gillette Safety Razor, shown above, is the latest evolution. It was created to meet the needs of men who want a sturdier, heavier handle than that of the Standard Gillette.

But you had better see the whole Gillette line at your nearest dealers', and make your choice. The price is $5. per set.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS HAS MERCHANT MARINE

(United Press)

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The League of Nations has a Merchant Marine.

To date, no less than fifteen cargo and passenger carrying vessels are chartered by the League of Nations and either are, or soon will be, plying regular trade routes.

Expediency, rather than a desire to operate a merchant marine, was the cause of the venture, according to Dr. Fridfjof Nansen, Artic explorer, statesman and relief worker, who is the self-appointed director of the League of Nations fleet. This is how it happened.

Some few months ago Dr. Nansen found himself appointed to the job of repatriating some half millions prisoners of war to their native lands. Half of these were in Russia—from the Baltic to the Urals—the remainder in prison camps of the Central Empires and France. Unable to arrange for the transportation, Dr. Nansen decided to charter steamers to ply between Hamburg and other German ports and Baltic seacoast cities. The vessels were to carry Russians on one lap of the journey and a return cargo of Germans and Austrians.

During the course of negotiations it developed that many of the Russian prisoners confined in Germany and France hailed from Eastern Siberia. To transport them across Russia via land was an impossible undertaking. Consequently, two chartered vessels have been routed to Vladivostok via the Mediterranean and Indian Oceans.

In order to lessen the expenses of the undertaking, agents of the League have been scouring Germany for cargoes to carry in addition to the prisoners. For three weeks freight solicitors searched Germany for a cargo to carry a ballast to the Orient. Finally a cargo of salt was secured.

Because of the comparitatively short voyages, it is not necessary to carry cargo on the trip between Baltic and North Sea ports.

According to Dr. Nansen, inconceivable difficulties are encountered in the work. Ships were not securable from any of the governments immediately concerned in the movement of prisoners. France was not anxious to release the thousands of Russians held by her. The majority are engaged in road making in Algeria and other French possessions.

The Soviets, Dr. Nansen avers, have been far more considerate in co-operating with the work than any of the other governments. On the other hand they have been limited by obstacles presented because of the attitude of the Baltic states, the Siberian Government and Japan.

Although the work of repatriation has been greatly hampered, it is now progressing favorably and Dr. Nansen, and his colleagues hopes to have the movements well under way this fall. Because of the poorly clad and weak physical condition of many of the prisoners, projection of the work into winter would cause great hardships and suffering.

The League has secured about $2,500,000 to carry on the work.

OPEN PLAYGROUND FOR FRENCH TOTS

(United Press)

PARIS, Sept. 22.—The first up-to-date playground for Paris school children has been opened by the representatives of the Junior Red Cross of America here. The new playground is laid out on the terraces of the fortifications near the Porte de Bagnolet. The new playground has been in actual operation for the past three weeks. A large enclosure on the grass-grown terraces of the fortifications has been fenced off.

The playground is large enough to accommodate five hundred children at one time. It is fully equipped, according to the latest American ideas, with swings, trapezes, "giant strides," toboggans, and various athletic paraphernalia. Competent American instructors supervise the play and teach American games and exercises. Every afternoon the children who come largely from the homes of the poor in the Twentieth Arrondissement, are given a hot drink, bread and chocolate.

Assisting the American instructors at the Bagnolet playground are a number of young Frenchwomen who are being trained to carry on the work after the Junior Red Cross of America withdraws. Simultaneously with the opening of the playground in Paris the Junior Red Cross of America has organized four similar projects in the devastated regions, at Reims, Amiens, Rethel, and Guise. Twelve million American school children, members of the Junior Red Cross, have financed the movement.

The program was planned by Colonel Cabot Ward, formerly Park Commissioner of New York City. The direction of the work is now being carried on by Mrs. Alice Ingersoll Thornton, of Washington, D.C. In charge of the Bagnolet playground is Miss E. B. Beal, of Philadelphia.

PLAN FOR BIG HARBOR ON THE DETROIT RIVER

Experts Also Discuss Bridge Proposition at Windsor.

WINDSOR, Sept. 20.—Plans for making a great harbor on the Detroit River at Windsor and Detroit were discussed at a meeting of the Detroit City Plan Commission in the Board of Commerce, at which Charles Evan Fowler, noted bridge and harbor engineer and promoter of the proposed Windsor-Detroit bridge, which is to link the two countries, outlined plants that would assist in developing the water fronts of the cities to enable them to take full advantage of the opportunities the deepening of the St. Lawrence River and the Great Lakes system will afford export trade from this section and the western states and provinces.

The proposed long span bridge that is to be built crossing the river is to be incorporated into the general harbor scheme of the two cities, and it was with this aspect of the situation that Mr. Fowler dealt particularly.

SOVIET GUARDS FOOD.

Drastic Measures Concerning Private Stocks Reported.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. — The Department of State received through Baltic channels information that the Bolshevist authorities have adopted drastic measures to enforce the nationalization of food in Petrograd, and that all houses and the streets and yards as well in that city are under close surveillance, and that private food stocks are being confiscated for the use of the Bolsheviki.

The Executive Committee of the Petrograd Soviet has designated three commissars to take complete charge of the enforcement of the prohibitory decree against transactions in food supplies with a view to the monopolization by the Soviet of all private food supplies and food stores.

Further advices to the State Department are that Communist doctrines are being systematically taught to the young people of Petrograd, and it is declared that there are 20,000 who are enrolled in an association, the purpose of which is "education in the Communistic spirit." Sept. 5th last was celebrated in Petrograd as "the day of the international Communistic youth.'

TO HALT LANDLORDS EJECTING TENANTS

ALBANY, Sept. 22. — Legislation designed to prevent wholesale dispossess proceedings in New York city on October 1 is being hurriedly whipped into shape for enactment at the extra session of the Legislature, which began its deliberations here last night. Already twelve relief measures—nine bills and three memorials—have been introduced in the Senate, and the same number in the House. Chief among the bills is one which repeals the objectionable dispossess law. Sixty thousand dispossess notices face Brooklyn tenants at present. Another bill brings rent increases before the courts for review.

Just now bond prices are unusually low.

$930 used now in the purchase of 1934 Victory Bonds will, at maturity, amount to $2,207.20 providing the interest is saved and invested at the rate of 5½% as the coupons are paid off.

Good judgment recommends the purchase of good long-term bonds at times like the present, when, owing to the scarcity of money, interest rates are high and bond prices low.

VICTORY BONDS are among the best long term securities available. We recommend those falling due in 1933, 1937 and 1934.

HARDING 4 TO 1 IN STREET.

Wager of $16,000 to $4,000 Placed—Cox Money Reported Scarce.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Senator Harding became a 4 to 1 favorite in Wall Street betting odds on the Presidential election here. W. J. Darnell & Co. announced that they had placed a wager of $16,000 to $4,000 that Harding would be elected. This is one of the largest individual bets that the campaign has brought forth thus far.

It is stated that there is a big volume of Harding money in sight but that there is little Cox money. The supporters of the Democratic nominee are asking 6 to 1.

CLOSE THE FAIR TO-NIGHT WITH ANOTHER RECORD-BREAKING ATTENDANCE

IMMENSE CROWD MADE NEW RECORD FOR THE EXHIBITION

citizens who appreciate smart turnouts and good horses.

Competton Was Close.

As an example of the keen competition in the cattle classes there were eleven cows in the aged shorthorn class, five cows in the two year old class and five yearling heifers. There were also three particularly good entries in the senior calves and two in the junior.

One of the new cattle exhibtors at the local Fair was J. W. Real of Port Perry who had a valuable heard of purebred Shorthorns. He had the champion bull and also four imported cows. Mr. Real was more than satisfied wtih his first appearance at the Peterboro show, and suggested that more entries could be got from his district if the prize list were made attractve enough for the big breeders of pure bred cattle.

PRESENTED WITH MEDAL.

An incident of yesterday's events was the presentation of a bronze medal awarded by the Royal Canadian Humane Association to Mr. Jas. Weyer of the Fire Department, in recognition of his bravery in saving from drowning the little daughter of Mr. G. Wells Fraser, at Inverlea Park last June. The presentation was made by Mr. Fraser through whose instrumentality Mr. Weyer's act was brought to the notice of the Humane Society. The Society also gave a parchment testimonial to Marguerite Mason, daughter of Mr. E. F. Mason, who assisted in the rescue of Mr. Fraser's daughter at the bathing beach.

A SCHOOL GARDEN.

The children of the Queen Alexandra School demonstrated by their fine exhibit of garden vegetables and flowers that they had not forgotten the lessons of the war time industry of greater production. They have donated their collection to the Children's Shelter.

A PENALTY OF AGE.

Three elderly women at the corner of Charlotte and George streets yesterday afternoon, afraid of the buffeting of the crowds that swept toward the street cars, asked a taxi driver what was his fare to the Exhibition grounds. Twenty-five cents each, he told them, but the charge, they told him, was too high. They waited at the corner expecting the wave of people to spend itself, but the minutes lengthened into an hour. Finally an hour and a quarter after they had first approached the taxi-driver, the three elderly ladies, whose spirit was far younger than their flesh, capitulated to his twenty-five cent fare, and were conveyed to the Park in the taxi.

ONLY ONE COMPLAINT

The only complaint among the ground was the lack of grandstand accommodation. The directors have been aware of this inadequacy for several years, and deferred enlarging the stand only because they felt that proper housing for the farmers' exhibits deserved the first claim on the Exhibition's resources.

FAIR EXHIBITS

THE CRESSMAN CO. ATTRACTIONS.

As on several previous occasions, the "publicity" staff of the Cressman Co. again distinguished themselves at the Peterborough Industrial by their resourceful and artistic expedients that evoked high praise.

It took bright brains and skilled hands to originate and construct the beautiful white float which drew such spontaneous applause from the crowds of spectators during the spectacle of the grand parade on the opening day of the Fair, and which captured the first prize pennant for its beauty of design, elegance of decoration and gracefulness of delineation. Not satisfied with this elaborate contribution — which alone was deserving of the high praises received—the Cressman decorators put up an exhibit in the main building in a distinct class by itself and characteritic of the lavish spirit of enterprise of this firm.

This handsome exhibit represented a tastefully furnished living room, designed after the Queen Anne period, and appealed to the thousands of visitors who showed their appreciation of the refined setting. It showed a rich, scrupulously upholsteged Chesterfield in blue blush with cushions of the same material. Two handsome arm chairs were shown, upholstered in the same blue plush, and a walnut chair with a cane combination. A walnut writing table of Queen Anne design, had a pretty scarf runner, a candlestick design, and a pretty brass framed gem on the top. A walnut book case, filled with books in the same design occupied a pleasing position. The floor covering consisted of a lovely Persian Wilton rug, of bright and rich design; and electric fixtures adorned the walls and ceilings. The window draperies consisted of over-curtains in Mulberry plush velvet, combined with a rich wedgworth pattern of white curtain net gave the room the appearance of a realistic cozy living room possesing a charming individuality.

CANADIAN RAYBESTOS CO., LIMITED.

This is one of Peterborough's newest and most valued industries, and this year is the first time they have had the opportunity to exhibit their products locally. And their display the Manufacturers' building was really an instructive revelation to hundreds of visitors, yesterday, in the manufacture from asbestos of commodities so much in demand these days by automobile owners. The "Raybestos" section is in the case of Mr. E. Whitren, who must be congratulated for creating an exceedingly acceptably display; enhanced appreciably by an arresting decoration scheme made up mainly of the Royal ensign and accompanying national flags. Mr. Whitren's courtesy to enquirers and his patient explantion of the company's exhibits also elicited the warmest commendation. He showed visitors asbesots rock mined in Quebec, from which Raybestos products are manufactured; the cops of asbestos yarn ready for the loom shuttle; and wharps wound for the loom, which produces Raybestos brake lining in its raw state. He further intelligently explained how this raw lining is chemically treated before marketed as the finished product ready for service. This lining is a solid woven asbestos frabric of 90 p.c. to 95 p.c. long-fibre asbestos, inter-woven with metallic wire and impregnated with a special heat and wear-resisting compound that gives it a wearing life found in no other brake lining.

Other interesting exhibits here are the Chatterless Ford Transmission Lining, not affected by hot oil, and which smooth flexible action to brakes, thus eliminating all chatter; Asbestos Fibre Molded Disc Clutch Facings to give a good gripping surface and assure complete control (these are made for every make of car); and a special Steel Cam Brake for Ford cars, patented in the United States, Canada, Italy, France and England. This brake has the regular Raybestos lining attached.

This section of the building proved a valuable addition to Peterborough's exhibition, in that its exhibits were in the main of a character new to most visitors, who thereby gleaned information for a Canadian mined material and its products, manufactured locally, with which they were but little conversant.

EASTWOOD AND STOCK'S STUDEBAKER EXHIBIT.

Among the smartest, speediest models of motor cars shown at this big Fair is the Studebaker. To one who, knowing the enduring qualities of Studebaker cars, inspects the three superb 1920 models, it would appear that the finality of craftsmanship and engineering skill in motor car building has been achieved. This exhibit received well deserved appreciation by visitors.

The Studebaker Corporation of Canada have been fortunate in securing two live Peterboorugh representatives in Messrs. Eastwood & Stock, whose service station is on Charlotte street. Both are energetic, pushing salesmanagers, and have had a splendid run of business. They exhibited a Big Six Passenger Touring, a Special Six Touring, and a Special Six Roadster. The superior equipment of the Studebaker makes them essentially safe cars, second only to the Packard. They will travel sixty miles an hour and over with ease and comfort, and will travel as low as one mile an hour on high without slipping the clutch, and the pick-up is swift and sure. Studebaker is said to sell more dollars worth of cars than any manuracturers in the world, excepting the Ford.

Those who really intend to buy a car should inspect the Studebaker. The best judgment of those who are in a position to know conditions, is that a reduction in price is not likely for some time—in fact a raise is more likely than a decline. At the present time materials are high and labor is high, and there does not seem any possibility that there can be much of a decease, if any at all ,in these items of cost. The only other factor which can bring down prices is production, and it will be some time before production will be able to effect any saving that is at all commensurate with the increase in cost due to the raise in the price of labor and materials. Furthermore it has not been possible for the manufacturers to supply as many cars as the country wanted for the last two years. Prospective buyers of Studebaker cars, if they are wise, will see the nearest Studebaker dealers at once, at 192 Charlotte street.

Mr. E. G. Douglas, the Studebaker travelling salesman, was in attendance at this exhibit.

PETERBOROUGH LOCK MFG. CO. LIMITED

This enterprising and expanding local industry is showing really handsome and substantial lines of hardware for private dwellings, office, store and factory, in bronze, brass and plated steel, which for service, durability and beauty stand unsurpassed in Canada. The exhibit consists mainly of a large variety of locks, door knobs in both metal and cut glass, door facings, and old-time knocker again coming in vogue for apartments and bungalows. The whole is tastefully and attractively displayed, the work of Mr. R. G. Langford, who has succeeded in drawing to this stand considerable attention and interest. All the goods in evidence are manufactured in Peterborough, and this factery in installing all door hardware fittings in the new Union Station at Toronto. They have also secured contracts for installing their hardware in Peterborough's new public school, now under construction, and in the medical clinic building on Charlotte street. It is worthy of note that a number of the sample s now on exhibit in the manufacturers' building will be forwarded to Australia and New Zealand, from whence this company is receiving substantial business at present.

The scope of the Peterborough Lock Mfg. Company's operations extends throughout the whole Dominion and is continually enlarging abroad.

INDIAN STYLES SEEN IN FALL BLOUSES

By "MARJORIE"

(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—All of the season's fashion offerings are announcing that this is to be a combination salad year as far as garb is concerned and blouses are heralding this fact more loudly of all style trophies.

The day of the one-color, one-material blouse is a thing of the sartorial past. Two colors and two fabrics are an absolute necessity, and the nearer the garment is to a Joseph's coat effect, the better. Another high spot in blouse style is that any blouse that's in, must be out. It can stay outside the skirt band in one of many ways—tie-back, long Russian peplum, apron, panels—but never inside can it be.

The Avenue is showing chic models every day that exploit these new fashion trends. One of the most novel combinations is that of georgette or satin with fine leather or visca kid panels. A leading house shows such a model in rust georgette with a front panel of the same colored kid. The blouse is shirred into a short peplum which falls over the skirt, and soft ribbons of rust catch the fullness of the georgette sleeves at the wrist.

Panels of duvetyn on blouses of georgette or satin are very popular. These panels are generally of a contrasting blue and are lavishly adorned. Thus, one house shows a model of peacock blue georgette with panel of chow brown duvetyn. This panel is covered with a scroll design in gold braid. Other models are shown in such color combinations as leaf brown and burnt orange, midnight and electric blue, rust and canary yellow, cherry or "folly" red and black, or reseda and emerald green.

The vogue of garish and elaborate trimmings is still on, but the Oriental seems giving way to the Indian, both as to design and coloring. Thus, the overworked combination of Chinese red and Algerian blue is giving way to the Aztec coloring of crimson and canary, or touches of brick.

Scroll work and conventional patterns continue to be worked out in gay wools, chenille, metallic gold or silver threads, or beads and buttons. The ordinary tin trouser button is found upon many elaborate three-figured blouses. Bugle, irridiscent, and jet beads are running the gayer beadings a close race. One house is showing a very expensive blouse developed in cherry red duvetyn and trimmed with great paillettes of jet beads. Festoons of the beads drip from the elboys and wrists of the georgette sleeves, and a banding of irridiscent beads finish off the blouse hem.

Another novel trimming is narrow ribbons formed into a pattern. A taupe duvetyn garnished with a bow-knot pattern made from olive and cherry ribbons is shown. Insets of patent leather, oil cloth, kid, and heavy leather are plentiful.

Batik blouses abound. They employ shades of brick, plum, wistaria, or flame, with real patterns rather than the intricate maze of their first season. Elephants, totem poles, camels, and the Scarab seem popular patterns.

For evening wear filmy slip-overs of tissues such as lace, net, metallic laces, or filmy silks, are shown. These blouses are so elaborately beautiful and are worn with such georgeous skirts of heavy brocaded satin that a season of skirts and decollete blouses rather than bona fide evening gowns is prophecied.

The less pretentious realm of blousedom shows hand-made models of batiste, linen, lawn, or voile plentifully adorned with hemstitching, drawnwork, lace, tucking, or medallion inserts. It is only this type of waist that is shown in the lighter shades of flesh, pink, or white. Georgettes and satins employ only the deeper and brighter colors.

ENGLISH DEFENSE ON RHINE, NOT THAMES

By HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

PARIS, Sept. 21.—England hereafter must defend herself from the Rhine and not from the Thames.

Thanks to the present perfection of long range artillery, not to mention its future possibilities as well as aerial warfare. England faces the necessity of an immediate revision of her whole system of national defense.

This is the declaration of General Hirschauer, one of the most distinguished military chiefs that the French army produced during the war, and now member of the French Senate.

From now on, the English navy, however powerful it may be, will no longer be sufficient to maintain England's "proud isolation," declares General Hirschauer.

Up until 1914, the lines of defense for London were situated at 15 to 20 kilometers outside the capital. During the war England found it necessary to establish its London defenses on the continent. Now, according to General Hirschauer, England's sole hope of defending its capital, is to establish these lines of defense either on the Meuse or on the Rhine.

General Hirschauer points out that at the present time England's entire plans of national defense are still based on the imperial decree of 1888. The keynote of this decree, and as a consequence of England's [illegible] defense is found in the following clause:

"The defense of the Thames presents a great importance, because large military establishments and arsenals are situated on both sides of the river, and above all because every landing on British soil will have for its object the capture of London."

As a consequence the British plan for home defense provided that the moment mobilization was ordered the permanent army should at once take up a position along the coast of the channel and the North Sea for the purpose of "covering London." Then as soon as the troops of defense were mobilized, the permanent army was to become an army of manoeuver.

In addition London was defended by rapid fire guns that were supposed to be sufficient to prevent a landing of enemy troops, lines of torpedoes were placed to prevent the approach of troop ships, long range coast guns were to ward off the enemy ships, still in advance of all this passive defense, gunboats, torpedo boats and coast guards cruisers were to be engaged in active defense while further in advance the British fleet was supposed to smash the enemy fleet before it got within smelling distance.

Now, according to General Hirschauer, all of this has been rendered out of date and useless by the development of long range guns and aerial fighting. England's only hope of defending her capital and herself must hereafter be made from the Meuse or the Rhine.

"In 1918," says General Hirschauer, who is one of the world's greatest experts on artillery, "we first discovered the gun with 120 kilometers range. Shortly, this range was extended to 150 kilometers. Soon we will be at 200 kilometers and the limit even then will not have been reached.

"It is just 150 Kilometers from Calais or Boulogne to London. Fecamp, Dieppe, Abbeville, Aire and Furnes are only 200 kilometers away.

"But the bombardment by long range guns will only be the second act of the next war which will begin with aerial bombardment. The airplanes that were in construction at the close of the war had a flight capacity of 900 to 950 kilometers, namely a voyage of 450 kilometers from the point of departure. Aix-la-Chappelle is just 450 kilometers from London. A squadron starting from this point can bombard London within three hours.

"London in the future will be attackable first by aerial squadrons starting from German soil and then by long range guns placed on the Belgian and French coast.

"As a consequence French friendship, the solidity of the French and Belgian armies form for England her best defense of 'couverture' on the continent. Through them the advanced lines of defense for London are carried forward to the Meuse.

"The defense of London is no longer on the channel; it isn't even—on the Boshporus.

"It is on the Rhine."

THE IRISH PROBLEM.

Movement for Irish Independence May Come Before League of Nations.

(Canadian Press.)

MARION, Ohio, Sept. 23.—Declaring that the Irish problem is "not a question for official America," Senator Harding said in a statement to-day that in his opinion the movement for Irish independence would be under a League of Nations subject, entirely "internal or domestic."

ROMANCE OF TURF.

Indian Sportsman Buys Caligula, the Winner of St. Leger.

LONDON, Sept. 22.— The victory of Caligula, against whom odds of 100 to 6 were laid in the St. Leger at Doncaster races, is another romance of the turf.

Mathurdas Goculdas, for whom Caligula was purchased (it is said for £8,000), as recently as the Saturday before the race, has never seen the horse, for he is an Indian sportsman belonging to a community whose members are forbidden to cross the ocean. The stake money to the winner of the race exceeds £5,000.

Mr. Goculdas is probably the best known native owner in India, where he has achieved great success with horses imported from England, and it is probable that Caligula will be shipped to India.

The victory of Caligula is all the more remarkable in that he is a son of the Tetrarch, whose progeny have hitherto failed to win races of a greater distance than one mile. The St. Leger course exceeds 1 3-4 miles in length.

BELLEVILLE GETS ALEXANDER KIDD

APPOINTED CHIEF—FORMERLY EMPLOYED ON PETERBOROUGH POLICE FORCE

Alexander Kidd, formerly a sergeant on the local police force and later Chief of Police of Brampton and of Parry Sound, has been appointed Chief of Police of Belleville.

Chief of Police Thompson received a letter from Chief Kidd to-day thanking him for his assistance in securing the appointment.

Chief Kidd served for a number of years on the local force. He went from here to Brampton as Chief of Police there. Later he returned to Peterborough and after another term of service here was appointed Chief of Police of Parry Sound. He is recognized locally as the best sergeant Chief Thompson ever had.

BLIND GIRL JILTED.

Lover's Callous Farewell in Cruel Letter.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Heartless letters from a fickle lover, who jilted a blind girl, were read during the hearing of an action for breach of promise before the Under-Sheriff at Northampton. Plaintiff, Miss Dorothy Agnes Ball, of Kings Sutton, Banbury, sued Ivor Gladstone Probert, of Nantymoel, Glamorgan.

Probert allowed judgment to go by default. Counsel for plaintiff explained that both parties had lived at Kings Sutton, and had been acquainted since 1912. When defendant, on joining the Army, went to India they corresponded. On his return Miss Ball's eyesight was affected by disease, and she was practically blind. She told her lover of it before they became engaged, but he replied that it would make no difference to him. A few days after, he asked plaintiff to marry him, and bought her an engagement ring. After being demobilised in October he worked for a time for the girl's father. On 14th December he kissed her and left her, stating that he was going home to tea, and that he would return in two hours, but she had not seen him since. Six weeks later she received a letter, in which he wrote:

"I am just writing for the last time. I should have thought you knew the last two months I was home I had had enough of you. I told you plainly you would never make a workingman's wife, nor a rich one's. I should think." The letter ended:

"Now, once and for all, you can finish wasting paper and stamps, and this will be the last three halfpence I shall waste on you."

Miss Ball, in her evidence, stated that when defendant asked her to marry him she reminded him of the condition of her eyes, and he replied, "Health does not matter so long as love is there."

Defendant sent a letter to the Court explaining:

"I was absolutely fed up, so I left her. If you were a young chap 27 years of age, would you like to be bound to a blind girl for life Although I served right through the heat of Mesopotamia, I am not mad."

Miss Bell was awarded $200.00 damages.

STARTS NEW CRUSADE AGAINST JAPANESE

(By United Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 22. — California has again girded her loins and started on the trail of the "Yellow Peril."

Resuming the anti-Japanese movement which resulted in the passage of the so-called anti-Alien Land Law of 1914, preventing Japanese owning land in California, a definite program of state and national legislation, aimed to stop Japanese immigration in any form and restrict the activities of the Japanese now within the country, has progressed sufficiently to attract attention of the state department and the Japanese Government.

The legislative program will first come before the voters of the state at the November election, when an anti-Japanese measure will be on the ballot by initiative petition. It has two main phases which are:

Extension of the present law forbidding Japanese ownership of land so as to prevent Japanese holding land by lease;

Revision of corporation laws of the state so as to prevent the present alleged practice of Japanese of holding land through "dummy" corporations.

While leaders of the anti-Japanese movement declare that any interference with this program by the state department or by representatives of the Japanese Government would merely increase the majority for the measure of the polls, many observers believe that only a showing by the Washington Government that passage of the law would result in serious international complications, can prevent its enactment.

The predictions of the anti-Japanese leaders that any action by the state department would intensify the strength of the anti-Japanese campaign seems to find support in the occurrences of 1914. When the anti-alien land law was before the state legislature at that time, William Jennings Bryan, then secretary of state, made a flying trip to California in a futile effort to prevent its passage or secure its modification. The secretary addressed an executive session of the legislature, but the legislature passed the law unchanged as soon as Bryan was on his way back to Washington.

The California Japanese Exclusion Association, which was formed recently under the leadership of U. S. Senator Jas. D. Phelan of California, and in which Samuel Shortridge, Republican senatorial candidate against Phelan, is active, has definitely announced that after the November election it will launch a campaign for further measures restricting Japanese. These measures are expected to include:

1. Federal laws forbidding further Japanese immigration;

2. A federal law preventing Japanese becoming citizens of the United States by birth. At present Japanese children born here can have American citizenship;

3. Prohibition of the importation of so-called "picture brides"—Japanese girls wedded to Japanese men now in this country, through interchange of pictures and fulfillment of Japanese marriage requirements.

U. S. Senator Phelan, John S. Chambers, state controller, State Senator J. M. Inman and others who have led the fight against the "Japanese invasion" declare that under no circumstances will they agree to any compromise of their program.

MAINE COURT RULES WOMEN NEED NOT TELL AGE AT POLL

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 23.—The Supreme Court to-day decided that a woman should not be required to tell her age to qualify as a voter.

In a writ of mandamus Justice Wilson ordered the local board of registration to enroll Mrs. Elizabeth Alden Holman "regardless of the fact that she refused to give the exact date of her birth or her exact age." The writ is returnable in October 6, when the registrars will be heard if they wish to oppose the order.

Mrs. Holman was not allowed to enroll on Sept. 4th, when she insisted that it was sufficient for her, or any other woman, to describe her age as "over 21 years."

PRISONER BREAKS BACK INTO PRISON

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 23.—William Chowick, for many years a prisoner at Waupun, has the distinction of being the first prisoner in the State of Wisconsin who in the dead of night broke backk into the prison. He completed a seven year term and was discharged Sept. 8.

"I have worked many years in the power plant of this penitentiary," he said. "I have almost completed a perpetual machine. If I am given two weeks more time I am sure I can solve the problem. I only ask the opportunity to be allowed to work in the power plant at night with the machines so that my device may be completed. That is why I came back."

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Blessings in disguise usually have a hard time proving their identity.

The International Photographic Salon is again to be held at the Canadian National exhibition this year. There will be exhibits from Australia, Europe, Great Britain, Japan, the United States and other points.

FRANCE GETTING BACK ON HER INDUSTRIAL FEET

By HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staf Correspondent)

PARIS, Sept. 22.—From an industrial standpoint, France's devastated regions are at last able to sit up and take notice.

This is the latest bulletin of the French Reconstruction Minister who, after taking the pulse of his pet patient in the form of an industrial census, finds that said pet patient isn't half as bad off as is the "Sick Man of Europe"—since the latter signed the Turkish treaty.

France's reconstruction doctor finds that on September 1, the devastated regions numbered 4,096 industrial establishments that were employing twenty or more people. Of this total 3,106 or nearly 76 per cent. reported that they had resumed in full or in part their pre-war activity and output.

Of the various departments included in this devastated industrial census that of Meurthe and Moselle, of which Nancy is the capital, heads the list with 82 per cent. of her industries back in operation. The Ardennes, where the Doughboys put the finishing touch on the German occupation, comes next with 81.8 per cent. and finally the department du Nord comes third with 80 per cent. Lille, the principal city of this department has 86.3 per cent. of her industries in operation again.

In 1914 the 3,106 establishments mentioned above as having resumed operation employed a total of 757,388 workmen. To-day they employ already 525,490 or nearly 43 per cent. of their original personnel.

In the department of the Vosges the industries are working 61 per cent. of their full pre-war staffs; in the Department du Nord 50.7 per cent. and in the Department of Meurthe and Moselle 48 per cent. Amongst the cities Lille again tops the list with 62.7 per cent. of her pre-war personnel back to work.

From the standpoint of industry, the percentage of employees now back at work as compared with the number employed before the war is as follows: Textile workers, 49.2 per cent.; stone and terra cotta workers, 47.1 per cent.; metal workers, 54.9 per cent.

The resumption of these establishments in the devastated regions is now becoming so rapid that the French Minister of Reconstruction is confident that by next year his pet patient will be able to give the corresponding competitive German industries a good stiff stab in the ribs.

JUDGMENT IN FORTYE-KENDREY ACTION

them, for it could be manufactured in slack periods. His father would not take any profits from the cloth when he offered them. Mr. Kendry said Mr. Fortye offered to help him. "It was just an experiment when it started." His father gave him authority to use any of the help and not pay anything extra. The cloth was put on the market in April or May, through a traveller, whom he paid out of his own pocket. Mr. Canning and Kellett and Mr. Weatherhead cut the cloth generally, he said. Mr. Fortye gave them instructions what to do, but that was as far as his authority went.

Kept Books.

Mr. Fortye kept books, made out the invoices and entered them in the books. He made out the drafts, some of them were made out by Mr. Craig.

To Mr. O'Connel he said Mr. Fortye was not supposed to take any bad debts or ship any to doubtful customers. Fowler, the traveller, looked up any bad debts and tried to collect them, Mr. Kendry said.

What was said about remuneration then? asked Mr. O'Connel.

There was nothing said about remuneration.

Mr. Kendry said there was never any agreement. He denied that he ever told Mr. Fortye he'd fix it up with him some day. He never said or intimated in any way that he would give him any remuneration. In November, 1919, he gave him a cheque for $50. Mr. Fortye asked to borrow some money, and he made the cheque out for $50, and Mr. Kendry signed it. He never paid him back, or he never asked for it. In July, 1919, they began cutting the cloth up down town. The 10 per cent. agreement for Mr. Fortye was then made.

Consulted Together.

Mr. Kendry said Mr. Fortye looked after everything about the cloth. He himself was general superintendent, but he allowed Mr. Fortye plenty of latitude. They consulted together if anything went wrong. Mr. Kendry told his counsel that he had a candy business in Toronto, in addition to the billiard cloth business here, and was away considerably.

On December 20, 1919, witness stated that he paid the cheque for $1178, Mr. Fortye's commission on sales. Mr. Kendry told of the cause of Mr. Fortye being discharged in February last. He asked Mr. Kendry to pay him what he owned him on sales, and Mr. Kendry said he would when he had the auditor go over the books. Mr. Fortye, he said, did not mention the old wage bill.

Mr. Kendry said he had often driven Mr. Fortye home in his car, and had seen him take the books home.

The Candy Business.

To Mr. Hall he admitted that the candy business in Toronto took up a fair share of his time. In March, 1919, he had a serious illness, and was eight weeks in bed. After he came out he was indisposed. Mr. Fortye, he admitted, managed the business when he was ill and during the time he was recuperating. He had no reason to find fault with Mr. Fortye's work.

It would not have been possible to carry on without the assistance of Mr. Fortye, he told Mr. Hall.

To Mr. Hall witness said that Mr. Fortye gave $20 to Mr. Canning for his assistance out of his commission due him of $1198.

The Crucial Time.

He considers Mr. Lowes' work worth what he pays him, Mr. Kendry said. Mr. Kendry admitted to the plaintiff's counsel that it was hard getting a business under way and getting connections. This was the crucial time, and he gave Mr. Fortye credit for getting the business under way. Mr. Lowes does cutting, which Mr. Fortye never did, he said.

He thought it would be about July 19 Mr. Fortye's commission began.

His Lordship asked Mr. Kendry if it did not seem unfair to have Mr. Fortye's services for a year and four months without paying him anything. Mr. Kendry replied that he was just getting the business under way.

Mr. J. F. Strickland, who made out Mr. Kendry's income form in the spring of 1919, told of his securing an exemption of $918 off the income on account of bad debts. He only did this after making sure the amount was struck off.

This concluded the evidence.

The defendant's counsel, D. O'Connel, in his address to the Judge, drew His Lordship's attention to the fact that there must be a promise made on one hand or remuneration expected on the other before there could be any claim for remuneration. From March, 1918, to July, 1919, there had not been a word said as to remuneration. Mr. Kendry was under no impresison that he was going to make any demand for remuneration. Mr. O'Connel pointed out that Mr. Fortye never asked him, even in 1918, when he was hard pressed for money and was even in debt. He did not make it in 1919. The conclusion was irresistible, Mr. O'Connel said, that he never premeditated making any demand for payment for his services till long after that. When they moved their headquarters he never asked for it, or even when he was discharged. He never put any salary he considered due him in the memorandum he sent to Mr. Strickland.

Mr. O'Connel pointed out that Mr. Gladman estimated the services would be worth $25 a week if he exercised supervision, but this Mr. Fortye did not do.

Implied Agreement.

Mr. Hall said that there was an implied agreement to pay a fair remuneration to Mr. Fortye. All of the other employees worked only in Auburn time, but he worked at night and at the noon hour. Mr. Hall contended that if Mr. Fortye was hard up it would only be an incentive for him to work harder at nights, and with a view to building up this experimental business. He pointed out that Mr. Kendry admitted that Mr. Fortye gave faithful, efficient, whole-hearted service. Mr. Hall claimed that Mr. Fortye's book-keeping required skill and business capacity, and it was largely through his work that the business became a success. Mr. Hall pointed out what Mr. Kendry has been paying since. He has paid Mr. Lowes 5 per cent., while Mr. Fortye organized the business and set it on its feet and received nothing.

Mr. O'Connell contended it was absurd to talk of the managerial skill exercised by Mr. Fortye when Mr. Kendry managed the business and the traveller took the orders.

Judgment in the case was given by His Lordship just before noon. He felt that there should have been remuneration for Mr. Fortye during the sixty-five weeks from March 1, 1918, to July 1, 1919, in view of what was paid him later, and what Lowes has received and the part he played in the business.

Judgment was given to the plaintiff for $900. This is over and above the $50 paid for services prior to July, 1919. Defendant, T. Herbert Kendry, must also pay the plaintiff the $277.94, representing the remaining commission due him on sales and the costs of the action, a total judgment of $1177.94.

This case concluded the three days' sittings of the Supreme Court.

Ontario Insurance Agents' Certificates of Authority expire on the 30th of September next. All agents continuing in business must apply to the Department of Insurance at Toronto, or to some Registered Insurance Company for new forms of application for certificate for the year 1920-1921. DOESN'T THINK MUCH OF BABY-SNATCHERS.

Niagara Falls Judge Scores Man Who Is Marrying Girl of 13.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 23.—Police Judge C. H. Piper is studying the compulsory education law to learn whether it is possible legally to keep a 13-year-old girl in school after she is married until she becomes of school age—16 years.

Ben Saerianni, of 2116 Seneca Street, was in court for failing to keep his daughter, Sarah, in school. He told the judge that the girl is to be married next Sunday, and that she stayed at home preparing for the wedding. He showed the court a license for Sarah, who gave her age to the marriage license clerk as 14 and Giuseppi Serianni, 27 years old, also of 2116 Seneca Street.

"I don't think much of those baby-snatchers and you are just as bad to give your consent to the marriage," remarked Judge Piper. "You send that girl to school to-day and keep her there until she is married. In the meantime I will look up the law and if I can I will keep her in school after she is married."

DRIVE OUT DANDRUFF SO IT WON'T RETURN

BY A SPECIALIST

That the dandruff germ is responsible for nearly all the diseases to which the scalp is heir, as well as for baldness and premature grey hair, is well recognised. We appreciate, therefore the importance of any agent that can destroy its power. For this reason it is a pleasure to give herewith a prescription which a specialist states he has found after repeated tests, will completely destroy the dandruff germs with a few applications. In many cases it will almost immediately stop falling hair, and it has in numerous cases produced a new hair-growth after years of partial baldness. This prescription can be made up at home, or any druggist will put it up for you—6 ounces Bay Rum, 2 ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Mix thoroughly, and after standing an hour it is ready for use. Apply night and morning, rubbing into the scalp with the finger tips. If you wish it perfumed, add 1 drachm of your favourite perfume.

REDUCED AREA OF FALL WHEAT THIS SEASON

While fall wheat seeding in eastern Ontario will probably equal that of last year, the prospects are that the average for the whole Province will show a marked decrease. It is in central and westen Ontario that the greater part of the fall wheat crop is ordinarily grown, and in western Ontario the prevalence of Hessian fly has, according to the weekly report of the Department of Agriculture, caused a curtailment in acreage. Seeding, where it has taken place in the chief wheat centres, has been later than usual.

The corn harvest is now in full swing, and weather conditions during the past week have been generally favorable for this work.

The past week has also been a busy one for canning factories, many of them running night and day, and in one case even on Sunday. Canning corn is a good crop, but tomato yield, in eastern Ontario at least, is not up to that of last year.

Fruit harvest is still on as well, and in Lincoln the U.F.O. is handling fruit in car lots. From Norfolk two carloads of boxed apples have been shipped to England. In Brant buyers are paying $2.50 per barrel on trees for Spys, while pears are selling at $1.25 per bushel.

In Frontenac on one school Fair plot 325 pounds of green mountain potatoes were obtained by a little girl from five pounds of seed.

Recent rains and cooler weather have benefitted pastures, and live stock promises to go into winter quarters in prime condition.

It is easier to make enemies than friends, but it is easier to get rid of friends than it is to get rid of enemies.

GOOD ADVICE FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE

What Worn, Frazzled, Unstrung, "Jumpy" Nerves Really Need

When you are run down, out of sorts, tire easily, have lost confidence in your ability to do things, and ambition seems to have deserted you it is a pretty good sign that your nerve force has run down and that your nerves need nourishment and stimulation to restore to your system its old time strength and endurance, bringing back the good old pep and energy that used to make you famous. Nearly all drug stores in Peterboro and vicinity are selling a highly recommended nerve remedy called FERRO-PEPTINE, on a positive guarantee of satisfaction or money-back. It's simply amazing, in many instances, how quickly FERRO-PEPTINE tones up the system, calms and steadies the nerves, and puts vim, vigor and vitality into men and women who are fagged out, nervous, despondent and ambitionless.

Thousands can testify to the great value of FERRO-PEPTINE in cases of severe mental depression, nervous prostration, nervous dyspepsia, trembling, "jumps," "fidgets," and the generally unstrung nerves that come from excessive work, worry, lack of sleep, or over indulgence.

If you are blue and feeel as though you did not give a hang, or are cross, irritable and your nerves right on edge, you should get a package of FERRO-PEPTINE right away. It comes 42 tablets to the box. Take one with every meal for a few days and notice the quick improvement in your health.

TIPS AND TIPSTERS AT THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Recent successes at Saratoga of horses owned by Dr. Grayson, physician to the President, and of horses owned by men associated with Dr. Grayson in his racing activities have brought the racing fever to the White House, and have converted this staid and conservative institution into a veritable nest of tips, tipsters and betting enthusiasts.

Although Admiral Grayson does not appear on the cards as the owner of any of the thoroughbreds that have won the purses at Saratoga, it is well known here that a number of the horses raced by Samuel Ross, a Washington hardware dealer, are either owned entirely by Grayson, or Grayson has an interest in them. Among these horses are Gnome, Knot and Crank in the class of first-raters; Ballymooney, among third-raters, and several promising two-year-olds.

"WHITE LIE" IS NEVER JUSTIFIABLE, SHE FINDS

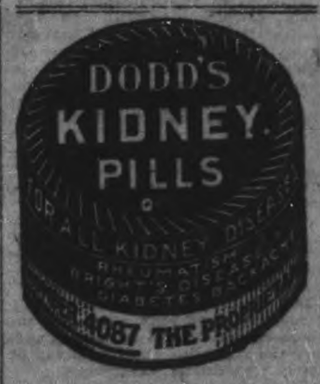
Is a "white lie" justifiable?

Becky Warder (Madge Kennedy) thought so. She wanted to bring Fred and Eve Linden together again, and in her quixotic efforts she placed herself in ambiguous situations with the profligate husband of her best friend. Also, she lied continuously to her own husband. Becky tangled herself in a net of deceits, and when she was finally driven to "The Truth," her husband, his faith gone, refused to believe her.

It is this situation which furnishes the great climax to Clyde Fitch's masterpiece which Goldwyn has picturized with Miss Kennedy as Becky. The young matron learns in a bitter hour that a "white lie" is little different from the other kind.

Becky's father was a good-natured scapegrace, ruined by gambling, who had brought up his daughter in an atmosphere of lies. When her husband leaves her she returns to her father, who is disconcerted by the turn affairs have taken, since a good deal of his ready money comes from his son-in-law. He schemes to effect a re-union—by more lies; and it is in the discovery of these that Becky has her opportunity to rise superior to her upbringing and prove that "The Truth" is in her. "The Truth" may be seen at the Allen Theatre, where it will be shown Friday and Saturday.

Black and metal effects predominate in the evening gowns shown by a leading New York firm.



NON-JURY CASE IN HIGH COURT

ACTION TO RECOVER WAGES AND COMMISSIONS ON SALES

The non-jury case of Robert H. Fortye against T. Herbert Kendry was continued in the High Court yesterday afternoon before Mr. Justice Middleton, presiding. Mr. R. R. Hall is representing the plaintiff, and Gordon and O'Brien, with D. O'Connell of Toronto as representing Mr. Kendry. The action is to recover wages and commissions on sales claimed by Fortye.

Mr. Fortye told how in the spring of 1918 seeing the possibilities in the billiard cloth business, Mr. T. H. Kendry and he got the company to manufacture it for them and they then resold it, carrying on a profitable business.

Mr. Fortye cut the cloth, shipped it and looked after the business after working hours, working nearly every night. He understood he was getting $25 a week, but there was no agreement. He was to get 10 per cent. of the sales.

When the company was amalgamated with the Bonner-Worth Co. in July, 1919, they cut and shipped the cloth in a room in the Bradburn building.

Continued Working.

Mr. Fortye continued working at the Auburn plant till February, last. He received $24 a week salary.

Mr. Fortye told D. O'Connell that he entered the Auburn Woollen Mills in the fall of 1915. He worked with the Fuel and Cartage Co. till then, he said, where he was receiving $20 a week. His hours were 8 to 12, 2 to 6, he said. He did not work much at night. He said that Mr. Kendry was the controlling spirit in the company when he went there. Mr. Herbert Kendry came there about the same time he did, he thought. His office was shipper and receiver, he said. He spent about half an hour a day doing book-keeping, he stated. Mr. Hartley was superintendant after Mr. Kellett left in February, 1919. He carried on most of the correspondence for Mr. Kendry and his venture from March, 1918, to July, 1919. Mr. Kendry did some that he did not know anything about, he said. He made up the most of the drafts, he said; about 75 per cent.

When the late Mr. Kendry died Mr. T. H. Kendry became general manager. Mr. Fortye said no one ever gave him any instructions. He was foreman over one or two hands at the plant.

The Amalgamation.

In July, 1919, the amalgamation with the Bonner-Worth Co. took place and Mr. Kendry left. Mr. Fortye said he worked nearly every night and almost every Saturday afternoon. He would swear, he said, that he went back at least 4 nights a week to cut cloth and work on the books.

After Jul, 1919, when Kendry left he was to get 10 per cent. of the total sales. He could never recall any financial arrangement having been made with Kendry for the payment of his services. Sometime in 1919 he (Kendry) told him he must fix it up with him sometime. The first time he began to lose confidence in Kendry was when it came to paying. On December 2, 1919, he received a cheque of $1,178 for his commission, for the six months from July to December. He did not mention the wage bill for $1,600 at the time, he said, for he thought he would not have any trouble getting the money and he thought he would wait till the next year when a more profitable year's business might be shown and Mr. Kendry be, therefore, more generously inclined.

Evidence Closed.

Mr. George G. Gladman, of the William Hamilton Co., gave evidence in this case. He thought that $25 a week was fair renumeration for Mr. Fortye's services. Mr. Gladman said he assumed that Mr. Fortye looked after the books and managed the business and, for this he thought he should receive $25 a week considering the present scale of wages.

This concluded the evidence presented by the plaintiff. Mr. Hall read the examination for discovery of Mr. Kendry as further evidence, after which the court adjourned till nine o'clock Thursday morning when Mr. Kendry will give evidence.

COST OF OCCUPATION IS NEARLY PAID UP.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—Frederic Francois-Marsal, the Finance Minister, replying to a question submitted to him by a member of the Senate, said that the expenses incurred through the Rhine occupation were estimated at the end of March to have reached 18,000,000,000 francs. The amount paid by Germany on account was 13,000,000 marks at the end of July, the equivalent of 402,000,000 francs, Mr. Marsal added.

THE SUCCESS OF THE EXHIBITION DISCLOSES LATENT SPIRIT OF PRIDE

DIRECTORS DREAM FULFILLED—NOTES ON THE BIG FAIR—PUBLIC READY TO SUPPORT ENTERPRISE.

The success of Peterborough's Exhibition this year discloses again that latent spirit of local pride that seeks only an adequate object for its expression. Once thoroughly awakened and aroused, it gives a new impetus and strength to an enterprise in which a community's interests become centred. Illustrations might be mentioned at random. The enterprise may be a county's good roads programme or the efficiency of a civic department which a city maintains and depends upon for one form or other of protection and use. It may be a crack band, a big industry that has appealed to the public's sympathies, or a champion baseball or hockey team. Or it may be an exposition of the magnitude of Toronto's. But whatever may be the object of the people's goodwill, its power of attraction is invariably heightened by its gradual development, in which the people themselves have shared.

This is evident in the present phase of the progress of Peterborough's Exhibition. The directors never had cause to complain of lack of public support, but in the lean years when difficulties seemed insurmountable and ends were barely meeting, and a surplus for the new buildings that were needed was out of the question there was a general sentiment of doubt as to the eventual success of the enterprise for which the directors were financially committing themselves. In recent years, however, as material signs of properity began to multiply and fortune bega toalihhhhrrddddd and fortune began to favour the endeavour of the Fair Board, public interest perceptibly quickened. Citizens and farmers gave their support as usual ,but the exhibitors, including manufacturers and merchants, became more deeply impressed not only with the sincerity of the directors, which was never questioned, but with the soundness of their confidence. And this week's acomplishment is the result.

It is obvious, of course, that there is still much to be done, and it may be safely predicted that the doing thereof will proceed more swiftly with the splendid spirit of co-operation that has been evidenced during this year's Fair. It is a truism that success breeds success, and the most heartening feature of the last four days has been the warmth of approval expressed by citizens, farmers, and the exhibitors at large. That newborn spirit of local pride was found in such expressions as "Well, we've got something to work on now," and that "we" was not the collective term of the directors, but was used by many of the regular visitors from city and country in a proprietary sense, denoting that the were assuming full possession of the Exhibition enterprise. In this sentiment there is an earnest of future co-operation and assistance that will lighten the burden of the directors, that will encourage them in the implementing of the plans they have contemplated these last ten years, and that will hasten the day when Peterborough — not the city only, but this entire district — can claim an undisputed rank for its Fair among all those of Central and Eastern Ontario.

A DREAM FULFILLED.

To the directors, yesterday's crowd was a dream come true. And they revelled in it. They were "sitting on the world," basking in the sunlight that glowed within them as truly and as brightly as the mild September sun that was reflected from the hundreds of automobile tops and shields and touched the air with an autumnal languor that made all outdoors one glorious holiday setting. There was no needof the confirmative totals from the turnstiles. Felix Brownscombe's terse statistics could not bring half the joy to the directorate senses that was conveyed by the throng that peopled the Park in every direction. The day's results were the culmination of this year's stage of the scheduled programme of expansion, and as President Denne and the directors realised the full significance of the outspread scene before them, their pleasure reacting to the sense of accomplishment was swiftly set aside by emotions of gratitude.

"Say no more about the directors," remarked Vice-President R. H. Turner. "They did their part, and that's enough, but give all the credit to the people of the city and country. If they hadn't been with us, the Exhibition couldn't have amounted to anything. They have been splendid in their support. With such people and such weather, the Exhibition couldn't help but be a success."

Gone were the doubts and fears of Monday's drizzle. September's blandest sunshine had long ago dispelled them. Probably President Denne's only regret was the impossibility of telling the people individually how grateful the Fair oBard felt toward them.

FAIR NOTES.

Mr. William Collins, one of the pioneers of the Exhibition, and secretary for a great many years, was an interested spectator, the guest of the vice president, Mr. Reg. Turner.

—o—

Few people not connected with the Exhibition realise what a big proposition the Fair is getting to be. The directors realise mistakes were made this year that will be ratified next year, but they are only apparent by the time the show is over.

—o—

Any suggestion offered by a citizen, an exhibitor, a concession man, or a space holder in any of the buildings will receive the careful consideration of next year's Board.

—o—

One of the very first necessities is an addition to the grand stand.

—o—

While President Denne has had his Board complimented by hundreds on the success of this year's Fair, he wishes to convey this message, that much credit is due the citizens of Peterborough, the farmers in the county, and residents in the adjacent towns and villages for the manner in which they have stood behind the Board during the past few years and so quickly helped to bring the Exhibition into a place of prominence among Fairs in the Province.

Lindsay's Fair opened yesterday and continues for the balance of this week. Peterborough wishes Lindsay just as ideal weather as we have had.

The grand stand attractions are the best and cleanest that could be obtained and have given entire satisfaction. They do not appear at any other Fair and are exclusive for Peterborough.

FAIR EXHIBITS

FINE EXHIBITS FROM THE GILLESPIE GARAGE.

To one who sized up the situation yesterday afternoon, as viewed from the splendid motor car exhibit of the Gillespie Garage. At the Fair there could not have been a better testimony to the increasing interest of farmers, as well as townspeople, in motor cars and trucks. The attendance round this display of interesting machines was marked.

There was shown fine models of the Maxwell and Chalmers cars, consisting a Maxwell touring car, a new Chalmers touring car, a Maxwell motor truck, a Cleveland Cletric tractor and an Oliver Tractor plow.

The Maxwell car continues to enjoy a steady demand. Regardless of the fact that to-day the car is larger, roomier and more powerful and that it is equipped with every convenience in use on the highest priced cars, the weight has been held down as well as the price, and both have shown that great efficiency and economy of operation has been maintained.

The Chalmers 5-passenger touring car, with the great Ramshorn and Hot Spring engine, has made it one of great cars of the day. The Chalmers Chassis has been so perfected that it may be considered as a collection of well balanced mechanical units. "Quality First" expresses the ideals which lie behind the Chalmers.

The Cleveland Tractor made a fine showing and attracted crowds of farmers. It was a marvel at work and its performances astounded the onlookers. One of the special advantages of the Cleveland is that it travels on its own endless tracks just like the famous battle tanks, and that, therefore, it does not sink into the ground, but goes over the surface without packing the soil.

Mr. Jack Gillespie, the "Big Push" of this service garage, looked sharply after the business interests of this exhibit. He was assisted by Mr. Fiegham, Assistant Manager of the Cleveland Tractor Co.

DISTINGUISHED FURS BY BARRIES LIMITED

Never before in Peterboro has such a magnificent display of Furs of picturesque beauty been shown as that exhibited at this fair, in the Main Building, by our local fur manufacturers, Barries Limited—furs that set new standards of style and value. This firm of old-established furriers has done itself infinite credit by the presentation of such a complete and versatile display of the accepted furs for the coming season of 1920-21. Not before have our citizens ever witnessed in one massed exhibit such a brilliant assemblage of luxurious furs, fur garments and beautiful examples of the art of peltry. The pelts, in their soft, shimmering beauty, are absolutely dazzling. The styles depict the real touch of extreme fashion, with the unmistakable smartness of those expensive little salons of American and Parisian fashion centres.

The designers seem to have reached a perfection this year which they have not often before attained. The enhanced beauty of combinations is also conspicuous. There is a wealth of examples shown. It would seem as if every fur in the world is exhibited. Wonderful pieces in Hudson seal skins, mink, seal, sable, ermine and rare and novel fox pieces, displayed in painstaking styling that adds surprise to the spirit that must have dominated the designers of this exhibit. Many of our citizens are quite familiar with the Barries Limited efficient organization and service—an organization which has made so honorable a reputation, not only in Peterborough, but in their other three prosperous branches in Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw, as well as throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion.

"From Trapper to Wearer" is the well known slogan of this fur house. Buying the raw furs from trappers by experts of long training—selecting only high quality or "prime" skins—manufacturing entirely in their own workrooms under close and personal supervision, the firm hold themselves responsible for every detail. Styles are alway: important; and in order to give the public the latest in vogue Barries send their designers each season to the fashion centres to gain information and ideas in designing and adapting to the Canadian climate and demands.

Among the extensive rich variety of furs reflected in this charming exhibit at the Fair, the following were noticed:

COATS — Magnificent Coats were shown in Mink, Kolinskey, Beaver (plucked), Hudson Seal, Persian Lamb, Taupe, Coney and Racoon.

Among the rare Coat specials was a very fine Scotch Mole Coat, trimmed with Taupe and Lynx. A rich Kolinskey Coat in dolman design, trimmed all around with tails of same fur. A Plucked Beaver Coat was a very exclusive model. Beautiful Hudson Seal Coats were shown in luxurious styles fashionably designed, from 30 to 40 inches long, with swell trimmings of Sable, Opossum, and Black Taupe Lynx.

STOLES—Shawls and Cape Stoles, in Mink, plucked Beaver, Blue and Grey Squirrel, animal-shaped Fox Stoles, Silver-pointed Alaska, Blue Black, Isabella, White Cross, Real Prussian,Ermine, Fitch, Alaska Sable, Hudson Seal; also Muffs to match Stoles.

SKINS—A bundle of real Alaska Seal, Russian and Canadian Ermine, Stone Marten, Ring Tail and Australian Opossum, Black and National Wolf, Mink, Muskrat, Hudson Seal, Natural Taupe and Black Lynx. In Fox, Silver Pointed Cross, Black Arctic White, Red, Plucked and Natural Otter, Canadian and American Beaver.

Several striking Floor Rugs are shown: A large Polar Bear, 12 x 9 feet, a mounted head, and Leopard and Wolves, etc.

Careful buying and accurate forecasting of price movements have resulted in substantial savings in the cost of Barrie's fur garments. Taking advantage of recent price recessions, which has since proved only temporary, they have assembled the standard quality furs in unusual variety and quantity. Purchases may be safely regarded as investments.

The exhibit was in charge of one of the firm's expert salesmen, Mr. Richardson, whose painstaking and skilful service was much appreciated by the crowd of visitors.

THE BON MARCHE.

"Perfectly lovely" was the exclamation of feminine visitors, yesterday, to that section in the Manufacturers' building devoted to the exhibit of the Bon Marche Mfg. Co., Ltd., of Peterborough. And the charming display of ladies' whitewear and all lines of stamped goods certainly warranted the showers of commendation bestowed upon it. Purity in color, fineness of texture, elegant models, are characteristics of this revelation of all that is beautiful in white stamped and embroidered garments, for which this local firm enjoys enviable repute. The whole showing is pleasingly original in design and high grade throughout. Incidentally it might be mentioned that the designer of Bon Marche wear is Mr. J. C. Poolman, manager of the Peterborough factory, upon whom this exhibit reflects a high degree of credit.

The section also presented an interesting scene of factory activity, in that one young lady was busily engaged in operating a large Singer embroidering machine, while another was seen stamping goods for subsequent hand embroidery work. An outstanding feature of this booth is, perhaps, an exhibit of children's rompers, suits and dresses, some in blue and white effects sufficiently striking to elicit much inquiry from visitors. The back draping of the staid is in pink and white Mull, the finest cotton material used in ladies' stylish and dependable whitewear.

Altogether Mr. Poolman may congratulate himself upon creating an exhibit tasteful in display and replete with irresistible attraction. The local factory is situated at 173 1-2 Simcoe street.

PREST-O-LITE BATTERIES.

The name "Albert Fisher" is a byword for storage batteries, and his exhibit in the main building annex at the Exhibition is full of attraction for automobile owners. He is demonstrating the many advantages accruing from the use of Prest-o-Lite batteries, which are the oldest in service to car owners in America. This battery is rugged and substantial in construction, and designed to withstand those jars and jolts to which a battery is subjected. Then Prest-o-Lite has won a decisive victory in the toughest battery contest ever staged, a trial between batteries after being left to chill for seventeen hours in a ten-below zero temperature. Prest-o-Lite has quality, dependability, durability and service back of it; and an ever-increasing number of car manufacturers are adopting it as their standard equipment. A size is made for every car.

Another exhibit here is the Prest-o-Lite Farm Lighting Battery, which enables farmers and other rural residents to enjoy those lighting conveniences, too much restricted as yet to cities and towns. They are run by power from small gas engines; and will furnish brilliant illumination for dwellings and barns at a comparatively moderate cost. A large order for these farm lighting batteries from a big concern in this district has recently been placed with Mr. Fisher, who is the authorized district distributor for them, as well as for Prest-o-Lite car batteries. Mr. J. S. Brown, from the Toronto factory, is in attendance at the exhibit. The local service station for Prest-o-Lite is at 186 Charlotte Street, upstairs over the old English Canoe Factory.

FLAGS AND BUNTING.

For forceful colour effect, artistically designed, J. J. Turner & Sons' section in the Manufacturers' Building impellingly demands inspection. The whole stand's three walls are a mass of British Empire and her allies' flags, relieved by columns of red, white, yellow, blue and green bunting. This "worth while" and patriotic display is built around a centre shield, the facing of which is an admirably painted grand old Union Jack, flanked with maple leaves and surrounded by a host of electric light bulbs in many colours. The floor is covered with a handsome rug, in the centre of which is situated a stand of beautiful foliage plants.

This firm is well and favourably known as experts in the art of decorating, but they have here arranged a flag and bunting exhibit which no description could do justice. In brief, it presents a sample of art-creation evolving from inherent and acquired talent exceptional to the fullest degree in this particular line.

PETERBORO BUSINESS COLLEGE LIMITED.

This, one of the largest business educational schools in Ontario, than which there is none other in Canada more completely and efficiently equipped for training successful young business men and women, is demonstrating the utility of their modern office machines. The exhibit consists of the Borrough's Bookkeeping Posting Machine, the Dictaphone, Adding Machine and Calculator, a knowledge of which is quite indispensable today to aspirants for highly-paid positions in Canada's best business establishments.

This booth will be found in the centre group in the manufacturers' building, and is replete with interesting and instructive exemplifications of the call for machinery in all up-to-date business office operations. Prospective students should make a note of this, as the demand to-day for gradaates from the Peterboro Business College is far in excess of the supply. Positions await graduates from term to term, and ambitious young men and women should take advantage of the opportunity knocking at their doors to acquire the best business education available. Full information as to courses, etc., may be obtained at the Peterboro Business College, over the Dominoin Bank, George street.

KINGAN HARDWARE CO.

This reputable hardware firm's section in the main building at the Exhibition presented yesterday a picturesque hunting scene, with its appropriate decoration of cedar greenery, embellished with a background of admirably executed views of the chase, and the whole sporting effect appealingly enhanced by an outstanding foreground exhibit of Winchester, Remington, and Stevens farfamed rifles for large or small game. It is unnecessary to say that at this season Kingan Hardware Co.'s exhibit found earnest attraction for many visitors with an eye to the best equipment for both fishing and hunting.

There were also displayed to advantage Stanley's high-grade mechanics' and automobile tools, with a special feature in Diaston saws; Canadian explosives for stumping and clearing land of rock and all heavy impediments to cultivation; Dickson's graphite grease for automobiles, tractors, and general machinery (a lubricator which preserves the life of running gear); Brandram-Henderson's popular paint, noted for its pure ingredients, and the same firm's genuine white lead, the world's standard for over 20 years, together with varnishes for every purpose. The Barrett Everlastic Roofing, a composition of asphalt and sand, guaranteed to last 20 years or more, struck one as just the thing to replace the rapidly vanishing shingle. This roofing costs less to lay, and comes cheaper, in the long run than any other. A handy accessory in evidence was The "All-way" Oiler, which saves space, oil, money, time, and acidents.

The stand is in charge of Mr. C. Kinnan, to whom praise is due for arranging an exceedingly creditable exhibit.

PETERBOROUGH CANOE CO.

An outstanding exhibit in the Manufacturers' Building is that of the Peterborough Canoe Co., who are showing splendid samples of their outboard motor boat with detachable 2 h.p. motor, of eight passenger capacity, and built of longitudinal cedar strips; canvas-covered canoe finished in blue; cedar strip cruiser canoe with torpedo deck; and a graceful basswood canoe. All are equipped for sailing, excepting the canvas vessel.

A distinctive feature of this exhibit is the model of a cedar rib canoe which has done service for 45 years, making several trips to exhibitions in Europe.

The Peterborough canoe is found on waters in all parts of the British Empire and in some European countries. It is a model famed for its strength, buoyancy, safety and beautiful lines.

BEST DISPLAY YET OF BICYCLES

A good bicycle is now an everyday necessity. The increasing demand in Peterborough for bicycles this year gives a faint idea of the surprising growth of this business all over Canada. There is nothing surprising about this, if one thinks for a moment what a handy little vehicle the bicycle is, and how fast one can get down to his place of business, run messages and at the same time benefit by healthful and hygienic exercise. Last season local dealers lost numerous sales owing to too great a demand. In anticipation of the ever-increasing popularity of the bicycle firms have made elaborate improvements in their machinery plants to double their output and in many instances, treble it.

With this in view, our enterprising local dealers, the White Bros., 174 Hunter Street, have been extending their business on Hunter Street. Their show-rooms and repair shop has grown in extent, and that they have been doing a rushing business this summer. They are the local representatives for the "Massey" guaranteed bicycles, whose models may be seen everywhere, almost any time. This bright young firm put up a spanking fine display of bicycles and bicycle accessories in the Main Annex at the Fair. They showed several good models, typical of the thorough way in which the C. C. M. bicycles are made. Those shown were of latest design and colour schemes, and were much admired. They also exhibited many bicycle accessories, such as bells, pumps, horns, sirens, and cut-out sections, showing how the inside of a bicycle is made. An interesting demonstration was made on the inside rubber tube of a bicycle, by pumping it up to an abnormal size to prove the remarkable strength of the rubber used.

This exhibit was tastefully arranged and decorated with ferns and floral plants. On enquiry, it was a pleasure to learn that White Bros. had been busy booking orders for new bikes and that their natty Fair exhibit was a business-puller.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

ARLIE MARKS STOCK COMPANY.

The concluding evening of the Arlie Marks Stock Company's engagement at the Grand Theatre drew a capacity house, and the play sustained the high standard of excellence for which Marks' productions are noted. Each of those taking part in the play, "The Girl from out Yonder," made a big hit with an appreciative audience, and the story itself was most pleasing.

The vaudeville which was put on between acts was splendid, and the stunts entirely new to a Peterborough audience.

WESTPORT WOMAN IN WALL STREET EXPLOSION.

KINGSTON, Sept. 21.—Miss Anne McCann, prominent worker in the New York financial district, has reached her former home at Westport, where she will remain for at least six weeks to recover from the effects of the explosion on Wall Street, New York, on Thursday.

Miss McCann stated that the disaster was the most terrifying ever experienced in the United States metropolis. She was within a block of the explosion when it occurred, and stated that the scene beggars description. The explosion resulted from a bomb, in her opinion, and many of the injured were hurt in their mad rush for safety.

A PRESENTATION.

As a token of regret at their leaving the city and of their lasting affection, the employees of the department of the Canadian General Electric Works in which Mrs. Brown was employed, presented Mr. and Mrs. J. Brown 515 Albert Street, with a handsome gift on Tuesday evening on the occasion of their leaving town for England, where they will reside in future. Mr. and Mrs. Brown leave on Tuesday evening, September 24th.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoo or anything else, that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

SCIENCE PROVES THE DANGER OF BLEEDING GUMS

Medical science proves that unhealthy gums cause serious ailments. People suffering from Pyorrhea (a disease of the gums) often suffer from other ills, such as rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders, or weakened vital organs. These ills have been traced in many cases to the Pyorrhea germs which breed in pockets about the teeth.

Four out of five people over forty have Pyorrhea. It begins with tender and bleeding gums. Then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the infecting Pyorrhea germs.

Guard your health and your teeth. Keep Pyorrhea away. Visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and make daily use of Forhan's For the Gums.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress—if used in time, and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's will keep the gums firm and healthy, the teeth white and clean.

FOOTBALL TROPHY IN CLARK'S WINDOW

THE HANDSOME CUP TO BE DONATED BY REV, FATHER PHELAN

To many football enthusiasts the news that the football trophy promised the football executive at the end of the season by the Rev. Father Phelan, is now on view in the window of Mr. Frank Clark, the prominent local Charlotte street jeweller.

The cup stands 12 inches high, on a black ebony base, the inside of the trophy is a gold finish and the outside is sterling silver. The shape of the cup is of an egg-cup nature, with two handles extending from top to bottom. On the front is engraved football players depicting the most critical point in the game, viz.: A player has made an attempt to break thorugh the two full backs with the centre forward attracting their attention while the other player has tested the goal-keeper with a hard shot which compels the custodian to jump up into the air to have his goal. A silver plate is on the base where the name of the winner can be engraved each year.

The design of the trophy is the exclusive workmanship of Mr. Frank Clark and demonstrates the exquisite taste in acquiring such an excellent piece of silver to be contested by local football clubs.

In the same window is the cup donated by Mr. G. N. Gordon to the Peterborough Cadet camp and engraved upon it is the following: Peterborough Cadet Camp 1920, won by Campbellford Cadet Corp.

BRITISH MINERS WANTED.

Report That Many Miners Leaving Britain for Ontario.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—We are reminded of the old saying, "It's an ill win' that blaws naebody guid," by an item of news which has just reached us from Canada, says the Daily Mail's financial editor. It is stated that the Hollinger were once employees of one pine field, has secured 50 British miners, and the comment is made that if it is possible to secure more men from the Old Country, it will remove the only obstacle standing between the gold mines of Canada and maximum production.

No doubt, some, if not all, of the British miners who are now on the Hollingtr were once employees of one or other of the three Cornish tin mines which have lately been obliged to curtail operations. We have heard of numerous migrations from the west of England during the last three or four months, and possibly the Canadian mines may be able to augment their labour supply further from this source. It is a pity that the British miner should have to emigrate, but it is better that they should do so within the Empire than remain on the unemployed list.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—What does this clipping from the editorial columns of the Mail and Empire of Sept. 22nd mean? It looks as if the Mail was not exactly a member of the new party but had remained Conservative:

"The easy victory of Hon. F. B. McCurdy and Hon. R. W. Wigmore was to be expected, in view of their elevation to Cabinet positions. The Maritime constituencies measure candidates by their practical usefulness, and having Ministers is an opportunity not to be slighted."

Observer.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—The report of the case of Ruddy vs. Guise-Bagley which appeared in the Examiner last evening is apt to create a wrong impression.

Mr. J. H. Burnham did not sell his law practice to Guise-Bagley, nor did the extent of his practice have anything whatever to do with the issues involved in the action. Mr. Burnham simply retired from practice on account of his Parliamentary duties, when the firm of Ruddy and Burnham was dissolved by reason of Mr. Ruddy's elevation to the bench.

Mr. Ruddy did not sell his law practice to Guise-Bagley. The only agreement between them was in writing, signed by both of them, and that agreement was for the sale and purchase of the building and office furniture for $3,100.00 and nothing more.

FORGED AN ACCEPTANCE ON CHEQUE FOR BONDS.

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—It is understood that a group of cheque artists are working in Montreal and may try their hand on the local exchange. Three thousand-dollar 1923 Victories and a hundred-dollar one, are posted as stolen on the local market yesterday.

They were obtained from a Montreal broker by means of a cheque with a forged acceptance, according to word received here, and local brokers are consequently on the lookout.

If you are an admirer of drama—drama that holds you in suspense and gives you surprises, you will find this and the addition of several heart-throbs in the all-star picture coming to the Grand Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week. It is called "The Gift Supreme."

It is claimed that this Republic picture is one of the sensations of the year, that the all-star cast is one of the best selected for any screen production of recent making, and under the direction of an able director, O. L. Sellers, they have given to the screen a drama of superb action.

The story tells of the adventures of a wealthy young man in the slum district of a big city. He meets, while searching there for atmosphere for a story he is writing, a young girl with whom he falls in love. He is convinced she is far better than the girls in his set, and announces to his parents his determination to marry her. They object, and he determines to marry her anyway. Many obstacles then present themselves. For one—he must now earn a living. He sets up a lodging-house for the poor against the opposition of a gang of crooks who are, he later learns, endeavouring to ruin the reputation of the girl he hopes to marry. How he defeats them at a great cost to himself and how the girl in turn saves him in a manner which brings about the parents' gratitude, make the drama of unusual merit.

Some idea of the excellence of the cast may be obtained from the following names which are prominent in the screen's roster of well-known players. They are: Bernard Durning, Seena Owen, Lon Chaney, Jack Curtis, Melbourne MacDowell, Harry Lonsdale, Anna Hernandez, and several others.

CANADA WILL HAVE SUFFICIENT COAL

QUITE NEEDLESS TO WORRY THIS WINTER, SAYS CARVELL

Canadian Press.

OTTAWA, Sept. 23. — Much of the worrying which is being done with regard to Canada's fuel supply for the coming winter is needless. That is the view of Hon. F. B. Carvell, the chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners, under whose control coal imports and exports were placed by the Dominion Government last session. During the period from April 1 to September 15, 1920, eastern Canada imported 114,658 fewer tons of anthracite, but 1,852,065 more tons of bituminous coal than in the same period of last year, and as conditions on the other side of the international boundary are improving, so the imports of coal are increasing. Since the Board of Railway Commissioners took charge of the fuel situation, the imports daily have been more than trebled.

The country from the head of the Lakes to Nova Scotia is divided by the commission into nine areas, and a summary of the imports for the period April 1 to September 15, of each year, shows as follows:

Anthracite.

POLICE COURT FINES.

The business transacted in Police Court this morning was only average. The receipts totalled $46.30, two drunks and a cyclist, who preferred the sidewalk to the rough road, contributing this amount to the coffers.

Robert Goodfellow paid $8.10 for the privilege which he took of riding his bicycle on the sidewalk.

MUSICAL COMEDY AT GRAND TO-NIGHT

The Katzenjammer Kids have been lifted bodily from the pages of the colored supplements and planted behind the footlights in one of the funniest and altogether pleasing entertainments seen in many seasons. In a new musical comedy bearing the title "Katzenjammer Kids," which will be presented at the Grand Opera House for the last time to-night, the many funny characters in this amusing series of cartoons, disport themselves in a manner to cause theatre-goers to laugh until they are well nigh exhausted, for from the moment the curtain rises on the first act there is not a dull moment in the entire show. The action is fast and furious and novelty follows in lightning rapidity. The play is produced under the direction of George M. Gatts, who has provided a handsome scenic environment and a chorus that will be the talk of the town. The book and lyrics are by John P. Mulgrew and Donald H. Bestor wrote the musical score.

SAW DRIVER OF WAGON.

Say He Told Them That He Had Been Sent to Address Which He Could Not Find.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Four workmen appeared at the municipal building yesterday and declared they had spoken with the driver of the death wagon that figured in the Wall Street explosion last Thursday.

The workmen said that five or ten minutes after a bomb, believed to have been place in the wagon, exploded, a man approached them when they were standing in front of a building being razed in the Wall Street district.

According to their story, the stranger said his horse and wagon had been blown up after he had left the vehicle to telephone his employer. He said he had been ordered to take building materials to Wall and Broad Streets, but he had been unable to find the indefinite address given him. After talking to the workmen he disappeared, they said.

The workmen employed by a house-wrecking concern, described the stranger as either a Slav or German, about five feet seven and weighing 160 to 170 pounds. He wore a dark blue serge suit, they said.

The workmen's story served to revive an early theory that the explosion may not have been due to a bomb plot, but to a collision between an automobile and a wagon filled with explosives.

THIS NEW WOMAN SHOCKED POLICEMAN

(Canadian Press)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 22.—A woman asked W. H. Scott, a policeman, how to reach an address the other evening. Scott told her.

"Thanks!" said the woman, and reaching into a pocket of her coat took out a plug of tobacco and bit off a chew. Scott, when he recovered sufficiently from the shock, arrested her on a charge of disturbing the peace. In the municipal court the case was dismissed.

"If women may vote why shouldn't they chew?" inquired the judge.

MACSWENEY STILL ALIVE.

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Lord Mayor MacSweney of Cork had a few hours of restful sleep last night, but was suffering severe pains in his head, and was very weak this morning, according to a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League at Brixton Prison.

Reports to the Home Office by the prison physician stated that there was no apparent change in his condition.

This is the 42nd day of his hunger-strike.

HOOK UNIQUE METHOD OF ENDING HIS LIFE.

SASKATOON, Sept. 23.—Leaping from the side of a G.T.P. locomotive that was travelling at 50 miles an hour, an unidentified man, apparently a foreigner, committed suicide near Arrow River, Manitoba, on Monday, according to members of the train crew on arrival here.

At a water tank, he climbed aboard the pilot of the engine, and when the train had gathered top speed, he crawled along the footboard and jumped. He was instantly killed.

(Canadian Press.)

CASE CLOSED GOR BELL TELEPHONE

NEXT SITTING WILL BE HELD IN NOVEMBER

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—The case for the Bell Telephone Company in support of its application for increased rates was concluded this morning.

Glyn Oster, counsel for the company stated that he might have to call one or two more witnesses, but generally speaking the company had finished. Only one witness was called this morning—H. G. Atwater, rate engineer for the American Telegraph and Telephone Company, with offices in New York, who testified to the method adopted in arriving at the proposed new rates.

Before the adjournment to-day, it was agreed that the interests opposing the application would be permitted to send a representative to New York to inspect Mr. Atwater's records and verify them.

The next sitting will probably be held in Toronto on 4th November.

APPEAL HEARD WEDNESDAY NEXT

SEVERAL PROVINCES WILL BE REPRESENTED AT HEARING

(Canadian Press.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.— A thorough discussion of the railway situation may be expected when the appeal is heard before the Cabinet next Wednesday against the ruling of the Railway Commission increasing freight and passenger rates. The provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan have both filed formal petition of appeal and from various authorities and organizations throughout the country have come intimations that they wish to be heard.

The grounds of appeal filed by the government of Manitoba are typical. It claims that applications for increase was made to the Railway Board by the Railway Association on behalf of railway companies and that the order was wrongly issued and ineffective, in that the Railway Act provides for applications by incorporated railway companies and not by associations.

WEDDING BELLS

JOHNSTON—BROOKS.

A quiet but very pretty wedding was solemnised at St. Mary's Church, Young's Point, on Tuesday morning at eight o'clock, when Miss Muriel (Geraldine) Brooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brooks, South Beach, became the bride of Mr. Elmer Johnston. The bride entered the prettily-decorated church to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Agnes Young, and looked very sweet in her wedding gown of navy blue tricotine, with French hat and sable furs, and carried a shower bouquet of roses. Miss Helen Brooks, the bride's sister, who acted as bridesmaid, was dressed in similar attire. Mr. Leonard Johnston, Peterborough, brother of the groom, was best man. Rev. Father Meagher, Lakefield, performed the ceremony, and sang the Nuptial Mass. During the Mass, Miss Lottie Kearney sang "O Salutaris," in excellent voice.

After the wedding ceremony the bridal party motored to South Beach, where in the spacious dining-room, prettily decorated, wedding breakfast was served. Rev. Father Meagher, in a nice address, proposed the health of the bride and groom. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston motored to Peterborough to catch the 12.04 p.m. train for Toronto, Rochester, and Buffalo. The presents, which were many and beautiful, included a cut-glass water set from St. Mary's choir, of which Miss Brooks was a valued member. On their return from the honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will reside at Young's Point.

McLEOD—HALL.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, Sept. 22, at 12 o'clock noon at Knox church, the Rev. Jas. A. Mackenzie officiating, when Keturah, daughter of Mr. George Hall, Dalhousie street, Peterborough, was united in marriage to Donald James McLeod, of Detroit, son of Mr. D. J. McLeod, Lake street, Peterborough. The church was tasefully decorated for the occasion with asters. The bride was given away by her father. The young couple were unattended, and during the signing of the register, which was witnessed by Miss Ella Hall, sister of the bride, and Mr. Wm. McGee, Miss Trucie Pearson sang "Until."

The guests then adjourned to the home of the bride, where a dainty luncheon was served. The couple left on the 3.20 train amid showers of confetti, and after spending a few days in Toronto will go on to Detroit where they will reside. The bride's going away suit was of navy blue with feather hat and beaver fur. She also wore the gift of the groom, a pearl necklace.

Among the out-of-town guests was Miss Anna Hall of Balsover. The bride received many useful and costly gifts, among which was a silver casserole from the choir of Knox church.

SULLIVAN—MAHONEY.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnibed at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning in the Church of the Sacred Heart, when Mary Kathereen Mahoney was united in marriage to Mr. Edward Sullivan. Rev. Fr. Corkery officiated.

The bride was attended by her sister, Elizabeth, while Mr. Steven O'Toole acted as best man.

The bride was attired in a navy blue travelling suit, with hat to match. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold pin set in pearls, and to the groomsman, gold cuff links.

After the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride, the happy couple left on the 7.35 train for Toronto, and on their return will reside in Peterborough.

They were the recipients of many useful and valuable presents, amongst them a cocoa set and cut glass berry bowl from the Brinton Carpet Factory.

THE YOM KIPPER WAS CELEBRATED

Yesterday was the Yom Kippur, the Jewish Day of Atonement. From sunset on Tuesday evening until sunset last evening, the observant Hebrew neither ate nor drank, but devoted the day to fervent worship.

The fast originated in Biblical times when the High Priest made atonement for the sins or Israel by means of sacrifices. Now prayers take the place of sacrifices. The day is devoted to prayers for the forgiveness of sins. The fasting is abrogated for old people, children, and the sick.

Huge Bomb found by Policemen on Brooklyn Station.

BELLEVILLE TO PLAY THE PETES

EXHIBITION GAME ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Jake Solomon received information this afternoon that the Belleville G. T. R. ball team would meet the Petes at Riverside Park at three o'clock Saturday afternoon in an exhibition game. Goyer, it is expected, will travel here with the team and do the heaving, but Solomon has not announced his pitcher. The announcement of this game will be welcome news not only to the fans, but to the Peterborough team, who need the workout for their game next Saturday in Hamilton. There will be no delay in getting under way as Belleville are to arrive here at 1 o'clock sharp.

Belleville and Peterborough fought hard for the Central Ontario championship and the fans should see a live game to-morrow and especially as this will be the last exhibition game of the season here a monster crowd should be on hand and support the team.

SHOE PRICES ARE ON THE TOBOGGAN

HIDES ARE ALMOST UNSALEABLE —JOBBERS LOOSENING UP

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—An investigation of the shoe market to-day showed that middle and low priced stocks are on a rapid decline.

There are many shoe sales now being featured among down-town shops. The retail market for the very highest priced shoes seems to be holding up, with the sales to be near the minimum.

Retailers, it is stated, have been cancelling orders for months, and the jobbers have been offering stocks at losses of from twenty to thirty-three per cent., and not a few manufacturers have made similar cuts as an inducement to retailers to accept shipments.

Hides which sold at prices ranging between fifty and sixty cents per pound in Toronto a year ago, are to-day practically unsaleable.

The highest price which dealers are paying, where sales are recorded, is around twelve to twenty cents.

"It's About Time Now the I. O. D. E. Did Something For the Empire"

(MRS. W. VANCE, AT THE I.O.D.E. CONVENTION)

THE DISTRICT CONVENTION DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE HELD IN HAVELOCK FRIDAY

PETERBORO' CHAPTERS REPRESENTED AT THE MEETING—THE WAR MEMORIAL DISCUSSED—REPORTS FROM VARIOUS CHAPTERS—DELEGATES FROM THE DISTRICT.

In addressing the open meeting of the Daughters of the Empire last evening following the third annual district convention held in Havelock, Miss Joan Arnoldi, Toronto, spoke in the capacity of National President for the first time since her election to the office. She dwelt upon the organization, its aims and objects, which she said were particularly important. All members should understand the very necessary work of proselytizing. She also went very carefully into the question of the war memorial of the I.O.D.E.

Mrs J. A. Stewart, of Perth, National Organizing Secretary of the I. O.D.E., who also addressed the meeting, said in the course of her remarks that while some chapters have an inclination to disband, there is really more need for patriotic work to-day than ever before and urged members of senior chapters to promote the organization of primary chapters amongst the young people that British spirit might not only be instilled in them, but that they might become trained in the constitution and aims of the order to become valuable members of the more advanced Chapters in the years to come.

The Progdamme.

During the evening a splendid musical programme was given to which Mrs. Walker contributed several vocal solos and Mrs. Emerson readings. Mrs. Dickson, First Vice-President of the Harry Lauder Chapter I.O.D.E., acted as chairman.

The Convention.

While the main theme dealt with at the convention was the war memorial, one striking fact was brought out very strongly, that the I.O.D.E. is still holding together for greater things and that while the membership of some of the chapters has undoubtedly fallen off with the advent of peace, those loyal ones who have remained are working for the Empire with renewed energy and accomplishing many patriotic ends.

The convention, which was held in the Orange Hall was opened by Mrs. W. Vance, Regent of the Harry Lauder Chapter, I.O.D.E. of Havelock, who in the course of a very able address assured the hundred delegates present that the entire convention must be conducted without formalities and that in the Order every member was equal. She cordially welcomed Miss Joan Arnoldi to the meeting, referring to her election to the highest executive office of the Order as the result of the choice of the Chapters of Canada, an office Miss Arnodi accepted because she was loyal to the Empire. Referring to the many pretexts of illness on the part of the members of Chapters who were unable to attend the convention, Mrs. Vance said: "One great sacrifice we women will be called upon to make now that we have the franchise is to forget all about our health." Later when speaking of the call for practical loyalty in the Dominion she remarked: "We have sung about the Empire, bragged about the Empire and written about the Empire; it's about time now we did something for the Empire." In conclusion she announced that Mrs. Burkeholder of Toronto, and Miss Gordon were unable to attend the convention, having missed the train at noon.

The Reports.

Following Mrs. Vance's address the reports all of which indicated increased prosperity and a devotion to patriotism were read. Several referred to the donation of large sums to the War Memorial.

The Havelock Harry Lauder Chapter report read by Mrs. Nellie Haig, showed a membership of 37, the sum of $535 raised during the year and a balance of $100 on hand.

In presenting the report of the Otonabee Chapter, Mrs. J. H. Seels, of Peterborough, said that there are now 86 members enrolled and that $892.52 had been raised during the year by different social functions, bazaars, etc.

The report of the Peter Robinson Chapter, I.O.D.E., Peterborough, presented by Miss Margaret English, showed a balance of $587.15 in the trasury and a Victory Bond for $500.

The 57th Chapter, Peterborough, presented by Mrs. Bruce Gillespie, showed an unusual amount of voluntary giving.

The 40th Northumberland Chapter, Norwood report, presented by Mrs. W. Puffer, showed $765 raised during the year and a balance of $260.47 in the treasury.

The Campbellford Chapter report, read by Mrs. Dr. Haig, showed a membership of 55, a balance on hand of $311.49 and $100 given to the town for a bowling green, the first municipal donation ever made by the Chapter.

ANOTHER DROP IN PRICE OF SUGAR

(Canadian Press)

MONTREAL, Sept. 25.—It was learned here yesterday in wholesale sugar circles that all the Canadian sugar refineries will announce on Monday substantial reductions in all grades of refined sugar.

The drop in price that is being planned will it is understood consist of a reduction of a cent pound on granulated and all other grades or refined sugar.

It is learned that this reduction is not the result of concerted action on the part of the sugar refiners, as was the case when the last drop was made but is due to independent action by one refinery.

Big Bank Collapse

THE FIFTH BANK TO BE CLOSED WITHIN THE LAST FIVE WEEKS

(Canadian Press.)

BOSTON, Sept. 25.—The Cosmopolitan Trust Company of this city with savings and banking department and agencies abroad, was closed by Bank Commissioner Allen at nine o'clock this morning.

The Cosmopolitan is the fifth bank here to be closed in the past five weeks. The first of these was the Hanover Trust Co., which went to the wall with the collapse of the get-rich-quick schemes of Charles Ponzi, its largest individual depositor.

The Prudential Trust Company was closed later, as were two smaller private banks.

THE MAIN ARCH IS NEARING A FINISH

WORK IS PROCEEDING RAPIDLY UNDER IDEAL CONDITIONS

The cement pouring on the central span of the Hunter Street Bridge will be finished next week, probably about Wednesday or Thursday. The work has progressed more rapidly than the engineers anticipated. The weather man has smiled serenly on the Hunter Street Bridge, and because of this, and because there have been no delays in procuring material, and because of the way the men have thrown themselves whole-heartedly into the work, now that the construction is on the home stretch, the concrete will have been poured in two weeks or less. The cement is being poured from both ends of the span towards the centre, which was first poured. Mixers are running on both sides of the river, and the cement is brought from them to the mouth of the "shoots" and is run down into the cribs below.

The fourth and fifth arches on the west side of the river will be poured in about two weeks after the central span is finished. The forms for the fifth span will be put up in a few days, it was stated at the bridge, and the pouring will not take long, and in a few weeks one will be able to cross the river on the Hunter Street Bridge. Although the spans will all be up, and the rough construction work finished, there will be a great deal of work to be done on it yet that will take considerable time. Filling must be done on the road bed, railings put up, and all of the finishing touches put on the structure.

The dream of East City residents is fast becoming a reality, and it is no small pleasure for the inhabitants of Ashburnham as they trudge over the wooden temporary structure to work two or four times a day, to imagine themselves being whirled along in a street car over the new bridge practically right from their homes to the shops, stores or offices where they are employed.

LABOUR BUREAU HAD QUIET WEEK

The Labour Bureau had a comparatively quiet week, the lumbering interests creating the chief demand for help, and five men were sent to the camps.

During the week 37 applications for help were fyled and 29 men placed locally. Twenty-five vacancies were reported, principally for laborers and lumber men.

The female department remains quiet.

RATEPAYERS WILL BE ASKED TO MAKE ANOTHER SUBSTANTIAL CONTRIBUTION TOWARDS CONSTRUCTION OF OVERHEAD BRIDGE

COUNCIL IS GETTING ALL GROOMED UP FOR THE MOMENTOUS EVENT—SUM REQUIRED TO FINISH THE STRUCTURE WILL BE ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS OR OVER

A special meeting of the City Council was called for last evening to follow the meetings of the Fire, Water and Light, and Railway Committees, but after the council had held a conclave in the committee at which the discussion seemed rather constrained it was decided to leave the matter of funds for the Hunter street monument, which was the sole business before the Council, over until Monday night.

It is evident that the finances of the work which will perpetuate the memory of the council, are again giving trouble. Another appeal will be made to the people for funds, but this time the Council is determined to place the exact figures as to what it will cost to finish the bridge, before the people. The contractors will be summoned before the meeting on Monday night and asked to provide these figures.

The City Fathers are evidently satisfied with the progress which is being made at present in the work of spanning the Otonabee River at Hunter street with a bridge. At the meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee last evening, an allusion to the bridge evoked expressions of satisfaction from several of the Aldermen regarding the progress of the work yesterday.

The amount required will be at least one hundred thousand dollars and another ten or fifteen thousand may have to be added as a guarantee of good measure if the bridge is to be brought to a successful completion.

THE COMMITTEE DEALS WITH MATTER OF UNION STATION FOR THIS CITY

A CONFERENCE WILL BE ARRANGED WITH REPRESENTATIVES OF THE RAILWAYS — NEW SIDING FOR G. T. R.

The matter of securing a suitable site for the proposed union railway station was brought up at the meeting of the Railway committee of the City Council last evening and on motion of Ald. Turner, seconded by Ald. Crowe, the chairman was authorized to arrange for a conference with representatives of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Grand Trunk Railway as soon as possible.

G.T.R. Propose New Siding.

A communication was received from the Grand Trunk Railway, accompanied by blue prints, asking the sanction of the city to the construction of a new siding. The proposed siding is to extend from Bethune street between Townsend and Rink streets to Aylmer street at Perry. Trains could pick up cars from this siding, the communication pointed out, and thus obviate the necessity of so much shunting on Bethune street, at once being a convenience to the railway and a remedy for the annoyance of which Bethune street residents have complained so long.

Ald. Whitehouse called the attention of the committee to the fact that the proposed siding would interfere with the water drain at the corner of Perry and Aylmer streets.

It was finally decided on motion of Ald. Gordon to communicate with the railway to ascertain if the city sanctioned the proposal that the railway would provide facility for carrying surface water through the drain on the north side of Perry street at Aylmer street.

Members Present.

Ald. Gainey (chairman), Gordon, Whitehouse, Crowe.

MRS. GROVER KERR TO BE REWARDED

WILL BE PRESENTED WITH HUMANE SOCIETY MEDAL

In recognition of her brave action in saving a small boy named Sayer from drowning last June, Mrs. Grover Kerr, of Hastings, will be presented with the Royal Humane Society medal at Hastings on Wednesday evening next.

The circumstances under which the rescue was effected were unusual. Hearing desperate calls for help, Mrs. Kerr rushed to the river's edge and found the little boy had gone down in nine feet of water. She quickly secured a punt and rowed to the place she judged he would be, but with unusual presence of mind, refrained from diving for him, fearing that in so doing she might dive on top of him and cause him to sink beyond hope of recovery. At the time of his last rising she jumped into the water fully dressed and caught the struggling child, bringing him safely to land.

PROMISING OPENING FOR NEW LEADER SHOE SHOP

The opening of the new "Leader" Shoe Shop this morning at 291 George street, was attended with very satisfactory encouragement. The full assortment of stock had not been received in time for the first opening day, but the select range of new styles shown, gave indication of the qualities and prices.

The attendance of ladies during the morning and the gratifying sales bespoke a busy afternoon and evening. The prices were such as to cause the shoppers some wondernent and the sacrificing of profits seems to be the business policy for the opening day.

CHILDREN'S AID TAG DAY, OCT. 9

The society's expenses have considerably increased this year, but in every confidence that the organization's many friends will not permit it to fall behind financially, the management is pleading for a very liberal response on Children's Aid Tag Day, October 9th.

Mr. Geo. W. Powell, the society's agent, reports that the last two tag days netted some $1,500 each, and he is hoping that this amount will be exceeded next month.

Then there are many ways in which the public can assist this worthy cause besides contributing money. For instance, parents, when clothing their boy or girl anew might send the old garments to 588 George street, or 1013 Water street, as they would probably come in useful for Shelter children. Farmers, also, who know the value of Children's Aid boys, frequently have left on their hands a small portion of the load of produce they bring to town, and it would be appreciated were they to leave it at the Shelter instead of carting it home, again.

Mr. Powell gratefully acknowledges donations from local fruit dealers of a portion of their surplus stock, and he confidently looks forward to next Tag Day breaking all previous records.

REFUSES TO QUIT SING SING JAIL

OSSINING. — Officials of Sing announced that they were making preparations to throw Charles Ortner, a stubborn inmate, out of prison. He could not be coaxed to leave.

Ortner was eligible for parole nearly two years ago, but refused all invitations to sign his parole application and leave. He received an indeterminate sentence of from two to four years.

When his minimum sentence expired, nearly two years ago, Warden William H. Moyer tried to induce Ortner to sign a parole application and leave Sing Sing. He refused to sign anything. Later aWrden Edward Brophy called him to go home.

"The judge said two to four years," protested Ortner, "and nothing about signing anything. So I will not sign; I'm perfectly contented here."

Maj. Lewis E. Lawes, the warden, admitted that Sing Sing officials have given up all hope of getting rid of Ortner by peaceful persuasion.

"His time is nearly up," said Maj. Lawes, "and we are going to put him out bodily."

FLOUR PRICES DROPPED TWO DOLLAR A BARREL ON CHICAGO MARKET

MAIL ORDER HOUSES HAVE REFUNDED FIVE MILLION DOLLARS ON CATALOGUE GOODS

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Flour fell into step with the general decline in prices yesterday, with a drop of $2.00 per barrel. This follows a decrease in the price of wheat, which declined 11 cents on December and 12½ cents on March.

All the Chicago mail order houses announce reductions of 10 to 30 per cent. from their July prices, covering a wide range of goods.

The largest of these mail order houses states it has already refunded $5,000,000 in difference between the July catalogue prices and the reductions that have been made since then.

Corn, hogs, cattle, and sheep are all lower. There are reports in steel trade circles that buyers are obtaining concessions over the prices prevailing a few weeks ago, and that there is less difficulty in getting quick delivery.

BRITISH CAPITAL IS COMING TO CANADA.

Hundreds of Thousands of Pounds Awaiting Opportunities.

(Canadian Press).

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—There are hundreds of thousands of pounds of British capital being held awaiting favourable opportunities for investment in Canada, and these funds will be sent across the Atlantic as soon as the exchange problem has righted itself sufficiently to appeal to British investors, according to J. A. Robb, M.P. for Huntingdon, Que., who has recently returned from a trip to Great Britain.

High taxes being placed on idle capital in Britain are responsible for a desire to invest in Canada, Mr. Robb stated, saying that it would be necessary for Canada to exercise caution and refrain from penalizing investors too heavily by way of taxes which could be avoided. Otherwise, he thought investors would be driven to seek other fields for the employment of their capital.

MACSWENEY HAD A FEW HOURS OF SLEEP.

(Canadian Press).

LONDON, Sept. 25. — The Lord Mayor of Cork passed a better night at Brixton Prison last night, and, consequently, was more refreshed this morning, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League this forenoon. MacSweney had a few hours of sleep, but was said to be in a state of extreme weakness and able to whisper only a couple of words to relatives who visited him. The severity of pains in his head, from which he suffered yesterday, was decreased, it was said.

DROP IN PRICE FOR CARS CAUSES COMMITTEE DELAY PURCHASE OF NEW ONE

FIRE DEPARTMENT CAR WILL BE TURNED OVER TO THE SANITARY INSPECTOR IN ALL ITS RADIANT GLORY — ALD. GORDON DIS. COVERS REASON FOR PAPER SHORTNGE.

The matter of purchasing a new car for the Fire Chief was brought up at the meeting of the Fire, Water and Light committee last evening, but was left undecided. The car in use by the Chief at present has seen nearly four years' service and is too light for the work required of it. The committee has an oportunity to buy a heavier car at a discount, but the landslide in car prices which has started has raised doubts in the minds of some of the city fathers as to whether a car could not be purchased at a greater saving by waiting a few months. Ald. Whitehouse proposed that the old car be turned over to Sanitary Inspector Stapleton.

Ald. Jones pointed out that if there was a smash-up with the present car, and in its present state it is said that this is not unlikely, it would be worth nothing. Consequently he was of the opinion that a new car should be purchased at once. "If we have a big appropriation for a new fire hall next year, we may not have enough to purchase a car with then," he remarked.

Ald. Morrison—"It's quite true that price of the car would be only a drop in the bucket on the bridge."

Ald. Whitehouse was of the opinion that Sanitary Inspector Stapleton was in need of a car. Ald. Jones stated that the Sanitary Inspector had almost as much use for a car as the police department.

The matter was left over for further investigation.

Illumination For Market Clock.

Ald. Whitehouse reported that he was securing estimates for the painting of the dial and the illumination of the market clock.

Lights For Nicholls Oval.

A petition, which from the profusion of signatures led Ald. Gordon to remark that now one could understand the reason for the paper shortage, was received from residents of the north-east section of the city asking that lights be placed in Nicholls Oval. It stated that the Oval was used by many residents of that district as the shortest way to and from the rest of the city. It developed that the permission of the Nicholls estate was necessary and the matter was left over for investigation.

More Lights.

Another petition was received from the residents of Munro avenue, stating that the street is entirely without lights and asking that lights be provided.

Ald. Whitehouse— "That is a part of the city that has not been looked after very well."

The chairman was authorized to see that the lights required are placed.

Lights For Market Square.

Ald. Morrison was observant on his way to the committee meeting last evening and the darkness of the Market Place and surrounding area attracted his attention and disfavour. As a result he suggested that the present lights, which are of 40 watt power be increased to 100 watt. He was authorized to remedy the existing condition as he saw fit.

Burning of Leaves.

A communication was received from Fire Chief Grange suggesting that

WILL DEMONSTRATE GLOVER TREATMENT

OTTAWA, Sept. 25.—Dr. T. J. Glover has been asked by the Dominion Department of Public Health, and has consented, to demonstrate his serum for cancer before the Academy of Medicine in Toronto.

He will appear, it is stated, before the whole Academy, and will disclose the nature of his discovery, and tell of the results attained from it.

A committee of the Academy will then likely be appointed to study the information given by the young physician.

The Public Health Department has, for weeks past, been receiving numerous letters asking for information about the Glover method of treatment.

Reflected In Market

LOWER PRICE MOVEMENT PROMISES TO ASSUME LARGE DIMENSIONS

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 25—Indications of a general reduction of commodity prices precipitated sharp reaction among industrial shares on the stock exchange this week. The setback was especially noteworthy, because of the relative strength of low-priced rails.

Wall Street believe that the new price-smashing movement is likely to assume much wider dimensions than the campaign of last spring, which was limited largely to retailers. To more recent price revisions were added several dividend reductions or absolute suspensions. For example, that of the Central Leather Company.

Surveys of the steel and copper trades were of a less hopeful character, opinion apparently inclining to the early decrease of production in both industries, with the inevitable reduction of the prevailing price schedules. Buying of cheaper rails was accompanied by circumstantial reports of prospective mergers or consolidations. These received scant credit in well informed quarters, where the movement was mainly attributed to speculative interests.

Call money was plentiful at 7 per cent., although a few loans were made at an advance of 1 per cent. of that quotation. Time money was increasingly scarce, and leading rates of exchange failed to reflect in the slightest degree renewed assurance of payment at maturity of Anglo-French loans.

ENGLISH YEARLINGS BRING BIG PRICES

The London Post says: "Seldom has Doncaster Sale Paddock presented such a scene of animation as it did when the beautifully-bred youngsters from the famous Sledmere Stud including two sons of The Tetrarch, the sire of Caligula, winner of the St. Leger, were put up for sale. From Mr. Prior's lots Lord Lascelles got a colt by Torloisk out of Larkspur II. for 1,100 gs. and for 1,600 gs. a Corcyra filly out of Whinstone, and therefore a half-sister to Chaud, another staying Tetrarch, the winner of the Grand Auteuil Hurdle Race. Mr. David Cooper's colt by Canobie out of Eager Agnes is a rare made one, and Major Bailey Worthington had to go to 2,100 gs. to obtain possession. As the Sheffield Lane Paddocks for housing purposes, the colt by Friar Marcus out of My Honey was the last yearling to be offered for sale there. A very compact youngster he is, and Mr. Joseph Benson went to 1,200 gs. for him. Lord Lascelles gave Mrs. Plummer 1,715 gs. for a peculiarly-marked white spotted filly by Aleppo out of Marlborough.

Racers in the Making.

When Lady Syke's crack youngster by The Tetrarch out of Blue Tit was led into the ring he was eagerly scanned. A half-brother to Blue Dun, who has done so well this season, he has a small white star on the forehead, and some black spots on the side and quarters, and he has one white heel." Mr. Tattersall remarked that though his half-brother Westward Ho, who made 11,500 gs. last year had not yet been seen on a race course, he had heard that the horse shows great promise. The first bid for the Sledmere colt was 5,000 gs., and thence afterwards onwards biddings reached 14,500 gs. before, amidst cheering, the hammer fell to Lord Glanely's nod. This is a record price for a yearling in any country.

Writing about him in the Morning Post, "Watchman," who paid a visit to Sledmere, just after the Stockton meeting, said: "He arrests attention by his easy swinging walk, which suggests that he is going to make a rare galloper. An April foal, he is well grown, and in his three-year-old days he will surely be not far short of 16.2 hands. You cannot find fault with his make and shape, and the impression of perfect symmetry he gives when on the move is confirmed when he is looked over in the box; but I like him best in the open, as then you can appreciate his exceptional liberty and range. He is a yearling of the first order, and if his half-brother Westward Ho was worth 11,500 gs., this youngster is worth no less. Whether he will approach that amazing figure depends very much on whether yearling buyers are prepared to go so high, as they did twelve months ago." The Blue Tit colt now joins the stable of his half-brother, Westward Ho.

The other Tetrarch colt, out of Honora, dam of Lemonora, the Champagne Stakes winner, followed in the sale ring, and it was not until 6,600 gs. had been reached that Mr. Martin Hartigan got him. According to our Racing Correspondent, "he does not lose much by comparison with the Blue Titcolt, and if one prefers the latter it is because he has a trifle more range and scope, but the Honora colt is a grand youngster, exhibiting unusual power, bone, and substance. His dam is a Callinule mare, a grand-daughter of the Earl of Stamford's 1882 Oaks winner, Gehelmniss, and I am prepared to find some good judges liking him as well as his half-brother." The next youngster to engage attention was the Sunstar filly out of Rock Garden, and he went to Mr. Botterill for 3,000 gs. Mr. Joseph Watson paid a similar price for a Son-in-Law filly out of Lady Josephine. The name of a new buyer was announced in Mr. Preston, who gave 5,600 and 2,600 gs. for two Charles O'Malley fillies. If appearances go for anything they will repay the outlay. Another Charles O'Malley, out of the speedy Stolen Kiss, who won 10 races, went to Lord Lascelles for 6,800 gs. As was the case last ear, each lot realized four figures, the total being 54,650 gr., a wonderful average of 4,264 gs. Mr. Robert Whitworth obtained 7,400 gs. for nine, the highest prices being given by Sir Edward Hulton and Mr. Felix Leach. The total sum obtained for the seventy-two lots which changed hands was 94,075 gs.

MUST PROTECT LIFE.

LINDSAY, Sept. 24.—At yesterday morning's session of the Police Court, stiff fines were imposed by Magistrate Bradford on the owners of the horse, as well as the owner of a car, who staged a race on Lindsay Street South on the evening of 13th September. The former was fined $30.00, and costs, and the latter $10.00, and costs. The owner of the horse pleaded guilty, claiming the animal got beyond his control, but the evidence of the witnesses went to show that he let the horse go the limit.

The driver of the car swore that he believed the driver of the horse had had a runaway, and he put on speed to avoid a run-in.

Magistrate Bradford said he believed the driver of the horse was more to blame than the owner of the car. Human life must be protected, he declared, and he was determined to discourage excessive speeding.

WAR MEMORIAL IN PRINCE EDWARD COUNTY.

Prince Edward County's handsome war memorial to her young men who served in the late war was unveiled this (Tuesday) morning. The unveiling was performed by Brig.-Gen. King, G.O.C. M.D No. 3, and addresses were given by Major-General Sir A. C. Macdonell and Brig.-Gen. A. E. Ross. Lieut.-Col. Alex. Gordon, and the Rev. Major A. H. Creeggan, of Deseronto, conducted the devotional exercises. The R.C.H.A. band, under Capt. Light, were present.

Warden Hazel extended invitations to Warden Parks and the other members of the Frontenac County Council to attend.

ALDERMEN MODEST WHEN IT COMES TO DECLARING THEIR INTENTIONS

ALD. J. J. TURNER WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE NEXT YEAR---OTHERS HAVE NOT COME TO A DECISION---MAYOR M'INTYRE RECALLS THE MAYORALTY CUSTOM

With the exception of Ald. J. J. Turner, the members of the City Council evidently do not begin considering such matters as their standing for re-election until the eleventh hour. The Examiner has canvassed the members of the Council whose terms expire this year, and sounded them as to their intention of aspiring for aldermanic honours again in January. All except Ald. Turner and Ald. James Hamilton, who is out of the city, stated that it was too early as yet for them to say.

Mayor A. A. McIntyre—"I have not given the matter any consideration. Of course you know what the custom is as regards a second term."

Ald. J. J. Turner—"I do not intend to stand for re-election."

Ald. H. Gainey—"It is too early for me to say as yet. The elections are nearly three months away, and what may turn up in the meantime remains to be seen."

Ald. Joseph Crowe—"It is too early for me to say."

Ald. Robert Morrison—"It is too early yet for me to say definitely, but I am not anxious to run again."

W. H. Taylor, ex-Ald., Mayor-elect this year, and according to rumour an aspirant for aldermanic honours—"I have not thought of it yet. It is a little early." (Pause). "However, I suppose it will soon be time to think of such matters."

PETERBORO' HAS A LARGE NUMBER OF 'PHONE USERS

ONE TELEPHONE IN SEVEN IS THE RATIO HERE---MANY PRIVATE EXCHANGES

If the ratio of telephones to the population is any criterion of the prosperity of a community, Peterborough can be considered well above the average of Canada in point of prosperity.

In Peterborough there is one telephone among every seven people, while the average of the Dominion is one telephone among every ten people, according to the figures which the Bell Telephone Company presented to the Railway Board in its application for increased rates.

There are approximately 3,300 telephones in operation in the city of Peterborough, in addition to 331 private exchanges. The number of private exchanges in operation here is exceptionally high in proportion to the population, G. O. Cameron, local manager of the Bell Telephone Company, told The Examiner.

200 WOMEN SAIL IN SEARCH OF HUSBANDS

LEAVE ENGLAND FOR NEW ZEALAND --SAY ENGLISHMEN CHANGED

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 25.—The good ship Tainui, flying the British flag left her mooring here Thursday on the second leg of her journey for a matrimonial paradise for 200 young women on board. The Tainui is bound from London, via the Panama Canal, to New Zealand, where these young women hope to find husbands.

"We are going to New Zealand to get married, if we can find the right kind of husbands," said Miss Ruth Mace, one of the women in search of a husband.

"We are not looking for wealthy men. We want to help to build up a good home and a good nation. We are willing to share the troubles of our husbands. We will do our share of the work, and we want, above all to be real women."

"Miss Mace said the 200 women of the Tainui was the first large "draft" to leave England in search of mates

"There are few marriageable men in England," she said. "Most of those who could get married don't want to burden themselves with a wife. They find life too easy as it is. An Englishman to-day is not like the Englishman of 1913. They do not want to settle down and help to build up a home.

"Women ,too, are not as modest as they were, and they are so overwhelmingly in the majority they almost bid for the attention of men."

HAVE SCHOOL CLASS FOR YOUNG GIRL WIVES

Proposal Made to Detroit Board of Education by Supervisor.

DETROIT, Sept. 24.— Establishment of a special brides' class as an adjunct to the public school system is urged in recommendations made to the Detroit Board of Education by Arthur F. Lederle, Supervisor of Attendance. Many girls of 14 and 15 get married with the principal purpose of avoiding arduous school training, according to Mr. Lederle, who adds that the child brides, for the most part, are woefully deficient in education.

In Need of Training.

These wives of tender years are especially in need of training in domestic science such as cooking, housework, and, most of all, care of babies. In his letter, Supervisor Lederle says:

"I respectfully recommend that a special class be established for married girls as soon as possible. During the past year we have had 28 girls under sixteen years of age who were married.

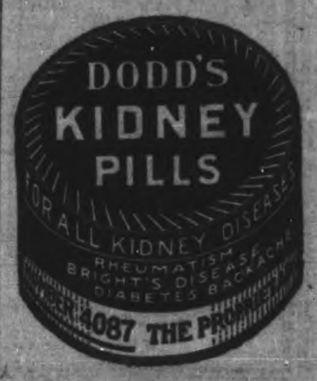
Must Go to School.

"Judge Hurlburt has ruled these girls must return to school, but it does not seem wise to have them in regular school, and I believe that they can be very profitably employed in a special class.

"As long as marriage laws exist as they are at present, and are enforced as they are at present, there will continue to be a number of child marriages, and in most cases girls who marry so young are in special need of educational training."

WAR TROPHY INSIGNIFICANT.

The little trench mortar apportioned to this village, says the Beaverton Express, by the distributor of war trophies, came to hand on Friday from Ottawa. The affair is too insignificant to be worthy of comment, suffice to say that the people of Beaverton are looking for something a trifle more pretentious than the pop-gun sent here after the numerous promises made to the village.



PETERBORO' MILLINERS DO NOT LOOK FOR A DROP IN MILLINERY PRICES

MADAME FARMER FROM PETERBORO' COUNTY IS IN THE RING FOR A HIGH-PRICED HAT—TAKES LESS BUTTER AND EGGS TO PAY FOR A GOOD LAY-OUT.

"Those of the fair sex who have been looking forward to a drop in price in millinery are foredoomed to disappointment," a traveller for one of the big Montreal millinery houses told the Examiner yesterday. Everything in connection with the millinery trade is steadily on the upward trend and likely to keep going as long as milady will have the best of everything on her bonnet.

The local millinery establishments confirmed the traveller's story, and told mournful tales of the high prices they must pay for velvet, gold cloth and plush, each of which will form the basis of this season's hats, and also enlarged upon the high price of help—wages paid to the milliners having practically doubled since the war.

Cheap Hats no Longer.

The day of cheap hats is over, one milliner said. Previous to the advent of high wages to the many, and high prices for butter and eggs to the farmer's wife, $3 and $4 hats were turned out with the rapidity of Ford cars, and they satisfied the majority of the customers. To-day however it is only the odd customer who looks for or who seeks to pay less than at least $8, and most of the buyers are willing to pay as high as $10. Fifteen dollars is considered an average price for a dress hat and is not considered anything out of the way.

Farm Women are Particular.

A few years ago, one milliner said, when a farm woman came, after days of consideration and adverse advice, to the conclusion she might have a new hat or bonnet, the whole family, including the farmer himself, accompanied her to the millinery establishment and a consultation held upon the hats considered. When one was at last chosen, with fearful enquiries as to the price, the family set about mentally subtracting odd pieces of trimming in an effort to bring down the price of the hat. After hours of effort on the part of the milliner, a hat originally priced at perhaps $3.75 was reduced, minus the so-called superfluous pieces of trimming to $2.80, and the purchaser returned to the farm with a fluttering heart wondering if the old hat might not have done for one year more.

To-day, however, a touring car drives up at the milliner's door, and Madame Farmer alights with the equivalent of forty dozen eggs and forty pounds of butter which she extracted from a whining multitude, and announces she wants some little hat as she simply must get something before the next meeting of the U.F.W.O. No hurried search for a cheap hat is made by the milliner. Quite the contrary. The best is produced, and after Madame Farmer has recovered from feigning shocked surprise at the sum named, she comes across with $10 or $12 and a couple more for an additional plume, peels off a slight fraction of the roll and proceeds to the dressmaker.

Same Everywhere.

It is the same with all people, the milliner said. The day of makeshift in the hat line has passed into history. Some few endeavur to manufacture home made hats, which do for a few days until the wearers see what their sisters are buying, and the home made bonnet is consigned to the flames or to the shelf, pending a rainy day.

This Year's Styles.

The milliners are to-day showing every variety of hat and it would be useless to say that any particular style is the right style. Turbans of costly gold cloth with equally costly embroideries are being shown a great deal while the tam effect is equally popular. The most popular system of trimming is a very small amount of ostrich feather. Even the expensive dress hats depend more upon the lines and material of which the hat is constructed than upon trimming otherwise than a few deft touches of ostrich or priceless ribbon.

ACTION NEEDED.

The Gregory report on conditions in Northern Ontario cannot be ignored by Attorney General Raney. The conditions outlined by Mr. Gregory as a result of the first-hand investigation of his commission, are serious enough to warrant prompt and decisive action by the Attorney-General's Department. The report declares that lawlessness thrives in many sections, tht the Ontario Temperance Act is being broken on every side, and that the robbing of railway cars is a frequent occurrence. There is little to be wondered at when it is realized that in one section of territory over 600 miles long, one magistrate and only two Provincial policemen are the sole representatives of law and order. It is claimed, too, that the Canadian National Railway police are derelict in their duty, especially as regards the enforcement of the Ontario Temperance Act. The whole report calls for speedy attention by the Ontario government and while a permanent policy of reform is being considered, there should be a larger force of Provincial police placed on duty in the districts referred to by Mr. Gregory. The matter has been neglected too long and prompt steps should be taken to deal with the situation.

THE BASEBALL SCANDAL.

The scandal that has developed in professional baseball circles as a result of charges that a number of well known players, tempted by the bribes of a coterie of gamblers, were traitors to their team, and in sporting parlance "threw the game," should not be a cause for surprise. Rather should there be wonder that in a game that involves such huge sums of money as does professional baseball that there have not been many such charges. When the gambling element puts its dirty hands upon any game the result is bound to be disastrous. The gambler—and by that title we do not mean the man who wagers on his favourite team as a matter of sentiment or of endorsing his opinion, but rather the individual who makes a business of betting for the money that is in it—never takes a chance if he can help it. His favourite plan is to stake his money on a sure thing. If it is a prize fight he endeavours to secure a "cooked up" match; if a horse race he tries to arrange a crooked contest. And naturally when he wants to bet on a ball game his desire is to remove all element of risk from his wager. Many attempts have been made to bribe professional baseball players and it speaks volumes for the honesty of the great majority of the diamond athletes that charges against their integrity have been seldom heard. For the temptation is great. The veteran player who realizes that his days of big salaries for his work on the diamond are nearly over and that he must seek some other occupation in life must be sorely tried when large sums of money are offered to him to throw down his team. It is a matter for congratulation that few of them have yielded to the temptation.

EXPERT MANAGEMENT.

One of the spots where the Bolshevist shoe pinches the hardest is revealed by the news from Italy that the workmen who have seized a larged number of factories with the intention of running them on Bolshevik lines have had to kidnap experts and imprison them in the works to keep them going.

It has taken the would-be Bolshevists of Italy only a few days to discover that it takes something more than muscles to carry on organized industry or productive industry of any sort. Like their brothers of Russia, they inaugurated their campaign of workmen's control of industrial establishments on the gay assumption that the workmen would furnish all the expert talent that would be needed.

The shrinkage in production and employment by 30 per cent. in a few days has shown these queer "idealists" that an industry must have managers, and that the workers cannot supply that need from their own ranks. But, as the experts declined to return to the factories voluntarily, the embryo "reds" have resorted to the method of abducting the managers and making them manage, willy-nilly.

The desperate hunt for experts by the Italian seizers of private property constitutes an important confession of the essential weakness of the entire Bolshevist industrial and political theory.

And yet thousands of American workmen, presumably more enlightened and certainly far better treated than their brothers of Italy and of Russia, have plainly revealed similar short-sightedness and fatuity.

In attempting to dictate to managers just how they shall manage—and to dictate in defiance of all economic laws — the radicals in the ranks of American labour are marching on the path that has led to failure and disaster in both Italy and Russia.

There is little difference between the Italian process of kidnapping a manager and making him manage and the radical Americans' method of tying a manager's hands by all sorts of restrictions and still expecting him to manage.—Evening Mail, N. Y.

FIRE PREVENTION DAY.

Canada's fire loss is so great each year, and the majority of the fires are so evidently due to rank carelessness and lack of precaution, that every effort should be made to awaken the people to a realization of the situation and to arouse in their minds a sense of personal responsibility. The proclamation from the Governor-General, setting apart Saturday, Oct. 9th, as Fire Prevention Day, should therefore be loyally observed and a campaign of education inaugurated everywhere. The newspapers of Canada have not failed to appreciate the seriousness of the situation, and the topic of fire prevention has bulked largely, both in editorial and news columns, but even the influence of the press has failed to awaken the people. It is to be hoped that Fire Prevention Day this year will have better results.

The official bulletin of the Commission of Conservation, in discussing this matter, says:

"At a time of high building costs and acute scarcity of material, we are burning buildings at a criminal rate. Our fire loss of last year, viz., $23,500,000, or approximately $2.90 per capita, was the highest per capita in the world.

"Not only is this a complete loss of national wealth, but its replacement creates increased competition for available building supplies, thus enhancing prices for new building. How can we hope to overcome the housing shortage when, in Ontario alone, last year 5,804 dwellings were damaged or destroyed, causing a loss of $1,753,333? There were also 744 farm barns destroyed, at a loss of $1,189,906, of which $557,736 was uninsured.

"Lightning damaged or destroyed 1,102 buildings in Ontario, involving a loss of $506,885, of which $212,778 was not covered by insurance. None of these farm buildings was equipped with lightning rods, whereas but two buildings protected by lightning rods were damaged and these to the amount of $22 only.

"Matches were again responsible for the largest number of known fires, 1,148 in Ontario originating therefrom. Practically every fire due to matches is the result of carelessness.

"Public education and a recognition of personal responsibility are essential to a reduction of the fire waste. It is particularly essential to interest the younger generation, through the Canadian teachers, in the efforts being made towards a reduction of the fire loss.

"Fire Prevention Day will give a splendid opportunity for bringing this subject to the attention of pupils and should produce good results."

NOTABLE MASONIC VISITORS IN TORONTO

ALL PARTS OF EMPIRE REPRESENTED AT BIG GATHERING

TORONTO, Sept. 25.—What was probably the largest gathering of exalted members of the Masonic Craft ever seen in Toronto assembled at the special convocation of Grand Lodge at the Masonic Temple, Yonge Street Thursday night, to welcome and honor the distinguished brethren from Great Britain and the overseas Dominions, who have been attending the Congress of the Chambers of Commerce of the Empire. Including Lord Desborough, a P. G. J. W. of the Grand Lodge of England, there were a score of Grand Officers of the Craft guests of the Grand Lodge of Canada last night. They came from all parts of the Empire and were accorded the honors due their exalted rank.

Grand Lodge was formally opened by M. W. Bro. F. W. Harcourt, K. C., Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Canada, who was assisted by the officers. After the visitors had been received and felicitations exchanged R. W. Bros, Lord Desborough, Stanley Machin and A. Cecil Powell, of the Grand Lodge of England, and R. W. Bro. J. H. Sterling, of Antrim P. G. L., were made honorary members of the Grand Lodge of Canada, with the rank of G. J. W.

The fourth degree which followed was on a most elaborate scale. The big auditorium, which was converted into a dining hall, was profusely decorated with palms, ferns, flowers and Autumnal foliage. The toast list was commendably short. Bro. Sir Allan Aylesworth, K.C., in his address, warmly advocated the cultivation of more cordial relations with the people of Quebec. After honors had been accorded "the King", M. W. Bro. W. R. White, of Pembroke, proposed "The Visiting Grand Lodges of the Empire," which were responded to by R. W. Bros. Lord Desborough and Jas. H. Stirling, in a very humorous manner. Sir Allan Aylesworth proposed the toast of "The Empire and the Craft", and gave an historical review of the growth of the Empire. V. M. Bro. Stanley Machin, P. G. T., of England, W. Bro. Bernard Sugden G. J. W., of West Yorkshire, and V. M. Bro. Col. Ponton, K. C., Belleville, Ont., responded.

A splendid musical program was rendered by a quartette and visiting artists under the direction of Bros. Chas. Leslie.

In addition to the present Grand Lodge officers and the majority of the I. P. G. O.'s, the following members of the craft were noticed:—Sir William Hearst, H. H. Dewart, K.C., M. P.P., Hon. W. D. McPherson, Mr. Justice Hodgins, Mr. Justice Sutherland, Mr. Justice Masten, V. W. Bro J. O'Connor, Kenneth J. Dunstan, F. W. Inwood, E. T. Malone, K.C., A. J. Young, Henry T. Smith, R. W. Clewlo and the presiding officers of the majority of the City Lodges and R. A. Chapters.

RUSSIAN BANDITS BESIEGED IN BUSH.

Saskatchewan Police Drawing Cordon Tighter Around Desperadoes.

(Canadian Press).

REGINA, Sept. 24.—The five bandits who fired on a Provincial Police posse after it had raided the Red Deer lumber camp on Sunday are surrounded by a reinforced posse in a thick bush between Firmwood and Roscoe. A despatch received yesterday from Inspector Tait of the Prince Albert Division states that two of the bandits have been wounded. They are all Russians and are armed with automatics.

The five bandits now holding the police posse at bay near Roscoe are wanted in Ontario, according to a telegram received yesterday from the Ontario Provincial Police by the Saskatchewan Provincial Police, for a hold-up at Fort Frances on September 11. They are said to be the men who held up employees of the Lockhart Lumber Company near Fort Frances and got away with a number of cheques.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—"Alexander and Cicotte have nothing on my wife, when it comes to accurate hurling," said Ben Biederman, President of the Metropolitan Customs Garment Company, in his answer yesterday to a suit for divorce filed by Lena, his wife, last week.

He claims she threw dishes and other household articles at him with such dexterity and force that he narrowly escaped the fate of Ray Chapman. Yesterday he filed a cross bill, denying his wife's charges of desertion.

She alleges in her suit that he has an income exceeding $10,000 a year. must also be notified.

REFUSE TO AUTHORIZE BOUT BETWEEN BRENNAN AND DEMPSEY

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—The State Boxing Commission again to-day refused to authorize a bout in which Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion was to be one of the contenders Members of the commission said that Dempsey would be allowed to box in Massachusetts only against a logical contender for his title. The proposed bout which was turned down to-day was one betwen "Bill" Brennan and Dempsey, which was sought to transfer here after the New York Boxing Commission refused to issue a license for it within its jurisdiction at the present time.

ARCHBISHOP MANNIX ADMIRES ENGLISHMEN

URGES ENGLAND TO DECLARE HER BEST PROPOSITION FOR IRELAND

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Archbishop Mannix, in the course of a speech at the dinner tendered him by a number of Catholic dignataries last night, denied he was an agitator or hated Englishmen. He admired and respected Englishmen, he stated.

The Archbishop urged that if England would withdraw troops from Ireland and tell Ireland the most she was prepared to give, consistent with the safety of the Empire, Ireland would be reconciled, and peace and friendship would be restored.

The Archbishop also stated that if he went to Ireland, he would speak against discord, and promote peace.

SOVIET-POLISH PEACE NEARER

RUSSIAN'S PROPOSE ARMISTICE ---WITHDRAWS FIFTEEN CLAUSES SUBMITTED AT MINSK

(Canadian Press.)

RIGA, Sept. 24. — Adolph Joffe, head of the Soviet peace delegation, at to-day's session of the Russo-Polish peace conference, proposed an armistice, which he said must be accepted by the Poles within ten days, or a Russian winter campaign would be inaugurated, which, Joffe declared, the Soviet government desired to avoid.

M. Joffe preceded his proposal by offering to withdraw virtually all the fifteen peace points submitted at Minsk, to which the Poles objected. The terms eliminate practically all conditions to Sovietize Poland, and make the prospect of peace much brighter than hitherto.

CANADA'S FIRST WOMAN THEATRICAL MANAGER

MRS. TRESTRAIL, OF TORONTO, WILL PRODUCE PLAY IN CANADA

Mrs. M. A. Trestrail, known to the theatrical profession as May Anderson, who has made her home in Toronto for the last six years, is the first woman producing manager in Canada.

Mrs. Trestrail has just purchased the original New York production of George Tyler's comedy, "On the Hiring Line," in which May Irwin scored such a hit last season. The play has never appeared in Canada.

Mrs. Trestrail is in New York at the present time, where she has engaged her entire cast and is rehearsing for the opening at Oshawa on September 27, and from reports she is goin gto have a production that will be a great credit to this, her first venture in the producing field. She is not only directing and staging the production, but will appear in the role played by May Irwin last season.

Old-time theatre-goers will remember Mrs. Trestrail as May Anderson with the Old Cumming Stock at the former Princess Theatre in 1900. She has also played here with several road companies, and when her two boys settled in Toronto she decided to make her home here, and was Director of Dramatic Art at the Canadian Academy of Music for two seasons until one of her sons went to Fronce, when she went back in the profession to keep her time and attention from the war.

It has been the ambition of her life to produce her own show, but shew as determined never to do so until she could bring out a first-class New York production, and the success of her sons in this country having made that possible, she decided to make her tour exclusively Canadian, and will cover Canaad from Halifax to Vancouver, appearing in Toronto durin gthe week of October 4 at the rand Opera House.—Toronto Globe.

The show will appear at the Grand in Peterborough, October 1st.

SCARCITY OF GRASS IS A REAL TRAGEDY

Farmers Regard it as Not Merely Excuse to Raise Price of Milk.

(Canadian Press.)

LINDSAY, Sept. 24.—Owing to the pastures having failed in the vicinity of Bobcaygeon the milk production there has been seriously curtaled and the cheese factories of the district will close down at the end of this month in consequence.

Eleven head of cattle have died on the farm of Clarence Junkin, Verulam, and it is said they died virtually from starvation. The pasture having failed them they had turned into a swamp in seaach of fodder. A veterinary surgeon who examined their stomachs to ascertain the cause of the deaths could find no trace of poison in them. oNt only was there no evidence of their having eaten any poisonous weed, but there was little evidence of their having eaten anything for some time.

The scarcity of grass is regarded by the farmers as a real tragedy, and not merely an excuse for increasing the price of milk.

COAL SITUATION WILL BE EASY BY NEW YEAR

NO LONGER ANY OCCASION FOR ALARM, U. S. NATIONAL ASSOCIATION SAYS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—There is no longer any occasion for alarm as to the coal situation next winter, the National Coal Association declared in a statement issued here. Householders are advised by the association that it will not be necessary to put in their entire winter supply of coal at this time, and that if they buy enough now to tide them over to December 1 they need have no fear of being unable to get enough for the remainder of the winter.

Attention is called by the association to the fact that the New England priority order was suspended by the I. C. C last week as a result of the clearing up of the situation in that section of the country. So far as the Northwest is concerned, the association declares that, although there is now a deficiency in the movement of coal by the lakes under the I. C. C.'s priority order No. 10, the railroads are endeavoring to make it up and promise to meet all requirements before the close of navigation about December.

"As soon as the Northwest program is cleared up ample coal will be released for the balance of the country, with every assurance that all the wants of th big and small consumers will adequately be met before winter sets in," says the statement of the association.

SEVERS CONNECTION WITH INTERNATIONAL

ELECTRICAL WORKERS, MEAT CUTTERS AND BUTCHER WORKERS TO FORM NATIONAL UNIONS

(Canadian Press.)

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—The secession from the International Trades Union organisation which has been brewing in some local unions, came to a head last night when the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, with a membership of 1,100 in local utilities, and the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers, with a membership of 1,500 in the local packing plants, severed their connections with the International to set up National organisations.

The reasons given are alleged to include the flag incident at the New Orleans convention, when, it is stated, a Canadian flag was draped on the platform with the stars and stripes, only after protest by the Canadian delegates, and the fact that several thousand dollars are annually sent over the border.

BIG SENSATION.

The secession of a great number of the members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers to form a National Union, has provided one of the biggest sensations in local labour circles for years, and it is the one topic of discussion to-day.

Judging from comments made by labour leaders, it means war by the International Unions against seceders. To-day the office of the Electrical Workers was taken over by the International Officer Ingles.

With the action taken last night, the International movement is estimated to have lost about 2,000 members in the City of Toronto.

The Executive Council of the local Building Trades League is the first to declare active war on seceders.

They decided this morning, stated Secretary Doggett, to recommend to the eighteen unions affiliated with the League, that their members refuse to work on any jobs with seceding electrical workers.

FATALITY IN THE NORTHERN WOODS.

Norwood Man Instantly Killed By a Falling Limb.

Fred. Wildman, a man about 45 years of age, son of the late John T. Wildman, of Asphodel, who had been employed for several years past as a lumberman, was instantly killed by a falling limb which struck him on the head while at work last week at Kennaway lumber camp in the township of Harcourt, Haliburton County, about 27 miles north-east of Minden, the county seat.

The body was brought to Norwood for burial, the funeral being held on Tuesday from the undertaking rooms of Mr. Hugh McDonald. Rev. J. B. McCormack, pastor of the Baptist Church, officiated.

HAVELOCK HAD A SERIOUS FIRE

THE LOSS WILL AMOUNT TO $12,000

HAVELOCK, Sept. 23.— Havelock was again visited with a disastrous fire this week when the Thompson block was entirely destroyed and several other big buildings threatened with loss. The block was occupied by Mr. G. R. McGregor, who conducted a grocery and bake shop, and the flames broke out in the bake shop in the rear about 8.30 o'clock. The chemical engines put out the fire in the bake shop, but not before the flames had travelled through to the main block, which despite heroic efforts to save it, was burned to the ground.

At one time the cement block adjoining, owned by Mr. Edward Fennell; the frame building to the rear owned by Mr. M. H. Swain, the Anglican church, the town hall and several residences, were all on fire from burning embers, but all were saved by prompt attention and hard work on the part of the fire fighters, coupled with the assistance given by the C. P.R. shopmen and the use of that Company's fire hose and appliances.

The fire loss will run about $12,000, and will be partly covered with insurance.

RELATIVES MUST GIVE EVIDENCE

MOTION BEFORE COURT TO DECLARE JOHN DOUGHTY AN ABSENTEE

TORONTO, Sept. 42.—A motion to commit to jail Miss Jean Doughty, William Wilson and Mrs. E. Lovett as a result of their refusal to attend for examination in connection with an order to have John Doughty, the missing secretary of Ambrose J. Small, millionaire theatrical magnate, declared an absentee, and a trustee appointed to manage his estate, was refused at Osgoode Hall yesterday by Mr. Justice Rose. His Lordship enjoined Wilson and Mrs. Lovett to attend for examination upon their counsel receiving 48 hours' notice. He made no order in the case of Miss Jean Doughty and William Doughty, who had not been served with notice of motion to commit them. The application was made by G. T. Walsh, acting on behalf of Mrs. John Doughty. Counsel stated that he had good reason to believe that Wilson and some of the others knew something about the disappearance of Doughty, and the motion to declare him an absentee could not proceed without their evidence. Miss Clara Brett Martin, counsel for the others, claimed that Doughty was a resident of Quebec, and for that reason the Ontario Absentee Act could not be applied in his case. His Lordship decided that the only question before the court was whether the witnesses should present themselves for examination as directed, and he ordered that they must.

YOUNG BOY KILLED BY MANURE SPREADER

PRONG PIERCED EYE OF EMMETT MILLOY OF DOWNEYRILLE

DOWNEYVILLE, Sept. 24.—A distressing accident occurred in Downeyville on Tuesday night, on the farm of Mr. Joseph O'Neill, when Emmett, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Milloy, sustained injuries which resulted in his death yesterday morning.

It appears that Mr. J. O'Neill was operating a manure spreader. Emmet Milloy had his hands on the prongs or forks, when they accidentally went in gear. The unfortunate boy was thrown on to the spreader, one of the pronge entering his eye and almost penetrating the brain. The little fellow was carried to the house and a doctor summoned. Everything possible was done to save his life, but the injury was of such a serious nature that death ensued yesterday morning at 1.45 o'clock.

Emmett was a bright, manly little fellow. He attended S. S. No. 12, Emily, and was a general favourite with all who knew him.

WITNESSES SILENT

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 24.—Yesterday's session of the inquiry into the firing of the Thorold Town Hall proved most disconcerting to Fire Marshal Heaton and Crown Attorney Jeffreys. A conspiracy of silence seemed to prevail among witnesses, who, it was expected, would throw considerable light upon the events of the day.

RETIREMENT RUMOR PROVES INCORRECT.

Allen Theatres, Limited, Will Operate Under Same Management and Control.

When the news leaked out, a trifle prematurely, that the theatrical enterprises operated and controlled by the Allens were to be reorganised and gathered into one holding company, somebody jumped to the conclusion that the Allens were selling out to retire from the business. This is the exact opposite of the case, as the strength of the $2,500,000 worth of 8 per cent. preferred stock has behind it not only $7,500,000 in assets, but the assurance that the new company will "acquire, operate, and extend the interests hitherto conducted by Messrs. Jule and Jay J. Allen under the same management and control." As the Allens' management has been phenomenally successful, this assurance is of decided value.

BELLEVILLE POLICE SEIZE TRUCK OF WHISKEY

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 5. — Police Sergeant Naphin and Officer Thompson of the local police force, Thursday night intercepted a motor truck here which was laden with 200 cases of whiskey en route from Montreal to Hamilton. Stanley L. Cruickshank, drayman and John Treacher, both of Hamilton, who were in charge of the truck, were apprehended. The liquor is said to have been consigned to a man named Donahue, of Hamilton. License Inspector Arnott, of this city, got into communication with the department at Toronto in reference to the seizure and asked for advice as to what course to pursue. A message was received from the department ordering that the cargo be allowed to proceed to Hamilton, accompanied by a police officer, and upon its arrival there action will be taken by the License Board. The cargo was calued at $6,000.

VERSAILLES PEACE WILL NOT BE PERMANENT.

Difficult to Curb Man's Innate Spirit of Violence.

(Canadian Press.)

CARDIFF, Wales, Sept. 25.—A suggestion that Governments should employ anthropologists in an advisory capacity was made by Professor Karl Pearson of London University at the annual conference of the British Association, which was recently held here.

The Governments of Europe, the professor added, had all kinds of experts in their service, but no ethnological advisers.

"One has only to study the peace of Versailles to see that it is ethnologically unsound and cannot be permanent," he said. "India, Egypt, Ireland, even our present relations with America and Italy, show only too painfully how difficult we find it to appreciate the psychology of other nations.

"If the spirit of violence be innate in man," the lecturer concluded, "if there be times when he not only sees red but rejoices in it—and that was the strong impression I formed when I crossed Germany on 1st August, 1914—then outbreaks of violence will not cease till troglodyte or hylobatic ancestry is such a vital problem to the state."

STILL I WANT!

I'm thankful that I want!
That added years increase
The sum of all my hopes and aims,
And that my spirit claims
A braver goal than peace.

I still cry for the moon—
(A changing moon, with years!)
And faery gold entices still
The effort of a will Grown sturdy for its fears.

I care not who may scorn
My air-swung castle-towers;
From them I swing to the unknown,
Nor heed the stumbling-stone
Set by the jealous hours.

Smile all you choose; I win!
More than all telling fair,
My dreams outclass your cautious wealth,
And, safe from scheming stealth,
Cause no corroding care!

PETERBOROUGH HAS A SLIM CHANCE OF COLLECTING ALL POLL TAXES

MANY DELINQUENTS AND LA ARGE NUMBER OF ELIGIBLE TAXPAYERS SUCCEED IN PUTTING IT OVER THE CITY, DUE TO DEFECTIVE SYSTEM OF COLLECTION

They used to squirm more over one dollar than they do now over five dollars, declared City Tax Collector W. J. Green, referring to those paying poll tax. There are seven hundred and seventeen men in the city assessed for this tax, but of this number only about half can be collected under the present system, Mr. Green stated. When the City Assessor makes his round of boarding houses and other likely habitues of men coming under the poll tax, marked opposition is raised by the proprietors of some of these places to what they consider official interference with their boarders, and they refuse to answer half of the questions put them. Others, while willing enough to give any information they may have of their boarders, do not hardly know their names, let alone their initials or any other details of the men that are necessary before they can be assessed. In many places, it is alleged, the landlady deliberately deceives the officials as to the men's ages, and does everything to prevent them from getting particulars about the men rooming or boarding in the house.

The Assessor makes his rounds early in the year, and by the time the tax bills are sent out later in the summer, many of the men have moved out of the city, and the city loses $5 that it could collect if there was a more efficient system. The Assessor has recently sent out notices to many delinquent ones, but there are many that have not heeded them, and Police Court action may be taken by the Tax Collector if these men do not show more speed in bringing in their five-dollar bills.

PALLID CHEEKS MEAN ANEMIA

New Health Can be Obtained by Enriching the Blood Supply

When a girl in her teens becomes peevish, listless and dull, when nothing seems to interest her and dainties do not tempt her appetite you may be certain that she needs more good blood than her system is provided with. Before long her pallid cheeks, frequent headaches and breathlessness and heart palpitation will confirm that she is anaemic. Many mothers as the result of their own girlhood experience can promptly detect the early signs of anaemia and the wise mother does not wait for the trouble to develop further but at once gives her daughter a course with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which renew the blood supply and banish anaemia before it has obtained a hold on the system.

Out of their experience thousands of mothers know that anaemia is the sure road to worse ills. They know the difference that good red blood makes in the development of womanly health. Every headache, every gasp for breath that follows the slightest exertion by the anaemic girl, every pain she suffers in her back and limbs are reproaches if you have not taken the best steps to give your weak girl new blood, and the only sure way to do so is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

New, rich, red blood is infused into the system by every dose of these pills. From this new rich blood springs good health, an increased appetite, new energy, high spirits and perfect womanly development. Give your daughter Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and take them yourself and note how promptly their influence is felt in better health.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medcine or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SPELLING BEES HELD AT SUMMER RESORTS.

(Canadian Press.)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Those who consider themselves expert spellers may be interested in the result of a series of old-fashioned spelling bees held in a popular summer resort of North Carolina to determine the words which are most di cult for the person of average education to spell.

By almost unanimous consent "eleemosynary" was given the stellar position, 91 per cent. of the contestants meeting disaster upon one or another of the essential vowels. "Connoisseur" wrecked the ambitions of all except those who could be classified under that term itself; "fuchsia" was third in terms of difficulty, being followed in order by "tranquillity," "fricassee," "consensus," "supercede," "questionnaire," and "periphery."

"Separate," long in disgrace as the most easily mis-spelled word in the ordinary vocabulary, caused little trouble in this particular circle; and despite the spread of the neo-mystic cult, "ouija" was familiar to only 50 per cent. The n's and one t in Cincinnati still keep it in the general class of "saccalaureate."

NEED BETTER PROTECTION FOR RAILWAYMEN, SAYS JURY

TORONTO, Sept. 25.— At the inquest into the death of Herbert Kerr, aged 29, the G.T.R. swtchman, who was killed on the railway tracks at the foot of John street on Sept. 15, the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, with a rider recommending that the company amend its rules for the protection of its employes. Kerr, the evidence showed, was bending between two passenger coaches preparatory to coupling them when the train backed and he was caught by the head between the vestibules of the coaches.

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES CONTINUE PLENTIFUL ON PETERBORO' MARKET

PEACHES FLOOD THE MARKET ---TOMATOES NEAR THE END OF THE SEASON.

A steady stream of peaches is comed into Peterboro households as fast edin to Peterboro household as fast as the cars bring them The peaches the fruit men aver are now at their best and the Crawfords and Albertas displayed in the stores are admittedly of a very fine quality and size. The price is certainly not out of the way and considerably lower than last year. Next week will probably mark the end of the season and the advice of all the fruit dealers apart from business reasons, is to buy now and secure the quality. The price ranges from: 90 cents up. At $1.25 11 quart baskets of Crawfords can be had that were worth from 50 cents to $1.00 more last fall.

Plums Plentiful

Plums were plentiful in the shops today but the season is far advanced. Big baskets of monster blue plums sold in one store at 80 cents and green gages at 95 cents. Smaller baskets were 65 and 60 cents. The cheaper way to buy them is by the basket for by the bulk they are 2 quarts for 25 cents.

The opening of the grape season finds them a little high but a lower market is not far off, the dealers assure. They are now 60 and 65 cents a basket as compared with 50 cents last year. Pears come at $1.15 to $1.35. "They are not as plentiful as was at first thought a Charlotte street dealer told the Examiner. Apples are selling at 25 and 30 cents a peck.

Tomatoes Passing

Next week a few baskets of tomatoes in the stores will be the last reminder of a bumper crop for the season is at an end and the frost killed many vines last Saturday night. To-day there were no great quntities in the stores What there were the dealers were getting 50 cents a basket. Corn is selling at 15 and 20 cents a dozen. Cabbage and cauliflower at 15 and 20 cents. Celery is 10 and 15 cents a bunch and lettuce 5 cents. Egg plants, the first of the season handled by one dealer were 15 and 20 cents.

Oysters Higher.

Oysters will be considerably higher this year in fact 60 cents a gallon up. They are already high and have been this way for four or five years and those who were once able to buy oysters as often as beefsteak, have been forced to put them in the class of delicacies to be enjoyed only on special occasions. This information from an oyster traveller from Toronto means that they will not find a prominent place in Peterboro household menus for another year at least The traveller found it very hard to secure orders in Peterboro on account of the decreased demand for them.

The chief stated that the burning of leaves in the streets is dangerous to surrounding property. It was decided that the leaves could not be burned in the incinerator because of their dampness and no other place is at present available to the knowledge of the committee. No action was taken.

TO REGAIN A HEALTHY, GIRLISH COMPLEXION

If you would have a clear, fresh, girlish complexion, one ounce of ordinary mercolized wax will aid you in this direction more than shelves full of cosmetics. It produces a natural beauty. This wax, procurable at any drugstore, completely absorbs a bad complexion, revealing the healthy young skin underneath. Its work is done so gradually day by day that no inconvenience is caused. The wax is applied at night like cold cream and removed in the morning with soap and water.

Another valuable rejuvenating treatment—this for wrinkles—is to bathe your face in a solution of powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in a half pint of witch hazel. This has a remarkable action in smoothout the lines and "firming up" the loose tissue.

CARRIED OFF THIRD PRIZE

Mr. Jack Simons, fruit dealer, 230 Charlotte street, captured the third prize for the best exhibit of single horse harness and delivery waggon at the Peterborough Fair. Mr. Simons' natty outfit was much admired, his fine young mare, Top-notch set of brass-trimmed harness and attractively decorated wagon, easily winning him the white ribbon prize and $8.00 for this event.

THE WEATHERCOCK.

How oft I've seen, at early dawn,
Or twilight's quiet hour,
The swallows, in their joyous glee,
Come darting round the tower,
As if, with thee, to hail the sun,
And catch its earliest light,
And offer ye the morn's salute,
Or bid ye both—good-night;
And when around thee or above
No breath of air has stirred,
Thou seem'st to watch the circling flight
Of each free, happy bird.
Till, after twittering round thy head
In many a mazy track,
The whole delighted company
Have settled on thy back.

SECOND STAGE OF THE DECAY OF THE TEETH.

By Rea Proctor McGee, M.D., D.D.S., Editor Oral Hygiene.

When that sharp little pain warms you that another tooth is going, it always seems "so sudden," so unreasonably sudden. The enamel is not always sensitive, but the dentine that forms the body of the tooth and fills all of the space between the enamel and the nerve, is full of thrills.

Where the enamel and the dentine meet, the tooth is more sensitive than at any other place except on the nerve; the teeth are particularly sensitive at the margin of the gum.

As the little bacteria of decay get further into the dentine, they send scouts out ahead along the fibres that extend from the nerves. That is why the dentist seems to do such a tremendous lot of drilling in a cavity. If he did not go well beyond the farthest particle of decay his filling would be a failure.

The decay spreads out underneath the enamel as the acid produced by the bacteria eats away the lime that forms the hard part of the tooth. This causes the cavity to be larger usually on the inside than it is at the entrance.

Food and mucus and a remarkable line of debris collect in the cavity. An ash can has nothing on a hollow tooth. This mess decomposes and then the owner of the tooth wonders why his friends take a backward step when he talks to them.

Even at this stage the tooth may be saved without the nerve being destroyed but it is rapidly getting to the point where long and patient treatment will be required to keep it where the Lord intended it should be.

In the mouth are more than two hundred different kinds of bacteria. Most of them thrive upon decaying food. In addition to pain and destruction these cavities cause, they mix this poisonous mass with every bite of food and help wreck the delicate machinery of digestion.

WAR FORCED DEVELOPMENT OF CHEMICAL INDUSTRY

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.— "During the war the chemical industries of Canada made phenomenal strides, and development followed development in a most sensational manner," said Mr. Price-Green, Commissioner of the Department of Resources of the Canadian National Railways, in an address on "Canada and the chemist," delivered at a meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers here. Mr. Price Green stated that the visits of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers to Canada this year was a very satisfactory event and marked an epoch in the industrial development of the coutry. It was tribute, he said, to the fact that Canadian chemical industries had advanced to a point where they were worthy of attracting the attention of perhaps the most scientific body on this continent.

ADMITS HAVING MADE A FALSE STATEMENT

BRANTFORD, Sept. 24.—An acquittal was brought in by the jury in the case against Joseph Dutton before Mr. Justice Kelly here. He was charged with publicly making false statement with wilful intent to harm the administration of justice This was the first such case in Ontario, and only the second in the Dominion.

The statement said to have been made by Dutton was that a few hundred dollars was a mere nothing in police protection on the liquor traffic. Dutton admitted making the statement to P. A Shultis, but pleaded that it was said in a joking way, as Mr. Shultis knew at the time. Dutton admitted that the statement was false, and Chief of Police Slemin declared that there was nothing in it.

After the verdict had been rendered Mr. Justice Kelly dismissed the accused, but gave a reprimand for the use of the words, and counselled him against using such language jokingly in future.

"A skin you love to touch"

You, too, can have this charm

No matter what other charms you have, they count for little unless you have the greatest of all charms—a clear, fresh skin.

An authority on the skin has said: "Whatever your difficulty is, you can remedy the trouble, if you will only give your skin intelligent care and attention."

The following treatment brings the blood to the surface and stimulates the small muscular fibres. Begin it tonight and see how it will improve your skin.

Just before retiring, wash your face and neck with plenty of Woodbury's Facial Soap and warm water. After rinsing your face with warm water, rub a fresh lather of Woodbury's into your skin, using an upward and outward motion. Do this until the skin feels just a little sensitive. Then rinse the skin well in warm water, then in cold, finishing by rubbing for thirty seconds with a piece of ice. Always be careful to dry the skin thoroughly.

Make this treatment a regular habit, and in a much shorter time than you would imagine, your skin will take on the greater loveliness that it can have.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

THE DISTRICT CONVENTION DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

Mrs. Twiddy of Warkworth, presented the report of the Duke of Argyle Chapter, which showed a membership of 18 and $480 raised during the year. The Chapter has bought a tract of land which will be converted into a war memorial park.

Amongst other activities undertaken by the Hastings Chapter, shown in the report read by Miss Elizabeth Fowlds, was the application for a R.C.H.A. medal for one of the members, Mrs. Grover Kerr, who recently saved the life of a small boy. There are at present 33 members of the Chapter, and after liberal donations to patriotic purposes $479.40 remains in the bank.

Mrs. Birdsall of Birdsall's Landing, presented a very hopeful report from the Thessalon Chapter named for her son, the "Everett Birdsall" Chapter.

Peterborough Chosen.

The fourth district convention of the Peterborough District, I.O.D.E., will be held in Peterborough in September, 1921. The invitation was extended to and accepted by the delegates at the third district meeting held yesterday at Hastings.

Short Addresses.

In referring to Mrs. Vance, Miss Arnoldi, who spoke briefly at the afternoon convention, said that she had been a feature of the meeting in Calgary. Her clear thought and original and fearless expression won the hearts of the gathering.

In responding to the address of welcome by Mrs. Vance, Mrs. Squires, Regent of the Norwood Chapter, dwelt upon woman's part in reconstruction, pointing out the important part she must play.

The Question Box.

The principal subject dealt with in the Question Box, in which answers to questions are given by Mrs. J. A. Stewart, was the war memorial. The question was introduced by Mrs. Puffer, of Norwood, as to the desirability of secondary education as one of the first parts of the war memorial scheme. While many at the convention approved of the idea, it was pointed out by Miss Joan Arnoldi that the war memorial scheme, as it is being carried out now, was passed at the annual meeting, and that the Order is in honour bound to carry out the resolutions passed by the National Chapter. In many localities individual chapters are carrying out secondary education work locally.

Sumptuous Repast.

Before the evening meeting, the Harry Lauder Chapter served a sumptuous repast to the delegates and friends in the Town Hall. A hearty vote of thanks for the hospitality shown was moved by Miss Elizabeth Fowlds, and seconded by Mrs. Squires.

At noon, Mrs. H. Mathison entertained a number of the delegates who arrived on the noon train, at luncheon.

HOME OF SIR WILLIAM MACKENZIE ROBBED

TORONTO, Sept. 25. — Several pieces of valuable silverware were stolen from "Benvenuto," the home of Sir William Mackenzie, Avenue Road Hill, a few nights ago. On receipt of the news Inspector of Detectives Guthrie detailed Detectives Crowson and McIntosh to investigate, and after a careful examination of the doors and windows of the house they arrived at the conclusion that the theft could not have been perpetrated by burglars, as there were no marks of burglarious instruments on the woodwork. The police could give no estimate as to the worth of the missing ware, but said it was very valuable.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF MAJ.-GEN. STRICKLAND

AUTOMOBILE FIRED ON, BUT DRIVER ONLY SLIGHTLY WOUNDED

(Canadian Press.)

CORK, Sept. 25.—An attempt was made on the life of Major-General Strickland, commander in Southern Ireland, as he was motoring from the barracks to the docks, en route to England, early last night.

Six shots were fired at the automobile in which he was driving with two friends, as it came down Patrick street hill and rounded a corner leading into McCurtain street near the docks.

General Strickland was not injured, but the driver of the car was slightly wounded. It was understood that General Strickland intended to sail last night, and that his baggage had been placed aboard the steamer. As his automobile turned the McCurtain street corner on its way to the docks an attacking party, divided in two groups, stationed on opposite sides of the road, began firing. Occupants of the machine returned fire as the car

Two boats of the Great Lakes Transportation Co. sail this morning, the men getting an immediate raise of ten dollars per month with the understanding that they are to get whatever rate may be decided upon in any amicable settlement of the general trouble.

COBOURG NEED NOT WORRY ABOUT COAL

COBOURG, Sept. 25. — Probably more coal will come in over Cobourg harbour this year than any year in its history. Both hard and soft coal are hard to obtain this year, and the price of coal just now is no doubt due to scarcity.

This fall most of the coal for the Midland district will be brought in over Cobourg harbor, and distributed by rail to the places requiring it. The town council has lowered the harbor toll on coal from 15c. to 5c. a ton, and the lowering of tolls has been a good thing for the town, as the town under the lower rate has received more than treble in tolls what it otherwise would have received. It also places Cobourg in a position where it does not have to worry over its winter supply of coal, as other towns are at present doing.

WARSAW SCHOOL FAIR WAS SUCCESS

SCHOOL CHILDREN HELD A PARADE TO THE GROUNDS—THE PRIZE-WINNERS

WARSAW, Sept. 25. — The school fair yesterday afternoon was a wonderful success. The day was perhaps a little warm, but it was bright and the crowd was good. A corn cutting gang quit their work in the afternoon.

Children's Parade.

The school children's parade showed great pains on the part of teachers and others.

The parade was headed by Mr. George Barr's car, beautifully decorated with fruits, vegetables and different grains while high up in the back sat little Miss May Webster dresed as Autumn; also three tiny children in fancy dress.

Cotessloe Children.

Cotessloe's teacher, Miss Kidd, led the march. She wore a yellow sash with the name and the number of the school section. Roy Moore and Mark Freeburn carried the yellow banner. For Cotessloe, S. S. No. 1, inscribed, "Toilers of the Soil." The girls wore colored pinafores and caps and carried milk pails; the boys wore blue and white overalls and straw hats, and carried farm implements, hoes, rakes, etc.

Warsaw, Dummer No. 3, represented Dummer. They were led by Master Hiram Anderson. The boys wore red coats and carried canes, the girls light dresses and carried dainty little parasols.

Dummer No. 4 was led by Miss Doris Payne, carrying a Union Jack in each hand. Willa Darling and Winnie Batten carried the banner, a handsome yellow one. The last two boys carried flags, Mr. Clark, their teacher, marching beside them. Some of the boys played the mouth organ.

Dummer No. 6 (4th Line School) was led by Marjorie Payne and Daphne Payne, carrying a banner. The pupils all wore red, white and blue sashes. The boys carried red, white and blue wands. The girls wore bonnets of white, with ruching of red, white and blue, and the boys caps to match them.

Dummer No. 6 had a red and white banner, with red, white and blue supports, and the pupils made very pretty little Dutch boys and girls.

Douro No. 5 were led by Michael McManus and Leonard Larode, carrying a blue and white banner.

RHUEMATISM

Rheumatism is produced by the accumulation of Uric Acid in the Blood, and this poisonous substance attacks and inflames the membrane covering the joints and separating the muscles, thus producing severe pains. If the waste products to the system are not properly carried off. Uric Acid forms and is deposited in the joints and between the different layers of muscles. DR. HENDERSON'S HERB TABLETS will correct this by its action on the Kidneys, and removing the Uric Acid from the Blood. Try them and watch the results. If they fail, your money will be refunded.

Dr. Henderson's Herb Tablets are put in three sizes —25c. 50c. $1.00 per box—at WARNE'S DRUG STORE, 351 George Street Peterborough.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

Campbell, Stratton and Co., Members Toronto Stock Exchange, issue the following bulletin, of date Sept. 24th.

While there were some firm spots in the early trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange, the general tone was quiet, and the trend slightly reactionary, following the dullness in New York.

The unlisted, including Brompton, Abitibi and Western Canada Pulp, shared the prevailing tendency.

Brompton went down to 79 toward mid morning, but pulled up ¾ point in the last hour. Abitibi was steady, less active, and was twice crossed by Brompton both on the former's downward and on its upward move. Western Canada Pulp was again moderately active, opening firmly at 50 and sliding gradually back to 48½. Hollinger was easier. Pulp unchanged at 7, and Breweries totally inactive.

In the New York market railroad stocks have been comparatively steady. The most pronounced weakness has been suffered by the motor and tire stocks. The motor and tire stocks finally reached a point where the selling had been absorbed, and such issues as Chandler, Studebaker, Kelly Springfield and Goodrich worked a point or so up from their low figures.

General Motors not to cut prices. W. C. Durant, president, announces General Motors Corporation has no intention of reducing prices on any of its products. General Motors has never favored or encouraged profiteering. On the contrary it has always given to motor buying public splendid values which is alone responsible for the enormous business enjoyed by the corporation.

United Press.

NEW YORK, September 25. — The Foreign Exchange opened as follows: Sterling demand $3.47 1-2; francs, $.0669; lire $.0416; marks $.0154; Canadian dollars, $.9010.

Fractional changes were registered at the opening of the stock market to-day. Studebaker was 58 1-2; Crucible 129 1-2 up 3-4; Reading 94 up 3-4, Corn products 84 1-4 up 1-8; Vanadium 67; Central Leather 44 1-2; Baldwin 110 1-4 up 1-8; New Haven 36 off 1-4; Southern Railway 330 5-8, off 1-4; Texas Co., 50 3-8, off 1-8; Southern Pacific 95 3-4 up 1-8; U S Steel 88 1-2.

Oil Stocks Leaders.

Oil stocks were the leaders in the early trading. Mexican Pet. quickly advanced two points to 189. Pan-American, after opening 1-8 lower at 92 3-4, got above 93. Motor and Tire stocks mostly opened lower than yesterday's close, but quickly rallied. Among the steels, U.S. Stel opened at 88 1-2 off 1-2. Shorts later found the supply of Mexican Pet. limited, when they tried to cover, and it was run up to 191 3-4, more than 7 points above yesterday's opening. Other oils were higher in sympathy, Texas getting above 51.

During the decline of the last few days sugar stocks have continued firm. There have been rumors of Cuba Cane declaring a dividend before the FAKE BOMB PLOT WARNINGS.

Brooklyn Magistrate Will Punish "Practical Jokers."

(Canadian Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—Magistrate Broan in Brooklyn Police Court here made it plain he intended to show no leniency to "practical jokers" issuing fake warnings of bomb plots.

When a man giving the name of Harry Rabinowis was arraigned on a charge of having written in chalk on the wall of an elevated station, "This station will be blown up Friday at 9 p.m.," the Magistrate held him in $500 bail on a charge of committing a nuisance, despite his explanation that he was "only fooling."

WORLD APPEARS TO HAVE LARGE WOOL SURPLUS

A statement of the stocks of raw wool owned by the British Government on June 30, 1920, gives a total of 2,905,554 bales of the following qualities:

	Bales.
Merino combing	796,579
Merino clothing	190,780
Merino carbonizing	125,897
Total	1,113,256
New Zealand crossbred slips	135,187
New Zealand crossbred scoured	157,332
Crossbred carbonizing	192,635
Crossbred 56-60	500,296
Crossbred 43-50	534,506
Crossbred 35-40	272,342
Total	1,792,298
Grand Total	2,905,554

Stocks in principal foreign countries are unusually large. Accurate statistics for Argentina are not available, but the American Consul-General reports under date of August 21 that the best estimate for the entire country is approximately 125,000 metric tons. Of this total 10 per cent. averages merino, 15 per cent. fine, crossbred and medium crossbred, and 75 per cent. coarse crossbred. Not over 3 per cent. is waste. Present stock on hand is larger than ever before at this time of the year. Stock on hand at this time last year is estimated at between 60,000 and 65,000 metric tons. In normal years before the war, the entire stock was sold between October and May, and as a consequence no wool was left on hand from June to October.

The American consul at Montevideo reports under date of August 26 that the present accumulation of raw wool on hand in that country is considerably larger this year than that of the same time during the last three years. The present accumulation is approximately 30,000,000 pounds—comprising 60 per cent. low-grade wool, 25 per cent medium grade, and 10 per cent. high grade wool. The normal clip in Uruguay is about 120,000,000 pounds, whic was entirely sold by the end of April. The total exportation of Uruguayan wool during July of this year was approximately 600,000 kilos, while during the same time last year the exportation was about 6,000,000 kilos, and no plan has been published for the marketing of this year's surplus accumulation.

The American consul-general at Melbourne cables under date of August 20 that the estimated total of raw wool in Australia is 1,300,000 bales, comprising approximately 50,000 bales of high-grade wool, 650,000 bales of medium, and 600,000 bales of low-grade wool.

Before the war there was practically no supply of wool on hand at this time of the year, and therefore the above figures practically represent the surplus supply.

The Australian and British authorities continue to negotiate, and have announced no decision regarding the marketing of the present surplus. The British Government owns or controls all of this surplus.

The American consul-general at Cape Town, South Africa, reports under date of August 23, that unofficial estimate of the total accumulation of raw wool at present in South Africa is placed at 130,000 bales, which is comprised of 15,000 bales of scoured wool, 4,000 bales of high grade grease, 61,000 bales medium and 50,000 bales of low grade. He states that the normal supply of wool on hand at this time last year was 10,000 bales. There was no supply of wool on hand at that time. He reports that there are no banks planning to market the present surplus, nor is the Government planning to do so.

$500 FOR WIFE'S AFFECTIONS.

In the Assize Court at Belleville, the jury brought in a verdict for $3,000 in the case of Akey vs. the Hydro-Electric Power Commission. The plaintiff charged negligence by the defendant. The issue was for damages for the death of a man by electrocution at Tweed.

In the case of Roe vs. Leonard, the jury awarded Roe $500 damages against a man named Leonard for alienation of his wife's affections.

LIQUOR UNDER GUARD.

Nine hundred and ninety-five cases of liquor, comprising the seizure made from the steamer Samuel Marshall at Prescott in August, were brought to Brockville by freight train under guard of G. T. R. Detective Haslam. In the local yard the car containing the liquor was handed over to License Department inspectors, who took it to Toronto. The shipment was valued in excess of $30,000.

CROOOKED WORK IN BALL LEAGUE

GRAND JURY HAS SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE TO SUBSTANTIATE CHARGES

(Canadian Press).

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Indictments based on charges of conspiracy to defraud may be the result of the Cook County grand jury's investigation of alleged crookedness by players in the last world's series, it was indicated to-day by Henry H. Brigham, foreman of the jury.

"There seems to be more than sufficient evidence to support such charges," Mr. Brigham declared.

In connection with Brigham's announcement that Arnold Rothstein, a New York turf man, had been subponaed, it was learned to-day that President B. B. Johnston, of the American League, has been in New York for two days investigating reports involving a New York man in an alleged plan to "fix" last year's series so that Cincinnati would win and enable gamblers on the "inside" to win large sums.

"EXPERIENCE"

The latest of Modern Dances are shown in the Golden Cabaret scene on the Primrose Path of Pleasure in "Experience," which F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest will present at the Grand on October 2nd. Seated at the various tables in the cabaret, dining and chatting, are such fascinating ladies as Fashion, Beauty, Excitement, Song, Frivolity, Pleasure, Slander and Pride. With their escorts they sit intent simply on dining and chatting, but as soon as the music strikes up a dance step, everything is changed, and the Golden Cabaret becomes a whirl of merry dancers, whose greatest ambition in life seems to be keep dancing all night.

One can very easily realize the impression that this scene makes upon Youth on his first visit to the cabaret, as he turns to Pleasure and says: "Pleasure let me thank you. It's glorious! The music and the laughter; the air is sweet with the far faint odor of dying roses. Everywhere there are women's eyes that sparkle like the moonlight on a silver river. Everywhere there are white arms that beckon me. Oh, Pleasure, how wonderful you are to grant me all this!" In his fascination with the scene of revelry, Youth turns to Experience and asks him if Pleasure isn't wonderful. And Experience answers: "Wonderful indeed, in that she has no knowledge of the pain that follows ever in her foosteps."

Youth's enthusiasm, however, is not dampened, and he says to Pleasure: "I think you are the end of the rainbow, and all the treasures of the world are in your keeping. I think you are the sunshine of a cloudless day and all the flowers of the earth look up to you."

Experience has a different point of view. He says: "I think Pleasure is but the stain of last night's wine, spilled upon the tablecloth. She is but a snowflake fallen into the ocean. Pleasure, my boy, is the last crimson flood that the setting sun has left to die in a cold gray sky."

SCENE FROM "ON THE HIRING LINE" HERE SOON.

When May Anderson decided to take her own show over the Canadian circuit she resolved to get a play that met three prime requisites—first it must be a recent New York success; second, it must be a real comedy (Miss Anderson believes laughter is better than medicine) and, third, it must be the original New York production with a New York cast. "On the Hiring Line", was the only production that met all these requirements, so Miss Anderson paid spot cash for the entire production—scenery, furniture etc.—and is paying a big royalty—but she got what she believed the Canadians want—a first class production of real comedy. "On the Hiring Line" plays here on Friday, October 1st at the Grand and will get a big reception.

LOUISE GLAUM HAS WARDROBE, EVEN AS "INJUN" GIRL

For a picture of wild life in God's great outdoors in which figure Indians and prospectors, Louise Glaum, as a quarter-breed Indian, has quite a wardrobe of natty and up-to-date clothes in "The Goddess of Lost Lake," her latest play showing at the Regent Theatre Monday.
The secret of how an Indian girl comes to appear in ultra modern clothes in this picture is that she attends an Eastern college, and there gets familiar with another life from that to which she has been accustomed. When she returns to her father's log cabin in the mountains she has a wardrobe of everything from evening creations to the blanket, buckskin and beads of a typical squaw, with something extra fetching in the line of divided riding skirts between these two extremes of apparel.
The girl's white woman's airs delight her father, overawe his Indian housekeeper, and are met with the unspoken disapproval of Eagle, her Indian uncle. But when the hero, an Englishman, appears on the scene, and for sheer mischief she meets him in the riggings of a squaw, with a squaw's typical stolidity, there begins all sorts of fun, which lightens the big, serious drama and the suspense that obtains throughout the picture.
"The Goddess of Lost Lake" was produced at the Brunton Studios in Los Angeles, under the direction of Wallace Worsley, who has directed all of Miss Glaum's pictures on the Hodkinson programme.

TRUCK ON COWCATCHER.
Spectators at the Whitby Grand Trunk Station witnessed the unusual spectacle of a truck riding on the cowcatcher of an engine when the 5.15 Whitby-Lindsay local picked up Isaac Levineh's truck at the crossing and carried it 75 yards to the station. Isaac jumped immediately after the engine hit the truck, and was unhurt. Isaac was wise enough to pick up a slow train to take part in his stunt. Fifty dollars will [illegible]

PRODUCE PLENTIFUL THIS MORNING

FRUIT AND VEGETABLES IN ABUNDANCE—HOUSEHOLDERS VIEW WITH PLEASURE DECREASING PRICES

Evidences that the fruit and vegetable season is now at its height were not wanting on to-day's market. There were many fruit and vegetables that will be off the market next Saturday or the following market day to be found in the farmer's and market gardener's waggons. Tomatoes, corn, cucumbers, and numerous other vegetables are at the end of their season while plums, peaches and pears will not be on the market much longer.

Summer Weather
The weather to-day was as balmy as June and for this reason there was a large attendance and the market presented a gay and animated scene with the myriad coloured fruits and vegetables piled high on the waggons and the early moving crowds of people, pushing and jostling around the waggons. A coat was unnecessary to-day and many of the men and all of the women had discarded this piece if apparel.
Tomatoes made a final muster before they disappear for this year but they did not appear to sell very freely. One could get them for 50 cents a bushel and a nickel or dime would be knocked off by many of the gardeners to make a sale. You can have this basket for 50 cents or I'll give you the two for 50c, the Examiner heard one lady say and this was the way many of the baskets were sold Little yellow tomatoes were 15 cents a quart.

Large Cabbage.
There were cabbages at all prices, from 5 to 25 cents. One gardener's 25 cent ones were veritable monsters, certainly the biggest on the market this year. Cauliflower sold from 5 to 25, but nice heads could be had for 15 cents. There was not a great deal of corn, only a few waggons or cars having any. It sold for 15 cents and some Yellow Bantam for 25 cents. Celery was 15c. a bunch or two for 25 cents. Beets, carrots and parsnips were only 5 cents for a big bunch and tender looking lettuce and radishes were the same price. Cardots were 30 cents a peck. Cucumbers for pickling were 50 cents a basket. Green and red pepers sold for 5 cents or two for 5, depending on size. Horse radish roots were in one gardener's collection of vegetables. They were 10 cents a root.
Potatoes were not displayed in any quantity, but the pervailing price was $1.40 and $1.50, $1.25 if you take five bags was the offer of one vendor.
Onions brought different prices, 15 cents a quart for small pickling ones or 60 cents a peck was asked, or by the basket $1.50 a basket. Smooth skinned large ones were 60 and 75c. a peck and winter onions were the same price.

Apples Plentiful.
There were all varieties of apples on the market to-day, for many winter apples are now coming in. Tolman Sweets were 30 cents peck. St. Lawrence were 30 and 35. Wolf River apples for cooking were 25 to 40 cents. Crab apples were 25 or 30 cents a peck. Pears were 75 cents a peck, but there were only a few dealers had them. Grapes sold for 25 cents a peck measure and wild ones for wine to be enjoyed by many a thirsty soul during the winter evenings were 60 cents a basket. Peaches always seem out of place in the local market report for they seem to be an outside industry in a market that is practically confined to local grown fruit and garden stuff. Nevertheless it might be said that there were many baskets sold at stands both around the outside market and in the entrance to the upstairs market and not a few upstairs. The price was 90 to $1.25.
Plums, green gages and Lombards, sold at 10c a quart. The gourd family was well represented. There were pumpkins, squash, citrons, watermelons and muskmelons, or politely canteloupes. The price of any of the family was much the same, 10 or 15c. Cantaloupes were offered to the Examiner at 4 for 25c and watermelons at 25c.

Dairy Products.
Eggs and butter were the same price to-day, 65c. There was a tendency for butter to go up to 67c towards the close of the market. Chickens are going down; 30c a lb was the price to-day and for $1 a really nice pullet could be had.
Six weeks old pigs were $16 a pair on the market. Plymouth Rock pullets $1.50 each and rabbits 75c and $1.50. These are the only live stock quotations.
At 10:30 there was a large crowd assembled to see four or five automobiles auctioned off and on these cars that were all in apparently good condition, there was sure to be some lively bidding.
It is impossible to say that there was any great downward trend in the market this week. Prices are low; lower than in years, but from one week to another the price remains much the same.

Downward Trend.
Despatches received from Chicago state that December wheat is down 11c and March 12 1-2c. Flour is down $2 a barrel. The downward trend is also found in sugar, and next week sugar will be selling here 1c less than it is now. Corn, hogs, cattle and sheep are all lower in price and in the clothing and leather trade prices have slumped from 10 to 30 per cent. Lower prices still are safely predicted and in the auto industry the cuts in price made by the Ford and Franklin cars, will be followed by other manufacturers. Whether it is foodstuffs or automobiles all indications are that it will soon be a buyers market and not a sellers as it has been during and since the war.

WEDDING BELLS

KRUSE — BYERS
A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized Friday September 24th, in Knox Church Manse at 12 o'clock noon, Rev. J. A. McKenzie officiating when Pearl, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byers, was united in marriage to Mr. Wm. Kruse of Toronto. The bride was tastefully attired in a pretty purple broadcloth suit and wore a large black picture hat. After the ceremony the young couple adjourned to the home of the bride where a dainty luncheon was served.
The young couple left on the 3.20 train amid showers of confetti. After a short honeymoon trip to Detroit the young couple will reside in Toronto.

SMITH—PARKS.
On Thursday, Sept. 23rd, at St. James' Methodist parsonage, the marriage was quietly solemnized of Miss Elsie Parks, Park Street, Peterboro, and Mr. Robert Smith, also of this city. Rev. J. F. Chapman, B.A., officiated.

NORMAN BRUCE CULLEN.
The death occurred last night at Nicholls Hospital of Norman Bruce Cullen of this city, aged 28 years, after a serious illness of twelve weeks which developed from wounds received in France four years ago.
Deceased, a son of the late W. T. Cullen, of Bridgenorth, was born in that village, and resided there till he went overseas with the 93rd Battalion. He served at the Front with the 21st Battalion, and was with them when he received the severe wounds in his knee and shoulder. In 1917 he was invalided home, but he never regained his lost vigour and health.
Deceased leaves his mother, Mrs. W. T. Cullen, 565 Bethune Street, and three brothers, Thomas, James, and Blake of this city, as well as four sisters, Mrs. Aaron Nichols of Davidson, Sask., Mrs. William Jubb of this city, Mrs. Silas Nichols of Bobcaygeon, and Mrs. Leslie Telford of Peterborough.
The funeral will take place from the family residence, 565 Bethune Street, on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Service will be held at the house at 2 o'clock by Rev. W. Harold Young, of George Street Methodist Church. Interment will take place in Bridgenorth Cemetery.

THE CUP OF HAPPINESS.
Lord God, how full our cup of happiness!
We drink and drink—and yet it grows not less;
But every morn the newly risen sun
Finds it replenished, sparkling, overrun!
Hast Thou not given us raiment, warmth and meat,
And in due season all earth's fruits to eat?—
Work for our hands and rainbows for our eyes
And for our souls the wings of butterflies?—
A father's smile, a mother's fond embrace,
The tender light upon a lover's face?
The talk of friends, the twinkling eye of mirth,
The whispering silence of the good green earth?—
Hope for our youth and memories for age,
And psalms upon heaven's moving page?
And dost Thou not of pain a mingling pour,
To make the cup but overflow the more?

MAKING A CLIENT HAPPY.
If business, as well as professional men, fully understood the psychology of handling customers and clients, they would not only retain their patronage, but would add to it more rapidly. Recently a man went to his physician, convinced he was run down and needed a prescription. The doctor examined him and told him frankly he was only in need of physical exercise. An hour or so later the doctor was called on the telephone by a brother physician, who informed him he had just had a visit from one of his patients, who said that Doctor No. 1 "didn't know his business." "Why," explained the first physician, "I didn't find anything wrong with him. Did you?" "No," replied No. 2, "I didn't. But the man was convinced he needed a prescription, and wouldn't be content until he secured it. So I gave him a harmless one which satisfied him; but I prescribed the exercise as well. And I sent him home happy."

AN EXCEPTION.
"The evolution theory," said the professor, "is that we all came from monkeys."
"That's wrong," said the flea, biting him on his bald head. "I came from a dog."—Cornell Widow.

THE USE OF REASON
When you find that something has gone wrong with your watch, you take it to a first-class jeweller and have it adjusted or repaired. He returns it to you with exactly the same number of parts it had when he received it. When there is trouble with some part of your automobile, do you have that part removed in order to make it run? No. You use reason. Like your watch, you take it to an expert mechanic, and have it adjusted. It comes back to you with all of its parts. Delicate machinery cannot run properly without all of its parts, and every part properly adjusted. You know that. So you use your reason when anything is wrong with any piece of machinery you own.
But when your body does not perform all of its functions normally, when some organ becomes diseased and you suffer such pain that you cannot continue to go about your daily routine, do you carry our body to an expert mechanic and have it adjusted? Or do you heed the "advice" of the surgeon and have some part of your human machine removed?
Operations to restore health are just as useless as removing some part of your watch or automobile, to restore good running order.
Don't submit to operations. Do some investigating. Use your reason. And you will find that your diseased organ is only showing the effect of a cause.
See your Chiropractor. He will explain to you how the simple process of adjusting the delicate machinery of the body will restore normal health, and will find and remove the cause of your trouble.

DISTURBANCE REPORTED IN MANY PLACES

VIOLENT EXPLOSION SHOOK THE CITY OF CORK THIS MORNING—CASUALTIES OVER WEEK END.

(Canadian Press.)

CORK, Sept. 27.—A violent explosion shook this city about two o'clock this morning. It was followed by the rattle of rifle fire in various parts of the business district.

Patrick Street, the main thoroughfare, was littered with glass, and the front of a large departmental store which is said to employ a large number of young Sinn Feiners, was completely wrecked as if by bombs.

Windows were smashed in practically every building in the vicinity.

Two policemen and three civilians were killed in week-end ambuscades.

TROUBLE IN BELFAST.

(Canadian Press.)

BELFAST, Sept. 27.—Shooting by snipers and others which occurred in the centre of Belfast last night caused a panic among the crowds which were promenading on Royal Avenue, the city's main artery.

The disturbance followed the shootings of Saturday night and early on Sunday.

The shooting in a side street of the Sinn Fein quarter caused the crowd in Royal Avenue to swell to large proportions, and a stampede was created when sudden volleys rang out from the side streets.

The crowd rushed here and there in a frenzy, and order was only restored after the arrival of the military and the police.

REDUCTION IN FOOD PRICES IS PREDICTED

ONLY BUTTER AND EGGS TO BE EXCEPTED FROM STEADY DECLINE.

(Canadian Press.)

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—A general reduction in food prices was predicted to-day by Sole Westerfield, president of the Retail Grocers' Association, who excepted eggs and butter from what he said would be a steady decline.

He said the high interests on bank loans made the price-cutting necessary, and impelled the producers to move their crops.

President Westerfield said canned goods now being packed must be lowered in price to move it; that coffee had recently dropped to cents a pound, and that he looked for cheaper bread because of the lower flour prices.

Fruit was at a minimum, and in some cases was lower than the 1914 prices had been.

SIR JAMES HILL VISITED THE CITY

IS A LARGE WOOL OPERATOR IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Judging by the skilful lay-out of the city, some very wise city fathers must have preceded the present Councillors," was the flattering comment of Sir James Hill, Bart., after a survey of the city with Mr. Edgar Worth, with whom he spent a short time last week.

The Baronet, who is one of the largest wool operators in the United Kingdom, has been Lord Mayor of Bradford for a number of years, and also represented his constituency several times.

He was particularly pleased with the Canadian Woollens Mils, which he inspected thoroughly, and asserted that they were as up-to-date as any in England. He stated that Peterborough was, to his mind, very much advanced for a town in a comparatively young country.

Small, millionaire Theatrical man of Toronto, has been started here by Chief of Detectives Mooney who said last night he was convinced that Small is being held here by kidnappers. WERE REMANDED FOR ONE WEEK

TWO MEN HELD ON CHARGE OF THEFT.

George R. Reynolds, alias George R. Atwater, and Seabourne Goodmurphy, arrested in Rochester, N.Y., in connection with the theft of a car from G. L. Goodmurphy, of Wellington County in July, which they are alleged to have sold to A. C. Young, of this city, appeared before Magistrate Dumble in police court this morning. Reynolds is charged with obtaining $150 from Young under false pretenses and Goodmurphy with receiving $70 from Reynolds which he knew to have been obtained under false pretenses.

The car is alleged to have been stolen from G. L. Goodmurphy, an uncle of Seabourne Goodmurphy, and sold here to Young, who claimed that the car was his own. The car has been recovered. The two are wanted in Picton on a charge of theft of the car.

Reynolds pleaded guilty and elected summary trial and Goodmurphy elected summary trial, but asked for an enlargement of his case until Monday next on the ground that he was not ready for trial. An enlargement was granted in both cases.

U. S. LOW-GRADE FRUIT DUMPED IN CANADA

Plan to Bolster American Market and Keep Up Prices.

(Canadian Press.)

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 27. — Asking for an extension of customs tariff to sufficiently portect the fruit growing industry of British Columbia agains tthe dumping of imported American fruit from the States of Washington and Oregon at less than cost of production. R. M. Winslow and W. F. Laidman this afternoon presented the views of British Columbia fruit growers to the Board of Tariff Commissioners. Mr. Winslow explained that in big crop years American growers used Canada as a dumping ground for their low grade apples, while their best grades were sold on the American market at good prices, thus bolstering up the American market and maintaining prices.

DYNAMITE IS USED TO STOP FIRE IN DAM

VILLAGE OF LAKEFIELD THREATENED BY FIRE WHICH DESTROYED WOODEN DAM.

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 27. — Fire which threatened the destruction of the town broke out in the old Dickson dam at Lakefield on Saturday at 11.45 a.m. and at a late hour to-day was still burning though apparently under control.

The fire originated with a boys camp which some three weeks ago was broken up leaving some sparks from the camp fire left which ignited the sawdust near the dam and kept smouldering, breaking out in an occasional blaze which was extinguished by Mr. Jack McFadden, an employee of the Colonial Glass Company, which building is on the bank near the dam.

Became Dangerous

At about 11.45 on Saturday the timbers along the shore commenced to blaze and with the exceedingly dry weather nad heat of the day the blaze soon assumed alarming proportions, threateninug the row of wooden buildings along the shore. At first blaze followed the old mill wall aong toward Mr. Norman Moore's lumber and grist mill and some residents of the village realizing the danger, put forth every effort in arresting the flames. Dynamite was borrowed from the construction gang at the new dam which is being built and a hole blown in the 31 inch stone wall along which the timbers ran. This proved fairly effective but at about four o'clock the fire commenced to creep over the stop logs leading to several thousand dollars worth of lumber owned by Mr. Moore.

Began to Wake Up.

At this stage the villages commenced to wake up to the real danger of the fire and a volunteer fire brigade augmented the small number of men who had been working all day. A gasoline engine was borrowed from the new dam and hose attached which supplied a very weak stream of water which however, was effective in soaking the bark lying about the stop logs Later charge after charge of dynamite was exploded under the direction of Mr. T. B. Marling and Mr. Trude Legott and the centre of the stop logs blasted away, saving the possibility of the fire creeping to the lumber piles, while the fire blazed however the probabiity of sparks flying to the shore should the wind change still existed, in which case should one of the wooden buildings catch fire the fire would undoubtedly have destroyed a large portion if not the entire village.

In order to avert this danger the volunteer fire brigade worked until midnight in order to insure the safety of the town and left the fire in a safe condition.

The Good Samaritan.

One act which was thoroughly appreciated by all who worked at the fire was that of Mrs. Edward Leigh Perceiving the outbreak of the fire from the windows of her home "Leighton Hall", which is across the river from the dam, although eighty-one years of age, she felt she must do her bit in helping out. "I knew I should not be of any use in fire fighting," she said, "and I knew the dear men would be hungry and thirsty at the noon hour so I just brought over what I had in the house" She stayed with the fire fighters for some time bringing them much needed refreshments. Later when a charge of dynamite was announced to be about to be exploded and a young lady took her by her arm in order to help her away from danger she said "Run yourself, my life is almost spent and much less precious than yours."

ANNUAL GROVE SCHOOL PICNIC

THE AFFAIR WAS A BIG SUCCESS.

The annual Grove School picnic—held on Saturday at Gilchrist's Bay—was a complete success and thoroughly enjoyed by the large number who attended. The grown-ups played bridge under the trees at the Bay, while the younger members of the party amused themselves swimming and playing games.

A few of those at the picnic were Rev. and Mrs. A. W. MacKenzie, Mrs. E. R. Tate, Mrs. F. J. Tate, Mrs. A. E. Dawson, the Misses Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Lampman, Mrs. O. Aylmer Langley, Mrs. Max Hamilton, Mr. Todd, Mrs. Valentine Fawcett, Mrs. Nevin, Toronto, and Mrs. Simpson.

CHIEF THOMPSON COLLECTED MONEY

Another Large Contribution to the Civic Treasury.

Chief of Police Thompson was as busy as a receiving teller of a bank this morning when he garnered in $76.40 in liquor fines from the four men who celebrated the closing of the Exhibition on Thursday night in a manner contrary to the O.T.A.

All promptly admitted their guilt and thus shortened the proceedings. One went so far as to volunteer, that he was "pretty drunk." This elicited the comment from the magistrate: "A man against a bottle of whiskey and the bottle of whiskey won.'

"A QUIET GAME"

The police have developed the disconcerting habit of frequenting downtown backyards on Sunday evenings in searching for poker and crap games. Last evening P. C. Arthur Thomas strolled unseen into a backyard on Hunter street and watched seven young men grouped about a bench, padded with bags and newspapers, for half an hour. When the constable approached the group, expecting to find an exciting game of poker or craps in full swing, all that was to be seen was three five cent pieces and a ten cent piece on the bench. But sounds of clinking money and the bent backs of the seven had aroused his suspicions and he invited the assemblage to adjourn with him to the police station.

At this, he says, one man promptly stated that if they went to the station they would be locked up for the night and that as they were shooting craps they could be summoned in the morning.

Accordingly they were summoned this morning, but the efforts of their counsel, J. F. Strickland, created doubts in the mind of the court as to their guilt and judgment was reserved until next Monday.

Mr. Strickland intimated that the party was almost of the nature of a religious gathering and the magistrate asked if he meant that they were shooting 'religious crap." Mr. Strickland pleaded ignorance of this form of the game and suggested that the worst they may only have been matching quarters.

"Matching quarters is gambling," interjected Chief Thompson.

"Yes, but I'll wager that the Chief of Police has matched quarters on occasions," replied Mr. Strickland.

HEBREWS OBSERVE "TABERNACLE DAY"

LAST IMPORTANT EVENT UNTIL EASTER.

The Hebrews in this city are to-day celebrating Tabernacle Day, one of the important days in the religious calendar of the Zionists. This is the 15th day of the month Tishreh, and this day is the one set aside in which to celebrate the arrival of the Jewish people at Succoth, the first stop made on their way into Canaan, the promised land. The entire holiday, known as the Feast of Tabernacles, which lasts nine days, combines several different meanings. While the arrival at Succoth was in the spring, it is celebrated in the fall so that the people will realise the full meaning better. It is also a harvest celebration, for at this time in the Holy Land the wine, oils, and fruits are being taken into the houses for the winter. It is celebrated by special prayers and by each Jewish family sleeping and eating under a bower or tent as the early Jews did so many centuries ago as they journeyed across the wilderness. It is for this reason that the observance takes place in the fall when the cool nights will emphasise to them more strongly the important occasion they are observing.

God has commanded the Jewish people to be happy on these days for the bountiful harvests. The Feast of Tabernacles lasts eight days. The first two, to-day and to-morrow, are very sacred, the following five are less important, the seventh is more so, and the last two rank with the first.

If the holidays were strictly observed according to the Jewish priests, the Jewish business places should be closed the first two days and the last two days, but as yet this has never been done. During these days, however, no Jewish child attends school.

Prayers are held morning and evening in the Tabernacle, and special thanksgiving services are held. The ninth day marks the completion of the reading of the Old Testament by the Jews this year. The Bible is read in one year, being divided into chapters that are read each Saturday and on the ninth day of the Feast they complete one year's reading, and begin the next.

This is the last important Jewish holiday till Easter. On 6th December is Kislove, which lasts eight days, and Purim on 24th March.

WORKERS GIVING BACK METAL SHOPS

VOTE IN FAVOUR OF ACCEPTING AGREEMENT—A WEEK'S HOLIDAYS.

(Canadian Press.)

MILAN, Sept. 27.—Instructions that the metal workers evacuate the plants occupied by them have been given by the Metal Workers' Union, and the movement began to-day. This is the result of a referendum held throughout northern Italy during last week relative to the acceptance of the agreement between the employers and the workmen, which was signed at Rome at the instance of the Government.

The vote taken showed 132,000 for and 45,000 against the agreement.

A recommendation is made by the Union that the men leave the establishments in the same condition as when occupied, and that perfect cleanliness and order be restored in all the plants affected.

It is also recommended that a commission of men remain in each factory to deliver it to the owners.

Rearrangement of plants will be necessary, and the agreement has been reached that the men may have a holiday of one week, and complete resumption of work will begin not later than 4th October.

PRINCESS WRONG ABOUT FIDELITY JULIA ZOFF SAYS

NEW YORK.—The Princess Radziwill in her latest book now in preparation make such startling observations of men, women and morals as:

"There is hardly one husband in New York of who is faithful to his wife."

And—

"I will bet anything you like that no girl or woman, for that matter, whether young or old, has been able to mix with the New York that must work for its living, without being subjected to insults of the most disgusting character.

To all this an American-born woman also preparing a book on the moral conditions facing the competent working girl who comes to New York from village or small city life takes exception.

She is Paula Zopf, a striking, quick-witted young woman who began her working career as a chambermaid in a Memphis hotel, and now is a married woman of means, travel and a self-acquired education, living at the Hotel Ashton.

"Princess All Wrong."

"The Princess has the married man 'doped' all wrong. I, for one, have a faithful husband. And I am strong in the faith that a husband is faithful through the years that see his wife safely past 40. Much depends on the wife.

"And my days as a public stenographer, my ears subjected to the wails of the man 'whose wife didn't understand,' are going to be of use to me as the years of my married life grow.

"I have learned many of the sins of omission and commission in marriage. But those stories did not make me believe that the men who told them, without exception, were forgetful of their marriage vows.

Studying Ten Years.

"I have been studying the working now for ten years, not as the Princess who hired her services in department stores, restaurants and offices.

"I have studied such conditions from the point of view of the girl who worked because it was 'up to her,' 'sink or swim,' see? I have managed to swim.

"And I want to say that during the ten years I have worked, in 10-cent stores, department stores, hotels, banks and offices in America I have never been insulted, on the streets or anywhere else. I have worked in Cuba, too. There customs are different.

"And I don't think I'm so bad as to looks.

"For some months I have been in New York gathering data for a book. I want the book to show the kind of a chance a competent, honest, small town girl coming to the big town has to earn a decent, honest living.

"Each day I dress myself in a neat blue serge suit and go out seeking work as a small town girl. I have tried stores, banks, restaurants, theatres, detective agencies and even the movies.

"Here's a note of warning: Poor girls, stay away from those movie and 'dramatic art' agencies that will make a glittering star of you in ten days. But the sane, prosaic jobs of the city are safe enough.

"Everywhere I have found the people who employ help considerate and anxious to do what they can for me. A Miss Jones at the Guaranty Trust Company was especially nice to me. I have worked in a bank, all the way from typist to assistant cashier, and I could appreciate everything she said to me.

"Also there was a man at the Burns Detective Agency who told me frankly there was no place for an untrained woman in his office, but that if I was hard pressed he would make a job for me as typist at $18 a week until I could do better."

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Prices of clothing, food and other staple products are being forced down throughout the United States by the refusal of the buying public to pay war prices, according to a comprehensive report on business conditions issued by Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia yesterday. The 'tobogganing of prices hits the bituminous coal, men's shirts, hosiery and staple groceries.

SIXTY-EIGHT ELECTION CHARGES AGAINST U.F.O. M.P.P.

ORANGEVILLE, Sept. 27.— That J. J. Morrison, organizing secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, raised a campaign fund from farmers and others opposed to the existing government, was one of the 68 charges presented to-day before Chief Justice Sir Wm. Mulock and Mr. Justice R. Rose in the trial of the petition of the Conservatives to unseat Thos. H. Slack, United Farmer member for Dufferin, in the Ontario Legislature.

The peitioners described Mr. Morrison as the "guiding genius." W. H. Price was chief counsel for the Conservative petitioners, and Gordon Waldron for the U.F.O. defendant.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Hammered down by a strong bear attack, prices on the New York Stock Exchange hit new lows for the day during the third hour of trading. Mexican Pet at 192 was off 7 from the early high. Studebaker was heavily sold. Wild rumors about the banking situation in Boston flew about the floor.

Baldwin and most of the Steels made new lows for the day in the last half hour Steel Common sold down to 87. At 75 1-4, U. S. Rubber was off nearly 7 points on the day and showed absolutely no rallying power. Mexican Pet rallied about 3 points but subsequently lost half of this recovery. Tobacco stocks and low priced rails acted well right up to the close. U. R. Stores led the group with sales above 71. St. Louis southwestern made a new high for the year at 40.

Selling became decidedly aggressive during the second hour and some sharp breaks in prices occurred. Baldwin sold off 3 to 108; Mexican Pet. at 191 was off 6 from the high of the first hour; Crucible reacted 5 points; U. S. Steel 87 1-4 was off nearly 2 points, and other stocks in proportion.

Demand Sterling toward the close sold $3.48 3-4 up 1-4; Francs $.0666 off $.0001; Lire demand $.0420 up $.0004; Cables $.0421; Marks $.0160 up $.0003.

(United Press.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 — The stock market opened generally higher Prices were U. S. Steel 88 7-8, off 1-4; Retail stores 70 7-8; off 1-4; Central Leather 46, up 5-8; Crucible 132, up 1 7-8; Sinclair 3 1-4, unchanged; Baldwin 111 3-4, up 3-4; Canadian Pacific 120 7-8, up 1-2; Studebaker 50 1-4, up 1-8; New Haven 36 3-8, up 1-8; Southern Pacific 9 67-8, up 5-8; General Motors 19 7-8, off 1-8; Corn Prods 85 1-4 up 1-2; Pan American 94 up 1-2; St. Louis Southwestern 38 1-8, off 1-8; Southern Railway 32, up 1-8; Mexican Pet. 194, up 1 1-8; Kelly Springfield 57, up 7-8; G. R. I. and P. 39 1-4, unchanged.

The market turned reactionary during the forenoon, with heavy pressure on American Woollen, steel, motor and tire stocks. Woollen sank to within 1-4 of last years low. Goodrich sold below 50, Studebaker made a new low, for 1920 at 57 1-8, and General Motors touched last week's low at 79 1-4.

EXCHANGE MARKET

STOCK MARKET BULLETIN, SEPT. 25, 1920.

Campbell, Stratton & Co., Members Toronto Stock Exchange, Dominion Bank Building, Toronto:

In the New York market—Bradstreets says first big decline in prices were shown in May and strength of war level prices has decreased pretty steadily since.

Duns Review says: With more general recognition of fact that commercial revival waits mainly on lower prices way is being gradually shaped for subsequent improvement in conditions.

Nearly all active speculative interests in Wall Street continue to talk about industrial conditions and to find reasons for various bearish developments and for expecting further pressure against the securities markets and an unsettlement of values in various industrial groups. Reports of declines in commodities which continue to fill the papers regarded as naturally causing a decrease in present demand for industrial issues without regard to whether Wall St. has already discounted business declension.

U. S. Rubber—It is reported in banking circles that U. S. Rubber plans to float a new $40,000,000 note issue. Information is given that a substantial cut in auto tires will be announced November 1. It is said tire manufacturers decided upon this step some time ago, and still have hopes of being able to wait until that date to make the announcement, despite the wholesale slashing of prices in other industries.

Noon.—The market has been strong this morning, with further recoveries by the industrials and continued accumulation of the rails. The oil stocks snapped back the fastest, with Mexican Petroleum up over 5 points on the morning, and lesser advances in Pan-American, Texas, and Sinclair. The shorts in this group seemed to be getting severe punishment. The steel stocks and equipments were also better, and even the much attached motor and tire stocks held their own. The Kelly-Springfield chairman stated that the regular dividend will be declared on the common stock at the October meeting and the stock rallied in the second hour. S. R. and R. I. displayed the most strength in railroad group, although Reading also picked up the best part of a point.

While much of the industrial strength to-day was presumably short covering, the power of the market to come back in this way and stand up under recent disturbing developments is quite significant.

INDIANS READY FOR THE FAIR

The final arrangements for the Indian Fair at the Chemong Reserve on 6th and 7th October are being completed, and when it opens on 6th October, it is expected to be one of the best yea held. There will be several canoes and rowboats to carry people over from Robertson's Landing on the Smith shore and the Ennismore ferry will be running.

Indians from Rice Lake, the Kawartha Lakes, and as far as Georgian Bay will be at the Fair, and the programme that has been arranged is full and interesting.

MRS. TRESTRAIL BECOMES A PRODUCING MANAGER

Mail and Empire: Mrs. M. A. Trestrail, known to the profession as May Anderson, and who has made her home in Toronto for the last six years is the first woman producing manager in Canada. Mrs. Trestrail has just purchased the original New York production of George Tyler's comedy, "On the Hiring Line," in which May Irwin scored such a hit last season. The play is by Harvey O'Higgins and Harriet Ford. The play has never appeared in Canada. Mrs. Trestrail is in New York at the present time, where she has engaged her entire cast and is rehearsing for the opening at Oshawa, on September 27.

Old-time theatre goers will remember Mrs. Trestrail as May Anderson with the old Cumming Stock Company at the former Princess Theatre in 1900. She has also played here with several road companies, and when her two boys settled here in Toronto, she decided to make her home here and was director of dramatic art at the Canadian Academy of Music for two seasons, until one of her sons went to France, when she went back into the profession to keep her time and attention from the war. She has decided to make her tour exclusively Canadian and will cover Canada from Halifax to Vancouver, appearing in Toronto during the week of Oct. 1st at the Grand Opera House.

THE STEERING GEAR FAILED TO OPERATE

TRUCK TRIED TO CLIMB A TREE ON BROCK STREET.

One of G. Dunford's cartage trucks happened with an unusual accident about 2.45 Saturday afternoon at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets but from which both truck and driver escaped without any serious damage or injuries. A. Longo was driving the truck. He came down Brock street and when he turned into Aylmer his steering garm which was just a new one, apparently locked and refused to turn. The result was that he went over the sidewalk of the street, straight for the bowling club house, missed a tree by less than a foot and was brought to a dead stop by the heavy wire fence and the front wheels bending over. After some difficulty the front wheels were got out of the hole and the car back on the pavement again. After the steering rod was straightened it was none the worse for its departure from the travelled paths into unchartered territory.

THE CITY COUNCIL MEET TO-NIGHT

ANOTHER MOVE TO RAISE SINEWS OF WAR FOR THE BRIDGE.

To-night the City Council will consider ways and means of raising funds with which to complete the Hunter street bridge and will call in the contractors to give as nearly as possible a correct estimate of what it will cost to finish the work.

Several courses are open to the council. Another debenture issue will have to be authorized and part of the money needed may be raised by subscriptions from certain corporations who will benefit from the structure.

It is believed that at least $100,000 will be required to complete the work—if not more.

WEDDING BELLS

LOGAN—WIGHT.

A very quiet wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, Campbellford, on 22nd September, at 8 o'clock, of Miss Mary E. Wight, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Wight, and Mr. Patrick Logan, second son of Mrs. P. Logan, of Norwood. The bride was charmingly attired in navy blue serge suit, with hat to match, and was assisted by Miss Delia Logan, of Peterborough, cousin of the groom, who was assisted by his brother, Mr. J. L. Logan. The happy couple motored to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous dinner was served. They left on the afternoon train for a short trip to Toronto and other points, amid showers of confetti and good wishes. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Logan will reside in Smith's Falls, where the groom is an engineer on the C. P. R.

SMITH—BARRIE.

A quiet though pretty wedding was solemnised at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon in Park Street Baptist Church, when Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barrie, was united in marriage to Harvey S. Smith, of Port Hope. The church was tastefully decorated for the occasion with asters and ferns. The bride was given away by her father, and was attired in a navy blue suit, with hat to match. She also wore a seal scarf, the gift of the groom, and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses. The young people were unattended, and during the signing of the register which was witnessed by Miss Reina Johnston and Mr. Frank Barrie, Miss Olive Graham, of Lindsay, sang "O Perfect Love." Immediately after the ceremony, the young couple left by motor for Cobourg, where they took the boat for Rochester. Upon their return, they will reside in Port Hope.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT GEORGE STREET

The annual Sunday School Rally at the George Street church is always a service of considerable interest and yesterday's rally proved to be one of inspiration and enthusiasm.

The attendance of the scholars and visitors was large. The primary department paid their annual visit to the Sunday school room and a feature of the service was a hymn sung by the primary scholars. Other musical selections were solos by Miss Florence Harrison and Miss Doris Rathbone, also selections by the orchestra.

Message to Teachers.

Rev. Mr. Young was the speaker, and in bringing a message to the teachers and scholars as an aim for the coming year's work, he told an interesting story. The story was one of Leo Tolstoi's concerning a shoemaker, Martin, who lived in Russia, in a basement room. Martin had a vision that the Christ would visit him and the day following he watched for his visitor but he failed to come.

During the day however he brought comfort and cheer to several people by bringing them into the warmth of his fireside. One was an old soldier, another was an poor woman with a babe in her arms, both thinly clad and an old apple woman. The Christ did not come in bodily form but as Martin read his Bible that evening, the shadowy forms of his earlier visitors re-apeared to him saying in the Christ voice "It is I." The old shoemaker then realized the truth of the words "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto Me."

Church Services.

At the regular church services the pastor preached both morning and evening. His morning discourse was on "Praying as we Ought," while in the evening he directed his thought to the young people.

Speaking on Prayer, Mr. Young took his text from the 8th chapter of Romans, the 26th verse, "We know not what we should pray for as we ought." Many of us have found our prayers unanswered. We have felt the need of certain things which we believed were in harmony with God's purposes. We have poured out tears, wrestling with God in prayer, and the opposite has come while we prayed. So we have said there is something wrong with us.

On the other hand, we have heard others pray and sweep those around them up to the throne of God; while we have seen our own feeble attempts and have been ashamed. In many cases we do not concentrate our minds on God.

Mr. Young illustrated his point by teling of how his parents once found him asleep on his knees beside his bed, and the agony of shame that came over him on being awakened.

Principles of Prayer.

Mr. Young enunciated three simple principles of right praying.

1. Praying as we ought demands that we should always pray, remembering what prayer is.

Many men and women use prayer for wrong purposes, and to do the impossible. They consider it a magic force, or a sort of master key to any door when they want something. Prayer is not an Aladdin's lamp to bring all the angels of God in answer. It is a spiritual force in God's world of law and order.

During the great war a mother prayed for her boy unceasingly that he might be kept pure, which was right, but she went further and prayed that he might not be hit, and if he were that it might be only a flesh wound. He was kept pure amid many temptations but was wounded, and while he was sustained for a time, died. The mother used prayer here as a magic force and now her faith is wrecked.

2. Praying as we ought demands a full surrender of our lives to God's will. Jesus was a tremendous man of prayer, but He always said "Not my will but Thine be done." The keynote of His prayer was putting His soul at the purposes of God. We must abide in Christ and He in us before we can pray aright. Most of us want to remould things to our wills, but if we want prayer answered we must put ourselves in line with God's will.

3. Praying as we ought demands our praying always in sure faith that God will answer us. He may not give us what we ask but He will adways answer us. The great Judson said prayer was the greatest force in the world yet he did not get all that he wanted. He prayed to go to India, and was sent to Burmah, and for many other things which turned out differently. Yet he was always answered.

"EXPERIENCE"

The long expected engagement of the modern morality drama "Experience," which has been one of the biggest theatrical sensations of recent years, is now announced for the Grand, October 2nd.

The play was written by George V. Hobart, and it is patterned after the old-time morality dramas of four centuries ago. Yet while it retains the form and manner of the old plays it is strictly up to date, and is adapted to modern conditions. The great novelty lies in the fact that it treats modern and up to date situations just as the priest-playwright of four centuries ago treated the moral and spiritual problems of that day and age.

In "Experience" one sees in ten vivid and dramatic scenes, the principal events in the life of an average young man who goes forth into the world in search of fame and fortune. The leading character—called Youth—says farewell to Love in the little country cottage, and with Ambition as his guide, sets forth into the big world. At the gates of the city Youth meets with Experience for the first time. Experience is shown as a wise old gentleman who knows everything there is to know, and he announces that he will accompany Youth upon his journey. He introduces Youth to Pleasure, symbolized as a beautiful woman, and Pleasure takes Youth to the Primrose Path, where he is fascinated by the gaiety and entertaining life which unfolds before him. The glittering and gorgeous outlook does not last long however for when Ambition falls by the wayside, Youth starts upon the downward path at a terrific rate. He succumbs to various temptations and is on the high road to perdition when his salvation is brought about through a song he hears outside of a church. The boy, discouraged, but not beaten, determines to go back to Love and the little country cottage, and with his new friend Experience, he returns to Love, having lost the first fight, but having won the greater victory by conquering the evils in his own heart.

Messrs. Comstock & Guest, producers of "Experience," have given Mr. Hobart's impressive play a superb stage setting, with ten brilliant scenes. The play is enacted by a company of 40 players. "Experience" ran nine months in New York, seven months in Chicago and five months in Boston.

THE PUDDLE.

I cursed the puddle when I found
Unseeing I had walked therein,
Forgetting the uneven ground,
Because my eyes
Were on the skies,
To glean their glory and to win
The sunset's trembling ecstacies.

And then I marked the puddle's face,
When still and quiet grown again,
Was but concerned, as I to trace,
The wonder spread
Above its head,
And mark and mirror and contain,
The gold and purple, rose and red.

We seek our goals, we climb our ways
With hearts inspired by radiant thought,
And hate the luckless wight who stays
The upward stream
Of vision's beam;
Nor guess that we have roughly wrought
A like hiatus in his dream.

Callot continues to show the hip girdles knotted at front, which she used last season and which savor of Egypt, and Lanvin uses embroidery motify while one sees the same note elsewhere in hats, bags, and trimmings in Paris.

"Tight Money"
—the Investor's Opportunity

The big problem facing the Canadian Banks to-day is that of providing sufficient money to enable this year's crops to be speedily marketed.

That's why manufacturers are finding it difficult to obtain money to buy raw materials and to make extensions.

That's why store-keepers are finding it difficult to get extended credits to enable them to increase their stocks.

That's the meaning of the expression "money is tight."

That's why interest rates are high now; in other words, that's why bond prices are lower.

You can buy a $100 1934 Victory Bond today for $93.

On the date of maturity—the date printed on the bond—the government will pay it off for $100.

Meantime the government will pay you interest on the full $100.

If you have any surplus funds take advantage of this "money shortage" and make your money work. It's your big opportunity.

VICTORY BONDS are among the best long-term securities available. We recommend those falling due in 1933, 1937 and 1934.

The Young Man's Best Recommendation

A Savings Account is more than a start towards financial independence—it is a mark of character.

One of the strongest recommendations in the world of business that a young man can present, is a Merchants Bank Pass-Book, showing a record of consistent savings.

A Savings Account may be opened with $1.00, which shows how highly we regard the accounts of those who desire to save.

THE PREMIER'S TACTICS.

The repeated attempts by Premier Meighen and other Government-spokesmen to link up the farmers, labour men and every other opponent of the Government with Bolshevism, are not only doomed to failure but they are further intensifying the opposition to the present administration. The farmers, especially, indignant at such a silly charge, are more determined than ever to oust the Government, and the Premier's statements have only served to strengthen the feeling among the farmers that it is time for a change at Ottawa. The people of East Elgin are not likely to forget the tactics of Hon. Mr. Meighen, and if he or any speakers on his behalf attempts to group all enemies of the government with the Bolshevik movement the reply as expressed by the verdict of the polls will be a set back that will further injure the prestige of the government, if indeed it has any prestige to be injured. The people have the right to expect something better from the new Premier than inane criticism and silly attempts to counteract the ever-growing opposition to his remaining in office by misrepresenting those who do not agree with his polices or like hs government.

SAFETY FIRST.

A "Safety First" week is to be observed in Canada next month. The multiplicity of accidents which are occurring these days would seem to furnish a very excellent reason for a campaign of this kind. The motor car with the revolution it has caused in street traffic is responsible for the majority of modern accidents and there are so many fatalities that are due either to reckless driving or to carelessness on the part of pedestrians that too much attention cannot be paid to the awakening of the public to a realization of the necessity of a more keen regard for human life. It has been suggested that a few minutes might be devoted in the schools each week to bringing before the children the necessity of paying more attention to the preservation of their own lives and those of others. The objection may be raised that the school curriculum is already overloaded with subjects and this is possibly true, but at the same time it might be feasible to curtail the instruction in some of the unessential subjects in order that time may be given to a consideration of Safety First principles and maxims. A good deal could be accomplished in that way.

WORTHY IDEALS.

The real views of the great mass of returned soldiers are more accurately expressed by such men as C. G. McNeil, the Dominion secretary of the G.W.V.A. than they are by the constant criticism offered by Sergt. Flynn. Mr. McNel has been in attendance at the convention of the Nova Scotia G.W.V.A. in Digby, N.S., and while there he delivered an address that contained some excellent advice for the ex-members of the C.E.F. In the first place he advised them to cease quibbling about details and stride forward for high ideals. "The association," he declared, "has a past of successful achievement, it possesses a great organization, it has men of brain power and it holds the good will of the people. What more is necessary but our own efforts. The great thing before us is to make Canada a better place to live in."

The adoption of such an ideal by the G.W.V.A. would mean a great deal to this country. Working unselfishly to achieve the purpose outlined by Mr. McNeil, and putting aside all the little petty grievances over which Sergeans Flynn grows so indignant, there would be no limit to the usefulness of the War Veterans' Association in improving conditions generally in Canada.

THE BRITISH SITUATION.

While last week it looked as if only a miracle could avert a strike of the British coal miners the prospects now for a settlement of the difficulty are to much brighter as to warrant the conviction that the strike which has been postponed a week will never materialize. The coal miners have sensed the steadily growing bitterness of the opposition of the mass of the British people toward the proposed walk-out and realize that public opinion would be unitedly aainst them in the event of the strike taking place. Other labour bodies, too, have thrown their influence against the contemplated action of the miners, and the latter have shown that they are not insensible of the feeling that exists throughout Great Britaain by postponing the strike and resuming negotiations. The efforts that are now being made on the basis of more pay for more production will, it is to be hoped, prove successful and the calamity that threatened the Motherland will be averted. The outlook, at least, is infinitly better than it was a week ago.

HIS WORST ENEMY.

Waste is perhaps the American farmer's worst enemy. He himself is no wastrel, but, without knowing it, he is an insidious, persistent waster of his farm machinery. Expensive as it has become in thirty years, he has made but little progress in housing it. Where it lay thirty years ago in the open on the semi-prairie of Iowa or Manitoba, or the real prairie of Nebraska or Southern Saskatchewan, it lies to-day unsheltered from the elements of the air, and unfended against the acids of the earth.

To be precise, it is not the same machinery—that long ago fell to pieces, not from old age as the deacon's one-hoss shay, but from youthful neglect. Three or four, as many as six crops of machinery have replaced it. The last machinery crop now rots in the soil. Says the National Bank of New Jersey, "The annual depreciation of farm machinery amounts to over $12,500,000."

At New Brunswick, the National Bank of New Jersey is in the very heart of that state's great farm garden. Manufacturing there encroaches on production, and has made farming more a matter of local service. Yet, with its large areas of neglected, or at least uncultivated land, within 30 miles of New York, a great farming revival along the Raritan and Delaware is not unimaginable. It is possible and even probable.

Despite the state's 70-year railroad facilities, its 200-year old settlements, the bank can find abundant local color for its warning. If so, what must be said of the less developed, less informed farmers of the West, too many of whom hardly know the difference between anarchy and socialism, and between socialism and common sense? Have they been told th $12,500,000 is the smaller part if their yearly loss? Do they know compulsory replacing of implements at the wrong time in the machinery market, crop reductions through broken down and rusted out tools, and the accompanying loss of time, combine to impose on them the most definite and permanent and unnecessary form of taxation they coud devise?

Do they know, in the way they should, the $200,00,000 necessary to house their machinery would be the best bond investment they could make? They would be debtors on the bond, but the cream of the investment yield would be their own, instead of the skim milk they get in short fodder and runty corn, and half cultivated growing lands.

Have their journals told them that investment, plus a brief period of daily care, would yield them a return equal to the invention of a successful weed-bug-rat exterminator? —Wall Street Jouranl.

"ADORABLE SAVAGE" AT GRAND TO-NIGHT

EDITH ROBERTS WILL BE SEEN IN A NEW SETTING.

Edith Roberts, Universal's piquant star, who will be seen here at the Grand Theatre to-day and to-morrow, in "The Adorable Savage," a distinctly different romance, the setting of which is in the South Sea Islands, is a great help to her director, Norman Dawn. According to her mentor, the little star is forever thinking of some little scheme or detail to make the picture in which she is playing just a little bit better. And never are these suggestions in the least selfish or calculated to bring her more forward on the screen.

One of the instances cited by Mr. Dawn shortly after the filming of "The Adorable Savage," was complete, was the case where Miss Roberts induced Lillian Phillips, the celebrated Hawaiian beauty, to appear in the film in the role of the ceremonial dancer—the first time she had ever appeared before the animated camera. Mr. Dawn was having considerable trouble selecting the proper person for this character, which was a difficult one, requiring a native South Sea Islander who could not only appear cultured, but one who would require no "double" in performing the weird dances of the tropic isles.

Miss Roberts and Miss Phillips have been friends for several years, and it was through the star's efforts that the Hawaiian girl consented to appear in the picture. Miss Phillips is a grandniece of the late King Kamahameha. She is a native Hawaiian, her family adopting the American name when the United States came into possession of the island. Her first appearance before the camera is said to be highly successful, while her performance of the "Meke" and other South Sea Island dances is one of the unique features of the production.

THE HARP OF ERIN.

Dear harp, thy soft melodious strains
Once floated o'er Judean plains,
In far-off former days.
When Royal Bard's inspired control,
Awkened by enraptured soul
To sweet prophetic lays.

In tranquil times, and peaceful zones
Alone, were heard those liquid tones,
In silvery tide to swell
Aye Peace, blest heaven born Nymph has been Ever entwined thy cords, between
And loved Her offspring well.

Not thine, to sing of stormy strife
Of fire and sword and rapine rife,
In Martial Minstrelsy,
But like thy golden mate's above
Thou art attuned to themes of love,
Honor and Chivalry.

Emblem of Erin's beauteous Isle,
Whose fair face wears a sunny smile,
Though tears bedim Her eyes;
Ah, well may pitying angels mourn
Her hapless plight, by discord torn,
And bitter enmity.

Bright on out banner's silken fold
The harp emblazoned, we behold
Free waving to the skies,
Symbol of peace, which hatred's sway
And blazing homes, and bloody fray
And lawless crime, belies.
